Announcement of China Eastern Airlines Corporation Limited

The Company and all the members (other than those who issue dissenting statements herein) of the board of directors guarantee the truthfulness, accuracy and completeness of the information disclosed herein, and confirm that there exist no false statements, misleading representations or material omissions.

From 31 March to 1 April, some of the intra-provincial flights of the Yunnan branch of China Eastern Airlines Corporation Limited (the "Company") returned to their departure points (the "Flight Returns Incident"). The Company is of the view that the Flight Returns Incident does not constitute price-sensitive information that shall be disclosed under the listing rules of the Shanghai Stock Exchange. As there has been a high degree of public attention to the Flight Returns Incident and at the request of the Shanghai Stock Exchange, the Company would like to disclose the following information in relation to the Flight Returns Incident:

From 31 March to 1 April, the Flight Returns Incident occurred on some of the intra-provincial flights of the Yunnan branch of the Company. After the occurrence of the Flight Returns Incident, the Company promptly rearranged manpower to resume flights. On 1 April, the headquarters of the Company swiftly deployed a task group to hurry to Kunming to investigate into and deal with such incidents. Those who were allegedly involved in deliberate returns have been suspended from flying duties and are subject to, among others, further investigation. Two principal officers of the Yunnan branch were also suspended from their posts and Li Yangmin, a deputy general manager of the Company, was sent to act as the general manager of the Yunnan branch.

The flights of the Yunnan branch have returned to normal operations, and the business activities and operations of the Company are normal. The Company will conscientiously look into the loopholes of the management of the Company as reflected in the Flight Returns Incident and diligently improve its operations. Based on the spirit of being responsible for all of its passengers and shareholders, the Company will proactively coordinate with the relevant authorities of the country to investigate into and appropriately deal with the Flight Returns Incident.
