Your Vote is Important. If you own your shares through a broker, we encourage you to follow the instructions provided by your broker regarding how to vote. A recent change in the rules that govern how brokers vote your shares prevents your broker from voting your shares for director nominees unless you provide your broker with your voting instructions.

Location of Annual Meeting

The annual meeting will be held at our corporate headquarters, which are located at 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624.

Principal Executive Offices

Our principal executive offices are located at 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624, and our telephone number is (585) 352-7777.

Mailing Date

These proxy solicitation materials are first being mailed by us on or about July 23, 2010 to all shareholders entitled to vote at the annual meeting.

Record Date and Outstanding Shares

Shareholders of record at the close of business on July 19, 2010, the record date for the annual meeting, are entitled to notice of and to vote at the annual meeting. We have one class of shares outstanding, designated common stock, $0.50 par value per share. As of the record date, 7,292,169 shares of our common stock were issued and outstanding.

Solicitation of Proxies

We are making this solicitation of proxies in order to provide all shareholders of record on July 19, 2010 with the opportunity to vote on all matters that properly come before the annual meeting. We will bear all costs related to this solicitation. In addition, we may reimburse brokerage firms and other persons representing beneficial owners of shares for their expenses in forwarding solicitation material to such beneficial owners. Proxies may also be solicited on our behalf, in person or by telephone or other telecommunication, by our directors, officers and employees, none of whom will receive additional compensation for doing so. In addition, we have retained Regan & Associates, Inc., a professional solicitation firm, which will assist us in delivering these proxy materials and soliciting proxies for a fee of approximately $6,000.

Revocability of Proxies

You may change your vote by revoking your proxy at any time before it is voted at the annual meeting in one of three ways:

submit a signed proxy card with a later date;

notify our corporate secretary in writing before the annual meeting that you are revoking your proxy; or attend the annual meeting and vote in person.

Please note, however, that if your shares are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee and you wish to vote at the annual meeting, you must bring to the annual meeting a letter from such broker, bank or other nominee confirming both (1) your beneficial ownership of such shares on July 19, 2010, the record date for the meeting; and (2) that such broker, bank or other nominee is not voting the shares at the meeting.

Table of Contents

Voting; Cumulative Voting

Generally, each shareholder is entitled to one vote for each share held as of the record date. With respect to the election of directors, shareholders can cumulate their votes in certain circumstances. Cumulative voting is a system of voting whereby each shareholder receives a number of votes equal to the number of shares that the shareholder holds as of the record date multiplied by the number of directors to be elected. Thus, for example, if you held 100 shares as of the record date, you would be entitled to cast 300 votes (100, the number of shares held, multiplied by three, the number of directors to be elected) for the election of directors. Cumulative voting can be used only for the election of directors and is not permitted for voting on any other proposal.

To employ cumulative voting at the annual meeting, you must notify our president, a vice president or our corporate secretary that you desire that cumulative voting be used at the annual meeting for the election of directors. Such notice must be in writing, and it must be given at least 48 hours before the time fixed for holding the annual meeting. In addition, a formal announcement must be made at the commencement of the annual meeting by our chairman, our corporate secretary or by you or on your behalf, stating that such notice has been given.

When proxies are properly dated, executed and returned, the shares represented by such proxies will be voted at the annual meeting in accordance with the instructions on such proxies. If no specific instructions are given, shares represented by such proxies will be voted:

FOR the election of the three director nominees; and

FOR the ratification of the selection of BDO USA, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 26, 2011.

Such shares may also be voted by the named proxies for such other business as may properly come before the annual meeting or at any adjournment or postponement thereof.

Quorum

A quorum is required for shareholders to conduct business at the annual meeting. Our code of regulations provides that a quorum will exist at the annual meeting if the holders of a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of our common stock are present, in person or by proxy, at the annual meeting.

Vote Required

The table below shows the vote required to approve each of the proposals described in this proxy statement, assuming the presence of a quorum, in person or by proxy, at the annual meeting.

Proposal Number	Proposal Description	Vote Required
One	Election of three directors	Plurality of the votes duly cast at the annual meeting
Two	Ratification of the selection of BDO USA, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 26, 2011	Majority of the votes duly cast at the annual meeting*

- * The selection of BDO USA, LLP is being presented to our shareholders for ratification. The audit committee will consider the outcome of this vote when selecting our independent registered public accounting firm for subsequent fiscal years.

Recommendations of our Board of Directors

Our board of directors recommends that shareholders vote their shares FOR the three director nominees and FOR the ratification of the selection of BDO USA, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 26, 2011.

Table of Contents

Effect of Abstentions

Shares that abstain from voting on a proposal to be acted upon at the annual meeting are considered to be present for the purpose of determining whether a quorum exists and thus count towards satisfying the quorum requirement.

Abstentions will have no effect on the election of directors, provided each nominee receives at least one vote, and will have no effect on the proposal to ratify the selection of our independent registered public accounting firm because, as noted above, to be approved that proposal must receive a majority of the votes cast at the annual meeting on the proposal and shares that abstain from voting on the proposal are not be deemed to be cast on the proposal.

Effect of Not Casting Your Vote and Broker Non-Votes

If you own your shares through a bank or broker, it is important that you cast your vote if you want it to count in the election of directors. Under the rules governing brokers who have record ownership of shares that they hold in street name for their clients (who are the beneficial owners of such shares), brokers have the discretion to vote such shares on routine matters, such as the ratification of the selection of independent registered public accounting firms, but not on non-routine matters. Non-routine matters now include director elections, even if such elections are uncontested. In the past, if you held your shares through a bank or broker and you did not provide specific instructions as to how you wanted your shares voted in the election of directors, your bank or broker was permitted to vote those shares on your behalf as they deemed appropriate. However, beginning with our 2010 annual meeting, your bank or broker will not have the authority to exercise discretion in the election of directors. A recent change in the rules that govern how brokers vote your shares prevents your bank or broker from voting your shares for director nominees unless you provide them with your voting instructions. Thus, if you hold your shares in street name and do not instruct your bank or broker how to vote in the election of directors, no votes will be cast on your behalf.

If you own your shares through a bank or broker, we encourage you to follow the instructions provided by your bank or broker regarding how to vote.

A broker non-vote occurs when shares held by a broker for a beneficial owner are not voted on a non-routine matter because the broker has not received voting instructions from the beneficial owner and lacks discretionary authority to vote the shares in the absence of such instructions. Shares subject to broker non-votes are considered to be present for the purpose of determining whether a quorum exists and thus count towards satisfying the quorum requirement; however, broker non-votes will have no effect on the election of directors because they are excluded from the total number of votes cast. Because the proposal to ratify the selection of BDO USA, LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the fiscal year ending March 26, 2011 is considered a routine matter, there will be no broker non-votes on this proposal.

PROPOSAL ONE

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Nominees Proposed for Election as Directors for a Term Expiring in 2013

Our code of regulations provides for a classified board of directors consisting of three classes of directors, each serving staggered three-year terms. As a result, only a portion of our board of directors is elected each year.

The number of directors is currently fixed at nine. At this year's annual meeting, shareholders are being asked to elect three directors to hold office for a term expiring in 2013 or until each of their successors is duly elected and qualified. Based on the recommendation of the corporate governance and nominating committee, we have nominated Charles P. Hadeed, Nancy D. Hessler and Paul D. Moore for election as directors. All three nominees currently serve on our board, and we recommend their election at the annual meeting. Directors will be elected by a plurality of the votes cast by the shares of our common stock entitled to vote in the election of directors.

Unless authority to vote for one or more of the nominees is specifically withheld according to the instructions on your proxy card, proxies will be voted FOR the election of Mr. Hadeed, Ms. Hessler and Mr. Moore. The votes represented by such proxies may be cumulated if proper notice is given (see Voting; Cumulative Voting on page 2).

We do not contemplate that any of the nominees will be unable to serve as a director, but if that contingency should occur prior to the voting of the proxies, the persons named in the enclosed proxy reserve the right to vote for such substitute nominee or nominees as they, in their discretion, determine. However, proxies in the enclosed form cannot be voted for a greater number of persons than the number of nominees named in this proxy statement.

Beginning with our 2010 annual meeting, Securities and Exchange Commission's rules require us to discuss briefly the particular experience, qualifications, attributes or skills that led our board of directors to conclude that each director or nominee for director should serve on our board of directors. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Board Meetings

The board of directors held five meetings during fiscal year 2010. Each director then in office attended at least 75% of the total of such board meetings and meetings of board committees on which he or she served.

Director Independence

The board of directors has determined that all of our directors, other than Mr. Hadeed and Mr. Sassano, are independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market.

Executive Sessions; Lead Director

During fiscal year 2010, our independent directors met in regularly scheduled executive sessions, without management present, as required by the listing standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market. The meetings of our independent directors are coordinated by Mr. Smith, who serves as the lead director of our independent directors.

Board Leadership Structure

The board of directors separates the roles of chief executive officer and chairman of the board, based on the board's current belief that corporate governance of the company and appropriate, independent oversight of management is most effective when these positions are not held by the same person. The board recognizes the differences between the two roles and believes that separating them allows each person to focus on their individual responsibilities. Under this leadership structure, our chief executive officer can focus his attention on day-to-day company operations and performance, establishing and implementing long-term strategic plans, and our chairman of the board can focus his attention on board responsibilities.

Presently, the board believes it is appropriate to keep the roles of chief executive officer and chairman of the board separate. However, the board may change the leadership structure if it believes that a change would better serve the company and its shareholders.

The board also has a lead director who serves as the chairman of the executive sessions of the independent directors and will do so until the board determines that Mr. Sassano is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market.

Board Committees

The board of directors has established, among other committees, an audit committee, a corporate governance and nominating committee and a compensation committee. Each committee acts pursuant to a written charter adopted by our board of directors. The current charter for each board committee is available on our website, transcat.com, under the heading "Investor Relations" and the subheading "Corporate Governance."

Audit Committee

The current members of the audit committee are Mr. Harrison (chair), Mr. Bradley, Mr. Moore and Dr. Palmer. The board has determined that each of Mr. Harrison, Mr. Bradley, Mr. Moore and Dr. Palmer is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market and applicable Securities and Exchange Commission rules.

The board of directors has determined that each audit committee member has sufficient knowledge in financial and auditing matters to serve on the audit committee. The board of directors has designated Mr. Harrison as an audit committee financial expert in accordance with applicable Securities and Exchange Commission rules. The board determined that Mr. Harrison qualifies as an audit committee financial expert by virtue of his more than 32-year career in banking and finance. The board of directors has determined that Mr. Moore would also qualify as an audit committee financial expert by virtue of his 31-year career in banking and corporate lending.

The audit committee serves as an independent and objective party to monitor our financial reporting process and internal control system; retains, pre-approves audit and permitted non-audit services to be performed by, and directly consults with, our independent registered public accounting firm; reviews and appraises the services of our independent registered public accounting firm; and provides an open avenue of communication among our independent registered public accounting firm, financial and senior management and our board of directors. Our audit committee charter more specifically sets forth the duties and responsibilities of the audit committee.

The audit committee is also responsible for preparing the committee's report that Securities and Exchange Commission rules require be included in our annual proxy statement, and performing such other tasks that are consistent with its charter.

The audit committee held four meetings during fiscal year 2010. The audit committee's report relating to fiscal year 2010 appears on page 10.

Corporate Governance and Nominating Committee

The current members of the corporate governance and nominating committee are Mr. Smith (chair) and Mr. Resnick. The board has determined that each of Mr. Smith and Mr. Resnick is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market.

The corporate governance and nominating committee is charged with identifying candidates, consistent with criteria approved by the committee, qualified to become directors and recommending that the board of directors nominate such qualified candidates for election as directors. The committee is also responsible for reviewing our code of regulations, shaping corporate governance, overseeing the evaluation of the board of directors, board committees and management, and performing such tasks that are consistent with the corporate governance and nominating committee charter.

The process followed by the corporate governance and nominating committee to identify and evaluate candidates includes requests to board members, the chief executive officer and others for recommendations, meetings from time to time to evaluate biographical information and background material relating to potential candidates and their qualifications, and interviews of selected candidates.

The corporate governance and nominating committee also considers and establishes procedures regarding shareholder recommendations for nomination to the board. Such recommendations for nomination, together with relevant biographical information, should be sent to the following address: Transcat, Inc., 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624, Attention: Corporate Secretary. The qualifications of recommended candidates will be reviewed by the corporate governance and nominating committee.

In evaluating the suitability of candidates (other than our executive officers) to serve on the board of directors, including shareholder nominees, the corporate governance and nominating committee seeks candidates who are independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market and meet certain selection criteria established by the corporate governance and nominating committee from time to time. The corporate governance and nominating committee also considers an individual's skills; character and professional ethics; judgment; leadership experience; business experience and acumen; familiarity with relevant industry issues; national and international experience; and other relevant criteria that may contribute to our success. This evaluation is performed in light of the skill set and other characteristics that complement those of the current directors, including the diversity, maturity, skills and experience of the board as a whole. Although the corporate governance and nominating committee does not have a specific written diversity policy, the committee values diversity and considers diversity when seeking and evaluating candidates for the board. The committee believes that diversity is not limited to gender and ethnicity, but also includes perspective gained from educational and cultural backgrounds and life experiences.

The corporate governance and nominating committee held one meeting during fiscal year 2010.

Compensation Committee

The current members of the compensation committee are Mr. Resnick (chair), Ms. Hessler, Dr. Palmer and Mr. Smith. The board has determined that each of Mr. Resnick, Ms. Hessler, Dr. Palmer and Mr. Smith is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market.

The compensation committee is responsible for establishing and implementing compensation programs for our executive officers and directors that further the intent and purpose of our fundamental compensation philosophy and objectives. In addition, the compensation committee is responsible for reviewing and discussing with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis that we include in our annual proxy statement, preparing the committee's report that we include in our annual proxy statement, and performing such other tasks that are consistent with the compensation committee charter.

The compensation committee held two meetings during fiscal year 2010. The compensation committee's report relating to fiscal year 2010 appears on page 25.

For more information on executive and director compensation, and the role of the compensation committee, see Compensation Discussion and Analysis beginning on page 16.

The Board's Role in Risk Oversight

The board of directors is responsible for overseeing risks that could affect our company and management's processes for managing risk. This oversight is conducted primarily through the board's committees. Our audit committee focuses on financial risks, including those that could arise from our accounting and financial reporting processes and financial statement audits. Our corporate governance and nominating committee focuses on the management of risks associated with board membership and structure, as well as corporate governance. Our compensation committee focuses on the management of risks arising from our compensation policies and programs.

While our board committees are focused on these specific areas of risk, the full board retains responsibility for general oversight of risk. This responsibility is satisfied through reports from each committee chairman regarding the risk considerations within each committee's area of expertise, as well as through reports from members of our senior management team responsible for oversight of material risk to the company.

As part of its risk oversight responsibilities, our board of directors and its committees review the processes that senior management uses to manage our risk exposure. In doing so, the board and its committees review our overall risk function and senior management's establishment of appropriate systems and processes for managing areas of material risk to our company, including, but not limited to, operational, financial, legal, regulatory and strategic risks.

Shareholder Communications

Shareholders may send correspondence by mail to the full board of directors or to individual directors. Shareholders should address such correspondence to the board of directors or the relevant board members in care of: Transcat, Inc., 35 Vantage Point Drive, Rochester, New York 14624, Attention: Corporate Secretary.

All shareholder correspondence will be compiled by our corporate secretary and forwarded as appropriate. In general, correspondence relating to corporate governance issues, long-term corporate strategy or similar substantive matters will be forwarded to the board of directors, the individual director, one of the aforementioned committees of the board, or a committee member for review. Correspondence relating to the ordinary course of business affairs, personal grievances, and matters as to which we tend to receive repetitive or duplicative communications are usually more appropriately addressed by our officers or their designees and will be forwarded to such persons accordingly.

COMPENSATION OF NAMED EXECUTIVE OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Named Executive Officers

This proxy statement contains information about the compensation paid to our named executive officers during fiscal year 2010. For fiscal year 2010, in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission, we determined that the following officers were our named executive officers for purposes of this proxy statement:

Charles P. Hadeed, our president, chief executive officer and chief operating officer;

John J. Zimmer, our vice president of finance and chief financial officer;

John P. Hennessy; our vice president of sales and marketing;

Jay F. Woychick, our vice president of wind energy commercial operations and vendor relations; and Rainer Stellrecht, our vice president of laboratory operations.

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion analyzes our compensation policies and decisions for our named executive officers. The focus of the discussion is on fiscal year 2010. However, when relevant, the discussion covers actions regarding compensation for our named executive officers that were taken after the conclusion of fiscal year 2010.

Executive Summary

As with most companies operating in our industry and in the United States generally, the global economic downturn continued to affect us throughout fiscal year 2010. Despite these difficult economic conditions, we achieved strong financial results for fiscal year 2010 and were able to take advantage of a strategic opportunity to grow our business. Specifically:

On January 27, 2010, we acquired United Scale & Engineering Corporation, a Wisconsin-based supplier and servicer of industrial scales and weighing systems. This strategic acquisition expands our footprint in the Midwest, provides additional cash generation and broadens our calibration capabilities and our product offerings.

We achieved net revenue of $81.1 million for fiscal year 2010, a 7.5% increase from fiscal year 2009.

We increased the revenue from our service segment in fiscal year 2010 by 16.6% to $27.9 million, while at the same time improving the gross margin of our service segment to 24.5% in fiscal year 2010.

Our operating expenses as a percentage of total net revenue declined slightly from 21.3% of total net revenue in fiscal year 2009 to 20.9% of total net revenue in fiscal year 2010.

During, or immediately following, fiscal year 2010, we took the following actions regarding the compensation of our named executive officers.

On April 5, 2010, in recognition of Mr. Hadeed's leadership and his decision to voluntarily forgo any increase to his base salary in fiscal year 2010, the compensation committee approved an immediate $25,000 increase to his base salary. Our other named executive officers also received performance-based merit increases generally consistent with those received in prior years, and also generally consistent on a percentage basis with increases given to other non-officer employees, effective on their anniversary date.

On April 5, 2010, the compensation committee granted performance-based restricted stock awards to each of our named executive officers that will vest, if at all, based on our achievement of specific fully-diluted earnings per share objectives over the three-year period ending in fiscal year 2013. In recognition of Mr. Hadeed's leadership during these difficult economic times, the compensation committee granted him an additional restricted stock award of 3,109 shares that vested immediately.

Table of Contents

Also on April 5, 2010, the compensation committee approved performance-based cash incentive compensation to each of our named executive officers in recognition of the achievement of individual and corporate strategic and financial goals based on the plan for fiscal year 2010 established by the compensation committee.

Due to the difficult economic environment, we temporarily suspended matching contributions under our 401(k) Plan for all employees during fiscal year 2010. Effective March 28, 2010, we reinstated our matching contributions for all of our employees, including our named executive officers.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

Our compensation program is designed to attract, motivate and retain a highly-qualified and effective senior management team. We believe that the most effective executive compensation program is one that is designed to reward the achievement of specific annual, long-term and strategic company goals, which align the interests of each of our named executive officers with those of our shareholders. Executive compensation programs impact all employees by setting general levels of compensation and helping to create an environment of goals, rewards and expectations.

The objectives of our compensation program for our executive officers, including our named executive officers, are to motivate them to achieve our business objectives, to reward them for achievement, to foster teamwork, to support our core values and to contribute to our long-term success. Our compensation policies for our named executive officers are designed to link pay to both performance, taking into account the level of difficulty associated with each executive officer's responsibilities, and shareholder returns over the long term. We also seek to ensure that the compensation provided to our named executive officers remains competitive with the compensation paid to similarly-situated executives in comparable positions at publicly-traded companies of comparable size.

The key components of our compensation program have historically been base salary, performance-based cash incentive awards (the amount of which is dependent on both company and individual performance), stock options and restricted stock awards. We seek to ensure that total executive compensation corresponds to both corporate performance and the creation of shareholder value by placing our principal emphasis on variable, performance-based incentives through a combination of annual non-equity incentive awards (i.e., cash incentive awards) and long-term performance-based equity awards.

Role of the Compensation Committee

The compensation committee of our board of directors is responsible for establishing, implementing and monitoring adherence to our compensation philosophy and objectives. The compensation committee ensures that the total compensation paid to our named executive officers is fair, reasonable and competitive. Generally, the types of compensation and benefits provided to our named executive officers are similar to those provided to our other executive officers.

Setting Executive Compensation, including the Role of Outside Consultants

Our compensation package for our named executive officers is designed to motivate them to achieve our business goals and to reward them for the achievement of such goals. Annually, the compensation committee reviews the total compensation payable to our named executive officers. The compensation committee reviews various reports and survey information as input to assess the cash compensation elements of annual base salary and annual non-equity incentive awards as well as long-term equity compensation. The compensation committee's review considers a number of factors, including:

each named executive officer's role, responsibilities and performance during the year;
the compensation paid to officers in comparable positions at publicly-traded companies of comparable size;
overall corporate performance as measured against our annual corporate goals;
the overall demands associated with the responsibilities of each named executive officer; and the contribution made by each named executive officer as a member of our senior management team.

Table of Contents

The compensation committee assesses the market competitiveness of the compensation paid to our named executive officers by using a number of sources.

As outlined in the compensation committee charter, the committee has the authority to retain consultants and advisors, at our expense, to assist in the discharge of the committee's duties. The compensation committee has engaged the services of First Niagara Benefits Consulting, a Rochester-based compensation consulting firm, to conduct bi-annual reviews of our total compensation program for our named executive officers. In preparation for these reviews, we define the roles and responsibilities of our named executive officers to ensure appropriate comparisons are made and accurate data is compiled.

During fiscal year 2010, First Niagara Benefits Consulting performed an analysis based on this information and provided the compensation committee with relevant survey and market data and alternatives to consider when making compensation decisions for our named executive officers. First Niagara Benefits Consulting advised us on overall compensation strategy and incentive plan design. They did not provide advice on the compensation of individual named executive officers.

In making compensation decisions, it is difficult to obtain direct comparisons of our competitors as they are typically privately-held companies or divisions of larger publicly-traded corporations. To ensure we are competitive, the compensation committee generally evaluates and compares named executive officer compensation to similarly-situated executives of publicly-traded companies of comparable size.

The compensation committee also compares each element of total compensation against a group of publicly-traded companies of comparable size located in western New York with which the compensation committee believes we may compete for talent. This comparison group is currently comprised of Graham Corporation, IEC Electronics Corp., Performance Technologies, Incorporated and Ultralife Corporation. In addition, First Niagara Benefits Consulting identified a specific group of publicly-traded companies engaged in business operations similar to ours, which included Universal Power Group (UPG), Tessco Technologies (TESS), Infosonics (IFON). The compensation committee uses the compensation data compiled from these companies in an effort to assess the results of our compensation objective to pay our named executive officers on a competitive basis with this group of comparable companies.

A significant percentage of total compensation for our named executive officers is placed at-risk through annual and long-term incentives. There are established guidelines and targets regarding the allocation between cash (short term) and equity (long-term) incentive compensation, which is contingent and variable, based on company results and individual performance. While we do not have a specific formulaic model for our executive compensation mix, in practice for the previous three fiscal years, base salary has been approximately 45% of target annual compensation for our chief executive officer and 50% for our other named executive officers. Of the remaining 55% for our chief executive officer, approximately 45% of that amount was targeted as annual performance-based cash incentive compensation and 55% of that amount was targeted as performance-based restricted stock awards. For our other named executive officers, the remaining 50% is targeted approximately 55% as annual performance-based cash incentive compensation and 45% as performance-based restricted stock awards. The compensation committee also reviews and considers the information provided by First Niagara Benefits Consulting as one of the factors in determining the level and mix of incentive compensation. The compensation committee, taking all relevant factors into account, concluded that our executive compensation structure and its application was appropriate.

Role of Named Executive Officers in Compensation Decisions

The chairman of the board and the compensation committee annually evaluate our chief executive officer's performance and determine any changes to his overall compensation, including an increase, if appropriate, to his base salary.

On April 6, 2009, the compensation committee conducted the annual performance evaluation and determined the compensation for our chief executive officer for fiscal year 2010. Mr. Hadeed recommended to the committee that he not receive a salary increase based on the financial results of fiscal year 2009, which were significantly impacted by the economic downturn. The committee discussed this and agreed with the recommendation. Mr. Hadeed was not present during the course of the committee's deliberations regarding his compensation.

Thereafter, the chairman of the board and the chair of the compensation committee delivered the performance evaluation to Mr. Hadeed.

Our chief executive officer annually reviews the performance of each member of the senior management team (other than his own individual performance, which is evaluated by the chairman of the board and the compensation committee). Our chief executive officer provides the compensation committee with a review of performance evaluations and compensation, including base salary increases, as appropriate, for each member of the senior management team.

Compensation Components

For fiscal year 2010, the compensation committee did not make any changes to the principal components of compensation for our named executive officers. The principal components consisted of: (1) base salary; (2) performance-based cash incentive compensation; (3) long-term equity incentive compensation; (4) retirement benefits; and (5) perquisites and other personal benefits. Each of these components is described separately below.

We utilize these components because we believe they provide an appropriate balance between fixed compensation (salary) and at-risk compensation, which creates short-term and long-term performance incentives that serve an important retention and motivational function. By following this approach, we provide our named executive officers with a measure of security that they will receive a minimum expected level of compensation, while simultaneously motivating them to focus on business metrics that should result in a high level of short-term and long-term performance by the company. The mix of metrics used for our performance incentive plan and our 2003 Incentive Plan likewise provides a balance between short-term financial performance and long-term financial and stock performance. As previously noted, targeted performance-based incentive compensation has been approximately 45% short-term and 55% long-term for our chief executive officer, and 55% short-term and 45% long-term for our other named executive officers. The fiscal year 2010 corporate metrics utilized for our performance incentive plan were annual product and annual service segment gross profit and earnings per share, while the sole measure for determining achievement under our long-term equity incentive compensation plan is cumulative earnings per share over a three-year period. We believe that maintaining this compensation mix engenders a pay-for-performance mentality in our executives and is consistent with our stated compensation philosophy of providing compensation commensurate with performance.

Base Salary

We provide our named executive officers and our other executive officers with a base salary to compensate them, in part, for services rendered during the fiscal year. Base salaries for named executive officers are determined for each person based on qualifications, experience, position, scope of responsibilities and market and survey data. Performance-based merit salary adjustments are generally effective on the officer's anniversary date of hire or promotion. Individual performance during the prior year as well as survey data is considered when determining annual adjustments to the base salary for our named executive officers. The compensation committee uses the survey data as verification that salary opportunities for a given position are comparable with those of similar executives at comparably-sized companies. Variations can occur when circumstances warrant it, such as the experience level of a candidate, the particular circumstances within a market or level of responsibility within the executive's position. These objectives are intended to recognize the compensation committee's expectation that, over the long term, we will continue to increase shareholder value.

During its annual review of base salaries, the compensation committee primarily considers:

Market compensation data provided by our outside consultant;

Comparisons to publicly-traded companies of comparable size, a group of publicly-traded companies of comparable size located in Western New York, and a specific group of publicly-traded companies engaged in business operations similar to ours;

Internal reviews of compensation, both individually and relative to other officers; and Individual performance.

Table of Contents

We typically consider base salary levels annually as part of our performance review process as well as upon a promotion or other significant change in job responsibility. Annual performance-based merit increases, if any, to the base salaries of named executive officers (other than the chief executive officer) are determined by our chief executive officer and are generally consistent on a percentage basis with increases given to other non-officer employees.

On April 5, 2010, the compensation committee approved an immediate increase to Mr. Hadeed's base salary in the amount of $25,000. This increase reflects Mr. Hadeed's leadership during the difficult economic times and the fact that he voluntarily declined any increase to his base salary for the previous fiscal year. In addition, each of our other named executive officers received a performance-based merit increase generally consistent with those received in prior years, effective on their anniversary date.

Performance-Based Incentive Plan

We maintain a performance incentive plan, which is an annual cash incentive program designed to compensate key management members, as well as our named executive officers, based on their contributions to the achievement of specified corporate fiscal year financial objectives as well as achievement of individual performance goals. The performance incentive plan includes various incentive levels based on a participant's position within the company, accountability and impact on company operations, with target award opportunities that are established as a percentage of base salary earned during the fiscal year. For fiscal year 2010, the target performance-based cash incentive award amount as a percentage of base salary for each of our named executive officers was as follows: 55% for Mr. Hadeed, and 45% for each of Messrs. Zimmer, Hennessy, Woychick and Stellrecht.

Payment of performance-based cash incentive awards is expressly linked to successful achievement of specified pre-established corporate goals, which our board of directors annually approves, and, for all participants except our chief executive officer, individual performance goals, which are determined by our chief executive officer. In addition to the corporate level and individual performance goals, the performance incentive plan also provides guidelines for the calculation of annual incentive-based compensation, subject to compensation committee oversight and modification. On May 4, 2009, the board approved the fiscal year 2010 corporate objectives, and on April 6, 2009, the compensation committee approved the performance incentive plan for fiscal year 2010. At the meeting, our chief executive officer presented the compensation committee with a list of employees eligible to participate in the performance incentive plan for that year.

For fiscal year 2010, Mr. Hadeed's performance-based cash incentive award was based only on corporate financial results, as measured against specific pre-determined corporate financial objectives. For performance incentive plan awards for fiscal year 2010, the following percentages of Mr. Hadeed's performance-based cash incentive award were based on our achievement of the following corporate financial objectives: product gross profit 20%, service gross profit 30% and earnings per share 50%. All other performance incentive plan participants, including our other named executive officers, were evaluated 50% on the achievement of corporate financial objectives and 50% on individual performance as measured against approved objectives. The corporate financial objectives were the same as those utilized to measure our chief executive officer's performance. As described below, the corporate financial objectives are separated into five performance levels. Performance-based cash incentive awards can range from a minimum of 0% to a maximum of 150% of the targeted award depending on the level of performance achieved. An individual must achieve at least the minimum performance level against individual performance objectives to be eligible for any portion of the performance-based cash incentive award.

Generally, the target level for corporate financial results is set in alignment with our annual operating plan. Payment of the awards under the performance incentive plan is based upon the achievement of such objectives for the current year. With respect to the corporate performance portion of the payment award, participants in the performance incentive plan receive:

No payment for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award unless we achieve the minimum corporate performance level.

Table of Contents

A pro rata payment, less than 100% of the target award opportunity, for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve or exceed the minimum corporate performance level but do not achieve the target corporate performance level.

A payment of 100% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve the target corporate performance level.

A pro rata payment of at least 100% but less than 150% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we exceed the target corporate performance level but do not achieve the maximum corporate performance level.

A payment of 150% of the target award opportunity for the corporate financial objective portion of the performance incentive plan award if we achieve or exceed the maximum corporate performance level.

Upon completion of the fiscal year, the chief executive officer and chief financial officer review our performance against each pre-established corporate financial objective under the performance incentive plan, comparing the fiscal year results to the pre-determined minimum, target and maximum levels for each objective, and an overall percentage for the corporate financial objectives is calculated. The results of our financial performance are then provided to, and reviewed by, the board.

For fiscal year 2010, we achieved the following levels of performance for each of the pre-determined corporate financial objectives: product gross profit 91%; service gross profit 92%; and earnings per share 90%. On April 5, 2010, the compensation committee reviewed our corporate performance against the established objectives. In addition, the compensation committee accepted the recommendation of our chief executive officer and our chief financial officer to consider certain additional elements when determining the final achievement performance level against the corporate objectives. Based on their recommendation, the compensation committee also considered: our overall performance during the economic downturn, our success increasing our presence in the wind energy industry and our January 2010 acquisition of United Scale & Engineering Corporation. Based on its consideration of these additional factors, the compensation committee approved an adjustment which had the effect of increasing, for all participants (including the named executive officers), the aggregate amount of the performance incentive plan payments by $230,000 and the aggregate amount of the employee profit sharing payments by $61,000.

With respect to the individual performance portion of the payment award, our chief executive officer evaluates each officer's accomplishments relative to their individual objectives, calculates a performance rating and provides summaries of performance and the award amount to the compensation committee based on the performance incentive plan previously approved by the committee. Depending on the named executive officer's position, individual performance goals for our named executive officers could include product segment gross margin, calibration sales, calibration units per direct labor hour, calibration quality measures and operating cash flow, as well as other objectives designed to improve our efficiency, profitability, quality, customer service or performance.

Following the compensation committee's review of the achievement of corporate financial objectives and individual performance objectives for fiscal year 2010, the compensation committee awarded the following amounts of performance-based cash incentive compensation to each of our named executive officers: Mr. Hadeed $105,000, Mr. Zimmer $80,268, Mr. Hennessy $62,821, Mr. Woychick $64,402 and Mr. Stellrecht $61,881. These incentive awards were earned based on performance during fiscal year 2010 and were paid on May 21, 2010. The amounts earned are reflected in the Non-Equity Incentive Plan Compensation column of the 2010 Summary Compensation Table on page 26.

Long-Term Equity Incentive Compensation

Long-term incentive compensation has historically been equity-based and is designed to align the interests of our named executive officers and other key employees with our long-term performance. Long-term incentive compensation also provides an opportunity for our named executive officers and certain designated key employees to increase their ownership in us through stock options and restricted stock awards, which align the interests of the recipients with the interests of our shareholders, as well as providing an employee-retention benefit.

Table of Contents

The Transcat, Inc. 2003 Incentive Plan, as amended, which was approved by our shareholders, gives us the flexibility to design equity-based incentive compensation programs to promote achievement of corporate goals by key employees, encourage the growth of shareholder value and allow key employees to participate in our long-term growth and profitability.

The compensation committee annually evaluates the use of equity-based awards and intends to continue to use this type of award as an integral component of our overall executive compensation program. This evaluation also includes evaluating the mix and purpose of stock options, restricted stock and other equity-based awards. As with the other elements of total compensation, the long-term equity compensation levels of comparable companies are considered when determining appropriate long-term equity compensation levels for our named executive officers.

Past equity awards under the 2003 Incentive Plan have included stock options and restricted stock. Although we do not have an established policy regarding grants of stock option and restricted stock awards to named executive officers and other key employees, we have typically made such awards on an annual basis. On May 5, 2008, the compensation committee approved the use of performance-based restricted stock awards in place of stock options as a primary component of executive compensation. The compensation committee made this decision based on, among other things, their continued focus to grant performance-based equity compensation in a manner that is less dilutive.

On April 6, 2009, in lieu of stock options and time-based restricted stock awards, the compensation committee approved the grant of performance-based restricted stock awards to our executive officers, including our named executive officers, as follows: Mr. Hadeed 33,506, Mr. Zimmer 6,485 shares, Mr. Hennessy 4,798, Mr. Woychick 7,566 shares and Mr. Stellrecht 7,144 shares. The number of restricted shares granted to each named executive officer is generally targeted to a specific dollar amount that is reviewed periodically. Therefore, as our share price increases the shares awarded will typically decrease. In addition, in granting these awards the compensation committee took into account each named executive officer's progress towards achieving their respective stock ownership objective described below. The shares underlying the performance-based restricted stock awards will vest after three years based on our achievement of specific cumulative fully-diluted earnings per share objectives, which we refer to as EPS, over the eligible three-year period ending in fiscal year 2012. At such time, the holders of restricted stock will receive the following percentage of their respective restricted stock award if we meet certain pre-determined EPS thresholds:

Maximum cumulative EPS 125%

Target cumulative EPS 100%

Midpoint cumulative EPS 75%

Minimum cumulative EPS 50%

Performance at the minimum, midpoint and target levels must be achieved to earn that award level. Awards will be pro-rated in the event performance is above the target level but less than the maximum. Failure to achieve the minimum earnings per share will result in no shares awarded.

Previously, in May 2008, the compensation committee granted performance-based restricted stock awards to our named executive officers. Similar to the April 2009 awards, the May 2008 performance-based restricted stock awards also vested only upon the achievement of specific cumulative fully-diluted earnings per share objectives. It is not anticipated that there will be a payout of the performance-based awards issued in May 2008 due to the fact that our attainment of cumulative EPS objectives, as summarized below, has been heavily impacted by the economy.

Expected Performance

	Grant Percentage of Target	Years Completed	Year Remaining
2008	0%	2	1

In addition to recommending the grant of long-term equity incentive awards to our other named executive officers, our chief executive officer may recommend to the compensation committee that an equity-based award be granted to newly-hired or promoted executives at any compensation committee meeting. During fiscal year 2010, our chief executive officer made one such recommendation upon the hiring of our vice president of human resources in December 2009.

On April 5, 2010, the compensation committee approved an option for those executive officers, including our named executive officers, who have achieved their stock ownership objective, to irrevocably elect, in advance of an award, to receive an equivalent award in cash utilizing the same metrics as the restricted stock award. One executive officer and none of the two eligible named executive officers made such an election for the April 5, 2010 awards.

In addition, on April 5, 2010, the compensation committee approved performance-based restricted stock awards to senior executives, including our named executive officers, as follows: Mr. Hadeed 16,790 shares, Mr. Zimmer 4,034 shares, Mr. Hennessy 4,034 shares, Mr. Woychick 3,529 shares and Mr. Stellrecht 3,529 shares. The performance-based restricted stock awards will vest after three years subject to our achieving specific cumulative fully-diluted earnings per share objectives over the eligible three-year period ending in fiscal year 2013. In granting these awards, the compensation committee also took into account each named executive officer's progress towards achieving the stock ownership objectives described below. Also on April 5, 2010, in recognition of his leadership during a particularly challenging year, the compensation committee awarded Mr. Hadeed a restricted stock award of 3,109 shares that vested immediately.

Retirement Benefits

We have established certain retirement benefits for our employees, including our named executive officers, which we and the compensation committee believe are consistent with our goals of enhancing long-term performance by our employees. The costs of retirement benefits described below for our named executive officers are included in the All Other Compensation column of the 2010 Summary Compensation Table on page 26.

The Long Term Savings and Deferred Profit Sharing Plan. The Long Term Savings and Deferred Profit Sharing Plan is a tax-qualified defined contribution plan pursuant to which all U.S.-based employees, including our named executive officers, are eligible to participate if they meet certain qualifications. All employees are able to contribute the lesser of 100% of their annual salary or the limit prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service to the plan on a before-tax basis. All participant contributions to the plan are fully-vested immediately, and all company matching contributions vest at rate of 33.3% per year of qualifying service. The plan also contains a discretionary deferred profit sharing component that was not utilized in the last ten years, including fiscal year 2010.

Through March 2009, we matched 50% of the first 6% of pay that employees contributed to the plan. We suspended our matching contribution in March 2009. Effective March 28, 2010, we reinstated our matching contribution at the same level as was in effect prior to the suspension.

Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation. We do not have any non-qualified defined contribution or other non-qualified deferred compensation plans.

Post-Retirement Health Plans. All non-officer employees in the U.S. are eligible under certain conditions to participate in a post-retirement health benefit plan. Officers, including our named executive officers, our corporate controller and certain former officers, are eligible to participate in a post-retirement health benefit plan that includes dental and long-term care plans.

The post-retirement health benefit plan for officers is a group health plan that provides benefits to eligible retired officers and their spouses. There are three kinds of benefits provided under the plan: (1) long-term care insurance coverage; (2) medical and dental insurance coverage; and (3) medical and dental premium reimbursement benefits. Officers who retire from active employment with us on or after December 23, 2006 at age 55 or older with five or more years of continuous service and who do not work in any full-time employment (30 hours or more per week) after retirement are eligible to participate in the plan.

Under our post-retirement health benefit plan for officers, we provide long-term care insurance coverage for all eligible officers. An actively employed eligible officer may enroll the officer's spouse in long-term care insurance coverage on the date the officer is first eligible for coverage. The long-term care insurance coverage benefit under this plan consists of our payment of the premium for the long-term care insurance coverage. Regardless of retirement, our payment for coverage continues for the ten-year period following commencement of long-term care insurance coverage, at which point the policy is designed to be fully paid up. The long-term care insurance coverage is provided under individual insurance policies owned by the officer and eligible spouse. Eligibility for coverage under a policy is subject to the discretion of the insurance carrier through which coverage is provided and we do not guarantee that any officer or eligible spouse will qualify for coverage. Currently, Mr. Hadeed and Mr. Stellrecht are the only named executive officers who qualify to participate in this plan.

Table of Contents

Under our post-retirement health benefit plan for officers, we also provide subsidized medical and dental insurance coverage benefits for all eligible officers. Officers who meet such requirements may also enroll their spouse in coverage. Generally, subsidized medical and dental insurance coverage benefits begin when the officer retires after reaching age 60, and consist of contributions to the cost of coverage up to a maximum capped amount determined by us. Subsidized medical insurance coverage benefits terminate when the retired officer reaches age 65, at which point we provide limited premium reimbursement for medical insurance coverage, also up to a maximum capped amount. Depending on the terms of the plan, subsidized dental insurance coverage benefits may continue after the date that the retired officer reaches age 65.

Perquisites and Other Personal Benefits

We provide our named executive officers with perquisites and other personal benefits that both we and the compensation committee believe are reasonable and consistent with our overall compensation objectives and that better enable us to attract and retain superior employees for key positions. The compensation committee periodically reviews the levels of perquisites and other personal benefits provided to our named executive officers. The costs for the personal benefits described below for our named executive officers are included in the All Other Compensation column of the 2010 Summary Compensation Table on page 26.

Automobile Allowance. Currently, eight officers, including all of our named executive officers, are provided a monthly automobile allowance.

Club Membership Allowance. We reimburse Mr. Hadeed for 100% of the cost of the membership dues related to a club of his choice. Mr. Hadeed's club membership is maintained for business entertainment, but may be used for personal use. The entire amount has been included in the compensation disclosures that follow, although we believe that only a portion of this cost represents a perquisite.

Long-Term Disability Coverage

Our current supplemental long-term disability plan covers individuals up to a maximum gross salary of $215,000, which is significantly below Mr. Hadeed's base salary. In order to provide Mr. Hadeed with the same benefit coverage as others, we would need to either raise the limit of the base salary covered (at a significant increase to the overall plan premiums) or provide a supplemental individual long-term disability plan for Mr. Hadeed for the difference between his base salary and the maximum salary recognized by the current plan. The compensation committee approved a supplemental individual plan for Mr. Hadeed that entitles him to a payment of $7,000 per month until he is approved by a medical doctor to return to work.

Stock Ownership Objectives

In order to more closely align the interests of our executive officers, including our named executive officers, with the interests of our shareholders, on May 5, 2008, the compensation committee established minimum stock ownership objectives that require our executive officers to work towards acquiring and maintaining specific levels of equity ownership interests in our common stock within a specified time frame.

A summary of our current stock ownership objectives for our named executive officers is as follows:

Chief executive officer

Common stock with a value equal to at least 2.50 times his annual base salary.

Other named executive officers

Common stock with a value equal to at least 1.50 times his annual base salary.

We expect our executive officers to be in compliance with their stock ownership objectives within five years of being named to an executive position and to make regular progress toward achieving their objectives. The compensation committee monitors the progress made by our named executive officers in achieving their objectives and has approved a potential reduction in cash incentive awards under our performance incentive plan should progress towards the achievement of the objectives not be evident.

Table of Contents

Recoupment Policy for Incentive Compensation

We have a recoupment policy (sometimes referred to as a clawback) covering incentive compensation payments to any of our employees, including our named executive officers. The recoupment policy provides that, in appropriate circumstances, the board of directors will require reimbursement of any annual or long-term incentive payment to an employee where all of the following occur: (1) the payment was based in whole or in part on achieving certain financial results that were subsequently the subject of a restatement of our consolidated financial statements; (2) the board of directors determines that the employee engaged in intentional misconduct or fraud that caused or substantially contributed to the need for the financial statement restatement; and (3) no payment or a lower payment would have been made to the employee based on the restated financial results.

Taxation and Accounting Compensation Consideration

The Impact of Deductibility of Compensation. Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, places a limit of $1,000,000 on the amount of compensation to certain officers that we may deduct as a business expense in any tax year unless, among other things, the compensation is performance-based and has been approved by shareholders. To qualify as performance-based compensation, the amount of compensation must depend on such officer's performance against pre-determined performance goals established by a committee that consists solely of at least two outside directors who have never been employed by us or our subsidiaries. All members of the compensation committee qualify as outside directors under this definition.

Awards of stock options and restricted stock granted under our 2003 Incentive Plan constitute qualified performance-based compensation eligible for this exception. The compensation committee considers the applicability of Section 162(m) to our ongoing compensation arrangements, but believes it is appropriate to retain the flexibility to authorize payments of compensation that may not qualify for deductibility under Section 162(m) if, in the compensation committee's judgment, it is in our best interest to do so.

Accounting for Stock-Based-Compensation. The compensation committee also considers the accounting and cash flow implications of executive compensation. In our financial statements, we record salaries and performance-based compensation incentives as expenses in the amount paid, or to be paid, to the executive officers. Accounting regulations also require us to record an expense in our financial statements for equity awards, even though equity awards are not paid as cash to employees. The grant date fair value and accounting expense of equity awards to employees is calculated in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 718 Compensation Stock Compensation, which we refer to as FASB ASC Topic 718. However, the compensation committee believes that the advantages of equity compensation, as discussed elsewhere in this Compensation Discussion and Analysis, counterbalances the non-cash accounting expense associated with such equity compensation.

Compensation Committee Report²

The compensation committee, which is comprised entirely of independent directors, has reviewed and discussed with management the Compensation Discussion and Analysis included in this proxy statement in accordance with Item 402(b) of Regulation S-K, as promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission. Based on such review and discussion, the committee recommended to the board of directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this proxy statement.

² The material in this report is not soliciting material, is not deemed to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and is not incorporated by reference in any of our filings under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, whether made before or after the date hereof and irrespective of any general incorporation language in any such filings.

Table of ContentsRisk Considerations in Our Compensation Program

Our board maintains active oversight of the material risks that we face through the process described under the heading entitled "The Board's Role in Risk Oversight" on page 13. As part of that process, the compensation committee is charged with the management of risks arising from our compensation policies and practices. Consistent with new Securities and Exchange Commission disclosure requirements, the compensation committee conducted a review of our compensation programs to determine whether our compensation programs create risks that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our company.

This compensation risk assessment examined the compensation programs applicable to all of our employees, not just our named executive officers. This assessment included a review of the primary features of our compensation policies and practices and the process for determining employee compensation, as well as consideration of our risk mitigation policies and programs. Based on that review, the compensation committee believes that our compensation policies and programs, including our risk mitigation policies, such as our stock ownership requirements and our recoupment policy, are designed to achieve their goals within an acceptable risk profile, and do not create risks that are reasonably likely to have a material adverse effect on our company.

Our named executive officers did not exercise any stock options during fiscal year 2010. In addition, no shares of restricted stock held by our named executive officers vested during fiscal year 2010.

Change-in-Control Arrangements

We are a party to a change of control severance agreement, as amended, with Mr. Hadeed. This agreement is designed to promote Mr. Hadeed's continuity with us.

A change of control occurs under Mr. Hadeed's change of control severance agreement upon the occurrence of any of the following events: (i) any person or group acquires more than fifty percent of the total fair market value or total voting power of our outstanding common stock; (ii) any person or group acquires more than thirty-five percent of the total voting power of our outstanding common stock during a 12-month period; (iii) a majority of our directors are replaced during a 12-month period by directors that are not endorsed by the board of directors; or (iv) any person or group acquires forty percent or more of our total assets during a 12-month period.

Pursuant to this agreement, if a change in control of the company occurs and Mr. Hadeed's employment is terminated for any reason (other than voluntary resignation, death, disability, or retirement, or termination by the company for certain reasons) during the period beginning with the agreement for or announcement of a proposed change in control and ending 24 months following the change in control, we would be required to continue to pay him his full salary and bonus and continue his benefits for a period of 24 months following the date of termination of employment, and all stock grants, stock options and similar arrangements would immediately vest.

Assuming Mr. Hadeed's employment was terminated on a change in control as of March 27, 2010, he would be entitled to receive:

his annual base salary of $285,000 for 24 months;

his target annual bonus of $156,750 for 24 months;

the value of his annual benefits and allowances in the amount of $45,000 for 24 months;

the value of his unvested performance-based restricted stock award in the amount of $382,033, that being the target value based on the closing price of our common stock on March 27, 2010;

the income tax gross-up on his unvested performance-based restricted stock award in the amount of $267,423; and the value of all unvested options, which would vest immediately. The difference between the exercise price of each of Mr. Hadeed's unvested options and the closing price of our common stock as of March 27, 2010 is $512,902.

Table of Contents

In the aggregate, Mr. Hadeed would receive $1,207,358 under his change of control severance agreement over a two year period assuming he was terminated on March 27, 2010.

In addition, upon a change in control of the company, each of our other named executive officers would be entitled to immediate vesting of all unvested stock options and performance-based restricted stock.

Director Compensation

Cash Compensation

Each of our non-employee directors receives an annual cash retainer of $10,000 per year, $1,500 for attendance at each board meeting, and $500 for attendance at each committee meeting on which the director serves. Our chairman of the board, lead director and each of our directors who serve as the chairman of a board committee receive additional fees for such service. For fiscal year 2010, the chairman of the board received an additional $20,000, the lead director received an additional $10,000, the chairman of the audit committee received an additional $5,000 and the chairman of the compensation committee and the corporate governance and nominating each received an additional $2,500. Once our board of directors determines that our chairman of the board is independent pursuant to the independence standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market, the lead director position will be eliminated and the chairman will receive an additional $30,000 for a total annual retainer of $40,000.

Mr. Bradley is also reimbursed for travel expenses for board and committee meetings he attends in person. During fiscal year 2010, the aggregate amount of such reimbursements received by Mr. Bradley was $5,283.

Equity Compensation

All warrants authorized for issuance under the Amended and Restated Directors Warrant Plan have been granted. Outstanding warrants continue to vest and are exercisable in accordance with the terms of the plan.

In August 2006, our shareholders approved an amendment to the 2003 Incentive Plan permitting directors to participate in this plan.

Each of our non-employee directors is paid an annual cash payment of $13,200 in lieu of an annual stock option award at the board meeting following our annual meeting of shareholders. In addition, newly-elected non-employee directors are eligible to receive an initial five-year stock option grant of 10,000 shares of common stock pursuant to the 2003 Incentive Plan that will vest immediately; however, 2,000 shares will expire each year if unexercised.

Stock Ownership Objectives

In order to more closely align the interests of our directors with the interests of our shareholders, on May 5, 2008, the compensation committee established minimum stock ownership objectives that require our directors to work towards acquiring and maintaining specific levels of equity ownership interests in our common stock within a specified time frame. The stock ownership objective for directors is common stock valued at 2.5 times their annual cash retainer.

We expect our directors to be in compliance with the stock ownership objectives within five years of the adoption of the objectives or for those individuals who subsequently become directors, from the date they are elected to the board. The compensation committee monitors the progress made by directors in achieving their stock ownership objectives.

SECTION 16(a) BENEFICIAL OWNERSHIP REPORTING COMPLIANCE

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, requires our directors, officers and greater-than-10% shareholders to file with the Securities and Exchange Commission reports of ownership and changes in ownership regarding their holdings in company securities. For purposes of Section 16(a), our officers are Mr. Hadeed, Mr. Zimmer and Mr. Hennessy.

During fiscal year 2010, all of our directors and officers complied in a timely manner with the filing requirements of Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, except for Mr. Zimmer who filed one late report disclosing eight transactions. In making this statement, we have relied on the written representations of our directors and officers, and copies of the reports that they have filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Policies and Procedures for Review, Approval or Ratification of Related Person Transactions

Our board of directors has adopted a written policy for transactions with related persons. Pursuant to the policy, the audit committee reviews and, when appropriate, approves any relationships or transactions in which the company and our directors and executive officers or their immediate family members are participants. Existing related party transactions, if any, are reviewed at least annually by the audit committee. Any director with an interest in a related party transaction is expected to recuse him or herself from any consideration of the matter.

During its review of such relationships and transactions, the audit committee considers (1) the nature of the related person's interest in the transaction; (2) the material terms of the transaction, including the amount and type of transaction; (3) the importance of the transaction to the related person and to the company; (4) whether the transaction would impair the judgment of a director or executive officer to act in the best interest of the company; and (5) any other matters the committee deems appropriate.

In addition, to the extent that the transaction involves an independent director, consideration is also given, as applicable, to the listing standards of the Nasdaq Stock Market and other relevant rules related to independence.
