Item 9. REGULATION FD DISCLOSURE

The following statement is being furnished by the Company under the provisions of Regulation FD:

On October 25, 2001, in the matter of Becton, Dickinson and Company, et al. v. Usrey (Case No. 2-00-052-CV, Court of Appeals, Second District of Texas), the Court denied plaintiffs' motion that it reconsider its earlier ruling of August 16, 2001, which reversed the trial court's certification of a class in this case. One judge wrote a separate opinion stating that, in her view, the lawsuit should have been dismissed altogether.

Becton, Dickinson and Company believes that the Court of Appeals was correct in standing by its ruling that class action certification was not appropriate in this case. The Company will continue to defend this and other pending matters vigorously.
