Item 2.02. Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On August 19, 2009, Synopsys, Inc. issued a press release announcing the financial results of our third fiscal quarter ended July 31, 2009. A copy of this press release is furnished and attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated herein by reference.

The information in this Current Report, including the exhibit hereto, shall not be deemed to be filed for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or otherwise subject to the liabilities of that section or Sections 11 and 12(a)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended. The information contained herein and in the accompanying exhibit shall not be incorporated by reference into any registration statement or other document filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission by Synopsys, Inc. whether made before or after the date hereof, regardless of any general incorporation language in such filing, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such filing.

The attached press release includes non-GAAP earnings per share, non-GAAP net income, targeted non-GAAP expenses and targeted non-GAAP earnings per share.

These non-GAAP measures are not in accordance with, or an alternative for, U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and may be different from non-GAAP measures used by other companies. In addition, these non-GAAP measures are not based on any comprehensive set of accounting rules or principles and management exercises judgment in determining which items should be excluded in the calculation of non-GAAP measures. While we believe that non-GAAP measures have limitations in that they do not reflect all of the amounts associated with our results of operations as determined in accordance with GAAP, we believe that non-GAAP measures are valuable in analyzing our operations. Management analyzes current and future results on a GAAP basis as well as a non-GAAP basis and also provides GAAP and non-GAAP measures in our earnings release. The presentation of non-GAAP financial information is not meant to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the directly comparable financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. The non-GAAP financial measures are meant to supplement, and be viewed in conjunction with, GAAP financial measures. We believe that the presentation of non-GAAP measures, when shown in conjunction with the corresponding GAAP measures, provides useful information to investors and management regarding financial and business trends relating to our financial condition and results of operations.

Synopsys management evaluates and makes decisions about our business operations primarily based on the revenue, orders, and direct, ongoing and recurring costs of those operations. For our internal budgeting and resource allocation process, and in reviewing our financial results, we use non-GAAP financial measures that exclude: (i) the share-based compensation impact of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123 revised 2004 (SFAS 123(R)), Share-Based Payment ; (ii) the amortization of acquired intangible assets and in-process research and development; (iii) other significant items, including the effect of a tax benefit from a settlement with the Internal Revenue Service; and (iv) the income tax effect of non-GAAP pre-tax adjustments from the provision for income taxes.

We use these non-GAAP financial measures in making operating decisions because we believe the measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding our operational performance and give us a better understanding of how we should invest in research and development and fund infrastructure and product and market strategies. We use these measures to help us make budgeting decisions, for example, between product development expenses and research and development, sales and marketing and general and administrative expenses. In addition, these non-GAAP financial measures facilitate our internal comparisons to our historical operating results, forecasted targets and comparisons to competitors operating results.

As described above, we exclude the following items from one or more of our non-GAAP measures:

(i) Share-based compensation impact of SFAS 123(R). We exclude share-based compensation expenses from our non-GAAP measures primarily because they are non-cash expenses. We believe that it is useful to investors to understand the impact of share-based compensation to our operational performance, liquidity and ability to invest in research and development and fund acquisitions and capital expenditures. While share-based compensation expense constitutes an ongoing and recurring expense, such expense is excluded from non-GAAP results because it is not an expense that typically requires or will require cash settlement by us and because such expense is not used by us to assess the core profitability of our business operations. In addition, excluding this item from various non-GAAP measures facilitates comparisons to our competitors' operating results.

(ii) Amortization of acquired intangible assets and in-process research and development. We incur amortization of acquired intangible assets which includes contract rights associated with certain executory contracts and core/developed technology, trademarks, trade names, customer relationships, covenants not to compete, and other intangibles related to acquisitions. We amortize for accounting purposes the fair value of the intangible assets based on the pattern in which the economic benefits of the intangible assets will be consumed. We exclude this item because this expense is non-cash in nature and because we believe the non-GAAP financial measures excluding this item provide meaningful supplemental information regarding our operational performance, liquidity and ability to invest in research and development and fund acquisitions and capital expenditures. We incur in-process research and development expenses when technological feasibility for acquired technology has not been established and no future alternative use for such technology exists. In addition, excluding these items from various non-GAAP measures facilitates our internal comparisons to our historical operating results and comparisons to our competitors' operating results.

(iii) Other Significant Items. From time to time we are party to legal settlements. We have excluded the effect of a tax benefit from a settlement with the Internal Revenue Service because we do not consider this matter to be part of the ongoing operation of our business and because of the singular nature of the claim underlying this matter.

(iv) Income tax effect of non-GAAP pre-tax adjustments from the provision for income taxes. Excluding the income tax effect of non-GAAP pre-tax adjustments from the provision for income taxes assists investors in understanding the tax provision associated with those adjustments and the effect on net income.
