PART I

Item 1. Business

Frawley Corporation is currently engaged in real estate development.

The Health Services division was terminated in 2002 with the sale of the assets and operations on February 1, 2002 and October 1, 2002, respectively.

Frawley Corporation is a Delaware Corporation organized in 1969. References to the Company include references to Frawley Corporation and its Subsidiaries.

Real Estate

The Company's real estate consists of approximately 36 acres of largely undeveloped land in the Santa Monica Mountains, northwest of Los Angeles. The properties owned by the Company represent an aggregate investment of approximately $457,000 as of the end of 2007, and are subject to mortgage debt held by various stockholders, including the Chief Executive Officer and related family members, aggregating approximately $2,547,000. The Company continues to invest resources in real estate and it will continue its efforts to sell the land. (See Item 6, Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations).

Employees

Frawley Corporation and its Subsidiaries employ 1 person. Due to the Company's severe financial condition, the Company reduced its staff to Michael Frawley, President, and one part time assistant since the third quarter of 2004.

Item 2. Properties

Frawley Corporation and its Subsidiaries operate out of office space from a related party at no charge. (For a description of investment properties, see Item 1. Business - Real Estate).

Item 3. Legal Proceedings

The Company was named as a defendant in the Chatham Brothers Toxic Waste Cleanup Lawsuit. In February 1991, the Company was identified as one of many "Potentially Responsible Parties" (PRPs) in the Chatham Brothers toxic waste cleanup site case, filed by the State of California - Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) and involved the Harley Pen Company, which was previously owned by the Company.

On December 31, 1991, the Company and approximately 90 other companies were named in a formal complaint. The Company joined a group of defendants, each of whom was so notified and are referred to as Potentially Responsible Parties (PRPs) for the purpose of negotiating with the DTSC and for undertaking remediation of the site.

In January 1998, the final remediation plan was approved by the State and in January of 1999, the PRPs consented to the plan and related allocation of costs. The consent decree was approved by the Court.

As of December 31, 2006 the Company had paid into the PRP Group over $1,040,000, which included the assignment of a $250,000 note receivable with recourse. In addition, the Company had accrued short-term and long-term undiscounted liabilities of $77,000 and $1,120,000 respectively, to cover future costs under the remediation plan.

During the past several years, the Company had requested a Hardship Withdrawal Settlement with the PRP group due to the Company's financial condition. The PRP group had continually denied the Company's request. In December 2003, the Company again formally requested a Hardship Withdrawal Settlement with the PRP Group. The Company's proposal was for payment of $240,000 over four years in exchange for complete release from all further legal and financial responsibility related to the environmental liability. On July 16, 2004, the Company entered into a settlement agreement note in the amount of $240,000 to be paid as follows: $100,000 on December 31, 2004, $50,000 on December 31, 2005, $50,000 on December 31, 2006 and $40,000 on December 31, 2007. The Company would not be fully released from the environmental liability until the settlement agreement note of $240,000 and the assigned note in the amount of $250,000 were paid in full. During 2007 the PRP Group received the final payment due under the assigned note receivable.

In March 2006, the Company made a payment in the amount of $150,000 related to the settlement agreement note representing the payments due. The Company was unable to make the December 31, 2006 $50,000 payment. As a result of the late payments, the Company owed penalties totaling approximately $20,000 for the years 2004, 2005 and 2006. These late payment penalties and the 2006 and 2007 principal payments totaling approximately $110,000 were due and payable by December 31, 2007.

In December 2007, the Company paid to the PRP Group $112,000 to cover the payment of $50,000 that was due December 31, 2006, and $40,000 due December 31, 2007 plus additional penalties and interest totaling $22,000 on the settlement note. The Company received acknowledgement from the PRP group that the note has been paid in full. As a result of this payment and pursuant to the settlement agreement, the Company is not responsible for any additional liability related to this site, other than any new claims from third parties. Therefore, the Company removed the remaining liability from its books as of December 31, 2007 and recognized a gain on the extinguishment of this debt in the amount of $1,107,000.

Pursuant to the settlement agreement, the PRP Group did not indemnify Frawley Corporation for any third party lawsuit related to the Cleanup Site that was not considered in the remediation action plan approved in 1999.

In June 2004, the Corporation received a new environmental claim against its former Harley Pen division in the amount of approximately $99,000. The claim has been made by the United States Environmental Toxic Agency concerning the Company's alleged responsibility for the Omega Chemical Superfund Site. The Company recorded the liability in the year ended December 31, 2004. In December 2005, the Company received a demand for payment from the EPA and negotiated a payment plan which required the total liability, plus interest to be paid in full by January 2007. During 2006, the Company made payments of approximately $52,000, leaving a balance of approximately $47,000 due in January 2007. The Company was unable to make the January 2007 payment. The Company reached a new agreement with the EPA, and made its first payment under the new agreement on January 11, 2007. The remaining payments were due in April, July and October 2007. The Company was unable to make the payment due in July 2007. The Company requested a payment extension. The EPA reviewed the request and extended the term 18 months to pay the balance plus interest accrued on March 2009.

Item 4. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders

Not Applicable.

PART II

Item 5. Market for Registrant's Common Stock and Related Stockholders Matters

The Company's stock was delisted by the Pacific Stock Exchange on December 1, 1992. There is currently no public trading for the stock.

The approximate number of holders of record for Frawley Corporation's Common Stock as of December 31, 2007 was 505.

No dividends have been paid in the periods shown above.

Item 6. Selected Financial Statement Data

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

See Recent Accounting Pronouncement section of Note 1 to our consolidated financial statements for a summary of new accounting standards.

Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overall Summary

The net income was $577,000 in 2007 as compared to a net loss of $86,000 in 2006 (see following discussion of real estate). This was as a result of the Company's ability to complete the terms of the settlement agreement related to the environmental reserve. The Company recorded income from extinguishment of debt in the amount of $1,107,000 in 2007 (see Legal Proceedings). However, the Company's operating cash flow is still negative.

Interest expense for 2007 was $254,000 compared to $227,000 (net of $8,000 of interest income) for 2006. Selling, general and administrative expenses were $278,000 for 2007 compared to $169,000 for 2006.

Real Estate

The real estate operating loss before interest expense was $188,000 in 2007 as compared to $216,000 in 2006.

In February 2004, the Company received notice from Los Angeles County that the county intends to severely restrict grading permits and may require conditional use permits for grading on the Company's property. In addition, the County of Los Angeles announced its intention to restrict the building of residences on three of the Company's six parcels of land because of new ridgeline building ordinances. Prior to the ordinance deadline, the Company received grandfathering status on three of its six parcels. Because the grandfathering clause is conditional, it is unclear whether or not the Company will be able to take advantage of this grandfathering status until the Company completes the permit process. The above regulations potentially require multi-year processing to reach the point that a parcel can be sold to a third party.

If an agreement cannot be reached with Los Angeles County, these new regulations may force the Company to liquidate its real estate, make settlements with its lenders and close down its real estate development business. As of the report date, no decision has been made by management regarding liquidation, nor can they determine the potential financial impact to the Company. Accordingly, the December 31, 2007 financial statements do not reflect any adjustments that might result from these new and more stringent regulations.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

The Company's recurring losses from continuing operations and difficulties in generating cash flow sufficient to meet its obligations raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern.

Real Estate and Corporate overhead continue to produce losses that the Company is having difficulty absorbing. The required investments in real estate are currently funded from loans or contributions from related parties.

The Company has borrowed additional funds from Frawley family members as needed, to meet real estate investments and working capital needs. During 2007, the Company borrowed $249,000 from related parties compared to $169,000 during 2006. Also, the Company borrowed $160,000 from an unrelated third party which were used to pay the Chatham Site PRP group, operating expenses and to meet the terms of the loan. As of December 31, 2007, the total notes due were $2,547,000. The related party notes bear interest at 10%, are secured by the Company's real estate investments and became due on various dates ranging from 2001 through 2007. The Company has defaulted on substantially all of the related party notes under their terms. As of the date of this report, no action has been taken on the delinquent amounts.

Prior to 2005, the Company received funds from the family members as an advance on property that they intend to purchase. The specified property has not been identified and balances for the deposits for real estate were $374,000 at December 31, 2007 and 2006, respectively.

Management intends to raise additional capital by selling real estate. The limited resources available to the Company will be directed at selling real estate.

The following measurements indicate the trends in the Company's liquidity from continuing operations:

December 31,	2007	2006
Working capital (deficiency)	$ (4,948,000)	$ (4,565,000)
Current ratio	(.01 to 1)	(.01 to 1)

PART III

Item 10. Directors, Executive Officers, Promoters and Control Persons; Compliance with Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act.

The following table sets forth the names and certain other information pertaining to the persons elected as directors.

Name	Age	Principal Occupation	Year First Became Director
Michael P. Frawley	54	Chairman of the Board and President of the Company Chief Executive Officer, Treasurer	1991
Sheila Callahan	25	Director and Secretary of the Company	2007

The Company's Board of Directors has no committees. During 2007, the Board of Directors held four meetings in which all of the directors attended. Michael P. Frawley and Sheila Callahan received no separate compensation for acting as directors.

All directors are elected annually and serve until the next annual meeting of stockholders or until the election and qualification of their successors.

All executive officers serve at the discretion of our Board of Directors. The term of office of each executive officer is until his or her respective successor is chosen and qualified, or until his or her death, resignation or removal. Officers are customarily elected by the Board at a meeting held after the annual election of directors.

On February 9, 2007, Mr. Michael Frawley and Sheila Callahan were elected by Written Consent from the Shareholders holding over 54% of the Common stock outstanding.

Biographical information for Executive officers and directors

Mr. Michael P. Frawley has been employed by the Company since 1972. He became Vice President of Advertising in 1986, Vice President of the Company in 1991 and Treasurer in 1996. He became President of the Company in 1998 after the passing of his father Patrick J. Frawley, Jr.

Michael Frawley appointed Sheila Callahan to the Board of Directors on February 9, 2007. On February 9, 2007, Michael Frawley and Sheila Callahan were confirmed as members of the board of Directors by written consent by the majority of the stockholders.

Code of Ethics

The Company has adopted a Code of Ethics and Conduct, which applies to all of its directors, officers and employees. A copy of the Code of Ethics and Conduct may be obtained, without charge, upon written request addressed to the following address, c/o Chief Executive Officer, Frawley Corporation, 5737 Kanan Road PMB 188, Agoura Hills, CA 91301.

Other Events and Required FD Disclosure

On March 1, 2005 the Company filed with the SEC amended forms 10K for 2003 and 2002.

These reports on Form 10-KSB/A (“Amendment No.1”) are being filed to disclose items 9 through 12 previously omitted from Part III of the Annual Report on Form 10-KSB, filed by the Frawley Corporation, a Delaware corporation (“the Company”) on March 18, 2004 and May 23, 2003 in compliance with General Instructions E.3 to Form 10-KSB. Although the Company previously reported its related party transactions that occurred during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2003, and 2002 in the financial statements of the Company’s 10-KSB filed on March 18, 2004 and May 23, 2003, the reports did not contain certain information pertaining to the Company’s Officers, directors and stockholders controlling more than five percent of the Company’s outstanding stock. This Amendment No. 1 is being filed to disclose such information. In addition, pursuant to the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”), we are including with this Amendment No. 1 certain currently dated certifications.

Item 15. Controls and Procedures

Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures

The Company maintains disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the Company’s filings under the Securities Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the periods specified in the rules and forms of the Securities and Exchange Commission. Such information is accumulated and communicated to the Company’s management, including its principal financial officer, as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding disclosure. The Company’s management, including the principal executive officer and principal accounting officer, recognized that any set of controls and procedures, no matter how well designed and operated, can provide only reasonable assurance of achieving the desired control objectives.

Within 90 days prior to the filing date of this annual report 10-K, the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company’s management, including the Company’s principal executive officer and principal financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company’s disclosure controls and procedures. Based on such evaluation, the Company’s principal executive officer and principal financial officer identified a deficiency relating to incomplete disclosures in this annual report as originally filed. These updated disclosures related to Management’s report on internal control over financial reporting. Although management had performed a review of its internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2007, the required disclosures were erroneously left out of the original filing of this annual report. As a result, Management has concluded that the disclosure controls and procedures are ineffective as of December 31, 2007. Management is currently in the process of revising its internal control over financial reporting to help prevent similar omissions in future filings.

Changes in Internal Controls

There have been no significant changes in the Company's internal controls or in any other factors that could significantly affect the internal controls subsequent to the date of their evaluation in connection with the preparation of this annual report on Form 10-K. We have also evaluated our internal controls for financial reporting, and there have been no significant changes in our internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect those controls subsequent to the date of their last evaluation.

Limitations on the Effectiveness of Controls

Our management, which primarily includes our CEO, does not expect that our disclosure controls and internal controls will prevent all errors and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of a simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management or board override of the control.

The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions; over time, controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected.

CEO and CFO Certifications

Appearing immediately following the Signatures section of this report there are Certifications of the CEO and the CFO. The Certifications are required in accordance with Section 302 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the Section 302 Certifications). This Item of this report, which you are currently reading is the information concerning the Evaluation referred to in the Section 302 Certifications and this information should be read in conjunction with the Section 302 Certifications for a more complete understanding of the topics presented.

Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting, as such term is defined in Exchange Act Rule 13a-15(f). The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance to our management and board of directors regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of the financial statements for external purposes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the Company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal controls over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. All internal control systems, no matter how well designed, have inherent limitations, including the possibility of human error and the circumvention of overriding controls. Accordingly, even effective internal control over financial reporting can provide only reasonable assurance with respect to financial statement preparation. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

Our management assessed the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2007 and concluded that internal control over financial reporting was not effective. In making this assessment, it used the criteria set forth by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO) in Internal Control-Integrated Framework. Based on our assessment, as of December 31, 2007, management has identified the following deficiencies for the Company, that only when aggregated, may possibly be viewed as a material weakness:

- a) A required disclosure was erroneously omitted from the originally filed Form 10-KSB. Our internal review process was not adequate enough to recognize this omission.
- b) We did not maintain proper segregation of duties for the preparation of our financial statements. As of December 31, 2007, the majority of the preparation of financial statements was carried out by one person. Additionally, the Company currently only has one officer having oversight on all transactions.

The Company is currently engaged in the review, documentation and remediation of its disclosure controls and procedures. However, the Company presently does not have sufficient financial resources to hire additional personnel or consultants. Once the Company does, then our Board of Directors will establish the following remediation measures:

- a) We will hire additional personnel and outside consultants to perform various layers of reviews of our disclosures.
- b) We will hire additional personnel to assist with the preparation of the Company's financial statements which will allow for proper segregation of duties, as well as additional manpower for proper documentation.

This annual report does not include an attestation report of our registered public accounting firm regarding internal control over financial reporting. Management's report was not subject to attestation by our registered public accounting firm pursuant to temporary rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission that permit us to provide only management's report in this annual report.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

Board of Directors and Stockholders
Frawley Corporation
Agoura Hills, California

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Frawley Corporation and subsidiaries (the "Company") as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' deficit, and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. The Company is not required to have, nor were we engaged to perform, an audit of its internal control over financial reporting. Our audits included consideration of internal control over financial reporting as a basis for designing audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Frawley Corporation and subsidiaries as of December 31, 2007 and 2006, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The 2007 and 2006 consolidated financial statements have been prepared assuming the Company will continue as a going concern. As discussed in Note 2 to the financial statements, the Company's recurring losses from operations, difficulties in generating sufficient cash flow to meet its obligations and negative working capital raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The Company has relied upon financing from related parties and sales of assets to continue its operations and is seeking sources of long-term financing as it reorganizes its business. Management's plans concerning these matters are also described in Note 2. These financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of this uncertainty.

FRAWLEY CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation - The accompanying consolidated financial statements include Frawley Corporation (the "Company") and its subsidiaries: Schick Shadel Hospital, Inc. and Sun Sail Development Company (Sun Sail). In addition, Sun Sail is the sole member of Sunny Hill L.L.C. (Sunny Hill), which was formed in 2003. All significant intercompany profits, transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Net Income/Loss per Common Share - Net income/loss per common share is computed by dividing net income/loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year.

Income Taxes - The Company adopted the provisions of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes," effective January 1, 1993. Accordingly, the Company uses the liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under the liability method, deferred taxes are determined based on temporary differences between financial reporting and income tax basis of assets and liabilities at the balance sheet date multiplied by the applicable tax rates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents - The Company considers highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

Concentration of Credit Risk - Certain financial instruments potentially subject the Company to concentrations of credit risk. These financial instruments consisted primarily of cash.

Use of Estimates - The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments - The carrying amounts of the Company's financial instruments (cash, other assets, and accounts payable and accrued expenses) approximate fair value because of the short maturity of these items. The carrying amount of the notes payable approximate fair value based on current rates for similar debt of the same remaining maturity.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets - The Company evaluates a property for potential impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that its carrying amount may not be recoverable. There was no impairment charge recognized during the years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006.

Sales of Real Estate - The Company recognizes gains/losses from sales of real estate at the time of sale using the full accrual method, provided that various criteria related to the terms of the transactions and any subsequent involvement by the Company with the properties sold are met. If the criteria are not met, the Company defers the revenue and recognizes it when the criteria are met or using the installment or cost recovery methods as appropriate under the circumstances.

FRAWLEY CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

Recent Accounting Pronouncements – In July 2006, the FASB issued FASB Interpretation No.48 (“FIN 48”), Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes – an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109, which clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in tax positions. FIN 48 requires that the Company recognize the impact of a tax position in the Company’s financial statements if that position is more likely than not to be sustained on audit, based on the technical merits of the position. The provisions of FIN 48 are effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006, with the cumulative effect of the change in accounting principle recorded as an adjustment to opening retained earnings. The adoption of FIN 48 did not have a material impact on the Company’s consolidated financial statements.

2. OPERATING RESULTS AND MANAGEMENT PLANS

The Company's net income for 2007 was $577,000 as compared to net loss for 2006 of $86,000. Working capital continues to be negative.

Management’s plans for 2008 will include the continued efforts to sell its real estate holdings and minimize additional investments that require borrowing.

The Company's real estate investment consists of approximately 36 acres of largely undeveloped land in the Santa Monica Mountains, northwest of Los Angeles. The Company is continuing to pursue various options with respect to selling a significant portion of its real estate.

During the year ended December 31, 2006, the Company sold one parcel of land to an unrelated third party for $749,000 and recorded a gain of approximately $308,000. Proceeds from the sale were used to pay off secured debt, including accrued interest, provide funds to complete improvements required by the sale, make payments on past due amounts related to the Chatham site, make partial payments related to the Omega site, pay past due property taxes, pay other creditors and to provide operating cash. The Company did not sell any parcels of land during the year ended December 31, 2007.

3. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company has borrowed additional funds from the Chief Executive Officer and his family members as needed, to meet real estate investment and working capital needs. During 2007 and 2006, the Company borrowed an additional $249,000 and $169,000, respectively, from the related parties. As of December 31, 2007 and 2006, the balances due were $2,387,000 and $2,138,000, respectively (see Note 5). The notes bear interest at 10%, are secured by the Company’s real estate investments and became due on various dates ranging from 2001 through 2008. The Company has defaulted on substantially all of the notes under their individual terms. As of the date of this report, no action has been taken on the delinquent amounts.

4. SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURE OF CASH FLOW INFORMATION

	2007	2006
Cash paid during the year for:
Income taxes	$ 4,000	$ 6,000
Interest	$ 22,000	$ 24,000

5. DEBT

Short-term debt at December 31, 2007 consists of $2,387,000 of notes payable to stockholders and other related parties (see Note 3), which were due on various dates from 2001 through 2008, bear interest at 10% per annum, and are secured by the real estate investments of the Company. The Company has defaulted on substantially all of the notes under their individual terms. As of the date of this report, no action has been taken on the delinquent amounts.

Long-term debt at December 31, 2007 consists of a $160,000 note payable to an unrelated party, in which the entire principle is due on December 31, 2009, bears interest at 14% per annum, and is secured by one parcel of land. The note requires monthly payments of interest only.

Long-term debt at December 31, 2006 consisted of the environmental reserve amount of $1,120,000 (see Note 6).

6. LITIGATION

The Company was named as a defendant in the Chatham Brothers toxic waste cleanup lawsuit. In February 1991, the Company was identified as one of many "Potentially Responsible Parties" (PRPs) in the Chatham Brothers toxic waste cleanup site case, filed by the State of California Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) and involving the Hartley Pen Company previously owned by the Company.

On December 31, 1991, the Company and approximately 90 other companies were named in a formal complaint. The Company joined a group of defendants, each of whom was so notified and which is referred to as Potentially Responsible Parties (PRPs) for the purpose of negotiating with the DTSC and for undertaking remediation of the site. Between 1995 and 1998, the State of California adjusted the estimated cost of remediation on several occasions. As a result, the Company had increased their recorded liability to reflect their share of the changes. In January of 1998, the final remediation plan was approved by the State and in January of 1999, the PRP's consented to it, as well as the allocation of costs, and the consent decree was approved by the Court. As of December 31, 2006, the Company had paid over $1,040,000, which included the assignment of a $250,000 note receivable with recourse, into the PRP group. In addition, the Company carried accrued short-term and long-term liabilities of $77,000 and $1,120,000, respectively.

FRAWLEY CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR THE YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 2007 AND 2006

During the past several years, the Company had requested a Hardship Withdrawal Settlement with the PRP Group due to the Company's financial condition. The PRP group had continually denied the Company's request. In December 2003, the Company again formally requested a Hardship Withdrawal Settlement with the PRP Group. The Company's proposal was a payment of $240,000 over four years in exchange for complete release from all further legal and financial responsibility related to the environmental liability. On July 16, 2004, the Company entered into a settlement agreement with the Chatham Site PRP Group Trust for a $240,000 payment to be paid as follows: $100,000 on December 31, 2004, $50,000 on December 31, 2005, $50,000 on December 31, 2006 and $40,000 on December 31, 2007. The Company was not going to be fully released from the environmental liability until the settlement agreement note of $240,000 and the assigned note in the amount of $250,000 were paid in full. During 2007, the assigned note was paid in full. In March 2006, the Company made a payment in the amount of $150,000 related to the settlement agreement note representing the payments due on December 31, 2004 and December 31, 2005. The Company did not make the scheduled payment on December 31, 2006. As of December 31, 2006, the Company owed late payment penalties totaling approximately $20,000 for the years 2004, 2005 and 2006. These penalties were recognized as interest expense for the year ended December 31, 2006 and the liability was accrued as a portion of the environmental reserve included in current liabilities.

In December 2007, the Company made a final payment in the amount of $112,000, of which $90,000 represented payment towards the accrued liability and $22,000 represented payment of additional interest for late payments. As a result of this payment and pursuant to the settlement agreement, the Company is not responsible for any additional liability related to this site, other than any new claims. Therefore, the Company removed the remaining liability from its books as of December 31, 2007 and recognized a gain on the extinguishment of this debt in the amount of $1,107,000.

Complying with the terms of the note relieves Frawley Corporation from any liability related to the Chatham Site action approved by the State of California in 1999. However, the PRP Group did not indemnify Frawley Corporation for any third party lawsuits related to the Chatham site clean up or for any new claims by the State of California involving the Chatham site that are not considered in the remediation action plan approved in 1999.

In June 2004 the Corporation received a new environmental claim against its former Harley pen division in the amount of approximately $99,000. The claim has been made by the United States Environmental Toxic Agency concerning the Company's alleged responsibility for the Omega Chemical Superfund Site. During 2006, the Company agreed to pay the liability in installment payments through January 2007 and has made payments of approximately $52,000 during 2006 and of approximately $26,000 during 2007. In September 2007, the Company was granted a postponement of the additional payments due until March 2009. The balance of approximately $21,000 is included in current liabilities.

7. INCOME TAXES

The Company does not carry a provision for income taxes due to tax losses in 2007 and 2006, other than provisions for minimum state income taxes that are included in selling, general and administrative expenses.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities for federal income tax purposes at December 31, 2007 and 2006 consist of the following:

	2007	2006
Net operating loss carryforwards	$ 3,121,000	$ 4,714,000
Gain on sale of real estate	-	(105,000)
Bad debt/land reserves	211,000	211,000
Toxic waste accrual	-	407,000
Other reserves	701,000	630,000
	4,033,000	5,857,000
Less valuation allowance	(4,033,000)	(5,857,000)

The Company has net operating loss carryforwards aggregating approximately $9,179,000 for federal income tax purposes, which expire in various years through 2022.
