Item 7.01 Regulation FD Disclosure.

On May 18, 2007, Microsoft Corporation issued a press release announcing that it had entered into a merger agreement to acquire aQuantive, Inc., a digital marketing company based in Seattle, Washington. The press release is furnished herewith as Exhibit 99.1.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On May 18, 2007, Microsoft Corporation announced that it had entered into a merger agreement to acquire aQuantive, Inc., a digital marketing company based in Seattle, Washington. Pursuant to the agreement, at the effective time of the merger, each share of common stock of aQuantive issued and outstanding will be automatically converted into the right to receive $66.50 in cash.

The consummation of the merger is subject to various customary conditions, including approval of the merger agreement by aQuantive's shareholders and the expiration or termination of the applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976.

The merger agreement contains customary representations and warranties between the parties. The merger agreement also contains customary covenants and agreements, including covenants regarding the parties' efforts to cause the closing to be completed. The merger agreement also requires aQuantive to call and hold a meeting of its shareholders to approve the merger agreement.

If the merger agreement is terminated under certain specified circumstances, aQuantive may be required to pay Microsoft a termination fee of $175,000,000 in cash. In addition, if regulatory approvals are not obtained under certain circumstances specified in the merger agreement, Microsoft may be required to pay aQuantive a termination fee of $500,000,000 in cash.

Microsoft expects to complete the transaction in the first half of Microsoft's fiscal year 2008.
