Acambis files US licence application for ARILVAX yellow fever vaccine

Cambridge, UK and Cambridge, Massachusetts 12 December 2003 Acambis plc (Acambis) (LSE: ACM, NASDAQ: ACAM) announces that it has filed a Biologics License Application (BLA) with the CBER division of the US Food and Drug Administration to seek registration in the US of its ARILVAX™ vaccine to prevent yellow fever.

Acambis recently completed a Phase III paediatric trial of ARILVAX™, which provided additional data to supplement that generated from two previous Phase III adult trials.

ARILVAX™ is a live, attenuated vaccine to prevent yellow fever. It is already registered in 17 countries, including the UK, and Acambis has the rights to market the vaccine in the US. Rights outside of the US are owned by Chiron Corporation.

Holding in Company

Cambridge, UK and Cambridge, Massachusetts 19 December 2003 Acambis plc (Acambis) (LSE: ACM, NASDAQ: ACAM) notes that Baxter International, Inc. (Baxter) (NYSE: BAX) yesterday filed a Schedule 13D with the US Securities and Exchange Commission announcing the sale of all of its equity shareholding in Acambis.

Baxter's relationship with Acambis dates back to September 2000 when Baxter and Acambis commenced a strategic collaboration at which time the two companies entered into commercial agreements and a subscription agreement.

The subscription agreement was for £27.8 million of Acambis ordinary shares at a weighted average price of 130p over a three-year period, which resulted in the issue of 21,349,994 shares or 20.3 per cent of Acambis' issued share capital.

The commercial agreements covered contract manufacturing, technology transfer and distribution arrangements between the two companies. The collaboration was subsequently expanded to encompass a lease financing arrangement and partnerships to bid for and win contracts around the world to supply smallpox vaccines. Most notably, Acambis and Baxter teamed up to win a major $428m ACAM2000 smallpox vaccine contract with the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and, more recently, a contract with the US National Institutes of Allergy and Infectious Diseases (NIAID), part of the US National Institutes of Health, to develop and supply a third-generation smallpox vaccine, MVA.

All of the commercial arrangements between the two companies remain in place and are not affected by this sale. Moreover, Baxter and Acambis are collaborating again to respond to a Request for Proposals recently issued by the NIAID for a second MVA contract.
