On July 8, 2002, eBay Inc. (the Company) issued a press release announcing that it had entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of July 7, 2002 (the Merger Agreement), among PayPal, Inc., a Delaware corporation (PayPal), the Company and Vaquita Acquisition Corp., a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (Merger Sub), pursuant to which Merger Sub will be merged with and into PayPal with PayPal continuing as the surviving corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company (the Merger). As a result of the Merger, each issued and outstanding share of PayPal common stock, par value $0.001 per share, will be converted into, and become exchangeable for 0.39 shares (the Exchange Ratio) of Company common stock, par value $0.001 per share. In addition, the Company will assume all options outstanding under the PayPal stock option plans, in a number adjusted to reflect the Exchange Ratio. The consummation of the Merger is subject to the approval of the stockholders of PayPal, expiration or termination of the waiting period under United States antitrust law and other customary closing conditions.

In connection with the Merger, the Company has entered into stockholders agreements with the PayPal stockholders named therein (the Stockholders Agreements), pursuant to which each such stockholder has, among other things, agreed to vote a specified number of shares of PayPal common stock owned by such stockholder in favor of the Merger and against competing acquisition proposals, in each case subject to and on the conditions set forth in the Stockholders Agreements.

The foregoing summary description of the Merger Agreement and the Stockholders Agreements does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Merger Agreement and the Stockholders Agreements, which are attached hereto as Exhibits and are incorporated by reference into this report. A copy of the Company's press release is also attached hereto as an Exhibit.
