ARCADIS AWARDED TWO U.S. NAVY CONTRACTS TOTALLING NEARLY $4 MILLION

ARNHEM, THE NETHERLANDS February 1, 2007 ARCADIS (NASDAQ: ARCAF, Euronext: ARCAD), the international consulting and engineering company, today announced that ARCADIS BBL (a division of ARCADIS U.S., Inc.) was awarded two contracts by the U.S. Navy, Naval Facilities Engineering Command Southwest, to provide environmental services as part of a team led by Accord Engineering, Inc. of Santa Ana, California.

One contract, to conduct extended site inspection and remedial investigation at three upland and sediment sites at Naval Amphibious Base Coronado, San Diego, California, has a total value of $1.9 million. A second contract, to conduct site inspections at nine sites at the Naval Auxiliary Landing Field on San Clemente Island, located approximately 60 miles off the coast of southern California, is valued at $1.9 million.

We're very proud to once again be working with the Navy. This is a very important project and we believe these awards recognize our significant experience in and ability to provide environmental services in southern California. This project will draw upon our expertise in the fields of ecological assessment and sediment management," said Ed Lynch, president of ARCADIS BBL.

This significant contract for us to provide environmental services is an important step in continuing our expansion of services in the federal market," stated Mark Fenner, federal program director for ARCADIS U.S. operations.
