PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS

Corporate History

We were incorporated on September 17, 2009 in the State of Nevada under the name Krossbow Holdings Corporation (“Krossbow”). Krossbow's original business plan was focused on offsetting CO2 emissions through the creation and protection of forest-based carbon “sinks.” Krossbow planned to assess carbon resource potentials, prescribe and implement ecosystem restorations to develop those resources, and thereby generate carbon offset products. However, we have since abandoned that original business plan and restructured our business to focus on man-made diamond technology development. We decided to acquire existing technology and to seek to efficiently and effectively produce man-made diamond. In connection with this change in business purpose, Krossbow acquired the rights to use and changed its name to Scio Diamond Technology Corporation (the “Company”), to reflect its new business direction.

On August 5, 2011, Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan, both of whom now serve on the Company’s Board of Directors, acquired control of the Company through the purchase of 2,000,000 shares of the Company’s issued and outstanding common stock from Jason Kropp, Krossbow’s sole director and executive officer at that time, in accordance with a common stock purchase agreement among Mr. Kropp, Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan. Concurrently with the execution of the stock purchase agreement, Mr. Kropp resigned from all positions with Krossbow, including, but not limited to, that of President, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Treasurer, Secretary and Director.

On August 5, 2011, the Company executed an Asset Purchase Agreement (the “Scio Asset Purchase Agreement”) with another privately-held Nevada corporation that also had the name “Scio Diamond Technology Corporation” (“Private Scio”). Under the terms of the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company purchased the name “Scio Diamond Technology Corporation” and acquired other rights from Private Scio for 13,000,000 newly issued shares of common stock of the Company. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan were directors of Private Scio, and Joseph D. Lancia, our President and Chief Executive Officer, was an officer of Private Scio, and they owned 31.5%, 31.5% and 15.4%, respectively, of Private Scio. Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan each acquired, directly or indirectly, 4,100,000 shares of our common stock pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, and Joseph D. Lancia, our Chief Executive Officer, acquired 2,000,000 shares pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement.

On August 31, 2011, the Company acquired certain assets of Apollo Diamond, Inc. (“ADI”) (the “ADI Asset Purchase”), consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and intellectual property related thereto, for which the Company paid ADI an aggregate of $2,000,000 in a combination of cash and a promissory note to ADI with a September 1, 2012 maturity date (which promissory note had a remaining outstanding balance of $125,000 as of March 31, 2012). In connection with the ADI Asset Purchase, the Company also agreed to provide certain current and former stockholders of ADI that are accredited investors the opportunity to acquire up to approximately 16 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share (the “ADI Offering”).

On June 5, 2012, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of Apollo Diamond Gemstone Corporation (“ADGC”) (the “ADGC Asset Purchase”), consisting primarily of cultured diamond gemstone-related know-how, inventory, and various intellectual property, in exchange for $100,000 in cash and the opportunity for certain current and former stockholders of ADGC that are accredited investors to acquire up to approximately 1 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share (the “ADGC Offering”) with the intent that ADI Offering be conducted substantially concurrently with the ADGC Offering (collectively, the “ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering”).

Our Business

General

The Company's primary mission is the development of profitable and sustainable commercial applications for its planned mass production of high quality, single-crystal diamond in a laboratory environment using its proprietary chemical vapor deposition process (“Diamond Technology”) and its Mosaic approach to diamond production. The Company intends to target both the commercial/industrial and gemstone markets and anticipates opportunities in areas including, but not limited to, diamond gemstone jewelry, power switches, optoelectronics, cutting devices, semi-conductors and life sciences.

If the Company is able to produce high-quality, relatively low-cost diamond and diamond materials in reliable quantities, then such products may be incorporated into existing applications and technologies and spur new technologies. In such case, the Company expects numerous product development and licensing opportunities for the Company. The unique physical properties of diamond combined with consistent availability made possible by our Diamond Technology and Mosaic production approach may lead to market opportunities in electronics, optics, communications, and computing.

The Diamond Technology

We acquired our Diamond Technology primarily from ADI. ADI was originally founded in 1990 with the goal of developing and perfecting two advanced semiconductor materials, gallium nitride (now used in light emitting diodes) and diamond. From 2000 onward, ADI focused solely on diamond and developing a process by which large, single-crystal diamond could be grown in a controlled laboratory environment. ADI developed the Diamond Technology to produce large, single-crystal diamond in a controlled process reactor environment. It also developed and patented the Mosaic production approach allowing the mass production of diamond. The core Diamond Technology that was acquired by the Company is based on a chemical vapor deposition (“CVD”) diamond growth system. Diamond wafers produced through the Diamond Technology CVD process have been shown to be exceptionally pure (nitrogen content < 10 ppb), and possess low levels of structural defects. Advances in this technology have dramatically improved the quality, and lowered the cost of high-quality diamond, resulting in new applications of diamond in electronics, optics, high power devices and quantum computing. The patented Mosaic approach allows diamond seeds to be fused, thus creating larger seeds to maximize growth in any given growth run.

The Diamond Technology provides a materials production platform and is supported by intellectual property, including trade secrets, 21 issued patents (16 in the United States and five in foreign jurisdictions), and approximately 40 pending domestic and foreign patents.

The Company intends to pursue progressive development of core technologies and related intellectual property that will evolve into product opportunities across various applications. The Company seeks to optimize this strategy through, among other things, its control of the production and sale of large volume, high purity diamond for technology applications. These opportunities may be monetized through joint venture and licensing arrangements with third parties and through continued development of intellectual property. Anticipated application opportunities for the Company's diamond materials include the following: diamond gemstone jewelry, power switches, processors, optoelectronics, geosciences, water purification, and MRI and other medical science technology.

Early Stage Company: Additional Financing Will be Critical to Survival and Potential Success

As of March 31, 2012, the Company had cash on hand of $808,516. We will require additional funding and will seek such funding in the form of equity financing from the sale of our common stock and warrants to acquire our common stock and potentially other securities offerings or sources of financing, however there can be no assurance that such financing will be available on commercially acceptable terms, if at all.

Products and Markets

The current market for laboratory-grown diamond remains largely unknown and uncertain. Sales of laboratory-grown diamond into the gemstone market are thought to be very small currently. The industrial market for these products is more developed, but it is diffused globally and the Company is unable to reliably estimate its size or breadth. As of March 31, 2012, we had not generated any revenue from the sale of diamond or diamond materials.

Competitive factors that will influence the market for our products include product quality, consistency of supply and price. We believe that we will be able to compete on the basis of these factors. We believe that we will be able to reliably and efficiently produce cultured diamond possessing substantially the same qualities and characteristics of their mined diamond counterparts. The chart below shows a comparison of selected characteristics of cultured diamond and high-quality earth-mined diamond.

(a) Cultured diamond may be superior to earth-mined diamond in these categories because of its high purity and crystal perfection.

We believe that the Diamond Technology will reliably produce single crystal diamond gemstones of colorless, near-colorless and fancy- colored clarities in finished stone generally ranging in sizes from .25 carats to over 2 carats in colors ranging from D (colorless) to fancy colors and clarities of IF (internally flawless) to Si (slightly included). We believe that the Diamond Technology will produce a regular and consistent supply of cultured diamond material suitable for a wide variety of commercial, industrial, gemstone, and technological applications.

Gemstones

Within the gemstone industry, our single-crystal diamond can be used in jewelry products requiring the highest quality gemstones and can be regularly grown in matched color sets ranging in polished sizes from 5-points (.05 carats) to over 1.50 carats. Our diamond may be well suited for jewelry featuring matching diamond of various sizes, clarities and colors, diamond engagement rings, and fashion jewelry. The potential consistency and other potential characteristics of cultured diamond gemstones grown using the Diamond Technology may provide advantages over their mined counterparts in areas that matter to jewelers, jewelry manufacturers and consumers, with potential characteristics such as:

- Equal quality and brilliance of diamond product;
- Matched sizes, colors and clarities (particularly in goods ranging in sizes from .05 - .50 carats);
 - Consistency of diamond finish due to high quality;
 - Opportunity for color palette of diamond gemstones; and
- Lack of negative issues related to the environmental and social concerns.

We will seek to establish and maintain market acceptance through consumer education and industry cooperation. We intend to require laser marking of cultured diamond grown using the Diamond Technology (without compromising aesthetics) in order to brand and instill confidence in the consumer and the market as well as to differentiate our cultured diamond from earth-mined diamond. We intend to educate retailers and consumers on the physical properties of the Company's cultured diamond as compared to mined diamond and quality of the Company's cultured diamond. The Company will also market the fact that its cultured diamond are from a reliable and ethical source and are produced without the adverse environmental impact and other negative connotations associated with mining. The Company believes that it has an attractive selling proposition for its cultured diamond.

Commercial, Industrial and Technological Applications

Diamond has exceptional qualities for use in advanced electronics and optics applications, but to date, development progress has been slow because of, among other things, diamond's relative scarcity and high cost. Diamond's unique hardness, clarity and thermal characteristics have made it highly desirable for scientific use for decades. However, material consistency issues and economics have created barriers to mass application adoption of diamond. We believe that our Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach give us the ability to improve the quality and lower the cost of producing diamond materials, creating the opportunity for usage in a wider range of applications.

The demand for computing and communications products has increased significantly. As devices become more intelligent and ubiquitous, the need for connectivity at very high speeds, data intensive storage needs and ever-faster computer processors are pushing the limits of conventional silicon-based devices. Diamond enables these technologies to move past their current limitations and may be able to facilitate the development of next-generation devices in key areas such as wireless networking, optical storage, and high speed computing.

The Company anticipates several opportunities to monetize the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach in various technological applications. Pursuit of these opportunities is expected to be directed in part in concert with strategic partners.

Several of diamond's properties provide significant advantages over other materials used in devices/systems, such as high power switches, radiation detectors, and microwave windows suitable for use in plasma fields or other nuclear reactor high-electromagnetic interference ("EMI") environments.

The following chart explains the beneficial properties of diamond across selected applications.

The need for more durable advanced materials generated by technological development creates a broad and deep range of potential opportunities for our cultured diamond materials.

Plan of Operation

During the year ended March 31, 2012, the Company focused its efforts on the upfitting of a production facility in Greenville, SC. This facility, covering 7,500 square feet of leased space including the headquarters offices, was substantially completed and ready for production as of June 30, 2012. Ten of the production reactors purchased from ADI were installed in the facility as of that time and all systems had been successfully tested. The remaining three reactors remain in the Hudson, MA research and development facility.

The facility in Greenville includes infrastructure for the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach which reflects the years of development without the disadvantages of ADI's infrastructure design. The Company was able to partner with a large regulated electric power company to implement a filtered and nearly uninterruptible power supply. The Company also designed and built control and cooling systems at the Greenville facility that the Company believes will be more reliable and efficient.

The Industry and Competition

Our cultured diamond gemstones and diamond materials for use in industrial applications face competition from established producers and sellers of mined diamond, including companies such as De Beers, and other known and current and potential future manufacturers of cultured diamond. Companies which produce cultured diamond and may compete with the Company in one or more of its markets include Element Six (South Africa), a privately-held subsidiary of De Beers, Gemesis (USA & Malaysia), and Sumitomo Electric Industries, Ltd. (Japan). Other companies could seek to introduce cultured diamond or other competing diamond or to develop competing processes for production of cultured diamond. We believe that as cultured diamond continues to gain market acceptance, competition can be expected to increase.

Many of our competitors have significantly greater financial, technical, manufacturing and marketing resources and greater access to distribution channels than the Company. Our competitors include large multi-national gemstone diamond companies as well as start-up and development-stage gemstone diamond and technology companies, some of whom we may not be aware. Many of our competitors may be able to devote substantially greater resources to promotion and systems development than we can. Barriers to developing competitive technology in our market may not be sufficient to prevent competitors from entering the industry, and current and new competitors may be able to develop competing diamond at a relatively low cost. We believe that our success will depend heavily upon whether we can achieve significant market acceptance before our potential competitors are able to introduce broadly accepted competitive products.

Raw Materials

The principal raw materials used in the manufacture of our products are diamond seeds and commonly available certified high purity bottled gases. The diamond seeds can be purchased from other diamond material producers, but the Company intends to build seed inventory through its own self-sustaining seed production. Seeds are re-used through multiple production runs.

Our manufacturing process is dependent upon large amounts of electrical power delivered on an uninterrupted basis. The Company has worked with the local electric utility, a Fortune 200 company, to build and operate equipment at its manufacturing site that will meet its needs. This equipment is provided to the Company on a long term operating lease which includes warranty, maintenance and the delivery of electrical power at attractive per kilowatt/hour rates.

Customers

If the Company is able to implement high-volume commercial operations and reliably manufacture diamond products, then we anticipate that we will be able to sell our products internationally, given the potential demand for diamond and diamond materials and the variety of potential uses for these products in gemstone, high tech applications, alternative energy technologies, and defense technologies.

As of March 31, 2012, the Company had not produced revenues nor did it have firm orders placed by potential customers.

Patents, Trademarks, Licenses, Franchises, Concessions, Royalty Agreements or Labor Contracts

At March 31, 2012, we held the following number of patents:

Jurisdiction	No. of Patents
United States	16
Foreign	5
Total	21

Our research and development staff will continue to develop proprietary manufacturing processes and equipment designed to enhance our manufacturing facilities and reduce costs.

We also own various trademarks and trade secrets that we acquired from the ADI and ADGC.

Government Regulations

Laboratory technology activities are subject to various federal, state, foreign and local laws and regulations, which govern research, lab development, taxes, labor standards, occupational health, waste disposal, protection of the environment, mine safety, hazardous substances and several other matters. We believe that we are in compliance in all material respects with applicable technology, health, safety and environmental statutes and the regulations promulgated by the relevant jurisdictions. Currently, there are no costs associated with our compliance with such regulations and laws.

Certain federal and state laws and regulations govern the testing, creation and sale of the types of diamond we intend to produce. The United States Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) and other comparable regulatory authorities in the United States and in foreign countries may extensively and rigorously regulate our cultured diamond, product development activities and manufacturing processes. In the United States, the FTC regulates the introduction and labeling of gemstone diamond. We may be required to:

- obtain clearance before we can market and sell our cultured diamond;
- satisfy content requirements applicable to our labeling, sales and promotional materials;
 - comply with manufacturing and reporting requirements; and
 - undergo rigorous inspections.

The process of obtaining marketing clearance for new gemstone diamond from the FTC may prove costly and time consuming. The FTC has neither approved nor prohibited the use of the term “cultured” to describe the diamond the Company intends to sell as gemstones. However, in December 2006, the Jewelers’ Vigilance Committee submitted a petition (the “Petition”) to the FTC seeking amendment to the Guides for the Jewelry, Precious Metals, and Pewter Industries, 16 C.F.R. Part 23 (“Guides”) to include the term “cultured” as a proscribed term to describe laboratory-created diamond. By opinion, dated July 21, 2008, the FTC denied the Petition finding it did not demonstrate that the use of the term “cultured” to describe laboratory-created diamond, when qualified by one of the terms provided in the Guides, is deceptive or unfair and declined to amend the Guides as requested by the Petition. The Company has not procured FTC clearance, and the FTC has not precluded the Company from selling diamond produced using the Diamond Technology.

FTC has the power to restrict the offer and sale of diamond that could deceive or have the tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers with regard to the type, kind, quality, character, value, origin or other characteristics of a diamond gemstone. Under current guidelines issued by the FTC, the Company is permitted to market its diamond gemstones as “Scio-created,” “lab-created diamond”, “laboratory created diamond,” “laboratory grown diamond” or “cultured” so long as that term is accompanied by any of the foregoing and such designations may inhibit marketing descriptions that are more favorable to creating consumer demand. We may come under close scrutiny by governmental agencies and industry testing organizations and also by competitors in the gemstone industry, any of which may challenge our promotion and marketing of our cultured diamond. If our production or marketing is challenged by governmental agencies or competitors, or if regulations are issued that restrict our ability to produce and market our cultured diamond as “cultured diamond”, “lab-created diamond”, or otherwise as a mined diamond alternative, our business, operating results and financial condition could be materially adversely affected.

Our cultured diamond must also comply with similar laws and regulations of foreign countries in which we market such diamond. In general, the extent and complexity of gemstone diamond regulation is increasing worldwide. This trend may continue, and the cost and time required to obtain marketing clearance in any given country may increase as a result. Should it prove necessary, there can be no assurances that our cultured diamond will obtain any necessary foreign clearances on a timely basis, or at all.

Federal, state, local and foreign laws and regulations (especially those regarding approval of gemstone diamond) are always subject to change, and could have a material adverse effect on the testing and sale of our cultured diamond and, therefore, our business.

Research and Development

Our research and development activities have been significantly limited as we focus attention on the establishment of our production facility. We expect to invest in new technology and intellectual property development to improve production efficiencies and develop new products in the future.

Environmental Regulations

Our operations are subject to local, state and federal laws and regulations governing environmental quality and pollution control. To date, our compliance with these regulations has had no material effect on our operations, capital, earnings, or competitive position, and the cost of such compliance has not been material. We are unable to assess or predict at this time what effect additional regulations or legislation could have on our activities.

Employees

We had six full-time employees as of March 31, 2012, four of whom were located in South Carolina and two in Massachusetts.

ITEM 1A. RISK FACTORS.

Our business, financial condition, and results of operations could be harmed by any of the following risks, or other risks that have not been identified or which we currently believe are immaterial or unlikely. Shareholders should carefully consider the risks described below in conjunction with the other information in this Form 10-K and the information incorporated by reference in this Form 10-K, including our financial statements and related notes.

Risks Related to Our Business

We have a very limited operating history, we have incurred losses to date, and we have not generated a material amount of revenue to date, and therefore, it is difficult to evaluate our business and prospects.

Our Company is in the preliminary stages of development and has not yet begun production, has not finalized the scope of products to bring to market, has not yet engaged in any revenue-producing business activities and may incur substantial losses for the foreseeable future. As a company in the early stages of development, our business is subject to all the risks inherent in a new business enterprise. We have no substantial operating history, and as a young company in a new market, we may encounter various risks including, but not limited to, the following:

- our need to initiate our sales and marketing activities;
- our need to quickly hire and integrate new personnel, including various levels of senior management who have been hired relatively recently;
 - acceptance of our cultured diamond in the gemstone marketplace;
 - our ability to produce cultured diamond sufficient to meet anticipated demand;
 - our need to fund and manage our rapidly developing and changing operations; and
- the need to further refine and improve our technology with respect to the Diamond Technology - including the need to make the diamond growing process commercially viable, acceptable (by our own and third party measures) and economical - and our intellectual property and product offerings, and the need to respond to changing technologies and consumer preferences.

Likewise, the cultured diamond produced using the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach are in a relatively early stage of development and are subject to the risks inherent in the development and marketing of cultured diamond, including unforeseen design, manufacturing or other problems or failure to develop market acceptance. Our business is subject to the risks inherent in the transition of technology from research and development and prototype proof-of-concept to commercial production and market acceptance. Failure by the Company to complete and integrate commercial development of the cultured diamond it will market and distribute in sufficient quantities to meet market demand would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results and financial condition. Accordingly, the Company's prospects must be considered in light of the risks, expenses and difficulties frequently encountered by companies in their early stage of development, particularly technology-based companies operating with developing and unproven manufacturing processes. To address these risks, the Company must, among other things, respond to competitive developments, attract and motivate qualified personnel, develop market acceptance for its diamond, establish effective distribution channels, effectively manage any growth that may occur and continue to upgrade the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach and successfully commercialize the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach and cultured diamond incorporating such technology.

The Company purchased its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach from ADI and ADGC (collectively, the "Apollo Companies"). Neither of the Apollo Companies was able to successfully (profitably) develop and commercialize their man-made diamond development/growing process.

We expect future losses.

In order to achieve a commercially viable operation, we expect to make significant investments in technology, infrastructure, research and development. We expect to expend substantial financial and other resources on expanding our operations, in particular our diamond growth technology infrastructure and sales and marketing activities. As a result, we must generate significant revenues to achieve and maintain profitability. We expect that our sales and marketing expenses, general and administrative expenses, as well as the continued development expenses will continue to increase.

We will require additional funding.

Our future operations will require additional funding, and we may not be able to obtain such funding on acceptable terms or at all. We likely will require substantial additional capital to be able to fund continued development and improvement of the process for growing cultured diamond and to fund our expansion of manufacturing capacity to meet projected growth of the market for our cultured diamond. There can be no assurance that such efforts for raising capital will not involve substantial dilution with respect to existing or future shareholders of the Company.

Our future capital requirements will depend on many factors, including the speed at which our production process can be scaled-up for high yield production, market acceptance of and demand for our cultured diamond, and the timing of our expansion into new diamond markets. Our future capital requirements depend upon many factors, including, but not limited to:

- the rate at which we increase our production capacity;
- the rate at which we expand our sales and marketing operations;
- the rate at which we attract consumers, distributors and strategic relationships;
- the extent to which we are able to develop and upgrade the technology and infrastructure; and
- the response of competitors to our cultured diamond offerings.

We expect additional financing to be required and there can be no assurance that additional equity or debt financing, if required, will be available on acceptable terms or at all. If we raise additional funds by selling stock, the percentage ownership of our then current shareholders will be reduced, and we may raise these funds with securities that have rights, preferences, or privileges equal or superior to the rights of investors owning our common shares. If we cannot raise adequate funds to satisfy our capital requirements, we may have to limit our operations significantly, or the Company could terminate operations entirely, resulting in a complete loss of investment for our shareholders. Our inability to obtain financing on acceptable terms when needed would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results and financial condition.

Our business model is unproven.

Our initial business model consists of selling laboratory-created diamond for retail gemstone consumption and commercial applications. Although some minimal amounts of laboratory-created diamond has been sold to date by other companies, the full extent of the market for such diamond is unknown. This business model is relatively new, is unproven and is likely to continue to evolve. Accordingly, our business model may not be successful, and we may need to make substantial changes thereto. Our ability to generate significant revenues will depend, in large part, on our ability to successfully market our product to consumers, distributors and commercial customers. We intend to continue to develop our business model as the market for our products evolves.

Neither of the Apollo Companies (from whom the Company purchased its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach) was able to successfully (profitably) develop and commercialize their man-made diamond development/growing process.

We are wholly dependent on the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach.

Our cultured diamond supply depends entirely on our ability to manufacture cultured diamond using the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach acquired via the August 31, 2011 purchase of assets by the Company from ADI and the June 5, 2012 purchase of assets by the Company from ADGC.

Although the ability to produce limited quantities of high quality cultured diamond has been demonstrated, it has yet to be proven that such success can be transferred into a mass production process that will yield high-quality gemstones and material suitable for retail gemstone distribution and commercial/industrial applications. The inability or difficulty to transfer the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach into a high-yield production facility would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition. Any disruption in our ability to produce high quality cultured diamond would have a significant material effect on our business.

The Company purchased its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach from the Apollo Companies. Neither of the Apollo Companies was able to successfully (profitably) develop and commercialize their man-made diamond development/growing process.

Our future revenues are unpredictable, and we expect our operating results to fluctuate from period to period.

Our lack of operating history and the emerging nature of the markets in which we expect to compete make it difficult for us to accurately forecast our revenues in any given period. As such, our revenues could fall short of our expectations if we experience production delays or difficulties. Likewise, our revenues could fall short of expectations should our product not be met with the demand we anticipate from the marketplace. We have no experience in financial planning for our business on which to base our planned operating expenses.

Our operating results are likely to fluctuate substantially from period to period as a result of a number of factors, many of which are beyond our control. These factors include, but are not limited to, the following:

- outside market influences beyond our control, including extended periods of decreased demand for all diamond gemstones;
 - our ability to enter into successful strategic relationships;
 - our ability to attract purchasers and/or distributors;
- the amount and timing of operating costs and capital expenditures relating to expansion of our cultured diamond producing operations;
 - the rate at which individuals and organizations accept our product;
 - an announcement or introduction of new or enhanced diamond or services by our competitors;
 - our ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; and
 - pricing policies instituted by our current and possible future competitors.

The Company has generated limited revenue to date and consequently its operations are subject to all risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. For the period from inception, September 17, 2009, through March 31, 2012, the Company has accumulated deficit of $2,103,957. We currently expect to generate revenue in the future, but there can be no assurances that we will ever generate revenue or generate sufficient revenues to achieve profitability. If we do achieve profitability, there can be no assurances that we can sustain or increase profitability.

Neither of the Apollo Companies (from whom the Company purchased its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach) was able to successfully (profitably) develop and commercialize their man-made diamond development/growing process.

Our ability to develop our core technologies is subject to uncertainties.

The process by which we plan to manufacture diamond is highly complex. We anticipate that customers will have highly specific quality standards that our cultured diamond will be required to meet. The cultured diamond we intend to sell is in the early stages of development and there can be no assurances that it will meet high customer standards. Product failure or the inability to meet customer requirements would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition. The process by which we plan to produce our cultured diamond requires the integration of several complex components, some of which will be provided by third-party suppliers. The successful integration of the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach with third-party products will determine the performance and scalability of our production process. We will be dependent upon our employees and vendors to maintain an adequate testing and technical support infrastructure to ensure the successful adoption and rollout of cultured diamond to customers. We currently have no experience in these areas. Failing in any of these areas could materially adversely affect our business.

We may not be able to establish effective distribution channels.

We initially intend to sell our cultured diamond gemstones in selected markets in the United States with subsequent distribution in select markets around the world. We expect that we will be required to enter into distribution agreements with, and will be dependent upon, a number of third parties for distribution and sales of our cultured diamond. We have not yet entered into distribution agreements with any distributors. There can be no assurance that we will be able to enter into distribution agreements with distributors or that our distribution strategy will prove to be successful. Additionally, there can be no assurance that distributors will devote the efforts needed for successful distribution of our cultured diamond gemstones. The inability of the Company to enter into favorable arrangements with distributors or to achieve desired distribution of our cultured diamond would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition.

Our sales of diamond material for commercial applications will be dependent upon our ability to enter into profitable relationships with businesses best able to reap rewards from the unique characteristics of diamond. There is no assurance that we will be able to initiate and maintain these relationships.

The Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach may be vulnerable to failure.

Our success depends, in part, on the performance, reliability and availability of the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach and the cultured diamond we ultimately produce. The Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach and the cultured diamond produced thereby may be vulnerable to failure. The failure of the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach or the cultured diamond produced thereby could adversely affect our business. The process for manufacturing diamond using the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach is vulnerable to disruptions due to a variety of factors, which may lead to interruptions, delays, and losses of opportunities or inability to consistently market and sell our cultured diamond. The occurrence of any of the foregoing events could have a material adverse effect on our business.

We may need to effectively manage rapid growth of our operations.

Our ability to successfully offer cultured diamond and to implement our business plan in a new market requires an effective planning and management process. We are in the process of initiating our operations and anticipate having to increase our headcount substantially. Beginning our operations and potentially experiencing rapid growth would place a significant strain on our management systems, infrastructure and resources. We will need to continue to improve our financial and managerial controls and reporting systems and procedures, and will need to continue to expand, train and manage our workforce. Furthermore, we may be required to manage an increasing number of relationships with various users, customers and other third parties. Any failure to expand any of the foregoing areas efficiently and effectively could cause our business to suffer. We could experience a period of rapid and significant growth, which could continue over several years. We believe rapid growth would place a significant strain on our resources. Our ability to manage growth effectively will require us to implement and improve operational and financial systems and to expand, train and manage our employee base. We also may be required to manage multiple relationships with various suppliers, customers and other third parties. Our future operating results will also depend on our ability to expand sales and marketing, research and development and administrative support organizations. If the Company is unable to manage growth effectively, our business, financial condition and results of operations would be materially adversely affected.

We depend on our key management personnel.

Our success depends in part upon our ability to retain the services of certain executive officers and other key employees and on the skills, experience and performance of senior management and certain other key personnel, most of whom have either never worked together or who have worked together for only a short period of time. The loss of the services of our executive officers or other key employees could have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition. Because we are in the early stages of development, we are also dependent on our ability to recruit, retain and motivate personnel with technical, manufacturing and chemical vapor deposition process skills. There are a limited number of personnel with these qualifications and competition for such personnel may be intense. Our inability to attract, integrate and retain additional qualified key personnel would materially adversely affect our business, operating results and financial condition.

We will need to hire additional personnel.

Our future success depends on our ability to identify, attract, hire, train, retain and motivate highly skilled executive, technical, managerial, sales and marketing and business development personnel. We intend to hire a number of executive, technical, sales, and marketing, business development and administrative personnel during the next one or two years. Competition for qualified personnel may prove intense, particularly in the technology markets. If we fail to successfully attract, assimilate and retain a sufficient number of qualified executive, technical, managerial, sales and marketing, business development and administrative personnel, our business could suffer.

Our success depends upon achieving a critical mass of customers and strategic relationships.

Our success is largely dependent upon achieving significant market acceptance for our cultured diamond. As of the date hereof, the Company has not marketed our cultured diamond to consumers. Our market is at an early stage of development. Although we believe that our cultured diamond will ultimately achieve broad market acceptance, our existing and potential competitors may offer diamond that could damage our business.

Our success is also dependent upon attracting significant numbers of distributors and strategic relationships in order to market and produce our cultured diamond. Our ability to enter into beneficial distribution partnerships will depend in large part upon our success in convincing gemstone consumers that our cultured diamond is of a desired quality. Failure to achieve and maintain a critical mass of market acceptance will seriously harm our business.

We need to establish brand awareness.

Due in part to the emerging nature of the market for “cultured” or “lab-grown” diamond and the substantial resources available to some of our competitors, our opportunity to achieve and maintain a significant market share may be limited. We believe developing and maintaining awareness of the Scio Diamond brand name, or other brand name(s) to be determined in the future, is critical to achieving widespread acceptance of our business opportunity. Further, the importance of brand recognition will increase as competition in our market increases. Successfully promoting and positioning the Company’s brand(s) will depend largely on the effectiveness of our production and marketing efforts, as well as our ability to deliver high-quality cultured diamond at competitive prices. Therefore, we may need to increase our financial commitment to creating and maintaining brand awareness. If we fail to successfully promote our brand name or if we incur significant expenses promoting and maintaining our brand name, it could have a material adverse effect on the results of our operations.

The current and future state of the global economy may curtail our operations and our anticipated revenues.

Our business may be adversely affected by changes in domestic and international economic conditions, including inflation, changes in consumer preferences and changes in consumer spending rates, personal bankruptcy and the ability to collect our accounts receivable. Changes in global economic conditions may adversely affect the demand for our products and make it more difficult to collect accounts receivable, thereby negatively affecting our business, operating results and financial condition. The recent disruptions in credit and other financial markets and deterioration of national and global economic conditions could, among other things, impair the financial condition of some of our customers and suppliers, thereby increasing customer bad debts or non-performance by suppliers.

Acts of war, terrorism or other unknown and unexpected events could disrupt our business and we could be required to cease our operations.

Involvement in a war or other military action or acts of terrorism may cause significant disruption to commerce throughout the world. To the extent that such disruptions result in (i) delays or cancellations of customer orders, (ii) a general decrease in consumer spending, (iii) our inability to effectively market and distribute our products or (iv) our inability to access capital markets, our business and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. We are unable to predict whether the involvement in a war or other military action will result in any long-term commercial disruptions or if such involvement or responses will have any long-term material adverse effect on our business, results of operations or financial condition.

A “going concern” qualification in our financial statements might create additional doubt about our ability to stay in business, which could result in a total loss of investment by our shareholders.

We have no revenues and have negative operating cash flows. These issues raise substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a “going concern.”

Risks Related to Our Industry

The potential market for our cultured diamond is unproven and may not materialize.

There currently is no widely-developed market for cultured diamond, and we believe that companies operating in the gemstone field may not be fully aware of the existence and attributes of our cultured diamond. As is the case with any new or potential product, market acceptance and demand are subject to a significant amount of uncertainty. Neither of the Apollo Companies (from whom the Company purchased its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach) was able to successfully (profitably) develop and commercialize their man-made diamond development/growing process. Our future financial performance will depend upon consumer acceptance of cultured diamond as a realistic and comparable alternative to mined diamond and other gemstones. Because no widely-developed markets now exist for cultured diamond, it is difficult to predict the future growth rate, if any, and the size of the market for our cultured diamond. We may spend significant amounts of capital to acquire diamond production systems at a time when demand for our cultured diamond is not at a level to fund those expenditures. The market for our cultured diamond may never develop or may develop at a slower pace than expected due to a general lack of consumer acceptance of cultured diamond. If the market fails to develop or develops more slowly than expected, or if our cultured diamond does not achieve significant market acceptance, our business, operating results and financial condition would be materially adversely affected.

We face significant competition.

Our cultured gemstone diamond will face competition from established producers and sellers of mined diamond and other known and potential manufacturers of cultured gemstones. Other companies could seek to introduce cultured diamond or other competing diamond or to develop competing processes for production of cultured diamond. We believe that the more successful the Company is in creating market acceptance for cultured gemstone diamond, the more competition can be expected to increase. Increased competition could result in a decrease in the price charged by the Company for our cultured diamond or reduce demand for our cultured diamond, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition. Further, our current and potential competitors may have significantly greater financial, technical, manufacturing and marketing resources and greater access to distribution channels than the Company. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully with existing or potential competitors.

Widespread consumer acceptance of cultured diamond gemstones is still developing. At this time, the Company is aware that it may or will be competing with companies that produce or may produce cultured diamond, including Gemesis, Element Six, and Sumitomo. We believe that as cultured gemstones continue to gain widespread consumer acceptance, the more competition can be expected to increase. Increased competition could result in a decrease in the price expected to be charged by the Company for our cultured diamond or reduce demand for our cultured diamond, which would have a material adverse effect on our business, operating results and financial condition.

Our potential competitors in the gemstone diamond industry may have significantly greater financial, technical, manufacturing and marketing resources and greater access to distribution channels than the Company. Our competitors will likely include large multi-national gemstone diamond companies as well as numerous start-up and development-stage gemstone diamond and technology companies, some of whom we may not be aware. We expect intense competition as we execute our business plan. It is believed that some of our existing and potential competitors, as well as potential entrants into our market, have longer operating histories, larger user bases, greater brand recognition and significantly greater financial, marketing and other resources than the Company. Many of these potential competitors may be able to devote substantially greater resources to promotion and systems development than we can. Barriers to developing competitive technology in our market may not be sufficient and current and competitors may be able to develop competing diamond at a relatively low cost. Accordingly, we believe that our success will depend heavily upon achieving significant market acceptance before our potential competitors introduce competing products. There can be no assurance that we will be able to compete successfully with potential competitors.

Rapid technological change will affect our business.

Rapidly changing technology, evolving industry standards, evolving consumer demands and frequent new product introductions are expected to define our market. Our market's early stage of development may exacerbate these characteristics. Our future success will depend in significant part on our ability to continuously improve the quality of cultured diamond and our production capabilities in response to both the evolving demands of the market and competitive product offerings. Efforts in these areas may not be successful.

We expect to have limited protection of our intellectual property and proprietary rights.

We regard the patents, trade secrets and similar intellectual property acquired via the ADI Asset Purchase as critical to our success. We must rely on patent law, trade secret protection and confidentiality agreements with our employees, customers, strategic partners, advisors and others to protect those proprietary rights. Such measures, however, afford only limited protection, and we may not be able to maintain the propriety and/or confidentiality of the technology. Despite these precautions, unauthorized third parties might use information that we regard as proprietary to compete or help others to compete with us. There is no assurance that any of the existing patent applications or future patent applications, if made, will be granted, or, if granted, will not be invalidated or circumvented, or that the rights granted there under will provide us with a competitive advantage. Any misappropriation of our proprietary information by third parties could materially adversely affect our business. There can be no assurance that any other patents issued will provide any significant commercial protection to the Company, that the Company will have sufficient resources to prosecute its patents or that any patents will be upheld by a court should the Company seek to enforce its respective rights against an infringer.

There can be no assurances that:

- any pending patent applications or any future patent applications will result in the issuance of patents;
- the scope of any patent protection will be effective to exclude competitors or to provide competitive advantages to us;
 - we will be able to commercially exploit any issued patents before they expire;
 - any of the patents held will be held valid if subsequently challenged
- others will not claim rights in, or ownership of, the patents and other proprietary rights acquired or produced by the Company;
 - our cultured diamond will not infringe, or be alleged to infringe, the proprietary rights of others; or
- we will be able to protect meaningful rights in proprietary technology over which the party does not hold patents.

Furthermore, there can be no assurances that others have not developed or will not develop diamond which may duplicate any of the diamond produced using the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach or our expected manufacturing processes or that others will not design around any of the Company's patents. The existence of valid patents does not provide absolute prevention from other companies independently developing competing technologies. Existing producers of cultured diamond may refine existing processes for growing diamond or develop new technologies for growing diamond in a manner that does not infringe any intellectual property rights of the Company. Other parties may independently develop or otherwise acquire substantially equivalent techniques, gain access to our acquired proprietary technology or disclose such technology. In addition, whether or not we obtain additional patents, others may hold or receive patents covering components of diamond we independently develop in the future. There can be no assurances that third parties will not claim infringement by us, and seek substantial damages, with respect to current or future diamond-related activities. If we were to become involved in a dispute regarding intellectual property, whether ours or that of another company, we may become involved in material legal proceedings. Any such claims, with or without merit, could be time-consuming, result in costly litigation, cause product shipment delays and require us to:

- cease manufacturing and selling the product in question, which could seriously harm us;
 - enter into royalty or licensing agreements; or
- design commercially acceptable non-infringing alternative diamond.

There can be no assurances that we would be able to obtain royalty or licensing agreements, if required, on terms acceptable to us or at all, or that we would be able to develop commercially acceptable non-infringing alternative diamond. The failure to do so could have a material adverse effect upon our business, financial condition, operating results and cash flows. We cannot be absolutely certain that the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach does not infringe issued patents or other intellectual property rights of others. In addition, because patent applications in the United States are not publicly disclosed until the patent is issued, applications may have been filed which relate to the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach. There can be no assurance that our business and ability to produce diamond will not be impaired by claims that we are infringing upon the intellectual property of others. We may be subject to future legal proceedings and claims from time to time in the ordinary course of our business, including claims of alleged infringement of the trademarks and other intellectual property rights of third parties. Intellectual property litigation is expensive and time-consuming, and could divert the Company's management's attention from diamond production and operating our business. As a result of the foregoing, the limited protection of our acquired intellectual property rights and proprietary information could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operating results and financial condition.

Substantial governmental regulation may restrict our ability to sell our cultured diamond.

Certain federal and state laws and regulations govern the testing, creation and sale of the types of diamond we intend to produce. The United States Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) and other comparable regulatory authorities here and in foreign countries may extensively and rigorously regulate our cultured diamond, product development activities and manufacturing processes. In the United States, the FTC regulates the introduction and labeling of gemstone diamond. We may be required to:

- obtain clearance before we can market and sell our cultured diamond;
- satisfy content requirements applicable to our labeling, sales and promotional materials;
 - comply with manufacturing and reporting requirements; and
 - undergo rigorous inspections.

The process of obtaining marketing clearance for new gemstone diamond from the FTC may prove costly and time consuming. The FTC has neither approved nor prohibited the use of the term “cultured” to describe the diamond the Company intends to sell as gemstones. However, in December 2006, the Jewelers’ Vigilance Committee submitted a petition (the “Petition”) to the FTC seeking amendment to the Guides for the Jewelry, Precious Metals, and Pewter Industries, 16 C.F.R. Part 23 (“Guides”) to include the term “cultured” as a proscribed term to describe laboratory-created diamond. By opinion, dated July 21, 2008, the FTC denied the Petition finding it did not demonstrate that the use of the term “cultured” to describe laboratory-created diamond, when qualified by one of the terms provided in the Guides, is deceptive or unfair and declined to amend the Guides as requested by the Petition. The Company has not procured FTC clearance, and the FTC has precluded the Company from selling diamond produced using the Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach. Despite its knowledge of the existing limited sales of cultured diamond gemstones, there can be no assurances that the FTC will not preclude the Company, or others similarly situated from marketing and selling cultured diamond.

The FTC has the power to restrict the offer and sale of diamond that could deceive or have the tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers with regard to the type, kind, quality, character, value, origin or other characteristics of a diamond gemstone. Under current guidelines issued by the FTC, the Company is permitted to market its diamond gemstones as “Scio-created,” “lab-created diamond”, “laboratory created diamond,” “laboratory grown diamond” or “cultured” so long as that term is accompanied by any of the foregoing and such designations may inhibit marketing descriptions that are more favorable to creating consumer demand. We may come under close scrutiny by governmental agencies and industry testing organizations and also by competitors in the gemstone industry, any of which may challenge our promotion and marketing of our cultured diamond. If our production or marketing is challenged by governmental agencies or competitors, or if regulations are issued that restrict our ability to produce and market our cultured diamond as “cultured diamond”, “lab-created diamond”, or otherwise as a mined diamond alternative, our business, operating results and financial condition could be materially adversely affected.

Our cultured diamond must also comply with similar laws and regulations of foreign countries in which we market such diamond. In general, the extent and complexity of gemstone diamond regulation is increasing worldwide. This trend may continue, and the cost and time required to obtain marketing clearance in any given country may increase as a result. Should it prove necessary, there can be no assurances that our cultured diamond will obtain any necessary foreign clearances on a timely basis, or at all. Our inability to satisfy specific requirements for approval by domestic and/or foreign regulatory agencies could materially adversely affect our ability to bring diamond to market and generate revenue.

Federal, state, local and foreign laws and regulations (especially those regarding approval of gemstone diamond) are always subject to change, and could have a material adverse effect on the testing and sale of our cultured diamond and, therefore, our business.

Regulatory authorities may limit our business in the future.

We will be subject to extensive regulatory requirements. Government authorities can withdraw marketing clearance due to our failure to comply with regulatory standards or due to the occurrence of unforeseen problems following initial clearance. Ongoing regulatory requirements are wide-ranging and govern, among other things:

- product manufacturing;
- annual inspections related to ISO certification of our quality system;
 - supplier substitution;
 - product changes;
 - process modifications;
- the process of assuring origin of mine and/or production of diamond;
 - gemstone diamond reporting; and
 - product sales and distribution.

We expect that various government agencies may inspect our facilities from time to time to determine whether we are in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. If we fail to comply or maintain compliance with gemstone diamond laws or regulations, regulatory authorities may fine us and bar us from selling our cultured diamond. If a regulatory agency believes we are not in compliance with such laws or regulations, it may be able to:

- seize our cultured diamond;
 - require a recall;
- withdraw previously granted market clearances;

- implement procedures to stop future violations; and/or
 - seek civil and criminal penalties against us.

See "Shareholders may be unable to exercise control because directors and officers own and control a large percentage of the Company's common stock," above, for information regarding the percentage of ownership of the Company beneficially owned by held our directors, Edward S. Adams, who serves as our Chairman, and Michael R. Monahan, both of whom are partners in Adams Monahan LLP.

On August 5, 2011, we purchased the name “Scio Diamond Technology Corporation” and acquired other rights from Private Scio for 13,000,000 newly issued shares of common stock of the Company, of which Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan each acquired, directly or indirectly, 4,100,000 shares of our common stock, and Mr. Lancia acquired 2,000,000 shares. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan were directors of Private Scio, and Mr. Lancia was an officer of Private Scio, and they owned 31.5%, 31.5% and 15.4%, respectively, of Private Scio

We purchased certain assets, consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and intellectual property related thereto, from ADI on August 31, 2011. We and ADI have substantial common ownership, and both Mr. Adams, in an executive role, and Mr. Monahan previously served in various capacities with ADI until 2011.

In addition, on June 5, 2012, we acquired certain assets, consisting primarily of cultured diamond gemstone-related know-how, inventory, and various intellectual property, from ADGC. ADGC and the Company have substantial common ownership. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan also served in various capacities with ADGC through early 2011. ADI and certain of its shareholders also own or owned a substantial interest in ADGC.

In connection with the purchase of assets from ADGC and the prior purchase of assets from ADI, we are, among other things, providing certain current and former stockholders of ADI and ADGC the opportunity to acquire up to approximately 17 million shares of our common stock at a nominal purchase price in the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering.

The Company understands that most of the outstanding shares of ADI and ADGC were redeemed prior to and in anticipation of the Company’s purchase of assets from ADI and ADGC. Mr. Adams and his spouse owned approximately 2% of the common stock of ADI and 11% of the common stock of ADGC (prior to the stock repurchases by such companies in 2011). Neither Mr. Adams nor his spouse is participating in the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. Monahan held no stock of ADI and approximately 4% of the stock of ADGC (prior to the stock repurchases by ADGC in 2011). Mr. Monahan is not participating in the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan and their law firm have provided legal services to each of ADI, ADGC and the Company. Robert C. Linares, the Chairman of the Board of each of ADI and ADGC, who is also the largest stockholder of each of ADI and ADGC, is the father-in-law of Mr. Adams. Mr. R. Linares is expected to purchase up to 250,000 shares of common stock of the Company as a former ADI stockholder in connection with the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Bryant R. Linares, a former executive officer of both ADI and ADGC, and the second largest stockholder previously of both ADI and ADGC, is expected to purchase up to 1,000,000 shares of common stock of the Company as a former ADI stockholder in connection with the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. B. Linares is the brother-in-law of Mr. Adams.

Provisions in our Articles of Incorporation and bylaws or Nevada law might discourage, delay or prevent a change of control of us or changes in our management and, therefore, depress the trading price of the common stock.

The actual issuance of any preferred stock could diminish the rights of holders of our common stock, and therefore could reduce the value of such common stock. In addition, specific rights granted to future holders of preferred stock could be used to restrict our ability to merge with, or sell assets to, a third party. The ability of our board of directors to issue preferred stock could make it more difficult, delay, discourage, prevent or make it more costly to acquire or effect a change-in-control, which in turn could prevent our shareholders from recognizing a gain in the event that a favorable offer is extended and could materially and negatively affect the market price of our common stock.

In addition, Nevada corporate law and our Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws also contain other provisions that could discourage, delay or prevent a change in control of our Company or changes in its management that our shareholders may deem advantageous. These provisions include the following:

- deny holders of our common stock cumulative voting rights in the election of directors, meaning that shareholders owning a majority of our outstanding shares of common stock will be able to elect all of our directors;
- require any stockholder wishing to properly bring a matter before a meeting of shareholders to comply with specified procedural and advance notice requirements; and
 - allow any vacancy on the board of directors, however the vacancy occurs, to be filled by the directors.

There is no active public market for any of our securities, which are not listed on any stock exchange, and transfer of our securities, is restricted.

There is presently no active market, private or public, for our securities, and there can be no assurance that a trading market will ever develop or, if developed, that it will be maintained. Our securities are not listed on any stock exchange. We believe that we currently may not have enough shareholders or outstanding shares to support an active trading market, even if the securities were listed on a recognized trading exchange. There can be no assurance that our investors will be able to resell any of our securities at any price. The Company makes no representation to investors regarding the value of its securities, and, particularly in light of the thin trading in the Company's securities, trading prices may or may not reasonably reflect the intrinsic value, if any, of the Company's securities.

We may be deemed to be a former shell company in accordance with the Securities Act. We filed a Form 8-K on August 18, 2011, which stated management's conclusion that we were no longer a shell corporation. However, we intend to amend our Form 8-K filed on September 2, 2011 with respect to the purchase of assets from ADI, to reflect our current conclusion that we were still a shell company immediately prior to the purchase of such assets. Therefore, it is unclear as to what date we will be deemed to have filed our Form 10 information. Assuming that we are now a former shell company (which we currently believe to be the case), then our shares of common stock may not be resold under Rule 144 of the Securities Act except pursuant to Rule 144(i). Resales under Rule 144(i) generally require, that, in addition to the normal Rule 144 requirements and limitations: (1) we have ceased to be a shell company; (2) we are subject to the reporting requirements of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Exchange Act"); (3) we have filed all Exchange Act reports required for the past 12 months; and (4) a minimum of one year has elapsed since we filed current Form 10 information on Form 8-K changing our status from a shell company to a non-shell company. An investment in the Company should be considered a long-term, illiquid investment, and investors should be able to withstand a complete loss of their investment.

Our Bylaws specifically provide that we shall not be required to effectuate the transfer of any shares of our common stock without first receiving from the transferring stockholder (i) an opinion of counsel satisfactory to the Company that a proposed transfer may be made lawfully without the registration of such shares pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and applicable state securities laws, or (ii) evidence that the shares proposed to be transferred have been registered under the Securities Act. The existence of the foregoing restrictions may, therefore, adversely affect the future market price for our securities and the rights of our shareholders.

Future stock issuances could severely dilute our current shareholders' interests.

The future issuance of common stock or preferred stock may result in dilution in the percentage of our common stock held by our existing shareholders. Also, any stock we sell in the future may be valued on an arbitrary basis by us and the issuance of shares of common stock or preferred stock for future services, acquisitions or other corporate actions may have the effect of diluting the value of the shares held by our existing shareholders.

In addition to Company securities to be issued in connection with ongoing capital raising and pursuant to the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering, as of June 30, 2012, the Company had reserved 4,660,000 shares of common stock for issuance upon the exercise of vested and unvested options (with such unvested options being subject to performance-based vesting criteria) to purchase shares of the Company's common stock that have been previously issued to certain executive officers and other employees of the Company.

In addition, it is the Company's current intention (depending on the development of the business plan and other factors) to raise substantial additional capital during 2012, which we expect to result in substantial dilution in the percentage of our common stock held by our existing shareholders.

Any additional funding we arrange through the sale of our common stock will result in dilution to existing shareholders' voting power and may result in dilution to the book value per share held by existing shareholders.

We must raise additional capital in order for our business plan to succeed. Our most likely source of additional capital will be through the sale of additional shares of common stock. Such stock issuances would cause shareholders' voting interests in our Company to be diluted and may cause the book value per share held by existing shareholders to be diluted. Such dilution could negatively affect the value of investors' shares.

We do not expect to pay cash dividends in the foreseeable future.

We are not obligated to pay dividends with respect to our capital stock, and we do not anticipate the payment of cash dividends on our capital stock in the foreseeable future. Any decision to pay dividends will depend upon our profitability at the time, cash available, and other factors; however, it is currently anticipated that any future profits received from operations will be retained for operations. Therefore, no assurance can be given that there will ever be any such cash dividend or distribution in the future. Accordingly, investors must rely on sales of their capital stock after price appreciation, which may never occur, or a sale of our Company or other similar transaction as the only way to realize a gain on their investment.

If we do not obtain additional financing, our business may fail.

We anticipate that additional funding will be needed for general administrative expenses, operating costs and marketing costs. There is no guarantee that we will be able to raise the required cash and because of this our business may fail. We have not generated any revenue from operations to date. The specific cost requirements needed to maintain operations will depend upon the production we are able to generate. If we are not able to raise the capital necessary to fund our business objectives, we may have to delay the implementation of our business plan. Obtaining additional funding will be subject to a number of factors, including general market conditions, investor acceptance of our business plan and initial results from our business operations. These factors may impact the timing, amount, terms or conditions of additional financing available to us. The most likely source of future funds available to us is through the sale of additional shares of common stock. There is no guarantee that we will be able to raise the funds required by the Company and, if we are not able to raise such funds, then our business may fail.

Because our continuation as a going concern is in doubt, we may be forced to cease business operations unless we can generate profitable operations in the future.

We will be incurring losses until we build a break-even level of revenue. Further losses are anticipated in the development of our business. As a result, there is substantial doubt about our ability to continue as a going concern. Our ability to continue as a going concern is dependent upon our ability to generate profitable operations in the future and/or to obtain the necessary financing to meet our obligations and repay our liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due. We will require additional funds in order to provide proper service to our potential clients. At this time, we cannot assure investors that we will be able to obtain financing. If we are unable to raise needed financing, we will have to delay or abandon further operations. If we cannot raise financing to meet our obligations, we will be insolvent and may be forced to cease our business operations.

If an active trading market for our common stock does not develop, shareholders may be unable to sell their shares.

There is currently no active trading market for our common stock and we can provide no assurance that a market will develop. We may decide to apply for listing of our common stock on a U.S. exchange. However, we can provide no assurances that we will apply or that our common stock would be accepted for listing on any stock exchange. Accordingly, we can provide investors with no assurance that our shares will be traded on a U.S. exchange or, if traded, that an active public trading market will materialize. If no active trading market is ever developed for our shares, it will be difficult for shareholders to sell their stock. In such a case, shareholders may find that they are unable to sell their shares of our common stock.

Our shares of common stock are subject to the “penny stock” rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the trading market in our securities will be limited, which will make transactions in our stock cumbersome and may reduce the value of an investment in our stock.

The SEC has adopted rules that regulate broker-dealer practices in connection with transactions in “penny stocks.” Penny stocks generally are equity securities with a price of less than $5.00 (other than securities registered on certain national securities exchanges or quoted on the NASDAQ system, provided that current price and volume information with respect to transactions in such securities is provided by the exchange or system). Penny stock rules require a broker-dealer, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules, to deliver a standardized risk disclosure document prepared by the SEC, which specifies information about penny stocks and the nature and significance of risks of the penny stock market. A broker-dealer must also provide the customer with bid and offer quotations for the penny stock, the compensation of the broker-dealer, and sales person in the transaction, and monthly account statements indicating the market value of each penny stock held in the customer’s account. In addition, the penny stock rules require that, prior to a transaction in a penny stock not otherwise exempt from those rules, the broker-dealer must make a special written determination that the penny stock is a suitable investment for the purchaser and receive the purchaser’s written agreement to the transaction. These disclosure requirements may have the effect of reducing the trading activity in the secondary market for stock that becomes subject to those penny stock rules. If a trading market for our common stock develops, our common stock will probably become subject to the penny stock rules, and shareholders may have difficulty in selling their shares.

Any additional funding we arrange through the sale of our common stock will result in dilution to existing shareholders’ voting power and may result in dilution to the book value per share held by existing shareholders.

We must raise additional capital in order for our business plan to succeed. Our most likely source of additional capital will be through the sale of additional shares of common stock. Such stock issuances would cause shareholders’ voting interests in our Company to be diluted and may cause the book value per share held by existing shareholders to be diluted. Such dilution could negatively affect the value of investors' shares.

We have very little experience as a public company and may not be able to operate successfully as a public company, regardless of whether our operations are successful.

We have operated as a public company for a very limited period of time. We have little experience in complying with the various rules and regulations which are required of a public company. As a result, we may not be able to operate successfully as a public company, regardless of whether our operations are successful.

Our board of directors has concluded that the issuance of shares of the Company's common stock to certain current and former stockholders of ADI (as part of the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering) in connection with our purchase of assets from ADI should have been treated as part of the purchase price of the ADI assets and that we are required to restate our quarterly financial statements for each of the quarters ended September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2011 and to amend our Form 10-Qs for each such period. We also intend to amend our Form 8-K filed on September 2, 2011 with respect to the purchase of assets from ADI to reflect our current conclusion that we were a shell company immediately prior to the purchase of such assets. Therefore, it is unclear as to what date we will be deemed to have filed our Form 10 information.

If we cannot operate successfully as a public company, an investment in our Company may be adversely affected. Our inability to operate as a public company could be the basis of an investor losing his or her entire investment in us. As a public company, we will incur significant costs including but not limited to the following: audit, legal, internal costs related to compliance, market maker, transfer agent, and EDGAR filing fees. These costs are expected to be substantial and will vary depending on the Company's activity and the SEC's review of the Company.

Material weaknesses in our disclosure controls and procedures or our failure to remediate such material weaknesses could result in a material misstatement in our financial statements not being prevented or detected and could affect investor confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial statements, as well as our common stock price.

We have identified material weaknesses in our disclosure controls and procedures, including a lack of sufficient internal accounting resources, necessary to ensure that adequate review of our financial statements and notes thereto is performed, and have concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was not effective as of March 31, 2012. These material weaknesses and our remediation plans are described further in Item 9A. Weaknesses in our disclosure controls and procedures could result in material misstatements in our financial statements not being prevented or detected. We may experience difficulties or delays in completing remediation or may not be able to successfully remediate material weaknesses at all. Any material weakness or unsuccessful remediation could affect our ability to file periodic reports on a timely basis and investor confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial statements, which in turn could harm our business and have an adverse effect on our stock price and our ability to raise additional funds.

We may expend a substantial amount of time and resources in connection with SEC, other regulatory, or shareholder-related inquiries or legal actions related to our restatement of our previously filed financial statements and other disclosures and the transactions related thereto or other matters.

We may expend a substantial amount of time and resources in connection with SEC, other regulatory or shareholder-related inquiries or legal actions related to our restatement of our previously filed financial statements and other disclosures and the transactions related thereto or other matters. Such actions could have a material adverse effect on the Company's liquidity and financial condition and could also affect our ability to file periodic reports on a timely basis and investor confidence in the accuracy and completeness of our financial statements, which in turn could harm our business and have an adverse effect on our stock price and our ability to raise additional funds.

We have been served with a complaint filed by a former shareholder of ADI.

On or about August 3, 2012, we were served with a complaint filed by Kenneth Fink, a former shareholder of ADI, against our Chairman, Edward S. Adams and our director Michael R. Monahan, their respective spouses, Robert C. Linares, the Chairman of ADI and ADGC, the law firm of Adams Monahan LLP, Loblolly, Inc., which was formerly known as Scio Diamond Technology Corporation and is referred to in this Annual Report as "Private Scio", the Company, and, as a nominal defendant, ADI, in the U.S. District Court for the District of Minnesota.

The complaint alleges (i) against Adams, Monahan, Linares, Adams Monahan LLP, and the Company, violations of SEC Rule 10b-5 promulgated under Sections 10(b) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, (ii) against Adams, Monahan, Linares, Adams Monahan LLP, and the Company, violations of the Minnesota Securities Act, Minn. Stat. § 80A.68 and 80A.76, (iii) against Adams, Monahan, Linares, and Adams Monahan LLP, constructive fraud – rescission of security redemption, and (iv) against all defendants, constructive fraud – rescission. Each of the allegations relates to, among other things, certain actions taken in connection with the ADI Asset Purchase, the ADGC Asset Purchase, and the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering.

Mr. Fink is seeking direct and consequential damages in an amount to be established through proof at trial, plus pre-judgment and post-judgment interest and reasonable attorney's fees and costs, rescission of the alleged improper corporate transactions and disgorgement of improperly obtained fees, and other appropriate equitable relief.

On or about August 3, 2012, we were served with a complaint filed by Kenneth Fink, a former shareholder of ADI, against our Chairman, Edward S. Adams, and his wife, Denise L. Adams, our director Michael R. Monahan, and his wife, Julie C. Monahan, Robert C. Mr. Fink is seeking direct and consequential damages in an amount to be established through proof at trial, plus pre-judgment and post-judgment interest and reasonable attorney’s fees and costs, rescission of the alleged improper corporate transactions and disgorgement of improperly obtained fees, and other appropriate equitable relief. The Company denies any liability and intends to vigorously defend this action.

ITEM 5. MARKET FOR COMMON EQUITY, RELATED STOCKHOLDER MATTERS, AND ISSUER PURCHASES OF EQUITY SECURITIES

Market Information

Our common stock is currently quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board under the ticker “SCIO”. Beginning November 16, 2010, our common stock was quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board under the symbol “KHRB.OB”; however, on August 5, 2011, our symbol was changed to “KHRBD.OB”, and later to “SCIO” to reflect the Company’s name change. Because we are quoted on the OTC Bulletin Board, our common stock may be less liquid, receive less coverage by security analysts and news media, and generate lower prices than might otherwise be obtained if it were listed on a national securities exchange. The OTC Bulletin Board prices are quotations, which reflect inter-dealer prices without retail mark-up, mark-down, or commissions and may not represent actual transactions.

Edgar Filing: Scio Diamond Technology Corp - Form 10-K

As of June 30, 2012, there were 27,570,567 shares of common stock outstanding held by approximately 107 stockholders of record.

Dividends

We have not declared or paid any cash dividends on our common stock since our inception, and we do not intend to declare cash dividends for the foreseeable future. Any decision to pay dividends will depend upon our profitability at the time, cash available, and other factors; however, it is currently anticipated that any future profits received from operations will be retained for operations.

Securities Authorized for Issuance under Equity Compensation Plans

We did not have an equity compensation plan in effect as of our most recent fiscal year, which ended March 31, 2012. Subsequently on May 7, 2012, we implemented equity compensation arrangements for our executive officers and several key employees.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

You should read the following discussion in conjunction with the financial statements of the Company, and the notes to those statements, included elsewhere in this Form 10-K, as well as the rest of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. The statements in this discussion regarding outlook, our expectations regarding our future performance, liquidity and capital resources and other non-historical statements in this discussion are forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are subject to numerous risks and uncertainties, including, but not limited to, the risks and uncertainties described in the "Risk Factors" and "Cautionary Notice Regarding Forward Looking Statements" sections of this Annual Report on Form 10-K. Our actual results may differ materially from those contained in or implied by any forward-looking statements.

GENERAL

Corporate History

We were incorporated on September 17, 2009 in the State of Nevada under the name Krossbow Holdings Corporation. Krossbow's original business plan was focused on offsetting CO₂ emissions through the creation and protection of forest-based carbon "sinks." Krossbow planned to assess carbon resource potentials, prescribe and implement ecosystem restorations to develop those resources, and thereby generate carbon offset products. However, we have since abandoned that original business plan and restructured our business to focus on man-made diamond technology development. We decided to acquire existing technology and to seek to efficiently and effectively produce man-made diamond. In connection with this change in business purpose, Krossbow changed its name to Scio Diamond Technology Corporation to reflect its new business direction.

On August 5, 2011, Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan, both of whom now serve on the Company's Board of Directors, acquired control of the Company through the purchase of two million (2,000,000) shares of the Company's issued and outstanding common stock from Jason Kropp, Krossbow's sole director and executive officer at that time, in accordance with a common stock purchase agreement among Mr. Kropp, Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan. Concurrently with the execution of the stock purchase agreement, Mr. Kropp resigned from all positions with Krossbow, including, but not limited to, that of President, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Treasurer, Secretary and Director.

On August 5, 2011, the Company executed an Asset Purchase Agreement (the "Scio Asset Purchase Agreement") with another privately-held Nevada corporation that also had the name "Scio Diamond Technology Corporation" ("Private Scio"). Under the terms of the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company purchased the name "Scio Diamond Technology Corporation" and acquired other rights from Private Scio for 13,000,000 newly issued shares of common stock of the Company. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan were directors of Private Scio, and Mr. Lancia was an officer of Private Scio, and they owned 31.5%, 31.5% and 15.4%, respectively, of Private Scio. Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan each acquired, directly or indirectly, 4,100,000 shares of our common stock pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, Joseph D. Lancia, our Chief Executive Officer, acquired 2,000,000 shares pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement.

On August 31, 2011, the Company acquired certain assets of Apollo Diamond, Inc. (“ADI”) (the “ADI Asset Purchase”), consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and intellectual property related thereto, for which the Company paid ADI an aggregate of $2,000,000 in a combination of cash and a promissory note to ADI with a September 1, 2012 maturity date (which promissory note had a remaining outstanding balance of $125,000 as of March 31, 2012). In connection with the ADI Asset Purchase, the Company also agreed to provide certain current and former stockholders of ADI that are accredited investors the opportunity to acquire up to approximately 16 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share (the “ADI Offering”).

On June 5, 2012, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of Apollo Diamond Gemstone Corporation (“ADGC”) (the “ADGC Asset Purchase”), consisting primarily of cultured diamond gemstone-related know-how, inventory, and various intellectual property, in exchange for $100,000 in cash and the opportunity for certain current and former stockholders of ADGC that are accredited investors to acquire up to approximately 1 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share (the “ADGC Offering”) with the intent that ADI Offering be conducted substantially concurrently with the ADGC Offering (collectively, the “ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering”).

Business Overview

The Company's primary mission is the development of profitable and sustainable commercial applications for its planned mass production of high quality, single-crystal diamond in a laboratory environment using its Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach. The Company intends to target both the commercial/industrial and gemstone markets and anticipates opportunities in areas including, but not limited to, diamond gemstone jewelry, power switches, optoelectronics, cutting devices, semi-conductors and life sciences.

As of March 31, 2012, the Company had not generated any revenue from the sale of diamond or diamond materials nor did it have firm orders placed by potential customers. However, if the Company is able to produce high-quality, relatively low-cost diamond and diamond materials in reliable quantities, then such products may be incorporated into existing applications and technologies and spur new technologies. In such case, the Company expects numerous product development and licensing opportunities for the Company. The unique physical properties of diamond combined with consistent availability made possible by our Diamond Technology and patented Mosaic production approach lead to potential market opportunities in electronics, optics, communications, and computing.

See Part I, Item 1. (Business) for additional information regarding our business.

Critical Accounting Policies

We have adopted various accounting policies that govern the application of accounting principles generally accepted in the United States "GAAP". We describe our significant accounting policies in the notes to our audited financial statements as of March 31, 2012.

Some of the accounting policies involve significant judgments and assumptions by us that have a material impact on the carrying value of our assets and liabilities. We consider these accounting policies to be critical accounting policies. The judgment and assumptions we use are based on historical experience and other factors that we believe to be reasonable under the circumstances. Because of the nature of the judgments and assumptions we make, actual results could differ from these judgments and estimates and could materially affect the carrying values of our assets and liabilities and our results of operations.

The following is a summary of the more significant judgmental estimates and complex accounting principles, which represent our critical accounting policies.

Development Stage Company

The Company's financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles related to development-stage companies. A development-stage company is one in which planned principal operations have not commenced or if its operations have commenced, there have been no significant revenues therefrom.

Asset Purchases

The Company purchased certain assets from ADI on August 31, 2011, consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and intellectual property related thereto. The purchase price consisted of an aggregate of $2,000,000 in a combination of cash and a promissory note bearing interest at 4.00% annually and due and owing in full on September 1, 2012, plus the opportunity for certain current and former stockholders of ADI to acquire approximately 16 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share. The Company has estimated the fair value of such rights to acquire shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share to be $0.69 per right.

The following table reflects our purchase price allocation of the assets:

Machinery and Equipment	$943,685
Reactors	2,311,818
In Process Research & Development	9,784,497
Total	$13,040,000

The Company completed a third-party valuation to determine the fair value of the assets acquired. The final amounts allocated to the assets acquired are based upon the results of that valuation appraisal.

We believe that the acquisition of these assets from ADI was not the acquisition of a “business” within the definition set forth in Rule GAAP or 11-01(d).

Property, Plant and Equipment

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is on a straight line basis beginning at the time it is placed in service, based on the following estimated useful lives:

	Years
Machinery and equipment	3–15
Furniture and fixtures	3–10
Engineering equipment	5–12

Leasehold improvements are depreciated at the lesser of the remaining term of the lease or the life of the asset (generally three to five years).

Expenditures for major renewals and betterments that extend the useful lives of property and equipment are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Equipment has not been placed into service as of March 31, 2012.

After initial recognition, tangible assets acquired that are used in commercialization activities are accounted for in accordance with their nature. FASB ASC 360 requires that these assets be classified as indefinite-lived until the completion or abandonment of the associated commercialization efforts, at which time the asset would be considered to be placed in service and the entity would determine the assets' appropriate useful lives. In consideration thereof, we believe that the useful life of the reactors (the primary tangible assets) is indefinite until such time as the production and effective commercialization of the production of the reactors (lab-grown diamond) occurs or is more definite. The mechanical components of the reactors have relatively long lives, upwards of ten (10) years, but the capacity limitations of the reactors may render them obsolete from an efficiency perspective as technology in the industry continues to evolve. We, therefore, plan to reassess or redetermine the useful lives of such assets on an annual basis. The lives of the remainder of the tangible assets will be considered based on their technological and functional obsolescence and depreciated accordingly once they are placed in service.

Intangible Assets

Regarding intangible assets including the patents, the Company believes that, due to the inability to identify unique, specific commercialization potential with any degree of certainty, it is appropriate to consider the entire portfolio "In Process Research and Development," or "IPRD". The Company believes that the IPRD has alternative future uses. At such time that production begins and commercialization of separate components of the intellectual property portfolio are then marketed to varying distribution channels, segmentation and bifurcation of the IPRD asset to finite-lived commercialized intellectual property assets will be considered. Applicable accounting guidance requires an indefinite life for IPRD assets until such time as the commercialization can be reasonably estimated at which time the assets will be available for their intended use. At such time as those requirements are met, we believe that consideration of the legal life of the intellectual property protection should be of considerable importance in determining the useful life. Upon commercialization and determination of the useful life of the intellectual property assets, consideration will be given to the eventual expiration of the intellectual property rights underlying certain critical aspects of our manufacturing process.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Our net loss for the year ended March 31, 2012 was ($2,066,900), compared to net losses of ($30,846) for the year ended March 31, 2011. Our cumulative net loss since inception (September 17, 2009) through March 31, 2012 was ($2,103,957). Through March 31, 2012, we had not generated any revenue since inception.

During the year ended March 31, 2012, we incurred total expenses of $2,190,957, compared to total expenses of $30,846 during the year ended March 31, 2011. Since inception (September 17, 2009) through March 31, 2012, we have incurred total expenses of $2,152,957, which have generally related to corporate overhead, marketing, financial and administrative contracted services, such as legal and accounting, developmental costs, and expenses associated with the filing of our registration statement and other SEC filings.

We have not had any revenue to offset our expenses, and so we have incurred net losses. During the year ended March 31, 2012, the Company received grant income of $75,000 which was included in other income on the statement of operations. Our net loss per share for the year ended March 31, 2012 was ($0.12) per share, compared to a net loss per share of ($0.00) per share for the year ended March 31, 2011. The weighted average number of shares outstanding was 17,401,174 and 6,400,000, respectively, for the years ended March 31, 2012 and 2011.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

At March 31, 2012, we had total assets of $14,323,173, compared to total assets of $933 at March 31, 2011. This increase in assets was primarily related to the ADI Asset Purchase. We had cash of $808,516 at March 31, 2012.

Total liabilities at March 31, 2012 were $723,501 compared to total liabilities of $11,990 at March 31, 2011. Total liabilities as of March 31, 2012 were comprised primarily of notes payable, accounts payable and accrued expenses.

Total shareholders' equity was $13,599,672 at March 31, 2012, compared to ($11,057) at March 31, 2011. Shareholders' equity increased during the year primarily due to issuance of subscription rights in connection with the issuance of subscription right in connection with ADI Asset Purchase. Other components of the change in shareholders' equity related sales and to sales and issuances of common stock and net losses during the period.

CASH FLOWS

Operating Activities

We have not generated positive cash flows from operating activities. For the year ended March 31, 2012, net cash flows used in operating activities were ($1,375,518), consisting primarily of a net loss of ($2,066,900) offset by an increase in current liabilities of ($588,569), compared to net cash flows used in operating activities for the year ended March 31, 2011 of ($31,928). Since inception (September 17, 2009) through March 31, 2012, net cash flows used in operating activities were ($1,409,075).

Investing Activities

For the year ended March 31, 2012, net cash flows used in investing activities were ($1,396,520), consisting primarily of the ADI Asset Purchase. Net cash flows used in investing activities were ($0) for the year ended March 31, 2011 and ($1,396,520) for the period from inception (September 17, 2009) to March 31, 2012.

Financing Activities

We have financed our operations primarily through advancements or the issuance of equity and debt instruments. For the years ended March 31, 2012 and March 31, 2011, we generated $3,579,622 and $7,411 from financing activities, respectively. For the period from inception (September 17, 2009) to March 31, 2012, net cash flows provided by financing activities were $3,614,112, consisting primarily of proceeds from the sale of our common stock.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

We expect that working capital requirements will continue to be funded through a combination of our existing funds and further issuances of securities. Our working capital requirements are expected to increase in line with the growth of our business.

Existing cash of $1,274,994 as of June 30, 2012, is expected to be adequate to fund our operations over the next fiscal quarter through September 30, 2012. We have no lines of credit or other bank financing arrangements. Generally, we have financed operations through March 31, 2012 through the proceeds of sales of our common stock. As of June 30, 2012, we have commitments from existing shareholders for the purchase of over $1,000,000 in units consisting of common stock and warrants for the purchase of shares of common stock. These commitments are contingent upon our passing certain operating milestones. In connection with our business plan, management anticipates additional increases in operating expenses and capital expenditures relating to: (i) manufacturing operations; (ii) developmental expenses associated with a start-up business; and (iii) marketing expenses. We intend to finance these expenses with further issuances of securities. Thereafter, we expect we will need to raise additional capital and generate revenues to meet long-term operating requirements.

Additional issuances of equity or convertible debt securities will result in dilution to our current shareholders. Such securities might have rights, preferences or privileges senior to our common stock. Additional financing may not be available upon acceptable terms, or at all. If adequate funds are not available or are not available on acceptable terms, we may not be able to take advantage of prospective new business endeavors or opportunities, which could significantly and materially restrict our business operations.

OFF BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

As of the date of this Annual Report, we do not have any off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, revenues or expenses, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures or capital resources that are material to investors.

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK.

Not applicable.

ITEM 8. FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY DATA.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and

Shareholders of SCIO Diamond Technology Corporation

We have audited the accompanying balance sheet of SCIO Diamond Technology Corporation (the “Company”) as of March 31, 2012, and the related statements of operations, shareholders’ equity, and cash flows for the year ended March 31, 2012 and for the period September 17, 2009 (inception) through March 31, 2012. The Company’s management is responsible for these financial statements. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audit included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company’s internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of SCIO Diamond Technology Corporation as of March 31, 2012, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year ended March 31, 2012 and for the period September 17, 2009 (inception) through March 31, 2012 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements have been prepared assuming that the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 1 to the financial statements, the Company has generated no revenue, incurred net losses and incurred negative operating cash flows since inception and will require additional financing to fund the continued development of products. The availability of such financing cannot be assured. These conditions raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. Management’s plans regarding those matters also are described in Note 1. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

NOTE 1 – ORGANIZATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Organization and Business

Scio Diamond Technology Corporation (the “Company”) was incorporated under the laws of the State of Nevada as Krossbow Holding Corp. on September 17, 2009. The original business plan of the Company was focused on offsetting CO₂ emissions through the creation and protection of forest-based carbon “sinks.” The Company has since abandoned its original business plan and restructured its business to focus on man-made diamond technology development and commercialization.

On July 13, 2011 the Board of Directors of the Company resolved to authorize a 2-for-1 forward split of its issued and outstanding common shares, whereby every one (1) old share of common stock was to be exchanged for two (2) new shares of the Company’s common stock, effective on August 5, 2011. As a result, once the forward split was declared effective by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, the issued and outstanding shares of common stock increased from 3,200,000 prior to the forward split to 6,400,000 following the forward split. The forward split shares are payable upon surrender of certificates to the Company’s transfer agent. The accompanying financial statements and notes give retroactive effect to the forward split for all periods presented.

Going Concern

The Company has not generated any revenue to date and consequently its operations are subject to all risks inherent in the establishment of a new business enterprise. For the period from inception, September 17, 2009, through March 31, 2012, the Company has accumulated losses of ($2,103,957).

These factors raise substantial doubt about the Company’s ability to continue as a going concern. Management has responded to these circumstances by taking the following actions:

- Focused efforts on the construction and start-up of its state-of-the-art manufacturing facility in South Carolina in order to begin production and generate revenue.
- Ongoing solicitation of investment in the Company in the form of a private placement of common shares to accredited investors.
- Responded to potential customer contacts in order to meet potential orders immediately upon production start-up.

In the opinion of management, these actions will be sufficient to provide the Company with the liquidity it needs to meet its obligations and continue as a going concern. There can be no assurance, however, that the Company will successfully implement these plans. The financial statements do not include any adjustments that might be necessary if the Company is unable to continue as a going concern.

Accounting Basis

The Company’s financial statements are prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”).

Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of cash, accounts payable and notes payable approximate their fair value due to the short period of these instruments.

Development Stage Company

The financial statements have been prepared following the requirements of GAAP for development-stage companies. A development-stage company is one in which planned principal operations have not commenced or if its operations have commenced, there have been no significant revenues therefrom.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers highly liquid financial instruments purchased with an original maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents. At March 31, 2012, the Company held no cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition

The Company will recognize revenue when products are fully delivered or services have been provided and collection is reasonably assured.

Income Taxes

The Company utilizes the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the asset and liability method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are determined based on the differences between financial reporting basis and the tax basis of the assets and liabilities and are measured using enacted tax rates and laws that will be in effect when the differences are expected to reverse. An allowance against deferred tax assets is recognized when it is more likely than not that such tax benefits will not be realized.

Management has evaluated the potential impact in accounting for uncertainties in income taxes and has determined that it has no significant uncertain income tax positions as of March 31, 2012. Income tax returns subject to review by taxing authorities include March 31, 2010, 2011, and 2012.

Basic and Diluted Net Loss per Share

Net loss per share is presented under two formats: basic net loss per common share, which is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, and diluted net loss per common share, which is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding, and the weighted average dilutive potential common shares outstanding, computed using the treasury stock method. Currently, for all periods presented, diluted net loss per share is the same as basic net loss per share as the inclusion of weighted average shares of common stock issuable upon the exercise of warrants would be anti-dilutive.

The following table summarizes the number of securities outstanding at each of the periods presented, which were not included in the calculation of diluted net loss per share as their inclusion would be anti-dilutive:

	March 31,
	2012	2011
Warrants for common stock	370,014	-

Property, Plant and Equipment

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is on a straight line basis beginning at the time it is placed in service, based on the following estimated useful lives:

	Years
Machinery and equipment	3–15
Furniture and fixtures	3–10
Engineering equipment	5–12

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the lesser of the remaining term of the lease or the life of the asset (generally three to five years).

Expenditures for major renewals and betterments that extend the useful lives of property and equipment are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred. Equipment has not been placed into service as of March 31, 2012.

Intangible Assets

Intangible assets, such as acquired in-process research and development costs, are considered to have an indefinite useful life until such time as they are put into service at which time they will be amortized on a straight-line basis over the shorter of their economic or legal useful life. Management evaluates indefinite life intangible assets for impairment on an annual basis and on an interim basis if events or changes in circumstances between annual impairment tests indicate that the asset might be impaired. The ongoing evaluation for impairment of its indefinite life intangible assets requires significant management estimates and judgment. Management reviews definite life intangible assets for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. There were no impairment charges in 2012.

Fair Value Measurement

Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The fair value hierarchy prescribed by the accounting literature contains three levels as follows:

Level 1— Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2— Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities.

Level 3— Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities. Level 3 assets and liabilities include financial instruments whose value is determined using pricing models, discounted cash flow methodologies, or similar techniques, as well as instruments for which the determination of fair value requires significant management judgment or estimation.

In addition, GAAP requires the Company to disclose the fair value for financial assets on both a recurring and non-recurring basis.

At March 31, 2012, the Company has issued warrants valued at $192,007 to non-employees for services and subscription rights valued at $11,040,000 for the purchase of assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. The fair value of the warrants and subscription rights was determined based on an appraisal which used the Black-Scholes model whose assumptions are considered by management to be level 3 inputs.

At March 31, 2012, the Company has issued warrants and options valued at $192,007 to non-employees for services and options valued at $11,040,000 for the purchase of assets measured at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. The fair value of the warrants was determined based on an appraisal which used the Black-Scholes model whose assumptions are considered by management to be level 3 inputs.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In September 2011, the FASB issued ASU 2011-08, Guidance on Testing Goodwill for Impairment. ASU 2011-08 gives entities testing goodwill for impairment the option of performing a qualitative assessment before calculating the fair value of a reporting unit in Step 1 of the goodwill impairment test. If entities determine, on the basis of qualitative factors, that the fair value of a reporting unit is more likely than not less than the carrying amount, the two-step impairment test would be required. Otherwise, further testing would not be needed. ASU 2011-08 will be effective for fiscal and interim reporting periods within those years beginning after December 15, 2011. The adoption of this accounting standard did not have a material effect on the Company's financial statements.

In July 2012 the FASB issued new ASU No. 2012-02, Testing Indefinite-Lived Intangible Assets for Impairment (the revised standard). The revised standard is intended to reduce the cost and complexity of testing indefinite-lived intangible assets other than goodwill for impairment. It allows companies to perform a "qualitative" assessment to determine whether further impairment testing of indefinite-lived intangible assets is necessary, similar in approach to the goodwill impairment test. The revised standard is effective for annual and interim impairment tests performed for fiscal years beginning after September 15, 2012. Early adoption is permitted. The Company will adopt this new standard in 2013.

There are currently no other accounting standards that have been issued that will have a significant impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations or cash flows upon adoption.

NOTE 2 – ASSET PURCHASE

The Company purchased certain assets from Apollo Diamond Inc. (“ADI”) on August 31, 2011, consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and certain intellectual property related thereto. The purchase price consisted of an aggregate of $2,000,000 in a combination of cash and a promissory note bearing interest at 4.00% annually and due and owing in full on September 1, 2012, plus subscription rights for certain current and former stockholders of ADI to acquire approximately 16 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share (the “ADI Offering”). The Company has estimated the fair value of such rights to acquire shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share to be $0.69 per right. At the date of the transaction, the fair value of the subscription rights was $11,040,000, and this amount was credited to additional paid-in capital. The fair value of the subscription rights was determined using the Black-Scholes model with the following assumptions: estimated volatility of 100%, risk free interest rate of 0.1%, and an expected life of 1 year.

The following table reflects our purchase price allocation of the assets:

Machinery and Equipment	$943,685
Reactors	2,311,818
In-Process Research and Development	9,784,497
Total	$13,040,000

The Company completed a third-party valuation to determine the fair value of the assets acquired. The final amounts allocated to the assets acquired are based upon the results of that valuation appraisal.

NOTE 3 – INTANGIBLE ASSETS

Intangible assets consist of the following:

		March 31 ,
	Life	2012	2011
In-process research and development	Indefinite	$ 9,784,497	$ -

The Company purchased the Scio name from a privately-held Nevada corporation ("Private Scio") that also had the Scio name. The Company and Private Scio are entities under common control. Accounting Standards Codification 805-50-30-5 states that when accounting for a transfer of assets between entities under common control, the entity that receives the asset shall initially measure the recognized asset at the carrying amount in the accounts of the transferring entity at the date of the transfer. As the Scio name acquired had no carrying value, the value of the shares given to purchase the Scio name were recorded as a deemed distribution so that the accounting basis of the Scio name remained at zero. In addition, the Company issued 16 million subscription rights with an exercise price of $0.01 per share to certain current and former stockholders of ADI as part of the asset purchase discussed in Note 2.

ITEM 9A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES.

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

Disclosure controls and procedures refer to controls and other procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in the reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the Securities and Exchange Commission rules and forms, and that such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company's management, including its President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure. As of March 31, 2012, we carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Exchange Act Rule 13a-15. We applied our judgment in the process of reviewing these controls and procedures, which, by their nature, can provide only reasonable assurance regarding our control objectives. Based upon that evaluation, our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were not effective as of March 31, 2012, because we were not able to timely file this Report due to a delay in preparing our financial statements as of March 31, 2012, due to weaknesses in our internal control over financial reporting that required the restatement of our financial statements for the quarterly periods ended September 30, 2011 and December 31, 2011 and the amendment of our Form 10-Qs for each such period.

Management's Annual Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) promulgated under the Exchange Act. The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and the dispositions of the assets of the Company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of the management and directors of the Company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on its financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Therefore, even those systems determined to be effective can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to financial statement preparation and presentation. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Management, including our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, conducted an assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of March 31, 2012 based on the criteria set forth in the Internal Control—Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. During that assessment, management identified the following material weaknesses and significant deficiencies in our internal control over financial reporting, which are common in small companies. These material weaknesses were identified by our President and Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer following the end of the fiscal year covered by this report:

- Lack of written documentation of our internal control policies and procedures.
- Lack of a functioning audit committee due to a lack of a majority of independent members and a lack of a majority of outside directors on our board of directors, resulting in ineffective oversight in the establishment and functioning of required internal controls and procedures.
 - Insufficient communication processes in connection with period end financial disclosure and reporting.
- Due to our small size, limited segregation of duties in certain areas of our financial reporting and other accounting processes and procedures.

A material weakness (within the meaning of PCAOB Auditing Standard No. 5) is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of our annual or interim financial statements will not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control over financial reporting that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those responsible for oversight of our financial reporting.

During the period covered by this annual report on Form 10-K, we have not been able to remediate the material weaknesses identified above. We have taken steps to enhance and improve the design of our internal control over financial reporting, and we plan to take additional steps during our fiscal year ending March 31, 2013.

We engaged a new outside law firm in March 2012. To further remediate such weaknesses, we hope to implement the following changes during our fiscal year ending March 31, 2013:

- Adding one or more independent directors and establishing an audit committee.
- Refining our internal procedures, including our communication and data gathering processes in connection with period end financial disclosure and reporting

This annual report does not include an attestation report of our independent registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by our independent registered public accounting firm pursuant to an exemption for non-accelerated filers set forth in Section 989G of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act.

Changes in Internal Controls

Other than described above, there were no significant changes in our internal controls over financial reporting that occurred during our fourth fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2012, that materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls over financial reporting.

The employment agreements contain one year non-compete agreements and two year customer and employee non-solicitation provisions.

Each named executive officer is entitled to receive stock options, which were granted on May 7, 2012. Each named executive officer is also eligible to participate in any stock option plan adopted by the Company, with the extent, terms and conditions of any options provided to a named executive officer to be determined by the Company's Board of Directors or its Compensation Committee, if any, in its sole and unilateral discretion. Each executive officer is subject to a proprietary information and inventions agreement. Each named executive officer is an employee-at-will.

Each named executive officer is subject to a change on control agreement which provides that the named executive officer will be entitled to the following benefits if the executive's employment is terminated pursuant to a "qualifying termination" during the four-month period before or the 12-month period after a "change in control" that implies a Company value of $50 million or more:

- a lump-sum cash payment equal to the sum of:
 - 2.0 times the executive officer's annual base salary; plus,
- any base salary and/or bonus earned or accrued through the date of termination and not previously paid (including any amounts awarded for previous years but which were not yet vested); and
- payment of $2,700 per month for 24 months, which payments are intended to offset potential medical, dental and life insurance expenses of the named executive officer for a period of two years, but which payments shall be made regardless of whether such expenses are greater or less than such payments.

In such event, the named executive officer will be subject to non-solicitation and non-compete obligations for a period of two years. Each Change in Control Agreement has an initial two-year term and the agreements automatically renew for subsequent one-year periods unless a termination notice is given at least ninety (90) days prior to the end of the then current term.

A "change in control" is defined to mean a change in the ownership or effective control of the Company, or in the ownership of a substantial portion of the assets of the Company (in accordance with Treasury Regulation § 1.409A-3(i)(5) (as it may be amended and including any successor regulation). A qualifying termination is a termination by the named executive officer for "good reason" or a termination of the named executive officer by the Company without "cause." "Good reason" means "good reason" within the meaning of the safe harbor under Treasury Regulation § 1.409A-1(n)(2). A termination of a named executive officer by us is for "cause" if it is for any of the following reasons:

- the willful and continued failure of the named executive officer to perform substantially his or her duties with the company (other than any such failure resulting from such named executive officer's incapacity due to physical or mental illness or any such failure subsequent to the named executive officer being delivered a notice of termination without cause by us or the named executive officer delivering a notice of termination for good reason to us) that is not remedied within 30 days after a written demand for substantial performance is delivered to the named executive officer by the Chairman of our Board of Directors or the Chairman of the Compensation Committee or, in the case of named executive officers other than the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Executive Officer, which specifically identifies the manner in which the named executive officer has not substantially performed his or her duties; or
- the named executive officer's conviction by a court of law, admission in a legal proceeding that he is guilty or plea of nolo contendere, in each case, with respect to a felony.

For purposes of the definition of the term “cause,” no act or failure to act by a named executive officer will be considered “willful” unless it was done or omitted to be done by the named executive officer in bad faith and without reasonable belief that his or her action or omission was in, or not opposed to, our best interests.

Each named executive officers' change of control agreement provides that he agrees to reduce the aggregate amount of any payments or benefits that constitute “parachute payments” under Section 280G of the Code to the extent necessary so that such payments and benefits do not equal or exceed three times the named executive officer's “base amount” (and therefore are not subject to the excise tax imposed by Section 4999).

Outstanding Equity Awards

No executive officer had any outstanding equity awards as of March 31, 2012.

ITEM 13. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS AND DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE.

Related Party Transactions

Since April 1, 2011, as reflected in the summary compensation table, the Company paid $187,500, plus $3,168 in expenses, to SCA, Ltd., of which our President and Chief Executive Officer Mr. Lancia is a consultant, for consulting services provided to the Company.

The law firm of Adams & Monahan LLP, of which our directors Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan are partners, has been paid approximately $239,988 since April 1, 2011, by the Company for legal services, including legal services provided to Private Scio that benefited the Company. Adams & Monahan LLP may continue to provide legal services to the Company.

On August 5, 2011, the Company executed the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement with another privately-held Nevada corporation that also had the name "Scio Diamond Technology Corporation" ("Private Scio"). Under the terms of the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, the Company purchased the name "Scio Diamond Technology Corporation" and acquired other rights from Private Scio for 13,000,000 newly issued shares of common stock of the Company. Our directors Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan were directors of Private Scio and Joseph D. Lancia was an officer of Private Scio, and they owned 31.5%, 31.5% and 15.4%, respectively, of Private Scio. Our directors Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan were directors of Private Scio and Joseph D. Lancia was an officer of Private Scio, and they owned 31.5%, 31.5% and 15.4%, respectively, of Private Scio. Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan each acquired, directly or indirectly, 4,100,000 shares of our common stock pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement, and Joseph D. Lancia acquired 2,000,000 shares pursuant to the Scio Asset Purchase Agreement. In addition, Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan acquired 1,000,000 shares each on August 5, 2011 in a private transaction from Jason Kropp, our former President, Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Treasurer, Secretary and Director, and Edward S. Adams, Michael R. Monahan, Joseph D. Lancia and Robert C. Linares acquired 290,000, 290,000, 290,000 and 50,000 shares, respectively, of our common stock from certain Company shareholders that included Patricia Kropp and Cory Kropp. The Company does not know the relationship between Jason Kropp, on the one hand, and Patricia Kropp, Cory Kropp or the other sellers of such common shares, on the other hand. These purchases of shares from Jason Kropp and the other Company shareholders were funded by a five year, unsecured $220,000 loan from Sphere Capital, Ltd. to Edward S. Adams, under which no interest or principal is payable until the maturity date. The full loan balance remains outstanding. The Company has received certification from Mr. Adams that, to his knowledge, no funds have been provided, directly or indirectly, by the Company to Sphere Capital, Ltd. nor, to his knowledge, do any related parties have an ownership interest in Sphere Capital, Ltd.

The Company purchased certain assets from ADI on August 31, 2011, consisting primarily of diamond growing machines and intellectual property related thereto. The purchase price consisted of an aggregate of $2,000,000 in a combination of cash and a promissory note bearing interest at 4.00% annually and due and owing in full on September 1, 2012, plus the opportunity for certain current and former stockholders of ADI to acquire approximately 16 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share. Both Mr. Adams, in an executive role, and Mr. Monahan previously served in various capacities with ADI through early 2011. ADI applied $275,000 of the cash proceeds from this asset sale to pay AdamsMonahan LLP for legal services.

On June 5, 2012, the Company acquired substantially all of the assets of ADGC pursuant to the ADGC Asset Purchase, which assets consisted primarily of cultured diamond gemstone-related know-how, inventory, and various intellectual property, in exchange for $100,000 in cash and the opportunity for certain current and former stockholders of ADGC that are accredited investors to acquire up to approximately 1 million shares of common stock of the Company for $0.01 per share pursuant to the ADGC Offering. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan served in various capacities with ADGC through early 2011.

The Company understands that most of the outstanding shares of ADI and ADGC were redeemed prior to and in anticipation of the Company's purchase of assets from ADI and ADGC. Mr. Adams and his spouse owned approximately 2% of the common stock of ADI and 11% of the common stock of ADGC (prior to the stock repurchases by such companies in 2011). Neither Mr. Adams nor his spouse is participating in the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. Monahan held no stock of ADI and approximately 4% of the stock of ADGC (prior to the stock repurchases by ADGC in 2011). Mr. Monahan is not participating in the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. Adams and Mr. Monahan and their law firm have provided legal services to each of ADI, ADGC and the Company.

Robert C. Linares, the Chairman of the Board of each of ADI and ADGC, who is also the largest stockholder of each of ADI and ADGC, is the father-in-law of Mr. Adams. Mr. R. Linares is expected to purchase up to 250,000 shares of common stock of the Company as a former ADI stockholder in connection with the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Bryant R. Linares, a former executive officer of both ADI and ADGC, and the second largest shareholder previously of both ADI and ADGC, is expected to purchase up to 1,000,000 shares of common stock of the Company as a former ADI stockholder in connection with the ADI/ADGC Stockholder Offering. Mr. B. Linares is the brother-in-law of Mr. Adams.

Private Scio agreed in June of 2012 to pay Campus Ventures, Inc. $250,000 to find a public shell company for Private Scio to enter into a business combination transaction. Pursuant to a loan agreement dated August 3, 2011, Oceans Away, Ltd. agreed to pay this $250,000 on behalf of Private Scio. The Company believes that Oceans Away and Campus Ventures may be affiliated with each other. At Oceans Away's direction, in December of 2011, the Company paid $250,000 to SLO 3 Holdings Inc. as settlement of the Private Scio note. The Company has been unable to identify and independently verify all of the principals of Campus Ventures, Ocean's Away, and SLO 3 and whether they included any individuals who were at that time directors, officers or 5% or greater stockholders or other controlling persons of the Company. Accordingly, other than Edward S. Adams and Michael R. Monahan, who were directors and stockholders of Private Scio, and Joseph D. Lancia, who was an officer and stockholder of Private Scio, the Company has been unable to independently verify whether or to what extent a director, officer or 5% or greater stockholder or other controlling person of the Company may have had a direct or indirect interest in any of these payments.

Director Independence

Our board of directors has determined that Mr. Strous is an "independent" director, based upon the independence criteria set forth in the corporate governance listing standards of The NASDAQ Stock Market, the exchange that the board selected in order to determine whether our directors and committee members meet the independence criteria of a national securities exchange, as required by Item 407(a) of Regulation S-K.

Oversight of Accountants; Approval of Accounting Fees

The Company does not have an audit committee. All of the accounting services and fees reflected in the table above were reviewed and approved by the whole Board of Directors, and none of the services were performed by individuals who were not employees of the independent auditor.

Seller shall use commercially reasonable efforts to (a) preserve the Purchased Assets substantially intact, and (b) maintain the Purchased Assets in good working order and condition, normal wear excepted. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, from the date hereof through the Closing Date, Seller shall not, without the prior written consent of Purchaser, take any of the following actions:

- (i) Take any action or omit to take any action, the taking or omission of which, could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect or to Seller's Knowledge violate in any material respect this Agreement;

ARTICLE X

MISCELLANEOUS

10.1 Waiver. Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived in writing at any time by the Party which is entitled to the benefits thereof. No waiver by any Party of a condition or of the breach of any term, covenant, representation or warranty contained in this Agreement, whether by conduct or otherwise, in any one or more instances, shall be deemed to be or construed as a further or continuing waiver of any such condition or breach or a waiver of any other condition or of the breach of any other term, covenant, representation, or warranty of this Agreement.

10.9 Governing Law; Venue. THIS AGREEMENT, THE TRANSACTION DOCUMENTS, AND THE LEGAL RELATIONS BETWEEN THE PARTIES WITH RESPECT TO THIS AGREEMENT, SHALL BE GOVERNED AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA WITHOUT REGARD TO RULES CONCERNING CONFLICTS OF LAWS. Purchaser and Seller agree that the Courts of the State of South Carolina shall have exclusive jurisdiction over all disputes and other matters relating to (a) the interpretation and enforcement of this Agreement or any ancillary document executed pursuant hereto, and (b) the Purchased Assets, and Seller expressly consents to and agrees not to contest such exclusive jurisdiction. This Agreement (including any documents referred to in this Agreement) constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the Contemplated Transactions and supersedes any prior understandings, negotiations, statements, discussions, correspondence, offers, agreements, or representations by the Parties, written or oral, relating in any way to the subject matter of this Agreement and the Contemplated Transactions. No modification, amendment, or supplement of any provision of this Agreement shall be valid unless the same shall be in writing and signed by the Parties. 10.12 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed by Purchaser and Seller in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original instrument, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. A facsimile or other electronic transmission of a signed copy of this Agreement shall be effective as a valid and binding agreement between the Parties for all purposes.

10.13 Certain Limitations. NOTWITHSTANDING ANY OTHER PROVISION OF THIS AGREEMENT (OR ANY OTHER AGREEMENT RELATED HERETO) TO THE CONTRARY, IN NO EVENT SHALL ANY PARTY BE LIABLE (OR ENTITLED TO RECOVER) UNDER, OR IN RESPECT OF, THIS AGREEMENT FOR EXEMPLARY, SPECIAL, PUNITIVE, OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES.

"Restricted Business" means the business of manufacturing and marketing laboratory-created gemstone diamonds or industrial use diamonds. The covenants in Section 10.14 are severable and separate, and the unenforceability of any specific covenant in this Section 10.14 is not intended by either party to, and shall not, affect the provisions of any other covenant in this Section 10.14. If any court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that the scope, time, or territorial restrictions set forth in Section 10.14 are unreasonable as applied to any party, the parties acknowledge their mutual intention and agreement that those restrictions shall be enforced to the fullest extent the court deems reasonable, and thereby shall be reformed to that extent.

TO PURCHASE ONE SHARE OF COMMON STOCK AT $1.60/SHARE

TO: Scio Diamond Technology Corporation
411 University Ridge, Suite D
Greenville, South Carolina 29601

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I understand that Scio Diamond Technology Corporation, a Nevada corporation (the “Company”), is seeking to raise up to $5.5 million by offering for sale up to 6,875,000 units, with each unit consisting of one share of its common stock (“Common Stock”) and a warrant in the form of Annex A (a “Warrant”) to purchase one share of its common stock at $1.60 per share, at a purchase price of $0.80 per unit (the “Units”) to a limited number of accredited investors. The number of Units, and the related number of shares of Common Stock and Warrants to purchase Common Stock, as well as the purchase price per Unit and the exercise price related to the Warrants, shall be appropriately adjusted in the event of any stock split, stock dividend, stock subdivision, stock combination or stock reclassification prior to the purchase of the applicable Units. I also understand that the Company may raise additional capital in public or private offerings depending on the development of its business and its capital needs going forward. I will complete and deliver to the Company a Form W-9 and the applicable Investor Questionnaire attached hereto, along with this Agreement.

Based on these premises, I (sometimes referred to herein as the “Subscriber”) hereby confirm my agreement with the Company as follows:

1. On the date hereof, I agree to purchase from the Company, and upon acceptance of my subscription by the Company by its execution and delivery of this subscription agreement (this “Agreement”) and in reliance on my representations, warranties, and covenants contained herein, the Company will issue and sell to me Units as follows:

(a) On March 30, 2012, or as soon as possible thereafter, the Subscriber shall pay $250,000 (the “First Investment”) to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue 312,500 Units (consisting of 312,500 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 312,500 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the First Investment is referred to as the “First Closing Date.”

- (b) Subject to the condition set forth in Section 2 below, on the date that is ten calendar days after the completion of the Company's reactor support infrastructure (HVAC, chilled water, air, power electrical, building fit up, gasses, exhaust) at its Greenville, South Carolina, facility, the Subscriber shall pay $250,000 (the "Second Investment") to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue an additional 312,500 Units (consisting of 312,500 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 312,500 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the Second Investment is referred to as the "Second Closing Date."
- (c) Subject to the condition set forth in Section 2 below, on the date that is ten calendar days after the first three reactors, designated as SC1, SC2 and SC3, have been installed at the Company's Greenville, South Carolina, facility and such reactors have produced diamonds, the Subscriber shall pay $250,000 (the "Third Investment") to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue an additional 312,500 Units (consisting of 312,500 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 312,500 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the Third Investment is referred to as the "Third Closing Date."
- (d) Subject to the condition set forth in Section 2 below, on the date that is ten calendar days after reactors SC1, SC2 and SC3 have begun producing diamonds at a yield rate of 50% to support the Company's business plan that has been provided to the Subscriber on or prior to the date of this Agreement, the Subscriber shall pay $250,000 (the "Fourth Investment") to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue an additional 312,500 Units (consisting of 312,500 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 312,500 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the Fourth Investment is referred to as the "Fourth Closing Date."
- (e) The remaining $1 million in investments by the Subscriber (the "Verified Stage Investments") are dependent on the Company producing marketable quality diamonds of both gemstone and industrial style. Verification of the gemstone diamonds must be provided by two sources, one selected by the Company and one selected by the Subscriber. When such verification of quality is confirmed, Verified Stage Investments will be made on the following schedule:
- (i) Subject to the condition set forth in Section 2 below, on the date that is ten calendar days after the reactors designated as SC4 SC5, SC6, SC7, SC8, SC9 and SC10 have been installed and are in production qualifications runs and making sellable product, the Subscriber shall pay $500,000 (the "Fifth Investment") to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue an additional 625,000 Units (consisting of 625,000 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 625,000 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the Fifth Investment is referred to as the "Fifth Closing Date."
- (ii) Subject to the condition set forth in Section 2 below, on the date that is ten calendar days after the Company has generated $100,000 of revenue (determined in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles) from diamonds produced in the Company's Greenville, South Carolina, facility, the Subscriber shall pay $500,000 (the "Sixth Investment") to the Company by wire transfer or other immediately available funds, and the Company shall issue an additional 625,000 Units (consisting of 625,000 shares of Common Stock and Warrants to acquire 625,000 shares of Common Stock) to the Subscriber. The closing date for the Sixth Investment is referred to as the "Sixth Closing Date," and each of the First Closing Date through and including Sixth Closing Date are referred to as a "Closing Date" and, collectively, as the "Closing Dates."

2. The closing for the First Investment and each subsequent closing shall occur at the offices of Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough, LLP, in Greenville, South Carolina, or at such other location as the parties may mutually agree (provided that the parties shall cooperate to effect a closing by mail, email, facsimile, or courier such that an actual convening of the parties for a closing is unnecessary). Each closing for the First Investment through and including the Sixth Investment is referred to as a "Closing." With respect to each Closing, the obligations of the parties to consummate such Closing are conditioned on the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions on or prior to the date of such Closing:

(a) Mutual Conditions to Obligation to Close. The obligations of each party to consummate such Closing shall be conditioned upon the satisfaction (or waiver at each party's election) of the conditions that: (i) no party to this Agreement shall be subject on the applicable Closing Date to any order of a court of competent jurisdiction that enjoins or prohibits the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and (ii) such Closing shall occur on or before March 31, 2013.

(b) Conditions to Subscriber's Obligation to Close. The Subscriber's obligations to consummate such Closing shall be conditioned upon satisfaction, or the Subscriber's waiver at its election, of the following conditions:

(i) All representations and warranties of the Company set forth in this Agreement and in the Warrant shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the date of this Agreement and on the applicable Closing Date as if made on such applicable Closing Date. The Company shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all covenants, agreements and conditions (individually and collectively) contained in this Agreement and any Warrant delivered by the Company to the Subscriber required to be performed and complied with by the Company at or prior to the First Closing Date.

(ii) The Company shall have delivered to the Subscriber a certificate signed by two executive officers of the Company certifying the matters set forth in Section 2(b)(i) and, with respect to each of the Second Investment through and including the Sixth Investment, that the applicable milestones set forth in Section 1 above with respect to such investment Closing has been achieved.

(c) Conditions to Company's Obligation to Close. The Company's obligation to consummate such Closing shall be conditioned upon satisfaction, or the Company's waiver at its election, of the following conditions:

(i) All representations and warranties of the Subscriber in this Agreement and all other documents and certificates required to be delivered by the Subscriber in connection with the Closing shall be true and correct, in each case as of the date of this Agreement and on the applicable Closing Date as if made on the applicable Closing Date. The Subscriber shall have performed and complied in all material respects with all covenants, agreements and conditions (individually and collectively) contained in this Agreement required to be performed and complied with by the Subscriber at or prior to such Closing Date (which condition includes, among other things, the condition that the Subscriber shall have timely consummated all prior Closings in accordance with the terms of this Agreement).

(ii) If requested by the Company, the Subscriber shall have delivered to the Company a certificate certifying the matters set forth in Section 2(c)(i).

3. I represent, warrant, and agree as follows:

(a) I am an "accredited investor" as defined by Rule 501(a) promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933 (the "Securities Act"), as described in the Investor Questionnaires attached hereto, and my responses to the Investor Questionnaire are true, complete, and accurate.

(b) I have, and will maintain, sufficient assets to fund my obligations under this Agreement.

(c) I have had an opportunity to ask questions of and receive answers from representatives of the Company concerning my investment in the Units, and the Company has provided me with detailed information regarding the condition, financial and otherwise, and the current and intended operations, business affairs and business prospects of the Company (the "Information"). I acknowledge that I have participated in multiple meetings with management of the Company and that I am intimately familiar with the financial condition and business prospects of the Company and that I do not require a formal private placement memorandum or any other formal offering documents to make my investment decision. I also understand that the Company will, upon my request, make available to me a copy of any additional information regarding the Company and its operations which the Company possesses or can obtain without unreasonable expense. I have reviewed the Information and all other materials I have requested in connection with my decision to make this investment. I confirm that I have such knowledge and experience in financial and business matters generally and that I am capable of evaluating the merits and risks of the investment in the Units.

(d) I understand that the Units to be issued pursuant to this Agreement have not been passed on as to their fairness or recommended or endorsed by any federal or state agency, and their issuance will not be registered under the Securities Act or the securities laws of any state, in reliance upon exemptions from registration contained in the Securities Act and such laws. The Company's reliance upon such exemptions is based in part upon my representations, warranties, and agreements contained in this Agreement.

(e) I am purchasing the Units for my own account, for investment purposes only, and not for distribution or resale to others, and I agree that I will not sell or otherwise transfer the Units, or the Common Stock or Warrants included within the Units, unless the transfer of such securities has been registered under the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws, or, in an opinion of counsel acceptable to the Company, an exemption therefrom is available. I understand that the Units, including the Common Stock and the Warrants, will be "restricted securities" under the federal securities laws and that such securities may be resold without registration under the Securities Act and state securities laws only in certain limited circumstances. I understand that, in the absence of an effective registration statement covering the securities or an available exemption from registration under the Securities Act, the securities must be held indefinitely. In addition, I agree not to transfer a Warrant prior to the first anniversary of the issuance of such Warrant (except in the event of the death of the grantor of the Subscriber).

(f) The certificates representing the Common Stock, and the Warrant agreements, will contain a legend stating that their issuance has not been registered under the Securities Act or any state securities laws and referring to the above restrictions on transferability and sale. A notation will also be made in the records of the Company so that transfers of the Units, including the Common Stock and the Warrants, will not be effected in the records of the Company without compliance with these restrictions.

(g) I acknowledge that an investment in the Units is speculative and involves a very high degree of risk, including the loss of my entire investment in the Units, and I confirm that I could withstand the loss of my entire investment in the Units.

(h) I have full power and authority to enter into this Agreement and each of the other agreements and documents contemplated hereby (collectively, the "Transaction Documents") to which I am or will be a party, and each such agreement constitutes my valid and legally binding obligation, enforceable in accordance with its terms, except to the extent enforceability may be limited by the application of bankruptcy, receivership, conservatorship, reorganization, insolvency and similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and equitable principles being applied at the discretion of a court before which any proceeding may be brought, and to limitations on the rights to indemnity and contribution hereunder that exist by virtue of public policy under federal and state securities laws. No consent, approval, or authorization of, or registration, filing or declaration with, any Governmental Authority is required to be obtained by me in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents, other than those that have been made or will be timely made or that would not have a material and adverse effect on my ability to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents. If the Subscriber is an entity, the Subscriber represents and warrants that the Subscriber is duly formed and is in good standing under the jurisdiction of its formation, and that the execution and delivery of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents to which the Subscriber is or will be a party, and the performance of the Subscriber's obligations hereunder and thereunder, has not and will not (i) violate or conflict with any of the articles of incorporation (as amended), bylaws, partnership agreement, limited partnership agreement, limited liability company operating agreement, or similar formation or governing document, as applicable, that is applicable to the Subscriber, or, in any material respect, any material agreement to which the Subscriber is a party, or (ii) violate or conflict in any material respect with any laws, rules, regulations or orders of any Governmental Authority. "Governmental Authority" means any nation or government, any state or other political subdivision thereof, any central bank (or similar monetary or regulatory authority) thereof, any entity exercising executive, legislative, judicial, regulatory or administrative functions of or pertaining to government, and any corporation or other entity owned or controlled, through stock or capital ownership or otherwise, by any of the foregoing.

(i) I am not purchasing the Units as a result of any advertisement, article, notice or other communication regarding the Units (including the Common Stock or the Warrants) published in any newspaper, magazine or similar media or broadcast over television or radio or presented at any seminar or any other advertisement or general solicitation.

4. I acknowledge that the portion of the Information that has not been filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission or otherwise made publicly available is confidential, and I agree that all such Information will be kept in confidence by me; provided that this obligation will not apply to any such Information that (i) is part of the public knowledge or literature and readily accessible at the date hereof; (ii) becomes part of the public knowledge or literature and readily accessible by publication (except as a result of a breach of this provision); or (iii) is received from a third party (except a third party who discloses such Information in violation of any confidentiality agreement). Further, this obligation does not prohibit my discussion of such Information with my counsel, accountant, or other financial adviser (in each case, who agrees to keep the Information confidential) solely for the purpose of assisting my analysis and assessment of such Information and an investment in the Units.

5. I acknowledge that the Company and its officers, directors, employees, agents, and affiliates are relying on the truth and accuracy of the foregoing representations and warranties in offering the Units for sale to me without having first registered the issuance of the Units under the Securities Act. I also understand the meaning and legal consequences of the representations and warranties in this Agreement. All representations, warranties, and covenants contained in this Agreement will survive the acceptance of this Agreement and the sale of the Units. I acknowledge that this Agreement will not be deemed to be accepted until it is signed by the Company and returned to me. Notwithstanding the foregoing, however, no representation, warranty, acknowledgement, or agreement made herein by me will in any manner be deemed to constitute a waiver of any substantive rights granted to me under federal or state securities laws that cannot be waived as a matter of law.

6. I acknowledge that this Agreement and the Information has been prepared and approved solely by the Company. I understand that Nelson Mullins Riley & Scarborough LLP (“NMRS”) has assisted the Company in the preparation of this Agreement but that NMRS has not conducted due diligence and in any event is not responsible for the disclosures made in this Agreement or otherwise in connection with my decision to make this investment. I understand that I am solely responsible for my own due diligence investigation. I understand that NMRS has represented the Company in this matter and has not represented me and that NMRS does not make any representations or warranties to me, and has not provided any advice to me, regarding this Agreement or any investment in the Company. I am not relying on any advice, or representations or warranties, from NMRS in connection with my decision to invest in the Units.

7. The Company represents and warrants to the Subscriber that as of such each Closing Date with respect to Subscriber's investment pursuant to this Agreement the following statements will be true, correct, and complete:

(a) No Conflicts. The Company's execution and delivery of this Agreement and the other Transaction Documents to which the Company is or will be a party, and the performance of the Company's obligations hereunder and thereunder, including its issuance of the Common Stock and Warrants that comprise the Units, and the exercise or conversion of the Warrants, does not and will not (i) violate or conflict with any of the articles of incorporation (as amended) or bylaws of the Company, or, in any material respect, any material agreement to which the Company is a party, or (ii) violate or conflict in any material respect with any laws, rules, regulations or orders of any Governmental Authority. No consent, approval, or authorization of, or registration, filing or declaration with, any Governmental Authority is required to be obtained by the Company in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Transaction Documents, other than those that have been made or will be timely made or that would not have a material and adverse effect on the ability of the Company to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) Organization, Powers and Authorization. The Company has been duly incorporated, and is in good standing, under the laws of the State of Nevada. The Company has all requisite corporate or organizational power and authority to own and operate its material properties, to carry on its business as now conducted and proposed to be conducted, in all material respects, and to enter into this Agreement and each of the other Transaction Documents to which it is or will be a party, and to perform its obligations under the Transaction Documents. This Agreement and the other Transaction Documents and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby and performance by the Company of its obligations hereunder and thereunder have been duly and validly authorized by all necessary corporate action on the part of the Company.

(c) Binding Obligation. This Agreement and the other Transaction Documents, when executed and delivered by the Company, will be, the legal, valid and binding obligations of the Company, each enforceable against the Company in accordance with their respective terms, except to the extent that the enforceability thereof may be limited by the application of bankruptcy, receivership, conservatorship, reorganization, insolvency and similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and equitable principles being applied at the discretion of a court before which any proceeding may be brought, and to limitations on the rights to indemnity and contribution hereunder that exist by virtue of public policy under federal and state securities laws.

(d) Private Offering. No form of general solicitation or advertising was used by the Company or any representative thereof in connection with the offer or sale of the Units.

(e) Ownership of Patents. The Company owns the patents and patent applications set forth on Annex B attached hereto (the "Patents"). The Company represents and warrants that, with respect to the Patents, there is no pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, threatened litigation challenging the ownership or validity of such Patents, that all fees with respect to the Patents have been paid to keep them in force, and that no such Patents have lapsed.

8. This Agreement (including documents contemplated hereby, including the Warrant) constitutes the entire agreement between the parties hereto with respect to the subject matter hereof and may be amended or modified only by a writing executed by the party to be bound thereby. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which will constitute an original, but all of which will constitute but one and the same instrument. This Agreement may be executed and delivered by facsimile or other electronic transmission (including electronic mail), which will constitute the legal delivery hereof. This Agreement will be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of South Carolina. The dispute resolution provisions set forth in Section 15 of the Warrant attached hereto shall apply, mutatis mutandis, with respect to this Agreement, including, without limitation, the Mandatory Arbitration and the Exclusive Selection of Forum provisions thereof. All representations, warranties, and covenants contained in this Agreement will survive the acceptance of this Agreement and the sale of the Units.

9. Correspondence addressed to me should be sent to the address listed below until such time as I will notify the Company, in writing, of a different address to which such correspondence and notices are to be sent.

10. In connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, each party to this Agreement shall execute and deliver any additional documents and instruments and perform any additional acts that may be necessary or appropriate to effectuate and perform such party's obligations under this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

11. This Agreement may be executed and delivered in one or more counterparts (including by means of telecopied, facsimile or emailed signature pages), any one of which need not contain the signatures of more than one party, but all such counterparts taken together shall constitute one and the same Agreement.

12. The Subscriber and Company hereby agree additionally as follows:

(a) Information Rights. Subject to the Subscriber's compliance with its obligations under this Agreement, the Company will provide the Subscriber with information rights, including consultation rights, inspection and access rights, and the right to audited and unaudited financial statements, annual budget and other financial and operational information, subject to Section 12(c) below. Any inspection pursuant to this Section 12(a) shall be conducted during normal business hours and in such a manner as not to interfere unreasonably with the conduct of the business of the Company, and nothing herein shall require the Company disclose any information to the extent (1) prohibited by law or is legally privileged or (2) that the Company reasonably believes such information to be competitively sensitive proprietary information (except to the extent such Subscriber provides assurances reasonably acceptable to Company that such information shall not be used by such Subscriber or its affiliates to compete with the Company). The Subscriber also shall hold and use (and cause its designees or representatives to hold and use) any information that the Subscriber receives pursuant to this Section 12(a) solely for purposes of managing its investment in the Company, and shall not use or disclose (and shall cause its designees or representatives to not use or disclose) any material nonpublic information regarding the Company or trade in Company securities or any derivatives thereof while in possession thereof.

(b) Board Right. Subject to and promptly following the Sixth Closing Date, the Company shall expand the Board by one director and the Board shall appoint one designee of Subscriber (which may be the Subscriber). Thereafter, subject to Section 12(c) below and satisfaction of all legal and governance requirements applicable to all Board members regarding service as a director of the Company, the Company shall cause the nomination of one person designated by Subscriber for election to the Board at each annual meeting at which the term of each such director expires, or upon the death, resignation, removal or disqualification of each such director, if earlier. Subscriber shall provide written notice of such designee to the Company, together with any information pertaining to the nominated persons reasonably requested by the Company, including information required to be disclosed in accordance with the Company's SEC disclosure obligations. Upon receipt of such notice and information, the Company shall do, or cause to be done, all things, and take, or cause to be taken, all actions necessary, necessary or expedient to having such designee be elected and qualified to serve as a member of the Company's Board as soon thereafter as reasonably practicable. The Subscriber's designee as a Company director shall provide the Company with a directors' and officers' questionnaire and provide such other background information as ordinarily requested by the Company from time to time of its other directors and officers.

(c) Expiration of Rights.

(i) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 12, if, at any time after the Sixth Closing, Subscriber ceases to own, or have the right to acquire pursuant to the Warrant, an aggregate of 3,750,000 shares of Common Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, stock subdivision, stock combination or stock reclassification, and provided that to the extent that any Warrants expire without being exercised such number shall be reduced by a number equal to 75% of the Warrants that expired without being exercised), then Subscriber's rights to nominate a member to the Company's board of directors granted by this Section 12 will terminate and such rights will be lost permanently, irrespective of whether Subscriber's ownership percentage of Company's outstanding Common Stock increases again after the loss of such right.

(ii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 12, if, at any time after the Second Closing, Subscriber ceases to own, or have the right to acquire pursuant to the Warrant, an aggregate of 1,250,000 shares of Common Stock (as adjusted for any stock split, stock dividend, stock subdivision, stock combination or stock reclassification, and provided that to the extent that any Warrants expire without being exercised such number shall be reduced by a number equal to 75% of the Warrants that expired without being exercised), then Subscriber's information rights granted by this Section 12 will terminate and such rights will be lost permanently, irrespective of whether Subscriber's ownership percentage of Company's outstanding Common Stock increases again after the loss of such right.

3. Exercise of Warrant; Term. Subject to the restrictions on exercise contained in this Warrant, to the extent permitted by applicable laws and regulations, the right to purchase the Shares represented by this Warrant is exercisable, in whole or in part by the Warrantholder, at any time or from time to time after the execution and delivery of this Warrant by the Company on the date hereof, but in no event later than 5:00 p.m., New York City time on the third anniversary of the Issue Date (the “Expiration Time”), by (A) the surrender of this Warrant and Notice of Exercise annexed hereto, duly completed and executed on behalf of the Warrantholder, at the principal executive office of the Company (or such other office or agency of the Company in the United States as it may designate by notice in writing to the Warrantholder at the address of the Warrantholder appearing on the books of the Company), and (B) payment of the Exercise Price for the Shares thereby purchased by tendering in cash, by certified or cashier’s check payable to the order of the Company, or by wire transfer of immediately available funds to an account designated by the Company.

If the Warrantholder does not exercise this Warrant in its entirety, the Warrantholder will be entitled to receive from the Company within a reasonable time a new warrant in substantially identical form for the purchase of that number of Shares equal to the difference between the number of Shares subject to this Warrant and the number of Shares as to which this Warrant is so exercised. Notwithstanding anything in this Warrant to the contrary, the Warrantholder hereby acknowledges and agrees that its exercise of this Warrant for Shares is subject to the conditions that (x) the Warrantholder will have first received any applicable Regulatory Approvals and (y) the exercise is subject to a valid exemption from registration under federal and applicable state securities laws.

4. Issuance of Shares; Authorization; Listing. Certificates for Shares issued upon exercise of this Warrant will be issued in such name or names as the Warrantholder may designate, subject to transfer restrictions contemplated by Section 3 of the Unit Subscription Agreement, and will be delivered to such named Person or Persons within a reasonable time after the rights represented by this Warrant shall have been so exercised. The Company hereby represents and warrants that any Shares issued upon the exercise of this Warrant in accordance with the provisions of Section 3 hereof will be duly and validly authorized and issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free from all taxes, liens and charges (other than liens or charges created by the Warrantholder, income and franchise taxes incurred in connection with the exercise of the Warrant or taxes in respect of any transfer occurring contemporaneously therewith).

6 The Company will fill in this number, which will be equal to the number of Units purchased (i.e., 1 share of Common Stock will be subject to the Warrant, for each share of Common Stock purchased).

Exhibit 10.11 - Page - 14

The Company agrees that the Shares so issued will be deemed to have been issued to the Warrantholder as of the close of business on the date on which this Warrant and payment of the Exercise Price are delivered to the Company in accordance with the terms of this Warrant, notwithstanding that the stock transfer books of the Company may then be closed or certificates representing such Shares may not be actually delivered on such date. The Company will at all times reserve and keep available, out of its authorized but unissued Common Stock, solely for the purpose of providing for the exercise of this Warrant, the aggregate number of shares of Common Stock then issuable upon exercise of this Warrant at any time. If the Common Stock is listed on a national securities exchange at the time of exercise of this Warrant, then the Company will use good faith efforts to cause the Shares issuable upon exercise of this Warrant to be listed on such national securities exchange.

5. Legends. The Warrantholder agrees to the imprinting of a legend on the Shares issued upon the exercise of this Warrant pursuant to this Agreement in substantially the following form:

THE ISSUANCE OF THE SHARES OF COMMON STOCK REPRESENTED BY THIS CERTIFICATE HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933 OR APPLICABLE STATE LAWS, AND THESE SHARES OF COMMON STOCK MAY NOT BE SOLD, TRANSFERRED, ASSIGNED, OFFERED, PLEDGED OR OTHERWISE DISTRIBUTED UNLESS THERE IS AN EFFECTIVE REGISTRATION STATEMENT UNDER SUCH ACT AND/OR SUCH LAWS COVERING THIS CERTIFICATE OR THE COMPANY, UPON ITS REQUEST, RECEIVES AN OPINION OF COUNSEL FOR THE HOLDER OF THIS CERTIFICATE ACCEPTABLE TO THE COMPANY STATING THAT SUCH SALE, TRANSFER, ASSIGNMENT, OFFER, PLEDGE OR OTHER DISTRIBUTION IS EXEMPT FROM THE REGISTRATION AND PROSPECTUS DELIVERY REQUIREMENTS OF SUCH ACT AND APPLICABLE STATE LAWS.

Certificates evidencing the Shares issued upon the exercise of this Warrant may be issued without such a legend if the Company determines that such legend is not required under applicable requirements of the Securities Act (including judicial interpretations and pronouncements issued by the staff of the SEC) and applicable state laws.

6. Fractional Shares or Scrip. The Company may issue fractional Shares or scrip representing fractional Shares upon any exercise of this Warrant.

7. No Rights as Stockholders; Transfer Books. This Warrant does not entitle the Warrantholder to any voting rights or other rights as a stockholder of the Company prior to the date of exercise hereof.

8. Charges, Taxes and Expenses. Issuance of certificates for Shares to the Warrantholder upon the exercise of this Warrant shall be made without charge to the Warrantholder for any issue or transfer tax or other incidental expense in respect of the issuance of such certificates.

9. Transfer/Assignment.

(A) Subject to compliance with clause (B) of this Section 9, this Warrant and all rights hereunder are transferable, in whole or in part, upon the books of the Company by the registered holder hereof in person or by duly authorized attorney, and a new warrant shall be made and delivered by the Company, of the same tenor and date as this Warrant but registered in the name of one or more transferees, upon surrender of this Warrant, duly endorsed, to the office or agency of the Company described in Section 3. All expenses (other than stock transfer taxes) and other charges payable in connection with the preparation, execution and delivery of the new warrants pursuant to this Section 9 shall be paid by the Company.

(B) The transfer of the Warrant and the Shares issued upon exercise of the Warrant are subject to the restrictions contemplated by Section 3 of the Unit Subscription Agreement, which include a one-year restriction on the transfer of any Warrant (except in the event of the death of the Holder). If and for so long as required by the Unit Subscription Agreement, this Warrant shall contain legends as contemplated by Section 3 of the Unit Subscription Agreement.

(C) Until any transfer of this Warrant is made in the warrant registry, the Company may treat the Warrantholder as the absolute owner hereof for all purposes; provided, however, that if and when this Warrant is properly assigned in blank, the Company may (but shall not be obligated to) treat the bearer hereof as the absolute owner hereof for all purposes, notwithstanding any notice to the contrary.

10. Exchange and Registry of Warrant. This Warrant is exchangeable, upon the surrender hereof by the Warrantholder to the Company, for a new warrant or warrants of like tenor and representing the right to purchase the same aggregate number of Shares. The Company shall maintain a registry showing the name and address of the Warrantholder as the registered holder of this Warrant. This Warrant may be surrendered for exchange or exercise in accordance with its terms, at the office of the Company, and the Company shall be entitled to rely in all respects, prior to written notice to the contrary, upon such registry.

11. Loss, Theft, Destruction or Mutilation of Warrant. Upon receipt by the Company of evidence reasonably satisfactory to it of the loss, theft, destruction or mutilation of this Warrant, and in the case of any such loss, theft or destruction, upon receipt of a bond, indemnity or security reasonably satisfactory to the Company, or, in the case of any such mutilation, upon surrender and cancellation of this Warrant, the Company shall make and deliver, in lieu of such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Warrant, a new Warrant of like tenor and representing the right to purchase the same aggregate number of Shares as provided for in such lost, stolen, destroyed or mutilated Warrant.

12. Saturdays, Sundays, Holidays, etc. If the last or appointed day for the taking of any action or the expiration of any right required or granted herein shall not be a business day, then such action may be taken or such right may be exercised on the next succeeding day that is a business day.

13. Adjustments and Other Rights. The Exercise Price and the number of Shares issuable upon exercise of this Warrant shall be subject to adjustment from time to time as follows; provided, that if more than one subsection of this Section 13 is applicable to a single event, the subsection shall be applied that produces the largest adjustment and no single event shall cause an adjustment under more than one subsection of this Section 13 so as to result in duplication:

(A) Stock Splits, Subdivisions, Reclassifications or Combinations. If the Company shall (i) declare and pay a dividend or make a distribution on its Common Stock in shares of Common Stock, (ii) subdivide or reclassify the outstanding shares of Common Stock into a greater number of shares, or (iii) combine or reclassify the outstanding shares of Common Stock into a smaller number of shares, the number of Shares issuable upon exercise of this Warrant at the time of the record date for such dividend or distribution or the effective date of such subdivision, combination or reclassification shall be proportionately adjusted so that the Warrantholder after such date shall be entitled to purchase the number of shares of Common Stock which such holder would have owned or been entitled to receive in respect of the shares of Common Stock subject to this Warrant after such date had this Warrant been exercised immediately prior to such date. In such event, the Exercise Price in effect at the time of the record date for such dividend or distribution or the effective date of such subdivision, combination or reclassification shall be adjusted to the number obtained by dividing (x) the product of (1) the number of Shares issuable upon the exercise of this Warrant before such adjustment and (2) the Exercise Price in effect immediately prior to the record or effective date, as the case may be, for the dividend, distribution, subdivision, combination or reclassification giving rise to this adjustment, by (y) the new number of Shares issuable upon exercise of the Warrant determined pursuant to the immediately preceding sentence.

(B) Business Combinations. In case of any Business Combination or reclassification of Common Stock (other than a reclassification of Common Stock referred to in Section 13(A)), the Warrantholder's right to receive Shares upon exercise of this Warrant shall be converted into the right to exercise this Warrant to acquire the number of shares of stock or other securities or property (including cash) which the Common Stock issuable (at the time of such Business Combination or reclassification) upon exercise of this Warrant immediately prior to such Business Combination or reclassification would have been entitled to receive upon consummation of such Business Combination or reclassification; and in any such case, if necessary, the provisions set forth herein with respect to the rights and interests thereafter of the Warrantholder shall be appropriately adjusted so as to be applicable, as nearly as may reasonably be, to the Warrantholder's right to exercise this Warrant in exchange for any shares of stock or other securities or property pursuant to this paragraph. Unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors in connection with a Business Combination, in determining the kind and amount of stock, securities or the property receivable upon exercise of this Warrant following the consummation of such Business Combination, if the holders of Common Stock have the right to elect the kind or amount of consideration receivable upon consummation of such Business Combination, then the consideration that the Warrantholder shall be entitled to receive upon exercise shall be deemed to be the types and amounts of consideration received by the majority of all holders of the shares of common stock that affirmatively make an election (or of all such holders if none make an election).

(C) Rounding of Calculations; Minimum Adjustments. All calculations under this Section 13 shall be made to the nearest one-tenth (1/10th) of a cent or to the nearest one-hundredth (1/100th) of a share, as the case may be. Any provision of this Section 13 to the contrary notwithstanding, no adjustment in the Exercise Price or the number of Shares into which this Warrant is exercisable shall be made if the amount of such adjustment would be less than $0.01 or one-tenth (1/10th) of a share of Common Stock, but any such amount shall be carried forward and an adjustment with respect thereto shall be made at the time of and together with any subsequent adjustment which, together with such amount and any other amount or amounts so carried forward, shall aggregate $0.01 or 1/10th of a share of Common Stock, or more.

(D) Timing of Issuance of Additional Common Stock Upon Certain Adjustments. In any case in which the provisions of this Section 13 shall require that an adjustment shall become effective immediately after a record date for an event, the Company may defer until the occurrence of such event (i) issuing to the Warrantholder of this Warrant exercised after such record date and before the occurrence of such event the additional shares of Common Stock issuable upon such exercise by reason of the adjustment required by such event over and above the shares of Common Stock issuable upon such exercise before giving effect to such adjustment and (ii) paying to such Warrantholder any amount of cash in lieu of a fractional share of Common Stock; provided, however, that the Company upon request shall deliver to such Warrantholder a due bill or other appropriate instrument evidencing such Warrantholder's right to receive such additional shares, and such cash, upon the occurrence of the event requiring such adjustment.

(E) Other Events. The Exercise Price or the number of Shares into which this Warrant is exercisable shall not be adjusted solely as a result of a change in the par value of the Common Stock or a change in the jurisdiction of incorporation of the Company.

(F) Statement Regarding Adjustments. Whenever the Exercise Price or the number of Shares into which this Warrant is exercisable shall be adjusted as provided in Section 13, the Company shall forthwith file at the principal office of the Company a statement showing in reasonable detail the facts requiring such adjustment and the Exercise Price that shall be in effect and the number of Shares into which this Warrant shall be exercisable after such adjustment.

(G) Notice of Adjustment Event. In the event that the Company shall propose to take any action of the type described in this Section 13 (but only if the action of the type described in this Section 13 would result in an adjustment in the Exercise Price or the number of Shares into which this Warrant is exercisable or a change in the type of securities or property to be delivered upon exercise of this Warrant), the Company shall give notice to the Warrantholder, in the manner set forth in Section 13(F), which notice shall specify the record date, if any, with respect to any such action and the approximate date on which such action is to take place. Such notice shall also set forth the facts with respect thereto as shall be reasonably necessary to indicate the effect on the Exercise Price and the number, kind or class of shares or other securities or property which shall be deliverable upon exercise of this Warrant. Failure to give such notice, or any defect therein, shall not affect the legality or validity of any such action.

(H) Adjustment Rules. Any adjustments pursuant to this Section 13 shall be made successively whenever an event referred to herein shall occur. If an adjustment in Exercise Price made hereunder would reduce the Exercise Price to an amount below par value of the Common Stock, then such adjustment in Exercise Price made hereunder shall reduce the Exercise Price to the par value of the Common Stock.

14. Governing Law. This Warrant and all rights, obligations and liabilities hereunder shall be governed by and construed under the laws of the State of South Carolina without giving effect to conflicts of laws principles.

15. Dispute Resolution.

(A) General. Any claim of, or dispute or controversy involving, the Company or the Warrantholder (each a “Party” and, collectively the “Parties”) arising out of, connected with, or relating to this Warrant, the subject matter of this Warrant, its formation or execution, or any right or obligation created by this Warrant, irrespective of the legal theory or claims underlying such claim, dispute, or controversy (including tort or statutory claims) (“Dispute”), shall be resolved in accordance with this Section 15.

(B) Dispute Notice. The Party asserting the Dispute will give prompt notice to the other Party describing the Dispute in reasonable detail (“Dispute Notice”).

(C) Informal Proceedings. Prior to the initiation of formal dispute resolution procedures, the Parties shall first attempt to resolve their dispute informally. Towards that end, promptly after receipt of the Dispute Notice, the Parties, personally or through party representatives, will negotiate in good faith to resolve the Dispute. The specific format for the discussions shall be left to the discretion of the designated representatives.

(D) Formal Proceedings. Formal proceedings for the resolution of a dispute pursuant to this Section 15 may not be commenced until the earlier of:

(i) the Parties or designated Party representatives concluding in good faith that amicable resolution through continued negotiation of the matter does not appear likely; or

(ii) 30 business days from the date of the Dispute Notice. (This period shall be deemed to run notwithstanding any claim that the process described in this Section was not followed or completed).

(E) Mandatory Arbitration.

(i) Upon demand of any Party (whether made before or after institution of any judicial proceeding), any dispute shall be referred to arbitration, and the final decision rendered shall be binding upon the Parties to this Agreement. Disputes include, without limitation, tort claims, counterclaims, securities law claims, contract claims, disputes as to whether a matter is subject to binding arbitration, claims brought as class actions, or claims arising out of or connected with the transaction reflected by any Warrant.

(ii) To the extent not specified or modified hereafter, arbitration shall be conducted under and governed by the Commercial Arbitration Rules (the "Arbitration Rules") promulgated by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA"), the Securities Arbitration Supplementary Procedures promulgated by the AAA, and Chapter 48 of Title 15 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina, as amended (the South Carolina Uniform Arbitration Act). All arbitration hearings shall be conducted in Greenville County, South Carolina. The Expedited Procedures set forth in the Arbitration Rules shall be applicable to claims of less than $100,000. All applicable statutes of limitation shall apply to a dispute. A judgment upon the award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction over the Party.

(iii) Where the claim amounts to or exceeds $100,000, the arbitration shall be conducted before three arbitrators, who shall be licensed attorneys in the State of South Carolina. All plaintiffs/claimants in the action shall be permitted the selection of one arbitrator and all defendants/respondents shall be permitted the selection of the second arbitrator. (For purposes of selection of the arbitrators, third-party, counter, or cross claimants shall not be recognized). The two selected arbitrators shall then select the third arbitrator.

(iv) Where the claim is less than $100,000, the arbitration shall be conducted before a single arbitrator, who shall be a licensed attorney in the State of South Carolina. This arbitrator shall be selected by mutual agreement of the Parties.

(F) Litigation. In the event that the provisions hereof requiring binding arbitration shall for any reason be deemed unenforceable (or if no Party demands that a Dispute be submitted to binding arbitration), the Parties agree as follows:

(i) Consent to Jurisdiction. Each Party consents to the jurisdiction of the State Courts of Greenville County, South Carolina, or the Federal Courts of South Carolina located in Greenville County. Each Party expressly and irrevocably consents to the jurisdiction of the aforesaid courts and waives any defenses of lack of personal jurisdiction, improper venue, or forum non conveniens.

(ii) Exclusive Selection of Forum. The parties agree that any disputes between them (in contract, tort, statute, or any other legal theory including claims of fraud, suppression, misrepresentation, and fraud in the inducement) or any disputes arising under this Agreement shall be exclusively resolved in the State Courts of Greenville County, South Carolina, or the Federal Courts of South Carolina located in Greenville County.

(iii) Waiver of Right to Jury Trial. Each Party waives their respective right to a trial by jury with respect to any Dispute. Each Party acknowledges and understands that this waiver is a material inducement to enter into a business relationship, that each has relied on this waiver in entering into this Warrant, and that each will continue to rely on the waiver in their related future dealings. Each Party represents and warrants that each has had the opportunity of reviewing this jury waiver with legal counsel, and that each knowingly and voluntarily waives its jury trial rights.

(G) Expiration. The foregoing obligations, contained in this Section 15, shall indefinitely survive the expiration or earlier termination of this Warrant.

16. Binding Effect. This Warrant shall be binding upon any successors or assigns of the Company and the successors and permitted assigns of the Warrantholder.

17. Amendments. This Warrant may be amended and the observance of any term of this Warrant may be waived only with the written consent of the Company and the Warrantholder.

18. Notices. Any notice, request, instruction or other document to be given hereunder by any party to the other will be in writing and will be deemed to have been duly given (a) on the date of delivery if delivered personally, or by facsimile, upon confirmation of receipt, or (b) on the second business day following the date of dispatch if delivered by a recognized next day courier service.
