GlobalWafers Agreement to Acquire SunEdison Semiconductor

Investor Q&A/Messaging

Investor Key Messages:

GlobalWafers has entered into a definitive agreement to acquire SunEdison Semiconductor for $12.00 per share in cash.

This values the company at $683 million, net of our outstanding indebtedness at June 30.

The purchase price represents a 78.6% premium to the average closing share price during the 30 trading days leading to August 17; and 44.9% premium to the closing share price on August 17, 2016, the last trading day prior to the announcement of the transaction.

We believe this transaction delivers significant value to our shareholders.

GlobalWafers will be financing the acquisition through existing cash on hand and committed acquisition financing from a consortium of Taiwan banks.

The transaction is subject to the approval of SunEdison Semiconductor shareholders.

There is a 3.5% of equity value (approximately $19M) break-up fee payable to GlobalWafers if we accept a superior offer under the agreement's customary fiduciary out provision.

There is a $40 million reverse break-up fee payable to us if transaction is terminated as a result of failure to obtain CFIUS, antitrust, or Taiwan approvals or GlobalWafers' inability to obtain its financing.

- i This termination fee was deposited by GlobalWafers in escrow at the time of signing the Implementation Agreement.

The boards of directors of both companies have approved the transaction, and the SunEdison Semiconductor board will be recommending to its shareholders that they approve the transaction.

We hope to get the transaction closed by year end.

Questions & Answers:

What is the structure of the merger? What is a scheme of arrangement?

A Scheme of Arrangement is the mechanism for a transaction to be approved under Singapore law; it is similar to a merger agreement in many respects.

After the transaction is approved by shareholders, we will submit the scheme of arrangement to Singapore Court for approval.

What will the new management team look like? Will any key executives from SSL be leaving?

These details have not yet been worked through; the current management team remains focused on the Company's business and the smooth execution of the transaction to closing.

Is there a breakup fee?

Yes, there is a 3.5% breakup fee (approximately $19 million) we will be required to pay to GlobalWafers if we accept a superior offer under the customary fiduciary out provisions of the agreement.

There is also a $40 million reverse breakup fee GlobalWafers will pay us if the transaction is terminated because of failure to get the necessary CFIUS, antitrust or Taiwan approvals or in the event of the failure of Globe to get its financing.

How confident are you that the deal will close?

We believe that the deal will close. Both parties are very motivated to proceed through the post-signing approvals to achieve a smooth process and closing.

Did you entertain other offers? Could there be other suitors? Do you think they may emerge?

Our board of directors conducted a thorough and lengthy strategic review process that culminated with it unanimously determining that this transaction with GlobalWafers was in the best interests of the Company.

While we understand your interest, it would be inappropriate for us to get into these details today. We will be better able to address these questions once we have filed our proxy statement in connection with our special shareholder meeting to approve the transaction.

The agreement contains customary no-shop and fiduciary out provisions.

What are the conditions to closing?

Shareholder approval: Singapore law requires 75% of the shares appearing in person or by proxy at the meeting voting in favor of the transaction and a majority in number of shareholders represented at that meeting voting in favor.

Singapore court approval of the Scheme

Antitrust approvals (we are expecting filings in U.S., Taiwan, Germany)

CFIUS

Taiwan approval

Other typical closing conditions
