ITEM 2.06 Material Impairments

On January 9, 2009, Equity Residential (together with its operating partnership, ERP Operating Limited Partnership, the Company) announced that the Company today had completed a review of its investment activities and operating strategy in light of current and anticipated conditions in the economy and capital and real estate markets and concluded that a material asset impairment charge was required under generally accepted accounting principles. The Company anticipates that the estimated non-cash charge to be recorded during the fourth quarter of 2008 is approximately $115 million for impairment in the value of its land holdings for five potential development projects that the Company no longer plans to pursue.

The impairment charge is the difference between each parcel's estimated fair value and current capitalized carrying value, which includes pursuit costs. The impairment charge does not affect the Company's continued compliance with its financial or debt covenants and is not expected to result in any material future cash expenditures.

For additional information concerning the impairment charge, refer to Exhibit 99.1 attached to this Current Report on Form 8-K.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements and information within the meaning of the federal securities laws. These statements are based on current expectations, estimates, projections and assumptions made by management. While the Company's management believes the assumptions underlying its forward-looking statements are reasonable, such information is inherently subject to uncertainties and may involve certain risks, including, without limitation, changes in general market conditions, including the rate of job growth and cost of labor and construction material, the level of new multifamily construction and development, competition and local government regulation. Other risks and uncertainties are described under the heading "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K and subsequent periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and available on our website, www.equityresidential.com. Many of these uncertainties and risks are difficult to predict and beyond management's control. Forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance, results or events. The Company assumes no obligation to update or supplement forward-looking statements that become untrue because of subsequent events.
