Dear Fellow Stockholder:

You are cordially invited to attend the upcoming special meeting of stockholders of Answers Corporation (“Answers.com” or the “Company”), to be held on _____, 2011, at _____ a.m., local time, at the offices of Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP, 1177 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036. Answers.com has entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 2, 2011 (the “merger agreement”), with AFCV Holdings, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“AFCV”), and A-Team Acquisition Sub, Inc. (“Merger Sub”), a Delaware corporation and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV.

Under the terms of the merger agreement, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Answers.com, with Answers.com continuing as the surviving corporation (the “merger”) and a wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV. If the merger is completed, then at the effective time of the merger, holders of Answers.com common stock will be entitled to receive $10.50 in cash, without interest, less any applicable withholding taxes, for each share of Answers.com common stock owned at the effective time of the merger. In accordance with the Certificate of Designations, Numbers, Voting Powers, Preferences and Rights of the Series A convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series A stock”), holders of Series A stock will receive an amount in cash, without interest, for each share of Series A stock owned equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $101.76 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series A stock to the effective time of the merger, divided by (B) $4.50. In accordance with the Certificate of Designations, Numbers, Voting Powers, Preferences and Rights of the Series B convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series B stock”), holders of Series B stock will receive an amount in cash without interest for each share of Series B stock owned equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $100.00 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regularly quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series B stock to the effective time of the merger, divided by (B) $5.50.

Notice of the special meeting and the related proxy statement is enclosed. Certain stockholders, including our chief executive officer, have agreed to vote shares representing approximately 27.2% of the Answers.com common stock and preferred stock outstanding, as of February 16, 2011, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement.

The accompanying proxy statement gives you detailed information about the special meeting and the merger and includes the merger agreement as Annex A. The receipt of cash in exchange for shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock in the merger will constitute a taxable transaction for U.S. federal income tax purposes. We encourage you to read the proxy statement and the merger agreement carefully in their entirety.

After careful consideration, our board of directors has determined that the merger and the merger agreement is fair to, and in the best interests of, Answers.com and its stockholders, and declared the merger to be advisable, and unanimously approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger.

Your vote is very important regardless of the number of shares you hold. We cannot complete the merger unless holders of a majority of all outstanding shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, vote to adopt the merger agreement. Our board of directors recommends that you vote “FOR” the adoption of the merger agreement. The failure of any stockholder to vote on the proposal to adopt the merger agreement will have the same effect as a vote against the adoption of the merger agreement. We are also asking you to vote “FOR” any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the merger agreement.

Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please complete, date, sign and return, as promptly as possible, the enclosed proxy by mail in the accompanying reply envelope, or submit your proxy by telephone or the Internet. Stockholders who attend the meeting may revoke their proxies and vote in person. If your shares are held in "street name" by your broker or other nominee, only that holder can vote your shares unless you obtain a valid legal proxy from such broker or nominee. You should follow the directions provided by your broker or nominee regarding how to instruct such broker or nominee to vote your shares.

If you submit your proxy but do not indicate how you want to vote, your proxy will be voted “FOR” the adoption of the merger agreement and “FOR” any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the merger agreement.

If you have any questions or need assistance with voting, please contact Okapi Partners, who is assisting us with the solicitation, toll-free at (877) 796-5274 or call collect at (212) 297-0720.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS
To Be Held on _____, 2011

Dear Answers.com Stockholder:

Answers Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), will hold a special meeting of stockholders at the offices of Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP, 1177 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036, at _____ a.m., local time, on _____, 2011, for the following purposes:

1. To adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 2, 2011 (the “merger agreement”), by and among the Company, AFCV Holdings, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“AFCV”), and A-Team Acquisition Sub, Inc. (“Merger Sub”), a Delaware corporation and an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV, as such agreement may be amended from time to time.
2. To approve the proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the merger agreement.

The board of the Company has unanimously approved the merger agreement and recommends that its stockholders vote “FOR” the adoption of the merger agreement. The board of directors of the Company also recommends that stockholders vote “FOR” any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

Only record holders of Answers.com common stock, Series A convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series A stock”) and Series B convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series B stock”) at the close of business on _____, 2011 are entitled to receive notice of, and will be entitled to vote at, the special meeting, including any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting. The list of stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting will be available for inspection at our principal executive offices located at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101, New York, NY 10001, during ordinary business hours at least 10 days before the special meeting.

In connection with the execution of the merger agreement, the holders of our Series A stock and Series B stock, as well as our chief executive officer, solely in their capacities as stockholders, entered into voting agreements with AFCV and the Company, pursuant to which each of those stockholders agreed, among other things, to vote the shares of our capital stock over which these stockholders exercise voting control in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. These stockholders exercise voting control over approximately _____ % of the shares of our common stock and preferred stock outstanding as of _____, 2011, the record date for the special meeting, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis. If the merger agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms, these voting agreements will also terminate.

We urge you to read the accompanying proxy statement carefully in its entirety as it sets forth details of the proposed merger and other important information related to the merger.

Under Delaware law, if the merger is completed, then at the effective time of the merger, holders of Answers.com stock who do not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement will have the right to seek appraisal of the fair value of their shares as determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery under Delaware law, subject to the satisfaction of the requirements for exercising and perfecting such rights. A copy of the full text of the applicable Delaware statutory provisions is included as Annex B to this proxy statement.

Your vote is important, regardless of the number of shares you hold, and we urge you to complete, sign, date and return your proxy card as promptly as possible by mail in the accompanying reply envelope, whether or not you expect to attend the special meeting. If you are unable to attend the special meeting in person and you return your proxy card, your shares will be voted at the special meeting in accordance with your proxy. You may also submit your proxy by telephone or electronically through the Internet by following the instructions included with your proxy card. If your shares are held in “street name” by your broker or other nominee, only that holder can vote your shares unless you obtain a valid legal proxy from such broker or nominee. You should follow the directions provided by your broker or nominee regarding how to instruct such broker or nominee to vote your shares. If you submit your proxy but do not indicate how you want to vote, your proxy will be voted “FOR” the adoption of the merger agreement and “FOR” any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. If you do not vote or do not instruct your broker, bank or nominee how to vote, it will have the same effect as voting against the proposal to adopt the merger agreement – so please vote. If you do not vote, it will not affect the outcome of any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, but will reduce the number of votes required to approve such a proposal.

The merger is described in the accompanying proxy statement, which we urge you to read carefully in its entirety. A copy of the merger agreement is attached as Annex A to the proxy statement.

By Order of the Board of Directors,

Caleb A. Chill
Vice President, General Counsel & Corporate Secretary

SUMMARY TERM SHEET

This summary term sheet highlights selected information from this document and may not contain all of the information that is important to you. Answers.com encourages you to read carefully the remainder of this document in its entirety, including the attached annexes and the other documents to which we have referred you, because this section does not provide all the information that might be important to you with respect to the merger and the other matters being considered at the special meeting of stockholders. See also “Where You Can Find More Information” on page 76 of this document. We have included references to other portions of this document to direct you to a more complete description of the topics presented in this summary.

Summary of the Merger

Answers.com and, AFCV Holdings, LLC (“AFCV”), a portfolio company of Summit Partners L. P., a private equity fund (“Summit”), have agreed to the merger of Answers.com and A-Team Acquisition Sub, Inc. (“Merger Sub”) under the terms of the merger agreement described in this document. We have attached the merger agreement as Annex A to this document. We encourage you to read the merger agreement carefully in its entirety because it is the legal document that governs the merger and related matters.

Under the terms of the merger agreement, Merger Sub, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV, will merge with and into Answers.com, and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub will cease and Answers.com will be the surviving corporation.

The merger is subject to customary closing conditions, including adoption of the merger agreement by the stockholders of Answers.com.

Treatment of Answers.com Capital Stock, Options and Warrants (see page 55 of this document)

At the effective time of the merger, the capital stock and other securities of Answers.com will be treated as follows (except for shares held by our stockholders who do not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and properly perfects the holder's appraisal rights under Delaware law):

Answers.com common stockholders will receive $10.50 in cash, without interest, and less any applicable withholding taxes, in exchange for each share of Answers.com common stock owned and outstanding at the effective time of the merger.

Holders of Series A convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series A stock”) will receive an amount in cash, without interest, in exchange for each share of Series A stock owned and outstanding at the effective time of the merger equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $101.76 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum, calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series A stock to the effective time of the merger divided by (B) $4.50, and less any applicable withholding taxes.

Holders of Series B convertible preferred stock of Answers.com (the “Series B stock”) will receive an amount in cash, without interest, in exchange for each share of Series B stock owned and outstanding at the effective time of the merger equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $100.00 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum, calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series B stock to the effective time of the merger divided by (B) $5.50, and less any applicable withholding taxes.

The holders of vested options to purchase Answers.com common stock will receive an amount in cash equal to the excess, if any, of (A) $10.50 multiplied by the number of shares underlying such options, over (B) the aggregate exercise price of such options, without interest and less any deductions and required withholding taxes, as applicable. All unvested options to acquire Answers.com common stock outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will no longer constitute the right to acquire Answers.com common stock. Instead, with respect to unvested options not held by our non-employee directors, on each date on which a portion of such unvested stock options would have become vested and exercisable, provided that such holder is still employed by the surviving corporation under the merger on such date, such holder will receive an amount in cash equal to the excess, if any, of $10.50 multiplied by the number of shares underlying such stock options which become vested on such date over the aggregate exercise price of such vested stock options, without interest and less any deductions and required withholding taxes, as applicable. Each unvested option outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger which is held by one of our non-employee directors will be accelerated and treated as a vested option in the merger. In addition, fifty percent of each of our executive officers' respective unvested options will accelerate upon consummation of the merger, and if any such executive officer is terminated within 12 months following the merger, his remaining unvested options, at the time of termination, will become immediately vested.

Each warrant to purchase shares of Company common stock that is issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be fully exercised prior to the effective time or terminated at the effective time. Following the closing, the holder of any such terminated warrant will be entitled to receive an amount in cash equal to the product of (A) the number of shares issuable upon exercise of such warrant, multiplied by (B) an amount equal to the excess, if any, of $10.50 less the per share exercise price for such warrant, without interest, subject to withholding taxes.

After careful consideration and consultation with its financial and legal advisors, our board of directors has determined that the merger and the merger agreement is fair to, and in the best interests of, Answers.com and its stockholders, and declared the merger to be advisable. Our board of directors recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote "FOR" the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. Our board of directors also recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote "FOR" any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

For the factors considered by the Answers.com board of directors in reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and the merger, see "The Merger — Recommendations of the Answers.com Board of Directors" beginning on page 31 of this document and "The Merger — Answers.com's Reasons for the Merger" beginning on page 31 of this document.

Opinion of the Financial Advisor to the Answers.com Board of Directors (see page 36 of this document)

In connection with the merger, the board of directors of Answers.com received a written opinion, dated February 2, 2011, from the Company's financial advisor, UBS Securities LLC ("UBS"), as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of such opinion, of the $10.50 per share consideration to be received in the merger by holders of Answers.com common stock. The full text of UBS' written opinion, dated February 2, 2011, is attached to this proxy statement as Annex D.

UBS' opinion was provided for the benefit of the Answers.com board of directors, in its capacity as such, in connection with, and for the purpose of, its evaluation of the $10.50 per share consideration to be received in the merger by holders of Answers.com common stock, and does not address any other aspect of the merger. The opinion does not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to other business strategies or transactions that might be available with respect to Answers.com or Answers.com's underlying business decision to effect the merger. The opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such stockholder should vote or act with respect to the merger. Holders of Answers.com common stock are encouraged to read UBS' opinion carefully in its entirety for a description of the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by UBS.

The merger agreement does not contain any financing condition. However, an affiliate of AFCV (the “borrower”) has obtained debt financing commitments from (i) Wells Fargo Bank, National Association (“Wells Fargo”) and (ii) Summit Partners Subordinated Debt Fund IV-A, L.P. and Summit Partners Subordinated Debt Fund IV-B, L.P. (collectively, the “Summit lenders”, and together with Wells Fargo, the “lenders”), on the terms and conditions set forth in the debt commitment letters each dated February 2, 2011 (collectively, the “debt commitment letters”) for the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The commitment from Wells Fargo is to provide $50,000,000 in a senior secured term loan facility and the commitment from the Summit lenders is to provide $50,000,000 in exchange for senior subordinated notes. The aggregate commitments of Wells Fargo and the Summit lenders, together with cash of Answers.com expected to be on hand at the time of the merger and other sources of cash available to AFCV, are expected to be sufficient for AFCV and Merger Sub to pay the aggregate merger consideration and all transaction expenses.

The special meeting of the Answers.com stockholders will be held on _____, 2011, at _____ a.m., local time, at the offices of Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP, 1177 Avenue of the Americas, New York, New York 10036. At the Answers.com special meeting of stockholders, Answers.com stockholders will be asked to vote on a proposal to adopt the merger agreement and, if necessary, to approve a proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

Record Date; Stockholders Entitled to Vote (see page 17 of this document)

Stockholders of Answers.com are entitled to vote at the special meeting if they own shares of our capital stock at the close of business on the record date set by our board of directors for the special meeting. As of _____, 2011, the most recent practicable date before the date of this proxy statement, there were _____ shares of our common stock, 60,000 shares of Series A stock and 70,000 shares of our Series B stock outstanding. Each holder of our common stock will have one vote at the special meeting for each share of common stock owned at the close of business on the record date. Because each share of Series A stock and each share of Series B stock is voted on an as-converted-to-common stock basis, the holder of a share of Series A stock owned at the close of business on the record date will have _____ votes per share of Series A stock at the special meeting, and the holder of a share of Series B stock owned at the close of business on the record date will have _____ votes per share of Series B stock at the special meeting.

Required Stockholder Approval for the Merger

Adoption of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Answers.com common stock, Series A stock and Series B stock (the Series A stock and the Series B stock, together, the “preferred stock”), voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis. If Answers.com stockholders do not adopt the merger agreement, the merger will not be completed. Failure to vote, in person or by proxy, will have the same effect as a vote against the adoption of the merger agreement.

The affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Answers.com common stock and the preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together on an as converted to common stock basis, is required to approve any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. Failure to vote, in person or by proxy, will have no effect on the approval of the adjournment proposal.

Brokers or other nominees who hold shares of Answers.com common stock in “street name” for customers who are the beneficial owners of those shares may not give a proxy to vote those customers’ shares with respect to the adoption of the merger agreement or approval of the adjournment proposal in the absence of specific instructions from those customers. Shares held by brokers or other nominees that are not voted due to the absence of instructions from their customers are sometimes referred to as broker “non-votes.” These non-voted shares of Answers.com common stock will not be counted as votes cast or shares voting and will have the same effect as votes “against” the adoption of the merger agreement. Assuming a quorum is present at the special meeting, non-voted shares of Answers.com common stock will have no effect on any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement.

In connection with the merger agreement, the holders of our preferred stock, as well as our chief executive officer, solely in their capacities as stockholders, entered into voting agreements with AFCV pursuant to which each of those stockholders agreed, among other things, to vote the shares of our capital stock over which they exercise voting control in favor of adoption of the merger agreement. These stockholders exercise voting control over an aggregate of 300,960 shares of our common stock, and all of our preferred stock outstanding as of , 2011, the most recent practicable date before the date of this proxy statement, which constitutes approximately % of the shares of our common stock and preferred stock outstanding on that date, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger (see page 69 of this document)

Conditions to the Obligations of AFCV and Merger Sub. The obligations of AFCV and Merger Sub to consummate the merger depend upon the satisfaction or waiver, where permitted by the merger agreement, of each of the following conditions:

the Answers.com stockholders, by an affirmative vote, shall have adopted the merger agreement;

no governmental entity shall have enacted any statute, rule or order making the merger illegal or shall have prohibited or prevented the consummation of the merger;

all applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act shall have expired or early termination of those waiting periods shall have been granted;

each of Answers.com's representations and warranties (except those addressing subsidiaries, Answers.com's Israeli subsidiary, Answers.com's capital structure, Answers.com's authority to enter into the merger agreement, any brokers' and finders' fees of Answers.com, the UBS fairness opinion and takeover statutes and rights plans) contained in the merger agreement must be true in correct, both as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date of the merger (subject to certain exceptions), except to the extent that the failure of any of those representations and warranties to be so true and correct does not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on Answers.com;

each of Answers.com's representations and warranties addressing Answers.com's authority to enter into the merger agreement, any brokers' and finders' fees of Answers.com, the UBS fairness opinion and takeover statutes and rights plans must be true and correct in all material respects, both as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date of the merger (subject to certain exceptions);

Answers.com's representations and warranties relating to its capital structure must be true and correct except to the extent an inaccuracy would result in an increase in the consideration payable by AFCV to the stockholders of Answers.com by 0.5% or more;

Answers.com's representations and warranties relating to subsidiaries and its Israeli subsidiary must be true and correct except to the extent an inaccuracy would not reasonably be expected to have, in the aggregate, more than an insignificant adverse effect on AFCV or Answers.com's ownership or control of Answers.com's Israeli subsidiary (or any other subsidiary of Answers.com) or on the ability of AFCV, Answers.com or subsidiaries of Answers.com to own or control their respective assets or conduct their respective businesses;

Answers.com shall have complied with all of its covenants and obligations under the merger agreement in all material respects and delivered to the other party a certificate to that effect signed by an officer of Answers.com;

Answers.com shall not have suffered any material adverse effect which is continuing as of the closing of the merger and Answers.com shall have delivered to AFCV a certificate to that effect signed by an officer of Answers.com;

Answers.com shall have delivered to AFCV certain third party consents; and the Israeli Subsidiary shall have received written approval from the Investment Center established under the Israeli Law for the Encouragement of Capital Investment, 5719-1959, as amended (the "Investment Center"), which approval was obtained on February 7, 2011.

Conditions to the Obligations of Answers.com. The obligations of Answers.com to consummate the merger depend upon the satisfaction or waiver, where permitted by the merger agreement, of each of the following conditions:

the Answers.com stockholders, by an affirmative vote, shall have adopted the merger agreement;

no governmental entity shall have enacted any statute, rule or order making the merger illegal or having prohibited or prevented the consummation of the merger;

all applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act shall have expired or early termination of such waiting periods shall have been granted;

each of AFCV and Merger Sub's representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement must be true and correct, both as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing date of the merger, except to the extent that the failure of any such representations and warranties to be so true and correct does not prevent AFCV and Merger Sub from consummating the merger in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement and applicable legal requirements; and AFCV and Merger Sub shall have complied with all of their covenants and obligations under the merger agreement in all material respects and delivered to the other party a certificate to such effect signed by an officer of AFCV.

For the definition of "material adverse effect," see "The Merger Agreement — Representations and Warranties" on page 57 of this document.

Limitation on Answers.com's Ability to Consider Other Acquisition Proposals (see page 66 of this document)

Under the terms of the merger agreement, subject to certain exceptions described below, Answers.com has agreed that it and its subsidiaries will not, nor will they authorize or permit any of their respective officers, directors, employees, affiliates, investment bankers, attorneys, accountants, or other agents, advisors or representatives to, directly or indirectly:

solicit, initiate, seek, knowingly encourage or facilitate, support or induce any inquiry with respect to, or the making, submission or announcement of, any alternative transaction proposal;

participate or otherwise engage in any discussion or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any person any non-public information or grant access to its books, records or personnel with respect to, or take any action to facilitate any inquiring or the making of any proposal that is or may lead to an alternative transaction proposal;

grant any person a waiver or release under any standstill or similar agreement or approve any transaction covered by any such standstill or similar agreement;

approve, endorse or recommend any alternative transaction proposal; or enter into any letter of intent or any contract or commitment with respect to an alternative transaction proposal.

Under the merger agreement, Answers.com and its subsidiaries, and their respective representatives, are required to cease all activities, discussions or negotiations that may have been ongoing as of the date of the merger agreement with any third parties with respect to any alternative transaction proposal. Further, Answers.com agreed, except as otherwise permitted under the merger agreement and described below, that its board of directors shall not withdraw, amend, qualify or modify its recommendation of the merger agreement and the merger.

Notwithstanding the prohibitions described above, if prior to obtaining Answers.com's stockholder adoption of the merger agreement, Answers.com receives an unsolicited, bona fide alternative transaction proposal, and, among other things, the Answers.com board of directors determines (after consultation with its outside financial and legal advisors) (i) that the alternative transaction proposal is or is reasonably likely to become a "superior proposal," and (ii) that it is required to take the following actions in order to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware Law, and provided that Answers.com has given AFCV at least 24 hours' prior written notice of its intention to take any of the following actions, and has disclosed to AFCV the identity of such third party and the material terms and conditions of such alternative transaction proposal, then Answers.com may:

furnish non-public information to the third party making such alternative transaction proposal under an executed confidentiality agreement, which includes a standstill provision, on terms at least as restrictive as the confidentiality agreement between AFCV and Answers.com and provided that such non-public information be furnished to AFCV; and engage in discussions or negotiations with the third party with respect to an alternative transaction proposal.

In response to a superior proposal or an "intervening event," the Answers.com board may change its recommendation to the stockholders of Answers.com with respect to adoption of the merger agreement, if:

in the case of a superior proposal, the proposal has not been withdrawn and continues to be a superior proposal;

approval of the merger agreement by Answers.com's stockholders has not yet been obtained;

Answers.com has:

- delivered to AFCV written notice at least three business days prior to publicly changing its recommendation and provided to AFCV certain information regarding the superior proposal or intervening event;
- provided to AFCV all materials and information delivered to the third party making the superior proposal; and

-during this three business day period, if requested by AFCV, engaged in good faith negotiations to amend the merger agreement in such a manner that the superior proposal would no longer be a superior proposal or, in the case of an intervening event, which obviates the need for a change of recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to Answers.com's stockholders under Delaware law;

AFCV has not, within the aforementioned three business day period, made an offer in writing such that the Answers.com board of directors has in good faith determined that the superior proposal is no longer a superior proposal or, in the case of an intervening event, which obviates the need for the Answers.com board to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to Answers.com stockholders under Delaware law;

the board has concluded, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that in light of the superior proposal or intervening event, and after considering any adjustments proposed by AFCV, that it is required to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations under Delaware Law; and

Answers.com has previously complied with the provisions summarized under this section and under the section entitled "— Answers.com Meeting of Stockholders" beginning on page 65 of this document.

Notwithstanding a change in the recommendation of the board, Answers.com remains obligated to hold the special meeting of the stockholders to adopt the merger agreement, unless the merger agreement has been properly terminated.

For the definitions of "alternative transaction proposal" and "superior proposal," see "The Merger Agreement — Limitation on Answers.com's Ability to Consider Other Acquisition Proposals" beginning on page 66 of this document.

Termination of the Merger Agreement (see page 70 of this document)

The merger agreement may be terminated:

by mutual written consent of AFCV and Answers.com;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if the merger has not been consummated by July 5, 2011, but not by a party whose action or failure to act is the principal cause of or has resulted in the failure of the merger to occur;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if any legal requirement makes the merger illegal or if any governmental entity issues an order, decree or ruling or takes any other action permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the merger which is final and nonappealable, but not by a party whose action or failure to act is the principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the merger to occur;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if the stockholders of Answers.com fail to adopt the merger agreement at the meeting called for that purpose, but not by Answers.com where its action or failure to act is a principal cause of the failure of the stockholders of Answers.com to adopt the merger agreement;

by AFCV, if the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger, or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting;

by Answers.com, as a result of the breach by AFCV of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement or if any representation or warranty of AFCV shall have become untrue, such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by AFCV, as a result of the breach by Answers.com of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement or if any representation or warranty of Answers.com shall have become untrue, such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by AFCV, if a material adverse effect on Answers.com has occurred, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by Answers.com, if the conditions to the merger have been satisfied (other than those that by their terms are satisfied at the closing), Answers.com is ready, willing and able to consummate the merger and has not materially breached any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement, and on July 5, 2011 AFCV has not received the proceeds of its financing; or

by Answers.com, if prior to the stockholders meeting its board of directors has changed its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal, and it concurrently pays to AFCV a termination fee (see below).

Answers.com is obligated to pay to AFCV a cash termination fee of $4,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by AFCV in the event that:

the stockholders of Answers.com fail to adopt the merger agreement and (i) at such time the conditions to AFCV's financing have been or would reasonably be expected to be satisfied, (ii) an alternative transaction proposal has become publicly known and the valuation per share of Answers.com for purposes of the proposal is equal to or greater than the price contemplated by the merger, and (iii) within twelve months following termination of the merger agreement, an alternative transaction proposal is consummated, or Answers.com enters into a letter of intent or any contract or commitment contemplating an alternative transaction proposal which is subsequently consummated;

the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger, or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting; or either the merger has not been consummated by July 5, 2011 and all conditions to the merger are satisfied other than the conditions relating to the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements of Answers.com, or Answers.com breaches its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, and (i) an alternative transaction proposal has become publicly known or is known to the board of directors of Answers.com and the valuation per share of Answers.com for purposes of the proposal is equal to or greater than the price contemplated by the merger, and (ii) within twelve months following termination of the merger agreement, an alternative transaction proposal is consummated, or Answers.com enters into a letter of intent or any contract or commitment contemplating an alternative transaction proposal which is subsequently consummated.

Answers.com is also obligated to pay to AFCV a cash termination fee of $4,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com if, prior to the stockholders meeting, its board of directors changes its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal.

In addition, Answers.com is obligated to pay to AFCV up to $1,000,000 of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses (A) if the stockholders of Answers.com do not adopt the merger agreement by reason of the willful, knowing and material breach of the merger agreement by Answers.com, (B) if the merger agreement is terminated by AFCV if the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting, or (C) if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com, if, prior to the stockholders meeting, its board of directors changes its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal.

AFCV is obligated to pay to Answers.com a cash termination fee of $7,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com if (i) the conditions to the merger have been satisfied (other than those that by their terms are satisfied at the closing), (ii) Answers.com is ready, willing and able to consummate the merger and has not materially breached any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement, and (iii) on July 5, 2011 AFCV has not received the proceeds of its financing.

In addition, AFCV is obligated to pay to Answers.com up to $1,000,000 of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses, upon termination of the merger agreement by Answers.com if AFCV has not received the proceeds of its debt financing by July 5, 2011, but only if the failure of AFCV to have received the proceeds of its financing is due to AFCV's willful, knowing and material breach of the merger agreement.

Interests of Answers.com Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger (see page 41 of this document)

When considering our board of directors' recommendation that Answers.com stockholders vote in favor of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, Answers.com's stockholders should be aware that our directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, the interests of other Answers.com stockholders. These interests create a potential conflict of interest and may be perceived to have affected their decision to support or approve the merger. Our board of directors was aware of these potential conflicts of interest during its deliberations on the merits of the merger and in making its decisions in approving the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger.

These interests include the following:

indemnification rights and coverage for our officers and directors will continue under existing policies or new directors' and officers' liability insurance policies;

outstanding unvested options held by our non-employee directors will accelerate and be cashed out upon consummation of the merger;

(a) fifty percent of each of our executive officers unvested options will accelerate upon consummation of the merger, and (b) if any such executive officer is terminated within 12 months following the merger, his remaining unvested options, at the time of termination, will become immediately vested;

certain of our executive officers, pursuant to the terms of their employment agreements, will be entitled to receive an additional month's notice prior to termination, if termination occurs within 12 months following the merger;

all of our executive officers will be entitled to receive change of control bonuses upon the consummation of the merger pursuant to “single-trigger” change of control arrangements; and two of our directors, Thomas Dyal and Allen Beasley, are partners of the venture capital fund Redpoint Ventures (“Redpoint”) and were appointed to our board of directors by affiliates of Redpoint which hold preferred stock.

See the section entitled “The Merger — Interests of our Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger” beginning on page 41.

Regulatory Matters (see page 50 of this document)

The Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the “HSR Act”), prohibits us from completing the merger until we have furnished required information and materials to the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (the “DOJ”) and the Federal Trade Commission (the “FTC”), and the required waiting period has ended or been early terminated. On February 16, 2011, certain affiliates of AFCV and Answers.com made the required filings concerning the merger with the DOJ and the FTC under the HSR Act.

The change in the composition of our stockholders in connection with the merger requires the approval of the Investment Center. The approval of the Investment Center in connection with the merger is a condition to completion of the merger, which approval was obtained on February 7, 2011.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences (see page 48 of this document)

The exchange of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock for cash in the merger will be a taxable transaction to our stockholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In general, a U.S. Holder (as defined below) who receives cash for shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock pursuant to the merger will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount of cash received and the holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock. See "Certain Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences" beginning on page 10 for more information regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to holders of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock. Because individual circumstances may differ, we urge holders of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock to consult their tax advisors for a complete analysis of the effect of the merger on their U.S. federal, state and local and/or non-U.S. taxes.

Appraisal Rights (see page 44 of this document)

Under Delaware law, if an Answers.com stockholder does not wish to receive the cash consideration for each share of Answers.com stock payable in the merger, that stockholder's may seek, under Section 262 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, judicial appraisal of the fair value of that stockholder shares by the Delaware Court of Chancery, subject to the satisfaction of the requirements for exercising and perfecting those rights. This value could be more than, less than or equal to the value of the merger consideration provided for in the merger agreement. This right to appraisal is subject to a number of restrictions and technical requirements discussed in greater detail on page 19 of this document.

Delisting and Deregistration of Answers.com common stock (see page 51 of this document)

If the merger is completed, Answers.com's common stock will be delisted from The NASDAQ Capital Market and deregistered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the "Exchange Act"). Thereafter, the provisions of the Exchange Act will no longer apply to us, including the requirements to file periodic reports with the SEC and to furnish a proxy or information statement to our stockholders in connection with meetings of our stockholders.

Exchange Agent

American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC will act as the exchange agent in connection with the merger.

Legal Proceedings Regarding the Merger (see page 52 of this document)

Between February 4, 2011 and February 11, 2011, six separate and substantially identical purported stockholder class action complaints were filed in the Supreme Court of New York in New York County, State of New York and the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, AFCV, and certain other defendants. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders and because the merger price of $10.50/share allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock. The plaintiffs further allege that AFCV and certain of the other defendants, aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an order enjoining the members of the Answers.com board of directors from consummating the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and damages and attorneys' fees. The outcome in these lawsuits could have an impact on the consummation of the merger. Answers.com and the other defendant parties intend to defend these lawsuits vigorously and believe them to have no merit.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER

The following questions and answers are intended to address briefly some commonly asked questions about the merger, the merger agreement and the special meeting. These questions and answers may not address all questions that are important to you as a stockholder of Answers.com. Please refer to the “Summary Term Sheet” and the more detailed information contained elsewhere in this proxy statement, including in its annexes, all of which you should read carefully in their entirety. See also “Where You Can Find More Information” beginning on page 76.

Throughout this proxy statement, all references to the “Company,” “Answers.com,” “we,” “us,” and “our” refer to Answers Corporation and its subsidiary, unless otherwise indicated or the context otherwise requires.

Q: Why am I receiving this document?

A: Answers.com, AFCV and Merger Sub, an indirect wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV, have agreed to effectuate the merger of Merger Sub with and into Answers.com under the terms of the merger agreement that is described in this document. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this document as Annex A. You should carefully read the merger agreement in its entirety.

In order for the merger to be completed, Answers.com stockholders holding at least a majority of the outstanding shares of our common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, must vote to adopt the merger agreement. Because the vote is based on the number of shares outstanding rather than the number of votes cast, failure to vote your shares and abstentions will have the same effect as voting against the approval and adoption of the merger agreement.

We will hold a special meeting of stockholders to seek this approval. This document contains important information about the merger and the special meeting of stockholders.

Your vote is important regardless of the number of shares you hold. We encourage you to vote as soon as possible. The enclosed voting materials allow you to vote your shares without attending the special meeting of stockholders in person.

For specific information regarding the merger agreement, see “The Merger Agreement” beginning on page 54 of this document.

As a result, shares of Answers.com common stock will no longer be listed on any stock exchange, including The NASDAQ Capital Market, and will be deregistered under the Exchange Act.

Q: What will an Answers.com stockholder receive if the merger occurs?

A: Answers.com common stockholders will receive $10.50 in cash, without interest, less any applicable withholding taxes, in exchange for each share of Answers.com common stock owned and outstanding at the effective time of the merger, unless the holder thereof does not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and properly perfects the holder's appraisal rights under Delaware law.

In accordance with the Certificate of Designations, Numbers, Voting Powers, Preferences and Rights of the Series A stock, holders of Series A stock will receive an amount in cash without interest for each share owned equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $101.76 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series A stock to the effective time of the merger, divided by (B) $4.50.

In accordance with the Certificate of Designations, Numbers, Voting Powers, Preferences and Rights of the Series B stock, holders of Series B stock will receive an amount in cash without interest for each share owned equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $100.00 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regularly quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series B stock to the effective time of the merger, divided by (B) $5.50.

Q: Will I have appraisal rights if I dissent from the merger?

A: Yes. Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, you have the right to seek appraisal of the fair market value of your shares, as determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery, if the merger is completed, but only if (a) you do not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement, (b) you deliver a written demand for appraisal (as described elsewhere in this proxy statement) and (c) you continuously hold through the effective time of the merger the shares for which you demand appraisal. See "Appraisal Rights" beginning on page 44 of this document for a more detailed discussion of appraisal rights and the text of Section 262 of the Delaware General Corporation Law attached as Annex B to this proxy statement.

Q: What constitutes a quorum at the special meeting?

A: A quorum at the special meeting shall consist of a majority of the shares entitled to vote at the special meeting of Answers.com stockholders.

Q: What vote of Answers.com stockholders is required to adopt the merger agreement?

A: Approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, outstanding as of the record date for the special meeting.

Answers.com and AFCV have entered into voting agreements with (i) Robert Rosenschein, Answers.com's chief executive officer, and (ii) certain affiliates of Redpoint, which stockholders together exercise voting control of approximately % of the Answers.com common stock and preferred stock outstanding, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, as of , 2011, the most recent practicable date before the date of this proxy statement. Under these voting agreements, Mr. Rosenschein and Redpoint's affiliates have agreed, among other things, to vote their shares in favor of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. The voting agreements are attached as Annexes C-1 and C-2, respectively, to this proxy statement.

A: Approval of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock entitled to vote on the matter, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, and present in person or by properly executed proxy at the special meeting.

Q: How does the board of directors of Answers.com recommend that I vote?

A: After careful consideration and consultation with its financial and legal advisors, the Answers.com board of directors has unanimously determined that the merger is advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of Answers.com and its stockholders, and approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger. Our board of directors recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote “FOR” the proposal to adopt the merger agreement. Our board of directors also recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote “FOR” any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

See “The Merger — Recommendations of the Answers.com Board of Directors” beginning on page 31 of this document for a more detailed discussion of the recommendation of the Answers.com board of directors.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: We urge you to read this proxy statement, including its annexes, carefully and in its entirety and consider how the merger will affect you. If you are a stockholder of record, you can ensure your shares are voted at the special meeting by completing, dating, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card in the enclosed prepaid envelope or by voting through the Internet or by telephone. If you hold your shares in “street name,” you can ensure that your shares are voted at the special meeting by instructing your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote, as discussed below. DO NOT return your stock certificate(s) with your proxy card.

Q: How do I cast my vote?

A: If you are the record owner of your shares of Answers.com common stock or preferred stock, you may vote by:

Internet using the Internet voting instructions printed on your proxy card;

telephone using the telephone number printed on your proxy card;

signing and dating each proxy card you receive and returning it in the enclosed prepaid envelope; or attending the special meeting and voting in person, as more fully described below.

If you hold your shares in “street name,” you should follow the procedures provided by your broker, bank or other nominee.

If you return your signed proxy card, but do not mark the boxes showing how you wish to vote, your shares will be voted “FOR” the adoption of the merger agreement.

Q: What if I do not vote?

A: An abstention from voting or a broker non-vote will have the effect of a vote against the merger proposal but will not have any effect on any proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

Q: If my broker, bank or other nominee holds my shares in “street name,” will they vote my shares?

A: Yes, but only if you instruct your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote your shares. You should follow the procedures provided by your broker, bank or other nominee regarding the voting of your shares. If you do not provide instruction on how to vote your shares, your shares will not be voted and the effect will be the same as a vote by you against the adoption of the merger agreement, but will not have an effect on any proposal to adjourn the special meeting. We urge you to contact your broker, bank or other nominee promptly to ensure that your vote is counted.

Q: May I attend the special meeting and vote in person?

A: Yes. All stockholders as of the record date may attend the special meeting and vote in person. If your shares of our common stock are held in “street name,” you must obtain a legal proxy from your broker, bank or other nominee and bring your statement evidencing your beneficial ownership of our common stock in order to attend the special meeting and vote in person.

Whether or not you plan to attend the special meeting, please submit your proxy or voting instructions through the Internet or by telephone or complete, date, sign and return, as promptly as possible, the enclosed proxy card or voting instructions in the enclosed prepaid envelope.

Q: Can I change my vote after I have delivered my proxy?

A: Yes, if you submit your proxy through the Internet or by telephone or mail, you may revoke your proxy at any time before the vote is taken at the special meeting in any of the following ways:

granting a proxy through the Internet or by telephone after the date of your original proxy and before the deadlines for voting included on your proxy card;

submitting a later-dated proxy by mail before your earlier-dated proxy is voted at the special meeting;

giving written notice of the revocation of your proxy to our Corporate Secretary at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101, New York, NY 10001, that is actually received by our Corporate Secretary prior to the special meeting; or voting in person at the special meeting.

Your attendance in person at the special meeting alone does not automatically revoke your proxy. If you have instructed your broker, bank or other nominee to vote your shares, the above-described options for revoking your proxy do not apply. Instead, you must follow the directions provided by your broker, bank or other nominee to change your vote.

These proxy solicitation materials were mailed on or about _____, 2011 to all stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting.

Record Date; Shares Entitled to Vote; Outstanding Shares

The Answers.com board of directors has fixed the close of business on _____, 2011 as the record date for determining the stockholders of Answers.com entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof. Only Answers.com stockholders of record at the close of business on the record date will be entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting of stockholders or any adjournments thereof. As of _____, 2011, the most recent practicable date before the filing of this proxy statement, there were _____ shares of Answers.com common stock, 60,000 shares of Series A stock (convertible into _____ shares of common stock) and 70,000 shares of Series B stock (convertible into _____ shares of common stock) issued and outstanding and expected to be entitled to vote at the Answers.com special meeting of stockholders. Answers.com common stockholders will have one vote for each share of Answers.com common stock that they owned on the record date. Answers.com preferred stockholders will have the number of votes, which is equal to the number of shares of common stock into which the shares of preferred stock could have been converted on the record date.

The list of stockholders entitled to vote at the special meeting will be available for inspection at our principal executive offices located at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101, New York, NY 10001, during ordinary business hours at least 10 days before the special meeting.

Purpose of the Special Meeting of Stockholders

At the special meeting of stockholders, our stockholders will be asked to:

1. Consider and vote on a proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 2, 2011, by and among the Company, AFCV and Merger Sub; and
2. Consider and vote on a proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the merger agreement.

Recommendations of our Board of Directors

After careful consideration and consultation with its financial and legal advisors, our board of directors has unanimously determined that the merger is advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of Answers.com and its stockholders, and approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger. Our board of directors recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote "FOR" the proposal to adopt the merger agreement and "FOR" the adjournment proposal, if necessary. See "Recommendations of the Answers.com Board of Directors" beginning on page 31 of this document for a more detailed discussion of the recommendations of the Answers.com board of directors.

Edgar Filing: Answers CORP - Form PREM14A

If your submitted proxy does not specify how you want to vote your shares, your shares will be voted “FOR” the proposal to adopt the merger agreement and “FOR” any proposal by our board of directors to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

Your vote is important regardless of the number of shares you hold. Accordingly, please sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card as soon as possible whether or not you plan to attend the Answers.com special meeting of stockholders in person.

Quorum; Abstentions; Broker Non-Votes

There must be a quorum for the special meeting of stockholders to be held. The holders of at least a majority of the issued and outstanding Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, will constitute a quorum for the purpose of transacting business at the special meeting of stockholders. Only Answers.com stockholders of record on the record date will be entitled to vote at the special meeting of stockholders. All shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, represented at the special meeting of stockholders, but not voting, including broker non-votes and abstentions, will be counted as present for purpose of determining the presence or absence of a quorum but will not be counted as having been voted on any proposal.

Broker non-votes result from shares held of record by brokers, banks or nominees which are not voted due to the failure of the beneficial owners of those shares to provide voting instructions as to certain non-routine matters, such as a merger proposal, as to which such brokers, banks or nominees may not vote on a discretionary basis. Consequently, an abstention from voting or a broker non-vote will have the effect of a vote against the proposal to adopt the merger agreement but will not have any effect on any proposal to adjourn the special meeting.

Votes Required

Approval of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis. The merger will not be completed unless Answers.com stockholders approve the proposal to adopt the merger agreement.

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, voting, in person or by proxy and entitled to vote on the matter, together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis whether or not a quorum is present, is required to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of the merger agreement.

Solicitation of Proxies

This solicitation is made on behalf of the Answers.com board of directors, and Answers.com will pay the costs of soliciting and obtaining the proxies, including the cost of reimbursing banks, brokers and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries, for forwarding proxy materials to their principals. Proxies may be solicited, without extra compensation, by Answers.com's officers, directors and employees by mail, telephone, fax, personal interviews or other methods of communication. Answers.com has engaged Okapi Partners to assist it in the distribution and solicitation of proxies. Answers.com estimates that it will pay Okapi Partners fees of approximately $30,000 for its services and will reimburse Okapi Partners for reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

Voting; Proxies and Revocation

You may vote in person or by proxy at the special meeting. If you plan to attend the special meeting and wish to vote in person, you will be given a ballot at the special meeting. Please note, however, that, if your shares are held in "street name," which means your shares are held of record by a broker, bank or other nominee, and you wish to vote in person at the special meeting, you must bring to the special meeting (a) a legal proxy from the record holder of the shares (your broker, bank or nominee) authorizing you to vote at the special meeting and (b) your statement evidencing your beneficial ownership of our common stock or preferred stock.

Edgar Filing: Answers CORP - Form PREM14A

If you do not wish to attend the special meeting and you are a record holder, you may submit your proxy by completing, dating, signing and returning the enclosed proxy card in the enclosed postage-paid envelope or otherwise mail it to Okapi Partners. In addition, you may submit your proxy by telephone or through the Internet. You must have the enclosed proxy card available, and follow the instructions on the proxy card, in order to submit a proxy by the Internet or telephone. If you submit a proxy through the Internet, by telephone or by returning a signed proxy card by mail, your shares will be voted at the special meeting as you indicate on your proxy card or by such other method. If you sign your proxy card without indicating your vote, your shares will be voted "FOR" the adoption of the merger agreement and "FOR" any proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to adopt the merger agreement.

If you do not wish to attend the special meeting in person and your shares are held in “street name,” you should instruct your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote your shares using the voting instruction form furnished by your broker, bank or other nominee.

Proxies received at any time before the special meeting and not revoked or superseded before being voted will be voted at the special meeting. If you submit your proxy through the Internet, by telephone or by mail, you may revoke your proxy at any time before the vote is taken at the special meeting in any of the following ways:

granting a proxy through the Internet or by telephone after the date of your original proxy and before the deadlines for voting included on your proxy card;

submitting a later-dated proxy by mail before your earlier-dated proxy is voted at the special meeting;

giving written notice of the revocation of your proxy to our Corporate Secretary at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101, New York, NY 10001, that is actually received by our Corporate Secretary prior to the special meeting; or voting in person at the special meeting.

Your attendance in person at the special meeting does not alone automatically revoke your proxy. If you have instructed your broker, bank or other nominee how to vote your shares, the above-described options for revoking your proxy do not apply. Instead, you must follow the directions provided by your broker, bank or other nominee to change your vote.

Voting Agreements

As an inducement for AFCV and Merger Sub to enter into the merger agreement, (i) Mr. Rosenschein and (ii) Redpoint’s affiliates which hold preferred shares, have each entered into a voting agreement, including an irrevocable proxy, with Answers.com and AFCV. Mr. Rosenschein entered into his voting agreement solely in his capacity as a stockholder of Answers.com and not in his capacity as a director or officer of Answers.com. The voting agreements provide, among other things, that the stockholders party thereto will vote (or cause to be voted) all of their shares of Answers.com stock (A) in favor of, among other things, the adoption of the merger agreement and (B) against, among other things, any alternative transaction proposal involving Answers.com. These stockholders exercise voting control over an aggregate of shares of our common stock, and all of the preferred stock outstanding as of 16, 2011, the most recent practicable date before the filing of this proxy statement, which constitutes approximately % of the shares of our common stock and preferred stock outstanding on that date voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis.

See “The Merger – Voting Agreements” beginning on page 19 for a more detailed discussion of the voting agreements.

Appraisal Rights

Under Delaware law, if an Answers.com stockholder does not vote for adoption of the merger agreement and complies with the other statutory requirements of the Delaware General Corporation Law, the stockholder may elect to receive, in cash, the judicially determined fair value of the stockholder’s shares of Answers.com stock.

See “Appraisal Rights” beginning on page 44 for a more detailed discussion of appraisal rights.

THE MERGER

This section of the document describes the principal aspects of the proposed merger. While Answers.com believes that the description of the merger contained in this section covers the material terms of the merger and the related transactions, this summary may not contain all of the information that is important to Answers.com stockholders. You can obtain a more complete understanding of the merger by reading the merger agreement, a copy of which is attached to this document as Annex A. You are encouraged to read the merger agreement and the other annexes to this document carefully and in their entirety.

General Description of the Merger

AFCV has agreed to acquire Answers.com under the terms of an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of February 2, 2011, by and among the Company, AFCV and Merger Sub, which we refer to as the “merger agreement,” that is described in this proxy statement and attached as Annex A to this document. Under the merger agreement, Merger Sub will be merged with and into the Company, which will be the surviving entity in the merger. In the merger, holders of our common stock and preferred stock will receive cash in exchange for the shares of our common stock and preferred stock which they hold.

Background of the Merger

As part of the ongoing evaluation of Answers.com's business, our board of directors and members of our senior management regularly review and assess opportunities to achieve long-term strategic goals, including, among other things, potential opportunities for business combinations, acquisitions, dispositions and investments, as well as other strategic alternatives. To this end, in July 2005, Answers.com formed a standing Financing Committee, whose purpose is to review and discuss with management financing opportunities that Answers.com is considering, to evaluate the business merits of potential mergers and acquisitions and to provide the board of directors with recommendations as to the terms and conditions of any extraordinary transactions, in consultation with the management team, legal advisors and financial consultants. The Financing Committee currently consists of three of our directors: Mr. Mark Segall, who acts as its chairman, Mr. Allen Beasley and Mr. Yehudah Sternlicht. Mr. Beasley, along with our director, Mr. Thomas Dyal, is a general partner of the venture capital firm Redpoint Ventures, whose affiliates are Answers.com's largest stockholders, and serves as a representative of Redpoint Ventures on our board of directors. Consistent with the responsibilities of the Financing Committee, the members of the Committee have regularly considered and discussed with management and other members of our board of directors possible strategic opportunities for Answers.com as they have arisen. Answers.com has also received from time to time unsolicited expressions of interest in the Company from third parties. Other than the proposed merger, in the last two years, none of these unsolicited expressions of interest have ever resulted in delivery of any specific proposals with respect to a change-of-control transaction to Answers.com, its management or its board of directors.

At the suggestion of Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal, in mid-September 2009, Mr. Robert Rosenschein, Answers.com's founder, chairman and chief executive officer, had a preliminary conversation with a potential financial advisor that the Company was considering engaging to discuss possible strategic alternatives for the Company. At the Consumer Electronics Show Conference in Las Vegas, on January 8 and 9, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein met with this potential financial advisor who introduced him to representatives of two entities that had expressed a potential interest in acquiring Answers.com, namely a private equity firm and a major media company. Following these introductions, the media company did not follow up on its expression of interest. However, on February 10, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein, accompanied by Mr. Steve Steinberg, Answers.com's chief financial officer, and Mr. Bruce Smith, Answers.com's chief strategic officer, attended a meeting in New York City with representatives of the private equity firm, to whom they gave a presentation regarding Answers.com's business. Shortly thereafter, the private equity firm indicated that it had no current interest in pursuing an acquisition of Answers.com.

On March 12, 2010, Redpoint Ventures received by e-mail an unsolicited expression of interest from an investment banker from Jefferies & Company, Inc. concerning a possible transaction with AFCV, which, together with its subsidiaries, develops and operates a broad range of consumer Internet technologies. The Summit Investors hold a majority voting interest in AFCV, and AFCV is a portfolio company of Summit. On March 15, 2010, Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal had a telephone conference with representatives of Jefferies to explore this opportunity. Jefferies had informed Messrs. Beasley and Dyal that it was acting as financial advisor to AFCV and that AFCV had authorized it to reach out to Answers.com.

At a regularly scheduled board meeting on March 17, 2010, in executive session, members of our board of directors discussed the possibility of exploring strategic alternatives to maximize stockholder value. Mr. Rosenschein briefed the board on recent meetings and phone conversations with the potential financial advisor and with the persons who had expressed interest in the Company. After discussion and consideration of the merits of doing so at this time but without having made any determination over whether to pursue any such transaction, our board determined that it was in the interests of the Company and its stockholders to explore the possibility of a strategic transaction and to engage a financial advisor to assist in the evaluation of strategic alternatives. The board agreed that Mr. Segall, as chairman of the Financing Committee and with the assistance of management, should evaluate potential financial advisors and revert to the board with a recommendation.

On March 25, 2010, Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal met with representatives of Jefferies and Mr. David Karandish, co-founder and chief executive officer of AFCV. At this meeting, Mr. Karandish provided an overview of AFCV and the reasons for the interest of AFCV in possibly acquiring Answers.com. Following the meeting, Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal called Mr. Rosenschein and suggested that it would be advisable for him to meet with Mr. Karandish at some time in the future.

On April 22, 2010, Mr. Segall and Mr. Rosenschein met with the potential financial advisor with whom Mr. Rosenschein had previously spoken to discuss possible strategic alternatives and a potential representation to act as Answers.com's financial advisor in this respect.

The Answers.com board of directors convened a special meeting on April 26, 2010. In its discussions, the board noted the continuing decline in Answers.com monetization rates (that is, the revenues the Answers.com website generates per page view) and, without making any determination as to whether to pursue a change-of-control transaction at that time, the board continued to believe it was in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders to explore strategic alternatives such that it would be fully informed on various avenues to maximize stockholder value. Mr. Segall reported to the board on the consideration of possible financial advisors, including the one with whom management had previously spoken. The board agreed that Mr. Segall, with the assistance of management, should continue to consider potential financial advisors, but otherwise did not take any action at the time.

On May 3, 2010, in Jerusalem, Mr. Rosenschein received an unsolicited visit from a managing director of a U.S.-based private equity firm, who expressed an interest in receiving a presentation on Answers.com's business. Mr. Rosenschein had a follow-up meeting in London with representatives of this firm on July 27, 2010, and met again with representatives of this firm on August 10, 2010 in Boston following Answers.com's second quarter earnings release and after having also begun discussions with AFCV (detailed below). The latter meeting was also attended by Mr. Smith. At this meeting, the private equity firm indicated that it had no interest in pursuing a transaction with Answers.com because of the recent negative revenue trends in the Company's business.

On May 10, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein and Mr. Smith were introduced at an industry conference sponsored by Jefferies to Mr. Karandish of AFCV. Among other properties, AFCV owns and operates Announce Media, which powers a network of vertical search marketplaces designed to help consumers make informed commercial decisions. At this meeting, the parties discussed the possibility of a strategic transaction between the two companies. The next day, Mr. Smith, who was visiting St. Louis on separate business, met with Mr. Karandish and other members of his management team. The executives shared high-level financial and other information concerning the businesses of the two companies. In informal conversations, Mr. Rosenschein informed certain members of our board of directors of his discussions with AFCV and AFCV's interest in Answers.com. The other directors were supportive of Mr. Rosenschein and other members of management continuing to discuss and explore potential strategic opportunities with AFCV, including a potential business combination transaction. Over the next several weeks and months, Mr. Rosenschein continued to keep the Company's board informed, formally and informally, of his discussions with Mr. Karandish.

On May 11, 2010, Mr. Segall, Mr. Rosenschein and Mr. Beasley met with representatives of UBS at the offices of UBS in New York City. At the meeting, Mr. Rosenschein presented a general overview of Answers.com and its business, discussed the interest of the Company's board of directors in exploring possible strategic alternatives and suggested the possibility of engaging UBS as Answers.com's financial advisor to assist the board in exploring such transactions. For the prior two years, UBS had not received from the Company any fees for investment banking or financial advisory services.

Also, on May 11, 2010, Mr. Beasley and Mr. Rosenschein met with the chief executive office of a digital media internet company and informally explored a possible strategic partnership with that company. Mr. Rosenschein met with representatives of this company again in June 2010, and this company was one of the parties subsequently contacted by UBS to determine its interest in a change-of-control transaction with the Company.

On May 14, 2010, Mr. Segall received a draft engagement letter from the first potential financial advisor and consulted with management on the proposed terms of engagement. On May 25, 2010, the Company received a draft form of engagement letter from UBS. The following day, Mr. Rosenschein communicated to our board of directors concerning the interest of UBS and the other financial advisory firm with whom management had been speaking in serving as the Company's financial advisor and the proposed terms of their respective engagements.

At a regularly scheduled meeting of Answers.com's board on June 16, 2010, Answers.com management updated our board of directors on the ongoing business challenges and the weaker-than-expected financial performance experienced by the Company in recent quarters. Mr. Rosenschein also updated the board on the discussions with representatives of AFCV. On the recommendation of members of the Financing Committee and after review and discussion regarding the respective terms of engagement of the two financial advisory firms under consideration, our board of directors determined to engage the investment banking firm of UBS to serve as Answers.com's financial advisor and to assist the board in exploring possible strategic alternatives.

On June 25, 2010, Summit Investors personnel, Mr. C.J. Fitzgerald, Mr. Mood Rowghani and Mr. Peter Chung, acting in their capacity as representatives of AFCV, met in California with members of our board of directors. Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal at the offices of Redpoint Ventures to further discuss a potential transaction between Answers.com and AFCV. Mr. Beasley reported to Mr. Rosenschein on this meeting and, based on the positive nature of the discussions, indicated that he believed it was in the interests of the Company and its stockholders to continue to explore a possible transaction with AFCV and that arrangements be made by Mr. Rosenschein to follow up on these discussions.

Mr. Rosenschein and Mr. Karandish again spoke in mid-July 2010 and discussed the possibility of a meeting between executives of the two companies. The two also discussed the exchange of more detailed information and the need to enter into a confidentiality agreement appropriate for a business combination transaction to facilitate this exchange. Thereafter, Mr. Caleb Chill, Answers.com's vice president, general counsel and corporate secretary, provided Mr. Karandish with a draft of a confidentiality agreement containing, among other things, a "standstill" provision and a mutual employee non-solicitation provision. Following negotiations between Mr. Chill and representatives of Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati, Professional Corporation, outside legal counsel to AFCV, on the terms of the confidentiality agreement, on July 14, 2010, the confidentiality agreement was executed by Answers.com and AFCV. On the same day, Answers.com's management team, in person in St. Louis and by video conference, met with executives of AFCV. Those attending in person included Mr. Smith and Mr. Steinberg. Mr. Rosenschein and other representatives of Answers.com attended by video conference. Those attending on behalf of AFCV included Mr. Karandish, Mr. Chris Sims, co-founder and chief marketing officer of AFCV, Mr. James Yang, vice president for product management, and Mr. Thomas Hillman, a founding investor and member of the board of managers of AFCV. Representatives of AFCV expressed further interest at the meeting in an acquisition of Answers.com, primarily because of the content of Answers.com's site, its wide audience, its expertise in search engine optimization (SEO) and its brand name recognition. At that meeting, Mr. Rosenschein indicated that Answers.com was not actively pursuing a sale transaction at the time, but that our board of directors was open to considering strategic alternatives. On July 18, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein updated each of the members of Answers.com's board of directors with a detailed account of the meeting with the management of AFCV.

Mr. Karandish and Mr. Rosenschein discussed the state of the Company's business in a phone call on July 26, 2010. On this call, Mr. Rosenschein indicated to Mr. Karandish that our board of directors had not determined to sell the Company, and that only a compelling offer at a premium to the market price would likely be considered by the board.

At the end of July 2010, Mr. Karandish sent an e-mail to Mr. Rosenschein in which he stated that management of AFCV had formally approached the Summit Investors concerning a possible acquisition of Answers.com. He also stated that management of AFCV was expecting to receive the approval of the Summit Investors to proceed formally with discussions concerning a transaction with Answers.com with a view towards making a proposal to Answers.com and its board of directors.

In mid-August, in a series of mail exchanges, and subject to the confidentiality agreement between the two companies, Answers.com shared additional information concerning its business with AFCV.

Following Answers.com's August 9, 2010 earnings release and investor conference call, in which the Company reported a second consecutive quarterly drop in revenues, the trading price of Answers.com common stock on The Nasdaq Stock Market fell sharply from $7.99 to $4.58 within one week. In informal communications, members of our board of directors discussed the volatility of the Answers.com stock reflected by this drop and their belief that the volatility was likely to continue because of, among other things, the illiquid market for the Company's stock. Based on this and other reasons, the members of our board of directors agreed that it was advisable for the Company and its management, along with its financial advisor, to continue to explore strategic alternatives.

On September 2, 2010, Mr. Karandish called Mr. Rosenschein to discuss the delivery of a non-binding letter of intent for the acquisition of Answers.com by AFCV. On this call, Mr. Karandish indicated that AFCV was considering a price around $8.00 per share of common stock, subject to a detailed due diligence investigation on the part of AFCV and its representatives and advisors.

On September 7, 2010, Mr. Karandish delivered to Answers.com a non-binding letter of intent for the acquisition of Answers.com which specified a price in the range of $7.50 to $8.25 per share of the Company's common stock. The letter of intent was accompanied by a draft financing commitment letter from a nationally recognized investment bank containing a commitment to provide up to $75 million in debt financing in connection with an acquisition of the Company by AFCV. The letter of intent stated that the proposal was subject to the completion of due diligence and the negotiation of definitive documentation, and that a period of exclusivity was also being requested. Mr. Rosenschein communicated by reply e-mail to Mr. Karandish, on September 8, 2010, that the Company's board of directors would be considering the proposal at a regularly scheduled meeting planned for the next week, on September 15, 2010. Mr. Rosenschein sent the letter of intent and accompanying materials to each of the Company's board members and indicated that he intended to discuss the proposal with board of directors at the meeting planned for September 15, 2010.

The interest of AFCV in acquiring Answers.com was discussed in detail by our board of directors at its September 15th meeting, including the letter of intent and the price offered, the request for exclusivity, the financing for the proposed acquisition, the background of the discussions leading up to this proposal and other considerations. Representatives of UBS participated in the board meeting. After taking these views and other factors into consideration, our board of directors concluded that a price in the range proposed by AFCV was inadequate, considering the Company's business, its industry position and relevant industry metrics and that, as such, any request for exclusivity was not justified. However, the board directed management to continue to explore a possible transaction with AFCV and to finalize the engagement of UBS as Answers.com's financial advisor. On September 17, 2010, Answers.com formally engaged UBS.

In a telephone conversation on October 5, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein informed Mr. Karandish that the Company was unwilling to consider a transaction price in the proposed range of $7.50 to $8.25 per share of the Company's common stock. Following this conversation, on behalf of Answers.com and with the authorization of our board and management, UBS engaged in discussions with Jefferies, AFCV's financial advisor, on the price of any potential transaction. Following that discussion, Jefferies indicated to UBS that, subject to due diligence, there may be room for movement on the price and, after discussions with AFCV, indicated that AFCV would be willing to pay $9.00 per share of the Company's common stock. On October 19, 2010, after further communications with representatives of AFCV, representatives of UBS informed Mr. Rosenschein that AFCV was prepared to raise its offer to $9.00 per share of common stock. Mr. Rosenschein discussed AFCV's willingness to increase its price with certain of the Company's board members. In consultation with these board members, it was determined that it was in the interests of the Company and its stockholders to continue discussions and the exchange of information with AFCV.

Later that month, on October 28, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein, Mr. Steinberg, and Mr. Smith met with Mr. Karandish and representatives of UBS and Jefferies at the offices of UBS in New York City. Also present on behalf of Answers.com by telephone conference was Mr. Chill. At the meeting, Answers.com provided AFCV with an updated management presentation and additional diligence materials and information. Among other things, Answers.com shared with AFCV its projections and strategic plan for the remainder of fiscal year 2010 and for fiscal year 2011.

On November 3, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein provided a detailed written update to our board of directors on the discussions with AFCV's management. Among the materials that accompanied the update was a management presentation previously provided to AFCV concerning the Company. Mr. Rosenschein explained that Answers.com highlighted to AFCV the Company's forecast for 2011 and its business initiatives to improve performance and that AFCV emphasized the Company's performance in 2010 and questioned the assumptions underlying the forecast. Mr. Rosenschein emphasized to the board that, at the same time that management was continuing discussions with AFCV concerning a possible transaction, it was continuing to pursue a variety of initiatives to improve the Company's performance on a stand-alone basis.

On November 1, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein received an unsolicited expression of interest by telephone from a representative of a private equity firm. On November 15, 2010, Mr. Rosenschein met with this representative, and at the request of Mr. Rosenschein a representative of UBS also subsequently contacted a representative of this firm. However, the firm indicated that it was not interested in pursuing a change-of-control transaction with the Company.

On November 4, 2010, Mr. Karandish delivered to Answers.com a revised letter of intent in which AFCV raised its offer to $10.00 per share of common stock. The revised letter of intent was accompanied by AFCV's exclusivity agreement, pursuant to which Answers.com would be required to refrain for a period from engaging in discussions with other parties concerning a strategic transaction. On November 5, 2010, the Financing Committee met to consider the revised letter of intent and the reiterated exclusivity request. The members of the Financing Committee felt that the increase in the price was a positive development, but that Answers.com should not agree to an exclusivity period. At the direction of the Financing Committee, UBS communicated this to AFCV through representatives of Jefferies.

Further discussions between the parties ensued over the next few days culminating in a telephone conversation on November 8, 2010, during which Jefferies on behalf of AFCV indicated to UBS that AFCV was willing to raise its price to $10.25 per share of common stock provided that Answers.com entered into exclusive negotiations with AFCV. The Financing Committee directed management and UBS to continue to negotiate with AFCV, without exclusivity, as it continued to believe that the Company should not be precluded from entertaining and discussing alternative proposals. Several days later, Jefferies informed UBS on behalf of AFCV that AFCV was prepared to continue to discuss a possible transaction at the $10.25 price without exclusivity, but only if Answers.com agree to reimburse AFCV for its expenses should Answers.com agree to engage in a sale transaction with another party at a higher price. About this time, Answers.com began to assemble a virtual data room to assist AFCV with its due diligence of Answers.com, and Answers.com made additional members of its management available to respond to due diligence questions from AFCV.

After further discussion between the financial advisors for Answers.com and AFCV, on November 14, 2010, representatives of Jefferies, on behalf of AFCV, delivered to UBS, to present to Answers.com, a new non-binding letter of intent, which formally raised its offer price to $10.25 per share of Company common stock and included a side letter agreement for expense reimbursement of AFCV of its expenses along the lines previously communicated by Jefferies to UBS. It was communicated to UBS that the willingness to proceed with the terms outlined in this letter of intent was premised on the execution of the side letter agreement for expense reimbursement.

A special meeting of the Answers.com board of directors to discuss the AFCV proposal was held on November 15, 2010. Management and representatives of UBS provided the board with an update of the discussions with AFCV and AFCV's most recent letter of intent. It was the consensus of our board of directors that our management be authorized to continue its discussions with AFCV and its representatives and advisors, and that Answers.com allow AFCV to proceed with its due diligence investigation. After considering AFCV's unwillingness to proceed with these discussions and its due diligence without an agreement on reimbursement of expenses, our board of directors also authorized Answers.com to enter into an expense reimbursement agreement with AFCV along the lines discussed but within certain parameters. Notwithstanding the authorization of management to continue discussions with AFCV, the members of our board of directors stressed that they were making no determination at the time to enter into a business combination with AFCV or to pursue any other strategic transaction.

From November 16, 2010 to November 18, 2010, representatives and members of the management teams of Answers.com and AFCV met for an extensive series of due diligence sessions at the offices of Kramer Levin Naftalis & Frankel LLP, outside legal counsel to Answers.com, in New York City. The parties' financial advisors and legal advisors were also present at these sessions. Following the conclusion of these sessions, on November 19, 2010, AFCV delivered to Answers.com a revised letter of intent that again provided for an offer price of $10.25 per share of Company common stock. AFCV and Answers.com also entered into an expense reimbursement agreement along the lines discussed, with an aggregate cap of $700,000, applicable under certain circumstances.

On November 29, 2010 through December 2, 2010, representatives of AFCV conducted an on-site due diligence investigation of Answers.com's operations in Israel, with the AFCV team being led by Messrs. Karandish and Yang. On their visit to the Answers.com facilities in Israel and continuing thereafter, representatives of AFCV and their advisors continued to conduct business, technical, legal, accounting and tax due diligence. The AFCV team continued to receive and review information through the virtual data room established by Answers.com, and in conference calls with representatives of Answers.com and its advisors.

Our board of directors held a regularly scheduled board meeting on December 8, 2010. Among other things, management updated the board on the status of the discussions with AFCV. Also at this meeting, representatives of UBS provided an update on the status of its discussions with AFCV's financial advisor and the timing of a possible transaction and discussed the potential for interest of other parties in a possible transaction. The UBS representatives reported that AFCV was still working on finalizing the terms of the financing for the transaction and that Answers.com had not yet received commitment letters for the contemplated financing. UBS stated that, as directed by the board, it had conveyed to AFCV's financial advisors the Company's request for the commitment letters and explained to AFCV's financial advisors that the Answers.com board required information on the financing to fully understand the terms of the proposed acquisition. After detailed discussion, our board of directors determined that it was in the interests of Answers.com and its stockholders to continue discussions with AFCV, including over the terms of a possible transaction, and to continue to facilitate AFCV's due diligence investigation. At the same time the board directed Answers.com management to continue to work with UBS to identify and pursue discussions with other parties who might be interested in a change-of-control transaction with Answers.com and to report back to the board on the results of its efforts. The board was aware of the risk to the Company if speculation arose that the Company was considering a change-of-control transaction and expected that the process would be conducted to minimize this risk.

Consistent with the direction of the board to explore possible alternative transactions and after consultation with our management, UBS contacted potential buyers to gauge their interest in a transaction with Answers.com. UBS worked with management and members of the Answers.com board to identify these potential buyers. Among the potential buyers contacted were major search engine companies, media portals, leading internet publishers and internet vertical advertisers, some of whom had previously expressed interest in the Company. The entities contacted were those that were considered most likely to be interested in, and have the resources necessary to complete, an acquisition of Answers.com. Of the ten parties contacted by UBS, three agreed to enter into confidentiality agreements, and our management made presentations to these parties similar to the presentations initially made to AFCV. None of the other entities approached by UBS expressed any interest in receiving information from, or pursuing any discussions with, the Company. None of the entities that entered into confidentiality agreement and received the management presentation expressed interest in pursuing a change-of-control transaction with the Company or made an acquisition proposal of any sort to the Company, our board of directors or UBS.

On December 11, 2010, Wilson Sonsini delivered to Answers.com and its outside legal counsel first drafts of an agreement and plan of merger in connection with the proposed acquisition, as well as voting and support agreements to be executed by the affiliates of Redpoint Ventures, Answers.com's largest stockholders, and management. Over the course of the next several weeks, Kramer Levin and Wilson Sonsini, together with the parties' respective management and financial advisors, with input from the Company's Financing Committee, proceeded to exchange drafts of, and discuss and negotiate the terms of, the merger agreement and the voting agreements.

The Answers.com board of directors met again to consider and receive updates from our management and its advisors on the discussions with AFCV on December 23, 2010. At this meeting, management provided to the board its updated forecast for fiscal year 2011. Also at this meeting, attorneys from Kramer Levin reviewed and discussed with the directors their fiduciary duties under Delaware law in considering whether to determine to approve and recommend a change-of control transaction, such as the one proposed with AFCV, updated the board on the status of negotiations with counsel for AFCV and summarized the principal legal issues under the draft merger agreement. Representatives of UBS provided an update on the financial aspects of the proposed transaction. UBS noted that it had not yet received financing commitment letters from AFCV but conveyed that Jefferies had indicated that the reason for this was that AFCV was continuing to work with potential lenders to eliminate or reduce the various conditions from the proposed commitments. UBS also reported to the board on the results of its discussions with other potential acquirers, noting that the level of interest was low. The UBS representatives informed the board that none of the entities contacted to date had expressed interest in pursuing a change-of-control transaction, with some of those parties explaining that they were not prepared to invest in the Q&A space. Our board of directors determined that the discussions and exchange of information with AFCV should continue and that UBS should continue its exploration of potential alternative transactions.

Following the December 23, 2010 board meeting, on the same day, a representative of UBS received via e-mail from Jefferies, copies of AFCV's financial statements for the period ended December 31, 2009. UBS used this information in order to validate information previously shared by AFCV concerning its financial condition and financing efforts.

Over the next month, Answers.com continued to provide diligence information to AFCV in the virtual data room and through other means, including Answers.com's revised 2011 forecast. Attorneys from the firms of Kramer Levin and Wilson Sonsini, with input from the respective management teams and financial advisors, continued their negotiation over the terms of the merger agreement and related documentation.

On January 4, 2011, a representative of UBS spoke with a representative of Jefferies on the timing of the delivery of AFCV's draft financing commitments and was told that AFCV was continuing to work to improve the terms of the commitments. The following day, on January 5, 2011, a representative of UBS spoke directly with Mr. Fitzgerald. Mr. Fitzgerald, in his capacity as a representative of AFCV, confirmed that AFCV was working with a number of potential financing sources to finalize the terms of financing for the transaction, that AFCV expected Answer.com to view favorably the changes in terms as negotiated to that date, and that AFCV expected to be in a position to share draft commitment letters with Answers.com and its advisors shortly. Mr. Fitzgerald, in his capacity as a representative of AFCV, also provided the representatives of UBS with certain financial performance metrics of AFCV. UBS shared this information with members of the Financing Committee and Answers.com management. When the commitment letters had not arrived by January 14, 2011, a representative of UBS, at the direction of our board of directors, informed Jefferies that until it received the draft commitment letters, Answers.com would not be in a position to continue its negotiations concerning the proposed transaction. On January 17, 2011, Jefferies provided UBS and Answers.com with draft commitment papers for a syndicated debt facility of up to $110 million to partially finance the transaction and provide working capital to the combined company.

On January 19 and again on January 25, 2011, Mr. Rosenschein updated the board in writing on the status of the transaction.

On January 20, 2011, representatives from Jefferies, Wilson Sonsini, UBS and Answers.com held a telephone conference to discuss and review certain findings and conclusions reached by AFCV during its due diligence investigation concerning certain contingent liabilities, the risk of which would be borne by AFCV post closing, given the lack of indemnification in a public transaction. Answers.com disputed the level of risk attributed by AFCV to these findings and conclusions.

Our Financing Committee met on January 26, 2011 and again on January 27, 2011 to again consider the price being offered by AFCV in the proposed transaction. Representatives of UBS were present at both these meetings. At the January 26th meeting, representatives of UBS reviewed with the Financing Committee the resolved and unresolved business issues in the negotiations between AFCV and Answers.com, including as to the diligence findings raised by AFCV. At those meetings, the Financing Committee carefully considered factors in support of and against a price increase. Arguing in favor of an increased price were the Company's improved projections for 2011, its improving cash position and the recent increases in the market price of the Company's common stock. Arguing against an increased price were the continuing monetization challenges facing the Company, the credibility with AFCV of the Company's updated projections and the various contingent liabilities that AFCV purported to identify in its diligence. The Financing Committee also considered the indications over the past several weeks by Jefferies, on behalf of its client, that AFCV was not prepared to increase its price beyond $10.25 in response to suggestions, conveyed to Jefferies by UBS at the direction of our board of directors, that a higher price was warranted for the Company. The Financing Committee then authorized Mr. Beasley to communicate directly with representatives of Summit to request that AFCV increase its price. At the January 27th meeting, Mr. Beasley reported that AFCV had rejected the suggestion to increase the price, although Mr. Fitzgerald, in his capacity as representative of AFCV, had indicated that AFCV would be willing at the $10.25 price to assume certain transactional risk that had been at issue in the legal negotiations between the parties. While the Committee believed that a sale transaction at the $10.25 level was supportable as being in the interests of the Company and its stockholders, the Financing Committee nonetheless determined that UBS should again reach out to AFCV, the Summit Investors and their representatives in an attempt to achieve an increase in price.

On January 26, January 28 and January 29, 2011, representatives of AFCV again exchanged communications with Answers.com directors Mr. Beasley and Mr. Dyal regarding the proposed $10.25 price. The representatives of AFCV raised with Mr. Dyal and Mr. Beasley the risks discussed by the parties on the January 20th conference call, and said that, in light of those risks, AFCV was not prepared to raise the price of its offer. Following these exchanges, UBS and various other representatives of Answers.com, as directed by our board of directors, conveyed to AFCV and its representatives that Answers.com was not prepared to move forward with a deal at the $10.25 price proposed by AFCV.

On the morning of February 1, 2011, Mr. Rosenschein telephoned Mr. Karandish and told him that the $10.25 offer was viewed by our board of directors as inadequate. Later that day, Mr. Karandish spoke by telephone with Mr. Rosenschein and indicated that, after further consideration and in the interests of getting a deal done in an expedient fashion, AFCV was prepared to raise its offer price to $10.50 per share but that this price, in light of the diligence concerns raised and for other reasons, was AFCV's best and final offer and that it would be willing to move forward expeditiously at this price, subject to the prompt resolution of all open business and legal issues and the execution of a definitive merger agreement. Also on this date, AFCV furnished to Answers.com and representatives of UBS new commitment letters for the transaction, which provided for a $50 million senior loan to be provided by a single financial institution and a distinct $50 million subordinated loan to be provided by subordinated debt funds affiliated with Summit.

On February 2, 2011, representatives from UBS, Jefferies and the funds providing the commitment letter with respect to the $50 million subordinated loan, as well as outside legal counsel to each of AFCV and Answers.com, held a telephone conference to discuss the new commitment letters for the transaction.

Our board of directors convened a special meeting by conference telephone later that day on February 2, 2011 to consider the proposed transaction with AFCV. At the meeting, Kramer Levin again reviewed with the board its fiduciary duties and the standards for its decision-making in respect of a possible change-of-control transaction under applicable law. The Kramer Levin attorneys also reviewed with the board in detail the terms of the proposed merger agreement, with the draft merger agreement and related agreements and a detailed summary of their terms having been provided to the directors in advance of the meeting. In addition, representatives of UBS reviewed with our board of directors the efforts conducted by it and Answers.com management to identify potential alternative acquirers, the parties that had been approached and the lack of interest by those parties in investing in the Q&A space or pursuing a change-of-control transaction with Answers.com, noting that, whatever interest they had when the Company's stock price was trading at a lower value, they no longer had at the currently increased price of the stock. Our board of directors concluded that, consistent with its instructions and with management's input, it believed that it had conducted a thorough check of the market under the circumstances that resulted in no interest in, or acquisition proposals for, the Company.

Representatives of UBS then reviewed with our board of directors the terms of AFCV's financing for the proposed transaction, based on the draft commitment letters that had been provided to UBS by Jefferies. Our board of directors then considered and discussed the change in the financing parties and the terms, noting that the conditionality of the revised financing commitments was the same as the previously provided financing commitments, and determined that they were acceptable.

Representatives of UBS then reviewed with the Answers.com board of directors UBS' financial analysis of the $10.50 per share of Company common stock consideration and delivered to the Answers.com board of directors its oral opinion, which opinion was confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated February 2, 2011, to the effect that, as of that date and based on and subject to various assumptions, matters considered and limitations described in its opinion, the $10.50 per share consideration to be received in the merger by holders of the Company's common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders. The full text of the written opinion of UBS, is attached to this proxy statement as Annex D.

Mr. Steinberg then discussed with the board management's updated projections for 2011, noting the improvements over the projections previously furnished to the board in the fourth quarter of 2010. On behalf of management, Mr. Rosenschein then reviewed with the board various considerations arguing for and against entering into a sale transaction for Answers.com at the current time, which are included among the factors described below under "—Answers.com Reasons for Merger."

Finally after discussion, and considering the factors described below under "—Answers.com Reasons for Merger," including the prospects that the Company would be successful in implementing its business and programming initiatives on a stand-alone basis as an independent public company, our board of directors unanimously (i) determined that the proposed merger was fair to, and in the best interests of, Answers.com and its stockholders, and declared the merger to be advisable, (ii) approved the merger agreement and the transactions that it contemplates, including the merger, and (iii) recommended that the stockholders of the Company adopt the merger agreement and directed that this matter be submitted to the stockholders at a special meeting to be held for that purpose. Our board also authorized management and its advisors to finalize the merger agreement on terms consistent with those presented to and discussed with the board and authorized our management to execute the definitive merger agreement when so finalized.

Following the board meeting, representatives of AFCV and Answers.com, together with their outside counsel, reached resolution on the outstanding issues in the merger agreement and the related disclosure schedules, and Answers.com, AFCV and merger sub exchanged executed signature pages to the agreement as of February 2, 2011. AFCV and Mr. Rosenschein and AFCV and affiliates of Redpoint also executed at this time the voting agreement pursuant to which Mr. Rosenschein and the Redpoint entities agreed to vote in favor of the merger agreement and to certain related matters. At the same time, AFCV entered into financing commitments in connection with the transaction with its financing sources, copies of which were furnished to Answers.com.

A press release announcing execution of the merger agreement was issued by Answers.com before the opening of the financial markets in New York City on February 3, 2011.

Provision of Certain Financial Forecasts

As part of its business planning process, Answers.com's management from time to time prepares internal financial forecasts regarding its anticipated future operations. Answers.com does not as a matter of course currently make publicly available forecasts as to future performance or earnings and is especially wary of making forecasts for future periods due to the significant unpredictability of the underlying assumptions and estimates. Recommendations of the Answers.com Board of Directors

After careful consideration and consultation with its financial and legal advisors, the Answers.com board of directors has unanimously determined that the merger is advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of Answers.com and its stockholders, and approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger. The Answers.com board of directors recommends that Answers.com stockholders vote “FOR” the proposal to adopt the merger agreement and “FOR” any adjournment proposal, if necessary.

In considering the recommendation of the Answers.com board of directors with respect to the merger agreement, you should be aware that the directors and executive officers of Answers.com have interests in the merger that are different from, or are in addition to, the interests of the other Answers.com stockholders. Please see the section entitled “The Merger — Interests of Answers.com Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger” beginning on page 41 of this document.

Answers.com’s Reasons for the Merger

The Answers.com board of directors has unanimously determined that the merger is advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of Answers.com and its stockholders, approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger, and recommended that Answers.com’s stockholders adopt the merger agreement.

In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement and the transactions that it contemplates, including the merger, and to recommend that Answers.com’s stockholders adopt the merger agreement, the board of directors consulted with Answers.com’s senior management and legal and financial advisors and considered a number of factors, including the following:

the fact that Answers.com’s stockholders will receive $10.50 in cash, without interest, for each share of common stock, representing a premium of approximately 19.6% over Answers.com’s closing share price of $8.78 on February 1, 2011, a premium of approximately 25.1% over Answers.com’s volume-weighted average closing share price for the 30 trading days ending on February 1, 2011, and a premium of approximately 34.0% over Answers.com’s volume-weighted average closing share price for the 90 trading days ending on February 1, 2011;

the fact that the consideration to be paid in the merger is in the form of cash, which provides certainty of value and immediate liquidity to Answers.com’s stockholders;

the fact that the merger is not subject to a financing condition, and that Wells Fargo and the Summit lenders have each provided financing commitments to AFCV with respect to the partial payment of the merger consideration which are not subject to syndication, in each case subject to specified conditions as more fully described below under the caption "Debt Financing of the Merger" beginning on page 40 of this document;

the board's familiarity with, and presentations by and discussions with Answers.com's management and financial advisors regarding, Answers.com's business, financial condition, results of operations, competitive position, business strategy, strategic options and prospects, as well as the risks involved in achieving these prospects, the nature of Answers.com's business and the industry in which it competes, and general industry, economic and market conditions, both on a historical and on a prospective basis;

the board's conclusion that receipt of the merger consideration is more favorable to Answers.com's stockholders than other strategic alternatives reasonably available to Answers.com and represents a more attractive opportunity for Answers.com's stockholders than the value of Answers.com common stock likely to be realized by Answers.com's stockholders in the event that Answers.com remained independent, specifically considering the following factors:

- the fact that the market for Answers.com common stock is highly volatile and that Answers.com's common stock would come under substantial pressure if the stock market experienced a downturn;
- the fact that the trading market for the common stock is generally illiquid and that Answers.com has failed to attract analyst coverage;
- the fact that Answers.com is dependent on search engines for approximately 90% of its traffic and that Answers.com has no control over the programs and algorithms used by search engines to direct traffic to Answers.com's website, and that changes to these programs and algorithms in the past have had, and at any time in the future may have, a material adverse effect on Answers.com's traffic, through no fault of Answers.com or its management;
- the fact that Answers.com earned approximately 75% of its revenues from Google AdSense, during the first three quarters of 2010, that it is expected to continue to be a significant source of revenue for Answers.com in the future although less than the aforesaid 75%, and that Answers.com has no control over the programs and algorithms used by Google to place ads on Answers.com's website, and that changes to these programs and algorithms in the past have had, and at any time in the future may have, a material adverse effect on the revenue that Answers.com earns through Google AdSense, through no fault of Answers.com or its management;
- the fact that Answers.com's monetization, measured in terms of RPM or revenues per thousand page views, has been declining since the beginning of 2009, and that the decline in RPM has materially and adversely affected Answers.com's revenue growth;
- the fact that, to remain competitive and to grow its business, Answers.com is required to undertake numerous initiatives, including the creation of a direct advertising sales force; the development of programs to improve the content available on Answers.com's website which may lag behind the quality of some of Answers.com's newer competitors; the redesign of Answers.com's website to improve its function and enhance its utility; and the adaptation of Answers.com's products for access through newer mobile communication and computing platforms;
- the fact that these initiatives have required Answers.com to incur significant costs, particularly for additional engineering and marketing personnel, and that in order to realize the benefits of the initiatives Answers.com will have to make substantially greater financial investment in the future, but that each of these initiatives has substantial execution risk, that some, particularly the direct advertising initiative, have not succeeded in the past, that there is no guaranty that any of the initiatives will lead to increased traffic and/or revenues, and that some may result in decreased traffic and/or revenues;

- the fact that Answers.com is currently facing increased competition in the Q&A space from newer sites, some of which have superior content that Answers.com is attempting to match but there is no guarantee that it can do so without a major shift in its product, and that the Company's attempts to improve its content may not succeed and may lead to lower traffic and revenues; and

-the possibility that in the future Answers.com could face crippling competition in the Q&A space from industry giants such as Google and Facebook, who are beginning to enter the Q&A space and whose financial resources, following and name recognition are many times those of Answers.com;

the fact that, at the direction of the Answers.com board of directors, UBS contacted certain parties to solicit interest in a potential transaction with Answers.com, none of which contacts resulted in an acquisition proposal;

the opinion of UBS, dated February 2, 2011, to the effect that, as of such date and based on and subject to the various assumptions, matters considered and limitations described therein, the $10.50 per share consideration to be received by the holders of Answers.com common stock in the merger was fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders, as more fully described below under the caption "The Merger — Opinion of the Financial Advisor to the Answers.com Board of Directors" beginning on page 36 of this document;

the fact that the Company's forecast showing improved performance for 2011 is subject to significant risks and uncertainties and that the Company might not be able to achieve the projected performance; that under the merger agreement, if the merger is not consummated because AFCV fails to obtain its financing under specified circumstances, AFCV will be required to pay Answers.com a $7.6 million reverse termination fee, without Answers.com being required to establish any damages, and that if AFCV willfully, knowingly and materially breaches its obligation to use its reasonable best efforts to obtain the financing under specified conditions, AFCV will also be required to reimburse Answers.com for up to $1.0 million of expenses and could also be liable to Answers.com for damages in addition to payment of the $7.6 million reverse termination fee;

that the merger agreement permits the Answers.com board of directors to engage in negotiations or discussions with any third party that has made a bona fide, written and unsolicited acquisition proposal that the Answers.com board of directors has determined to be, or is reasonably likely to become, a superior proposal (as defined in the merger agreement) and to furnish to such third party non-public information relating to Answers.com pursuant to a confidentiality agreement that contains confidentiality provisions that are no less favorable to Answers.com than those contained in the confidentiality agreement entered into with AFCV, if the Answers.com board of directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that it is required to do so to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware law;

that under the merger agreement, the Answers.com board of directors has the right to withdraw or modify its recommendation in favor of the merger agreement if, under specified circumstances, prior to obtaining the requisite stockholder approval, Answers.com receives an unsolicited takeover proposal and (i) the Answers.com board of directors determines that the unsolicited takeover proposal constitutes a superior proposal, (ii) Answers.com notifies AFCV in writing at least three business days before the withdrawal or modification of its recommendation of its intention to take such action, (iii) AFCV shall not have made, within three business days after its receipt of that written notification, an offer that results in the alternative transaction proposal no longer being a superior proposal, and (iv) that the Answers.com board of directors shall have concluded in good faith that it is required to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware law;

the ability of Answers.com to terminate the merger agreement under specified circumstances (including Answers.com's compliance with the requirements described in the previous bullet) upon payment to AFCV of a termination fee and expenses reimbursement, solely in order to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to a superior proposal;

the ability of the Answers.com board of directors to modify or withdraw its recommendation in favor of the merger agreement under specified circumstances if there occurs an intervening event if (i) Answers.com notifies AFCV in writing at least three business days before the withdrawal or modification of its recommendation of its intention to take such action, (ii) AFCV shall not have made, within three business days after its receipt of that written notification, an offer that obviates the need for such withdrawal or modification, and (iii) the Answers.com board of directors shall have concluded in good faith that it is required to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware law, although in this circumstance the board would still be required to submit the merger agreement to a vote of stockholders and would be liable for the payment of a termination fee if as a result AFCV chose to terminate the merger agreement;

the belief that the terms of the merger agreement, including the parties' representations, warranties, covenants and agreements, as well as the conditions to the parties' respective obligations to consummate the merger are fair to, and in the best interests of, Answers.com and its stockholders;

the level of efforts that the parties are required to use under the merger agreement to obtain the required governmental, regulatory and other third-party approvals and consents, and the board's belief, after review with its legal advisors and management, in the likelihood of these approvals and consents being obtained in light of these merger agreement provisions;

the availability of appraisal rights in connection with the merger to stockholders who comply with all of the required procedures under Delaware law; and the likelihood that the conditions to each party's obligation to consummate the merger will be satisfied, and that the merger will be completed, on a timely basis.

The Answers.com board of directors also considered a number of risks and potentially negative factors in its deliberations concerning the merger. The potentially negative factors considered by the Answers.com board of directors included:

the fact that the trading price of shares of Answers.com common stock had been increasing in the weeks preceding the announcement of the merger and the reasons for such an increase;

the fact that in the past Answers.com common stock in the past has traded above the price being offered in the merger;

the fact that the traffic to the Answers.com's website had been increasing in recent months;

the possibility that the initiatives being undertaken by Answers.com with respect to a direct advertising sales force, improved quality of content, redesign of the website and access for mobile computing platforms, and other possible initiatives to improve Answers.com's performance, could succeed and result over the long term in enhanced traffic, revenues and profitability;

the fact that increasing competition in the Q&A space could also spark increased interest among internet users, benefitting Answers.com and creating new opportunities;

the fact that the all-cash merger consideration will not allow Answers.com's stockholders to participate in any of the synergies created by the merger or any future growth of Answers.com's business;

the fact that the all-cash consideration to be received by stockholders who are U.S. persons in the merger generally would be taxable to such stockholders who have a gain for U.S. federal income tax purposes;

the fact that the all-cash consideration to be received by certain stockholders may be subject to Israeli withholding tax;

the risk that the merger might not be completed in a timely manner, or at all, including as a result of the failure to obtain any required governmental, regulatory or other third-party approvals or consents, or the failure of AFCV to obtain the debt financing that its lenders have committed to provide despite using its reasonable best efforts to obtain such financing as required under the merger agreement;

the fact that under the merger agreement, Answers.com is required to obtain AFCV's prior written consent before it can take a variety of actions before the closing of the merger, which could delay or prevent Answers.com from pursuing business opportunities that may arise, or other actions which it would otherwise take with respect to Answers.com's operations absent the pending completion of the merger;

the fact that if the merger is not consummated, Answers.com's management and other employees will have expended extensive time and efforts to attempt to complete the merger and will have experienced significant distractions from their duties pending completion of the merger;

the fact that the merger agreement does not permit Answers.com or its representatives to solicit third-party bids or to enter into discussions or negotiations regarding, or to accept, approve or recommend, any unsolicited third-party bids except subject to specific terms and conditions;

the fact that the merger agreement provides that, in the event the merger is not consummated in certain specified circumstances, Answers.com will be required to pay AFCV a $4.6 million termination fee, without AFCV being required to establish any damages, and that in certain specified circumstances, Answers.com will also be required to reimburse AFCV for up to $1.0 million for its expenses (in addition to payment of the $4.6 million termination fee);

the fact that a portion of the financing for the transaction is being provided by an affiliate of AFCV rather than an unaffiliated institutional lender, which could increase financing risk, although it also eliminates syndication risk for that portion of the financing;

the fact that, unless AFCV willfully, knowingly and materially breaches its obligation to use reasonable best efforts to obtain the financing for the transaction, Answers.com's sole remedy if the financing is unavailable and as a result the merger is not consummated is the payment the reverse termination fee of $7.6 million, even if the damages suffered by Answers.com as a result of the failure of the merger to be consummated exceed this amount; and the interests of certain of Answers.com's executive officers and directors in the merger, as described under "The Merger — Interests of Answers.com Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" beginning on page 41 of this document.

After considering these risks and the potentially negative factors concerning the merger, the Answers.com board of directors concluded that the potential benefits of the merger outweighed these risks and potentially negative factors.

The foregoing discussion, information and factors considered by the board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive but is believed to include all material factors considered by the board of directors. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by the board of directors, as well as the complexity of these matters, the board of directors did not find it practical to quantify or otherwise assign relative weight to the specific factors considered. In addition, the board of directors did not reach any specific conclusions on each factor considered, or any aspect of any particular factor, and individual members of the board of directors may have given different weight to different factors. In making its determinations and recommendations, the board of directors as a whole viewed its determinations and recommendations based on the totality of the information presented to and considered by it. However, after taking into account all of the factors set forth above, the board of directors unanimously determined that the merger is advisable, fair to, and in the best interests of Answers.com and its stockholders, and that Answers.com should proceed with the merger.

Opinion of the Financial Advisor to the Answers.com Board of Directors

On February 2, 2011, at a meeting of the Answers.com board of directors held to evaluate the proposed merger, UBS delivered to the Answers.com board of directors its opinion, which opinion was confirmed by delivery of a written opinion dated February 2, 2011, to the effect that, as of that date and based on and subject to various assumptions, matters considered and limitations described in its opinion, the $10.50 per share consideration to be received in the merger by holders of Answers.com common stock was fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders.

The full text of UBS' opinion describes the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken by UBS. This opinion is attached as Annex D and is incorporated into this proxy statement by reference. Holders of Answers.com common stock are encouraged to read UBS' opinion carefully in its entirety. UBS' opinion was provided for the benefit of the Answers.com board of directors, in its capacity as such, in connection with, and for the purpose of, its evaluation of the $10.50 per share consideration to be received in the merger by holders of Answers.com common stock from a financial point of view and does not address any other aspect of the merger. The opinion does not address the relative merits of the merger as compared to other business strategies or transactions that might be available with respect to Answers.com or Answers.com's underlying business decision to effect the merger. The opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such stockholder should vote or act with respect to the merger. The following summary of UBS' opinion is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of UBS' opinion.

In arriving at its opinion, UBS, among other things:

reviewed certain publicly available business and financial information relating to Answers.com;

reviewed certain internal financial information and other data relating to the business and financial prospects of Answers.com that were not publicly available, including financial forecasts and estimates for the three-month fiscal period ended December 31, 2010 and the fiscal year ending December 31, 2011, in each case prepared by the management of Answers.com, that the Answers.com board of directors directed UBS to utilize for purposes of its analysis;

conducted discussions with members of the senior management of Answers.com concerning the business and financial prospects of Answers.com;

reviewed publicly available financial and stock market data with respect to certain other companies UBS believed to be generally relevant;

compared the financial terms of the merger with the publicly available financial terms of certain other transactions UBS believed to be generally relevant;

reviewed current and historical market prices of Answers.com common stock;

reviewed a draft, dated February 1, 2011, of the merger agreement; and conducted such other financial studies, analyses and investigations, and considered such other information, as UBS deemed necessary or appropriate.

As a consequence of the fact that management of Answers.com did not believe it could forecast with confidence the financial performance of Answers.com beyond the fiscal year ending December 31, 2011, and therefore did not provide any such forecasts to UBS, UBS did not prepare a discounted cash flow analysis.

In connection with its review, with the consent of the Answers.com board of directors, UBS assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness in all material respects of the information provided to or reviewed by UBS for the purpose of its opinion. In addition, with the consent of the Answers.com board of directors, UBS did not make any independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities, contingent or otherwise, of Answers.com, and it was not furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. With respect to the financial forecasts and estimates referred to above, UBS assumed, at the direction of the Answers.com board of directors, that such forecasts and estimates had been reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the management of Answers.com as to the future financial performance of Answers.com. UBS' opinion was necessarily based on economic, monetary, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information available to UBS as of, the date of its opinion.

At the request of the Answers.com board of directors, UBS contacted third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible transaction with Answers.com and held discussions with certain of these parties prior to February 2, 2011. In addition, at the direction of the Answers.com board of directors, UBS was not asked to, and it did not, offer any opinion as to the terms, other than the $10.50 per share consideration to the extent expressly specified in UBS' opinion, of the merger agreement or the form of the merger. In addition, UBS expressed no opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be received by any officers, directors or employees of any parties to the merger, or any class of such persons, relative to the $10.50 per share consideration. UBS also expressed no opinion as to the consideration receivable in the merger by the holders of the Answers.com series A convertible preferred stock or series B convertible preferred stock or as to the relative fairness of any portion of the consideration to holders of shares of Answers.com common stock, on the one hand, and holders of shares of any series of Answers.com preferred stock, on the other hand. In rendering its opinion, UBS assumed, with the consent of the Answers.com board of directors, that (i) the final executed form of the merger agreement would not differ in any material respect from the draft that UBS reviewed, (ii) the parties to the merger agreement would comply with all material terms of the merger agreement, and (iii) the merger would be consummated in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement without any adverse waiver or amendment of any material term or condition thereof. Except as described above, Answers.com imposed no other instructions or limitations on UBS with respect to the investigations made or the procedures followed by UBS in rendering its opinion. The issuance of UBS' opinion was approved by an authorized committee of UBS.

In connection with rendering its opinion to the Answers.com board of directors, UBS performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses which are summarized below. The following summary is not a complete description of all analyses performed and factors considered by UBS in connection with its opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. With respect to the selected companies analysis and the selected transactions analysis summarized below, no company or transaction used as a comparison was identical to Answers.com or the merger. These analyses necessarily involve complex considerations and judgments concerning financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the public trading or acquisition values of the companies concerned.

UBS believes that its analyses and the summary below must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors or focusing on information presented in tabular format, without considering all analyses and factors or the narrative description of the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the processes underlying UBS' analyses and opinion. UBS did not draw, in isolation, conclusions from or with regard to any one factor or method of analysis for purposes of its opinion, but rather arrived at its ultimate opinion based on the results of all analyses undertaken by it and assessed as a whole.

The estimates of the future performance of Answers.com provided by Answers.com or derived from public sources in or underlying UBS' analyses are not necessarily indicative of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those estimates. In performing its analyses, UBS considered industry performance, general business and economic conditions and other matters, many of which were beyond the control of Answers.com. Estimates of the financial value of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold or acquired.

The $10.50 per share consideration was determined through negotiation between Answers.com and AFCV and the decision by Answers.com to enter into the merger was solely that of the Answers.com board of directors. UBS' opinion and financial analyses were only one of many factors considered by the Answers.com board of directors in its evaluation of the merger and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the Answers.com board of directors or management with respect to the merger or the $10.50 per share consideration.

The following is a brief summary of the material financial analyses performed by UBS and reviewed with the Answers.com board of directors on February 2, 2011 in connection with its opinion relating to the proposed merger. The financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. In order for UBS' financial analyses to be fully understood, the tables must be read together with the text of each summary. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. Considering the data below without considering the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of UBS' financial analyses.

Selected Companies Analysis

UBS compared selected financial and stock market data of Answers.com with corresponding data of the following nine selected publicly traded internet digital media companies:

AOL Inc.
Google Inc.
IAC/InterActiveCorp
InfoSpace, Inc.
Local.com Corporation
Marchex, Inc.
QuinStreet, Inc.
ValueClick, Inc.
Yahoo Inc.

UBS reviewed, among other things, the enterprise values of the selected companies, calculated as diluted equity market value based on closing stock prices on February 1, 2011, plus debt at book value, preferred stock at liquidation value and minority interests at book value, less cash, cash equivalents and, as appropriate, the value estimated in publicly available equity research for certain unconsolidated investments, non-core domains and overseas operations, as multiples of the latest 12 months (referred to as LTM) actual, and 2010 and 2011 estimated, (i) revenue, (ii) earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (referred to as EBITDA) and (iii) EBITDA adjusted to exclude stock-based compensation expense (referred to as Adjusted EBITDA). UBS then compared these multiples derived for the selected companies with corresponding multiples implied for Answers.com based both on the closing price per share of Answers.com common stock on February 1, 2011 and the $10.50 per share consideration. Financial data for the selected companies were based on publicly available research analysts' consensus estimates, public filings and other publicly available information. Financial data for Answers.com were based on public filings and, for estimated financial data, internal estimates of Answers.com's management. This analysis indicated the following implied high, mean, median and low multiples for the selected companies, as compared to corresponding multiples implied for Answers.com:

Selected Transactions Analysis

UBS reviewed the following nine selected transactions involving internet digital media companies:

Announcement Date	Target	Acquiror
September, 2010	Internet Brands, Inc.	Hellman & Friedman Capital Partners VI, L.P.

UBS reviewed, among other things, transaction values in the selected transactions, calculated as the purchase price paid for the target company's equity, plus debt at book value, preferred stock at liquidation value and minority interests at book value, less cash and cash equivalents, as multiples, for the four transactions for which data were available to allow for the calculation of multiples, of LTM and forward (defined as the current fiscal year for transactions announced in the first half of the fiscal year, and the next fiscal year for transactions announced in the second half of the fiscal year) revenue, EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA. UBS then compared these multiples derived for the selected transactions with corresponding multiples implied for Answers.com based on the $10.50 per share consideration. Multiples for the selected transactions were based on publicly available information as of the time of announcement of the relevant transaction including, for forward multiples, publicly disclosed management forecasts. Financial data for Answers.com were based on public filings and, for forward multiples, internal estimates of Answers.com's management. This analysis indicated the following implied high, mean, median and low multiples for the selected transactions, as compared to corresponding multiples implied for Answers.com:

Miscellaneous

Under the terms of UBS' engagement, Answers.com agreed to pay UBS for its financial advisory services in connection with the merger an aggregate fee currently estimated to be approximately $2.3 million, a portion of which was payable in connection with UBS' opinion and a significant portion of which is contingent upon consummation of the merger. In addition, Answers.com agreed to reimburse UBS for certain expenses, including reasonable fees, disbursements and other charges of counsel, and to indemnify UBS and related parties against liabilities, including liabilities under federal securities laws, relating to, or arising out of, its engagement. In the ordinary course of business, UBS and its affiliates may hold or trade, for their own accounts and the accounts of their customers, securities of Answers.com or of affiliates of AFCV and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. Answers.com selected UBS as its financial advisor in connection with the merger because UBS is an internationally recognized investment banking firm with substantial experience in similar transactions and because of UBS' familiarity with Answers.com and its business. UBS is regularly engaged in the valuation of businesses and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, leveraged buyouts, negotiated underwritings, competitive bids, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities and private placements.

Debt Financing of the Merger

The merger agreement does not contain any financing condition. However, the borrower has obtained debt financing commitments from (i) Wells Fargo and (ii) the Summit lenders, on the terms and conditions set forth in the debt commitment letters each dated February 2, 2011, for the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. The commitment from Wells Fargo is to provide $50,000,000 in a senior secured term loan facility (the "senior credit facility") and the commitment from the Summit lenders is to provide $50,000,000 in exchange for senior subordinated notes (the "senior subordinated notes"). The aggregate commitments of Wells Fargo and the Summit lenders, together with cash of Answers.com expected to be on hand at the time of the merger and other sources of cash available to AFCV, are expected to be sufficient for AFCV and Merger Sub to pay the aggregate merger consideration and all transaction expenses.

The commitments to provide the senior credit facility and to lend in respect of the senior subordinated notes as described above are subject to customary closing conditions, applicable to each commitment on an independent basis unless otherwise noted, including the following material conditions:

the execution and delivery of definitive financing documents consistent with the terms of the commitment letters and otherwise reasonably satisfactory to the borrower and the applicable lenders;

the receipt by the lenders of customary legal opinions;

the receipt by the lenders of a certificate as to the solvency of the Loan Parties (as such term is used in the applicable debt commitment letter);

the receipt by Wells Fargo of all documents to perfect or evidence its first priority security interest in and liens on the collateral, subject to customary provisions providing that, with respect to all types of collateral other than collateral that may be perfected by the filing of a financing statement under the Uniform Commercial Code or the delivery of certificates representing certificated equity interests, borrower need only use commercially reasonable efforts to provide or perfect such collateral by the closing date;

all fees and expenses payable to Wells Fargo and the Summit lenders and their respective counsel shall have been paid;

the representations and warranties specified in the commitment letter shall be true and correct in all material respects, subject to customary provisions providing that, with respect to representations and warranties in the merger agreement relating to Answers.com, the availability of the financing may be conditioned upon the accuracy of such representations only if such representations are material to the lenders and only to the extent their accuracy is a condition to AFCV’s obligation to close under the merger agreement;

Interests of Answers.com Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

When considering our board of directors’ recommendation that Answers.com stockholders vote in favor of the proposal to adopt the merger agreement, Answers.com’s stockholders should be aware that our directors and executive officers may have interests in the merger that differ from, or are in addition to, the interests of other Answers.com stockholders. These interests create a potential conflict of interest and may be perceived to have affected their decision to support or approve the merger. Our board of directors was aware of these potential conflicts of interest during its deliberations on the merits of the merger and in making its decisions in approving the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger.

These interests include the following:

indemnification rights and coverage for our officers and directors will continue under existing policies or new directors' and officers' liability insurance policies;

outstanding unvested options held by our non-employee directors will accelerate and be cashed out upon the consummation of the merger;

(a) fifty percent of each of our executive officers unvested options will accelerate upon consummation of the merger, and (b) if any such executive officer is terminated within 12 months following the merger, his remaining unvested options, at the time of termination, will become immediately vested;

certain of our executive officers, pursuant to the terms of their employment agreements, will be entitled to receive an additional month's notice prior to termination, if termination occurs within 12 months following the merger;

all of our executive officers will be entitled to receive change of control bonuses prior to or upon the consummation of the merger pursuant to "single-trigger" change of control arrangements; and two of our directors, Thomas Dyal and Allen Beasley, are partners of Redpoint and were appointed to our board of directors by affiliates of Redpoint which hold preferred stock.

Answers.com stockholders should be aware of these interests when considering our board of directors' recommendation that they adopt the merger agreement.

Indemnification and Insurance

Under the terms of the merger agreement, AFCV has agreed to cause the surviving corporation in the merger to indemnify the directors and officers of Answers.com against liability for matters occurring prior to the effective time of the merger for six years following the effective time to the same extent as Answers.com is currently obligated to indemnify these individuals.

AFCV has also agreed to cause the surviving corporation to prepay in full the premium for a "tail" insurance policy, with a claims period of at least six years after the effective time, that provides coverage at least as favorable as the directors' and officers' liability insurance policy in place prior to the effective time of the merger, and covering those individuals who are covered under that policy as of the effective time, for claims based upon matters occurring prior to the effective time. AFCV will not be required to expend in excess of a specified amount for the premium on that tail policy, which amount has been determined based upon the current annual premium paid by Answers.com for the directors' and officers' liability insurance policy that it currently maintains.

Treatment of Stock Options

Non-employee Directors. All of our non-employee directors hold stock options. In connection with the merger, those stock options, whether vested or unvested, will entitle the holders thereof to receive an amount in cash equal to the excess, if any, of $10.50 multiplied by the number of shares underlying those stock options over the aggregate exercise price of that stock option.

The following table sets forth the number of outstanding vested and unvested in-the-money stock options, including the weighted average exercise price for each, to acquire Answers.com common stock held by Answers.com's non-employee directors, in each case, as of February 15, 2011, and the consideration that each of them will receive at the completion of the merger on account of vested options, unvested options that are accelerated on completion of the merger and in the aggregate in respect of all options that each of them holds.

Officers. The following table sets forth the number of outstanding vested and unvested in-the-money stock options, including the weighted average exercise price, to acquire Answers.com common stock held by Answers.com's executive officers, in each case, as of February 15, 2011. The table also shows the consideration that each of them will receive on account of vested options, unvested options that will accelerate upon the completion of the merger, and the consideration that they will receive following the merger if they remain with Answers.com through the vesting date of all their remaining unvested options and in the aggregate in respect of all options that each of them holds. Under the terms of the merger agreement, an executive officer whose options are not vested or do not accelerate upon consummation of the merger will receive following the merger, if they remain employed by the surviving corporation at the time the options would otherwise vest, an amount equal to $10.50 multiplied by the number of shares subject to the options that have become vested less the aggregate exercise price for such options. Under the terms of their employment agreements, (a) fifty percent of each of our executive officers, unvested options will accelerate upon consummation of a change of control transaction, and (b) if any such executive officer is terminated within 12 months following such change of control transaction, his remaining unvested options held by such executive officer, at the time of termination, will become immediately vested. The merger will constitute a change of control for these purposes.

Termination Following Change of Control

Under the terms of their respective employment agreements, certain of our executive officers are entitled to receive three months advance notice prior to a termination of employment, provided that, upon a change of control, these executive officers are entitled to one additional month of notice prior to a termination of employment if such termination occurs within 12 months of the change of control. The merger will constitute a change of control for these purposes.

Special Change of Control Bonus

Upon the consummation of the merger, our executive officers will each be entitled to receive a bonus in consideration of their efforts in connection with the merger. The amount of the bonus that will be payable to each of the executive offices is as follows.

Bob Rosenschein	$40,000
Bruce Smith	$40,000
Steve Steinberg	$60,000
Jeff Schneiderman	$40,000

Appraisal Rights

Under the Delaware General Corporation Law, holders of Answers.com stock have the right to demand appraisal of their shares in connection with the merger and to receive, in lieu of the merger consideration, payment in cash for the fair value of their shares, together with a fair rate of interest, as determined by the Delaware Court of Chancery (the “Chancery Court”). Stockholders electing to exercise appraisal rights must comply with the provisions of Section 262 in order to perfect their rights. Answers.com will require strict compliance with the statutory procedures.

The following is intended as a brief summary of the material provisions of the Delaware statutory procedures required to be followed by a stockholder in order to demand and perfect appraisal rights. This summary, however, is not a complete statement of all applicable requirements and is qualified in its entirety by reference to Section 262, the full text of which appears in Annex B to this proxy statement.

Section 262 requires that stockholders, as of the record date of the special meeting, be notified that appraisal rights will be available not less than 20 days before the special meeting. A copy of Section 262 must be included with such notice. This proxy statement constitutes our notice to stockholders of the availability of appraisal rights in connection with the merger in compliance with the requirements of Section 262.

If you elect to demand appraisal of your shares, you must satisfy each of the following conditions:

You must deliver to the company a written demand for appraisal of your shares before the vote to adopt the merger agreement is taken at the special meeting. This written demand for appraisal must be in addition to and separate from any proxy or vote abstaining from or voting against the adoption of the merger agreement. Voting against or failing to vote for the adoption of the merger agreement by itself does not constitute a demand for appraisal within the meaning of Section 262.

You must not vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement. A vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement, by proxy, over the Internet, by telephone or in person, will constitute a waiver of your appraisal rights in respect of the shares so voted and will nullify any previously filed written demands for appraisal.

You must continuously hold your shares through the effective time.

If you fail to comply with any of these conditions and the merger is consummated, you will be entitled to receive the cash payment for your shares as provided for in the merger agreement if you are the holder of record at the effective time, but you will have no appraisal rights with respect to your shares. A proxy card which is signed and does not contain voting instructions will, unless revoked, be voted "FOR" the adoption of the merger agreement, will constitute a waiver of your right of appraisal and will nullify any previous written demand for appraisal.

All demands for appraisal should be addressed to the Corporate Secretary of the Company at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101, New York, NY 10001, Attention: Corporate Secretary, and must be delivered before the vote to adopt the merger agreement is taken at the special meeting, and should be executed by, or on behalf of, the record holder of the shares in respect of which appraisal is being demanded. The demand must reasonably inform us of the identity of the stockholder and the intention of the stockholder to demand appraisal of his, her or its shares.

To be effective, a demand for appraisal by a holder of stock must be made by, or on behalf of, such record stockholder. The demand should set forth, fully and correctly, the record stockholder's name as it appears on his or her stock certificate(s). The demand must state that the stockholder intends thereby to demand appraisal of such holder's shares in connection with the merger. Beneficial owners who do not also hold the shares of record may not directly make appraisal demands to the company. The beneficial holder must, in such cases, have the record holder (often a broker, bank or other nominee) submit the required demand in respect of those shares.

If shares are owned of record in a fiduciary capacity, such as by a trustee, guardian or custodian, execution of a demand for appraisal should be made in that capacity; and if the shares are owned of record by more than one person, as in a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, the demand should be executed by or for all joint owners. An authorized agent, including an authorized agent for two or more joint owners, may execute the demand for appraisal for a stockholder of record; however, the agent must identify the record owner or owners and expressly disclose the fact that, in executing the demand, he or she is acting as agent for the record owner. A record owner, such as a broker, who holds shares as a nominee for others, may exercise the right of appraisal with respect to the shares held for one or more beneficial owners, while not exercising this right for other beneficial owners. In that case, the written demand should state the number of shares as to which appraisal is sought. Where no number of shares is expressly mentioned, the demand will be presumed to cover all shares held in the name of the record owner.

If you hold your shares in a brokerage account or in other nominee form and you wish to exercise appraisal rights, you should consult with your broker or the other nominee to determine the appropriate procedures for the making of a demand for appraisal by the nominee.

Within 10 days after the effective time, the surviving corporation must give written notice that the merger has become effective to each stockholder who has properly submitted a written demand for appraisal and who did not vote in favor of the merger agreement. At any time within 60 days after the effective time, any stockholder who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined such a proceeding as a named party has the right to withdraw the demand and to accept the cash payment specified by the merger agreement for such stockholder's shares. Within 120 days after the effective time, either the surviving corporation or any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of Section 262 may file a petition in the Chancery Court, with a copy served on the surviving corporation in the case of a petition filed by a stockholder, demanding a determination of the fair value of the shares held by all stockholders entitled to appraisal. The surviving corporation has no obligation and presently has no intention to file such a petition in the event there are stockholders who demand appraisal of their shares, and stockholders seeking to exercise appraisal rights should not assume that the surviving corporation will file such a petition or initiate any negotiations with respect to the fair value of such shares. Accordingly, stockholders who desire to have their shares appraised should initiate all necessary action to perfect their appraisal rights within the time prescribed in Section 262. The failure of a stockholder to file such a petition within the period specified could nullify the stockholder's previous written demand for appraisal.

If a petition for appraisal is duly filed by a stockholder and a copy of the petition is delivered to the surviving corporation, the surviving corporation will then be obligated, within 20 days after receiving service of a copy of the petition, to file with the Delaware Register in Chancery a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached. Within 120 days after the effective time, any stockholder who has complied with the applicable provisions of Section 262 will be entitled, upon written request, to receive from the surviving corporation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and with respect to which demands for appraisal were received by the company and the number of holders of such shares. Such statement must be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after the written request has been received by the surviving corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of appraisal demands, whichever is later. A person who is the beneficial owner of shares of such stock held either in a voting trust or by a nominee on behalf of such person may, in such person's own name, file an appraisal petition or request from us the statement described in this paragraph.

After notice to the stockholders seeking appraisal rights as required by the Chancery Court, the Chancery Court is empowered to conduct a hearing upon the petition, and determine which stockholders have complied with Section 262 and have thereby become entitled to the appraisal rights. The Chancery Court may require the stockholders who have demanded appraisal for their shares to submit their stock certificates to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with that direction, the Chancery Court may dismiss the proceedings as to that stockholder.

After determination of the stockholders entitled to appraisal of their shares, the Chancery Court will appraise the shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger, together with a fair rate of interest to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. Unless the Chancery Court in its discretion determines otherwise for good cause shown, interest from the effective date of the merger through the date of payment of the judgment shall be compounded quarterly and shall accrue at 5% over the Federal Reserve discount rate (including any surcharge) as established from time to time during the period between the effective date of the merger and the date of payment of the judgment. When the value is determined, the Chancery Court will direct the payment of such value, with interest thereon accrued during the pendency of the proceeding, if the Chancery Court so determines, to the stockholders entitled to receive the same, in the case of holders of uncertificated shares forthwith, and in the case of holders of shares represented by certificates, upon surrender of the certificates representing those shares.

In determining fair value and, if applicable, a fair rate of interest, the Chancery Court is required to take into account all relevant factors. In Weinberger v. UOP, Inc., the Delaware Supreme Court discussed the factors that could be considered in determining fair value in an appraisal proceeding, stating that “proof of value by any techniques or methods that are generally considered acceptable in the financial community and otherwise admissible in court” should be considered, and that “fair price obviously requires consideration of all relevant factors involving the value of a company.” The Delaware Supreme Court has stated that, in making this determination of fair value, the court must consider “market value, asset value, dividends, earnings prospects, the nature of the enterprise and any other facts that could be ascertained as of the date of the merger that throw any light on future prospects of the merged corporation.” Section 262 provides that fair value is to be “exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger.” In Cede & Co. v. Technicolor, Inc., the Delaware Supreme Court stated that such exclusion is a “narrow exclusion [that] does not encompass known elements of value,” but which rather applies only to the speculative elements of value arising from such accomplishment or expectation. In Weinberger, the Supreme Court of Delaware also stated that “elements of future value, including the nature of the enterprise, which are known or susceptible of proof as of the date of the merger and not the product of speculation, may be considered.” In determining fair value for appraisal purposes under Section 262, the Chancery Court might, or might not, employ some or all of the valuation analyses utilized by the company’s financial advisors as described in summary fashion under the headings “The Merger — Opinion of the Financial Advisor to the Answers.com board of directors,” beginning on page 36 of this document. Although Answers.com believes that the merger consideration is fair, no representation is made as to the outcome of the appraisal of fair value as determined by the Chancery Court, and you should be aware that the fair value of your shares as determined under Section 262 could be more, the same, or less than the value that you are entitled to receive under the terms of the merger agreement. Moreover, the surviving corporation does not currently anticipate offering more than the value that you are entitled to receive under the terms of the merger agreement to any stockholder exercising appraisal rights and reserves the right to assert, in any appraisal proceeding, that, for purposes of Section 262, the “fair value” of a share is less than the merger consideration.

Costs of the appraisal proceeding may be imposed upon the surviving corporation and/or the stockholders participating in the appraisal proceeding by the Chancery Court as the Chancery Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon the application of a stockholder, the Chancery Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorneys’ fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all shares entitled to appraisal. Any stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights will not, after the effective time, be entitled to vote shares subject to that demand for any purpose or to receive payments of dividends or any other distribution with respect to those shares, other than with respect to payments becoming due prior to the effective time; however, if no petition for appraisal is filed within 120 days after the effective time, or if the stockholder delivers a written withdrawal of such stockholder’s demand for appraisal and an acceptance of the terms of the merger within 60 days after the effective time, then the right of that stockholder to appraisal will cease and that stockholder will be entitled to receive the cash payment for shares of his, her or its stock pursuant to the merger agreement. Any withdrawal of a demand for appraisal made more than 60 days after the effective time may only be made with the written approval of the surviving corporation. Once a petition for appraisal has been filed, the appraisal proceeding may not be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Chancery Court.

Failure to comply with all of the procedures set forth in Section 262 will result in the loss of a stockholder’s statutory appraisal rights.

If you have any questions regarding your right to exercise appraisal rights, you are strongly encouraged to seek the advice of legal counsel.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger

The following is a general summary of certain material U.S. federal income tax consequences to holders of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock upon the exchange of shares of their Answers.com common stock and preferred stock for cash in the merger. This summary is based on the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), Treasury regulations, administrative rulings and court decisions, all as in effect as of the date hereof and all of which are subject to differing interpretations and/or change at any time (possibly with retroactive effect). In addition, this summary is not a complete description of all the tax consequences of the merger and, in particular, may not address U.S. federal income tax considerations for holders of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock received in connection with the exercise of employee stock options or otherwise as compensation, holders that validly exercise their rights under Delaware law to object to the merger, or holders subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax law (such as insurance companies, banks, tax-exempt entities, financial institutions, broker-dealers, partnerships, S corporations or other pass-through entities, mutual funds, traders in securities who elect the mark-to-market method of accounting, tax-deferred or other retirement accounts, holders subject to the alternative minimum tax, U.S. persons that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, certain former citizens or residents of the United States or holders that hold shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock as part of a hedge, straddle, integration, constructive sale or conversion transaction). In addition, this summary does not discuss any consequences to holders of options or warrants to purchase shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, or any aspect of state, local, non-income or foreign tax law that may be applicable to any holder of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock. This summary assumes that holders own shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock as capital assets.

We have not sought and will not seek any opinion of counsel or any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service with respect to the matters discussed herein.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. Holder is a beneficial owner of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock that is, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a citizen or resident of the U.S., a corporation (or any other entity or arrangement treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the U.S., any state, or the District of Columbia, any estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source, and any trust if (i) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust, and (ii) one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust (a “U.S. Holder”).

The term “Non-U.S. Holder” means a beneficial owner, other than a partnership, of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock that is not a U.S. Holder.

If a partnership (including any entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock, the tax treatment of a holder that is a partner in the partnership generally will depend upon the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Such holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of exchanging the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock in the merger.

U.S. Holders

The exchange of shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock for cash in the merger will be a taxable transaction to U.S. Holders for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and a U.S. Holder who receives cash for shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock in the merger will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference, if any, between the amount of cash received and the holder’s adjusted tax basis in the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock. Gain or loss must be determined separately for each block of shares

(i.e., shares acquired at the same cost in a single transaction). Such gain or loss will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if such U.S. Holder's holding period for the shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock is more than one year at the time of the exchange of such holder's shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock for cash. Long-term capital gains recognized by a non-corporate holder generally are subject to tax at a lower rate than short-term capital gains or ordinary income. There are limitations on the deductibility of capital losses.

As discussed below (see "Material Israeli Income Tax Consequences of the Merger" beginning on page 50 of this document), payments made to a U.S. Holder with respect to shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock exchanged for cash in the merger may be subject to Israeli withholding tax. U.S. Holders may be entitled to a deduction or foreign tax credit for such withholding tax in computing such U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, subject to applicable conditions and limitations, including in the case of the foreign tax credit that such U.S. Holder has sufficient foreign source taxable income in order to claim the full amount of the credit. Gain from the receipt by U.S. Holders of cash in the Merger generally will be U.S. source gain for foreign tax credit purposes. Unused foreign tax credits may be carried back two years or forward ten years. The foreign tax credit rules are complex, and U.S. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding the deduction or credit for any such Israeli withholding tax.

Payments made with respect to shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock exchanged for cash in the merger may be subject to information reporting, and such payments will be subject to U.S. federal backup withholding tax unless the U.S. Holder (i) furnishes an accurate tax identification number or otherwise complies with applicable U.S. information reporting or certification requirements (typically, by completing and signing an IRS Form W-9) or (ii) is a corporation or other exempt recipient and, when required, demonstrates such fact. Backup withholding is not an additional tax and any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules may be refunded or credited against a U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that such U.S. Holder furnishes the required information to the Internal Revenue Service in a timely manner.

Non-U.S. Holders

Any gain realized on the receipt of cash in the merger by a Non-U.S. Holder generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income tax unless:

the Non-U.S. Holder is an individual who is present in the United States for 183 days or more in the taxable year of the merger, and certain other conditions are met, in which case such Non-U.S. Holder generally will be subject to a tax equal to 30% (or, if applicable, a lower treaty rate) of the Non-U.S. Holder's net gain realized in the merger, which may be offset by U.S. source capital losses; or the gain is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business of the Non-U.S. Holder in the United States (and, if required by an applicable income tax treaty, is attributable to a U.S. permanent establishment of the Non-U.S. Holder), in which case such Non-U.S. Holder will be subject to U.S. federal income tax on that gain on a net income basis in the same manner as if such Non-U.S. Holder were a U.S. Holder. In addition, a corporate Non-U.S. Holder may be subject to a branch profits tax equal to 30% (or, if applicable, a lower treaty rate) of the effectively connected earnings and profits attributable to such gain, subject to adjustments.

In general, a Non-U.S. Holder will not be subject to backup withholding and information reporting with respect to a payment made with respect to shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock exchanged for cash in the merger if the Non-U.S. Holder has provided an IRS Form W-8BEN (or an IRS Form W-8ECI if the Non-U.S. Holder's gain is effectively connected with the conduct of a U.S. trade or business). If shares are held through a foreign partnership or other flow-through entity, certain documentation requirements also apply to the partnership or other flow-through entity. Backup withholding is not an additional tax and any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules may be refunded or credited against a Non-U.S. Holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that such Non-U.S. Holder furnishes the required information to the Internal Revenue Service in a timely manner.

EACH HOLDER OF ANSWERS.COM COMMON STOCK AND PREFERRED STOCK SHOULD CONSULT HIS, HER OR ITS OWN TAX ADVISORS TO DETERMINE THE U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES APPLICABLE TO THAT HOLDER AS A RESULT OF THE MERGER, AND ANY STATE, LOCAL OR FOREIGN TAX CONSEQUENCES RELEVANT TO THAT HOLDER AS A RESULT OF THE MERGER.

Material Israeli Tax Consequences of the Merger

Absent receipt of a ruling or exemption, discussed below, Answers.com's stockholders will generally be subject to Israeli withholding tax at the rate of 20% (for individuals) and 25% (for corporations) on the gross consideration received in the merger. Following the execution of the merger agreement Answers.com filed a request for a tax ruling from the Israeli Tax Authority with respect to the withholding tax applicable to payments of consideration to stockholders under the merger. The tax ruling requested by Answers.com, if obtained, would provide, among other things, that:

Payments to eligible Israeli brokers or Israeli financial institutions solely on behalf of beneficial stockholders will not be subject to Israeli withholding tax, and the relevant Israeli broker or Israeli financial institution will withhold Israeli tax, if any, as required by Israeli law; and Payments to Eligible Stockholders, who certify that they are non-Israeli residents for purposes of the Israeli Income Tax Ordinance (New Version), 1961, as amended (the "ITO"), will not be subject to Israeli withholding tax.

Declaration of Status forms for Israeli Tax purposes, shall be provided to the stockholders.

For purposes of the tax ruling mentioned above on "Eligible Stockholder" is a stockholder who (i) acquired their Answers.com stock on or after the Answers.com initial public offering in October and (ii) is not a Five Percent Stockholders. A "Five Percent Stockholder" means a stockholder who holds or is entitled to purchase, directly or indirectly, alone or together with a relative thereof, one of the following:

at least five percent of the issued and outstanding Answers.com stock.

at least five percent of the voting rights of Answers.com.

the right to receive at least five percent of Answers.com's profits or its assets upon liquidation.

the right to appoint a manager/director.

A "relative" of a person is defined as the spouse, brother, sister, parents, grandparents, descendants and the descendants of the spouse of such person, and the spouse of any of the foregoing.

Certain stockholders who are not entitled to an exemption from Israeli withholding tax under the above mentioned tax ruling (including U.S. stockholders who do not qualify under such tax ruling but are eligible to claim benefits under the U.S.-Israel income tax treaty) may nonetheless be entitled to separately obtain from the Israeli Tax Authority a certificate of exemption from withholding or an individual tax ruling providing for no withholding or withholding at a reduced rate. The purchaser or the exchange agent is required to withhold in accordance with such a valid certificate or ruling (as determined in their discretion) that is provided to them at least three business days prior to the date of the applicable payment.

Payments to be made to stockholders not covered by a tax ruling or exemption certificate will be subject to Israeli withholding tax at the fixed rate of 20% for individuals and 25% for corporations.

Stockholders who received or acquired their Answers.com shares or were granted options under one or more of the Answers.com stock incentive plans, or otherwise as compensation for employment or services provided to Answers.com, may be subject to different tax rates.

Following the execution of the merger agreement, Answers.com filed a request for a tax ruling from the Israeli Tax Authority with respect to the withholding tax applicable to payments of consideration in the merger to holders of vested stock options and common stock subject to Section 102 of the ITO and with respect to unvested stock options. The tax ruling requested by Answers.com, if obtained, would confirm, among other things:

that the statutory holding period with respect to vested stock options, and common stock subject to Section 102 of the ITO, will continue uninterrupted from the original date of grant and will not recommence as a result of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; provided that the consideration paid to the holders of vested stock options and common stock is deposited with the trustee appointed by Answers.com's Israeli subsidiary, in accordance with Section 102 of the ITO, for the duration of the statutory holding period; and the tax consequences of the rights granted under the merger agreement in lieu of unvested stock options granted under Section 102 of the ITO, and the payment of cash consideration to holders of unvested stock options.

The Israeli tax rulings may not be obtained or may contain such provisions, terms and conditions as the Israeli Tax Authority may prescribe, which may be different from those detailed above.

EACH STOCKHOLDER SHOULD CONSULT HIS, HER OR ITS OWN TAX ADVISORS TO DETERMINE THE ISRAELI WITHHOLDING TAX CONSEQUENCES APPLICABLE TO THAT STOCKHOLDER AS A RESULT OF THE MERGER.

Regulatory Matters

Antitrust Laws. Under the HSR Act, and the rules that have been promulgated under the HSR Act, acquisitions of a sufficient size may not be completed unless information has been furnished to the Antitrust Division of the DOJ and to the FTC and applicable waiting period requirements have been satisfied or early termination of the waiting period has been granted. The merger is subject to the provisions of the HSR Act. As a closing condition to the merger, the waiting period (and any extension thereof) applicable to the merger under the HSR Act must expire or be terminated early.

On February 16, 2011, Answers.com and certain affiliates of AFCV made the required filings concerning the merger with the DOJ and the FTC under the HSR Act.

AFCV and Answers.com conduct operations in a number of countries besides the United States, some of which have antitrust or competition law notification requirements applicable to mergers of this kind. AFCV and Answers.com, however, have determined that no such notifications are required in connection with the merger.

At any time before or after the completion of the merger, notwithstanding that the applicable waiting period has ended or approval has been granted, any state, foreign country, or private individual could take action to enjoin the merger under the antitrust laws of the United States or a foreign jurisdiction as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest or any private party could seek to enjoin the merger on anti-competitive grounds.

While there can be no assurance that the merger will not be challenged by any governmental authority or private party in the United States or in any foreign jurisdiction, Answers.com, based on a review of information provided by AFCV relating to the businesses in which it and its affiliates are engaged, believes the merger can be consummated in compliance with all applicable antitrust laws and no remedy will be required.

The change in the composition of our stockholders in connection with the merger requires the approval of the Investment Center. The approval of the Investment Center in connection with the merger is a condition to completion of the merger, and was obtained on February 7, 2011.

Legal Proceedings Regarding the Merger

On February 4, 2011, a purported class action complaint was filed in the Supreme Court of New York in New York County, State of New York, Mathason v. Rosenschein, et. al., Index No. 650311/2011 on behalf of a putative class of Answers.com stockholders and naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, Summit and AFCV. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, and (ii) purportedly failing to comply with their disclosure obligations. The plaintiffs further assert that Summit and AFCV aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things a declaration that the members of the Answers.com board of directors have breached their fiduciary duties, an injunction barring consummation of the merger or rescinding, to the extent already implemented, the merger agreement, and an award of fees, expenses and costs to plaintiffs and their attorneys.

On February 7, 2011, another purported class action complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, Lewis v. Answers Corporation, et.al., Case No. 6170, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, AFCV, Merger Sub and Summit. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, and (ii) creating supposedly preclusive deal protection devices in the merger agreement. The plaintiffs further allege that AFCV, Summit and Merger Sub aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an order enjoining the members of the Answers.com board of directors from consummating the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement unless and until Answers.com adopts and implements a procedure or process to obtain a merger agreement providing the best possible terms for stockholders, and damages and attorneys' fees.

On February 9, 2011, a third purported class action complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, Wilhelm v. Answers Corporation, et.al., Case No. 6177-VCN, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the board of directors, AFCV, and Merger Sub. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, and (ii) creating allegedly preclusive deal protection devices in the merger agreement. The plaintiffs further allege that Answers.com, AFCV, and Merger Sub aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an order enjoining the members of the Answers.com board from consummating the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement unless and until Answers.com adopts and implements a procedure or process to obtain a merger agreement providing the best possible terms for stockholders, and damages and attorneys' fees.

On February 11, 2011, a fourth purported class action complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, Iroquois Master Fund Ltd. v. Answers Corporation, et. al., Case No. 6183-VCN, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, AFCV, Merger Sub and Summit. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, (ii) failing to shop Answers.com properly, and (iii) creating allegedly preclusive deal protection devices in the merger agreement. The plaintiffs further allege that AFCV, Summit and Merger Sub aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an injunction barring consummation of the merger or rescinding, to the extent already implemented, the merger, and damages and attorneys' fees.

On February 11, 2011, a fifth purported class action complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, Teitelbaum v. Rosenschein, et.al., Case No. 6186-VCN, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, AFCV, Merger Sub and Summit Partners. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, and (ii) creating allegedly preclusive deal protection devices in the merger agreement. The plaintiffs further allege that AFCV, Summit and Merger Sub aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an injunction barring consummation of the merger, an order imposing a constructive trust, in favor of the putative class upon any benefits improperly received by the defendants as a result of their allegedly wrongful conduct, and damages and attorneys' fees.

On February 11, 2011, a sixth purported class action complaint was filed in the Court of Chancery in the State of Delaware, Dressler v. Answers Corporation, et.al., Case No. 6189-VCN, naming as defendants Answers.com, all the members of the Answers.com board of directors, AFCV, the Merger Sub and Summit Partners. The plaintiffs generally allege that, in connection with the approval of the merger agreement, the members of the Answers.com board of directors breached their fiduciary duties owed to Answers.com stockholders by, among other things, (i) failing to take steps to maximize the value of Answers.com to its stockholders because the merger price of $10.50 per share of common stock allegedly does not reflect the true value of Answers.com stock, (ii) acting to advance their own interests at the expense of Answers.com stockholders, and (iii) creating allegedly preclusive deal protection devices in the merger agreement. The plaintiffs further allege that AFC and Summit aided and abetted the members of the Answers.com board of directors in the alleged breaches of their fiduciary duties. The plaintiffs seek among other things an injunction barring consummation of the merger or rescinding, to the extent already implemented, the merger, and damages and attorneys' fees.

The outcome in these lawsuits could have an impact on the consummation of the merger.

Answers.com and the other defendant parties intend to defend these lawsuits vigorously and believe them to be without merit.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following summary describes the material provisions of the merger agreement. This summary may not contain all of the information about the merger agreement that is important to you. The merger agreement is attached to this document as Annex A and is incorporated by reference into this document. We encourage you to read the merger agreement carefully in its entirety for a more complete understanding of it, because it is the legal document that governs the merger.

Explanatory Note Regarding the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement contains representations and warranties of Answers.com, AFCV and Merger Sub, negotiated between the parties for purposes of the merger agreement, including setting forth the respective rights of the parties with respect to their obligations to complete the merger. The description below of the representations and warranties is included to provide Answers.com's stockholders with information regarding the terms of the merger agreement. The representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement were made only for purposes of such agreement, as of specific dates, solely for the benefit of the parties to such agreement, and may be subject to limitations agreed upon by the parties to the merger agreement, including qualifications by confidential disclosures exchanged between the parties in connection with the execution of the merger agreement. These representations and warranties may have been made for the purposes of allocating contractual risk between the parties to the merger agreement as opposed to establishing these matters as facts, and may be subject to standards of materiality applicable to the contracting parties that differ from those generally applicable to investors. The representations and warranties in the merger agreement and the description of them in this proxy statement should be read in conjunction with the other information provided elsewhere in this proxy statement and in the documents incorporated by reference in this proxy statement. See the sections entitled "Where You Can Find More Information" and "Incorporation of Information by Reference," both beginning on page 76 of this document.

The Merger

Generally

The merger agreement provides that at the closing of the merger, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Answers.com. At the effective time of the merger (which we sometimes refer to as the "effective time"), Answers.com will continue as the surviving corporation and will be a wholly-owned subsidiary of AFCV. At the effective time of the merger, all of Answers.com's property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises before the merger will vest in the surviving corporation and all of Answers.com's debt, liabilities and duties before the merger will become the debt, liabilities and duties of the surviving corporation.

Directors and Officers of the Surviving Corporation after the Merger

The initial directors and officers of the surviving corporation will be the directors and officers of Merger Sub immediately prior to the effective time. AFCV, Answers.com and the surviving corporation will cause the directors and officers of Merger Sub immediately prior to the effective time of the merger to be the directors and officers, respectively, of the surviving corporation's subsidiaries immediately after the effective time of the merger.

Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws after the Merger

Unless otherwise determined by AFCV prior to the effective time, the certificate of incorporation of Answers.com will be amended and restated in its entirety as a result of the merger to be identical to the certificate of incorporation attached as Annex E to this proxy statement (a copy of which certificate of incorporation is included as Exhibit B to the merger agreement), and the bylaws of Answers.com will be amended and restated in their entirety as a result of the merger to be identical to the bylaws of Merger Sub as in effect immediately prior to the effective time (provided, however, that at the effective time, the bylaws of Answers.com shall be amended so as to comply with the covenant in the merger agreement described under the section entitled “— Indemnification and Insurance” beginning on page 69 of this document).

Manner and Basis of Converting Shares of Answers.com Common Stock into the Merger Consideration

Under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time, each share of Answers.com common stock will be cancelled and extinguished and automatically converted into the right to receive $10.50 in cash, without interest and subject to applicable tax withholding (which we refer to as the “common stock merger consideration”), unless the holder thereof does not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and properly perfects the holder’s appraisal rights under Delaware law.

Each share of Answers.com common stock held by Answers.com, AFCV or any direct or indirect subsidiary of Answers.com or AFCV will be cancelled and extinguished at the effective time, and will not entitle the holder thereof to receive the merger consideration.

Manner and Basis of Converting Shares of Preferred Stock into the Merger Consideration

Under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time, each share of Series A stock will be converted into the right to receive an amount in cash equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $101.76 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series A stock to the effective time, divided by (B) $4.50, without interest and subject to applicable tax withholding (which we refer to as the “Series A merger consideration”), unless the holder thereof does not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and properly perfects the holder’s appraisal rights under Delaware law.

Under the terms of the merger agreement, at the effective time, each share of Series B stock will be converted into the right to receive an amount in cash equal to $10.50 multiplied by (A) the stated value of $100.00 plus accrued but unpaid dividends thereon accrued daily at the rate of 6% per annum calculated from the date on which the last regular quarterly dividend is paid in respect of the Series B stock to the effective time, divided by (B) $5.50, without interest and subject to applicable tax withholding (which we refer to as the “Series B merger consideration”), unless the holder thereof does not vote in favor of adoption of the merger agreement and properly perfects the holder’s appraisal rights under Delaware law. We sometimes refer to the Series A merger consideration and the Series B merger consideration, together, as the “preferred stock merger consideration.”

Completion and Effectiveness of the Merger

The merger will become effective upon the filing of the certificate of merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware or at such later time as is agreed by AFCV and Answers.com and specified in the certificate of merger.

We intend to complete the merger no later than two business days after all of the conditions to completion of the merger contained in the merger agreement described in the section entitled “— Conditions to Completion of the Merger” beginning on page 69 of this document, are satisfied or waived, including adoption of the merger agreement by the Answers.com stockholders. The merger will become effective upon the filing of a certificate of merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, or at such later time as AFCV and Answers.com agree and as specified in the certificate of merger.

We are working to complete the merger as quickly as possible. We currently plan to complete the merger during the second quarter of calendar year 2011. However, we cannot predict the exact timing of the closing because completion of the merger is subject to governmental and regulatory approvals and other conditions.

Treatment of Answers.com Options and Warrants

At the effective time, except as otherwise agreed to between AFCV and the optionholder, each vested Answers.com stock option issued under Answers.com equity plans and agreements which is outstanding at the effective time, to the extent unexercised as of the effective time, will no longer represent the right to acquire Answers.com common stock and, except as specifically agreed between AFCV and the option holder, will represent the right to receive an amount in cash equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the product of (A) the number of shares of Answers.com common stock subject to such stock option, multiplied by (B) $10.50 over (ii) the aggregate exercise price of such stock option, without interest and less any deductions and required withholding taxes, as applicable. Each unvested Answers.com stock option outstanding at the effective time, unless otherwise agreed to between the holder of such option and AFCV, will no longer constitute the right to acquire Answers.com common stock; provided, however, that pursuant to the merger agreement, any unvested Answers.com stock options which are held by our non-employee directors and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will be accelerated and treated as vested options for all purposes of the merger agreement. Instead, at the effective time, each unvested stock option will represent the right, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to such unvested stock option (except as specified in the merger agreement), on each date on which the shares of Answers.com common stock subject to the unvested stock option would have become vested and exercisable (and provided that the holder is still employed by Answers.com or AFCV on such date), to receive an amount in cash equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the number of shares of Answers.com common stock subject to such stock option that would have otherwise vested on such date, multiplied by (ii) $10.50, over the aggregate exercise price of such stock option, without interest and less any deductions and required withholding taxes, as applicable.

Following the effective time, warrants to purchase Answers.com common stock will represent only the right, upon the exercise thereof, if any, to receive the common stock merger consideration payable upon the shares of Answers.com common stock previously issuable upon exercise of such warrants, and will in no event be exercisable for any equity securities of AFCV, Answers.com or any of their subsidiaries. In addition, prior to the effective time, Answers.com must cause all holders of warrants to purchase Answers.com common stock to either fully exercise their warrants prior to the close of business on the second business day prior to the effective time or agree in writing that their warrants will be terminated upon the effective time, provided that the holder of any such terminated warrant will be entitled to receive, following the effective time, upon surrender of the certificate representing such warrant, only an amount of cash, without interest (such amount sometimes referred to as the “warrant merger consideration”), equal to:

the number of shares of Answers.com common stock issuable upon exercise of such warrant, multiplied by an amount equal to the excess, if any, of $10.50 over the per share exercise price in effect for that warrant.

Adjustments to the Merger Consideration

The common stock merger consideration, the Series A merger consideration, the Series B merger consideration and the consideration payable to option holders will be adjusted to reflect fully the appropriate effect of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend (including any dividend or distribution of securities convertible into Answers.com common stock or preferred stock, as the case may be), reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification or other like change with respect to Answers.com common stock or preferred stock, as the case may be, having a record date on or after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the effective time.

Dissenting Shares

Any shares of Answers.com stock held by a stockholder which has not effectively withdrawn or lost his, her or its appraisal rights under Section 262 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware (which we sometimes refer to, collectively, as the “dissenting shares”), will not be converted into or represent the right to receive the applicable merger consideration, and the holder thereof will only be entitled to such rights as are provided by and in accordance with Section 262 of the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware. Further, if any holder of dissenting shares effectively withdraws or loses his, her or its appraisal rights under such Section 262, then, as of the later of the effective time and the occurrence of such event, that holder’s shares of Answers.com stock will automatically be converted into and represent only the right to receive the applicable merger consideration, without interest thereon, upon surrender of the certificate representing those shares of Answers.com stock.

Exchange of Answers.com Stock Certificates for the Merger Consideration

General

Promptly following completion of the merger, the exchange agent for the merger will mail to each holder of Answers.com common stock, preferred stock and warrants, as of the effective time, a letter of transmittal and instructions for surrendering the record holder’s certificates in exchange for the applicable portion of the merger consideration. Only those holders of Answers.com common stock, preferred stock or warrants who properly surrender their Answers.com certificates in accordance with the exchange agent’s instructions will receive the applicable portion of the merger consideration, subject to any applicable withholding tax. The surrendered certificates representing Answers.com common stock, preferred stock or warrants will be cancelled. After the effective time, each certificate representing shares of Answers.com common stock that has not been surrendered will represent only the right to receive the applicable portion of the merger consideration.

Answers.com stockholders should not send in their stock certificates until they receive a letter of transmittal from the exchange agent for the merger, with instructions for the surrender of such certificates.

No interest will be paid or accrued on any cash payable to holders of Answers.com stock in the merger. In addition, AFCV and the surviving corporation are entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable such amounts as are required by applicable law.

Exchange Fund

AFCV has agreed that prior to the effective time, it will enter into an agreement (to be effective as of the effective time) with the exchange agent for the merger under which AFCV will agree (or will agree to cause Merger Sub to) make available to the exchange agent, for exchange in accordance with the merger agreement, the aggregate common stock merger consideration, preferred stock merger consideration and warrant merger consideration payable pursuant to the merger agreement, and AFCV or Merger Sub will deposit that amount with the exchange agent on the closing date (unless the closing occurs after 12:00 p.m., Pacific time, in which case, the deposit must be made on the first business day after the closing date). Any cash deposited with the exchange agent is sometimes referred to as the “exchange fund.”

Any portion of the exchange fund which remains undistributed to the holders of certificates evidencing Answers.com common stock, preferred stock or warrants that were outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will, 12 months after the effective time, at the request of the surviving corporation in the merger, be delivered to the surviving corporation or otherwise according to its instructions, and any holders of such certificates which have not surrendered such certificates in compliance with the merger agreement will have the right, after such delivery to the surviving corporation, subject to the merger agreement, to look only to the surviving corporation solely as general creditors for the cash constituting the applicable merger consideration (which will not accrue interest) pursuant to the merger agreement.

Transfers of Ownership and Lost Stock Certificates

AFCV will only pay the merger consideration to someone other than the name in which a surrendered Answers.com certificate is registered if the person requesting such payment presents to the exchange agent all documents required to evidence and effect the unrecorded transfer of ownership and to show that such person paid any applicable stock transfer taxes. If an Answers.com stock certificate is lost, stolen or destroyed, the owner of the shares or warrants represented by such certificate must deliver an affidavit of that fact prior to receiving the applicable portion of the merger consideration.

Answers.com makes a number of customary representations and warranties in the merger agreement regarding aspects of its business, financial condition and structure, as well as other facts pertinent to the merger. These representations and warranties relate to, among other things, the following subject matters:

compliance with applicable privacy policies; and the availability of certain corporate documents.

AFCV and Merger Sub also make a limited number of customary representations and warranties in the merger agreement regarding facts pertinent to the merger. These representations and warranties relate to, among other things:

the absence of certain litigation; and the absence of brokers' and finders' fees.

The representations and warranties of AFCV and Answers.com contained in the merger agreement expire at the effective time of the merger. The representations and warranties in the merger agreement are complicated, are not identical as between Answers.com and AFCV and are not easily summarized. You are urged to carefully read in their entirety Articles III and IV of the merger agreement (entitled "Representations and Warranties of the Company" and "Representations and Warranties of Parent and Merger Sub," respectively).

Any reference to a "material adverse effect" with respect to Answers.com means any change, event, circumstance, condition or effect that, individually or in the aggregate, and taken together with all other such effects, (1) has had, or would reasonably be expected to have, a material adverse effect on the financial condition, business, assets (including intangible assets), liabilities, operations or results of operations of Answers.com and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole; or (2) that materially impedes, or that would reasonably be expected to materially impede, the ability or authority of Answers.com to consummate the merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement in accordance with the merger agreement and applicable law. However, no such effect to the extent resulting from or arising out of any of the following (either by itself or when aggregated or taken together with any and all other such effects) will be deemed to be or constitute a "material adverse effect" with respect to Answers.com, and no such effect (either by itself or when aggregated or taken together with any and all other such effects) to the extent resulting from or arising out of any of the following will be taken into account when determining whether or not a "material adverse effect" has occurred with respect to Answers.com:

general economic conditions (or changes in such conditions) in the United States, Israel, or any other country or region in the world, or general conditions in the global economy generally;

conditions (or changes in such conditions) in the securities markets, capital markets, credit markets, currency markets or other financial markets in the United States, Israel or any other country or region in the world, including changes in interest rates in the United States, Israel or any other country or region in the world, and changes in exchange rates for the currencies of any such countries, and any suspension of trading in securities (whether equity, debt, derivative or hybrid securities) generally on any securities exchange or over-the-counter market operating in the United States, Israel or any other country or region in the world;

general conditions (or changes in such conditions) in the industry or industries in which Answers.com and its subsidiaries operate; political conditions (or changes in such conditions) in the United States, Israel or any other country or region in the world, or acts of war, sabotage, armed hostilities or terrorism (including any escalation or general worsening of any such acts of war, sabotage, armed hostilities or terrorism) in the United States, Israel or any other country or region in the world where Answers.com or its subsidiaries have material operations;

changes in law, U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, which we sometimes refer to as “GAAP,” or other accounting standards (or, in each case, the interpretation by any governmental entity thereof);

to the extent applicable, changes in Answers.com’s stock price or the trading volume of its stock, in and of itself, provided that any underlying cause of, or effect resulting in, such changes may be taken into account in determining whether there has been a material adverse effect with respect to Answers.com;

any failure by Answers.com to meet any internal or third-party financial projections, estimates, expectations or forecasts, in each case, of its revenues or earnings, in and of itself, provided that any underlying cause of, or effect resulting in, such failure may be taken into account in determining whether there has been a material adverse effect with respect to Answers.com;

the execution, delivery or announcement of the merger agreement or the pendency or consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby; and any action taken, or the failure to take any action, by Answers.com or any of its subsidiaries, in each case which AFCV has specifically approved, consented to, or requested in writing (other than the taking of any action required by the merger agreement or the failure to take any action prohibited by the merger agreement);

provided, that any such effect resulting from or arising out of the matters described in the first five bullet points above may be taken into account when determining whether an effect has a “material adverse effect” on Answers.com, but only if and to the extent that such effect has, or would reasonably be expected to have, a disproportionately adverse impact on Answers.com and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, as compared to other companies that conduct business in the industry or industries in which Answers.com and its subsidiaries conduct business.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a drop in daily average page views to Answers.com’s websites in excess of 15% (measured by comparing the daily average page views for either the 30 days prior to the closing, if the closing occurs on or prior to May 1, 2011, or the 60 days prior to the closing, if the closing occurs on or after May 2, 2011) against the benchmark of 12.7 million daily page views will be deemed to constitute a material adverse effect on Answers.com.

Notification of Certain Matters

Answers.com must promptly notify AFCV if (i) any representation or warranty made by Answers.com becomes untrue or inaccurate, or upon any failure by Answers.com to comply with any covenant or other agreement, such that the conditions precedent to the merger would not be satisfied or that would otherwise result in liability to Answers.com, AFCV or the surviving corporation (other than a de minimus liability), (ii) any material adverse effect or any event which would reasonably be expected to cause the conditions precedent to the merger to not be satisfied occurs, or (iii) any litigation by a governmental entity is brought against Answers.com or any of its subsidiaries or its officers, directors, employees or stockholders and which relates to the consummation of the merger.

Limitation on Answers.com’s Ability to Consider Other Acquisition Proposals

Under the terms of the merger agreement, subject to certain exceptions described below, Answers.com has agreed that it and its subsidiaries will not, nor will they authorize or permit any of their respective officers, directors, employees, affiliates, investment bankers, attorneys, accountants, or other agents, advisors or representatives to, directly or indirectly:

solicit, initiate, seek, knowingly encourage or facilitate, support or induce any inquiry with respect to, or the making, submission or announcement of, any alternative transaction proposal;

participate or otherwise engage in any discussion or negotiations regarding, or furnish to any person any non-public information or grant access to its books, records or personnel with respect to, or take any action to facilitate any inquiring or the making of any proposal that is or may lead to an alternative transaction proposal;

grant any person a waiver or release under any standstill or similar agreement;

approve, endorse or recommend any alternative transaction proposal; or

enter into any letter of intent or any contract or commitment with respect to an alternative transaction proposal.

As defined in the merger agreement, an “alternative transaction proposal” means, with respect to Answers.com, any offer, expression or indication of interest, letter of intent or proposal (whether binding or non-binding), or any public announcement of any intention to make any such offer, expression of interest or proposal, whether made to Answers.com or its stockholders by any person, entity or “group” (as defined under Section 13(d) of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder) other than AFCV or its controlled affiliates (which we sometimes refer to as a “third person”) relating to any transaction or series of related transactions involving:

any purchase, acquisition or similar transaction by such third party, directly or indirectly, of 20% or more (by vote or by value) of the total voting securities of Answers.com or any of its subsidiaries, as the case may be, outstanding as of the consummation of such transaction;

any tender offer, exchange offer or similar transaction that if consummated would result in such third party beneficially owning 20% or more (by vote or by value) of the total voting securities of Answers.com or any of its subsidiaries, as the case may be, outstanding as of the consummation of such transaction;

any merger, consolidation, business combination or similar transaction involving Answers.com or any of its subsidiaries;

directly or indirectly, any sale, lease, exchange, transfer, license (other than in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices) or other disposition (including by way of joint venture) of assets (including capital stock or other ownership interests in subsidiaries of Answers.com) representing 20% or more of the aggregate fair market value of the consolidated assets of Answers.com and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole;

any liquidation, dissolution, reorganization or recapitalization of Answers.com; or the declaration or payment of any extraordinary dividend, whether of cash or other property, Answers.com to its stockholders representing 20% or more of the aggregate fair market value of the consolidated assets of Answers.com and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, measured immediately prior to the declaration or payment of such extraordinary dividend.

Under the merger agreement, Answers.com and its subsidiaries, and their respective representatives, are required to cease all activities, discussions or negotiations that may have been ongoing as of the date of the merger agreement with any third parties with respect to any alternative transaction proposal. Further, Answers.com agreed, except as otherwise permitted under the merger agreement and described below, that its board of directors shall not withdraw, amend, qualify or modify its recommendation of the merger agreement and the merger.

Notwithstanding the prohibitions described above, if prior to the time that the stockholders of Answers.com adopt the merger agreement, Answers.com receives an unsolicited, bona fide alternative transaction proposal, and, among other things, Answers.com's board of directors determines (after consultation with its outside financial and legal advisors) (i) that the alternative transaction proposal is or is reasonably likely to become a "superior proposal," and (ii) that it is required to take the following actions in order to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware Law, provided that Answers.com has given AFCV at least 24 hours' prior written notice of its intention to take any of the following actions, and has disclosed to AFCV the identity of such third party and the material terms and conditions of such alternative transaction proposal, then Answers.com may:

furnish non-public information to the third party making such alternative transaction proposal under an executed confidentiality agreement, which includes a standstill provision, on terms at least as restrictive as the confidentiality agreement between AFCV and Answers.com, and provided that such non-public information be furnished to AFCV; and engage in discussions or negotiations with the third party with respect to an alternative transaction proposal.

In response to a superior proposal or an "intervening event," the Answers.com board may change its recommendation to the stockholders of Answers.com with respect to adoption of the merger agreement, if:

in the case of a superior proposal, the proposal has not been withdrawn and continues to be a superior proposal;

approval of the merger agreement by Answers.com's stockholders has not yet been obtained;

Answers.com has:

delivered to AFCV written notice at least three business days prior to publicly changing its recommendation and provided to AFCV certain information regarding the superior proposal or intervening event;

–provided to AFCV all materials and information delivered to the third party making the superior proposal; and

during this three business day period, if requested by AFCV, engaged in good faith negotiations to amend the merger agreement in such a manner that the superior proposal would no longer be a superior proposal or, in the case of an intervening event, which obviates the need for a change of recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to Answers.com’s stockholders under Delaware law;

AFCV has not, within the aforementioned three business day period, made an offer in writing such that the board of directors has in good faith determined that the superior proposal is no longer a superior proposal or, in the case of an intervening event, which obviates the need for the Answers.com board to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to Answers.com stockholders under Delaware law;

the board has concluded, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that in light of the superior proposal or intervening event, and after considering any adjustments proposed by AFCV, that it is required to change its recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations under Delaware Law; and

Answers.com has previously complied with the provisions summarized under this section and under the section entitled “— Answers.com Meeting of Stockholders” beginning on page 65 of this document.

Notwithstanding a change in the recommendation of the board, Answers.com remains obligated to hold the special meeting of the stockholders to adopt the merger agreement, unless the merger agreement has been properly terminated.

For the purposes of the foregoing, an alternative transaction proposal is a “superior proposal” if Answers.com’s board of directors concludes in good faith, after consultation with its outside financial advisor and outside legal advisor, and taking into account, among other things, all relevant, legal, financial, regulatory, timing and other aspects of the offer and the party making the offer, that such unsolicited, bona fide, written offer to acquire, directly or indirectly, pursuant to a tender offer, exchange offer, merger, consolidation or other business combination transaction, (i) all or substantially all of the consolidated assets of Answers.com and its subsidiaries, or (ii) 80% or more of the outstanding voting securities of Answers.com and as a result of which the stockholders of Answers.com would hold less than 45% of the equity interests of the surviving or resulting entity, (A) is more favorable, from a financial point of view, to Answers.com’s stockholders than the merger with AFCV, after giving effect to any adjustments to the terms of the merger agreement proposed by AFCV in writing, (B) provides for consideration consisting exclusively of cash and/or publicly traded securities, (C) has financing that is fully committed, the conditions of which are no less favorable than those related to AFCV’s debt financing, and (D) is reasonably likely to receive all required governmental approvals on a timely basis and otherwise reasonably likely to be consummated on the terms proposed.

An “intervening event” is defined as a material event (other than an alternative transaction proposal or a superior proposal, or events that relate to developments in Answers.com’s progress toward goals set forth in its business plan) arising after the date of the merger agreement that was not known by the Answers.com board as of the date of the merger agreement, nor reasonably foreseeable by the board, and becomes known to the board prior to the vote of Answers.com’s stockholders to adopt the merger agreement.

Employee Benefits for Answers.com Employees

AFCV will give each Answers.com employee who becomes an employee of the surviving corporation full credit for prior service with Answers.com or its subsidiary for purposes of (i) eligibility to participate and vesting under any benefit plan provided by AFCV or its subsidiaries for which length of service is relevant (excluding any defined benefit plan, equity plan or phantom equity plan), (ii) determination of benefit levels under such plan or policy relating to vacation or severance, and (iii) to the extent of AFCV's commercially reasonable efforts, determination of 'retiree' status under any such plan, except where such credit would result in a duplication of benefits. AFCV shall also use commercially reasonable efforts to waive any limitations on benefits relating to pre-existing conditions to the same extent such limitations are waived under any Answers.com plan and to recognize deductibles and out-of-pocket expenses paid by such employees during the calendar year in which the effective time takes place.

Following the completion of the merger and for a period of one year, AFCV agreed to provide Answers.com employees who become employees of the surviving corporation with benefits that are, in the aggregate, substantially comparable to either (A) the benefits provided by Answers.com and its Subsidiary to such employees as in effect on the date of the merger agreement or (B) benefits provided to similarly situated employees of AFCV. AFCV will have the discretion subsidiary select the specific benefits such employees will receive.

The provisions of the merger agreement relating to employee benefits do not confer rights on any person other than the parties to the merger agreement.

Indemnification and Insurance

Under the terms of the merger agreement, AFCV has agreed to cause the surviving corporation in the merger to indemnify the directors and officers of Answers.com against liability for matters occurring prior to the effective time of the merger for a period of six years to the same extent as Answers.com is currently obligated to indemnify these individuals.

AFCV has also agreed to cause the surviving corporation to prepay in full the premium for a “tail” insurance policy, with a claims period of at least six years after the effective time, that provides coverage at least as favorable as the directors’ and officers’ liability insurance policy in place prior to the effective time of the merger, and covering those individuals who are covered under that policy as of the effective time, for claims based upon matters occurring prior to the effective time. AFCV will not be required to expend in excess of a specified amount for the premium on that tail policy, which amount has been determined based upon the current annual premium paid by Answers.com for the directors’ and officers’ liability insurance policy that it currently maintains.

Conditions to Completion of the Merger

Conditions to the Obligations of AFCV and Merger Sub. The obligations of AFCV and Merger Sub to consummate the merger depend upon the satisfaction or waiver, where permitted by the merger agreement, of each of the following conditions:

the Answers.com stockholders, by an affirmative vote, shall have adopted the merger agreement;

no governmental entity shall have enacted any statute, rule or order making the merger illegal or shall have prohibited or prevented the consummation of the merger;

all applicable waiting periods under the HSR Act shall have expired or early termination of those waiting periods shall have been granted;

the Answers.com stockholders, by an affirmative vote, shall have adopted the merger agreement;

no governmental entity shall have enacted any statute, rule or order making the merger illegal or having prohibited or prevented the consummation of the merger;

each of AFCV and Merger Sub's representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement must be true in correct, both as of the date of the merger agreement and as of the closing of the merger, except to the extent that the failure of any such representations and warranties to be so true and correct does not prevent AFCV and Merger Sub from consummating the merger in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement and applicable legal requirements; and

AFCV and Merger Sub shall have complied with all of their covenants and obligations under the merger agreement in all material respects and delivered to the other party a certificate to such effect signed by an officer of AFCV.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be terminated:

by mutual written consent of AFCV and Answers.com;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if the merger has not been consummated by July 5, 2011, but not by a party whose action or failure to act is the principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the merger to occur;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if any legal requirement makes the merger illegal or if any governmental entity issues an order, decree or ruling or takes any other action permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the merger which is final and nonappealable, but not by a party whose action or failure to act is the principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the merger to occur;

by either AFCV or Answers.com, if the stockholders of Answers.com fail to adopt the merger agreement at the meeting called for that purpose, but not by Answers.com where its action or failure to act is a principal cause of the failure of the stockholders of Answers.com to adopt the merger agreement;

by AFCV, if the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger, or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting;

by Answers.com, as a result of the breach by AFCV of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement or if any representation or warranty of AFCV shall have become untrue, such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by AFCV, as a result of the breach by Answers.com of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement or if any representation or warranty of Answers.com shall have become untrue, such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by AFCV, if a material adverse effect on Answers.com has occurred, subject to a twenty day cure period;

by Answers.com, if the conditions to the merger have been satisfied (other than those that by their terms are satisfied at the closing), Answers.com is ready, willing and able to consummate the merger and has not materially breached any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement, and on July 5, 2011 AFCV has not received the proceeds of its financing; or

by Answers.com, if prior to the stockholders meeting its board of directors has changed its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal, and it concurrently pays to AFCV a termination fee (see below).

In the event of the termination of the merger agreement, the merger agreement will be of no further force or effect except as to certain provisions, including the provisions on termination fees and expenses referred to below. However, termination of the merger agreement will not relieve a party from liability for any fraud or willful and knowing breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained in the merger agreement.

Termination Fee; Expenses

Answers.com is obligated to pay to AFCV a cash termination fee of $4,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by AFCV in the event that:

the stockholders of Answers.com fail to adopt the merger agreement and (i) at such time the conditions to AFCV's financing have been or would reasonably be expected to be satisfied, (ii) an alternative transaction proposal has become publicly known and the valuation per share of Answers.com for purposes of the proposal is equal to or greater than the price contemplated by the merger, and (iii) within twelve months following termination of the merger agreement, an alternative transaction proposal is consummated, or Answers.com enters into a letter of intent or any contract or commitment contemplating an alternative transaction proposal which is subsequently consummated;

the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger, or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting; or either the merger has not been consummated by July 5, 2011 and all conditions to the merger are satisfied other than the conditions relating to the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements of Answers.com, or Answers.com breaches its representation, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement such that the applicable conditions to the merger would not be satisfied, and (i) an alternative transaction proposal has become publicly known or is known to the board of directors of Answers.com and the valuation per share of Answers.com for purposes of the proposal is equal to or greater than the price contemplated by the merger, and (ii) within twelve months following termination of the merger agreement, an alternative transaction proposal is consummated, or Answers.com enters into a letter of intent or any contract or commitment contemplating an alternative transaction proposal which is subsequently consummated.

Answers.com is also obligated to pay to AFCV a cash termination fee of $4,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com if, prior to the stockholders meeting, its board of directors changes its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal.

In addition, Answers.com is obligated to pay to AFCV up to $1,000,000 of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses (A) if the stockholders of Answers.com do not adopt the merger agreement by reason of the willful, knowing and material breach of the merger agreement by Answers.com, (B) if the merger agreement is terminated by AFCV if the board of directors of Answers.com has changed its recommendation with respect to the merger or taken certain other specified actions which are inconsistent with the obligation of the board of directors to recommend the merger or if Answers.com is in material breach of its obligations under the merger agreement with respect to alternative transaction proposals or its covenant to hold the stockholders meeting, or (C) if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com, if, prior to the stockholders meeting, its board of directors changes its recommendation to the stockholders on account of a superior proposal in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, and it terminates the merger agreement solely to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to the superior proposal.

AFCV is obligated to pay to Answers.com a cash termination fee of $7,600,000 if the merger agreement is terminated by Answers.com, (i) if the conditions to the merger have been satisfied (other than those that by their terms are satisfied at the closing), (ii) Answers.com is ready, willing and able to consummate the merger and has not materially breached any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements under the merger agreement, and (iii) on July 5, 2011 AFCV has not received the proceeds of its financing.

In addition, AFCV is obligated to pay to Answers.com up to $1,000,000 of its reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses upon termination of the merger agreement by Answers.com if AFCV has not received the proceeds of its debt financing by July 5, 2011, but only if the failure of AFCV to have received the proceeds of its financing is due to AFCV's willful, knowing and material breach of the merger agreement.

Amendment and Waiver

AFCV and Answers.com may amend the merger agreement before or after the adoption of the merger agreement by Answers.com's stockholders, except that after the Answers.com stockholders adopt the merger agreement, no amendment may be made which under any applicable legal requirement or in accordance with the rules of any relevant stock exchange, including the NASDAQ Capital Market, requires further approval by the stockholders of Answers.com without obtaining such further approval.

Either AFCV or Answers.com may, to the extent legally allowed, extend the other's time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts under the merger agreement, waive any inaccuracies in the other's representations and warranties, and waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions for the benefit of such party.

THE VOTING AGREEMENTS

The following is a description of the material terms of the voting agreements. The complete voting agreements are attached as Annexes C-1 and C-2 to this document and are incorporated into this document by reference. All Answers.com stockholders are urged to read the voting agreements carefully and in their entirety.

On February 2, 2011, as an inducement for AFCV and Merger Sub to enter into the merger agreement, (i) Mr. Rosenschein, and (ii) certain Redpoint affiliates, which stockholders collectively beneficially own shares of Answers.com common stock and preferred stock representing approximately % of the Answers.com common stock and preferred stock outstanding, voting together as a single class on an as converted to common stock basis, as of , 2011, the most recent practicable date before the filing of this proxy statement, each entered into a voting agreement, including an irrevocable proxy, with Answers.com and AFCV. Mr. Rosenschein entered into his voting agreement solely in his capacity as a stockholder of Answers.com and not in his capacity as a director or officer of Answers.com. The Redpoint affiliates voting agreement provides that nothing in that voting agreement will prevent any director of Answers.com who has been designated by Redpoint from taking any action in his or her capacity as a director of Answers.com in the exercise of his or her fiduciary duties with respect to an alternative transaction proposal or a superior proposal (as each of those terms are defined in the merger agreement) in compliance with the terms of the merger agreement.

The voting agreements provide that the stockholders will vote (or cause to be voted) all of their shares of Answers.com stock:

in favor of, among other things, adoption of the merger agreement; and against, among other things, any alternative business combination involving Answers.com.

Each stockholder party to a voting agreement has also granted an irrevocable proxy appointing specified representatives of AFCV as that stockholder's attorney-in-fact to vote his or its shares covered by the aforementioned voting obligations as required by the voting agreements.

Each stockholder party to a voting agreement has also agreed that, other than according to the terms of his or its voting agreement, that stockholder will not:

grant any proxies or enter into any agreement or understanding with respect to the voting of any shares of Answers.com stock; or subject to specified limited exceptions, transfer, sell, pledge or otherwise dispose of any shares of Answers.com stock during the term of such voting agreement.

The voting agreements will terminate upon the earlier of:

the termination of the merger agreement; and the date and time that the merger becomes effective.

SECURITY OWNERSHIP OF CERTAIN BENEFICIAL OWNERS AND MANAGEMENT

The following table and accompanying footnotes set forth certain information as of February 15, 2011 (unless otherwise indicated in the footnotes accompanying the following table) with respect to the ownership of our common stock by:

each person or group which beneficially owns more than 5% of our common stock;

each of our directors;

our principal executive officer and our two other highest paid executive officers for Answers.com's fiscal year 2010; and all of our directors and officers as a group.

A person is deemed to be the beneficial owner of securities that can be acquired within sixty days from February 15, 2011 as a result of the exercise of options and warrants. Accordingly, Answers.com common stock issuable upon conversion of preferred stock and upon exercise of options and warrants that are currently exercisable or exercisable within sixty days of February 15, 2011, have been included in the table with respect to the beneficial ownership of the person or entity owning the options and warrants, but not with respect to any other persons or entities.

Applicable percentage of ownership for each holder is based on 8,134,602 shares of common stock outstanding on February 15, 2011, plus, as applicable, shares of Answer.com common stock issuable upon conversion of preferred stock as of February 15, 2011 and shares issuable upon exercise of any presently exercisable stock options and warrants held by each such holder, and options and warrants held by each such holder that will become exercisable within sixty days after February 15, 2011.

DEADLINE FOR STOCKHOLDER PROPOSALS TO BE PRESENTED AT NEXT ANNUAL MEETING

If the merger has been completed, Answers.com does not expect to hold a 2011 annual meeting of stockholders because Answers.com will not be a public company at that time.

If the merger is not consummated and Answers.com does hold its 2011 annual meeting of stockholders, then an Answers.com stockholder who wishes to submit a proposal at that meeting must provide that proposal to Answers.com on a timely basis and satisfy the other conditions set forth in the applicable SEC rules and Answers.com's bylaws. To be timely, a stockholder's notice must be delivered to or mailed and received at our principal executive offices not less than 75 days nor more than 90 days prior to the date of the annual meeting; provided, however, that if less than 75 days' prior notice or prior public disclosure of the date of the annual meeting is given or made to stockholders, notice by the stockholder to be timely must be so delivered or received not later than the close of business on the 10th day following the earlier of (1) the day on which such notice of meeting was mailed and (2) the day on which such public disclosure was made.

The Company's stockholders may submit for inclusion in the Company's proxy statement for its 2011 annual meeting of stockholders proposals on matters appropriate for stockholder action consistent with Rule 14a-8 promulgated under the Exchange Act. In addition, with respect to director nominations, stockholders must adhere to the Company's Procedures for the Recommendation by Stockholders of Director Candidates (see Appendix A attached to the Company's proxy statement for its 2010 annual meeting of stockholders). Answers.com must have received proposals that stockholders seek to include in the proxy statement for the Company's 2011 annual meeting by no later than January 31, 2011. If, however, the date of Answers.com's 2011 annual meeting is changed by more than 30 days from the date of the 2010 annual meeting, which was held on September 9, 2010, a stockholder proposal must be received by a reasonable time before the Company begins to print and mail its proxy solicitation materials for its 2011 annual meeting. Any stockholder proposals will be subject to the requirements of the proxy rules adopted by the SEC.

HOUSEHOLDING OF PROXY MATERIAL

If you and other persons in your household own shares of our common stock as beneficial owners, your broker or bank may have given notice that your household will receive only one copy of this proxy statement. This practice is known as "householding." Unless you responded to that notice that you did not wish to participate in householding, you would be deemed to have consented to participating, and only one copy of this proxy statement would be sent to your address (however, each stockholder would receive a separate proxy card). This procedure reduces our printing costs and postage fees. Any stockholder who wishes to receive his or her own copy of this proxy statement, or who shares an address with another stockholder of Answers.com and together would like to receive only one set of documents, should contact us at 237 West 35th Street, Suite 1001, New York, NY 10001, Attention: Corporate Secretary, being sure to supply the names of all stockholders at the same address, the name of the bank or brokerage firm, and the account number(s). You can also reach us at (646) 502-4780. The revocation of a consent to householding should be effective 30 days after the notice is received.

(a) Exchange Agent. Parent shall select an institution reasonably acceptable to the Company (whose consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed) to act as the exchange agent (the "Exchange Agent") for the Merger and the payment of the Merger Consideration.

(b) Parent to Provide Cash. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall enter into an agreement with the Exchange Agent (to be effective as of the Effective Time) that shall provide that Parent shall, or shall cause Merger Sub to, make available to the Exchange Agent, for exchange in accordance with this Article II, the aggregate Merger Consideration and Warrant Merger Consideration payable pursuant to Section 2.6, and either Parent or Merger Sub shall deposit such consideration with the Exchange Agent on the Closing Date (unless the Closing occurs after 12:00 p.m., Pacific time, in which case, such deposit shall be made on the first Business Day following the Closing Date). Any cash deposited with the Exchange Agent shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Exchange Fund."

(c) Exchange Procedures. Promptly following the Effective Time, Parent shall instruct the Exchange Agent to mail to each holder of record of certificates or instruments evidencing the Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock or Company Warrants that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (collectively, the “Certificates”) and which were converted into the right to receive the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration pursuant to Section 2.6, (i) a letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon proper delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent, and shall be in such form and have such other customary provisions as Parent and/or the Exchange Agent may reasonably specify, including customary provisions with respect to delivery of an “agent’s message” with respect to shares held in book-entry form), and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration. Upon surrender of Certificates for cancellation to the Exchange Agent or to such other agent or agents as may be appointed by Parent, together with such letter of transmittal, duly completed and validly executed in accordance with the instructions thereto, and such other documents as may reasonably be required by Parent or the Exchange Agent (including any required Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 or Form W-8, and any form, declaration, or certificate required under the Israeli Withholding Tax Ruling, if obtained), the holders of such Certificates shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor a check or wire transfer in the amount of U.S. dollars representing the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration that such holders have the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.6 (subject to any applicable withholding Tax as specified in Section 2.9), and the Certificates so surrendered shall forthwith be cancelled. Until so surrendered, outstanding Certificates shall be deemed from and after the Effective Time, for all corporate purposes, to evidence only the right to receive upon surrender thereof the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration that the holders thereof have the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.6. No interest will be paid or accrued on any cash payable to holders of Certificates pursuant to this Agreement. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Company Common Stock or Company Preferred Stock or Company Warrants that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration that the holder thereof has the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.6 may be paid to a transferee if the Certificate representing such Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock or Company Warrants is presented to the Exchange Agent, accompanied by all documents required to evidence and effect such transfer and by evidence that any applicable stock transfer taxes have been paid.

(d) No Liability. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.8 or in Section 2.9, neither the Exchange Agent, the Surviving Corporation nor any party hereto shall be liable to a holder of Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock, Company Warrants or Company Options for any amount paid to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Legal Requirement.

(e) Investment of Exchange Fund. The Exchange Agent shall invest the cash included in the Exchange Fund as directed by Parent on a daily basis; provided that no such investment or loss thereon shall affect the amounts payable to holders of Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock, Company Warrants or Company Options pursuant to this Article II. Any interest and other income resulting from such investment shall become a part of the Exchange Fund, and any amounts in excess of the amounts payable to holders of Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock, Company Warrants or Company Options pursuant to this Article II shall promptly be paid to Parent.

(f) Termination of Exchange Fund. Any portion of the Exchange Fund which remains undistributed to the holders of Certificates twelve (12) months after the Effective Time shall, at the request of the Surviving Corporation, be delivered to the Surviving Corporation or otherwise according to the instruction of the Surviving Corporation, and any holders of the Certificates who have not surrendered such Certificates in compliance with this Section 2.8 shall after such delivery to the Surviving Corporation, subject to Section 2.8(e), look only to the Surviving Corporation solely as general creditors for the cash constituting the Merger Consideration (which shall not accrue interest) pursuant to Section 2.6(a).

2.9 Tax Withholding.

(a) Required Withholding. Each of Parent, the Exchange Agent and the Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from any consideration payable or otherwise deliverable pursuant to this Agreement such amounts as they in good faith reasonably determine to be required to be deducted or withheld therefrom under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”), or any other applicable Legal Requirement. To the extent such amounts are so deducted or withheld, the amount of such consideration shall be treated for all purposes under this Agreement as having been paid to the Person to whom such consideration would otherwise have been paid. No withholding shall be required under the Code with respect to payments to holders of Company Stock or Company Warrants in respect thereof, provided that such holders provide properly completed Internal Revenue Service Forms W-9 or Forms W-8, as applicable.

(b) Israeli Withholding. Notwithstanding Section 2.9(a) above, Parent, the Exchange Agent or the Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to withhold from any consideration payable or otherwise deliverable pursuant to this Agreement such amounts as Parent, the Exchange Agent or the Surviving Corporation may, in their discretion, determine are required to be deducted or withheld therefrom under the ITO; provided, however, that if the Parent, the Exchange Agent or the Surviving Corporation are provided at least three (3) Business Days prior to any payment payable pursuant to this Agreement with what Parent, the Exchange Agent or the Surviving Corporation determines in their reasonable discretion to be a valid approval or ruling issued by the ITA (including the Israeli Withholding Tax Ruling and/or the Israeli Option Tax Ruling, if obtained) regarding the deduction or withholding of Tax (including the reduction of Tax to be withheld, an exemption from withholding or any other instructions regarding the payment of withholding) (the “Israeli Tax Certificate”) from any consideration payable to such payee hereunder, then the withholding (if any) of any amounts under the ITO or any other applicable Legal Requirement, if any, from the consideration payable to such payee hereunder, and the payment of the consideration or any portion thereof, shall be made only in accordance with the provisions of such Israeli Tax Certificate.

2.10 No Further Ownership Rights in any Company Securities. The aggregate Merger Consideration paid upon the surrender for exchange of Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock and Company Warrants in accordance with the terms hereof shall be deemed to have been paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to such Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock and Company Warrants, and there shall be no further registration of transfers on the records of the Surviving Corporation of shares of Company Common Stock, Company Preferred Stock and Company Warrants which were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. If, after the Effective Time, Certificates are presented to the Surviving Corporation for any reason, they shall be cancelled and exchanged as provided in this Article II.

2.11 Lost, Stolen or Destroyed Certificates. In the event any Certificates shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, the Exchange Agent shall issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificates, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the holder thereof, such cash constituting the applicable portion of the Merger Consideration; provided, however, that Parent or Exchange Agent may, in its discretion and as a condition precedent to the issuance thereof, require the owner of such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificates to deliver a bond in such sum as it may reasonably direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against Parent, the Company or the Exchange Agent with respect to the Certificates alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

2.12 Further Action. At and after the Effective Time, the officers and directors of Parent and the Surviving Corporation will be authorized to execute and deliver, in the name and on behalf of the Company and Merger Sub, any deeds, bills of sale, assignments or assurances and to take and do, in the name and on behalf of the Company and Merger Sub, any other actions and things to vest, perfect or confirm of record or otherwise in the Surviving Corporation any and all right, title and interest in, to and under any of the rights, properties or assets acquired or to be acquired by the Surviving Corporation as a result of, or in connection with, the Merger.

(t) Security Measures. The Company has used reasonable measures to protect the Systems and to preserve the availability, security, and integrity of the Systems, and the data and information stored thereon. No event has occurred, and no circumstance or condition exists, that (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) will, or would reasonably be expected to, result in the disclosure or delivery by the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or any Person acting on their behalf to any Person of any Source Code that is Company Intellectual Property. Section 3.8(u) of the Company Disclosure Letter identifies each Contract pursuant to which the Company has deposited, or is or may be required to deposit, with an escrow agent or any other Person, any Source Code that is Company Intellectual Property, and describes whether the execution of this Agreement or any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, could result in the release from escrow of any Source Code that is Company Intellectual Property.

Except as set forth on Section 3.10 of the Company Disclosure Letter, there is no action, suit, claim, investigation or proceeding of any nature pending or, to the knowledge of the Company, currently threatened against the Company, any of its Subsidiaries, any of their respective properties (tangible or intangible), or any of their respective officers or directors, or to the knowledge of the Company, any Person whose liability the Company or any of its Subsidiaries has retained, assumed or granted indemnification against (either contractually or by operation of law) that if determined or resolved adversely in accordance with the plaintiff's demands, would reasonably be expected to be material, or result in a material Liability, to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole. To the knowledge of the Company, no Governmental Entity has since January 1, 2009 challenged or questioned in writing in any material respects any legal right of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, which legal right is material to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, to conduct their respective operations as presently or previously conducted or as currently contemplated to be conducted. There have not been since January 1, 2009, nor are there currently, any internal investigations or inquiries being conducted by the Company, the Company's Board of Directors (or any committee thereof) or any third party at the request of any of the foregoing concerning any material financial, accounting, Tax, conflict of interest, illegal activity, fraudulent or deceptive conduct or other misfeasance or malfeasance issues.

Each of the Company Material Contracts is in full force and effect and has been duly executed by the Company (or its applicable Subsidiary) and, to the Company's knowledge, each of the other parties thereto. There exists no default or event of default or event, occurrence, condition or act with respect to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, or to the knowledge of the Company with respect to any other contracting party, which, with the giving of notice, the lapse of time or the happening of any other event or conditions, would reasonably be expected to (i) become a material default or event of default under any Company Material Contract or (ii) give any third party (A) the right to declare a material default or exercise any material remedy under any Company Material Contract, (B) the right to any material rebate, chargeback, refund, credit, penalty or change in performance schedule under any Company Material Contract, (C) the right to accelerate the maturity or performance of any material obligation of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries under any Company Material Contract, (D) the right to cancel or terminate any Company Material Contract, or (E) the right to modify any Company Material Contract in any manner that would be reasonably be expected to be materially adverse to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole. As of the date hereof, there is no (x) material disagreement or dispute with any other party to any Company Material Contract, (y) pending request to amend, in any material respect, any Company Material Contract, or (z) written notification (or, to the Company's knowledge, formal oral notice) by any other party to any Company Material Contract to materially decrease its placement of advertisements through, or other revenue sources derived from, the Company Products.

(d) Government Contracts. Except as set forth on Section 3.8(v) of the Company Disclosure Letter, neither the Company nor any Subsidiary of the Company is a party to any Contract between the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, on the one hand, and any Governmental Entity, on the other hand, and any outstanding bid, quotation or proposal by the Company that if accepted or awarded would bind the Company to a Contract between the Company, on the one hand, and any Governmental Entity, on the other hand.

(e) Insurance. The Company has made available to Parent true, correct and accurate copies of all insurance policies and fidelity bonds material to the business of the Company and each ERISA Affiliate. Except as would not, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably be expected to be material to the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole: (x) there is no claim by the Company or any ERISA Affiliate pending under any of the insurance policies and fidelity bonds covering the assets, business, equipment, properties, operations, employees, officers and directors of the Company and its Subsidiaries as to which coverage has been questioned, denied or disputed by the underwriters of such policies or bonds; (y) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries is in breach or default with respect to any insurance policy, and each insurance policy is enforceable in accordance with its terms, subject to the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception, assuming due authorization, execution and delivery by the other parties thereto and (z) neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received written notice of actual or threatened modification of any insurance policy, or has received written notice of cancellation or non-renewal of any material insurance policy, other than in connection with ordinary renewals.

3.17 Information Supplied. None of the information supplied or to be supplied by or on behalf of the Company for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Proxy Statement or any other document that is required to be filed by the Company with the SEC in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (each, an "Other Required Company Filing") will, on each relevant filing date (including the filing of any amendment or supplement thereto), on the date of mailing to the Company's stockholders and at the time of the Company Stockholders' Meeting, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading. The Proxy Statement and any Other Required Company Filing will comply as to form in all material respects with the provisions of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations promulgated by the SEC thereunder. The Company's Board of Directors has received an opinion from UBS Securities LLC that as of February 2, 2011, and subject to the assumptions, matters considered and limitations described in such opinion, the Common Stock Merger Consideration to be received in the Merger by holders of Company Common Stock is fair to such holders from a financial point of view (the "Fairness Opinion").

3.19 Vendors. There is no material outstanding dispute concerning the products and/or services provided by any Significant Vendor between any such Significant Vendor, on the one hand, and the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, on the other hand. As used herein, the term "Significant Vendor" shall mean either (i) any of the top ten (10) suppliers of products or services based on the amounts paid or payable to the Company or its Subsidiaries by such suppliers, or (ii) any of the top ten (10) suppliers of products or services based on the amounts paid or payable by the Company or its Subsidiaries to such supplier, in each case for the twelve (12) month period from January 1, 2010 to December 31, 2010. Each Significant Vendor is listed on Section 3.19 of the Company Disclosure Letter together with the total payments to each such Significant Vendor by the Company or its Subsidiaries, or by each such Significant Vendor to the Company or its Subsidiaries, as the case may be, for the twelve (12) month period from January 1, 2010 to December 31, 2010. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any written or, to the knowledge of the Company, other formal notice from any Significant Vendor that: (i) such Significant Vendor intends to decrease or materially limit its supply of products or services to the Company, or its placement of advertisement through the Company Products; or (ii) such Significant Vendor shall not continue as a vendor to the Company (or the Surviving Corporation) after the Closing or that such Significant Vendor intends to cancel, terminate, or in any material manner that would reasonably be expected to be adverse to the Company or its Subsidiaries or the Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries, modify any existing Contracts with the Company.

3.20 Takeover Statutes and Rights Plans. Assuming the accuracy of the representations and warranties of Parent set forth in Section 4.7, the Board of Directors of the Company has taken all actions so that the restrictions contained in Section 203 of Delaware Law applicable to a "business combination" (as defined in such Section 203), and any other similar Legal Requirement, shall not apply to Parent during the pendency of this Agreement, including the execution, delivery or performance of this Agreement and the consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby. The Company does not have in effect any "poison pill" or similar plan or agreement which could have a dilutive or otherwise adverse effect on Parent as a result of consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby.

3.21 Privacy. Since January 1, 2008, the Company's privacy policy is and has been available (as updated from time to time) on the Company Websites (as defined below). The Company's and its Subsidiaries' privacy practices conform, and at all times have conformed, in all material respects to their respective privacy policies and the Company did not collect any personally identifiable information from any individual user of the Company Websites except pursuant to such privacy policies, as amended from time to time. The Company and each of its Subsidiaries has complied, in all material respects, with all applicable Legal Requirements, including, without limitation, the Israeli Protection of Privacy Law 5741-1981 relating to (a) the privacy of users of the Company Products and all Internet websites owned, maintained or operated by the Company and its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Company Websites"), (b) the privacy of the employees of the Company and its Subsidiaries; and (c) the collection, storage and transfer of any personally identifiable information collected by the Company and its Subsidiaries or by third parties having authorized access to the Company's and its Subsidiaries' records. Except as set forth on Section 3.21 of the Company Disclosure Letter, no claims have been asserted or, to the knowledge of the Company, are threatened against the Company or any of its Subsidiaries by any person or entity alleging a violation of such person's or entity's privacy, personal or confidentiality rights under the privacy policies of the Company or its

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF PARENT AND MERGER SUB

Parent and Merger Sub represent and warrant to the Company as follows:

4.1 Organization. Parent is a limited liability company, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Delaware. Merger Sub is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of Delaware, and each of Parent and Merger Sub has all requisite limited liability company or corporate power, as the case may be, and authority to carry on its business as presently conducted.

4.2 Authority; No Conflict; Necessary Consents.

(a) Authority. Each of Parent and Merger Sub has all requisite limited liability company and corporate, respectively, power and authority to enter into this Agreement and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution and delivery of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly authorized by all necessary limited liability company and corporate, respectively action on the part of the Parent and Merger Sub, and no further action is required on the part of Parent and Merger Sub to authorize the execution and delivery of this Agreement or to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby, subject only to the filing of the Certificate of Merger pursuant to Delaware Law. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by Parent and Merger Sub and, assuming due execution and delivery of this Agreement by the Company, constitutes the valid and binding obligations of Parent, enforceable against each of Parent and Merger Sub in accordance with its terms, subject to the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception.

(b) No Conflict. The execution and delivery by Parent and Merger Sub of this Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, will not (i) conflict with or violate any provision of their articles of organization, limited liability company agreement, certificate of incorporation or bylaws, or similar governing documents, as applicable, or (ii) subject to compliance with the requirements set forth in Section 4.2(b), conflict with or violate any material Legal Requirement applicable to Parent or Merger Sub or by which Parent or Merger Sub or any of their respective properties or assets (whether tangible or intangible) is bound or affected; except, in the case of each of the preceding clauses (i) and (ii), for any conflict or violation that would not reasonably be expected to materially impede the ability of the parties to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof and applicable Legal Requirements.

(c) Necessary Consents. No consent, approval, order, authorization, registration, declaration or filing with any Governmental Entity, or any third party, is required to be made or obtained by Parent or Merger Sub in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, except for (i) the Necessary Consents; and (ii) such consents, waivers, approvals, orders, authorizations, registrations, declarations and filings which, if not obtained or made, would, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably impede, or would reasonably be expected to materially impede, the authority or ability the parties to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof.

4.3 Financing.

(a) Parent has delivered to the Company true, complete and correct copies of executed commitment letters, each dated as of the date hereof, from (i) Wells Fargo Bank, National Association and (ii) Summit Partners Subordinated Debt Fund IV-A, L.P. and Summit Partners Subordinated Debt Fund IV-B, L.P. (as the same may be amended and replaced in accordance with Section 6.17, collectively, the “Debt Commitment Letters”), pursuant to which the lender parties thereto have committed, subject to the terms and conditions set forth therein, to lend the amounts set forth therein to one or more direct or indirect Subsidiaries of Parent for the purpose of funding the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (the “Debt Financing”).

(b) As of the date hereof, (i) none of the Debt Commitment Letters has been amended or modified and no such amendment or modification is contemplated by Parent, and (ii) the respective commitments contained in the Debt Commitment Letters have not been withdrawn or rescinded in any respect. Parent or one or more of its Subsidiaries has fully paid any and all commitment fees or other fees in connection with the Debt Commitment Letters that are payable on or prior to the date hereof. Each of the Debt Commitment Letters, as delivered by Parent in accordance with Section 4.3(a), is in full force and effect and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of Parent or a Subsidiary of Parent party thereto, as applicable, and, to the knowledge of Parent, the other parties thereto for so long as it remains in full force and effect, subject to the Bankruptcy and Equity Exception. There are no conditions precedent or other contingencies related to the funding of the full amount of the Debt Financing, other than as expressly set forth in the Debt Commitment Letters. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Debt Commitment Letters, and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement (including the condition set forth in Section 7.2(a)), the aggregate proceeds contemplated by the Debt Commitment Letters, together with the available cash of the Company and the available cash on hand of Parent and its Subsidiaries, will be sufficient for Parent and Merger Sub: to pay the aggregate Merger Consideration and the aggregate Option Merger Consideration; to consummate the Merger upon the terms contemplated by this Agreement; and to pay all related fees and expenses associated therewith. No event has occurred which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would constitute a default or breach on the part of Parent or its applicable Subsidiary under any term or condition of the Debt Commitment Letters; and as of the date of this Agreement, no event has occurred which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would otherwise be reasonably likely to result in the Debt Financing being unavailable. Neither Parent nor Merger Sub has any reason to believe that any of the conditions to the Debt Financing will not be satisfied on a timely basis or that the Debt Financing will not be available to Parent or its applicable Subsidiaries on the date of the Closing. As of the date of this Agreement, there are no side letters or other agreements, arrangements, understandings or other Contracts relating to the Debt Financing (the “Debt Financing Documents”) to which Parent, Merger Sub or any of their affiliates is a party as of the date of this Agreement that are inconsistent with the terms and conditions of the Debt Commitment Letters. There are no Debt Financing Documents to which Parent, Merger Sub or any of their affiliates is a party that would reasonably be expected to materially impede the ability of Parent and Merger Sub to timely consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof and applicable Legal Requirements or make the funding of the Debt Financing materially less likely to occur.

4.4 Stock Ownership. As of the date hereof, neither Parent nor Merger Sub beneficially owns any shares of the Company's capital stock. Neither Parent nor Merger Sub, nor any of their "affiliates" or "associates," has been an "interested stockholder" of the Company at any time since the date that is three (3) years prior to the date hereof, as those terms are used in Section 203 of the Delaware Law.

4.5 No Prior Merger Sub Operations. Merger Sub was formed solely for the purpose of effecting the Merger, has no assets or liabilities, and has not engaged in any business activities or conducted any material operations other than in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby (including, without limitation, the Debt Financing).

4.6 Information Supplied. The information supplied or to be supplied by or on behalf of Parent and Merger Sub for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Proxy Statement will not contain, on each relevant filing date (including the filing of any amendment or supplement thereto), on the date of the mailing to the Company's stockholders, or at the time of the Company Stockholders' Meeting, any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading. If at any time prior to the Effective Time, any event relating to Parent or any of its affiliates, officers or directors should be discovered by Parent which is required to be set forth in a supplement to the Proxy Statement, Parent shall promptly inform the Company thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Parent makes no representation or warranty with respect to any information supplied by the Company which is contained in the Proxy Statement.

4.7 Solvency. Neither Parent nor Merger Sub is entering into any of the transactions contemplated hereby or by the Debt Commitment Letters with the intent to hinder, delay or defraud either present or future creditors. As of the Effective Time and immediately after giving effect to all of the transactions contemplated hereby, including the Debt Financing, any Alternative Financing and the payment of the aggregate Merger Consideration, payment of the aggregate Option Merger Consideration and any other amounts payable to holders of Company Options hereunder, and payment of all related fees and expenses, and assuming (a) satisfaction of each of the conditions to Parent's obligation to consummate the Merger as expressly set forth in Article VII and the conditions to the Debt Financing expressly set forth in the Debt Commitment Letters, (b) the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the Company set forth in Article III hereof (for such purposes, such representations and warranties shall be true and correct in all material respects), and (c) estimates, projections and/or forecasts provided by the Company or its Representatives to Parent prior to the date hereof (as applicable) were prepared in good faith based on reasonable assumptions when prepared, the Surviving Corporation will be Solvent. For purposes of this Section 4.7, "Solvent" with respect to the Surviving Corporation means that: (i) the sum of the Indebtedness (including contingent Liabilities) of the Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, does not exceed the present fair saleable value (on a going concern basis) of the present assets of the Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole; (ii) the capital of Surviving Corporation and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, is not unreasonably small in relation to the business of the Surviving Corporation and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, contemplated as of the date hereof; and (iii) the fair salable value (on a going concern basis) of the assets of the Surviving Corporation will not be less than the amount that will be required to pay the probable liability on the debts of the Surviving Corporation as they become absolute and matured.

4.8 Litigation. There is no action, suit, claim, investigation or proceeding of any nature pending or, to the knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent, Merger Sub, any of their respective Subsidiaries, or any of their respective properties (tangible or intangible), that, if determined or resolved adversely in accordance with the plaintiff's demands would, individually or in the aggregate, materially impede, or would reasonably be expected to materially impede, the authority or ability of the Parent to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof.

4.9 Brokers' and Finders' Fees. Except for fees and expenses of Jefferies & Company, Inc., none of Parent, Merger Sub or any of their Subsidiaries is obligated for the payment of any fees or expenses of any investment banker, broker, finder or similar financial advisor in connection with the origin, negotiation or execution of this Agreement or in connection with the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by this Agreement.

4.10 Other Information. Except for the representations and warranties expressly set forth in this Agreement, none of Parent, Merger Sub nor any of their Subsidiaries, whether directly or indirectly through any Representative or any other Person, is making any representations or warranties whatsoever, express or implied.

ARTICLE VI ADDITIONAL AGREEMENTS

6.1 Proxy Statement and Other Filings.

(a) As promptly as practicable after the execution of this Agreement (but in no event more than ten (10) Business Days after the date of this Agreement), the Company shall prepare, and file with the SEC, preliminary proxy materials (including a preliminary Proxy Statement) relating to the seeking of the Company Stockholder Approval. Parent shall provide promptly to the Company such information concerning Parent as, in the reasonable judgment of Parent or its counsel, may be required or appropriate for inclusion in the Proxy Statement, or in any amendments or supplements thereto. At the earliest practicable time following the later of (i) receipt and resolution of SEC comments thereon, or (ii) the expiration of the 10-day waiting period provided in Rule 14a-6(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act, the Company shall file definitive proxy materials with the SEC and cause the definitive Proxy Statement to be mailed to its stockholders. Prior to filing any Proxy Statement or any other filing with the SEC or any other Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby (including any amendment or supplement to the Proxy Statement as a result of any event or occurrence required to be set forth therein), the Company shall provide Parent (which term shall in all instances in this Section 6.1 also include Parent's outside legal counsel) with reasonable opportunity to review and comment on each such filing in advance, and the Company shall in good faith consider including in such filings all comments reasonably proposed by Parent.

(b) The Company will notify Parent promptly of the receipt of any oral or written comments from the SEC or its staff (or of notice of the SEC's intent to review the Proxy Statement or the issuance of any stop order) and of any request by the SEC or its staff or any other officials of any Governmental Entity for amendments or supplements to the Proxy Statement or any other filing or for additional/supplemental information, and will supply Parent with copies of all correspondence between the Company or any of its advisors or representatives, on the one hand, and the SEC, or its staff or any other officials of any Governmental Entity, on the other hand, with respect to the Proxy Statement or any other filing with any Governmental Entity in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby. The Company shall, and shall instruct its outside legal counsel to, permit Parent and its outside legal counsel to participate in all communications with the SEC and its staff (including all meetings and telephone conferences) relating to the Proxy Statement, this Agreement or the Merger. The Company shall consult with Parent prior to responding to any comments or inquiries by the SEC or any other Governmental Entity with respect to any filings related to (or necessary or appropriate to facilitate) the Merger, and shall provide Parent with reasonable opportunity to review and comment on any such written response in advance and shall include in such response all reasonable comments proposed by Parent. If, at any time prior to the Effective Time, any event or information relating to the Company, or any of its affiliates, officers or directors, should be discovered by Parent or the Company which should be set forth in an amendment or supplement to the Proxy Statement, so that such document would not include any misstatement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, the party which discovers such information shall promptly notify the other parties hereto, and the Company shall cause an appropriate amendment or supplement describing such information to be filed with the SEC as promptly as practicable thereafter and, to the extent required by applicable Legal Requirements, disseminated to the stockholders of the Company.

6.2 Meeting of Company Stockholders; Board Recommendation.

(a) Meeting of Company Stockholders. The Company shall take all action necessary in accordance with applicable Legal Requirements (including the applicable rules of the NASDAQ Capital Market) to duly give notice of, set a record date for, convene and hold a meeting of its stockholders, as soon as practicable following the date that the Proxy Statement is cleared by the SEC for mailing to such stockholders (the "Clearance Date"), for the purpose of considering and taking action with respect to the Company Stockholder Approval (the "Company Stockholders' Meeting") to be held as promptly as practicable after the Clearance Date. Subject to Section 6.3(d), the Company shall use all reasonable efforts (including, if requested by Parent, by engaging a proxy solicitor) to solicit from its stockholders proxies in favor of the Company Stockholder Approval and shall take all other action necessary or advisable to secure the vote or consent of its stockholders for the Company Stockholder Approval. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company may delay, adjourn or postpone the date of the Company Stockholders' Meeting (i) if and to the extent necessary to obtain a quorum (either in person or by proxy) of its stockholders to take action at the Company Stockholders' Meeting and/or (ii) if and to the extent the Company determines in good faith that such delay, adjournment or postponement is required by applicable Legal Requirements (including in order to circulate a supplement or amendment to the Proxy Statement or to comply with any comments made by the SEC with respect to the Proxy Statement, or otherwise to give the Company's stockholders sufficient time to evaluate any new information or disclosure (including any supplement or amendment to the Proxy Statement) that the Company has sent them or otherwise made available to Company's stockholders by issuing a press release, filing materials with the SEC or otherwise, in each case, to the extent so required by applicable Legal Requirements, as determined by the Company in good faith). Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the Company shall not be required to hold the Company Stockholders' Meeting if this Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms (including, without limitation, pursuant to Section 8.1(j)) before the Company Stockholders' Meeting is held. Without the prior written consent of Parent, adoption of this Agreement (including adjournment of the Company Stockholders' Meeting, if necessary, if a quorum is present, to solicit additional proxies if there are not sufficient votes in favor of adoption of this Agreement) is the only matter which the Company shall propose to be acted on by the Company's stockholders at the Company Stockholders' Meeting.

(b) Board Recommendation. Except to the extent expressly permitted by Section 6.3(d): (i) the Company's Board of Directors shall recommend that its stockholders vote in favor of the adoption of this Agreement at the Company Stockholders' Meeting, (ii) the Proxy Statement shall include (A) a statement to the effect that the Board of Directors of the Company has recommended that the Company's stockholders vote in favor of the adoption of this Agreement at the Company Stockholders' Meeting, and (B) the Fairness Opinion, and (iii) neither the Board of Directors of the Company (nor any duly constituted or designated committee thereof) shall make any Change of Recommendation.

The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, and shall instruct their respective Representatives to, immediately cease any and all activities, discussions or negotiations that may be ongoing as of the date hereof with any third parties with respect to any Alternative Transaction Proposal, and promptly following the date hereof shall request the prompt return or destruction of all confidential information previously furnished to any such Person with which the Company, its Subsidiaries or any of their Representatives have engaged in any such activities, discussions or negotiations within the twelve (12) month period preceding the date hereof.

(b) Notification of Unsolicited Alternative Transaction Proposals.

(i) As promptly as practicable (but in no event more than one (1) Business Day in Jerusalem, Israel) after the Company, any of its Subsidiaries or any of its or their respective Representatives receives any Alternative Transaction Proposal or any request for non-public information or any expression of interest or inquiry that could reasonably be expected to lead to an Alternative Transaction Proposal, the Company shall provide Parent with oral and written notice of (A) the material terms and conditions of such Alternative Transaction Proposal, request, expression of interest or inquiry, (B) the identity of the Third Party making any such Alternative Transaction Proposal, request, expression of interest or inquiry, and (C) a copy of the proposed transaction agreement, if applicable, and/or any other written information (including materials in electronic format) provided to the Company (or any of its Subsidiaries or any of its or their respective Representatives) by or on behalf of such Third Party to the extent setting forth any material terms of such Alternative Transaction Proposal, request, expression of interest or inquiry. In addition, the Company shall keep Parent informed on a reasonable and prompt basis as to the material changes in status and material details (including modifications or proposed modifications as to price and other material terms) of any such Alternative Transaction Proposal, request, expression of interest or inquiry (including any negotiations contemplated by Section 6.3(c)(ii)) and shall promptly provide Parent with a copy of all modifications (or proposed modifications) to the proposed transaction agreement, if applicable, and/or any other material written information (including materials in electronic format) subsequently provided to the Company (or any of its Subsidiaries or any of its or their respective Representatives) by or on behalf of the Third Party making such Alternative Transaction Proposal, or by the Company to such Third Party in connection with such Alternative Transaction Proposal, request, expression of interest or inquiry.

(ii) The Company shall provide Parent with at least twenty-four (24) hours prior notice (or such lesser prior notice as is provided to the members of the Company's Board of Directors) of any meeting of its Board of Directors at which its Board of Directors would reasonably be expected to consider any Alternative Transaction Proposal or to determine whether such Alternative Transaction Proposal is a Superior Proposal; provided that such notice, which the Company shall give to the applicable Persons in Section 9.2, may be given telephonically or via electronic mail.

(c) Superior Proposal. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in Section 6.3(a), if, prior to the time that the Company Stockholder Approval has been obtained, the Company receives an unsolicited, bona fide written Alternative Transaction Proposal from a third party, as applicable, which the Company's Board of Directors has determined to be, or which the Company's Board of Directors has in good faith determined is reasonably likely to become, (in either case, after consultation with its outside financial advisor and its outside legal counsel), a Superior Proposal (without regard to the matters referred to in clauses (C) and (D) of the "Superior Proposal" definition contained herein, but only to the extent not known (or capable of being known) at the time of receipt of such Alternative Transaction Proposal), then the Company may then take the following actions, but only if: (x) (A) the Company's Board of Directors determines in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that it is required to do so to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware Law, and (B) the Company has given Parent at least twenty-four (24) hours' prior written notice of its intention to take any of the following actions and has disclosed to Parent the identity of the Person making such Alternative Transaction Proposal and the material terms and conditions of such Alternative Transaction Proposal; and (y) the Company shall have previously complied with the provisions of this Section 6.3:

(i) furnish non-public information to the third party making such Alternative Transaction Proposal, provided that (A) the Company shall have received from such third party an executed confidentiality agreement containing (1) customary limitations on the use and disclosure of all non-public written and oral information furnished to such third party on the Company's behalf, the terms of which are at least as restrictive as the terms contained in the Confidentiality Agreement, and (2) a standstill provision, the term of which is at least as long as the term contained in the Confidentiality Agreement, and the terms of which are at least as restrictive as the terms contained in the Confidentiality Agreement (except that such confidentiality agreement shall contain additional provisions that expressly permit the Company to comply with the provisions of this Section 6.3), which confidentiality agreement shall not include any provision having the actual or purported effect of restricting the Company from fulfilling its obligations under this Agreement or the Confidentiality Agreement and shall require such third party to agree to the same employee non-solicitation provisions, and covering the same period, as set forth in the Confidentiality Agreement, and (B) contemporaneously with furnishing any such non-public information to such third party, the Company furnishes such non-public information to Parent (to the extent such non-public information has not been previously so furnished); and

(ii) engage in discussions or negotiations with the third party with respect to the Alternative Transaction Proposal.

(d) Change of Recommendation. Solely in response to the receipt of a Superior Proposal or an Intervening Event, the Board of Directors of the Company may make a Change of Recommendation (and the Company may terminate this Agreement to the extent permitted by, and in accordance with, Section 8.1(j)), if all of the following conditions in clauses (i) through (vi) are met:

(i) in the case of a Superior Proposal, the Superior Proposal shall have been made and not withdrawn and shall continue to be a Superior Proposal;

(ii) the Company Stockholder Approval shall not yet have been obtained;

(iii) the Company shall have: (A) delivered to Parent written notice (a “Change of Recommendation Notice”) at least three (3) Business Days prior to publicly effecting such Change of Recommendation which shall state expressly (1) that the Company has received a Superior Proposal or an Intervening Event has occurred, as applicable, (2) the material terms and conditions of the Superior Proposal and the identity of the Third Party making the Superior Proposal or, in the case of an Intervening Event, a description in reasonable detail of the cause and factors constituting such Intervening Event, and (3) that the Company intends to effect a Change of Recommendation and the manner in which it intends to do so; (B) provided to Parent a copy of all materials and information delivered or made available by or on behalf of the Company to the Third Party making the Superior Proposal in connection with such Superior Proposal; and (C) during the aforementioned three (3) Business Day period, if requested by Parent, engaged in good faith negotiations to amend this Agreement in such a manner that the Superior Proposal would no longer be a Superior Proposal or, in the case of an Intervening Event, obviates the need for a Change of Recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of the Company under Delaware Law;

(iv) Parent shall not have, within the aforementioned three (3) Business Day period, made an offer in writing that the Company’s Board of Directors has in good faith determined (after consultation with its outside financial advisor and outside legal counsel) results in the Alternative Transaction Proposal that had been determined to be a Superior Proposal no longer being a Superior Proposal or, in the case of an Intervening Event, obviates the need for a Change of Recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of the Company under Delaware Law;

(v) the Board of Directors of the Company shall have concluded in good faith, after consultation with its outside legal counsel, that, in light of such Superior Proposal or Intervening Event and after considering any adjustments proposed by Parent in writing pursuant to the preceding clause (iv), that the Company’s Board of Directors is required to effect a Change of Recommendation to comply with its fiduciary obligations to the stockholders of the Company under Delaware Law; and

(vi) the Company shall have previously complied with the provisions set forth in Section 6.2 and this Section 6.3.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, in the event of a Superior Proposal, any material amendment or modification to an existing Superior Proposal will be deemed to be a new Superior Proposal for purposes of this Section 6.3(d), and in the event of an Intervening Event, any material change to the Intervening Event will be deemed to be a new Intervening Event for purposes of this Section 6.3(d) (and each will require a new three (3) Business Day period, measured as set forth above, and compliance with the terms of this Section 6.3(d), before the Board of Directors of the Company is permitted hereunder to make a Change of Recommendation).

(e) Continuing Obligation Regarding Company Stockholders' Meeting. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the obligation of the Company to call, give notice of, set a record date for, convene and hold the Company Stockholders' Meeting shall not be limited or otherwise affected by the commencement, disclosure, announcement or submission to it of any Alternative Transaction Proposal, or by any Change of Recommendation, unless this Agreement has been properly terminated in accordance with Section 8.1 (including, without limitation, Section 8.1(j)).

(f) Compliance with Tender Offer Rules and Other Legal Requirements. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall prohibit the Company or its Board of Directors from (i) taking and disclosing to the stockholders of the Company a position contemplated by, and in accordance with, Rules 14d-9 and 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act or (ii) making any disclosure to the Company's stockholders which the Company's Board of Directors determines to make in good faith (after consultation with its outside legal counsel) in order to comply with its fiduciary obligations to its stockholders under Delaware Law; provided that any such disclosure shall be subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing proviso, the Company shall not effect a Change of Recommendation unless specifically permitted pursuant to the terms of Section 6.3(d).

(g) Specific Performance; Actions by Representatives.

(i) Specific Performance. The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that the provisions of this Section 6.3 were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached. It is accordingly agreed by the parties hereto that Parent shall be entitled to an immediate injunction or injunctions, without the necessity of proving the inadequacy of money damages as a remedy and without the necessity of posting any bond or other security, to prevent breaches of the provisions of this Section 6.3 and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions hereof in any court of the United States or any state having jurisdiction, this being in addition to any other remedy to which Parent may be entitled at law or in equity.

(ii) Actions by Representatives. It is understood and agreed that any violation of the restrictions set forth in this Section 6.3 by any Subsidiary of the Company or any of the Company's or its Subsidiaries' Representatives shall be deemed to be a breach of this Section 6.3 by the Company.

6.4 Confidentiality; Access to Information; Documents; Assignments.

(a) Confidentiality. The parties acknowledge that the Company and Parent have previously executed a Mutual Confidentiality Agreement, dated as of July 14, 2010 (the "Confidentiality Agreement"), which Confidentiality Agreement will continue in full force and effect in accordance with its terms.

(b) Access to Information. Subject to the Confidentiality Agreement and applicable Legal Requirements, the Company shall, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to, afford to Parent and to the officers, employees, accountants, counsel, financial advisors, potential financing sources and other representatives of Parent, reasonable access at all reasonable times and upon reasonable notice during the period prior to the Effective Time to all their properties, books, Contracts, assets (including the Company Intellectual Property), personnel and records (provided, that such access shall not unreasonably interfere with the business or operations of the Company and its Subsidiaries or otherwise result in any significant interference with the discharge by such personnel of their normal duties) and, during such period and subject to the Confidentiality Agreement and applicable Legal Requirements, the Company shall, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to, furnish promptly to Parent (i) a copy of each report, schedule, registration statement and other document filed by it during such period pursuant to the applicable Legal Requirements of federal or state securities laws (except to the extent that any such filing is publicly available), and (ii) all other information concerning its business, properties and personnel as Parent may reasonably request. Neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries shall be required to provide access to or to disclose any information where such access or disclosure would give rise to a material risk of waiving any attorney-client privilege of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or violate any applicable Legal Requirement or any material provision (other than a confidentiality provision) of any Contract entered into prior to the date of this Agreement and made available to Parent. In the event that the Company does not provide access or information to Parent in reliance on the preceding sentence, it shall use its reasonable best efforts to communicate the applicable information to Parent (or Parent's legal counsel) in a way that would not violate such applicable Legal Requirements or contractual provisions or waive such privilege.

(c) Intellectual Property Assignment. Prior to the Closing Date, the Company shall deliver to Parent evidence, in a form reasonably satisfactory to Parent, that the Persons set forth on Schedule 6.4 have executed a Confidentiality and Invention Assignment Agreement.

6.5 Public Disclosure.

(a) Without limiting any other provision of this Agreement, Parent and the Company will consult with each other before issuing, and provide each other the opportunity to review, comment upon and concur with, and use all reasonable efforts to agree on any press release or public statement with respect to this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, including the Merger, and any Alternative Transaction Proposal and will not issue any such press release or make any such public statement prior to such consultation and (to the extent practicable) agreement or the content of such statement, except as may be required by applicable Legal Requirements or any listing agreement with the NASDAQ Capital Market, or any other applicable national or regional securities exchange or market. The initial press release to be issued with respect to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement shall be in the form agreed to by the parties.

(b) To the extent reasonably practicable, the Company shall provide Parent with an advance copy of any press release relating to the Company's earnings or results of operations prior to issuing any such press release. In addition, except to the extent disclosed in or consistent with the Proxy Statement in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.1 or prior communications consented to in accordance with this Section 6.5(b), the Company shall not issue any press release or otherwise make any public statement or disclosure concerning Parent or its business, financial condition or results of operations without the consent of Parent.

6.6 Regulatory Filings; Reasonable Best Efforts.

(a) Regulatory Filings. Each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company shall coordinate and cooperate with one another and shall each use its reasonable best efforts to comply with, and shall each refrain from taking any action that would impede compliance with, all Legal Requirements, and as promptly as practicable after the date hereof, each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company shall make all filings, notices, petitions, statements, registrations, submissions of information, application or submission of other documents required by any Governmental Entity in connection with the Merger and the transactions contemplated hereby, including, without limitation: (i) Notification and Report Forms with the FTC and the DOJ as required by the HSR Act (which shall be filed within ten (10) Business Days of the date hereof, except to the extent extended by the mutual consent of Parent and the Company confirmed in writing), (ii) filings under any other comparable pre-merger notification forms reasonably determined by Parent to be required by the merger notification or control laws of any applicable jurisdiction, as agreed by the parties hereto, and (iii) any filings required under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act, any applicable state or securities or "blue sky" laws and the securities laws of any foreign country, or any other Legal Requirement relating to the Merger. Each of Parent and the Company will cause all documents that it is responsible for filing with any Governmental Entity under this Section 6.6(a) to comply in all material respects with all applicable Legal Requirements. The Israeli Subsidiary shall, prior to the Closing, file the appropriate forms with the Investment Center for the change in ownership to be effected by the Merger.

(b) Exchange of Information. Parent, Merger Sub and the Company each shall promptly supply the other with any information that may be required in order to effectuate any filings or application pursuant to Section 6.6(a). Except where prohibited by applicable Legal Requirements, and subject to the Confidentiality Agreement, each of the Company and Parent shall consult with the other prior to taking a position with respect to any such filing, shall permit the other to review and discuss in advance, and consider in good faith the views of the other in connection with any analyses, appearances, presentations, memoranda, briefs, white papers, arguments, opinions and proposals before making or submitting any of the foregoing to any Governmental Entity by or on behalf of any party hereto in connection with any investigations or proceedings in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby (including under any antitrust or fair trade Legal Requirement), coordinate with the other in preparing and exchanging such information and promptly provide the other and/or its counsel with copies of all filings, presentations or submissions (and a summary of any oral presentations) made by such party with any Governmental Entity in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, provided that with respect to any such filing, presentation or submission, each of Parent and the Company need not supply the other (or its counsel) with copies (or in the case of oral presentations, a summary) to the extent that any Legal Requirement of any Governmental Entity applicable to such party requires such party or its Subsidiaries to restrict or prohibit access to any such information. Notwithstanding the foregoing, except as may be agreed in connection with any joint defense agreement executed between legal counsel for Parent and legal counsel for the Company, Parent, Merger Sub and the Company will not be required to share with each other any documents covered by Item 4(c) of filings prepared in connection with the HSR Act. The Company and Parent may, as each deems advisable and necessary, reasonably designate any competitively sensitive material provided to the other under this Section 6.6 as “Antitrust Counsel Only Material.” Such Antitrust Counsel Only Material shall be given only to the outside antitrust counsel of the recipient, and shall not be disclosed by such outside antitrust counsel to any Employees of the recipient or any of its affiliates unless express permission is obtained in advance from the source of the materials (the Company or Parent, as the case may be) or its legal counsel. Each of the Company and Parent shall cause their respective outside antitrust counsel to comply with this Section 6.6(b). Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 6.6, any materials provided by Parent or the Company (or such party’s legal counsel) to the other such party or its legal counsel may be redacted to remove references concerning the valuation of the Company and its Subsidiaries and privileged communications.

(c) Notification. Each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company will notify the other promptly upon the receipt of: (i) any comments from any officials of any Governmental Entity in connection with any filings made pursuant hereto and (ii) any request by any officials of any Governmental Entity for amendments or supplements to any filings made pursuant to, or information provided to comply in all material respects with, any Legal Requirements. Whenever any event occurs that is required to be set forth in an amendment or supplement to any filing made pursuant to Section 6.6(a), Parent, Merger Sub or the Company, as the case may be, will promptly inform the other of such occurrence and cooperate in filing with the applicable Governmental Entity such amendment or supplement.

(d) Reasonable Best Efforts. Subject to the express provisions of Section 6.2 and Section 6.3 hereof and upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth herein, each of the parties agrees to use all reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, and to assist and cooperate with the other parties in doing, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate and make effective, in the most expeditious manner practicable, the Merger, the Debt Financing and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including using all reasonable best efforts to accomplish the following: (i) the satisfaction of the conditions precedent set forth in Article VII; (ii) the obtaining of all necessary actions or nonactions, waivers, consents, approvals, orders and authorizations from Governmental Entities and the making of all necessary registrations, declarations and filings (including registrations, declarations and filings with Governmental Entities, if any) and the taking of all steps as may be reasonably necessary to avoid any suit, claim, action, investigation or proceeding by any Governmental Entity; (iii) the obtaining of all necessary consents, approvals or waivers from third parties; (iv) the defending of any suits, claims, actions, investigations or proceedings, whether judicial or administrative, challenging this Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby; and (v) the execution or delivery of any additional instruments necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated by, and to fully carry out the purposes of, this Agreement. In connection with and without limiting the foregoing, the Company and its Board of Directors shall, if any takeover statute or similar Legal Requirement is or becomes applicable to the Merger, this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, use all reasonable best efforts to ensure that the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by this Agreement and otherwise to minimize the effect of such Legal Requirement on the Merger, this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby.

(e) Certain Litigation and Antitrust Restraints. In furtherance and not in limitation of the covenants of the parties contained in Section 6.6(d) and otherwise in this Agreement, if any suit, claim, action, investigation or proceeding, whether judicial or administrative, challenging this Agreement or the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby is instituted (or threatened to be instituted) by the FTC, the DOJ or any other Governmental Entity or any private party challenging any of the transactions contemplated hereby as in violation of any applicable antitrust Legal Requirements, or if determined or resolved adversely in accordance with the demands of the FTC, the DOJ, or such other Governmental Entity or private party would reasonably be expected to materially impede the ability of the parties hereto to timely consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof, each of Parent, Merger Subsidiary and the Company shall use reasonable best efforts to resolve any such suits, claims, actions, investigations or proceedings so as to permit timely consummation of the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, it is expressly understood and agreed that: (i) neither Parent nor Merger Sub shall have any obligation to litigate or contest any administrative or judicial action or proceeding or any decree, judgment, injunction or other order, whether temporary, preliminary or permanent, instituted by the FTC, the DOJ or any other Governmental Entity; and (ii) neither Parent nor Merger Sub shall be under any obligation to make proposals, execute or carry out agreements, enter into consent decrees or submit to orders providing for (A) the sale, divestiture, license or other disposition or holding separate (through the establishment of a trust or otherwise) of any assets or categories of assets of Parent or any of its affiliates or the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, (B) the imposition of any limitation or regulation on the ability of Parent or any of its affiliates to freely conduct their business or own such assets, or (C) the holding separate of the shares of Company capital stock or any limitation or regulation on the ability of Parent or any of its affiliates to exercise full rights of ownership of the shares of Company capital stock (any of the foregoing, an "Antitrust Restraint").

(f) Resignation of Directors and Officers. To the extent requested by Parent, the Company shall use reasonable efforts to obtain from the individuals holding, immediately prior to the Effective Time, the positions of director or officer of the Company and/or the Israeli Subsidiary, the resignation from such positions in writing effective as of the Effective Time.

These rights shall survive consummation of the Merger and are intended to benefit, and shall be enforceable by, each Indemnified Party, and shall not be terminated or modified in a manner as to materially and adversely affect any Indemnified Party to whom this Section 6.10 applies without the consent of such affected Indemnified Party.

provided, that nothing herein shall require such cooperation to the extent it would unreasonably interfere with the business or operations of the Company or its Subsidiaries, or otherwise result in any significant interference with the prompt and timely discharge by the Company’s or any of its Subsidiaries’ personnel of their normal duties; provided further that neither the Company nor any of its Subsidiaries shall be required to pay any commitment fee or similar fee or incur any Liability with respect to the Debt Financing prior to the Effective Time or which is not subject to the occurrence of the Closing. Parent shall promptly, upon request by the Company, reimburse the Company for all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket costs and expenses incurred by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with any cooperation provided under this Section 6.17. The Company hereby consents to the use of its and its Subsidiaries’ logos as may be reasonably necessary, as reasonably determined by the Financing Sources, in connection with arranging and providing the Debt Financing; provided that such logos are used solely in a manner that is not intended to nor reasonably likely to harm or disparage the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or the reputation or goodwill of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and its or their marks.

(b) Subject to the provisions of Section 6.17(c), Parent shall use its reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to arrange, obtain and consummate the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions described in the Debt Commitment Letters, including, without limitation, using reasonable best efforts to (i) maintain in effect the Debt Commitment Letters on the terms and conditions described therein, negotiate and enter into definitive agreements with respect to the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions reflected in the Debt Commitment Letters or on other terms as would not reasonably be expected to materially impede the ability of Parent and Merger Sub to timely consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof and applicable Legal Requirements; (ii) satisfy on a timely basis all conditions applicable to Parent and Merger Sub set forth in the Debt Commitment Letters and such definitive agreements that are within their control, (iii) consummate the Debt Financing at or prior to the Closing, (iv) comply with its obligations under the Debt Commitment Letters, and (v) enforce its rights under the Debt Commitment Letters.

(c) Parent shall keep the Company reasonably informed on a reasonably current basis and in reasonable detail of the status of the Debt Financing and provide to the Company copies of all executed definitive documents related to the Debt Financing. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Parent shall give the Company prompt (and in any event within one (1) Business Day) written notice: (i) of any default or breach (or any event that, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would reasonably be expected to give rise to any default or breach) by any party to any Debt Commitment Letter or definitive Contract related to the Debt Financing of which Parent has knowledge or becomes aware; (ii) of the receipt of any written notice from any party to a Debt Commitment Letter with respect to any (x) actual or potential default, breach, termination or repudiation by such party of a Debt Commitment Letter or any definitive Contract related to the Debt Financing; and (iii) if for any reason Parent has definitively determined that it will not be able to obtain all or any material portion of the Debt Financing on the terms and conditions, in the manner or from the Financing Sources contemplated by the Debt Commitment Letters. As soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event within two (2) Business Days after the date that the Company delivers Parent a written request therefor, Parent shall provide any information reasonably requested by the Company relating to any circumstance referred to in any of the foregoing clauses (i) through (iii) above. Parent shall not enter into, make, or cause or permit to be made any amendment or modification to a Debt Commitment Letter that amends or modifies the conditions precedent to the Debt Financing in any manner that would reasonably be expected to delay or prevent the Closing from occurring on a timely basis, or make the funding of the Debt Financing materially less likely to occur. Parent shall provide the Company with a copy of any amendment or modification to a Debt Commitment Letter promptly after the same is entered into. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, in the event that any material portion of the Debt Financing becomes unavailable on the terms and conditions contemplated in the Debt Commitment Letters, Parent shall immediately notify the Company thereof, and shall promptly following the occurrence of such event use its reasonable best efforts to arrange to (A) obtain alternative financing (in an amount at least equal to the amount of the Debt Financing or such unavailable portion thereof, as the case may be, or such lesser amount, together with the available cash of the Company and the available cash on hand of Parent and its Subsidiaries, as is sufficient for Parent and Merger Sub enable Parent to pay the aggregate Merger Consideration and the aggregate Option Merger Consideration, to consummate the Merger upon the terms contemplated by this Agreement and to pay all related fees and expenses associated therewith) from alternative sources (“Alternative Financing”), on terms that are substantially comparable, in the aggregate, to those contained in the Debt Commitment Letters, and (B) obtain a new financing commitment letter or letters with respect to such Alternative Financing (collectively, the “Alternative Debt Commitment Letters”), which shall replace the existing Debt Commitment Letters, a true, complete and correct copy of each of which Parent shall promptly provide to the Company. In the event that any Alternative Debt Commitment Letter is obtained, (1) any reference in this Agreement to the “Debt Financing” shall mean the debt financing contemplated by the Debt Commitment Letters as modified by the Alternative Commitment Letters, and (2) any reference in this Agreement to the “Debt Commitment Letters” shall be deemed to include the Debt Commitment Letters to the extent not superseded by Alternative Debt Commitment Letters at the time in question and the Alternative Debt Commitment Letters to the extent then in effect. Parent shall keep the Company reasonably apprised as to the status of, and any material developments relating to, the Debt Financing and, if applicable, any Alternative Financing.

(d) Subject to their compliance with Sections 6.17(a), 6.17(b) and 6.17(c), nothing contained in this Agreement shall prohibit Parent or Merger Sub from entering into agreements relating to the financing or the operation of Parent, Merger Sub, or the Surviving Corporation. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, but subject to its compliance with Sections 6.17(a), 6.17(b) and 6.17(c), after the date of this Agreement but prior to the Effective Time, Parent may replace, amend or supersede the Debt Commitment Letters to add lenders, lead arrangers, bookrunners, syndication agents or similar entities who had not executed the Debt Commitment Letters as of the date hereof, or otherwise by instruments (the “New Financing Commitments”) which replace, amend or supersede existing Debt Commitment Letters and/or contemplate co-investment by or financing from one or more other or additional parties; provided, that the terms of the New Financing Commitments shall not (i) expand upon or modify the conditions precedent to the Debt Financing as set forth in the Debt Commitment Letters in any manner that would reasonably be expected to delay or prevent the Closing from occurring on a timely basis, or make the funding of the Debt Financing materially less likely to occur, or (ii) otherwise reasonably be expected to materially impede the ability of Parent and Merger Sub to timely consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in accordance with the terms hereof and applicable Legal Requirements, or make the funding of the Debt Financing materially less likely to occur. In such event, the term “Debt Commitment Letters” as used herein shall be deemed to include the Debt Commitment Letters to the extent not so replaced, amended or superseded at the time in question and the New Financing Commitments to the extent then in effect.

6.18 Tax Rulings.

(a) As soon as reasonably practicable after the execution of this Agreement, the Company shall cause its Israeli counsel, in consultation with Parent and its counsel, advisors and/or accountants, to prepare and file with the ITA one or more applications:

(i) confirming, inter-alia, (A) that the deposit with the Trustee of the payment of consideration pursuant to Section 2.6 for Vested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO and for Company Common Stock obtained upon the exercise of Vested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO will not result in a requirement for an immediate Israeli Tax payment and that the Israeli taxation will be deferred until the completion of such statutory holding period and release of the cash consideration for holders of such Vested Company Options and Company Common Stock; (B) that the statutory holding period applied with respect to Company Options and Company Common Stock subject to Section 102 of the ITO will continue uninterrupted from the original date of grant and will not recommence as a result of the transactions contemplated herein, provided that the applicable consideration paid to the holders of such Vested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO and Company Common Stock obtained upon the exercise of Vested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO is deposited with the Trustee for duration of the statutory holding period; (C) the tax consequences of the right granted at Closing in lieu of Unvested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO pursuant to Section 2.6, and payment of consideration pursuant to Section 2.6 for Unvested Company Options granted under Section 102 of the ITO; and (D) such other ruling or relief as the parties may agree is appropriate to request under the circumstances (which ruling may be subject to customary conditions regularly associated with such a ruling) (the “Israeli Options Tax Ruling”). To the extent that prior to the Closing an interim Israeli Options Tax Ruling is obtained, then all references herein to the Israeli Options Tax Ruling shall be deemed to refer to such interim ruling, until such time that a final definitive Israeli Options Tax Ruling is obtained; and

(ii) that either: (A) exempts Parent, the Company, the Exchange Agent and their respective agents from any obligation to withhold Israeli Tax at source from any consideration payable or otherwise deliverable pursuant to this Agreement, or clarifying that no such obligation exists; or (B) clearly instructs Parent, the Company, the Exchange Agent and their respective agents how such withholding at source is to be performed, and in particular, with respect to the classes or categories of holders or former holders of Company Common Stock from which Tax is to be withheld (if any), and the rate or rates of withholding to be applied (the “Israeli Withholding Tax Ruling” and together with the Israeli Options Ruling, the “Israeli Tax Rulings”).

A-71

(b) The Company shall, and shall instruct its representatives and advisors to, cooperate with Parent and its Israeli counsel, representatives and advisors with respect to the preparation and filing of such applications and in the preparation of any written or oral submissions that may be necessary, proper or advisable to obtain the Israeli Tax Rulings. Subject to the terms and conditions hereof, the parties shall use all reasonable efforts to promptly take, or cause to be taken, all action and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under applicable Legal Requirements to obtain the Israeli Tax Rulings, as promptly as practicable. The Company, its representatives and advisors shall not make any application to, or conduct any negotiation with, the ITA with respect to any matter relating to the subject matter of the Israeli Tax Rulings without prior coordination with Parent or its representatives and advisors, and will enable Parent's representatives and advisors to participate in all discussions and meetings relating thereto. To the extent that the Parent's representative and advisors elect not to participate in any meeting or discussion, the Company's representatives and advisors shall provide a prompt and full report of the discussions held. In any event, the final text of the Israeli Tax Rulings shall in all circumstances be subject to the prior written consent of Parent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed.

ARTICLE VII CONDITIONS TO THE MERGER

7.1 Conditions to the Obligations of Each Party to Effect the Merger. The respective obligations of each party to this Agreement to effect the Merger shall be subject to the satisfaction at or prior to the Closing Date of each of the following conditions:

(a) Company Stockholder Approval. The Company Stockholder Approval shall have been obtained in accordance with applicable Legal Requirements at the time of such approval.

(b) No Injunctions or Restraints. No Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any statute, rule, regulation, executive order, decree, injunction or other order (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) which has the effect of making the Merger illegal or otherwise prohibiting or preventing consummation of the Merger.

(c) Antitrust Matters. (i) All applicable waiting periods (and any extensions thereof) applicable to the Merger under the HSR Act shall have expired or early termination of such waiting periods shall have been granted by both the FTC and the DOJ, and (ii) all other approvals under antitrust, competition or similar applicable laws of other foreign jurisdictions set forth on Schedule 7.1(c) shall have been obtained, in each case, without any condition or requirement requiring or calling for any Antitrust Restraint.

7.2 Additional Conditions to the Obligations of Parent and Merger Sub. The obligations of Parent and Merger Sub to consummate and effect the Merger shall be subject to the satisfaction at or prior to the Closing Date of each of the following conditions, any of which may be waived, in writing, exclusively by Parent and Merger Sub:

(a) Representations and Warranties.

(i) The representations and warranties of the Company set forth herein (other than those representations and warranties of the Company specified in Section 7.2(a)(ii)) shall be true and correct (disregarding, for this purpose, all qualifications and exceptions contained therein relating to materiality or "Material Adverse Effect"), in each case, both at and as of the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date, as if made at and as of such times (except to the extent expressly made as of an earlier date, in which case as of such date), except to the extent that the failure of any such representations and warranties to be so true and correct does not have, and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Material Adverse Effect on the Company.

(ii) The representations and warranties of the Company set forth in Section 3.1(c) (Subsidiaries), Section 3.1(d)(ii) (Israeli Subsidiary) (but excluding the last two sentences thereof), Section 3.2 (but excluding Section 3.2(d)(ii)) (Capital Structure), Section 3.3(a) (Authority), Section 3.13 (Brokers' and Finders' Fees; Fees and Expenses), Section 3.18 (Fairness Opinion) and Section 3.20 (Takeover Statutes and Rights Plans) shall be true and correct in all material respects, in each case, both at and as of the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date, as if made at and as of such time (except to the extent expressly made as of an earlier date, in which case as of such date); provided, that (x) the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 3.2 (Capital Structure) shall fail to be true and correct in all material respects if an inaccuracy therein would result in an increase in the consideration payable by Parent to the security holders of the Company pursuant to Article II (whether payable in connection with the cash payments or assumption of securities) by 0.5% or more as compared to the amount that would have been payable if such representations and warranties had been true and correct in all respects; and (y) the representations and warranties of the Company in Section 3.1(c) (Subsidiaries) or Section 3.1(d)(ii) (Israeli Subsidiary) shall fail to be true and correct in all material respects if an inaccuracy therein would reasonably be expected to have, in the aggregate, more than an insignificant adverse effect on Parent's or the Company's ownership or control of the Israeli Subsidiary (or any of its Subsidiaries) or on the ability of Parent, the Company or the Subsidiaries of the Company to own or control their assets or conduct their respective businesses.

(iii) At the Closing, Parent shall have received a certificate to the effect of clauses (i) and (ii) above signed on behalf of the Company by the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

(b) Agreements and Covenants. The Company shall have performed or complied in all material respects with all agreements and covenants required by this Agreement to be performed or complied with by it at or prior to the Closing Date; and Parent and Merger Sub shall have received a certificate to such effect signed on behalf of the Company by the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

(c) Material Adverse Effect. No Material Adverse Effect on the Company shall have occurred since the date of this Agreement and be continuing as of the Closing Date, and Parent and Merger Sub shall have received a certificate to such effect signed on behalf of the Company by the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

(d) No Litigation. There shall not be any pending or threatened (which threat has not been withdrawn) suit, action or proceeding asserted by any Governmental Entity (i) challenging or seeking to restrain or prohibit the consummation of the Merger, the effect of which challenge, restraint or prohibition if obtained would cause the condition set forth in Section 7.1(b) to not be satisfied, (ii) seeking to impose an Antitrust Restraint, or (iii) where an unfavorable judgment has a Material Adverse Effect on the Company or on Parent.

(e) Unrestricted Cash. The Company and its Subsidiaries shall have unrestricted cash on hand immediately prior to the Effective Time in an aggregate amount of not less than $25,900,000, it being understood and agreed that (i) none of the fees and expenses paid or payable, or incurred or to be incurred, by the Company or any of its Subsidiaries to the extent in connection with the transactions contemplated hereby (including, without limitation, the Debt Financing) (collectively, such fees and expenses, the "Transaction Expenses"), up to a maximum aggregate amount equal to $5,200,000, shall be taken into account for purposes of determining whether or not the condition set forth in this Section 7.2(e) shall have been satisfied; provided, however, any Transaction Expenses in excess of $5,200,000 will be taken into account and shall reduce the unrestricted cash of the Company for purposes of this Section 7.2(e), and (ii) none of the amounts paid or payable by the Company or the Israeli Subsidiary to the extent in connection with the settlement or compromise with the ITA of the matter set forth on Schedule 7.2(e) shall be taken into account for purposes of determining whether or not the condition set forth in this Section 7.2(e) shall have been satisfied to the extent such settlement or compromise is entered into by the Company or the Israeli Subsidiary with the prior written consent of Parent.

(f) Third Party Consents. The Company shall have delivered to Parent the consents, waivers and approvals set forth on Schedule 7.2(f) hereto.

(g) Investment Center Approval. The Israeli Subsidiary shall have filed the appropriate forms with, and received the written approval of, the Investment Center for the change in ownership to be effected by the Merger.

7.3 Additional Conditions to the Obligations of the Company. The obligation of the Company to consummate and effect the Merger shall be subject to the satisfaction at or prior to the Closing Date of each of the following conditions, any of which may be waived, in writing, exclusively by the Company:

(a) Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of Parent and Merger Sub set forth herein shall be true and correct (disregarding, for this purpose, all qualifications and exceptions contained therein relating to materiality), in each case, both at and as of the date of this Agreement and the Closing Date, as if made at and as of such times (except to the extent expressly made as of an earlier date, in which case as of such date), except to the extent that the failure of any such representations and warranties to be so true and correct does not prevent Parent and Merger Sub from consummating the Merger in accordance with the terms hereof and applicable Legal Requirements. The Company shall have received a certificate to such effect signed on behalf of Parent and Merger Sub by a duly authorized officer of Parent.

(b) Agreements and Covenants. Parent and Merger Sub shall have performed or complied in all material respects with all agreements and covenants required by this Agreement to be performed or complied with by it on or prior to the Closing Date, and the Company shall have received a certificate with respect to the foregoing signed on behalf of Parent and Merger Sub by a duly authorized officer of Parent.

ARTICLE VIII TERMINATION, AMENDMENT AND WAIVER

8.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Effective Time, by action taken by the terminating party or parties (upon the authorization of such party's Board of Directors), and except as provided below, whether before or after receipt of Company Stockholder Approval:

(a) by mutual written consent of each of Parent and the Company;

(b) by either the Company or Parent if the Merger shall not have been consummated by 5:00 p.m. Pacific time on July 5, 2011 (the "Outside Date"); provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(b) shall not be available to any party whose action or failure to act has been a principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the Merger to occur on or before such date;

(c) by either the Company or Parent if any Legal Requirement makes the consummation of the Merger illegal, or if a Governmental Entity of competent jurisdiction shall have issued an order, decree or ruling or taken any other action (including the failure to have taken any action), in any case having the effect of permanently restraining, enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the Merger, which order, decree, ruling or other action is final and nonappealable; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(c) shall not be available to any party whose action or failure to act has been a principal cause of or resulted in such Legal Requirement or action;

(d) by either the Company or Parent if the Company Stockholder Approval shall not have been obtained by reason of the failure to obtain the Company Stockholder Approval at a meeting of the Company stockholders duly convened therefore or at any adjournment or postponement thereof; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(d) shall not be available to the Company where the action or failure to act of Company has been a principal cause of or resulted in the failure to obtain the Company Stockholder Approval;

(e) by Parent (at any time prior to the time the Company Stockholder Approval has been obtained) if a Triggering Event or a material breach of Section 6.2 or Section 6.3 shall have occurred;

(f) by the Company, following a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement on the part of Parent and/or the Merger Sub set forth in this Agreement, or if any representation or warranty of Parent and/or the Merger Sub shall have become untrue, in either case, such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.3(a) or Section 7.3(b) would not be satisfied as of the time of such breach or as of the time such representation or warranty shall have become untrue; provided, that if such inaccuracy in Parent and/or Merger Sub's representations and warranties or breach by Parent and/or Merger Sub is curable by Parent prior to the Outside Date through the exercise of reasonable efforts, then the Company may not terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(f) prior to twenty (20) days following the receipt of written notice from the Company to Parent of such breach; provided, further, that Parent continues to exercise all reasonable efforts to cure such breach through such twenty (20) day period (it being understood that, notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(f) if it is then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement or if such breach by Parent and/or Merger Sub is cured within such twenty (20) day period);

(g) by Parent, following a breach of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement on the part of the Company set forth in this Agreement, or if any representation or warranty of the Company shall have become untrue, in either case, such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.2(a) or Section 7.2(b) would not be satisfied as of the time of such breach or as of the time such representation or warranty shall have become untrue; provided, that if such inaccuracy in the Company's representations and warranties or breach by the Company is curable by the Company prior to the Outside Date through the exercise of reasonable efforts, then Parent may not terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(g) prior to twenty (20) days following the receipt of written notice from Parent to the Company of such breach; provided, further, that the Company continues to exercise all reasonable efforts to cure such breach through such twenty (20) day period (it being understood that, notwithstanding the foregoing, Parent may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(g) if it is then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement or if such breach by the Company is cured within such twenty (20) day period);

(h) by Parent, if a Material Adverse Effect on the Company shall have occurred since the date hereof; provided, that if such Material Adverse Effect on the Company is curable by the Company prior to the Outside Date through the exercise of reasonable efforts, then Parent may not terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(h) prior to twenty (20) days following the occurrence of such Material Adverse Effect on the Company; provided, further, that the Company continues to exercise all reasonable efforts to cure such Material Adverse Effect on the Company through such twenty (20) day period (it being understood that, notwithstanding the foregoing, Parent may not terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(h) if it is then in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement or if such Material Adverse Effect on the Company is cured within such twenty (20) day period);

(i) by the Company if (A) all of the conditions set forth in Sections 7.1 and 7.2 have been satisfied (other than those conditions that by their terms are to be satisfied at the Closing), (B) the Company is, at such time, ready, willing and able to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and has not materially breached any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement on the part of the Company set forth in this Agreement, and (C) on the Outside Date, none of the Parent, Merger Sub nor the Surviving Corporation shall have received the proceeds of the Debt Financing; and

(j) by the Company if (i) prior to the time that the Company Stockholder Approval has been obtained, the Company's Board of Directors shall have effected a Change of Recommendation in respect of a Superior Proposal in accordance with the terms of (and subject to the conditions in) Section 6.3(d) and (ii) the Company effectuates such termination of this Agreement solely in order to enter into a definitive agreement with respect to such Superior Proposal, and (iii) concurrently with such termination of this Agreement (and as a condition to the Company's ability to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section 8.1(j)), the Company pays Parent the Company Termination Fee in accordance with Section 8.3(b)(i)(C).

8.2 Notice of Termination; Effect of Termination. Any termination of this Agreement under, and in accordance with, Section 8.1 above will be effective immediately upon the delivery of a valid written notice of the terminating party to the other party hereto. In the event of the termination of this Agreement as provided in Section 8.1, this Agreement shall be of no further force or effect except as set forth in Section 6.4(a) (Confidentiality), this Section 8.2, Section 8.3 (Fees and Expenses) and Article IX (General Provisions), each of which shall survive the termination of this Agreement, and nothing herein shall relieve any party from liability for any fraud or willful and knowing breach (except as otherwise provided in, and subject to the limitations of, Section 8.3 in respect of a Non-Breach Financing Failure) of any representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement contained in this Agreement. No termination of this Agreement shall affect the obligations of the parties contained in the Confidentiality Agreement, all of which obligations shall survive termination of this Agreement in accordance with their terms.

8.3 Fees and Expenses.

(a) General. Except as set forth in this Section 8.3, all fees and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby shall be paid by the party incurring such expenses whether or not the Merger is consummated.

(b) Company Payment.

(i) Payment. The Company shall pay Parent the Company Termination Fee, by wire transfer to an account designated by Parent in immediately available funds, as follows:

(A) If this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Section 8.1(d) and: (w) at the time of the termination of this Agreement, all of the conditions to the Debt Financing have been satisfied, or would at such time reasonably be expected to be satisfied (other than those conditions, the failure of which to be satisfied or be reasonably expected to be satisfied has been or is principally caused by the actions or failure to act of the Company); (x) at the time of the termination of this Agreement, an Alternative Transaction Proposal with respect to the Company has become publicly known and not withdrawn; (y) the valuation of the Company per share of Common Stock for purposes of the Alternative Transaction Proposal is equal to or greater than the Common Stock Merger Consideration (provided, that for purposes of such determination the "Common Stock Merger Consideration" shall be adjusted to reflect the effect of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend (including any dividend or distribution of securities convertible into Company Common Stock or Company Preferred Stock, as the case may be), reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification or other like change with respect to Company Common Stock or Company Preferred Stock, as the case may be, occurring or having a record date on or after the date hereof); and (z) within twelve (12) months following the termination of this Agreement, an Alternative Transaction Proposal with respect to the Company is consummated, or the Company enters into a letter of intent or any Contract or commitment (whether binding or not) contemplating an Alternative Transaction Proposal which is subsequently consummated following the date thereof, then such payment shall be made concurrently with the consummation of such Alternative Transaction Proposal;

(B) If this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Section 8.1(e), then such payment shall be made promptly, but in no event later than two (2) Business Days after the date of such termination;

(C) If this Agreement is terminated by Parent pursuant to Section 8.1(b) (in circumstances where all of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than the conditions set forth in Section 7.2(a) or Section 7.2(b)) shall have been satisfied or waived) or pursuant to Section 8.1(g), and: (x) at the time of the termination of this Agreement, an Alternative Transaction Proposal with respect to the Company has become publicly known or known to the Board of Directors of the Company and not withdrawn; (y) the valuation of the Company per share of Common Stock for purposes of the Alternative Transaction Proposal is equal to or greater than the Common Stock Merger Consideration (provided, that for purposes of such determination the “Common Stock Merger Consideration” shall be adjusted to reflect the effect of any stock split, reverse stock split, stock dividend (including any dividend or distribution of securities convertible into Company Common Stock or Company Preferred Stock, as the case may be), reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification or other like change with respect to Company Common Stock or Company Preferred Stock, as the case may be, occurring or having a record date on or after the date hereof); and (z) within twelve (12) months following the termination of this Agreement, an Alternative Transaction Proposal with respect to the Company is consummated, or the Company enters into a letter of intent or any Contract or commitment (whether binding or not) contemplating an Alternative Transaction Proposal which is subsequently consummated following the date thereof, then such payment shall be made concurrently with the consummation of such Alternative Transaction Proposal; and

(D) If this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 8.1(j) then, in accordance with Section 8.1(j), the Company shall pay Parent the Termination Fee concurrently with such termination of this Agreement.

Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, for purposes of the references to “Alternative Transaction Proposal” contained in this Section 8.3(b)(i), (i) all references to “twenty percent (20%) or more” contained in the definition of “Alternative Transaction Proposal” shall be deemed to read “more than fifty percent (50%)” and (ii) all references to “the Company or any of its Subsidiaries” shall be deemed to read “the Company.”

(ii) Parent Expenses. In addition to any payments made pursuant to Section 8.3(b)(i), the Company shall pay to Parent by wire transfer to an account designated by Parent in immediately available funds, within two (2) Business Days thereafter, up to an aggregate amount of $1,000,000 (such amount, the “Expense Cap”) of all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of Parent and its subsidiaries, including reasonable and documented fees and expenses of financial advisors, outside legal counsel, accountants, experts and consultants, incurred by Parent and its subsidiaries or on their respective behalf in connection with or related to the authorization, preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby if this Agreement is terminated by Parent or the Company (A) pursuant to Section 8.1(d), but only if the Company Stockholder Approval shall not have been obtained by reason of the Company’s willful, knowing and material breach of this Agreement, or (B) pursuant to Section 8.1(e) or Section 8.1(j).

(c) Parent Payment.

(i) In the event that this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 8.1(i), then Parent shall promptly, but in no event later than two (2) Business Days after the date of such termination, pay the Company the Parent Termination Fee by wire transfer to an account designated by the Company in immediately available funds.

(ii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (A) if in the circumstances in which Parent becomes obligated to pay the Parent Termination Fee, Parent is not otherwise in willful, knowing and material breach of this Agreement such that the conditions set forth in Section 7.1 and Section 7.2 would otherwise be satisfied (any such event, a “Non-Breach Financing Failure”), then the Company’s termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1(i) and receipt of payment of the Parent Termination Fee pursuant to Section 8.3(c)(i) shall be the sole and exclusive remedy of the Company and its Subsidiaries against Parent, Merger Sub, Financing Sources and any of their respective former, current or future directors, officers, employees, agents, partners, managers, members, Affiliates, stockholders, assignees or representatives of any of the foregoing (each a “Specified Person”) for any loss or damage suffered as a result of the failure of the Merger to be consummated, and upon payment of the Parent Termination Fee in accordance with Section 8.3(c)(i), none of Parent, Merger Sub, Financing Sources or any of their respective Specified Persons shall have any further liability or obligation relating to or arising out of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (B) in no event, whether or not this Agreement shall have been terminated, shall the Company be entitled to monetary damages in excess of $7,600,000 (such amount, plus any interest, costs and expenses payable under Section 8.3(d), the “Liability Limitation”), inclusive of the Parent Termination Fee, if applicable, and in no event shall the Company seek to recover any money damages in excess of such amount, for all losses and damages arising from or in connection with breaches of this Agreement by Parent, Merger Sub or their respective Representatives and Affiliates, or arising from any other claim or cause of action under this Agreement; provided, that the Liability Limitation will not apply to damages to the extent related to circumstances in which Parent is in willful, knowing and material breach of its obligations under this Agreement (other than its obligation to consummate the Merger in circumstances where there is a Non-Breach Financing Failure), and (C) in no event shall Financing Sources or any of their Specified Persons have any liability to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries for any loss or damage relating to, arising out of, or in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby.

(iii) Company Expenses. In addition to any payments made pursuant to Section 8.3(c)(i), Parent shall pay to the Company by wire transfer to an account designated by the Company in immediately available funds, within two (2) Business Days thereafter, up to an aggregate amount of the Expense Cap of all reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the Company and its subsidiaries, including reasonable and documented fees and expenses of financial advisors, outside legal counsel, accountants, experts and consultants, incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries or on their respective behalf in connection with or related to the authorization, preparation, negotiation, execution and performance of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby if this Agreement is terminated by the Company pursuant to Section 8.1(i), but only if the failure of Parent, Merger Sub and the Surviving Corporation to have received the proceeds of the Debt Financing shall have been due to Parent's willful, knowing and material breach of this Agreement.

(d) Interest and Costs; Other Remedies. The parties hereto acknowledge that the agreements contained in this Section 8.3 are an integral part of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, and that, without these agreements, the parties hereto would not enter into this Agreement; accordingly, if the Company or Parent fails to pay in a timely manner the amounts due pursuant to this Section 8.3, and, in order to obtain such payment, Parent or the Company makes a claim that results in a judgment against the Company or Parent for the amounts set forth in this Section 8.3, the Company or Parent, as applicable, shall pay to Parent or the Company the reasonable costs and expenses of Parent or the Company, as applicable (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) in connection with such suit, together with interest on the amounts set forth in this Section 8.3 at the prime rate of Citibank, N.A. in effect on the date such payment was required to be made. Each of the parties further acknowledge that the Company Termination Fee or the Parent Termination Fee, as the case may be, is not a penalty, but in each case is liquidated damages in a reasonable amount that will compensate Parent or the Company, as the case may be, in the circumstances in which such fees are payable for the efforts and resources expended and the opportunities foregone while negotiating this Agreement and in reliance on this Agreement and on the expectation of the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, which amount would otherwise be impossible to calculate with precision. In no event shall the Company or Parent be required to pay the Company Termination Fee or the Parent Termination Fee, as applicable, more than once.

8.4 Amendment. Subject to applicable Legal Requirements, this Agreement may be amended by the parties hereto, by action taken or authorized by their respective Boards of Directors, at any time before or after approval of the Merger by the stockholders of the Company, provided, that after receipt of Company Stockholder Approval, no amendment shall be made which under any applicable Legal Requirement or in accordance with the rules of any relevant stock exchange, including the NASDAQ Capital Market, requires further approval by the stockholders of the Company without such further stockholder approval. This Agreement may not be amended except by execution of an instrument in writing signed on behalf of each of Parent, Merger Sub and the Company and duly approved by the parties' respective Boards of Directors or a duly designated committee thereof.

8.5 Extension; Waiver. At any time prior to the Effective Time either party hereto, by action taken or authorized by their respective Board of Directors, may, to the extent legally allowed: (i) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties hereto, (ii) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties made to such party contained herein or in any document delivered pursuant hereto, and (iii) waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions for the benefit of such party contained herein. Any agreement on the part of a party hereto to any such extension or waiver shall be valid only if set forth in an instrument in writing signed on behalf of such party. Any extension or waiver given in compliance with this Section 8.5 or failure to insist on strict compliance with an obligation, covenant, agreement or condition shall not operate as a waiver of, or estoppel with respect to, any subsequent or other failure.

ARTICLE IX GENERAL PROVISIONS

9.1 Non-Survival of Representations and Warranties. The representations and warranties of the Company, Parent and Merger Sub contained in this Agreement, or any instrument delivered pursuant to this Agreement, shall terminate at the Effective Time, and only the covenants that by their terms survive the Effective Time, as well as this Article IX, shall survive the Effective Time.

9.3 Interpretation; Rule of Construction. When a reference is made in this Agreement to Exhibits, such reference shall be to an Exhibit to this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. When a reference is made in this Agreement to Sections, such reference shall be to a Section of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. When a reference is made in this Agreement to Articles, such reference shall be to an Article of this Agreement unless otherwise indicated. The words “include,” “includes” and “including” when used herein shall be deemed in each case to be followed by the words “without limitation”. The words “hereof,” “herein” and “hereunder” and words of similar import when used in this Agreement shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision of this Agreement. All terms defined in this Agreement shall have the defined meanings when used in any certificate or other document made or delivered pursuant hereto unless otherwise defined therein. The definitions contained in this Agreement are applicable to the singular as well as the plural forms of such terms and to the masculine as well as to the feminine and neuter genders of such term. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not affect in any way the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement. References to $ or dollars shall mean to U.S. dollars. References to the Subsidiaries of an entity shall be deemed to include all direct and indirect Subsidiaries of such entity. References to a Person are also to its permitted successors and assigns. Any agreement, instrument or statute defined or referred to herein or in any agreement or instrument that is referred to herein means such agreement, instrument or statute as from time to time amended, modified or supplemented, including (in the case of agreements or instruments) by waiver or consent and (in the case of statutes) by succession of comparable successor statutes and references to all attachments thereto and instruments incorporated therein. The parties hereto agree that they have been represented by legal counsel during the negotiation and execution of this Agreement and, therefore, waive the application of any law, regulation, holding or rule of construction providing that ambiguities in an agreement or other document shall be construed against the party drafting such agreement or document.

9.4 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, and by the different parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when executed shall be deemed to be an original but all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

9.5 Entire Agreement; Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement and the documents and instruments and other agreements between or among the parties hereto as contemplated by or referred to herein, including the Company Disclosure Letter and the Voting Agreements and other Exhibits hereto, (i) constitute the entire agreement among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, between or among the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof, it being understood that the Confidentiality Agreement shall continue in full force and effect until the Closing and shall survive any termination of this Agreement, and (ii) are not intended to confer upon any other Person any rights or remedies hereunder, except (x) as specifically provided, following the Effective Time, in Section 6.9(b), and (y) the Financing Sources and their Specified Persons shall be express third party beneficiaries of and have the right to enforce Sections 8.3(a), 9.7, 9.8 and 9.10.

9.6 Severability. If any term or other provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced by any applicable law or public policy, all other terms and provisions of this Agreement shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect so long as the economic or legal substance of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement is not affected in any manner materially adverse to any party. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced, the parties hereto shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in an acceptable manner in order that the transactions contemplated by this Agreement are consummated as originally contemplated to the greatest extent possible.

9.7 Remedies.

(a) Except as otherwise provided herein, any and all remedies herein expressly conferred upon a party will be deemed cumulative with and not exclusive of any other remedy conferred hereby, or by law or equity by such party, and the exercise by a party of one remedy will not preclude the exercise of any other remedy. In no event shall any party be liable for punitive or special damages.

(b) The parties hereto agree that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any provision of this Agreement were not performed in accordance with the terms hereof. Accordingly, prior to the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1, Parent and Merger Sub shall be entitled to specific performance of the terms hereof, and subject to the following sentence, the Company shall be entitled to specific performance of the terms hereof, in addition to any other remedy at law or equity. Notwithstanding the second sentence of this Section 9.7(b), the parties acknowledge that with respect to those covenants of Parent or Merger Sub that require Parent or Merger Sub to obtain the Debt Financing or to consummate the Merger, the Company shall be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of such covenants by Parent or Merger Sub or to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of such covenants only to prevent breaches of or enforce compliance with such covenants of Parent or Merger Sub to the extent that they require Parent or Merger Sub to (x) use its reasonable best efforts (or such other standards as set forth herein) to obtain the Debt Financing (including, without limitation, the covenants set forth in Sections 6.6(d) and 6.17) or (y) consummate the Merger, if in the case of this clause (y), but only if, the financing provided for in the Debt Commitment Letters (and, if Alternative Financing is being used, pursuant to the Alternative Financing) is available to be drawn down by Parent pursuant to the terms of the applicable agreements but is not so drawn down solely as a result of Parent refusing to do so in a willful, knowing and material breach of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, whether or not the Company is entitled to seek injunctions or specific performance pursuant to the provisions of the preceding sentence or otherwise, (A) the Company will not be entitled to monetary damages in excess of the Liability Limitation except in connection with any willful, knowing and material breach by Parent of any of its obligations under this Agreement (other than its obligations to consummate the Merger in circumstances where there is a Non-Breach Financing Failure), and (B) neither the Financing Sources nor any of their Specified Persons will have any liability to the Company or any of its Subsidiaries for any loss or damage relating to, arising out of, or in connection with this Agreement or the transaction documents contemplated hereby.

9.8 Governing Law; Consent to Jurisdiction. This Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware. In any action or proceeding between any of the parties arising out of or relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, each of the parties hereto: (i) irrevocably and unconditionally consents and submits, for itself and its property, to the exclusive jurisdiction and venue of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, in the case of any claim as to which the federal courts have exclusive subject matter jurisdiction, the Federal court of the United States of America, sitting in Delaware); (ii) agrees that all claims in respect of such action or proceeding must be commenced, and may be heard and determined, exclusively in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, if applicable, such Federal court); (iii) waives, to the fullest extent it may legally and effectively do so, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any such action or proceeding in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (and, if applicable, such Federal court); and (iv) waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of such action or proceeding in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware (or, if applicable, such Federal court). Each of the parties hereto agrees that a final judgment in any such action or proceeding may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by law. Each party to this Agreement irrevocably consents to service of process in the manner provided for notices in Section 9.2. Nothing in this Agreement shall affect the right of any party to this Agreement to serve process in any other manner permitted by law. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company hereby agrees that it will not bring or support any action, cause of action, claim, cross claim or third party claim of any kind or description, whether in law or equity, whether in contract or in tort or otherwise, against the Financing Sources or their Specified Persons in any way relating to this Agreement or any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including any dispute arising out of or relating in any way to the Debt Commitment Letters or the performance thereof, in any forum other than those set forth above in this Section 9.8 and the provisions of Section 9.10 relating to the waiver of jury trial shall apply to any such action, cause of action, claim, cross-claim or third party claim.

9.9 Assignment. No party may assign either this Agreement or any of its rights, interests, or obligations hereunder without the prior written approval of the other parties, except that Parent may assign its rights and delegate its obligations hereunder to its affiliates as long as Parent remains ultimately liable for all of Parent's obligations hereunder. Any purported assignment in violation of this Section 9.9 shall be void. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns.

9.10 Waiver of Jury Trial. EACH PARTY HERETO ACKNOWLEDGES AND AGREES THAT ANY CONTROVERSY WHICH MAY ARISE UNDER THIS AGREEMENT IS LIKELY TO INVOLVE COMPLICATED AND DIFFICULT ISSUES, AND THEREFORE EACH SUCH PARTY HEREBY IRREVOCABLY AND UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT SUCH PARTY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED BY THIS AGREEMENT. EACH PARTY CERTIFIES AND ACKNOWLEDGES THAT (A) NO REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF ANY OTHER PARTY HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT SUCH OTHER PARTY WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVER, (B) EACH PARTY UNDERSTANDS AND HAS CONSIDERED THE IMPLICATIONS OF THIS WAIVER, (C) EACH PARTY MAKES THIS WAIVER VOLUNTARILY AND (D) EACH PARTY HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION 9.10.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed by their duly authorized respective officers as of the date first written above.

Annex B

DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW § 262
APPRAISAL RIGHTS

(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger or consolidation, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger or consolidation nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to § 228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words; and the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in 1 or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation in a merger or consolidation to be effected pursuant to § 251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to § 251(g) of this title), § 252, § 254, § 255, § 256, § 257, § 258, § 263 or § 264 of this title:

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of the meeting of stockholders to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation, were either (i) listed on a national securities exchange or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in § 251(f) of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of this subsection, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation pursuant to §§ 251, 252, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 263 and 264 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or depository receipts in respect thereof;

b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock (or depository receipts in respect thereof) or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger or consolidation will be either listed on a national securities exchange or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;

c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a. and b. of this paragraph; or

d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a., b. and c. of this paragraph.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under § 253 or § 267 of this title is not owned by the parent immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is a constituent corporation or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the procedures of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger or consolidation for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for notice of such meeting (or such members who received notice in accordance with § 255(c) of this title) with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsection (b) or (c) of this section that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section and, if 1 of the constituent corporations is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of such stockholder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such stockholder's shares. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each stockholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

(2) If the merger or consolidation was approved pursuant to §228, §253, or §267 of this title, then either a constituent corporation before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or the surviving or resulting corporation within 10 days thereafter shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section and, if 1 of the constituent corporations is a nonstock corporation, a copy of § 114 of this title. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of such holder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, either (i) each such constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation or (ii) the surviving or resulting corporation shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affidavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any stockholder who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may commence an appraisal proceeding by filing a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party shall have the right to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation.

Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) of this section hereof, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such written statement shall be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after such stockholder's written request for such a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) of this section hereof, whichever is later. Notwithstanding subsection (a) of this section, a person who is the beneficial owner of shares of such stock held either in a voting trust or by a nominee on behalf of such person may, in such person's own name, file a petition or request from the corporation the statement described in this subsection.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by a stockholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the stockholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Such notice shall also be given by 1 or more publications at least 1 week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Wilmington, Delaware or such publication as the Court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the stockholders who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

(h) After the Court determines the stockholders entitled to an appraisal, the appraisal proceeding shall be conducted in accordance with the rules of the Court of Chancery, including any rules specifically governing appraisal proceedings. Through such proceeding the Court shall determine the fair value of the shares exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. Unless the Court in its discretion determines otherwise for good cause shown, interest from the effective date of the merger through the date of payment of the judgment shall be compounded quarterly and shall accrue at 5% over the Federal Reserve discount rate (including any surcharge) as established from time to time during the period between the effective date of the merger and the date of payment of the judgment. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any stockholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the stockholders entitled to an appraisal. Any stockholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to subsection (f) of this section and who has submitted such stockholder's certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery, if such is required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that such stockholder is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the stockholders entitled thereto. Payment shall be so made to each such stockholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock forthwith, and the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing such stock. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a stockholder, the Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal.

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no stockholder who has demanded appraisal rights as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if such stockholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of such stockholder's demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided in subsection (e) of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such stockholder to an appraisal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just; provided, however that this provision shall not affect the right of any stockholder who has not commenced an appraisal proceeding or joined that proceeding as a named party to withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, as set forth in subsection (e) of this section.

(l) The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation to which the shares of such objecting stockholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.

EXECUTION COPY

VOTING AGREEMENT

THIS VOTING AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”) is made and entered into as of February 2, 2011 by and between AFCV Holdings, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“Parent”), Robert Rosenschein (the “Stockholder”) and Answers Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the “Company”).

A. Parent, the Company and A-Team Acquisition Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent (“Merger Sub”), have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”) dated as of February 2, 2011, which provides for the merger (the “Merger”) of Merger Sub with and into the Company with the Company surviving and pursuant to which all outstanding capital stock of the Company will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the consideration set forth in the Merger Agreement.

B. As of the date of this Agreement, the Stockholder is the beneficial owner (as defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”)) of such number of shares of Company Common Stock as is indicated on the signature page of this Agreement.

C. In consideration of the execution of the Merger Agreement by Parent, the Stockholder (in his capacity as such) has agreed to vote the Shares (as defined below) and such other shares of capital stock of the Company over which the Stockholder has or will acquire voting power, so as to facilitate consummation of the Merger. In addition, the Stockholder understands and acknowledges that the Company and Parent are entitled to rely on (i) the truth and accuracy of the Stockholder’s representations contained herein and (ii) the Stockholder’s performance of his obligations set forth herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, intending to be legally bound hereby, in consideration of the premises and the covenants and agreements set forth in the Merger Agreement and in this Agreement, and other good and valuable consideration the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

1. Certain Definitions. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the respective meanings ascribed thereto in the Merger Agreement. For all purposes of and under this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following respective meanings:

1. 1 “Beneficially Own” or “Beneficial Ownership” or “Beneficially Owned,” with respect to any securities, means having “beneficial ownership” of such securities as determined pursuant to Rule 13d-3 under the Exchange Act, including pursuant to any Contract. A “Beneficial Owner” is a Person who Beneficially Owns securities.

1. 2 “Expiration Date” shall mean the earlier to occur of (i) such date and time as the Merger Agreement shall have been validly terminated pursuant to its terms, or (ii) such date and time as the Merger shall become effective in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement.

1. 3 “Shares” shall mean: (i) all shares of Company Common Stock (including all options, warrants and other rights to acquire shares of Company Common Stock) Beneficially Owned by the Stockholder as of the date of this Agreement, and (ii) all additional shares of Company Common Stock (including all additional options, warrants and other rights to acquire shares of Company Common Stock) of which the Stockholder acquires Beneficial Ownership during the period commencing with the execution and delivery of this Agreement until the Expiration Date.

1. 4 A Person shall be deemed to have effected a “Transfer” of a security if such person directly or indirectly (i) sells, pledges, encumbers, grants an option with respect to, transfers or otherwise disposes of such security or any interest therein, or (ii) enters into an agreement or commitment providing for the sale of, pledge of, encumbrance of, grant of an option with respect to, transfer of or disposition of such security or any interest therein.

2. Transfer of Shares.

2. 1 No Transfer of Shares. The Stockholder hereby agrees that, at all times during the period commencing with the execution and delivery of this Agreement until the Expiration Date, the Stockholder shall not cause or permit any Transfer of any of the Shares to be effected, or discuss, negotiate or make any offer regarding any Transfer of any of the Shares.

2. 2 No Transfer of Voting Rights. The Stockholder hereby agrees that, at all times commencing with the execution and delivery of this Agreement until the Expiration Date, the Stockholder shall not deposit, or permit the deposit of, any Shares in a voting trust, grant any proxy in respect of the Shares, or enter into any voting agreement or similar Contract to vote or give instructions with respect to the Shares (other than this Agreement and the Proxy) in contravention of the obligations of the Stockholder (including in any manner inconsistent with Section 4 below) under this Agreement with respect to any of the Shares.

3. Agreement to Vote Shares.

3. 1 Until the Expiration Date, at every meeting of the Company’s stockholders called, and at every adjournment or postponement thereof, and on every action or approval by written consent of the Company’s stockholders with respect to any such meeting, the Stockholder shall vote (to the extent not voted by the person(s) appointed under the Proxy) the Shares:

(a) in favor of the adoption of the Merger Agreement (as it may be amended from time to time) and any matter that would reasonably be expected to facilitate the Merger; and

(b) against any of the following actions (other than those actions that relate to the Merger and any other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement): (i) the approval of any proposal made in opposition to, or in competition with, the Merger or any other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, (ii) any Alternative Transaction Proposal, and (iii) any other action that is intended, or would reasonably be expected to, impede, interfere with, delay, postpone, discourage or adversely affect the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement.

3. 2 In the event that a meeting of the holders of shares of Company Common Stock is held, the Stockholder shall, or shall cause the holder of record on any applicable record date to, appear at such meeting or otherwise cause the Shares to be counted as present thereat for purposes of establishing a quorum.

4. Irrevocable Proxy. Concurrently with the execution of this Agreement, the Stockholder shall deliver to Parent a duly executed proxy in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A with respect to the Shares (the "Proxy"), which Proxy is coupled with an interest, and, until the Expiration Date, shall be irrevocable to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, with respect to each and every meeting of stockholders of the Company or action or approval by written resolution or consent of stockholders of the Company with respect to the matters contemplated by Section 3 covering the total number of Shares in respect of which the Stockholder is entitled to vote at any such meeting or in connection with any such written consent. Upon the execution of this Agreement by the Stockholder, (i) the Stockholder hereby revokes any and all prior proxies (other than the Proxy) given by the Stockholder with respect to the subject matter contemplated by Section 3, and (ii) the Stockholder agrees to not grant any subsequent proxies with respect to such subject matter, or enter into any agreement or understanding with any Person to vote or give instructions with respect to the Shares in any manner inconsistent with the terms of Section 4, until after the Expiration Date.

5. Directors and Officers. Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Agreement shall limit or restrict the Stockholder in his capacity as a director of the Company in voting in his sole discretion on any matter (it being understood that this Agreement shall apply to the Stockholder solely in his capacity as a holder of shares of Company Common Stock and options to purchase shares of Company Common Stock).

6. Representations and Warranties of the Stockholder. The Stockholder hereby represents and warrants to Parent that:

6. 1 Power; Binding Agreement. The Stockholder has full power, capacity and authority to execute and deliver this Agreement and the Proxy, to perform the Stockholder's obligations hereunder and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby. The execution, delivery and performance by the Stockholder of this Agreement, the performance by the Stockholder of its obligations hereunder and the consummation by the Stockholder of the transactions contemplated hereby have been duly and validly authorized by all necessary action, if any, on the part of the Stockholder and no other actions or proceedings on the part of the Stockholder are necessary to authorize the execution and delivery by it of this Agreement or the Proxy, the performance by the Stockholder of its obligations hereunder or thereunder or the consummation by the Stockholder of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby. This Agreement and the Proxy have been duly executed and delivered by the Stockholder, and, assuming this Agreement constitutes a valid and binding obligation of Parent, constitute a valid and binding obligation of the Stockholder, enforceable against the Stockholder in accordance with their terms except as the same may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium or similar Laws now or hereafter in effect relating to creditors' rights generally and subject to general principles of equity.

6. 2 No Conflicts. No filing with, and no permit, authorization, consent, or approval of, any Governmental Entity is necessary for the execution by the Stockholder of this Agreement and the Proxy, the performance by the Stockholder of his obligations hereunder and thereunder and the consummation by the Stockholder of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. None of the execution and delivery by the Stockholder of this Agreement or the Proxy, the performance by the Stockholder of his obligations hereunder or thereunder or the consummation by the Stockholder of the transactions contemplated hereby or thereby will (i) result in a violation or breach of, or constitute (with or without notice or lapse of time or both) a default (or give rise to any third party right of termination, cancellation, material modification or acceleration) under any of the terms, conditions or provisions of any Contract or obligation of any kind to which the Stockholder is a party or by which the Stockholder or any of the Stockholder's properties or assets may be bound, or (ii) violate any Legal Requirements applicable to the Stockholder or any of the Stockholder's properties or assets, except for such conflicts, breaches, violations or defaults that would not, individually or in the aggregate, prevent or delay consummation of the Merger and the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and this Agreement or otherwise prevent or delay the Stockholder from performing his obligations under this Agreement.

6. 3 Ownership of Shares. As of the date of this Agreement, the Stockholder (i) is the Beneficial Owner of the shares of Company Common Stock (including options and/or warrants to purchase shares of Company Common Stock and shares of Company Common Stock issuable upon the exercise of such options and/or warrants), and (ii) does not own, beneficially or otherwise, any shares of Company Common Stock (including options and/or warrants to purchase shares of Company Common Stock and shares of Company Common Stock issuable upon the exercise of such options and/or warrants), shares of Company Series A Preferred Stock or Shares of Company Series B Preferred Stock other than as indicated on the signature page of this Agreement. The Shares are and will be at all times up until the Expiration Date free and clear of any Liens, pledges, options, rights of first refusal, co-sale rights, agreements, limitations on the Stockholder's voting rights and other encumbrances of any nature that would adversely affect the Merger or the exercise or fulfillment of the rights and obligations of the Company under the Merger Agreement or of the parties to this Agreement.

6. 4 Voting Power. The Stockholder has sole voting power, sole power of disposition, sole power to issue instructions with respect to the matters set forth herein, and sole power to agree to all of the matters set forth in this Agreement, in each case with respect to all of the Shares, with no limitations, qualifications or restrictions on such rights, subject to applicable federal securities laws and the terms of this Agreement.

6. 5 No Finder's Fees. No broker, investment banker, financial advisor or other person is entitled to any broker's, finder's, financial adviser's or other similar fee or commission in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement or this Agreement based upon arrangements made by or on behalf of the Stockholder.

6. 6 No Solicitation; Notification. Until the Expiration Date, the Stockholder, solely in his capacity as a stockholder of the Company, shall not, and shall not authorize, or encourage any Representative or Affiliate of such Person, directly or indirectly, to take any action that would, or would reasonably be expected to, result in the violation by the Company of Section 6.3 (Alternative Transaction Proposals) of the Merger Agreement; provided, that, nothing herein shall prevent the Stockholder from taking any action solely in his capacity as a director of the Company in the exercise of his fiduciary duties with respect to an Alternative Transaction Proposal or Superior Proposal in compliance with the terms of the Merger Agreement. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Stockholder acknowledges and hereby agrees that any violation of the restrictions set forth in this Section 7 by the Stockholder or any of his Representatives or Affiliates shall be deemed to be a breach of this Agreement by the Stockholder. The Stockholder shall not enter into any letter of intent or similar document or any Contract contemplating or otherwise relating to an Acquisition Proposal unless and until this Agreement is terminated pursuant to its terms.

7. Disclosure. Subject to reasonable prior notice and approval, the Stockholder shall permit and hereby authorizes Parent to publish and disclose in all documents and schedules filed with the SEC, and any press release or other disclosure document that Parent determines to be necessary or desirable in connection with the Merger and any transactions related thereto, the Stockholder's identity and ownership of Shares and the nature of the Stockholder's commitments, arrangements and understandings under this Agreement.

8. Consent and Waiver. The Stockholder hereby gives any consents or waivers that are reasonably required for the consummation of the Merger under the terms of any agreement or instrument to which the Stockholder is a party or subject or in respect of any rights the Stockholder may have in connection with the Merger or the other transactions provided for in the Merger Agreement (whether such rights exist under the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the Company, any Contract to which the Company is a party or by which it is, or any of its assets are, bound under statutory or common law or otherwise). Without limiting the generality or effect of the foregoing, the Stockholder hereby waives, in his capacity as a stockholder of the Company, any and all rights to contest or object to the execution and delivery of the Merger Agreement, the Company Board of Directors' actions in approving and recommending the Merger, the consummation of the Merger and the other transactions provided for in the Merger Agreement, or to seek damages or other legal or equitable relief in connection therewith; and the Stockholder agrees not to exercise any rights of appraisal or any dissenters' rights that the Stockholder may have (whether under applicable law or otherwise) or could potentially have or acquire in connection with the Merger.

9. Further Assurances. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the Stockholder shall use commercially reasonable efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary to fulfill the Stockholder's obligations under this Agreement. The Stockholder, in his capacity as a holder of Shares, shall at all times publicly support the Merger and other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement.

The Board of Directors
Answers Corporation
237 West 35th Street, Suite 1101
New York, NY 10001

Dear Members of the Board:

We understand that Answers Corporation, a Delaware corporation (“Answers” or the “Company”), is considering a transaction whereby AFCV Holdings, LLC, a Delaware limited liability company (“Parent”), will effect a merger involving the Company. Pursuant to the terms of an Agreement and Plan of Merger, draft dated February 1, 2011 (the “Agreement”), among Parent, the Company and A-Team Acquisition Sub, Inc., a Delaware corporation and wholly owned subsidiary of Parent (“Sub”), Sub will merge with and into the Company, and the Company will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Parent (the “Transaction”). Pursuant to the terms of the Agreement, all of the issued and outstanding shares of the common stock, par value of $0.01 per share, of the Company (“Company Common Stock”), will be converted into the right to receive, for each outstanding share of Company Common Stock, $10.50 in cash (the “Consideration”). The terms and conditions of the Transaction are more fully set forth in the Agreement.

You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Company Common Stock of the Consideration to be received by such holders in the Transaction.

UBS Securities LLC (“UBS”) has acted as financial advisor to the Company in connection with the Transaction and will receive a fee for its services, a portion of which is payable in connection with this opinion and a significant portion of which is contingent upon consummation of the Transaction. In the ordinary course of business, UBS and its affiliates may hold or trade, for their own accounts and the accounts of their customers, securities of the Company or of affiliates of Parent and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities. The issuance of this opinion was approved by an authorized committee of UBS.

Answers Corporation

Our opinion does not address the relative merits of the Transaction as compared to other business strategies or transactions that might be available with respect to the Company or the Company's underlying business decision to effect the Transaction. Our opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote or act with respect to the Transaction. At your direction, we have not been asked to, nor do we, offer any opinion as to the terms, other than the Consideration to the extent expressly specified herein, of the Agreement or the form of the Transaction. In addition, we express no opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be received by any officers, directors or employees of any parties to the Transaction, or any class of such persons, relative to the Consideration. We also express no opinion as to the Series A Merger Consideration or Series B Merger Consideration (in each case as defined in the Agreement) or as to the relative fairness of any portion of the consideration to holders of shares of Company Common Stock, on the one hand, and holders of shares of any series of Company preferred stock, on the other hand. In rendering this opinion, we have assumed, with your consent, that (i) the final executed form of the Agreement will not differ in any material respect from the draft that we have reviewed, (ii) the parties to the Agreement will comply with all material terms of the Agreement, and (iii) the Transaction will be consummated in accordance with the terms of the Agreement without any adverse waiver or amendment of any material term or condition thereof.

In arriving at our opinion, we have, among other things: (i) reviewed certain publicly available business and financial information relating to the Company; (ii) reviewed certain internal financial information and other data relating to the business and financial prospects of the Company that were not publicly available, including financial forecasts and estimates for the three-month fiscal period ended December 31, 2010 and the fiscal year ending December 31, 2011, in each case prepared by the management of the Company, that you have directed us to utilize for purposes of our analysis; (iii) conducted discussions with members of the senior management of the Company concerning the business and financial prospects of the Company; (iv) reviewed publicly available financial and stock market data with respect to certain other companies we believe to be generally relevant; (v) compared the financial terms of the Transaction with the publicly available financial terms of certain other transactions we believe to be generally relevant; (vi) reviewed current and historical market prices of Company Common Stock; (vii) reviewed the Agreement; and (viii) conducted such other financial studies, analyses and investigations, and considered such other information, as we deemed necessary or appropriate. At your request, we have contacted third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible transaction with the Company and held discussions with certain of these parties prior to the date hereof.

As you are aware, management of the Company does not believe it can forecast with confidence the financial performance of the Company beyond the fiscal year ending December 31, 2011, and therefore did not provide any such forecasts to UBS. As a consequence, UBS did not prepare a discounted cash flow analysis.

In connection with our review, with your consent, we have assumed and relied upon, without independent verification, the accuracy and completeness in all material respects of the information provided to or reviewed by us for the purpose of this opinion. In addition, with your consent, we have not made any independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of the Company, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. With respect to the financial forecasts and estimates referred to above, we have assumed, at your direction, that they have been reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the management of the Company as to the future financial performance of the Company. Our opinion is necessarily based on economic, monetary, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information available to us as of, the date hereof.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Consideration to be received by holders of Company Common Stock in the Transaction is fair, from a financial point of view, to such holders.
