SGL Carbon Increases Graphite Electrode Prices

WIESBADEN, Germany--(BUSINESS WIRE)--June 11, 2003--The SGL Carbon Group is increasing the price of its core product graphite electrodes in Asia (except China), Near Middle East and Africa with immediate effect for all new orders by 500 US$ per ton.

This price increase is expected to level off the significant price differences between Europe/USA and Asia/Near Middle East. Capacity utilization at SGL Carbon remains very high, order books are full.

Important notice:

This press release contains forward-looking statements as defined in the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. It contains forward-looking statements and information relating to sales and earnings figures, based on currently available information. Actual future results/trends could differ materially from those set forth in such statements due to various factors. Such factors include unforeseeable alterations in electric steel production, the possibility of changing economic and competitive conditions, changes in currency rates, technological developments, unanticipated developments relating to recently acquired businesses and Group companies, unforeseen difficulties relating to the investigations by the European antitrust authorities and to the now completed investigation by the Canadian and U.S. antitrust authorities and the civil actions related to these investigations and other risks and uncertainties, including those detailed in the Company's filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. SGL Carbon does not intend to update these forward-looking statements, and does not assume any obligation to do so.
