3 Description of significant accounting policies

a. Statement of income

Income and expenses are recognized on the accrual basis. Revenue from the Company's sales is recognized upon shipment of the products and when the following conditions are met:

i) the ownership is transferred and therefore risk of loss has passed to the client; ii) collection is probable; iii) there is evidence of an arrangement; and iv) the sales price is fixed or determinable. In addition, the Company offers sales incentives and discounts through various programs to customers, which are accounted for as a reduction of revenue in Sales deductions. Sales incentives include volume-based incentive programs and payments to customers for performing marketing activities on our behalf.

Foreign currency

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies were translated into reais at the foreign exchange rate ruling at the balance sheet date and the foreign exchange differences arising on translation are recognized in the statement of income for the year.

Accounting estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting practices adopted in Brazil requires that management uses its judgment in determining and recording accounting estimates. Significant assets and liabilities subject to these estimates and assumptions include the residual value of property, plant and equipment, deferred charges, allowance for doubtful accounts, inventories, deferred tax assets and liabilities, provision for contingencies, valuation of derivative instruments, and assets and liabilities related to employees' benefits. The settlement of transactions involving these estimates may result in different amounts due to the lack of precision inherent to the process of their determination. The Company reviews the estimates and assumptions periodically.

Long and short-term investments

Investment funds in local and foreign currency are recorded at market value according to the respective shares price at the date of the financial statements.

Other long and short-term investments in local and foreign currency are recorded at cost plus income accrued up to the balance sheet date, not exceeding market value.

Additionally, the portion receivable from currency swap contracts is recorded at the difference between the nominal amounts of these contracts and the amounts restated by the variation of the foreign currency, plus interest earned up to the balance sheet date.

Sadia S.A.

Publicly-held Company

Notes to the financial statements

Trade accounts receivable

Trade accounts receivable are recorded at the amount invoiced and interest is not levied. The allowance for doubtful accounts is the best estimate the Company has and is considered sufficient by management to cover any losses arising on collection of accounts receivable. Accounts receivable are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts after all means of collection have been exhausted and the possibility of recovery of the amounts receivable is considered remote.

Inventories

Finished goods, livestock (excluding breeders), work-in-progress, raw materials and supplies and others are valued at the lower of cost of acquisition or production (average method), or replacement or realization. The cost of finished goods and work-in-progress includes raw materials acquired, labor, production expenses, transport and storage relating to the purchase and production of inventories. Normal production losses in hog stock and poultry are inventoried and abnormal losses are expensed immediately as cost of goods sold.

g.

Investments

Investments in subsidiaries in Brazil and abroad are valued using the equity method based on the respective net equity calculated on the same date, as disclosed in Note 10.

The financial statements of foreign subsidiaries are translated into Brazilian Reais, based on the following criteria:

- Balance sheet accounts at the exchange rate at the end of the year.
- Statement of income accounts at the exchange rate at the end of each month.

Other investments are valued at cost less a provision for devaluation considered as permanent.

h. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are recorded at cost of acquisition, formation or construction, including the interest incurred on financing, during the period of construction, modernization and expansion of the industrial units. Expenditures that materially extend the useful lives of existing facilities and equipment are capitalized. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method at rates that take into account the estimated useful life of the assets, adjusted in keeping with the work shifts, as disclosed in Note 11. Depletion of forestry resources is calculated based on the extraction of timber and the average costs of the forests.

Breeding stock is recorded at the cost of formation which includes the appropriation of costs of the breeding hens, animal feed, medication and labor. These costs are accumulated for approximately six months until the breeding stock initiates the breeding cycle. From then on, the costs of the breeding stock begin to be amortized by the estimated number of off springs. The productive cycle ranges from fifteen to thirty months.

i. Impairment of long lived assets

The Company reviews its non current assets to verify possible impairment losses, whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset or group of assets may not be recoverable based on future cash flows. If these events occur, the reviews will be conducted at the lowest level of groups of assets for which the Company manages to attribute future cash flows. If the carrying amount of an asset is higher than the future cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized by the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds the fair value of the asset. Until now, these reviews have not indicated the need to recognize impairment losses.

j. Deferred charges

Deferred charges are represented substantially by pre-operating costs , eorganization charges and development of new products and markets, which are amortized on a straight-line basis over 5 years as from the beginning of operation.

Sadia S.A.

Publicly-held Company

Notes to the financial statements

(In thousands of Reais)

k. Current and noncurrent liabilities

Current and noncurrent liabilities are stated at known or estimated amounts, plus related charges and monetary and exchange variations up to the balance sheet date.

l. Provisions

A provision is recognized in the balance sheet when the Company has a legal or constructive obligation as a result of a past event, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation.

m. Income and social contribution taxes

The income and social contribution taxes, both current and deferred, are calculated monthly based on taxable income at the rates of 15% plus a surcharge of 10% for income tax and 9% for social contribution and consider the offsetting of tax losses and negative basis of social contribution, limited to 30% of taxable income.

The deferred tax assets were recorded in accordance with CVM Instruction 371/02 and are represented significantly by temporary differences arising from non-deductible provisions, including tax loss carryforward and negative basis of social contribution.

n. Employees benefits

Employees benefits are recorded based on actuarial studies prepared annually at the end of the year in compliance with CVM Deliberation 371/00.

o. Environmental

Our production facilities and our forestry activities are subject to government environmental regulations. We believe that no provision for losses related to environmental questions is currently necessary, based on existing Brazilian laws and regulations.

p. Tax incentives

The Company has tax incentives granted by the governments of the states of Minas Gerais and Mato Grosso where some of its industrial plants are located, which will expire between 2014 and 2020. Until March 31, 2007, these incentives were recognized in the income for the year, since they were not directly related to the Company's investment projects. The Company has been investing in a project to expand and modernize its production units, which consists of an increase in installed capacity, expansion of its industrial units, an increase in production and generation of jobs. As from April 2007, these states have tied the incentives to investments, which led the Company to record them in Capital Reserves in shareholders' equity. The amount recorded for these incentives at December 31, 2007 was R$18,930.

q. Reclassifications

During 2007, management decided to reclassify the software expenses from deferred charges to fixed assets. For comparison purposes, the amounts of R$67,679 in the parent company and R$68,286 in the consolidated financial statements, related to the 2006 amounts, were also reclassified.

4 Consolidated financial information

The transactions and balances between the Parent company and its subsidiaries included in the consolidation process have been eliminated and the non-realized profit arising from the sales to the subsidiaries were excluded and incorporated to the inventory balances for each year. Minority interests were excluded from shareholders' equity and net income and are presented separately in the consolidated balance sheets and income statements.

24 Risk management and financial instruments

The Company's operations that are exposed to market risks, mainly with respect to foreign currency variations, credit risks and variations in the prices of agricultural commodities - corn, soy bean and derivatives. These risks are managed by the Risk Management area, through identification of exposures and correlations between the different risk factors, using the specific calculation method, VAR - Value at Risk and simulations of scenarios, and are permanently monitored by the Financial Committee and by the Commodities and Risk Management Committee, consisting of members of the Board of Directors, who are responsible for defining management's strategy for administering these risks, determining the limits for positions, exposure and authority for decision making. At December 31, 2007, the VAR-Value at Risk for the operational assets and liabilities and financial instruments exposed to exchange rate variations for one year with 95% confidence, amounted to R$98,726, representing 3.39% of shareholders' equity (Information not audited)

a. Exchange rate risk

The exchange rate risk for loans, financing and any other payables denominated in foreign currency is hedged by short-term investments denominated in foreign currency, with same interest rates, and by derivative financial instruments, such as rate swaps (dollar to CDI), interest rate swap contracts (Libor to pre-fixed or vice-versa) and future market agreements, in addition to foreign receivables from exports, which also reduce exchange variations by serving as a natural hedge .

The Company, within its hedge strategy, uses currency futures contracts (US dollars, Euros and Pounds), as a form of mitigating exchange rate risk over operating and financial assets and liabilities. The nominal amounts of these contracts are not recorded in the financial statements.

The realized income of future contracts, for the year ended December 31, 2007, generated a gain of R$129,452 (R$150,645 for 2006), represented by a loss in the amount of R$11,127 accounted for as financial income in Monetary Variations Asset , and a gain in the amount of R$ 140,579 as operating income in Gross operating revenue .

b.Credit risk

The Company is potentially exposed to credit risk in relation to its trade accounts receivable, long and short-term investments and derivative instruments. The Company limits the risk associated with these financial instruments by subjecting them to the control of highly rated financial institutions that operate within the limits pre-established by the risk, credit and financing committees.

Sadia S.A.

Publicly-held Company

Notes to the financial statements

(In thousands of Reais)

The concentration of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable is minimized due to the spread of its client base, since the Company does not have any customer or group representing 10% or more of its consolidated revenues, as well as granting credits for customers with solid financial and operational ratios. Generally, the Company does not require a guarantee for sales, however it has contracted an insurance credit policy to its domestic receivables.

c. Grain purchase price risks

The Company's operations are exposed to the volatility in prices of grain (corn and soybean) used in the preparation of animal feed for its breeding stock, where the price variation results from factors beyond the control of management, such as climate, the size of the harvest, transport and storage costs and government agricultural policies, among others. The Company does not enter into futures or options contracts to hedge against fluctuations in the prices of the commodities, however it maintains a risk management strategy, based on physical control, which includes purchase of grain at fixed and fixable prices. The Company has a Commodities Committee and Risk Management, composed by the chief executive officer and financial and operational executives, whose aim is to discuss and decide on the company's strategies and positioning with respect to the various risk factors that impact the operating results.

d. Estimated market values

The Company used the following methods and assumptions to estimate the disclosure of the fair value of its financial instruments as of December 31, 2007 and 2006:

Cash and cash equivalents - The book values of cash and banks recorded in the balance sheet are similar to the respective fair values.

Short-term financial investments - The fair value of short-term financial investments is estimated based on the market quotations of comparable contracts.

Accounts receivable and payable - The book values of accounts receivable and payable recorded in the balance sheet are similar to their respective fair values.

Sadia S.A.

Publicly-held Company

Notes to the financial statements

(In thousands of Reais)

Investments: The market values of the investments were obtained from their market quotations.

Short and long-term loans and financing - The market values of loans and financing were calculated based on their present value calculated through the future cash flows and using interest rates applicable to instruments of similar nature, terms and risks, or based on the market quotation of these securities. The market values of BNDES financing are similar to the book values, since there are no similar instruments with comparable maturities and interest rates.

Exchange and interest rate swap contracts - The fair values of exchange and interest rate swap contracts were estimated based on market quotations for comparable contracts. As of December 31, 2007 the contracted amounts in force totaled R$2,251,459 (R$1,554,843 in December 31, 2006) and the valuation of these contracts to fair value would result in a gain of R$59,075 (loss of R$ 67,041 in December 31, 2006), composed by a loss in the amount of R$6,765 accounted for as financial income, and a gain in the amount of R$65,840 as operating income. The effective cash settlements of the contracts occur on the respective maturities of each agreement. The Company does not intend to settle these contracts before their maturity.

The market values were estimated on the balance sheet date, based on relevant market information. Changes in the assumptions may significantly affect these estimates.

The book values and the estimated fair values of the Company's financial instruments as of December 31, 2007 and 2006 are presented in the table below. The fair value of a financial instrument is the amount for which the instrument could be traded between interested parties under current market conditions.

25 Insurance

The Company and its subsidiaries adopt insurance engagement policy at levels that Management considers adequate to cover risks resulting from the claims of its assets. Due to the characteristics of multilocated operations, Management engages its policies with a limit of maximum loss possible in the same event, with amounts calculated based on risk inspections and potential losses. The policies engaged guarantee coverage against fire, general civil liability, windstorms, disorders and electric damage, as well as insurance for merchandise transport, personal and vehicle damage. The amount currently insured guarantees the comprehensive coverage of the Company's fixed assets.

The assumptions adopted, given their nature, are not part of the scope of an audit of financial statements and, accordingly, they were not examined by our independent auditors.

28 Subsequent events

a. Alteration to Corporate Law

On December 28, 2007, Law 11.638/07 was issued, which introduced important changes to Law 6.404/76 with respect to the preparation and disclosure of financial statements for public companies. The main changes introduced by the new law requires that international accounting standards be adopted, with the standards to be published by the Securities Commission - CVM, and prepared in accordance with the standards issued by the International Accounting Standard Board - IASB.

Within the changes introduced, management highlights the following matters, which could have an impact on the Company's financial statements as from the year ending December 31, 2008:

Change in the criteria for classifying and recording the financial instruments, including derivatives.

Business combinations will be recorded at fair value.

Tax incentives will no longer be classified as capital reserve, but will be included in the income statement. The General meeting can allocate a part of gain, corresponding to these incentives, to form the Tax Incentives Reserve, which can be excluded from the calculation base for the dividends.

Creation of the heading Comprehensive Income in shareholders' equity, to record certain adjustments that are not related to the result for the period.

Management is evaluating the effects of the aforementioned changes in the Company's financial statements for the year ending 2008, and will take into consideration the guidelines and definitions to be issued by these regulatory bodies. At the moment, management believes it is not possible to measure the effects of these changes, should they have been applied for the year ended December 31, 2007 financial statements.
