On January 19, 2007, Competitive Technologies, Inc. issued the following press release:

COMPETITIVE TECHNOLOGIES NOTIFIES SEC OF NANO GROUP'S FALSE AND MISLEADING STATEMENTS

Fairfield, CT (January 19, 2007) - Competitive Technologies, Inc.-(AMEX: CTT), a full service technology transfer and licensing provider, today announced that it has notified the Securities and Exchange Commission concerning the false and misleading statements made by the Committee to Restore Stockholder Value (the "Nano Group"), regarding their inaccurate claim that a quorum was present on January 16, 2007, at CTT's Annual Meeting of Stockholders ("Annual Meeting").

The independent Inspectors of Election, IVS Associates, Inc., have preliminarily confirmed that only 39.94% of CTT's outstanding shares were present in person or by proxy at CTT's Annual Meeting, far below the majority of shares required by CTT's Bylaws in accordance with Delaware law. As no quorum was present, the only business conducted was a vote by the shareholders to adjourn the meeting. According to the preliminary report of the independent Inspectors of Election, the vote to adjourn the meeting until February 2, 2007, was approved. No other business was conducted at the Annual Meeting, and contrary to the misleading statements of the Nano Group, no election of directors took place at the meeting. The election of directors is expected to take place on February 2, 2007, at the reconvened Annual Meeting.

CTT believes that the Nano Group has perpetuated a campaign to intentionally mislead CTT's stockholders. The Nano Group has continued to falsely claim that the Nano Group's slate of director nominees, including John B. Nano, was elected on January 16, 2007, which was impossible without a quorum.

CTT is encouraging all of its stockholders to cast their ballots in support of its nominees as soon as possible. The Annual Meeting has been adjourned until February 2, 2007 at 1:00 p.m. Eastern Time at the American Stock Exchange, 86 Trinity Place, New York, NY.
