violations of, or prohibiting activities subject to, federal or state securities.

On September 24, 2002 the SEC filed a civil complaint, Civil Action No. 1:02CV01872 (D.D.C.), in a lawsuit styled Securities and Exchange Commission v. Basic Capital Management, Inc. and Gene E. Phillips and the SEC issued an Order Instituting Proceedings Pursuant to Section 21C of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, Making Findings and Imposing a Cease-and-Desist Order In The Matter of Basic Capital Management, Inc., Nevada Sea Investments, Inc., International Health Products, Inc., One Realco Corporation, TacCO Financial, Inc. and Gene E. Phillips (Administrative Proceedings File No. 3-10898, Administrative Procedure Release No. 46538). In anticipation of the Order, Mr. Phillips, BCM and four corporations affiliated with Mr. Phillips or the trust for his children that indirectly owns BCM (Nevada Sea Investments, Inc., International Health Products, Inc., One Realco Corporation and TacCO Financial, Inc.) (together, the "Respondents") submitted an Offer of Settlement and consented, without admitting or denying any of the allegations, to the entry of a judgment ordering Mr. Phillips and BCM to pay a civil penalty of $850,000. The Order finds, among other things, that the Respondents violated Section 10(b) and 13(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Rules 10b-5, 13d-1 and 13d-2 promulgated thereunder, by failing to timely file reports required under Section 13(d) with respect to the securities of Greenbriar Corporation. The Order requires the Respondents to cease and desist from committing or causing any violation of Sections 10(b) and 13(d) of the Exchange Act and Rules 10b-5, 13d-1 and 13d-2 promulgated thereunder.

The investigation that resulted in the Order arose from an investigation by the SEC into the trading of the stock of Greenbriar Corporation. Between May 1996 and June 1997, BCM, Nevada Sea, International Health, One Realco and TacCO Financial, together with American Realty Trust, Inc., a predecessor to, and current subsidiary of, ARL ("ART"), collectively purchased over one million shares of Greenbriar Corporation, a company listed on the American Stock Exchange. Mr. Phillips had substantial contact with the management of BCM and had significant influence on its advisory services and investment decisions as well as the investment decisions of the other Respondent entities and ART. Although none of the Respondents purchased more than five percent of Greenbriar's outstanding shares, their holdings together with the holdings of ART amounted to approximately 16.1% by June 1997. Between May 1996 and June 1997, the Respondents and ART accounted for approximately 54% of the total trading volume in Greenbriar stock. On particular days during the period, the Respondents bought all the Greenbriar stock traded.

Throughout the period in question, the Respondent entities deposited their Greenbriar shares in margin accounts and borrowed against those margin accounts to fund additional stock purchases. International Health, One RealCo and TacCO Financial also used funds drawn from lines of credit with BCM to finance their Greenbriar stock purchases. Greenbriar's stock prices rose until the second half of 1997, which provided the Respondent entities with additional purchasing power. The market price of the Greenbriar shares declined throughout the second half of 1997 and throughout 1998 and 1999. As a result, the Respondent entities were required to pay down their margin loans secured by the Greenbriar stock. The Respondent entities repaid all of these loans in full without selling any of the Greenbriar stock.

Because BCM and Mr. Phillips had the ability to influence investments made by the other Respondents and ART, the Order finds the Respondents collectively constituted a group for the purposes of Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act. Accordingly, the Respondents should have filed a Schedule 13D within ten days after they and ART collectively acquired five percent of Greenbriar's outstanding shares in July 1996. Additionally, the Order finds the Respondents should have made at least ten amendments to the Schedule 13D between August 1996 and June 1997, which represents one amendment per the collective acquisition of one percent or more of Greenbriar's outstanding shares. The Respondents did not file a Schedule 13D until April 9, 1998, which was after the SEC staff's investigation had commenced. Accordingly, the Order finds that Respondents violated Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act and Rules 13d-1 and 13d-2 promulgated thereunder.

The Order also finds that by their failure to comply with Section 13(d) on a timely basis, the Respondents misled the broker-dealers who extended them margin loans secured by Greenbriar stock. The broker-dealers who extended such loans did so without knowing that the Respondents controlled as much as 16.1% of Greenbriar's outstanding shares. This created the impression that the market for Greenbriar shares was deeper and more liquid than it was in fact. This information was material because it would have affected the manner in which the broker-dealers evaluated the market for Greenbriar shares and the liquidity of the shares pledged as collateral for the margin loans. Although the broker-dealers did not suffer any losses as a result of the margin loans extended to the Respondents, the Order finds the Respondents' failure to provide the broker-dealers with information required by Section 13(d) constituted a violation of Section 10(b) of the Exchange Act and Rule 10b-5 promulgated thereunder.
