The Mexico Fund, Inc.

To Our Stockholders:

We present to you the Fund's 2007 Semi Annual Report. The Fund's strategy of investing in growth-oriented businesses, including, but not limited to, small-and medium-capitalization companies, continues producing favorable performance in the Fund's market price and net asset value (NAV) per share. In this Report, we summarize the period's prevailing economic and market conditions in Mexico and outline the Fund's investment strategy and resulting performance. We hope you find this Report useful and informative.

Economic Environment

As expected by analysts, Mexican economic activity decelerated during 2007, as a result of the softening of the US economy. According to official sources, Mexico's gross domestic product (GDP) increased 2.6% during the first quarter of 2007, compared with 4.6% during 2006. During this period all sectors of the economy, with one exception, registered positive rates of growth: transportation, storage and communications, 7.6%; electricity, gas and water, 5.3%; construction, 2.1%; financial services and real estate, 4.9%; personal services, 2.1%; commerce, restaurants and hotels, 1.6%; mining, 0.3%; and the primary sector, composed of agriculture, livestock and fishery, 0.2%. The only sector of the economy that registered a decline was the manufacturing industry, which decreased 0.1%. Economists and the Mexican Central Bank estimate that economic activity in Mexico will accelerate during the second half of 2007 as a result of the recovery of US economic activity, steady bank credit expansion in Mexico and higher employment levels, among others. Analysts surveyed by the Central Bank during May 2007 estimate that the Mexican GDP will increase by approximately 3.0% during 2007 and 3.6% during 2008.

According to information prepared by Banco de Mexico, the Central Bank, for the year ended on May 31, 2007, the Mexican inflation rate amounted to 4.0%, similar to the level registered at the end of 2006. The Central Bank recognizes the existence of certain inflationary pressures and estimates that inflation will remain near or slightly above 4% during the first half of 2007 and that it will shrink below 4% towards the end of calendar 2007. Analysts coincide with this view and currently believe that it will be 3.5% and 3.6% for 2007 and 2008. Towards the end of April 2007, Banco de México increased 25 basis points the funding rate in a move to control inflation and further increases may be implemented.

Short-term interest rates reacted to the 25 basis point increase made by the Central Bank to funding rates. The interest rate of the 28-day Cetes, which was near 7% during the year ended April 30, 2007, has been near 7.25% since then. The Mexican government continues issuing 30-year bonds, denominated in pesos, at a fixed interest rate, which was 7.73% for the auction of May 10, 2007. The long-term maturity of this instrument and the stable demand of other government bonds continue to reflect the confidence and positive sentiment of domestic and international investors towards Mexican debt instruments. Moreover, the small spread between short-and long-term interest rates suggests confidence from investors that inflation will remain under control. At the same time, Mexico's country risk, measured by the spread between the yields of Mexican sovereign debt instruments denominated in dollars and traded abroad versus US Treasury bonds reached a new historical minimum level of 70 basis points (0.70%) on June 1, 2007. Mexico's country risk level is now similar to that of Chile, the lowest for Latin America. Analysts estimate that interest rates will be relatively stable during the rest of 2007 and 2008, projected at 7.2% and 7.0%, respectively, at the end of each year.

The recent increase of 25 basis points in domestic interest rates and the flow of dollars sent to Mexico by foreign investors and Mexicans living abroad, mostly in the United States, continued to contribute to the relative strength of the Mexican peso. The exchange rate of the peso against the US dollar remained almost unchanged during this six-month period and ended at Ps. 10.9278 on April 30, 2007. During 2006, remittances sent to Mexico from Mexicans living abroad reached a record level of $23.0 billion and have remained stable since then. The Central Bank continues implementing a free-floating exchange rate policy, with only minor market interventions aimed at reducing the rate of growth of international currency reserves, which have continued reaching historically high levels. At the end of April 2007, international reserves amounted to $69.4 billion. Analysts estimate that the exchange rate will continue to be relatively stable, estimated at Ps. 11.10 and Ps. 11.36 at the end of 2007 and 2008, respectively.

The Mexican current account shifted from a surplus of $873 million during the first quarter of 2006 to a deficit of $2.76 billion during the same period of 2007. This change is explained, among other reasons, by lower international oil prices and slower growth of automotive exports. At the same time, Mexico's capital account shifted from a deficit of $873 million during the first quarter of 2006 to a surplus of $4.76 billion during the same period of 2007, and within this capital account surplus, direct foreign investment increased 66.4% to $6.55 billion.

Management Discussion of Fund's Performance and Portfolio Strategy

Throughout the first half of fiscal 2007, the Mexican equity market continued to provide favorable investment opportunities, allowing the Fund to capitalize on the results of its strategy of investing in leading Mexican corporations as well as attractive and growth-oriented small- and medium-capitalization companies. During this period, the Fund's market price and NAV per share registered total returns² of 19.8% and 25.2%, respectively, increasing to $39.53 and $45.74, respectively. These figures compare with returns of 24.7% for the Bolsa IPC-60 Index, 22.4% for the IFCG Mexico Index, 23.9% for the Bolsa IPC Index, 19.0% for the Morgan Stanley Capital International Index and 34.2% for the Bolsa Index of Medium Size Companies.

Mexican listed companies continued reporting strong financial results. For the quarter ended March 31, 2007, compared with the same period of 2006, sales of listed companies increased 11.5%, EBITDA³ increased 14.6% and net income grew 9.7%. The average Price Earnings Ratio (PER) of the market increased from 14.5 times at the end of fiscal 2006, to 17.4 times at the end of April 2007 while the price to book value increased from 3.0 times to 3.4 times during the same period⁴.

The Fund's five portfolio holdings that contributed the most to the growth of the Fund's NAV during the first half of fiscal 2007 were: América Móvil (AMX), Urbi Desarrollos Urbanos (Urbi), Mexichem (Mexchem), América Telecom (Amtel)⁵ and Grupo México (Gmexico), which together accounted for 27.8% of the Fund's net assets as of the end of April 30, 2007. These five issuers provided 45.9% of the total return of the Fund's NAV during this period. AMX provides telecommunications services in Mexico and Latin America; Urbi constructs houses, mostly for the low-income segment; Mexichem is a chemical company; Amtel was the holding company of AMX and Gmexico is a mining company. During this six-month period, the market prices of these five issuers increased 22.9%, 36.8%, 112.6%, 15.1% and 58.5%, respectively. Two other important contributors to the Fund's NAV performance were Walmart de México (Walmex), the retail store and Grupo Cementos Chihuahua, a cement company. The market prices of these two issuers increased 14.1% and 35.0%, respectively.

² Performance figures include dividend distributions and have been adjusted for the rights offering transaction concluded on April 20, 2007. Because Fund shares were issued at a discount to NAV in the rights offering concluded April 20, 2007, there was a dilutive effect on the Fund's NAV per share.

⁵ Amtel was merged into AMX before April 30, 2007.

Until recently, companies listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange were organized only under Mexican law. Lately, companies organized outside of Mexico have listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange, a consequence of the increasing globalization of the Mexican economy and its securities market. Because the Fund's investment adviser believes some of these issuers may present attractive investment opportunities, the Fund's Board of Directors approved an investment policy permitting the Fund to invest in securities of issuers listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange that are not organized in Mexico, provided that such issuers or their subsidiaries have a business presence in Mexico, and that, in the aggregate, do not account for more than 20% of the Fund's NAV. Consistent with this policy, the Fund acquired shares of Tenaris, with significant positive results. Tenaris is a company operating in Mexico but organized in Luxembourg, which is listed on several stock exchanges, including the Mexican Stock Exchange. Investments in Tenaris at April 30, 2007 accounted for 2.49% of the Fund's NAV. None of the 33 equity issuers included in the Fund's portfolio as of April 30, 2007 experienced a negative total return to stockholder during the first half of fiscal 2007.

As of April 30, 2007, the Fund had 20,027,631 shares outstanding, with total net assets of $916 million. The total number of Fund shares traded on all US consolidated markets during fiscal 2006 was 10.73 million shares. The discount between the Fund's market price and NAV ended April 30, 2007 at 13.6%, compared with 13.0% at the end of fiscal 2006. On a regular basis, the Board of Directors closely analyzes the Fund's discount levels.

The following chart shows the Fund's portfolio composition by sector, expressed as a percentage of the Fund's net assets, as of April 30, 2007. The 20.2% net cash position of the portfolio as of this date represents the net proceeds obtained from the rights offering transaction, which was concluded ten days before. The Fund has invested a significant portion of these resources since this date. More detailed information about the Fund's portfolio is available below in this report.

Possible Listing of Fund Shares on the Mexican Stock Exchange

The Board of Directors of the Fund has determined to explore the possibility of registering the Fund's shares with the Registro Nacional de Valores (National Securities Registry) of the Comision Nacional Bancaria y de Valores (Mexican Banking and Securities Commission) and listing them on the Bolsa (Mexican Stock Exchange). The registration and listing of Fund shares on the Bolsa will be subject to review by the appropriate regulatory authorities in Mexico. As a result, the timing of the listing and its impact upon the Fund's intended operations and performance cannot be predicted with certainty.

Rights Offering

The Fund successfully concluded a rights offering transaction on April 20, 2007, which resulted in approximately $187.85 million of additional net assets available for investments by the Fund. The Fund issued one right per every share held on the record date, March 22, 2007, and three rights were required to subscribe for one additional share at a price of $38.89. The rights were transferable and a total of 6,017,900 rights traded on the NYSE from March 26, 2007 through April 19, 2007.

The rationale for the rights offering was to allow the Fund to better take advantage of investment opportunities arising as a result of any continuing positive developments in Mexico and the Mexican equity market. In recent years, inflation, interest rates and foreign exchange rates in Mexico have remained stable despite relatively modest GDP growth. Moreover, the investment grade rating on Mexican government securities appears to reflect an increase in the perceived creditworthiness of the Mexican government. The Fund's Board of Directors and its Investment Adviser believe that this stabilization of the Mexican economy, along with significant international expansion of several Mexican companies, strong commodity prices, growth in the Mexican housing sector and reduced political uncertainty following the 2006 presidential elections, have been important drivers of economic and investment performance in Mexico. Additionally, the Mexican pension funds will further increase their exposure to the Mexican equity market similar to other pension systems in the world, and this could result in significant additional investment in the Mexican equity market. Finally, recent revisions to the Mexican securities laws will create a more encouraging environment for listing small and medium-size companies on the Mexican Bolsa, which could become new investment alternatives for the Fund.

Annual Meeting of Stockholders

The Fund held its annual stockholders' meeting on March 7, 2007 at 1:00 p.m. New York City time at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, 23rd Floor, New York, New York. Fund stockholders re-elected Messrs. José Luis Gómez Pimienta, Claudio X. González and Robert Knauss.

A total of 12,637,736 Fund shares were present at the meeting, constituting a quorum of 84.2%. The results of the meeting were as follows.

Renewal of Investment Advisory and Management Agreement

On March 7, 2007, the Board of Directors (Board) of the Fund, including all independent Directors, approved the continuation of the Investment Advisory and Management Agreement (Agreement) with Impulsora del Fondo México, SC (Impulsora) based on its consideration of various factors, including (1) the nature, extent and quality of services provided by Impulsora to the Fund; (2) the investment performance of the Fund; (3) the costs and services provided, including a comparison of such costs to other comparable funds; (4) profits to be realized by Impulsora from its relationship with the Fund; and (5) the extent to which economies of scale have been realized as the Fund grows and whether fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of Fund investors. In response to a specific request by the Independent Directors, Impulsora provided detailed information concerning the foregoing factors. The Board also evaluated information consisting of comparative figures of overall expenses, management and other fees, of a group of substantially similar funds. As discussed more fully below, the Board considered the Fund's positive performance, as well as the Fund's current advisory fee rate which is one of the lowest in the closed-end fund industry. The Board determined that the fees payable to Impulsora were reasonable, especially in light of the quality of the services provided, as well as the level of advisory fees paid by comparable funds.

The following discussion is not intended to be all-inclusive. The Board reviewed a variety of factors and considered a significant amount of information, including information received on an ongoing basis at meetings of the Board and Board committees. In view of the broad scope and variety of these factors and information, the Board did not find it practicable, and did not make specific assessments of, quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors in reaching their conclusions and determinations to approve the continuance of the investment Advisory and Management Agreement.

- The nature, extent and quality of the advisory services provided. The Board concluded that Impulsora provides high quality services to the Fund, as indicated by the Fund's competitive investment performance, including its performance as compared to the Mexican market indices, as well as against other listed funds that invest exclusively in Mexican securities. The Board further noted that Impulsora provides all facilities and services necessary to analyze, execute and maintain investments that are consistent with the Fund's objectives, and has done so since the Fund's inception in 1981.
- The investment performance of the Fund. As noted above, the Board determined that Impulsora has achieved competitive or superior investment performance relative to the leading Mexican equity indices and comparable funds. In fact, the Board noted that during the past two years, the Fund has outperformed all comparable funds investing in Mexican equity securities except for one proprietary fund. The Board also considered the efforts made by Impulsora to address the discount between the Fund's net asset value and market price.
- The costs of advisory services provided and the level of profitability. The Board reviewed the fees charged by Impulsora for investment advisory services, the gross revenues and pre-tax profits earned by Impulsora. On the basis of this information, the Board concluded that the level of investment advisory fees is appropriate in light of the management fees and that the overall expense ratios compared favorably to other similar funds and the anticipated profitability of the relationship between the Fund and Impulsora. Further, on the basis of comparative information supplied by Lipper Inc., the Board determined that the investment advisory fee of the Fund was competitive and lower than the weighted average of other comparable closed-end country funds. In addition, the Board reviewed itemized expenses incurred by some other world equity closed-end funds as compared to the Fund. The Board also reviewed the actual dollar amount of the fees payable under the Investment Advisory and Management Agreement, as well as the fee as a percentage of assets under management.

- Whether the advisory fees reflect economies of scale and the extent to which economies of scale will be realized as the Fund grows. The Board determined that the investment advisory fees payable under the advisory arrangements already reflect potential future economies of scale through the existing fee structure, which includes the imposition of breakpoints as Fund assets increase, of 1.00% of average net assets for assets up to and including $200 million, 0.90% of average net assets in excess of $200 million and up to $400 million, and 0.60% of average net assets for assets in excess of $400 million.
- Benefits to Impulsora from relationships with the Fund (and any corresponding benefit to the Fund). The Board determined that other benefits described by Impulsora are reasonable and fair, and are consistent with industry practice and the best interest of the Fund and its stockholders. In this regard, the Board specifically considered the benefits to Impulsora due to the fact that it also serves, and receives an additional fee from the Fund as administrator to the Fund. In addition, the Board considered the fact that Impulsora also receives $75,000 for each Fund repurchase offer (with such amount payable through an adjustment to the repurchase price paid to shareholders participating in the repurchase offer in order to reimburse the Fund for repurchase offer related expenses). With regard to brokerage, the Board noted that Impulsora does not utilize soft dollar arrangements. With regard to benefits to the Fund, the Board considered the fact that Impulsora has been able to obtain from Mexican brokerage houses, on behalf of the Fund, one of the lowest commission rates in Mexico.

Concentration Policy

The Fund has adopted a concentration policy that permits it to concentrate its investments in any industry or group of industries in the IPC Index (or any successor or comparable index as determined by the Board of Directors to be an appropriate measure of the Mexican market) if, at the time of investment, such industry represents 20% or more of the IPC Index; provided, however, that the Fund will not exceed the IPC Index concentration by more than 5%.

At the end of April 2007, the only industry group that represented 20% or more of the value of the securities included in the IPC Index is the communications industry group. This industry includes local, long-distance, and cellular telephone companies, as well as broadcast and media companies. Approximately 84.70% of this industry group is comprised of stocks of telecommunications companies. At the end of April 2007, 23.55% of the Fund's net assets were invested in this industry group. This is compared with the communications industry group's weighting of approximately 38.24% of the IPC Index. The Fund's Investment Adviser will continue to evaluate the concentration in this industry and may choose not to concentrate in this industry group in the future or to concentrate in other industries subject to the concentration policy described above.

Periodic Repurchase Offer Authority

On March 6, 2002, the Fund announced the Board's approval of a policy to conduct periodic in-kind repurchase offers at no less than 98% of NAV for up to 100% of the Fund's outstanding shares.

This policy is intended to provide additional liquidity to Fund shares and to reduce the discount at which Fund shares have been trading on the NYSE. Under this policy which was approved by stockholders and is the subject of exemptive relief granted by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the Fund offers to repurchase no less than five percent of the Fund's outstanding shares each fiscal year, based on the number of shares outstanding at the beginning of the fiscal year. Repurchase offers are in-kind and conducted at least once each fiscal year, but not more frequently than quarterly, and are for between one and one hundred percent of the Fund's outstanding shares. The Board can set or reset the periodic interval between repurchase offers at three, six or 12 months. The Board of Directors of the Fund has announced that the Fund's next repurchase offer will occur during September 2007.

The repurchase offers are not part of a plan to liquidate the Fund. Stockholder participation in the repurchase offers is not mandatory as stockholders can continue to purchase and sell Fund shares in cash transactions on the NYSE. The Fund continues to provide a convenient professionally managed vehicle for investing in Mexico.

 Total investment return is calculated assuming a purchase of common stock on the opening of the first day and a sale on the last business day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed to be reinvested at the lower of the net asset value or the closing market price on the dividend/distribution day. If the fiscal 2003 distribution were taken in stock, which was issued at $12.08 per share, the total return would have been 20.99% for that year. For fiscal 2004, the total return was calculated assuming a sale of the rights received on September 22, and reinvested in stock at the closing market price of that date. For the six months ended April 30, 2007, the total return was calculated assuming a sale of the rights received on March 26, and reinvested in stock at the closing market price of that date. If the fiscal 2007 distribution were taken in stock, which was issued at $38.95 per share, the total return would have been 19.96%.

Notes to Financial Statements April 30, 2007 (Unaudited)

1. Operations and Significant Accounting Policies:

The Mexico Fund, Inc. (the Fund) is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended (the 1940 Act), as a closed-end management investment company. On October 16, 2000, the Fund received stockholder approval to convert from a diversified to a non-diversified investment company under the 1940 Act. The investment objective of the Fund is to seek long term capital appreciation through investment in securities, primarily equity, listed on the Mexican Stock Exchange.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses for the period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. The following is a summary of significant accounting policies followed by the Fund.

Valuation of investments Investments in which the principal exchange is on the Mexican Stock Exchange are valued at the closing price reported by the Mexican Stock Exchange. The closing price represents the weighted average for the last twenty minutes of operations in any business day. Investments in which the principal exchange is the New York Stock Exchange are valued at the last sale price. Short-term securities with remaining maturities of less than 60 days at the time of purchase are carried at cost, plus accrued interest, which approximates market value. All other securities are valued in accordance with methods determined by the Board of Directors. If the Board of Directors believes that the price of a security obtained under the Fund's valuation procedures does not represent the amount that the Fund reasonably expects to receive on a current sale of the security, the Fund will value the security based on a method that the Board believes accurately reflects fair value.

Security transactions and investment income Security transactions are recorded on the date which the transactions are entered into (the trade date). Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date and interest income is recorded as earned.

Foreign Currency The market value of Mexican securities, currency holdings and other assets and liabilities denominated in Pesos (Ps.) was recorded in the financial statements after being translated into U.S. dollars based on the open market exchange rate prevailing in Mexico City at the end of the period. The open market exchange rate at April 30, 2007 was Ps. 10.9278 to $1.00.

The identified cost of portfolio holdings is translated at approximate rates prevailing when acquired. Income and expense amounts are translated at approximate rates prevailing when earned or incurred.

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations arising as a result of changes in the foreign exchange rates from the fluctuations arising from changes in the market prices of securities during the year. Accordingly, the net realized and unrealized gain on investments presented in the accompanying financial statements include the effects of both such changes.

Edgar Filing: MEXICO FUND INC - Form N-CSRS

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of short-term securities in exchange of cash, payment of services or functional currency denominated assets, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded by the Fund, and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amount actually received or paid.

Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities other than investments in common stocks, resulting from changes in the exchange rate.

Repurchase Agreements The Fund enters into repurchase agreements with approved institutions. The Fund's repurchase agreements are fully collateralized by Mexican or U.S. Government securities. The Fund takes possession of the collateral and the Fund's investment adviser monitors the credit standing of repurchase agreement counterparties. It is the Fund's policy that the fair value of the collateral be at least equal to the principal amount of the repurchase transaction, including accrued interest, at all times. If the counterparty defaults, and the fair value of the collateral declines, realization of the collateral by the Fund may be delayed or limited.

Realized gains and losses on investments Realized gains and losses on investments are determined on the identified cost basis.

Taxes No provision has been made for U.S. income or excise taxes for the six months ended April 30, 2007 on net investment company taxable income or net long-term capital gains as defined by the Internal Revenue Code (the Code), since the Fund intends to comply with the requirements of the Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of such income to its stockholders.

Dividends to stockholders from net investment income are determined based on Federal income tax regulations, whereas the corresponding net investment income as reflected in the accompanying financial statements, is presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Net realized gains from security transactions are distributed annually to stockholders.

Dividends to stockholders Cash dividends are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. Dividends paid to stockholders may be subject to Mexican withholding taxes.

Risks of Investment in Mexican Securities Investing in Mexican securities involves certain considerations not typically associated with investing in securities of U.S. issuers, including (1) lesser liquidity and smaller market capitalization of the Mexican securities markets, (2) currency fluctuations, (3) higher rates of inflation and domestic interest rates and (4) less stringent disclosure requirements, less available information regarding Mexican public companies and less active regulatory oversight of Mexican public companies.

The Mexican Stock Exchange is a concentrated market. A large percentage of the value of the Mexican securities market is currently represented by certain industry sectors, in particular, the communications industry. Also, a certain individual has a controlling interest in companies representing over 40% of the market capitalization of the Mexican Stock Exchange. The value of the Mexican Stock Exchange may be subject to greater volatility than markets that are less concentrated. Any factors or events which impact this individual could have negative repercussions for the issuers in which he holds a controlling interest, including certain Fund investments and the Mexican Stock Exchange as a whole.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements In July 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes an Interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (the Interpretation). The Interpretation establishes for all entities, including pass-through entities such as the Fund, a minimum threshold for financial statement recognition of the benefit of positions taken in filing tax returns (including whether an entity is taxable in a particular jurisdiction), and requires certain expanded tax disclosures. The Interpretation is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2006, and is to be applied to all open tax years as of the date of effectiveness. Management has recently begun to evaluate the application of the Interpretation to the Fund, and is not in a position at this time to estimate the significance of its impact, if any, on the Fund's financial statements.

In September 2006, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) 157, Fair Value Measurements, which clarifies the definition of fair value and requires companies to expand their disclosure about the use of fair value to measure assets and liabilities in interim and annual periods subsequent to initial recognition. Adoption of SFAS 157 requires the use of the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. SFAS 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. At this time, the Fund is in the process of reviewing the Standard against its current valuation policies to determine future applicability.

2. Investment Advisory Agreement:

The Fund has a management contract with Impulsora del Fondo México, S.C. (the Adviser), a Mexican company registered under the U.S. Investment Advisers Act of 1940. The Adviser furnishes investment research and portfolio management services consistent with the Fund's stated investment policies. The Fund pays to the Adviser a monthly fee at the annual rate of 1.00% on the first $200 million of average daily net assets, 0.90% on the excess over $200 million up to $400 million and 0.60% on the excess over $400 million.

3. Administrative Services Agreement:

The Fund has entered into an Administrative Services Agreement with the Adviser, which provides for certain services to be performed by the Adviser, including among other administrative activities, the determination and publication of the net asset value of the Fund, the maintenance of the Fund's books and records in accordance with applicable U.S. and Mexican Laws and assistance in the preparation and filing of annual reports and tax returns. Prior to March 7, 2007, the Fund paid to the Adviser a monthly fee at the annual rate of 0.11% of average daily net assets, with a minimum amount of $450,000 per year. On March 7, 2007, the Fund's Board of Directors approved a modification in the fee structure of the contract with the Adviser. Accordingly, starting March 7, 2007, the Fund pays to the Adviser a monthly fee at the annual rate of 0.11% on the first $600 million of average daily net assets, and 0.09% on the excess over $600 million, with a minimum amount of $450,000 per year. Additionally, the Adviser receives a fee of $75,000 per repurchase offer made by the Fund under the program, which is recorded as part of the total expenses of each offer. See Note 7.

4. Purchases and Sales of Investments:

Purchases and sales of investments, excluding short-term securities, for the six months ended April 30, 2007 were as follows:

Purchases
Common Stock	$ 75,939,775

Edgar Filing: MEXICO FUND INC - Form N-CSRS

Total Purchases	$	75,939,775
Proceeds from Investments Sold
Common Stock	$	137,466,839
Total Sales	$	137,466,839

Included in proceeds from investments sold, is $32,908,032 representing the value of securities disposed of in payment of redemptions in-kind, resulting in realized gains of $23,136,459. Pursuant to a private letter ruling from the Internal Revenue Service, granted to the Fund, these gains are not recognized by the Fund for tax purposes. As a result, net realized gains differ for financial statement and tax purposes. These realized gains have been reclassified from undistributed realized gains on investments to additional paid in capital in the accompanying financial statements.

5. Capital Stock:

At April 30, 2007, there were 150,000,000 shares of $1.00 par value common stock authorized, of which 20,027,631 shares were outstanding.

The Fund offers a Dividend Reinvestment Plan (Plan) to its stockholders. Fund stockholders are automatically enrolled as participants in the Plan unless they notify the Fund's transfer agent otherwise.
