Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 21, 2006, NCI Building Systems, Inc. (the Company) entered into a definitive agreement with Robertson-Ceco Corporation, a Delaware corporation (RCC), to purchase the business of RCC for $370 million in cash. RCC operates the Robertson Building Systems, Ceco Building Systems, Star Building Systems and Steelspec divisions. The purchase is subject to a number of closing conditions, including the expiration or termination of any applicable waiting period under the Hart Scott Rodino Act.

The foregoing description of the transaction is qualified in its entirety by reference to the terms of the Stock Purchase Agreement, which is included in this filing as Exhibit 10.1. The Stock Purchase Agreement provides further information regarding the terms of the purchase of RCC. Except for its status as a contractual document that establishes and governs the legal relationship among the parties thereto with respect to the sale, the Stock Purchase Agreement is not intended to be a source of factual, business or operational information about the parties. The representations, warranties and covenants made by the parties in that agreement were made only for purposes of such agreement and as of specific dates. Such representations, warranties and covenants are qualified in a variety of respects, including by information in disclosure schedules that the parties exchanged in connection with the execution of that agreement, and may be subject to standards of materiality that differ from those relevant to investors. Representations and warranties may be used as a tool to allocate risks between the parties, including where the parties do not have complete knowledge of all facts. Investors are not third-party beneficiaries under the Stock Purchase Agreement and should not rely on the representations, warranties and covenants or any descriptions thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of the Company or any of its affiliates.
