TELMEX Latin America

On February 24, the transaction for the acquisition of AT&T's assets in Latin America was closed. To date, we are working on the integration and standardization of these operations, as well as in the simplification of the administrative structure of each country.

Continuing with our expansion strategy in the region, we closed the following transaction in Argentina, that seeks synergies among the operations and also to provide TELMEX with an appropriate size in that strategic market. We acquired Techtel that recently closed a deal for the purchase of Metrored. Techtel is a company that provides data, Internet and voice transmission and Metrored operates metropolitan fiber optic rings and two data centers. These companies had revenues of 40.2 million dollars and net fixed assets of 74.7 million dollars in 2003. During the first quarter of 2004, these companies had revenues of 11.3 million dollars.

The combination of these assets with TELMEX Latin America is expected to create operating synergies and it will allow us to have a relative size in each country in order to be competitive. These acquisitions improved TELMEX's offer for commercial customers in the region.

Comments on local financial results

The local service income statement, prepared in accordance with accounting separation principles, shows that revenues for the first quarter increased 0.5% compared with the same period of the previous year. This result was due to the increase in interconnection of TELMEX's long distance network (LADA interconnection) and interconnection from other long distance operators. Total local revenues were 21,483 million pesos.

Operating costs and expenses increased 1.7% compared with the first quarter of 2003. The increase was due to a higher cost of sales and services of approximately 320 million pesos, partially offset by lower depreciation and amortization in the quarter. Total operating costs and expenses were 14,715 million pesos.

In the quarter, operating income decreased 1.9% totaling 6,768 million pesos and EBITDA totaled 10,080 million pesos, 2.2% lower than the same period of 2003.

Comments on Long Distance Financial Results

The long distance income statement prepared in accordance with accounting separation principles shows that long distance revenues decreased 7.4% in the first quarter. The decrease in revenues was due the reduction of domestic and international long distance rates in real terms, partially offset by a recovery in international long distance traffic. Total long distance revenues were 5,771 million pesos.

In the first quarter, the reductions of 72 million pesos in costs of sales and services and 23 million pesos in depreciation and amortization, offset the increase in the cost of interconnection and caused that total operating costs and expenses decreased 0.2% compared with the first quarter of 2003, totaling 4,395 million pesos.

Operating income decreased 24.6% and EBITDA decreased 18.6% in the first quarter totaling 1,376 and 2,066 million pesos, respectively.
