Subject: Dollar Thrifty Shareholder Vote

Dear Hertz Colleagues,

Dollar Thrifty stockholders have voted No on a proposed merger of our companies. I am frankly surprised because our agreement provided their stockholders the only way to quickly realize a premium value for their shares. By voting down our proposal, I don't believe DTG stockholders have acted in their or their company's long term interest.

So we move on. We will not engage in further activities related to an acquisition of Dollar Thrifty and we will quickly take the steps necessary to unwind the process. We will not sell Advantage Rent-a-Car.

We are in a strong position in our markets, and we are rapidly growing the Advantage brand which is on pace to achieve over $160 million of annualized revenues this year, up from $0 only 18 months ago. The competition is already taking notice of Advantage. The Advantage brand is a force to be reckoned with in the lower-end value segment of the U.S. airport car rental market, and we will now rapidly accelerate their growth and brand recognition. We will also accelerate the pace of our expansion in the U.S. off-airport market.

In other markets, we will soon make decisions on how we will rapidly expand in the lower priced segments of the leisure rental market.

It is important to remind everyone that we love the Advantage brand, their employees and their incredible growth opportunities. The only reason for selling Advantage was because the U.S. government had made it a necessary condition of buying Dollar Thrifty, a $1.5 billion company. Advantage will continue to be a source of tremendous opportunity for us and we will now re-double our efforts to grow this brand.

Also, we can now free up resources to focus on the next generation of product and service innovations already in the works. Our deserved reputation for market leadership in these areas will soon be reinforced in a big way. Stay tuned.

Mark.
