2014 long-term, share based incentive programme for Novo Nordisk's Senior Management Board

Bagsværd, Denmark, 21 March 2014 – The long-term, share-based incentive programme for 2014 for Novo Nordisk's Senior Management Board has been approved by the Board of Directors.

Following yesterday's approval at the Annual General Meeting of the revised Remuneration Principles including an adjustment of the relative size of the executives' fixed base salary out of the total value of the executive remuneration package, the Board of Directors approved the long-term, share based incentive programme for 2014 for the Senior Management Board.

For Executive Management, the Board decided that the maximum for 2014 equals twelve months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution for the CEO Lars Rebien Sørensen and nine months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution for the remaining six members of Executive Management, if the criteria for maximum grant are fulfilled.

For the 28 senior vice presidents, the Board decided that the maximum per participant for 2014 equals eight months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution if the criteria for maximum grant are fulfilled.

The Board will in January 2015 determine whether the criteria for establishing the share pool have been fulfilled and the size of the actual allocation.

About the long-term, share-based incentive programme for senior management

Since 2004, members of Novo Nordisk's Executive Management and other members of the company's Senior Management Board have participated in a performance-based incentive programme. In the programme, a proportion of the calculated economic value created in a calendar year is allocated to a joint pool for the participants.

Once the joint pool for a given year has been approved by the Board of Directors, the total cash amount is converted into Novo Nordisk B shares at market price. The market price is calculated as the average trading price for Novo Nordisk B shares on NASDAQ OMX Copenhagen in the open trading window following the release of the full-year financial results for the year preceding the year of the performance-based incentive programme. The shares in the joint pool are locked up for a three-year period before they are transferred to the participants. In the lock-up period, the Board of Directors may remove shares from the joint pool in the event of lower than planned value creation in subsequent years. The Board reviews the principles for the long-term, share-based incentive programme including the lock-up period on an annual basis.

For 2013, the joint pool had a maximum allocation per participant equal to nine months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution for members of Executive Management (seven in 2013) and eight months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution for other members of the Senior Management Board (28 senior vice presidents in 2013). The actual allocation for 2013 for members of Executive Management was 4.75 months' fixed base salary plus pension contribution.
