Diageo reiterates guidance for 8% organic operating profit growth for the year ending 30 June 2007

Summary

Further outperformance in North America and double-digit top line growth in International and Asia Pacific

In Europe, top line growth improved in the second half

Marketing spend up in Europe in the second half and further increased in Asia Pacific

Reiterating guidance for 8% organic operating profit growth for the full year

£2.3 billion returned to shareholders in the financial year through dividends and the share buy back programme

Paul Walsh, CEO of Diageo, said:

The strength of our brands and our broad based geographic exposure continue to drive the consistent top and bottom line organic growth and strong cash generation which are the recurring themes of Diageo's performance.

The strong performance, which was delivered in North America and International in the first half, has continued for the full year. In Europe and in Asia Pacific, top line performance has improved against the first half as marketing investment was increased in the second half behind our growth brands and markets. Therefore while Diageo's total organic net sales growth in the full year is expected to be higher than in the first half, operating profit growth will be in line with the first half performance of 8%.

This strong trading performance continues to be matched by Diageo's financial strength. The consistency of our cash flow has allowed us to return a further £2.3 billion to shareholders this financial year in dividends and share buy backs.

Trading Update

Strong growth of the global spirits brands, and in particular the growth of Diageo's Scotch brands across the world, remains the key driver of top line performance. Growth has been delivered in beer through the continued success of Guinness and the lager brands in Africa. In ready to drink, growth in Brazil and South Africa has offset further decline of the segment in Europe. In wine, strong growth was achieved in Sterling Vineyards and French agency wine brands in the United States.

In North America, Diageo has performed strongly and outperformed the market throughout the year. While the rate of growth of the US spirits market has slowed in recent months, the consumer trend is still to premium brands. Diageo's focus on premium brands therefore continues to generate top line growth and support the implementation of further price increases.

In Europe, investment behind the growth opportunities, which have been identified in continental and Eastern Europe, together with strong growth in Russia, has led to an improvement on top line performance in the second half.

Marketing investment has been increased in the second half behind proven growth drivers.

In International, Latin America and Africa have both continued to deliver very strong growth. In Latin America this has been led by the growth in Scotch and ready to drink and in Africa by the growth in beer and also by the growth in ready to drink.

In Asia Pacific net sales growth was stronger in the second half than in the first half of the year as marketing spend was further increased in key markets.

Interest

Diageo's average net debt for the year ending 30 June 2007 will be approximately £4.6 billion and it is estimated that closing debt will be approximately £5.1 billion. The effective interest rate for the year ending 30 June 2007 is expected to be approximately 5.5%. Smirnoff vodka grew net sales by 10% led by strong growth in Brazil.

Guinness volume declined 3% whilst net sales were up 1%. Performance was held back as a result of a decline in Cameroon, although this was partly offset by strong performances in Nigeria and Ghana where price increases accelerated the growth of net sales ahead of volume.

Table of Contents

Baileys grew volume by 8% driven by growth in Global Travel. Promotional activity in Global Travel has, however, resulted in net sales growing by 6%.

Local priority brand performance was led by the growth of Buchanan's in Venezuela. Growth of Bell's in South Africa was offset by declines in Tusker and Pilsner in Kenya.

The performance of category brands has been driven by the growth of Scotch in Latin America and our beer brands in Africa. Investment behind Diageo's Scotch brands has enabled the International region to capitalise on market opportunities. Amongst the successes was Old Parr, which grew significantly across Latin America with volume and net sales up nearly 60%. In beer, the successful re-launch of Harp in Nigeria also contributed to the overall growth in category brands.

Ready to drink grew volume by 39% and net sales by 47%. Table of Contents

Smirnoff vodka increased net sales by 20% with particularly strong growth in India and continued growth in Australia.

Johnnie Walker experienced strong growth on the back of upweighted investment, which has been focused around its grand prix team sponsorship. This has been particularly successful in driving growth of Johnnie Walker Black Label and Super Deluxe variants, where net sales were up 22%. The sponsorship has also provided a strong platform for Diageo's responsible drinking programmes.

Guinness volume grew by 6% whilst net sales were up 9% with both South East Asia and Japan experiencing good growth.

Local priority brand performance was led by the return to growth of Windsor in Korea, driven in particular by new packaging on the 12 and 17 year-old variants. This more than offset the decline of Dimple in Korea. Bundaberg continued to grow in Australia.

Growth in category brands was driven by the newly launched whisky brands in Thailand.

Ready to drink volume increased by 10% and net sales by 9%. This was led by Australia where the Smirnoff, Bundaberg and Johnnie Walker ready to drink brands all grew volume and net sales in the year.
