In accordance with the Plans, the Trusts currently distribute the following fixed amounts per share on a quarterly basis:

Exchange Symbol	Amount Per Common Share
BQR	$0.235000
BGR	$0.405000
BDJ	$0.170000
BOE	$0.568750
BME	$0.384375
BGY	$0.220000
BCF	$0.271800
BCX	$0.350000
BQY	$0.250000
BUI	$0.362500

The fixed amounts distributed per share are subject to change at the discretion of each Trust's Board. Under its Plan, each Trust will distribute all available investment income to its shareholders, consistent with its primary investment objectives and as required by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). If sufficient investment income is not available on a quarterly basis, the Trusts will distribute long-term capital gains and/or return of capital to shareholders in order to maintain a level distribution. Each quarterly distribution to shareholders is expected to be at the fixed amount established by the Board, except for extraordinary distributions and potential distribution rate increases or decreases to enable the Trusts to comply with the distribution requirements imposed by the Code.

Shareholders should not draw any conclusions about each Trust's investment performance from the amount of these distributions or from the terms of the Plan. Each Trust's total return performance on net asset value is presented in its financial highlights table.

The Board may amend, suspend or terminate a Trust's Plan without prior notice if it deems such actions to be in the best interests of the Trust or its shareholders. The suspension or termination of the Plan could have the effect of creating a trading discount (if the Trust's stock is trading at or above net asset value) or widening an existing trading discount. The Trusts are subject to risks that could have an adverse impact on their ability to maintain level distributions. Examples of potential risks include, but are not limited to, economic downturns impacting the markets, decreased market volatility, companies suspending or decreasing corporate dividend distributions and changes in the Code. Please refer to each Trust's prospectus for a more complete description of its risks.

Please refer to Additional Information for a cumulative summary of the Section 19(a) notices for each Trust's current fiscal period. Section 19(a) notices for the Trusts, as applicable, are available on the BlackRock website <http://www.blackrock.com>.

Dear Shareholder,

One year ago at this time, risk assets were in a broad retreat as political strife in Greece ignited fears about sovereign debt problems spreading across Europe and economic indicators signaled that the global recovery had slowed. Confidence was further shaken by the prolonged debt ceiling debate in Washington, DC. Early in August 2011, Standard & Poor's downgraded the US government's credit rating and turmoil erupted in financial markets around the world. Extraordinary levels of volatility persisted in the months that followed as the European debt crisis intensified. Macro news flow became the dominant force in financial markets, driving asset prices up and down in lock step, in a risk on/risk off trading pattern. By the end of the third quarter in 2011, equity markets had fallen nearly 20% from their April peak while safe-haven assets such as US Treasuries and gold had rallied to historic highs.

October 2011 brought enough positive economic data to assuage fears of a global double-dip recession. Additionally, European leaders began making concerted efforts to stem the region's debt crisis. Investors began to reenter the markets, putting risk assets on the road to recovery. Improving sentiment carried over into early 2012 as a number of factors elicited greater optimism. Sovereign debt problems in Europe became less pressing. Greece secured its second bailout package and completed the restructuring of its national debt. The European Central Bank gave financial markets a boost by providing additional liquidity through its long-term refinancing operations. The outlook for the global economy grew less dim as stronger data from the United States, particularly from the labor market, lifted sentiment. Hopes for additional monetary stimulus from the US Federal Reserve and strong corporate earnings pushed risk assets (including stocks, commodities and high yield bonds) higher through the first two months of the year while rising Treasury yields pressured higher-quality fixed income assets. The risk rally softened in late March, however, due to renewed fears about slowing growth in China and Europe's debt troubles. Equity markets staggered downward in April as Spain's financial situation became increasingly severe and elections in Greece and France added to uncertainty about the future of the euro zone. In the United States, disappointing jobs reports in April revealed that the recent acceleration in the labor market had been a short-lived surge. Overall, US economic data signaled that the pace of the recovery had slowed, but not to the extent that warranted additional monetary stimulus.

Thanks in large part to an exceptionally strong first quarter of 2012, equities and high yield bonds posted solid returns for the 6-month period ended April 30, 2012. On a 12-month basis, US large-cap stocks and high yield bonds delivered positive results; however, small-cap stocks finished in negative territory. International and emerging equities, which experienced significant downturns in 2011, lagged the broader rebound. Fixed income securities, including corporate, government and municipal bonds, performed well despite recent yield volatility. US Treasury bonds finished strong, with an April rally erasing the effects of their broad sell-off during February and March. Continued low short-term interest rates kept yields on money market securities near their all-time lows.

Financial markets have regained a significant degree of stability since the period of turmoil we endured last year; however, considerable headwinds remain. Political uncertainty in Europe elevates concerns about additional flare ups in the debt crisis. Higher energy prices and slowing growth in China continue to pose risks for the global economy. Potential political leadership changes around the world create additional layers of uncertainty. But, we believe that with these challenges come opportunities. We remain committed to working with you and your financial professional to identify actionable ideas for your portfolio. We encourage you to visit www.blackrock.com/newworld for more information.

BlackRock EcoSolutions Investment Trust

Trust Overview

BlackRock EcoSolutions Investment Trust's (BQR) (the Trust) investment objective is to provide total return through a combination of current income, current gains and long-term capital appreciation. The Trust seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing, under normal market conditions, at least 80% of its assets in equity securities issued by companies that are engaged in one or more of New Energy (e.g., products, technologies and services connected to the efficient use of energy or the provision or manufacture of alternative forms of energy), Water Resources and Agriculture business segments. The Trust may invest directly in such securities or synthetically through the use of derivatives. The Trust utilizes an option writing (selling) strategy to enhance dividend yield.

No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 21.03% based on market price and 5.20% based on NAV. For the same period, the closed-end Lipper Sector Equity Funds category posted an average return of 13.14% based on market price and 7.46% based on NAV. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust moved from a discount to NAV to a premium by period end, which accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

During the period, the water resources segment of the portfolio generated the highest positive contribution to the Trust's performance. The strong performance of this segment was driven primarily by positions in two Brazilian-based water utility companies. The continuing growth of the middle class and more clarity on regulation continues to drive the need for better water quality and sewerage systems in developing countries. The Trust's holding of Manila Water Co., Inc. (Philippines) also delivered a notable return as a result of strong demand for the company's services. Additionally, the Trust benefited from holding multinational industrial manufacturer Pentair, Inc. (United States), which announced at the end of March that it would be combining with Tyco International Ltd.'s flow-control business.

In the agriculture segment of the portfolio, exposure to equipment companies contributed positively to performance, as improving investor sentiment drove these names higher. For example, in late 2011 portfolio holding Deere & Co. (United States) provided investors with more transparency into its order book for 2012, which helped to build confidence in the company's outlook for the forthcoming year and resulted in strong performance. In addition, the Trust's option writing strategy had a positive impact on performance.

Detracting from relative performance was the Trust's exposure, although limited, to renewable energy technologies such as Vestas Wind Systems A/S (Denmark) and First Solar, Inc. (United States). The outlook for these companies became clouded by increased government austerity, particularly in European markets. The Trust's exposure in this space was focused on cost, technology and market leaders. Also having a negative impact on returns were holdings of companies involved in the production and distribution of fertilizers. These names were challenged during the period due to uncertainty about whether Chinese and Indian buyers would commit to contracts for the first half of 2012, which led major fertilizer producers to cut their forecasts and, therefore, put downward pressure on the industry.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

Edgar Filing: BlackRock Real Asset Equity Trust - Form N-CSRS

During the six-month period, the Trust initiated a position in Novozymes A/S (Denmark) in the new energy segment of the portfolio. Novozymes A/S appears to be well-positioned to benefit from increasing demand for enzymes as a result of the start-up of second-generation biofuel plants over the medium to long term.

In the water resources space, the Trust added two new holdings of US-based multinational water technology companies, Pall Corp. and Xylem, Inc., the latter of which was spun off from the break-up of ITT Corp. The Trust also received shares of water, hygiene and energy technology company Ecolab, Inc. (United States) as a result of its takeover of Nalco Holding Co. (United States).

During the period, the Trust held an elevated level of cash as a means of defensive positioning due to near-term uncertainty about the market outlook. The cash balance did not have a material impact on the Trust's performance.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

As of period end, the Trust continued to hold large allocations to both the agriculture and water resources segments and less emphasis on new energy. The Trust maintained its large allocation to agriculture based on management's view that recent improving profitability in the agriculture sector raises the potential for increased spending on farming inputs. Within the agriculture segment, the Trust's holdings reflected a preference for agricultural science companies, agricultural equipment makers and fertilizer producers. The Trust maintained its heavy exposure to water resources as these strong dividend-paying stocks have benefited from investors' increased demand for yield in a low interest rate environment coupled with heightened merger and acquisition activity within the space. The Trust's water resources holdings reflected a preference for companies with exposure to infrastructure, desalination and technologies for water management.

Trust Summary as of April 30, 2012

BlackRock Energy and Resources Trust

Trust Overview

BlackRock Energy and Resources Trust's (BGR) (the Trust) investment objective is to provide total return through a combination of current income, current gains and long-term capital appreciation. The Trust seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing, under normal market conditions, at least 80% of its total assets in equity securities of energy and natural resources companies and equity derivatives with exposure to the energy and natural resources industry. The Trust may invest directly in such securities or synthetically through the use of derivatives. The Trust utilizes an option writing (selling) strategy to enhance dividend yield.

No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned (0.40)% based on market price and 0.82% based on NAV. For the same period, the closed-end Lipper Sector Equity Funds category posted an average return of 13.14% based on market price and 7.46% based on NAV. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust's discount to NAV, which widened during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

The strongest contribution to returns for the period came from the Trust's exposure to names in the oil, gas & consumable fuels industry, particularly within the oil & gas storage & transportation group. Notable individual performers included Cheniere Energy, Inc., MarkWest Energy Partners LP and Plains All American Pipeline LP. The Trust's option-writing strategy, particularly in the oil & gas exploration & production group, also had a positive impact on returns. In the energy equipment & services industry, select holdings within oil & gas equipment & services boosted returns.

The largest detractor from the Trust's performance was exposure to coal-related equities in the oil, gas & consumable fuels industry. As natural gas prices fell, it became more economical for utility companies to generate electricity using natural gas rather than coal. This trend resulted in excess thermal coal inventories and pushed spot coal prices to their lowest level in several years. Even after declining more than 40% in 2011, US coal producers shed an additional 15% during the first quarter of 2012. In this space, the Trust's holdings of Alpha Natural Resources, Inc., Consol Energy, Inc. and Peabody Energy Corp. all posted losses for the period. Within the oil & gas exploration & production group, losses from the Trust's exposure to natural gas offset the gains from its oil-related holdings. Notable detractors with natural gas exposure included Crew Energy, Inc., EQT Corp. and Southwestern Energy Co.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust increased its allocation within the oil, gas & consumable fuels industry to refiners and storage & transportation names, while trimming exposure to integrated oil & gas and exploration & production names as well as oil & gas equipment services.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

At the end of the period, the Trust's largest portfolio concentrations were in the oil & gas exploration & production, oil & gas storage & transportation and oil & gas equipment & services groups. The Trust continued to favor oil producers across the market-capitalization spectrum and maintained exposure to coal and low-cost natural gas producers that have come under selling pressure in recent months.

The views expressed reflect the opinions of BlackRock as of the date of this report and are subject to change based on changes in market, economic or other conditions. These views are not intended to be a forecast of future events and are no guarantee of future results.

Trust Summary as of April 30, 2012

BlackRock Enhanced Equity Dividend Trust

Trust Overview

BlackRock Enhanced Equity Dividend Trust's (BDJ) (the "Trust") primary investment objective is to provide current income and current gains, with a secondary investment objective of long-term capital appreciation. The Trust seeks to achieve its investment objectives by investing in common stocks that pay dividends and have the potential for capital appreciation and by utilizing an option writing (selling) strategy to enhance distributions paid to the Trust's shareholders. The Trust invests, under normal market conditions, at least 80% of its total assets in dividend paying equities. The Trust may invest directly in such securities or synthetically through the use of derivatives.

No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objectives will be achieved.

Portfolio Management Commentary

On February 27, 2012, the Trust acquired substantially all of the assets and substantially all of the liabilities of the BlackRock Equity Dividend Trust and BlackRock Strategic Equity Dividend Trust in exchange for newly issued shares of the Trust.

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 8.70% based on market price and 10.29% based on NAV. For the same period, the Russell 1000® Value Index returned 11.62%. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust's discount to NAV, which widened during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion of relative performance based on NAV pertains to the Russell 1000® Value Index.

What factors influenced performance?

The Trust's sector underweight and stock selection within financials detracted from performance relative to the Russell 1000® Value Index, as did stock selection in the industrials sector. Also having a negative impact was an underweight and selection in the health care sector, stock selection and a marginal overweight in telecommunications services, and stock selection and an underweight in consumer discretionary.

Contributing positively to performance during the period was a combination of stock selection and a marginal overweight in energy, stock selection in consumer staples, and an overweight in the industrials sector. Stock selection and an underweight within information technology (IT) boosted returns during the period, as did an overweight in the materials sector. The Trust's option writing strategy had a positive impact on performance.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust made relatively few material changes to portfolio holdings or allocations. However, given positive structural changes within the financials sector and a gradually improving regulatory front, the Trust added to some existing positions within the sector. Additionally, the Trust sought to reduce exposure to companies with higher portions of their revenues coming from the euro zone.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

As of period end, the Trust was positioned to benefit from a recovering global economy, with a specific focus on sectors tied closely to accelerating consumption and demand around the world. While US multinational companies have had the backing of a strong domestic equity market and the benefit of gradually improving US consumer sentiment, the emerging markets remain critically important for future revenue growth. Trust management believes these markets will be a primary driver of equity returns, either directly or indirectly, in the years to come. Companies that have made a clear effort to expand operations in emerging-market regions in order to grow their brand recognition and overall foot-print are most likely to be the early beneficiaries of growth in these markets. This view is most clearly reflected by the Trust's relatively larger allocations to the materials, industrials, consumer staples and energy sectors. Additionally, improving fundamentals within financials increases the potential for the sector to participate when world markets eventually garner confidence.

Edgar Filing: BlackRock Real Asset Equity Trust - Form N-CSRS

The Trust remains less invested in IT, health care, and consumer discretionary; however, Trust management believes these sectors will ultimately become more important for dividend investing in the future as high-growth companies become stable-growth companies generating more established revenue streams. In the aggregate, while the Trust's portfolio of holdings is purposefully structured to withstand near-term market corrections, it is also poised to compete on the upside when company fundamentals become a more visible driver of equity returns in the market.

The views expressed reflect the opinions of BlackRock as of the date of this report and are subject to change based on changes in market, economic or other conditions. These views are not intended to be a forecast of future events and are no guarantee of future results.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 10.24% based on market price and 5.91% based on NAV. For the same period, the MSCI All Country World Index posted a return of 7.07%. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust's discount to NAV, which narrowed during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

The Trust's average cash position, which was higher than usual during the period as a means to reduce the impact of market volatility, detracted from performance as investor sentiment improved at the end of 2011 and equity markets were further supported by accommodative policy action in the first quarter of 2012. Also having a negative impact on returns was stock selection in consumer discretionary, where the Trust's holdings in restaurants and auto manufacturers were the primary detractors. In the information technology (IT) sector, stock selection across all three industry groups, including semiconductors, software and hardware, hurt performance.

The largest contributor to performance for the period was stock selection in the industrials sector, where a bias toward US-based industrial machinery companies, including SPX Corp., Stanley Black & Decker, Inc. and Dover Corp., had a positive impact on returns. The Trust's sector underweight relative to the MSCI All Country World Index in materials proved beneficial as the sector continued to face headwinds due to sluggish global economic growth. In addition, the Trust's option overwrites on approximately half of its portfolio holdings had a positive impact on returns.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust increased exposure to the industrials sector by closing its underweight in capital goods. The Trust also increased its weighting in consumer discretionary, specifically within retailers. The Trust reduced its holdings in consumer staples and integrated telecommunication services stocks. From a regional perspective, the Trust trimmed exposure to Europe and added exposure to the United States.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

At period end, the Trust's positioning reflected several key characteristics. For one, given the number of headwinds faced by equity markets and the potential severity of the risks they impose, the Trust's holdings were diversified in a manner that reduces the Trust's vulnerability to any particular development or macro event. Additionally, the Trust's holdings did not reflect an intentional bias toward any particular sector or security characteristic. The Trust's overall portfolio risk was derived more from the individual security risks associated with its holdings than from systematic risks (i.e., risks that impact an entire market or market segment).

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 16.59% based on market price and 10.55% based on NAV. For the same period, the Russell 3000® Healthcare Index returned 14.27%. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust moved from a discount to NAV to a premium by period end, which accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

Detracting from performance relative to the Russell 3000® Healthcare Index was stock selection in pharmaceuticals. Although large-cap pharmaceutical stocks have largely benefited from investors search for non-cyclical equities during the risk-off trading periods in the market over the past year, the Trust s exposure to European-based pharmaceuticals, which are not represented in the Russell 3000 Healthcare Index, hurt performance as uncertainty in Europe and talks of further drug pricing cuts dragged share prices down in that space. Additionally, an overweight to health care distributors had a negative impact on the Trust s performance as deliberations surrounding the constitutionality of the new US health care legislation weighed on companies most sensitive to industry volumes.

Given evidence of decelerating health care spending in the United States and continued pricing pressures in Europe, the Trust sought to avoid companies that were more vulnerable to these trends in favor of companies that offered strong growth potential from product innovation or attractive pipeline potential. This preference resulted in an overweight to biotechnology, which was the strongest performing health care industry for the period. Also contributing positively to performance was stock selection in health care technology and an underweight to the health care equipment sub-industry. The Trust s option writing strategy had a positive impact on performance.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust sought opportunities in health care segments that are less vulnerable to reimbursement pressures and companies that are introducing enticing new products. As a result, the Trust rotated out of select procedural-based health care equipment and service names and increased exposure to areas that offer better growth potential, such as biopharmaceuticals, dental supply companies, eye care companies and animal health names. At times, the Trust s cash balance was elevated when selling activity exceeded purchasing. The Trust s cash position did not have a material impact on performance during the period.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

As of period end, the Trust s most significant industry allocations were in pharmaceuticals (30%), biotechnology (25%), health care providers & services (20%) and health care equipment & supplies (18%), with the balance invested across various areas of health care sector.

Edgar Filing: BlackRock Real Asset Equity Trust - Form N-CSRS

Amid unresolved global macroeconomic issues and the overhang of the final US Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the new health care legislation, the Trust continues to focus on innovative companies that offer products or services that satisfy an unmet medical need or significantly reduce the costs associated with a current product or procedure. The Trust seeks to identify and own companies that have a strong outlook, even in a weak macroeconomic environment, due to new product cycles, strong execution and/ or margin opportunities. The Trust also continues to selectively add to its holdings of companies with overly depressed valuations and favorable risk/reward characteristics.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 5.40% based on market price and 4.99% based on NAV. For the same period, the MSCI All Country World Index ex-US returned 2.73%. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust s discount to NAV, which narrowed during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

Relative to the MSCI All Country World Index ex-US, the Trust s positive performance came largely from stock selection in the utilities, materials, information technology (IT) and financials sectors. In utilities, the Trust s positioning within electric utilities benefited performance, where Cia Energetica de Minas Gerais significantly outperformed its competitors. In materials, the Trust s holdings in the metals & mining industry, particularly Xstrata Plc and Quadra FNX Mining Ltd., boosted returns. In IT, the Trust s overweight in software stocks enhanced returns during the period. Within financials, stock selection in the insurance and capital markets industries had a positive impact on performance. In addition, the Trust s option overwrites on approximately half of its portfolio holdings had a positive impact on returns.

The Trust s average cash position, which was higher than usual during the period as a means to reduce the impact of market volatility, detracted from performance as investor sentiment improved at the end of 2011 and equity markets were further supported by accommodative policy action in the first quarter of 2012. Also having a negative impact on returns was stock selection in consumer discretionary, where the Trust s holdings in auto manufacturers were the primary detractors.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust increased exposure to the industrials sector by closing its underweight in capital goods. The Trust increased its allocation to materials by increasing exposure to fertilizers, gold and paper products. The Trust also increased its weighting in consumer discretionary, particularly within retailers. These additions were offset by reductions in consumer staples and telecommunications services.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

At period end, the Trust s positioning reflected several key characteristics. For one, given the number of headwinds faced by equity markets and the potential severity of the risks they impose, the Trust s holdings were diversified in a manner that reduces the Trust s vulnerability to any particular development or macro event. Additionally, the Trust s holdings did not reflect an intentional bias toward any particular sector or security characteristic. Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 4.51% based on market price and 1.49% based on NAV. For the same period, the closed-end Lipper Sector Equity Funds category posted an average return of 13.14% based on market price and 7.46% based on NAV. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust s discount to NAV, which narrowed during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

The largest contribution to the Trust s performance came from the basic materials segment of the portfolio, where the Trust benefited from its holdings in chemicals, machinery, including Deere & Co. and Caterpillar, Inc., paper products, including International Paper Co. and MeadWestvaco Corp., and industrial gas name Praxair, Inc.

In the natural resources segment (metals & mining), the weak global macroeconomic outlook and fragile investor sentiment resulted in a volatile and generally weak period for mining stocks. However, the Trust s holding in Mexican silver producer Industrias Penoles SAB de CV posted strong gains as the company continued to deliver on its operational and financial objectives. Positions in mining majors BHP Billiton Plc and Rio Tinto Plc were also notable contributors as these large-cap companies proved more resilient during the risk-off periods in the market as compared to their mid-tier counterparts.

In the energy segment, the Trust s oil-related holdings in the oil & gas exploration & production group, including Whiting Petroleum Corp. and EOG Resources, Inc., delivered strong returns; however, their impact on Trust performance was muted by exposure to natural gas producers, which suffered from falling prices of natural gas during the period. In addition, the Trust s option writing strategy had a positive impact on performance.

Detracting from performance in the energy segment of the portfolio was the Trust s exposure to coal in the oil, gas & consumable fuels industry. Demand for coal weakened significantly during the period due to the relatively mild winter and utility companies switching to lower-cost natural gas. Even after declining more than 40% in 2011, US coal producers shed an additional 15% during the first quarter of 2012.

Within metals & mining, the Trust s exposure to precious metals detracted from returns. Gold equities generally underperformed the broader metals & mining industry and some of the Trust s holdings of gold producers detracted from performance as a result.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust increased exposure in its metals & mining segment to gold equities upon their underperformance relative to bullion. In particular, the Trust initiated positions in Eldorado Gold Corp. and Kinross. In the basic materials segment of the portfolio, the Trust added to holdings in fertilizers, industrial gasses and steel companies while trimming positions in chemicals and paper & forest products. In the energy segment, the Trust added to integrated oil & gas names, refiners and storage & transportation, while trimming exposure to the oil & gas exploration & production and equipment & services groups.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

At the end of the period, the Trust held approximately 43% of total managed assets in metals & mining stocks, comprised of both base metals (28%) and precious metals (15%). The Trust's allocation to the energy sector (33%) was heavily weighted in the oil & gas exploration & production group, with smaller weightings in the integrated oil & gas, oil & gas equipment & services and coal & consumable fuels groups. The basic materials segment of the portfolio (23%) was allocated heavily to chemicals with smaller exposures to the paper & forest products and machinery industries.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned (0.02)% based on market price and (0.96)% based on NAV. For the same period, the closed-end Lipper Sector Equity Funds category posted an average return of 13.14% based on market price and 7.46% based on NAV. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Fund s discount to NAV, which narrowed during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion relates to performance based on NAV.

What factors influenced performance?

The Trust s exposure in the metals & mining industry to gold and other precious metals equities had the largest negative impact on returns. Names like Seabridge Gold, Inc., Newmont Mining Corp. and Goldcorp, Inc. all hurt performance as commodity-related equities failed to recover from their late 2011 lows at the same pace as did physical commodity prices. In the oil, gas & consumable fuels industry, exposure to coal names detracted from performance. As natural gas prices fell, it became more economical for utility companies to generate electricity using natural gas rather than coal. This trend resulted in excess thermal coal inventories and pushed spot coal prices to their lowest level in several years. Even after declining more than 40% in 2011, US coal producers shed an additional 15% during the first quarter of 2012. Contributing to performance within oil, gas & consumable fuels, were several of the Trust s holdings in the oil & gas storage & transportation group. Notable individual performers included Plains All American Pipeline LP, ONEOK Partners LP, Enterprise Products Partners LP and MarkWest Energy Partners LP. In addition, the Trust s option-writing strategy had a positive impact on returns.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust increased exposure in metals & mining to gold and silver equities. In oil, gas & consumable fuels, the Trust added to holdings of integrated oil & gas names, while trimming its holdings in the oil & gas exploration & production group. The Trust also trimmed exposure to chemicals and oil & gas storage & transportation. The Trust s cash allocation was elevated during the period as a means of conservative positioning amid heightened market volatility. Holding cash did not have a material impact on performance.

Describe portfolio positioning at period end.

At the end of the period, the Trust held approximately 43% of its total managed assets in energy stocks, 29% in metals & mining, which was comprised mostly of precious metals-related stocks, and 21% in fertilizers and other diversified chemicals, with the remaining invested in agricultural food products and machinery.

Portfolio Management Commentary

How did the Trust perform?

For the six months ended April 30, 2012, the Trust returned 8.99% based on market price and 7.27% based on NAV. For the same period, the MSCI World Value Index returned 6.07%. All returns reflect reinvestment of dividends. The Trust s discount to NAV, which narrowed during the period, accounts for the difference between performance based on price and performance based on NAV. The following discussion of relative performance based on NAV pertains to the MSCI World Value Index.

What factors influenced performance?

Contributing positively to performance during the period was a combination of stock selection and an underweight in the energy sector as well as stock selection in telecommunications services and consumer staples. Sector overweights to consumer staples and industrials and stock selection within materials and utilities also added to returns. The Trust s option writing strategy had a positive impact on performance during the period, as did its increased allocation to cash as a means of positioning the portfolio more conservatively amid heightened market uncertainty.

The Trust s sector underweight and stock selection within financials detracted from performance relative to the MSCI World Value Index, as did stock selection in the industrials sector. Also having a negative impact was an underweight and selection in the health care sector, stock selection in consumer discretionary and an overweight in utilities.

Describe recent portfolio activity.

During the six-month period, the Trust made relatively few material changes to portfolio holdings or allocations. However, given positive structural changes within the financials sector and a gradually improving regulatory front, the Trust added to some existing positions within the sector. Additionally, the Trust sought to reduce exposure to companies with higher portions of their revenues coming from the euro zone.

Describe Trust positioning at period end.

As of period end, the Trust was positioned to benefit from a recovering global economy, with a specific focus on sectors tied closely to accelerating consumption and demand around the world. While US multinational companies have had the backing of a strong domestic equity market and the benefit of gradually improving US consumer sentiment, the emerging markets remain critically important for future revenue growth. Trust management believes these markets will be a primary driver of equity returns, either directly or indirectly, in the years to come. This view is reflected in the Trust s heavier weightings within industrials and energy. Companies that have made a clear effort to expand operations in emerging-market regions in order to grow their brand recognition and overall footprint are most likely to be the early beneficiaries of growth in these markets. Additionally, Trust management views financials as an important sector within the scope of a global recovery. In the aggregate, while the Trust s portfolio of holdings is purposefully structured to withstand near-term market corrections, it is also poised to compete on the upside when company fundamentals become a more visible driver of equity returns in the market.

BlackRock Utility and Infrastructure Trust

Trust Overview

BlackRock Utility and Infrastructure Trust's (BUI) (the Trust) investment objective is to provide total return through a combination of current income, current gains and long-term capital appreciation. The Trust seeks to achieve its investment objective by investing primarily in equity securities issued by companies that are engaged in the Utilities and Infrastructure business segments. The Trust considers the Utilities business segment to include products, technologies and services connected to the management, ownership, operation, construction, development or financing of facilities used to generate, transmit or distribute electricity, water, natural resources or telecommunications and the Infrastructure business segment to include companies that own or operate infrastructure assets or that are involved in the development, construction, distribution or financing of infrastructure assets. Under normal circumstances, the Trust invests a substantial amount of its total assets in foreign issuers, issuers that primarily trade in a market located outside the United States or issuers that do a substantial amount of business outside the United States. The Trust may invest directly in such securities or synthetically through the use of derivatives. The Trust utilizes an option writing (selling) strategy to enhance dividend yield.

No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved.

The Benefits and Risks of Option Over-Writing

In general, the goal of each of the Trusts is to provide total return through a combination of current income and realized and unrealized gains (capital appreciation). The Trusts seek to pursue this goal primarily by investing in a portfolio of equity securities and utilizing an option over-write strategy in an effort to enhance distribution yield and total return performance. However, these objectives cannot be achieved in all market conditions.

The Trusts primarily write single stock covered call options, and may also from time to time write single stock put options. When writing (selling) a covered call option, the Trust holds an underlying equity security and enters into an option transaction which allows the counterparty to purchase the equity security at an agreed-upon price (strike price) within an agreed-upon time period. The Trusts receive cash premiums from the counterparties upon writing (selling) the option, which along with net investment income and net realized gains, if any, are generally available to support current or future distributions paid by the Trusts. During the option term, the counterparty will elect to exercise the option if the market value of the equity security rises above the strike price, and the Trust will be obligated to sell the equity security to the counterparty at the strike price, realizing a gain or loss. Premiums received will increase gains or reduce losses realized on the sale of the equity security. If the option remains unexercised upon its expiration, the Trusts will realize gains equal to the premiums received.

Each Trust employs a plan to support a level distribution of income, capital gains and/or return of capital. Such distributions, under certain circumstances, may exceed a Trust's total return performance. To the extent that Trust distributions exceed net investment income and net realized gains, distributions to shareholders may be classified as a non-taxable return of capital and reduce the net asset value of shares held by investors.

Writing covered call options entails certain risks, which include, but are not limited to, the following: an increase in the value of the underlying equity security above the strike price can result in the exercise of a written option (sale by the Trust to the counterparty) when the Trust might not otherwise have sold the security; exercise of the option by the counterparty will result in a sale below the current market value and will result in a gain or loss being realized by the Trust; writing covered call options limits the potential appreciation that could be realized on the underlying equity security to the extent of the strike price of the option. As such, an option over-write strategy may outperform the general equity market in flat or falling markets but underperform in rising markets.

To illustrate these concepts, assume the following: (1) a common stock purchased at and currently trading at $37.15 per share; (2) a three-month call option is written by a Trust with a strike price of $40 (i.e., 7.7% higher than the current market price); and (3) the Trust receives $2.45, or 6.6% of the common stock's value, as a premium. If the stock price remains unchanged, the option will expire and there would be a 6.6% return for the three-month period. If the stock were to decline in price by 6.6% (i.e., decline to $34.70 per share), the option strategy would break-even from an economic perspective resulting in neither a gain nor a loss. If the stock were to climb to a price of $40 or above, the option would be exercised and the stock would return 7.7% coupled with the option premium received of 6.6% for a total return of 14.3%. Under this scenario, the Trust loses the benefit of any appreciation of the stock above $40, and thus is limited to a 14.3% total return. The premium from writing the call option serves to offset some of the unrealized loss on the stock in the event that the price of the stock declines, but if the stock were to decline more than 6.6% under this scenario, the Trust's downside protection is eliminated and the stock could eventually become worthless.

Each Trust intends to write covered call options to varying degrees depending upon market conditions. Please refer to each Trust's Schedule of Investments and the Notes to Financial Statements for details of written options.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The Trusts may invest in various derivative financial instruments, including foreign currency exchange contracts and options, as specified in Note 2 of the Notes to Financial Statements, which may constitute forms of economic leverage. Such derivative financial instruments are used to obtain exposure to a market without owning or taking physical custody of securities or to hedge market, equity, foreign currency exchange rate and/or other risks. Derivative financial instruments involve risks, including the imperfect correlation between the value of a derivative financial instrument and the underlying asset, possible default of the counterparty to the transaction or illiquidity of the derivative financial instrument. The Trusts' ability to use a derivative financial instrument successfully depends on the investment advisor's ability to predict pertinent market movements accurately, which cannot be assured. The use of derivative financial instruments may result in losses greater than if they had not been used, may require a Trust to sell or purchase portfolio investments at inopportune times or for distressed values, may limit the amount of appreciation a Trust can realize on an investment, may result in lower dividends paid to shareholders or may cause a Trust to hold an investment that it might otherwise sell. The Trusts' investments in these instruments are discussed in detail in the Notes to Financial Statements.

For Trust compliance purposes, the Trust's industry classifications refer to any one or more of the industry sub-classifications used by one or more widely recognized market indexes or ratings group indexes, and/or as defined by Trust management. These definitions may not apply for purposes of this report, which may combine industry sub-classifications for reporting ease.

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy. The categorization of a value determined for investments and derivative financial instruments is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and derivative financial instrument and is not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. For information about the Trust's policy regarding valuation of investments and derivative financial instruments and other significant accounting policies, please refer to Note 1 of the Notes to Financial Statements

See Notes to Financial Statements.

These definitions may not apply for purposes of this report, which may combine industry sub-classifications for reporting ease.

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

See Notes to Financial Statements.

For Trust compliance purposes, the Trust's industry classifications refer to any one or more of the industry sub-classifications used by one or more widely recognized market indexes or ratings group indexes, and/or as defined by Trust management. These definitions may not apply for purposes of this report, which may combine industry sub-classifications for reporting ease.

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy. The categorization of a value determined for investments and derivative financial instruments is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and derivative financial instrument and is not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. For information about the Trust's policy regarding valuation of investments and derivative financial instruments and other significant accounting policies, please refer to Note 1 of the Notes to Financial Statements. The following tables

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy. The categorization of a value determined for investments and derivative financial instruments is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and derivative financial instrument and is not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. For information about the Trust's policy regarding valuation of investments and derivative financial instruments and other significant accounting policies, please refer to Note 1 of the Notes to Financial Statements.

See Notes to Financial Statements.

These definitions may not apply for purposes of this report, which may combine industry sub-classifications for reporting ease.

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

See Notes to Financial Statements.

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy. The categorization of a value determined for investments and derivative financial instruments is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and derivative financial instrument and is not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. For information about the Trust's policy regarding valuation of investments and derivative financial instruments and other significant accounting policies, please refer to Note 1 of the Notes to Financial Statements. The following tables summarize the inputs used as of April 30, 2012 in determining the fair valuation of the Trust's investments and derivative financial instruments:

BlackRock International Growth and Income Trust (BGY)

Fair Value Measurements Various inputs are used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments. These inputs are categorized into a disclosure hierarchy consisting of three broad levels for financial statement purposes as follows:

Level 1 - unadjusted price quotations in active markets/exchanges for identical assets and liabilities

Level 2 - other observable inputs (including, but not limited to: quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in markets that are active, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the assets or liabilities (such as interest rates, yield curves, volatilities, prepayment speeds, loss severities, credit risks and default rates) or other market-corroborated inputs)

Level 3 - unobservable inputs based on the best information available in the circumstances, to the extent observable inputs are not available (including the Trust's own assumptions used in determining the fair value of investments and derivative financial instruments)

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the disclosure hierarchy. The categorization of a value determined for investments and derivative financial instruments is based on the pricing transparency of the investment and derivative financial instrument and is not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. For information about the Trust's policy regarding valuation of investments and derivative financial instruments and other significant accounting policies, please refer to Note 1 of the Notes to Financial Statements.

The following tables summarize the inputs used as of April 30, 2012 in determining the fair valuation of the Trust's investments and derivative financial instruments:
