Edgar Filing: InterDigital, Inc. - Form 8-K

(a) Nokia Litigation Update.

On December 10, 2007, pursuant to a joint request of the parties, the United States District Court for the District of Delaware entered an Order staying proceedings in a matter brought by Nokia Corporation and Nokia, Inc. (collectively, "Nokia") against InterDigital, Inc.'s wholly-owned subsidiaries InterDigital Communications, LLC and InterDigital Technology Corporation (together, "InterDigital"). The Honorable Joseph J. Farnan, Jr., the judge overseeing the Delaware District Court proceeding ("Nokia Delaware Proceeding") involving Lanham Act and related claims brought by Nokia against InterDigital and associated counterclaims brought by InterDigital against Nokia, stayed the Nokia Delaware Proceeding pending the full and final resolution of the International Trade Commission ("ITC") investigation captioned In re Certain 3G Mobile Handsets and Components Thereof, Inv. No. 337-TA-613 ("ITC Investigation"). Specifically, the full and final resolution of the ITC investigation includes any initial or final determinations of the Administrative Law Judge overseeing the proceeding, the ITC, and any appeals therefrom. Pursuant to the Order, the parties and their affiliates are generally prohibited from initiating against the other parties, in any forum, any claims or counterclaims that are the same as the claims and counterclaims pending in the Nokia Delaware Proceeding, and should any of the same or similar claims or counterclaims be initiated by a party, the other parties may seek dissolution of the stay.

The Order also stays, on similar terms as the Nokia Delaware Proceeding, an arbitral proceeding between Nokia and InterDigital in the International Chamber of Commerce, International Court of Arbitration ("Nokia ICC Proceeding") relating to Nokia's use of certain confidential licensing presentations. The Order does not affect any of the other legal proceedings between the parties including the current ITC Investigation involving InterDigital, Nokia and Samsung, or the parallel Delaware District Court proceedings also brought by InterDigital against Nokia and Samsung individually.

(b) Samsung Award Confirmation Update.

On December 10, 2007, the Honorable Richard J. Sullivan, the Judge presiding over InterDigital's recently confirmed enforcement of its August 2006 arbitral award ("Final Award") against Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd. ("Samsung") in the Federal District Court in the Southern District of New York, entered an Order of Judgment to confirm the Final Award in its entirety, to deny all of Samsung's petitions and motions, and to enter a Judgment on behalf of InterDigital for $150.25 million comprised of approximately $134 million for sales of 2G covered products during the period 2002-2005, less a credit due Samsung in the amount of approximately $6 million, plus pre-judgment interest in the amount of 5% per annum. The $150.25 million judgment does not include additional royalties owed for 2006 under the arbitration award. Samsung has the right to appeal the Order of Judgment within thirty days of its entry.
