Summary of proxy proposals

All Intel stockholders, including Intel employees who own shares of stock, have the right to vote on proposals outlined in the proxy prior to the stockholders meeting. The proxy asks stockholders to vote on the following proposals:

1. Elect the 11 nominees to the Board of Directors.
2. Ratify the selection of Ernst & Young LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the current year.
3. Amend and extend the 2006 Equity Incentive Plan.
4. Approve an employee stock option exchange program.
5. Advisory vote on executive compensation.
6. Act on stockholder proposal: Cumulative voting.
7. Act on stockholder proposal: Human right to water.

The company is recommending a vote FOR all the nominees listed, FOR Proposals two through five, and AGAINST Proposals six and seven. Please refer to the proxy materials for more detailed explanation of these proposals.

How you will learn about the voting process

Stockholders may receive multiple sets of voting information if they hold Intel stock in multiple brokerage accounts. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Purpose of the Annual Stockholders Meeting

Companies hold formal annual meetings of stockholders to elect directors and to vote on other items on the agenda.

What is a proxy statement?

A proxy statement describes the proposals presented to the stockholders for their vote, and includes information on how to vote.

Intel has approximately three million stockholders, though only a few hundred actually attend the Annual Stockholders Meeting in person. Most stockholders vote on the proposals before the Annual Stockholders Meeting. Each share of stock entitles the owner to:

Edgar Filing: INTEL CORP - Form DEFA14A

One vote for each of the directors being elected. There are eleven directors nominated in 2009, so you get eleven votes, one for each director nominee; and

One vote on each of the other proposals on the agenda.
