MicroFinancial Incorporated (the Company) is unable to file its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2005 by its prescribed due date for the following reasons: As part of a routine review by the Staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission of the Company's periodic filings, in September 2005 the Company received a number of comments from the Staff. The Company believes it has resolved a number of those comments, but comments relating primarily to its historical method of calculating the residual value of its leased equipment and its allowance for credit losses have not yet been resolved by the prescribed due date of its Form 10-K. The Company is currently engaged in a discussion with the Staff regarding these matters. The Company believes that its methodologies for both the residual value calculation and credit loss allowances are appropriate, but it cannot at this time judge whether the Staff will agree or when, or how, such comments will be resolved. The Company currently plans to file its Form 10-K as soon as possible after the comments with the Staff are resolved.
