EXHIBIT 99.1

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Tuesday, June 1, 2004

Meridian Holdings' CGI Communications Services Subsidiary, Inks a Joint Marketing and Teaming Agreement with Telemedicine Reference Center Ltd.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.--Meridian Holdings, Inc., (OTC BB: MRDH; www.meho.com), announced today that its' CGI Communications Services, Inc.(CGI) subsidiary, has entered into a teaming and joint marketing agreement with Telemedicine Reference Center Ltd., (TRCL) located in Dhaka, Bangladesh.

Under the terms of the agreement, both companies will jointly market and promote to current and prospective customers the sale of their complementary and compatible products for use in Telehealth and Telemedicine, as well as supporting the pursuit of mutually advantageous business opportunities, in the global telemedicine arena.

TRCL specifically seeks to work with CGI in integrating and implementing the ICE software product suite in Bangladesh and other Far East countries, in order to harness the advanced efficiencies and capabilities of current medical, information, and communications technologies built into ICE Electronic Health Record and Telemedicine software, to improve the delivery and affordability of health care, both primary and specialized, in rural populations world wide. The joint team of TRCL and CGI Communications, Inc., are setting up pilot rural medical centers in Bangladesh under the "Integrated Rural Health Information System" (IRHIS) project of TRCL in Bangladesh.

"After many years of research and development in telehealthcare sector, TRCL is teaming up with leading and potential technology corporations for a low-cost turn-key e-Healthcare solution for developing countries. We are very proud to be working with CGI Communications Services, Inc., whose electronic health record and associated Telehealth solutions, have greater economy through the use of low cost technology, robust and innovative software, and portability of equipment with an average turn-key end-user e-healthcare system at a cost of less than $10,000, which is a prime objective of TRCL. We project that the combined e-healthcare system of CGI Communications Services, Inc. and TRCL will be more cost-effective than many of the existing systems that are currently available, and will fit the budget of developing countries, whose need for such a solution is significant, yet limited in respective market for prohibitive cost" said Dr. Zakir, President and CEO of TRCL.

"We are enthusiastic about the potential represented in this agreement, which is designed to support classic and customized applications and create mutually advantageous business opportunities that will demonstrate the exceptional flexibility of the ICE Electronic Health Record and Telemedicine software, and Integrated Rural Health Information System (IRHIS) of TRCL among predisposed end users, especially providers of healthcare services in the developing nations," said Dr. Dike, Chairman and CEO of MRDH.

About Telemedicine Reference Center Ltd.

Telemedicine Reference Center Ltd. (TRCL) www.trclcare.com, headed by Dr. Sikder

M. Zakir, provides low-cost technological and medical solutions to healthcare organizations in developing countries and has pioneered development of international teleconsultation services in Bangladesh. TRCL is implementing an ambitious integrated rural health information system (IRHIS) in Bangladesh, where rural doctors will be provided with expert medical consultative services from capital city Dhaka (<http://news.bbc.co.uk/1/hi/technology/2288619.stm>).

Although it is a privately funded project, Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh is playing a significant role in IRHIS program implementation.

Under IRHIS project, TRCL is deploying 64 rural medical centers in 64 districts of Bangladesh during first phase. Each rural center consists of a physician's practicing office, a pathology laboratory and a pharmacy retail store, which will be managed and operated under a central network system through IRHIS Portal.
