SGI FILES EXCHANGE OFFER FOR CONVERTIBLE NOTES

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (April 21, 2003) SGI (NYSE: SGI) today filed a registration statement and a tender offer statement with other related documents with the Securities and Exchange Commission for an exchange offer for its 5.25% Senior Convertible Notes due September 2004.

SGI is offering to exchange up to $230 million principal amount of its existing 5.25% Senior Convertible Notes due 2004 for either (a) new 11.75% Senior Notes due July 2009 or (b) new 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes due July 2009. The new notes will be issued in principal amounts equal to the principal amounts of existing notes tendered. The maximum principal amount of 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes that SGI will issue in this exchange offer is $120 million. If more than $120 million principal amount of the existing notes are tendered in exchange for the 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes, SGI will allot the 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes to be issued on a pro rata basis. Existing notes not exchanged for 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes because of proration will be exchanged for 11.75% Senior Notes. The 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes to be issued by SGI will be convertible into SGI Common Stock at $3.00 per share. The 11.75% Senior Notes are not convertible.

The purpose of the exchange offer is to offer holders of the existing notes an increase in yield and (in the case of the 6.50% Senior Convertible Notes) a decrease in the conversion price of their investment in return for an extension of the maturity.

The exchange offer is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of several conditions, including that a minimum of 90% of the principal amount of the existing notes has been validly tendered and not withdrawn. Highfields Capital, a holder of approximately $68 million in principal amount of existing notes, has agreed to tender and not to withdraw its notes in exchange for 11.75% Senior Notes.
