FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SAVING DYNEGY: SENECA CAPITAL TO NOMINATE PIONEERING RAILROAD EXECUTIVE, E. HUNTER HARRISON, AND SUCCESSFUL POWER INDUSTRY VETERAN, JEFF HUNTER, TO DYNEGY BOARD OF DIRECTORS

NEW YORK, November 11 Seneca Capital, the largest holder of Dynegy Inc. (NYSE: DYN) equity with a 12% economic interest (including 9.3% voting common stock), is pleased to announce that E. HUNTER HARRISON, pioneering former Chief Executive Officer of Canadian National Railway (CN) and JEFF HUNTER, successful Co-founder and Chief Financial Officer of US Power Generating Company (USPG), have agreed to serve as nominees for election to the Dynegy Board by written consent of shareholders. Both Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter are compelled by the Dynegy investment opportunity and believe in the full alignment of their interests with those of shareholders. Mr. Harrison recently acquired 500,000 shares of Dynegy and intends to hold at least that amount during his tenure on the Board. Mr. Hunter commits to own 300,000 shares of Dynegy during his tenure on the Board. In contrast, the five non-executive members of Dynegy's existing Board of Directors own a combined total of less than 160,000 shares, of which approximately 90% are phantom shares granted by the company as compensation for Board service. Seneca's proposals include revising the existing Board compensation structure to create proper alignment with shareholders going forward.

Seneca is seeking to replace only two of six directors at this juncture in order to avoid triggering change-of-control provisions in Dynegy's credit facility and its executive compensation agreements. Seneca is proposing to replace Bruce Williamson and David Biegler, whom Seneca believes have been two of the strongest supporters of the proposed Merger. In addition to the consent solicitation for Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter, Seneca stands ready to propose additional highly-qualified directors in the event existing directors step down from the Board after shareholders vote down the proposed Merger. It is Seneca's opinion that those members of the Board who have endorsed management's scorched-earth approach in defending the sale of the company at $4.50 per share ($0.90 per share adjusted for reverse split) and that endorsed the buyback of 30% of Dynegy in August 2009 at $9.65 per share will likely step down from their positions once the Merger proposal is defeated.

Creating Value for Shareholders

Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter have both demonstrated enormously successful track records in maximizing value for shareholders. Considered by investors to be one of the greatest value creating railroad CEOs in modern times, Mr. Harrison, while at CN, rewarded investors with a total shareholder return of more than 500%. In addition, during his tenure as CEO/COO of Illinois Central, his equity investors realized substantial multiples on their invested capital. Mr. Hunter has likewise driven compelling shareholder returns at USPG where market expectations for current prices of the company's assets imply a two-to-three times return for USPG founding investors.

Capturing Operational Efficiencies

At CN, Mr. Harrison was renowned as an industry pioneer for developing the concept of precision railroading which reshaped the paradigm of operating efficiency in the industry increasing CN's operating margins by 50% from a level of 22% in 1997 to more than 33% in 2009.

Over the last several years at USPG, Mr. Hunter has demonstrated an impressive capability for cutting costs, successfully reducing SG&A expenses by 33% and leading the reduction of collateral requirements by more than 50%.

Unique Value-Added to Dynegy

In addition to his impressive track record of value creation and cost cutting, Mr. Harrison is an expert in coal transportation, the largest component of Dynegy's delivered coal costs, and should be value added in advising Dynegy on strategy towards coal transportation contract negotiations.

Mr. Hunter has substantial experience managing a large fleet of power generation facilities as well as negotiating complicated bank financing, hedging and collateral arrangements. As an experienced industry financial executive, it is Mr. Hunter's opinion that Dynegy does not have any near-term liquidity issues and that the company possesses multiple tools to maintain appropriate liquidity. Mr. Hunter stands ready to assist in an interim management role if deemed helpful by the Board.

Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter have the proven capabilities, background and leadership vision to begin the process of refocusing Dynegy as the premier vehicle for investors to participate in power market recovery. Seneca will file preliminary consent solicitation materials on Monday, November 15 and expects that SEC clearance of solicitation materials for the written consent process will require a minimum of twenty days. Upon receipt of SEC clearance, Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter will be appointed to the Board of directors once votes from a majority of outstanding shareholders can be collected. In addition to the director consent solicitation, Seneca currently intends to propose a series of value enhancing shareholder resolutions that will provide a mandate to the reinvigorated Board to 1) explore a strategic review of the company and/or its assets, 2) consider strategies for the optimization of the capital structure, 3) evaluate cost cutting opportunities, 4) review top management to ensure that proper talent and alignment is in place to capture value for shareholders and 5) explore unwinding of the reverse split in a shareholder-friendly manner.

Seneca believes that its plan for a refocused Dynegy with a re-energized Board including Mr. Harrison and Mr. Hunter, both of whom are aligned with shareholders, should provide an extremely attractive proposition to the substantial number of investors that Seneca believes are awaiting the defeat of the proposed merger to build or add to their investment positions in Dynegy stock.

Seneca strongly recommends that shareholders VOTE AGAINST the proposed merger. It is the WRONG PRICE at the WRONG TIME for the WRONG REASONS.
