PRESS RELEASE

FOR RELEASE 7:30 A.M. EST 12/18/01

GE INDUSTRIAL SYSTEMS TO ACQUIRE INTERLOGIX, INC.

Plainville, Connecticut and Austin, Texas- December 18, 2001- GE Industrial Systems, a division of General Electric Company (NYSE: GE), and Interlogix, Inc (NASDAQ: ILXI), the global electronic security company headquartered in Austin, TX announced today that they have signed an agreement for GE to acquire Interlogix. The transaction, which is subject to government approvals and other customary conditions, is expected to close in the first quarter of 2002. GE has agreed to pay the equivalent of $38.86 for each Interlogix share consisting of 50% cash and 50% GE stock. A stockholder, who holds approximately 80% of the current outstanding shares of Interlogix, has concurrently signed an agreement to tender its shares in favor of the transaction.

Interlogix manufactures a wide array of electronic security products and systems for commercial, industrial and residential use. Primary business segments are Security and Lifesafety, Enterprise Technologies and Key Management. Annual revenues are in excess of US$600 million.

"Interlogix is a strong global company that will provide us with leading-edge technology in the security arena, offering us an attractive new platform to enhance our continued growth. These innovative technologies will be particularly important as the demand for security products and systems continues to increase," said Lloyd Trotter, President and Chief Executive Officer of GE Industrial Systems. "In addition, these products will complement many of the industrial components already manufactured by our business, allowing us to better serve our customers with a broader, more diversified portfolio of products, systems and services to meet their needs."

INTERLOGIX IS COMPRISED OF THREE PRINCIPAL DIVISIONS:

- o SECURITY AND LIFESAFETY: A global provider of wired and wireless intrusion and fire protection components and systems.
- o ENTERPRISE TECHNOLOGIES: Leading edge systems for digital surveillance and video image storage / retrieval. Interlogix has the capability to integrate all surveillance and access control functionality into a single enterprise wide system for global companies.
- o KEY MANAGEMENT: A supplier of products and services for multiple remote site entry, mobile access and information management and asset tracking
