Moscow, March 1, 2012 - The Gazprom headquarters hosted today a working meeting between Alexey Miller, Chairman of the Company's Management Committee and Paolo Scaroni, Chief Executive Officer of Eni.

Eni successfully drills an appraisal well in the Skrugard discovery, in the Norwegian Barents Sea

San Donato Milanese, March 6, 2012 - Eni has successfully drilled the appraisal well 7220/5-1 in the Skrugard discovery, which is located in the Barents Sea, 200 kilometers off the Norwegian coast.

The well was drilled at a water depth of 388 meters, it has reached a total depth of 1,740 meters and is located approximately 3 kilometers from the Skrugard-1 discovery. The well encountered a gas column of about 25 meters and an oil column of 48 meters in the Middle - Lower Jurassic reservoir, Stø & Nordmela Formations. The aim of the appraisal well was to prove the hydrocarbon extension in the middle section of the Skrugard structure, which was successfully drilled by the NFW well 7220/7-1 in 2011. Intensive data collection and sampling have been carried out in the well-bore and the results show a reservoir of excellent quality.

Estimates confirm that Skrugard holds at least 250 million barrels of recoverable oil and approximately 10 billion standard cubic meters of associated and free gas. Together with the Havis field, discovered at the beginning of this year 7 kilometers south-west Skrugard in the PL532 license, recoverable oil reserves are now over 500 million barrels. These will enable the license partners to carry out an efficient development plan and to rapidly put resources into production.

A new exploration campaign in the PL532 license is scheduled to start by the end of this year and will lead to the drilling of new wells aimed at confirming additional hydrocarbon volumes to be linked to the production Hub.

Eni holds a 30% interest in the Skrugard and Havis fields. The other partners are Statoil Petroleum AS, which is the operator with a 50% interest, and Petoro (20%).

During the year Eni plans to carry out further exploration activities in the Barents Sea, where the company will drill the Bønna prospect in the PL 529 license area and the Salina prospect in the PL

Table of Contents

533 license area as the Operator. In autumn 2012, Eni will also start drilling 22 production wells for the Goliat project.

Eni is the only Company along with Statoil to be present in all three commercial oil discoveries in the Barents Sea. With Goliat, Skrugard and Havis in its portfolio, Eni now has a 30-year outlook for its activities in the Barents Sea developing a strong foothold in the early phase of a high potential oil province on the Norwegian continental shelf.

By applying proprietary technologies and cutting edge geoscience competencies, Eni has been successfully carrying out activities in the Barents Sea for 20 years, where, along with Statoil, it is a pioneer, in the oil exploration sector. Eni has been present in Norway since 1965, and currently produces approximately 135,000 barrels of oil equivalent per day.

- E&P: high growth in production; > 3% CAGR to 2015
- G&P: market consolidation in key segments with gradual recovery of margins
- R&M: revival of efficiency and optimization program. Targeting EBIT improvement of euro 550m by 2015
- Chemicals: refocusing on specific products with high added value; targeting EBIT improvement of > euro 400m by 2015
- Sound financial position and sustainable dividend

London, March 15, 2012 - Paolo Scaroni, CEO of Eni, today presents the company's 2012-2015 Strategic Plan to the financial community.

In the new plan, Eni confirms high production growth, supported by continued success in the exploration program, the strengthening of its leadership in Italian and European gas markets, an ambitious cost reduction program aimed at recovering profitability in R&M, and a restructuring program for the chemical division aimed at a return to profitability.

Exploration & Production

Eni confirms its strategy of production growth, raising its average annual target to over 3% in the 2012- 2015 period. This is based on a scenario of higher oil prices ($90/bbl in 2012 and 2013 and $85/bbl in 2014 and 2015).

Eni's growth strategy is founded on organic development, thanks to the significant contribution coming from five key areas – Russia (Yamal), the Barents Sea, Kazakhstan,

Venezuela and the sub-Saharan region - and the rapid recovery of Libyan production to pre-crisis levels.

Over the plan period, the main projects due to come onstream will add 700 kboe/d of production, 80% of which will come from giant projects characterized by a steady and long-lasting production plateau.

Beyond the plan period, production growth will be supported by the ramp-up of giants already onstream and new start-ups, such as full field Junin 5 and Perla in Venezuela, Skrugard-Havis in the Barents Sea and the recent discovery in Mozambique. Our portfolio of development projects enables us to forecast a CAGR of 3% between 2015 and 2021.

Gas & Power

Eni has finalized the contractual renegotiations with its main suppliers, including Sonatrach and Gazprom, improving its costs and contractual flexibility.

The outlook for supply in the European gas market is challenging in the short term with spot gas prices expected to be lower than those for oil-linked contracts. This scenario will continue to cause competitive pressure in the market.

This situation is expected to gradually improve in the medium to long term: the increase in demand, driven by economic recovery and the increase in consumption of gas for fuel, in conjunction with the decrease in supply, will contribute to a recovery in the European gas scenario.

Eni's diversified portfolio of supply contracts represents a strong competitive advantage that positions it well for the challenging short term scenario and will allow Eni to seize opportunities to enhance profits in the medium to long term.

For 2015, Eni is targeting an increase in sales to European business and retail customers of 18% and 28% respectively.

Refining & Marketing

The demand for Refining & Marketing products is expected to be stable or declining for the duration of the plan due to the persistent over-capacity in refining around the world, and in the Mediterranean basin in particular.

In Refining, Eni will increase the flexibility of its plants; optimizing the production cycles, reducing costs and exploiting its proprietary technology. The launch of the EST technology plant at the Sannazzaro refinery is expected by the end of 2012.

In Marketing, Eni will improve results thanks to new premium products, the re-branding of its distribution network, the complete automation of some petrol stations and the expansion of non-oil activities.

Eni is targeting an EBIT improvement of euro 550 million for 2015.

Chemicals

The scenario for basic chemicals in Europe is characterized by increasing pressure on prices. Eni's strategy will be focused on high value-added products, with a growth target for sales in this segment of 50%, including the investment in plant conversions. Among these is the Matrica project, a joint venture with Novamont, which will create in Porto Torres (in Sardinia) one of the biggest biochemical plants in the world.

Eni is committed to the expansion of its emerging markets activities through strategic partnerships and will continue to promote initiatives to improve the efficiency of its plants and processes.

The expected EBIT improvement for Chemicals is over euro 400 million by 2015.

Capex plan and efficiency program

Eni plans to make euro 59.6 billion of investments over the 2012-2015 period.

Table of Contents

Over 75% of investments are related to upstream activities, in particular the development of projects such as Zubair, Junin 5, Perla, Goliat and Kashagan, that will sustain production growth over the plan period and beyond.

With respect to efficiency, Eni is relaunching its targets for cost reduction. In the four-year plan, euro 1.6 billion of savings will be achieved. From 2004 to date, our total savings were euro 5 billion. This objective will be achieved through procurement optimization, a further streamlining of logistics and downstream operations, as well as increased labour efficiencies.

The targets of the strategic plan do not take into account the impact of the deconsolidation of Snam which will take place over the course of the plan as the timing and structure of the separation has not yet been decided upon.

EXTRAORDINARY MEETING

ITEM 1

AMENDMENTS TO THE BY-LAWS ARTICLES 17 AND 28 AND ADDITION OF THE NEW ARTICLE 34

Dear Shareholders,

Law No. 120 issued on July 12, 2011 containing "Amendments to the Legislative Decree No. 58 issued on February 24, 1998 (Consolidated Law on Finance) concerning the gender balance on the governing and auditing bodies of companies listed in regulated markets", introduced paragraph 1-ter of Article 147-ter, with regard to members of boards of directors, and paragraph 1-bis of Article 148, referring to members of boards of statutory auditors, into the T.U.F.

Table of Contents

Published on March 22, 2012

These new rules establish that listed companies must specify an allotment criterion in their by-laws that ensures gender balance in the corporate boards' composition. Specifically, the less-represented gender must obtain, in the first upcoming term of office, at least one-fifth of the positions of director and standing auditor, and at least one-third of such positions in the subsequent two terms, starting from the first renewal of the corporate bodies after August 12, 2012.

On February 8, 2012, Consob, by its resolution No. 18098, issued measures implementing the provisions concerning listed companies, amending the Regulation concerning the discipline of Issuers with the addition of Article 144-undecies.1.

This provision sets out the principles that corporate by-laws must follow to ensure that the genders are represented in a balanced way within corporate bodies, in the renewal and replacement of the individual members during the course of their terms specifying that this gender balance criterion does not apply to slates containing fewer than three candidates. It also establishes that if the application of this criterion results in a decimal number, such number will be rounded up to the next highest whole number. If the company fails to comply with the gender balance provisions, Consob will issue a warning; if the non-compliance continues, Consob will set a deadline of three months to the company to comply, levying a fine for non-compliance. Any further non-compliance will result in the members' loss of their position.

Eni's By-laws govern the appointment and composition of the Board of Directors and Board of Statutory Auditors in Articles 17 and 28, respectively.

Therefore, the Board of Directors proposes the following amendments to the Shareholders' Meeting:

- in line with the Consob provisions, slates that contain three or more candidates must include candidates of both genders, giving to the majority slates a higher burden, in order to ensure compliance with the law, when the required minimum number of the less-represented gender is odd (three directors or one auditor) (Articles 17.3 and 28.2);
- if the slate-voting mechanism does not ensure the minimum gender quota provided for by law, it will be used an impartial mechanism, based on the quotients of votes received by the candidates, to select those members of the over-represented gender to be replaced by persons of the less-represented gender, who are in the same slate, if any, or chosen by the Shareholders' Meeting (Articles 17.3, letter c-bis) and 28.2);
- for the purpose of consistency, an analogous mechanism shall be used to ensure the minimum number of independent directors as required by the By-laws, amending the current system (Article 17.3, letter c);
- furthermore, it is proposed to make clear that the gender-balance rules will be also applied when Directors are replaced during the course of their term (Article 17.5). As to members of the Board of Statutory Auditors (Article 28.2), if replacement with an alternate Statutory Auditor results in non-compliance with the gender-balance rules, the Shareholders' Meeting shall be called as soon as possible to approve the necessary resolutions (Article 28.2);

Published on March 22, 2012

- finally, it is proposed to add a new article, Article 34, to the By-laws, which limits the application of the gender-balance rules to the subsequent three elections of the corporate bodies, in line with the regulations. The Board believes that the proposed amendments to the By-laws do not trigger the right of withdrawal of Shareholders, pursuant to Article 2437 of the Italian Civil Code.

Shareholders,

therefore, you are asked

- to approve the amendments to Articles 17.3, 17.5 and 28.2 of the By-laws of Eni S.p.A. and the addition of the new Article 34, as set out in the proposed text, presented alongside the current text for comparison;

Eni: new important success in Mozambique, Area 4 potential enhanced further with Mamba North East 1 results

San Donato Milanese (Milan), March 26, 2012 - Eni announces a new giant natural gas discovery in Area 4, offshore Mozambique, at the Mamba North East 1 exploration prospect.

The results of this well, drilled in the Eastern part of Area 4, are of special importance since they increase the resource base of Area 4 by at least 10 trillion cubic feet (tcf) of which 8 tcf of these contained in reservoirs exclusively located in Area 4. This new discovery further improves the potential of the Mamba complex in Area 4 offshore Mozambique now estimated at least 40 tcf of gas in place.

Mamba North East 1 is located 50 kilometers off the Capo Delgado coast in a water depth of 1,848 meters and reaches a total depth of 4,560 meters. The well was drilled approximately 15 kilometers north east of the Mamba South 1 giant discovery and 12 kilometers south west of the Mamba North 1 giant discovery.

The discovery well encountered a total of 240 meters of gas pay in multiple high-quality Oligocene and Eocene sands and proved reservoir continuity and pressure communication with Mamba South 1 and Mamba North 1 wells.

During 2012 Eni plans to drill at least another four wells in nearby structures to fully assess the upside potential of the Mamba Complex.

Eni is the operator of Area 4 with a 70-percent participating interest. Co-owners in the area are Galp Energia (10 percent), KOGAS (10 percent) and ENH (10 percent, carried through the exploration phase).
