DON'T BE FOOLED BY TRANSATLANTIC'S AND ALLIED WORLD'S MISLEADING STATEMENTS

ISS RECOMMENDS STOCKHOLDERS VOTE THE BLUE PROXY CARD "AGAINST" THE INFERIOR ALLIED WORLD TAKEOVER

VALIDUS' PROPOSAL OFFERS SUPERIOR VALUE TO TRANSATLANTIC STOCKHOLDERS

PRESERVE YOUR RIGHT TO RECEIVE GREATER VALUE FOR YOUR TRANSATLANTIC SHARES

Dear Fellow Transatlantic Stockholder,

As we have previously said, we believe that Validus has made a Superior Proposal that is a better alternative for Transatlantic stockholders than Allied World's proposed takeover. Our Superior Proposal has consistently provided Transatlantic stockholders with greater market value and we believe greater potential for future upside than the inferior Allied World takeover. We are not alone in our view that the Allied World takeover proposal is not the best option for Transatlantic stockholders. Institutional Shareholder Services ("ISS"), the nation's leading independent proxy voting and corporate governance advisory firm, recently recommended that Transatlantic stockholders vote against the Allied World transaction.

As a Transatlantic stockholder, we believe that your interests are best served by preserving your right to receive greater value for your shares. We urge you to vote AGAINST the Allied World takeover proposal by using the BLUE proxy card that has been mailed to you by Validus, either by signing, dating and returning it in the postage-paid envelope provided or voting by telephone or Internet.

Leading proxy advisory service recommends that Transatlantic stockholders VOTE AGAINST the inferior Allied World takeover proposal

We have expressed concern to you several times that the Allied World inferior proposal offers you lower market value for your shares than the value available under Validus' Superior Proposal. You must vote down Allied World's inferior proposal to retain your right to obtain greater value for your shares. Among other things, ISS reflected this view in its report, saying:

"Upon review of the negotiation process and the premia offered by the competing bidders, there is compelling reason to believe that for TRH shareholders, there is better chance of maximizing the value of their investment by voting down the AWH transaction."

Additionally, Validus' Superior Proposal provides you with potential for future upside. ISS supported this view, saying:

"An equity-based transaction with VR would still provide the merged company with a strong management team and allow shareholders to participate in potential upside of a strong combined company."

We believe the Transatlantic board has failed to maximize value for you by continuing to pursue Allied World's inferior proposal. In its report, ISS said that the Transatlantic board's reliance on a market check from 2009 "is clearly an inadequate substitute for a market check at the time the AWH transaction was being negotiated." ISS added:

"We note that it is especially significant that VR, unaware of the TRH negotiations, made an unsolicited but friendly approach to acquire the company, which should have signalled that there [was] some need to evaluate potential market interest in other transactions which might bring even higher value for TRH shareholders."

We agree with ISS that: "Given the broad spectrum of choices available, the deal with AWH is not an obvious choice."

Validus' Proposal Offers Superior Value to Transatlantic Stockholders

We believe that Validus' Proposal is clearly superior to the inferior Allied World takeover proposal:

1. Validus has consistently provided greater market value than the inferior Allied World takeover.
2. Validus' common shares represent what we believe is a superior currency to Allied World's common shares.
3. We believe that a combination of Validus and Transatlantic would be a superior company to a combination of Allied World and Transatlantic on the important metrics of strategic fit, market position, structural flexibility and leadership in reinsurance, including in the property catastrophe market.
4. A combined Validus and Transatlantic would have significant capital availability that would be actively managed to the benefit of the combined company's shareholders.
5. The combination of Validus and Transatlantic would yield significant synergies.
6. Validus offers Transatlantic a highly experienced, first-class management team.

Protect your right to obtain greater value for your shares

In order to preserve your right to obtain greater value for your Transatlantic shares, Transatlantic stockholders must vote down the inferior Allied World takeover.

We urge you to vote AGAINST the Allied World inferior proposal by using the enclosed BLUE proxy card to vote AGAINST ALL proposals by signing, dating and returning the BLUE proxy card in the postage-paid envelope provided or voting by telephone or Internet. Only by voting AGAINST the Allied World inferior proposal will you preserve your opportunity to obtain the superior value offered by Validus' proposal.

REJECT THE PROPOSED ALLIED WORLD TAKEOVER!

PRESERVE YOUR RIGHT TO RECEIVE GREATER VALUE FOR YOUR SHARES!

VOTE YOUR BLUE PROXY CARD TODAY "AGAINST" THE ALLIED WORLD TAKEOVER!

Your vote is extremely important, regardless of how many or how few Transatlantic shares you own. To ensure your vote is counted, please use the enclosed BLUE proxy card by signing, dating and returning it in the postage-paid envelope provided or vote by telephone or Internet.

We urge you not to sign or return any proxy card you may receive from Transatlantic.
