Audit Committee

The Audit Committee oversees our corporate accounting and financial reporting process. For this purpose, the Audit Committee performs several functions. The Audit Committee evaluates the performance and assesses the qualifications of the independent registered public accounting firm; determines the engagement of the independent registered public accounting firm; determines whether to retain or terminate the existing independent registered public accounting firm or to appoint and engage a new independent registered public accounting firm; reviews and approves the retention of the independent registered public accounting firm to perform any proposed non-permissible audit services; and monitors the rotation of partners of the independent registered public accounting firm on our engagement team as required by law. The Audit Committee is also responsible for the review, approval and monitoring of transactions involving the company and related persons (directors and executive officers or their immediate family members, or stockholders owning five percent or greater of the company's outstanding stock) that meet the minimum threshold for disclosure in the proxy statement under the relevant Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations (generally, transactions involving amounts exceeding $120,000 in which a related person has a direct or indirect material interest). The Audit Committee meets and reviews with management and the independent registered public accounting firm: the quarterly financial statements and disclosures prior to the filing of our Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q; the financial statements and disclosures to be included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K; our policies with respect to risk assessment and risk management; our internal controls; and the results of the annual audit. The Audit Committee is composed of three directors and operates under a written charter adopted by our board of directors. Our board of directors reviews and assesses the adequacy of the Audit Committee's written charter on an annual basis in light of applicable Nasdaq and Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations. The current members of the Audit Committee are Messrs. Hauer, Sarni and Zizza. During 2008, the Audit Committee held five meetings. Our board of directors also annually reviews the definition of independence under the Nasdaq listing standards and Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations for Audit Committee members and has determined that all members of our Audit Committee are independent (as independence is currently defined in Rule 4350(d)(2)(A)(i) and (ii) of the Nasdaq listing standards and Section 10A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended). Each member of the Audit Committee is financially literate, knowledgeable and qualified to review financial statements. Mr. Sarni and Mr. Zizza are both considered an Audit Committee Financial Expert (as that term is defined in the rules and regulations established by the Securities and Exchange Commission). The Audit Committee Financial Expert designated by our board is Mr. Zizza. Our board of directors made a qualitative assessment of Mr. Zizza's level of knowledge and experience based on a number of factors, including his formal education and experience as a chief financial officer.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

We have adopted the Hollis-Eden Pharmaceuticals Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, which applies to all officers, directors and employees. The Code of Business Conduct and Ethics is available on our website at www.holliseden.com. If we make any substantive amendments to the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics or grant any waiver from a provision of the Code to any executive officer or director, we will promptly disclose the nature of the amendment or waiver in a Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, requires our directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than ten percent of a registered class of our equity securities, to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission initial reports of ownership and reports of changes in ownership of common stock and other of our equity securities. Officers, directors and greater than ten percent stockholders are required by Securities and Exchange Commission regulation to furnish us with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file.

To our knowledge, based solely on a review of the copies of such reports furnished to us and written representations that no other reports were required, during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, all Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to our officers, directors and greater than ten percent beneficial owners were complied with.

Changes To Stockholder Nomination Procedures

On April 22, 2009, our board of directors adopted an amendment to our bylaws to include eligibility requirements for nominees for election to our board of directors. Pursuant to such amendment no person shall be eligible to be nominated for election to the board of directors of the corporation if such person (i) is under indictment for, or has ever been convicted of, a criminal offense involving dishonesty or breach of trust and the penalty for such offense could be imprisonment for more than one year, (ii) has, in the five years preceding such person's nomination for election as a director, been found by a court of competent jurisdiction in a civil action or by the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") to have violated any federal securities or state securities law, and the judgment in such civil action or finding by the SEC has not been subsequently reversed, suspended, or vacated or (iii) has ever been terminated as an executive of the corporation if such termination was for cause as defined in any employment or employment-related agreement between such person and the corporation.

Item 11. Executive Compensation

We currently qualify as a smaller reporting company as such term is defined in Rule 405 of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Item 10 of Regulation S-K. Accordingly, and in accordance with relevant Securities and Exchange Commission rules and guidance, we have elected, with respect to the disclosures required by Item 402 (Executive Compensation) of Regulation S-K, to comply, in some cases, with the requirements applicable to larger companies and, in other cases, with the disclosure requirements applicable to smaller reporting companies. For example, the following overview of our executive compensation is not comparable to the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section that is required of SEC reporting companies that are not smaller reporting companies.

Compensation philosophy for named executive officers and overview

The Compensation Committee of our board of directors approves, administers and interprets our executive compensation and benefit policies, including our 2005 Equity Incentive Plan. The compensation of our named executive officers is designed to attract highly qualified executives with the ability, skills and potential necessary for Hollis-Eden to achieve its corporate strategies; to encourage those individuals to continually pursue our strategic objectives while effectively managing the risks and challenges inherent to a development stage pharmaceutical/biotechnology company; to reward those individuals adequately and fairly over time; and to retain those individuals who continue to perform at or above our expectations. Our named executive officers' compensation has three primary components: base salary, a yearly discretionary cash bonus, and long-term incentive compensation in the form of stock options and, in certain circumstances, restricted stock awards. In addition, our named executive officers are provided with benefits that are generally available to all of our salaried employees, including matching contributions, in the form of our common stock, into our named executive officers' 401(k) accounts.

Our Compensation Committee views all three components of our compensation for our named executive officers as related but distinct. Although our Compensation Committee reviews total compensation, we do not believe that significant compensation derived from one component of compensation should negate or reduce compensation from other components. Our Compensation Committee has not adopted any formal or informal policies or guidelines for allocating compensation between long-term and currently paid-out compensation, between cash and non-cash compensation, or among different forms of compensation. This is due in part to the relatively small size of our executive team and the need to tailor each named executive officer's compensation to attract and retain that named executive officer. Our Compensation Committee determines the appropriate level for each compensation component based in part, but not exclusively, on its view of internal equity and consistency, individual performance, current market conditions, consultation with legal counsel and compensation consultants, a review of corporate accomplishments and setbacks during the prior year, consideration of active projects and future projects, review of expiring equity compensation and the dilutive effect of new equity grants, and other information the Compensation Committee deems relevant, such as the compensation survey data referred to below.

Primary components of executive compensation

The aggregate compensation paid to our named executive officers is composed of three primary components: base salary, a yearly discretionary cash bonus, and long-term incentive compensation in the form of stock options and, in certain circumstances, restricted stock awards. Each component is described below in more detail.

Base salary. Our Compensation Committee fixes the base salary of each of our named executive officers at a level it believes enables us to hire and retain these individuals and to reward our named executive officers for satisfactory individual performance and a satisfactory level of contribution to our overall business goals. In determining the base salaries of our named executive officers, the Compensation Committee also takes into account the base salaries paid to executives in other companies with which we believe we compete for talent, including companies of similar size and stage of development operating in the biotechnology industry, as well as other private and public companies located in our geographical location. For newly hired named executive officers, the base salary is initially established through negotiation at the time the named executive officer is hired, taking into account such named executive officer's qualifications, experience, prior salary and competitive salary information and any unique personal circumstance that motivated the executive to leave his or her prior position and join Hollis-Eden.

Year-to-year adjustments to each named executive officer's base salary, if any, are based upon individual performance for that year, changes in the general level of base salaries of persons in comparable positions within our industry and geographical location, and the average merit salary increase for such year for all of our employees, as well as other factors the Compensation Committee judges to be pertinent during that assessment period. Our Compensation Committee subscribes to certain executive compensation surveys and other databases, such as, most recently, the 2008 Radford Biotechnology Survey and the Radford Biotechnology Edition of the Quarterly Summary of Industry Trends Survey Report for the third quarter and fourth quarter 2008, and reviews them periodically when making executive hiring decisions and when reviewing executive compensation. Our Compensation Committee realizes that benchmarking the Company's compensation against the compensation earned at comparable companies may not always be appropriate, but believes that engaging in a comparative analysis of the Company's compensation practices is useful at this point in the life cycle of the Company.

For each named executive officer position, the Compensation Committee generally sets its target base compensation between the 50th and 75th percentile of base compensation paid to executive officers holding equivalent positions in the companies contained in the Radford Biotechnology Survey, a national survey of approximately 1,300 positions in 550 biotechnology organizations. For both 2007 and 2008, this represented a projected increase of approximately 4.0% in base salary over the prior year for the Company's employees as a whole. This approach applies to our named executive officers and generally to all positions company-wide, except that individual base compensation may range below or above those percentiles depending upon job function, scope of responsibility, individual performance and experience, skills, contribution, and market factors when, in the judgment of our Compensation Committee, the value of the individual's experience, performance and specific skill set justifies variation. The Compensation Committee has also historically taken into account information from other sources, including input from other independent members of our board of directors and publicly available data relating to the compensation practices and policies of other companies within and outside of our industry. Generally, the salaries for our named executive officers are adjusted effective January 1 of each year. For 2009, the Compensation Committee froze the base salaries for all of the Company's named executive officers such that the base salaries for the named executive officers will remain at 2008 levels during 2009.

Annual discretionary cash bonuses. The annual cash bonus payments to our named executive officers are entirely discretionary. In January 2009, our board of directors approved and authorized our management to cancel all cash bonuses related to 2008 performance that might otherwise be granted to the Company's named executive officers. In February 2009, management implemented this action and all cash bonuses related to 2008 performance that might have otherwise been granted to the Company's named executive officers were cancelled.

We utilize annual incentive bonuses to compensate our named executive officers for achieving Company financial and operational goals. These objectives relate generally to Company-wide goals and performance objectives, as well as other strategic factors such as establishment and maintenance of key strategic relationships, development of our drug candidates, identification and advancement of additional drug candidates, advancement of scientific research and to financial factors such as raising capital, improving our results of operations and increasing the price per share of our common stock. Our Compensation Committee believes that it is most appropriate and meaningful at this point in the life cycle of the Company to determine discretionary cash bonus amounts, if any, to our named executive officers based upon our management team's performance and achievement of Company-wide goals as a whole rather than solely upon an individual named executive officer's achievement of individual performance objectives and departmental or functional area goals.

Bonus payment recommendations for named executive officers other than our Chief Executive Officer are initiated by the Chief Executive Officer and submitted to the Compensation Committee for review and approval. Bonus payment recommendations for our Chief Executive Officer are initiated by the Compensation Committee.

Long-term equity incentive awards. We use stock options and, in certain circumstances, restricted stock awards to reward long-term performance. These options and restricted stock awards are intended to produce the potential for significant value for each named executive officer if our performance is positive and if the named executive officer has an extended tenure with the Company. To conserve our cash resources, we place special emphasis on equity-based incentives to attract, retain and motivate named executive officers as well as other employees.

The Compensation Committee provides our named executive officers with long-term incentive compensation through grants of stock options and restricted stock awards, generally under the 2005 Equity Incentive Plan. We believe that stock options provide our named executive officers with the opportunity to purchase and maintain an equity interest in Hollis-Eden and to share in the potential appreciation of the value of our common stock. We believe that stock options align our named executive officers' incentives with that of our stockholders because options have value only if our stock price increases over time. The stock options also utilize vesting periods that encourage named executive officers to continue in their employment with us. However, because of the evolution of regulatory, tax and accounting treatment of equity incentive programs and because it is important to us to retain our named executive officers and key employees, we realize that it is important in some circumstances that we utilize other forms of equity awards as and when we may deem necessary. For example, in 2006, we granted restricted stock awards to our named executive officers, as we believed that this was an additional way to reward them for and motivate them toward superior performance.

The Compensation Committee considers the grant of each option or restricted stock award subjectively, considering factors such as the individual performance of the named executive officer and the anticipated contribution of the named executive officer to the attainment of our long-term strategic performance goals. Long-term incentives granted in prior years are also taken into consideration. Grants are made to all employees when hired based on salary level and position. All employees, including named executive officers, are eligible for subsequent, discretionary grants, which are generally based on either individual or corporate performance, as well as the position held within the Company.

All of the option grants made to our named executive officers in 2008 were made at the fair market value of our common stock on the grant date, determined by the closing market value of our common stock as reported on The Nasdaq Global Market on the date of grant. We do not have any program, plan or obligation that requires us to grant equity compensation to any named executive officers on specified dates. The authority to make equity grants to named executive officers rests with our Compensation Committee.

Severance and change in control benefits

Mr. Weber, our Interim Chief Financial Officer, Chief Accounting Officer and Vice President, Operations has a provision in his employment agreement providing for certain severance benefits in the event of termination without cause, as well as a provision in his employment agreement providing for the acceleration of his then unvested options in the event of termination without cause following a change in control of the Company. These severance and acceleration provisions are described in the Employment, Severance and Change of Control Agreements section below, and certain estimates of these change of control benefits are provided in Potential Payments Upon Termination or Change of Control section below.

Other benefits

Our named executive officers are eligible to participate in all of our employee benefit plans, such as medical, dental, vision, group life and disability insurance and our 401(k) plan, in each case on the same basis as our other employees. There were no special benefits or significant perquisites provided to any named executive officer in 2008.

Material tax and accounting implications of executive compensation policies

We account for the equity compensation expense for our employees under the rules of SFAS 123R, which requires us to estimate and record an expense for each award of equity compensation over the service period of the award. Accounting rules also require us to record cash compensation as an expense at the time the obligation is accrued. Unless and until we achieve sustained profitability, the availability to us of a tax deduction for compensation expense is not material to our financial position. We structure discretionary cash bonus compensation so that it is taxable to our employees at the time it becomes available to them. Federal income tax law prohibits publicly held companies from deducting certain compensation paid to a named executive officer that exceeds $1 million during the tax year. To the extent that compensation is based upon the attainment of performance goals set by the Compensation Committee pursuant to plans approved by our stockholders, such compensation is not included in the computation of this limit. Although the Compensation Committee intends, to the extent feasible and where it believes it is in the best interests of the Company and our stockholders, to attempt to qualify executive compensation as tax deductible, it does not intend to permit this tax provision to dictate the Compensation Committee's development and execution of effective compensation plans.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

For 2008, each non-employee director received an annual retainer of $15,000, a fee of $2,500 per in-person board meeting attended, and a fee of $1,000 per telephonic committee meeting attended if the duration of the committee meeting is expected to exceed one hour (including preparation time) with the applicable committee members determining at each such meeting whether such compensation is payable. Also, directors who serve as committee chairmen for board committees received an additional annual retainer of $2,500 per year. We also grant discretionary stock options to non-employee members of our board of directors. In January 2008, in recognition of the tenth anniversary of certain employees' and directors' continued service to Hollis-Eden, the compensation committee of our board of directors approved the grant of stock options to these certain employees and directors, including Dr. Merigan, a former director, and Mr. McDonnell, a former director, and Mr. Zizza. These stock option grants, covering an aggregate of 45,000 shares of our common stock, were granted under the 2005 Directors' Plan with a per share exercise price of $1.62. The shares subject to each of these stock option grants vest and become exercisable in equal monthly installments over a twelve month period beginning on the date of grant subject to continued service to the Company. In January 2008, our then five non-employee directors of our board were also granted options under the 2005 Directors' Plan covering an aggregate of 75,000 shares of our common stock at an exercise price of $1.62 per share, which was in excess of the fair market value of our common stock on the date of grant of $1.60 (based upon the closing sale price reported on The Nasdaq Global Market). One-third of the total shares subject to each of these stock option awards vest and become exercisable on the first anniversary of the date of grant; thereafter 1/24th of the total remaining shares shall vest in equal monthly installments over the next two years subject to each director's continued service to the Company. Except as noted above, the exercise prices for these options were equal to the fair market value of our common stock on the date of each grant (based on the closing sale prices reported on The Nasdaq Global Market on the date of each grant).

Item 13. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence

Policies and Procedures with respect to Related Party Transactions

In December 2007, we adopted a written Related-Person Transactions Policy that sets forth our policies and procedures regarding the identification, review, consideration and approval or ratification of related-persons transactions. For purposes of our policy only, a related-person transaction is a transaction, arrangement or relationship (or any series of similar transactions, arrangements or relationships) in which Hollis-Eden and any related person are participants involving an amount that exceeds $120,000. Transactions involving compensation for services provided to us as an employee or director by a related person are not covered by this policy. A related person is any executive officer, director, or more than 5% stockholder of Hollis-Eden, including any of their immediate family members, and any entity owned or controlled by such persons.

Under the policy, where a transaction has been identified as a related-person transaction, management must present information regarding the proposed related-person transaction to the Audit Committee (or, where Audit Committee approval would be inappropriate, to another independent body of the board) for consideration and approval or ratification and provide all information available to it which is material to the review and consideration of such transaction. In considering related-person transactions, the Audit Committee takes into account the relevant available facts and circumstances including, but not limited to (a) the risks, costs and benefits to Hollis-Eden, (b) the impact on a director's independence in the event the related person is a director, immediate family member of a director or an entity with which a director is affiliated, (c) the terms of the transaction, (d) the availability of other sources for comparable services or products and (e) the terms available to or from, as the case may be, unrelated third parties or to or from employees generally. In the event a director has an interest in the proposed transaction, the director must recuse himself or herself from the deliberations and approval. The policy requires that, in determining whether to approve or ratify a related-person transaction, the Audit Committee look at, in light of known circumstances, whether the transaction is, or is not inconsistent with, the best interests of Hollis-Eden and its stockholders, as the Audit Committee determines in the good faith exercise of its discretion.

Certain Transactions

Dr. James Frincke's wife serves as our director of accounting. She earned $109,823 in base salary during fiscal year 2008 and received a stock option grant in January 2008 for 3,100 shares at an exercise price of $1.62 per share.

In September 2007, Dr. Merigan, one of our former directors, was granted an additional stock option to purchase up to 75,000 shares of our common stock, at an exercise price of $2.14 per share, under the 2005 Directors' Plan. One-third of the total shares subject to this stock option award vest and become exercisable on the first anniversary of the date of grant; thereafter 1/24th of the total remaining shares shall vest in equal monthly installments over the next two years subject to Dr. Merigan's continued service to the Company. In addition, in September 2007, the board of directors approved an extension of the expiration date of the exercise period for an existing fully vested and exercisable stock option granted to Dr. Merigan, from February 25, 2008 to February 25, 2013, resulting in the deemed cancellation of the original stock option and the grant of a replacement stock option under the 2005 Equity Plan. Dr. Merigan was originally granted this option grant to purchase a total of 125,000 shares of our common stock with an exercise price of $2.25 per share in March 1996, for consulting services. In February 2003, this stock option grant expired and we issued a new stock option grant to Dr. Merigan to purchase a total of 125,000 shares of our common stock with an exercise price below market of $2.25. An accounting charge was booked by the Company at the time of the grant of this option grant.

In February 2003, Mr. Weber, our Interim Chief Financial Officer, Chief Accounting Officer and Vice President, Operations was granted a fully vested and exercisable stock option to purchase a total of 40,000 shares of our common stock with an exercise price of $2.25 per share with a five year exercise period expiring February 25, 2008. In January 2008, the compensation committee of our board of directors approved the extension of the expiration date of the exercise period for the remaining 30,350 shares underlying this stock option from February 25, 2008 to February 25, 2013 resulting in the deemed cancellation of the original stock option and the grant of a replacement stock option.

Director Independence

As required under The Nasdaq Global Market (Nasdaq) listing standards, a majority of the members of a listed company's board of directors must qualify as independent, as affirmatively determined by the company's board of directors. After review of all relevant transactions and relationships between each director, or any of his or her family members, and us, our senior management and our independent registered public accounting firm, our board affirmatively has determined that Messrs. Sarni, Zizza and Hauer are independent directors within the meaning of the Nasdaq listing standards.

Our Board of Directors has established three standing committees: the Audit Committee, the Compensation Committee, and the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. Each member of these committees meets the independence standards set forth in the Nasdaq listing standards.

PRE-APPROVAL POLICIES

The Audit Committee pre-approves all audit and permissible non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm. These services may include audit services, audit-related services, internal control services, tax services and other services. The Audit Committee has adopted a policy for the pre-approval of services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm, BDO Seidman, LLP. The policy generally pre-approves specified services in the defined categories of audit services, audit-related services and tax services up to specified amounts. Pre-approval may also be given as part of the Audit Committee's approval of the scope of the engagement of the independent registered public accounting firm or on an individual explicit case-by-case basis before the independent registered public accounting firm is engaged to provide each service.

During the year, circumstances may arise when it may become necessary to engage the independent registered public accounting firm for additional services not contemplated in the original pre-approval. In those instances, the Audit Committee requires specific pre-approval before engaging the independent registered public accounting firm. The Audit Committee has delegated pre-approval authority to the Chairman of the Audit Committee for those such instances. The Chairman must report on such approvals at the next scheduled Audit Committee meeting.

The Audit Committee has determined that the rendering of the non-audit services by BDO Seidman, LLP is compatible with maintaining the auditor's independence.

All fiscal year 2008 audit and non-audit services provided by the independent registered public accounting firm were pre-approved.
