PREFERRED STOCK INVESTMENT AND LETTER OF INTENT RELATING TO POTENTIAL
CONVERTIBLE SECURED NOTE FINANCING

On November 14, 2002, E & C Capital Partners, a privately held investment holding company owned by Michael S. Egan, our Chairman and CEO and a major shareholder, and Edward A. Cespedes, our President and a Director, entered into a non-binding letter of intent with theglobe.com to provide $500,000 of new financing via the purchase of shares of a new Series F Preferred Stock of theglobe.com. On March 28, 2003, the parties signed a Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement and other related documentation pertaining to the investment and closed on the investment (the "Preferred Stock Investment"). Pursuant to the Preferred Stock Purchase Agreement, E & C Capital Partners received 333,333 shares of Series F Preferred Stock convertible into shares of the Company's Common Stock at a price of $0.03 per share. The conversion price is subject to adjustment upon the occurrence of certain events, including downward adjustment on a weighted-average basis in the event the Company should issue securities at a purchase price below $0.03 per share. If fully converted, and without regard to the anti-dilutive adjustment mechanisms applicable to the Series F Preferred Stock, an aggregate of approximately 16.7 million shares of Common Stock could be issued. The Series F Preferred Stock has a liquidation preference of $1.50 per share, will pay a dividend at the rate of 8% per annum and entitles the holder to vote on an "as converted" basis with the holders of Common Stock. In addition, as part of the $500,000 investment, E & C Capital Partners received warrants to purchase approximately 3.3 million shares of theglobe.com Common Stock at an exercise price of $0.125 per share. The warrant is exercisable at any time on or before March 28, 2013. E & C Capital Partners is entitled to certain demand registration rights in connection with its investment. The Company intends to use the proceeds from the investment for its general working capital requirements. Michael Egan and certain companies he controls are the Company's largest shareholder and if he elected to convert all of the Series F Preferred Stock and exercise all of his outstanding vested options and warrants, he would own approximately 58.5% of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of common stock.

As a result of the issuance of the Series F Preferred Stock and the warrants at the applicable conversion and exercise prices, certain anti-dilution provisions applicable to previously outstanding warrants to acquire approximately 4.1 million shares of theglobe.com common stock have been triggered. Like many types of warrants commonly issued, these outstanding warrants to acquire shares of the Company's common stock include weighted average anti-dilution provisions which result in a lowering of the exercise price, and an increase in the number, of warrants to acquire shares of the Company's common stock anytime shares of common stock are issued (or options or other securities exercisable or convertible into common stock) for a price per share less than the then exercise price of the warrants. As a result of the Preferred Stock Investment, the exercise price was lowered from approximately $1.39 to $.96 per share on these warrants and the number of shares issueable upon exercise was proportionally increased from approximately 4.1 million shares to 5.375 million shares. The total number of warrants now outstanding, including those issued in the Preferred Stock Investment, is approximately 10.526 million.

Concurrently with the closing of the preferred stock investment, Michael S. Egan and Edward A. Cespedes entered into a non-binding letter of intent to loan up to $1 million to the Company pursuant to a convertible secured loan facility. The loan facility would be convertible into shares of the Company's common stock at the rate of $.09 per share, which if fully funded and converted, would result in the issuance of approximately 11.1 million shares. In addition, assuming the loan is fully funded, it is anticipated that the investors would be issued a warrant to acquire approximately 2.2 million shares of theglobe.com Common Stock at an exercise price of $.15 per share. The convertible debt financing is subject to a number of closing conditions, including execution of definitive documentation, satisfactory resolution of certain Company liabilities and other tax and business considerations. The financing is also subject to completion of a loan facility and related documentation satisfactory to the parties. If consummated, the convertible debt financing will result in substantial dilution of the number of securities of theglobe.com either issued and outstanding or obtainable upon conversion of the debt or exercise of the warrant. There can be no assurance, if and when, the financing will be consummated.
