DO NOT ALLOW SENTENTIA TO DISRUPT SCHMITT S MOMENTUM!

September 24, 2018

Dear Fellow Shareholders,

Sententia Capital Management, LLC, an investment vehicle based in New York City, and Sententia Group, LP, along with other participants (together, Sententia) recently commenced a hostile proxy contest to remove two members of your Board of Directors, including your President and CEO. If successful, Sententia s nominees will hold two of five 40% of the seats on the Schmitt Board.

This unnecessary and hostile attack by Sententia is a blatant attempt to seize control of your Company without having to pay you a premium for your investment. As explained in the September 2018 letter from President David Case to his fellow shareholders, Schmitt its directors, management, and employees have been working very hard to execute a business plan that we strongly feel will enhance shareholder value and further the Company s strategic goals. Our plan is working, and the results can be seen and felt in the most recent quarterly earnings, which are the best in the last 10 years. The inconvenient truth for Sententia and the good news for Schmitt shareholders is that the Company has recorded three consecutive quarters of profitable operations and a profitable fiscal year 2018. Schmitt s Board in January 2018 formed a Strategic Advisory Committee which, together with the rest of the Board, continues to pursue any and all reasonable opportunities to enhance shareholder value.

What is Sententia s plan for growing our Company?

That s easy: they don t have one.

Sententia has offered no specifics as to how its nominees would create shareholder value, other than a few suggestions our Board had already fully considered and, in some cases, is acting upon. This is worrisome and not surprising since neither of their nominees, Michael Zapata nor Andrew Hines, has any related industry knowledge, and they appear to lack the practical experience to guide a company.

Just look at the performance of Intermap Technologies Corporation, a company operating in the unrelated industry of geospatial mapping and whose stock trades on the Toronto Stock Exchange (IMP) and the OTC

Bulletin Board (ITMSF). Zapata and Hines joined the board of Intermap together in July 2016 and make up half of its board. The Intermap experience is the only example we have on which to judge Zapata and Hines's abilities. Since the Sententia nominees joined the Intermap board, its stock has dropped from $3.90 to $0.44 CAD in just two years a staggering 89%! Zapata and Hines are still today presiding over the disastrous destruction of shareholder value of this public company. Don't let it happen to Schmitt.

Intermap's Stock Price Since Appointment of Sententia's Directors

*Source: FactSet. Data as of 9/18/2018.

We have always welcomed constructive shareholder input, as many of you know. This includes Sententia. We tried several times to work constructively with them to resolve our differences. However, it's clear that Sententia's motives are self-serving and not in the interests of all holders. Responding to Sententia's campaign to gain control has been disruptive, costly, and time-consuming for the Company and has seriously diverted the attention of our directors and management from our business. Zapata and Hines's efforts to turn around Intermap have been an abject failure. They are desperate for a win. We cannot afford to allow Sententia to wrestle control of our Company away from our dedicated directors and risk the destruction of our shareholder value which we have been working hard to increase.

Our plan to increase shareholder value is working.

Schmitt is in the process of implementing a successful multi-phase strategy to improve the operating results of your Company while building a strong business strategy for the future. The Company's recent success should not be derailed by replacing two proven and committed directors with Sententia's nominees who have no demonstrated industry experience or knowledge and who have together presided over the disastrous decline in Intermap's market value.

Vote the WHITE proxy card and send a strong message to Sententia that Schmitt's shareholders do not want our momentum disrupted.

This year's Annual Meeting of Shareholders is October 12, 2018, and your vote is especially important.

We urge you to protect the value of your investment in Schmitt Industries by voting TODAY FOR our Director nominees, David Case and Maynard Brown, on the enclosed WHITE proxy card. Please vote as soon as possible.

VOTE THE ENCLOSED WHITE CARD TODAY!

If you have already voted the blue card, you can change your vote by voting your enclosed WHITE proxy card. Your WHITE proxy card will supersede any previously executed blue card and cause your votes to be cast for the Board's nominees. If you have any questions or would like us to contact you, please do not hesitate to reach out to our proxy solicitor, Alliance Advisors, at (833) 786-6483.

Again, thank you for your continued support.

David W. Case

President and Chief Executive Officer

Schmitt Industries, Inc.
