Dear Shareholder of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc.:

The boards of directors of Northfield Bancorp, Inc. and Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. have agreed to a merger of our companies. If the merger is completed, each share of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. common stock, par value $0.01 per share, will be converted into the right to receive 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp, Inc. common stock, par value $0.01 per share, subject to adjustment as described in this proxy statement/prospectus. After the completion of the merger, we expect that Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. shareholders, including Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC, will own approximately 1,299,483 shares of Northfield Bancorp, Inc. common stock, or approximately 3.1% of the combined company based on the shares outstanding as of June 30, 2012, of which approximately 594,781 shares will be held by shareholders other than Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC. Special Meeting of Flatbush Bancorp Shareholders; Required Vote (page 22)

A special meeting of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders is scheduled to be held at the New York Marriott at the Brooklyn Bridge, located at 333 Adams Street, Brooklyn, New York at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Time, on October 24, 2012. At the special meeting, you will be asked to vote on a proposal to approve the Merger Agreement and a non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements. You may also be asked to vote to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, to permit further solicitation of proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the Merger Agreement.

Only Flatbush Bancorp shareholders of record as of the close of business on September 12, 2012 are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the special meeting and any adjournments or postponements of the special meeting.

Approval of the Merger Agreement requires the affirmative vote of holders of (i) at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock entitled to vote and (ii) a majority of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock held by shareholders other than Flatbush MHC. Approval of the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements requires the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares represented at the special meeting and entitled to vote. Approval of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary, requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares represented at the special meeting and entitled to vote. As of the record date, there were 2,736,907 shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock outstanding. The directors and executive officers of Flatbush Bancorp, as a group, beneficially owned 60,284 shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock (not including shares that may be acquired upon the exercise of stock options), representing 2.2% of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock as of the record date. In addition, Flatbush MHC, which owned 1,484,208 shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock, representing 54.2% of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock as of the record date, has agreed to vote its shares in favor of the Merger Agreement at the special meeting. We further expect that Flatbush MHC will vote its shares in favor of the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements and in favor of the proposal to adjourn the special meeting, if necessary. This would ensure the approval of each of these two proposals.

The Mergers and the Merger Agreement (page 24)

The Mergers are governed by the Merger Agreement, which provides that the Mergers shall be effected as follows:

In the MHC Merger, Flatbush MHC will merge with and into Northfield MHC, with Northfield MHC as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush MHC will cease.

Immediately following the MHC Merger, Flatbush Bancorp will merge with and into Northfield Bancorp in the Mid-Tier Merger, with Northfield Bancorp as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush Bancorp will cease.

Each share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to effectiveness of the Mid-Tier Merger held by Flatbush Bancorp common shareholders will be converted into, as provided in and subject to the terms set forth in the Merger Agreement, the right to receive 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp, with cash paid in lieu of fractional shares.

In the Bank Merger, Flatbush Federal Savings will merge with and into Northfield Bank, with Northfield Bank as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush Federal Savings will cease.

We encourage you to read the Merger Agreement, which is included as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus.

What Flatbush Bancorp Shareholders Will Receive as Consideration in the Mergers (page 44)

Under the Merger Agreement, each share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock you own will be exchanged for 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp, with cash paid in lieu of fractional shares. This exchange ratio is subject to adjustment if Flatbush Bancorp's Adjusted Stockholders Equity (described below) as of the last day of the month prior to the month in which the Mid-Tier Merger is expected to occur is less than $18,275,000, in which case the exchange ratio shall be decreased by an amount equal to the quotient of ((x) the difference between $18,275,000 and the Adjusted Stockholders Equity as of such measurement date divided by (y) the number of outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock as of the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger), divided by $13.69 (rounded to the nearest ten-thousandth). Adjusted Stockholders Equity shall mean the consolidated stockholders equity of Flatbush Bancorp, calculated in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, adjusted to:

- (i) exclude the effect of the payment or accrual of all customary fees and expenses directly related to the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, calculated on a tax-effected basis where appropriate; and
- (ii) add any effects from accumulated other comprehensive income back to equity.

The merger consideration of 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp's common stock for every share of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock was calculated to provide a value of $6.50 per share of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock based upon the average closing price of Northfield Bancorp common stock for the 10-day period ending March 12, 2012 of $13.69. The value of the merger consideration may increase or decrease both prior to and following the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger depending on the trading price of Northfield Bancorp's common stock.

See Description of the Merger Agreement Consideration to be Received in the Mid-Tier Merger for a complete description of the consideration to be received by Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in the Mergers, including a complete description of the potential adjustment to the consideration.

The following table shows the closing price per share of Northfield Bancorp common stock and Flatbush Bancorp common stock and the equivalent price per share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock, giving effect to the Mergers, on March 12, 2012, which is the last day preceding the public announcement of the proposed Mergers, and on September 12, 2012, the record date for the special meeting. The equivalent price per share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock was computed by multiplying the price of a share of Northfield Bancorp common stock by the 0.4748 exchange ratio. See Description of the Mergers Consideration to be Received in the Mid-Tier Merger on page 44.

	Northfield Bancorp Common Stock	Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. Common Stock	Equivalent Price Per Share of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. Common Stock

Recommendation of the Flatbush Bancorp Board of Directors (page 23)

The Flatbush Bancorp board of directors has unanimously approved the Merger Agreement and the proposed Mid-Tier Merger. The Flatbush Bancorp board believes that the Merger Agreement, including the Mid-Tier Merger contemplated by the Merger Agreement, is fair to, and in the best interests of, Flatbush Bancorp and its shareholders, and therefore unanimously recommends that Flatbush Bancorp shareholders vote

FOR the proposal to approve the Merger Agreement. In reaching this decision, Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors considered a variety of factors, which are described in the section captioned Description of the Merger Background of and Reasons for the Mergers.

The Flatbush Bancorp board of directors also unanimously recommends that Flatbush Bancorp shareholders vote FOR approval of the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements and FOR the proposal to adjourn the special meeting to a later date or dates, if necessary, to permit further solicitation of proxies if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the special meeting to approve the Merger Agreement.

Opinion of Flatbush Bancorp's Financial Advisor (page 31)

In considering whether the Mergers were advisable and in the best interests of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders, one of the factors considered by Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors was the opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P., which served as financial advisor to Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors in connection with the Mid-Tier Merger. Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. delivered to Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors its written opinion, dated March 13, 2012, that the exchange ratio was fair to the public shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp common stock from a financial point of view. The full text of this opinion is included as Annex B to this proxy statement/prospectus. You should read the opinion carefully to understand the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations of the review conducted by Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. Flatbush Bancorp has agreed to pay Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. a fee equal to 1.1% of the aggregate consideration to be paid in connection with the Mergers, $140,000 of which has already been paid and the remainder of which is payable if the Mergers are completed.

Regulatory Matters Relating to the Mergers (page 49)

Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, the Mergers cannot be completed unless they are first approved by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Federal Reserve Board) and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Northfield filed the required applications in May 2012. As of the date of this document, Northfield has not received any regulatory approvals. While Northfield does not know of any reason why it would not be able to obtain approvals in a timely manner, Northfield cannot be certain when or if it will receive regulatory approval.

Conditions to Completing the Mergers (page 55)

The completion of the Mergers is subject to the fulfillment of a number of conditions, including:

approval of the Merger Agreement at the special meeting by holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock entitled to vote and holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp held by shareholders other than Flatbush MHC;

approval of the Merger Agreement by the members of Flatbush MHC (depositors and borrowers of Flatbush Federal Savings) at a special meeting of members called for that purpose;

approval of the Mergers by the appropriate regulatory authorities, and all written agreements then in effect between Flatbush and any regulatory authority will have been terminated or the regulatory authority has agreed to terminate such written agreement contemporaneously with the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement;

receipt by each party of an opinion from legal counsel to the effect that the Mergers will be treated for federal income tax purposes as reorganizations within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code; and the continued accuracy of representations and warranties made in the Merger Agreement.

Terminating the Merger Agreement (page 65)

The Merger Agreement may be terminated by mutual consent of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp at any time prior to the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger. Additionally, subject to conditions and circumstances described in the Merger Agreement, either Northfield Bancorp or Flatbush Bancorp may terminate the Merger Agreement if, among other things, any of the following occur:

there is a breach by the other party of any representation, warranty, covenant or agreement contained in the Merger Agreement, which cannot be cured, or has not been cured within 30 days after the giving of written notice to such party of such breach;

the Mid-Tier Merger has not been consummated by November 30, 2012;

Flatbush Bancorp shareholders do not approve the Merger Agreement at the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting;

Flatbush MHC members do not approve the Merger Agreement at a special meeting called for that purpose; or a required regulatory approval is denied or a governmental authority prohibits the consummation of any of the Mergers. Northfield Bancorp may also terminate the Merger Agreement if the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp does not recommend approval of the Mid-Tier Merger in the proxy statement/prospectus or withdraws or modifies/qualifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to Northfield Bancorp. Flatbush Bancorp may also terminate the Merger Agreement if it chooses to accept a superior proposal from a third party, and pays the fee described below in Termination Fee.

Mutual-To-Stock Conversion of Northfield MHC (page 66)

On June 6, 2012, the Board of Directors of Northfield Bancorp and the Board of Trustees of Northfield MHC adopted a Plan of Conversion and Reorganization (the Plan of Conversion) pursuant to which Northfield MHC will convert from the mutual to stock form. If the conversion and reorganization are completed, Northfield Bank will become a wholly owned subsidiary of a new holding company, which also will be named Northfield Bancorp, Inc. (New Northfield). Shares of common stock of Northfield Bancorp held by persons other than Northfield MHC at the time of the completion of the conversion will be converted into shares of common stock of New Northfield pursuant to an exchange ratio intended to result in such persons holding the same percentage interest in New Northfield as they hold in Northfield Bancorp immediately prior to the completion of the conversion. The shares of Northfield Bancorp held by Northfield MHC will be cancelled and shares of New Northfield, representing Northfield MHC's majority ownership interest, will be sold in a stock offering.

Depositors of Northfield Bank with qualifying deposits as of March 31, 2011, will have first priority to purchase the shares of common stock. Subject to closing of the Mergers, depositors of Flatbush Federal Savings who had qualifying deposits with Flatbush Federal Savings as of March 31, 2011 will be treated as having had those deposits with Northfield Bank on that date and will also have first priority to purchase shares of New Northfield common stock.

Under current federal regulation and policy, the Mergers cannot be consummated after the completion of the conversion and stock offering. Accordingly, Northfield does not expect to commence the stock offering until the Mergers are completed or the Merger Agreement is terminated. However, completion of the Mergers is not a condition to conducting the conversion and stock offering, and the conversion and stock offering may be completed if the Mergers are not consummated. Conversely, the Mergers can be completed without Northfield MHC and Northfield Bancorp completing the conversion and the stock offering, as Northfield Bancorp may determine, at any time, not to proceed with the conversion and stock offering, or may be unable to complete the conversion and stock offering.

The transactions contemplated by the Plan of Conversion are subject to approval by Northfield Bancorp's shareholders (including approval by a majority of the shares held by persons other than Northfield MHC). Failure to receive either of their approvals would result in Northfield Bancorp being unable to complete the conversion and stock offering. Flatbush Bancorp shareholders who are shareholders of Northfield Bancorp as of the voting record date for the Plan of Conversion will be entitled to vote on the conversion at a special meeting to be held separately from the special meeting of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders to approve the Merger Agreement.

Termination Fee (page 66)

Under certain circumstances described in the Merger Agreement, Flatbush Bancorp may be required to pay Northfield Bancorp a fee of $700,000 in connection with the termination of the Merger Agreement. See Description of the Mergers Termination Fee for a list of the circumstances under which a termination fee is payable.

Litigation Related to the Mergers (page 50)

On March 26, 2012, a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder filed a putative class action lawsuit on behalf of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Kings, against Flatbush Bancorp, Flatbush MHC, each member of the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors, and Northfield Bancorp and Northfield MHC. The complaint was amended June 28, 2012. The case is captioned Robert H. Elburn et. al. v. Jesus R. Adia, D. John Antonello, Patricia A. McKinley Scanlan, Alfred S. Pantaleone, Charles J. Vorbach, Michael J. Lincks, Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc., Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC, Northfield Bancorp, Inc. and Northfield Bancorp, MHC. The amended complaint alleges, among other things, that the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors breached its fiduciary duties by agreeing to inadequate consideration, engaging in a process that involved conflicts of interest and by failing to disclose certain material facts to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 15, 2012. The complaint also alleges that Flatbush Bancorp, Flatbush MHC, Northfield Bancorp and Northfield MHC aided and abetted the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors' breaches of fiduciary duties. Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp believe the complaint is without merit and intend to vigorously defend against the lawsuit.

Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours (page 51)

In considering the recommendation of the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp to approve the Merger Agreement, you should be aware that officers and directors of Flatbush Bancorp have employment and other compensation agreements or plans that give them interests in the Mergers that are somewhat different from, or in addition to, your interests as Flatbush Bancorp shareholders. These interests and agreements, which provide for payments in the aggregate amount of up to approximately $2.0 million, include:

Employment agreements that provide for severance payments in connection with a termination of employment without cause or by the executive for any reason following a change in control;

Interests of non-employee directors under an Amended and Restated Directors Retirement Plan;

Interests of Messrs. Jesus R. Adia and John Lotardo under Amended and Restated Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreements;

The termination of all outstanding Flatbush Bancorp stock options, whether or not vested, with a payment to the holder of the option of an amount of cash equal to (i) the excess of $6.50 over the applicable per share exercise price of that option, net of any cash which must be withheld for federal and state income and employment tax purposes, multiplied by (ii) the number of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock that the holder could have purchased with the option if the holder had exercised the option immediately prior to the effective time;

The acceleration of vesting of outstanding restricted stock awards, which the holder shall then be entitled to exchange for the merger consideration (less any shares withheld to satisfy the tax withholding obligation);

The non-employee directors of Flatbush Bancorp and its subsidiaries shall be invited, and be compensated for a period of up to three years, to join a newly established advisory board of Northfield Bank; and

Rights of officers and directors of Flatbush Bancorp and its subsidiaries to continued indemnification coverage and continued coverage under directors' and officers' liability insurance policies.

Approval of the Non-Binding Proposal Regarding Certain Merger-Related Executive Compensation Arrangements Requires the Affirmative Vote of the Holders of a Majority of the Outstanding Shares of Flatbush Bancorp Common Stock Entitled to Vote on the Matter (page 79)

Approval of the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock entitled to vote on the matter. Shareholders should note that the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements is an advisory vote which will not be binding on Flatbush Bancorp, Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors, or Northfield Bancorp. Further, the underlying plans and arrangements are contractual in nature and not, by their terms, subject to shareholder approval. Accordingly, regardless of the outcome of the non-binding advisory vote, if the Mergers are consummated, Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers will be eligible to receive the various payments and benefits in accordance with the terms and conditions applicable to those arrangements. However, we expect that Flatbush MHC will vote its shares in favor of the non-binding proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements, which would ensure the approval of the proposal.

Accounting Treatment of the Mergers (page 46)

The Mergers will be accounted for in accordance with accounting standards for business combinations under U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Comparison of Rights of Shareholders (page 77)

When the Mid-Tier Merger is completed, Flatbush Bancorp shareholders will become Northfield Bancorp shareholders and their rights will be governed by Northfield Bancorp's charter and bylaws. There are no material differences between the respective rights of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp shareholders.

No Dissenters' Rights (page 24)

Flatbush Bancorp shareholders do not have dissenters' rights under federal law or regulations.

Material Tax Consequences of the Mergers (page 46)

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGERS AND THE SPECIAL MEETING

Q: What am I being asked to vote on? What is the proposed transaction?

A: You are being asked to vote on the approval of a Merger Agreement that provides for (i) the merger of Flatbush MHC into Northfield MHC, (ii) the merger of Flatbush Bancorp into Northfield Bancorp, and (iii) the merger of Flatbush Federal Savings into Northfield Bancorp's banking subsidiary, Northfield Bank. A copy of the Merger Agreement is provided as Annex A to this document. The Flatbush Bancorp board of directors has determined that the proposed Mergers are advisable and in the best interests of its shareholders, has unanimously approved the Merger Agreement and recommends that its shareholders vote FOR the approval of the Merger Agreement.

Q: What will Flatbush Bancorp shareholders be entitled to receive in the Mid-Tier Merger?

A: Under the Merger Agreement, each share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock will be exchanged for 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp common stock, subject to adjustment if Flatbush Bancorp's Adjusted Stockholders Equity as of the last day of the month prior to the month in which the Mid-Tier Merger is expected to occur is less than $18,275,000.

Northfield Bancorp will not issue fractional shares in the Mid-Tier Merger. Instead, each Flatbush Bancorp shareholder will receive a cash payment, without interest, for the value of any fraction of a share of Northfield Bancorp common stock that such shareholder would otherwise be entitled to receive. See Description of the Mergers Consideration to be Received in the Mid-Tier Merger on page 44 and Description of Northfield Bancorp Capital Stock on page 75.

Q: What dividends will be paid after the Mergers?

A: Northfield Bancorp declared its initial dividend during the quarter ended December 31, 2008. Dividends were declared in each subsequent quarterly period through the quarter ended March 31, 2012. This final dividend payment was $0.06 per share, which equals $0.24 per share on an annualized basis. Northfield Bancorp stopped paying dividends following the March 31, 2012 quarter due to a Federal Reserve Board requirement that a grandfathered mutual holding company, like Northfield MHC, obtain member (depositor) approval and comply with other procedural requirements prior to waiving dividends, which would make dividend waivers by Northfield MHC impracticable.

After the completion of the conversion and stock offering, New Northfield intends to pay cash dividends on a quarterly basis. New Northfield expects the quarterly dividends per share to be $0.06 per share of common stock of New Northfield. New Northfield also intends to seek regulatory approval to pay a one-time, special dividend of $0.25 per share to all New Northfield shareholders. No assurances can be given as to whether or when such approval may be obtained. In addition, Northfield Bancorp cannot assure you that Northfield Bancorp or New Northfield will pay dividends in the future, or that any such dividends will not be reduced or eliminated. See Risk Factors Northfield Bancorp has stopped paying dividends on its shares of common stock, and New Northfield may not pay dividends following the completion of the conversion and stock offering and Mutual-to-Stock Conversion of Northfield MHC.

Q: How does a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder exchange his or her stock certificates?

A: No later than five business days after the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger, Northfield Bancorp's exchange agent will mail to each holder of record of Flatbush Bancorp common stock a transmittal letter with instructions on how to surrender certificates representing shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock for the merger consideration. If your shares are held in a brokerage account, this exchange will occur automatically without any action on your part.

Edgar Filing: Northfield Bancorp, Inc. - Form 424B3

Please do not send in your Flatbush Bancorp stock certificates until you receive the letter of transmittal and instructions from the exchange agent. Do not return your stock certificates with the enclosed proxy card.

Q: What are the tax consequences of the Mergers to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders?

A: No gain or loss should be recognized except with respect to the cash received in lieu of any fractional share of Northfield Bancorp common stock. Flatbush Bancorp shareholders should consult their own tax advisor for a full understanding of the Mergers' tax consequences that are particular to each shareholder. See Description of the Mergers' Material Tax Consequences of the Mergers.

Q: Are Flatbush Bancorp shareholders entitled to dissenters' rights?

A: No, federal law and regulations do not provide for dissenters' rights for shareholders of federal mid-tier corporations.

Q: Why do Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp want to merge?

A: Flatbush Bancorp believes that the proposed Mergers will provide Flatbush Bancorp shareholders with substantial benefits as future shareholders of Northfield Bancorp, and Northfield Bancorp believes that the Mergers will further its strategic growth plans. As a larger company, Northfield Bancorp can provide the capital and resources needed to compete more effectively in Flatbush's market area and to offer a broader array of products and services to better serve Flatbush's banking customers. To review the reasons for the Mergers in more detail, see Description of the Mergers' Background of and Reasons for the Mergers' and Northfield Bancorp's Reasons for the Mergers on pages 24 and 31.

Q: What vote is required to approve the Merger Agreement?

A: Holders of at least (i) two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock entitled to vote and (ii) a majority of the shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock held by shareholders other than Flatbush MHC must vote in favor of the proposal to approve the Merger Agreement. In addition, approval of the Merger Agreement requires approval by the members of Flatbush MHC (depositors and borrowers of Flatbush Federal Savings) at a special meeting of members called for that purpose.

Q: Why are Flatbush Bancorp shareholders being asked to approve, on a nonbinding advisory basis, certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements?

A: The Securities and Exchange Commission has recently adopted new rules that require Flatbush Bancorp to seek a nonbinding advisory vote with respect to certain payments that may be made to Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers in connection with the Mergers.

Q: What will happen if Flatbush Bancorp shareholders do not approve certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements at the special meeting?

A: Approval of merger-related executive compensation arrangements, payable under existing agreements, that certain Flatbush Bancorp named executive officers may receive in connection with the Mergers is not a condition to completion of the Mergers. The vote with respect to the merger-related executive compensation arrangements is an advisory vote and will not be binding on Flatbush Bancorp. Therefore, if the Merger Agreement is approved by Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders, the merger-related executive compensation arrangements may still be paid to the Flatbush Bancorp named executive officers if and to the extent required or allowed under applicable law even if Flatbush Bancorp shareholders do not approve the merger-related executive compensation arrangements.

Q: Will the merger-related executive compensation arrangements be paid if the Mergers are not consummated?

A: No.

Q: When and where is the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting?

A: The special meeting of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders is scheduled to take place at the New York Marriott at the Brooklyn Bridge, located at 333 Adams Street, Brooklyn, New York at 11:00 a.m., Eastern Time, on October 24, 2012.

Q: Who is entitled to vote at the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting?

A: Holders of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock at the close of business on September 12, 2012, which is the record date, are entitled to vote on the proposal to approve the Merger Agreement and the other proposals in this proxy statement/prospectus. As of the record date, 2,736,907 shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock were outstanding and entitled to vote.

Q: If I plan to attend the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting in person, should I still return my proxy or vote by telephone or Internet?

A: Yes. Whether or not you plan to attend the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting, you should complete and return the enclosed proxy card or vote by telephone or Internet. The failure of a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder to vote in person or by proxy, telephone or Internet will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Merger Agreement.

Q: What do I need to do now to vote my shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock?

A: After you have carefully read and considered the information contained in this proxy statement/prospectus, please complete, sign, date and mail your proxy card in the enclosed return envelope as soon as possible. If you prefer, you may vote by using the telephone or Internet. For information on submitting your proxy by mail or voting by telephone or Internet, please refer to the instructions on the enclosed proxy card. This will enable your shares to be represented at the special meeting. You may also vote in person at the special meeting. If you do not return a properly executed proxy card and do not vote at the special meeting, this will have the same effect as a vote against the Merger Agreement. If you sign, date and send in your proxy card, but you do not indicate how you want to vote, your proxy will be voted in favor of adoption of the Merger Agreement, the proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements and an adjournment of the special meeting, if necessary. You may change your vote or revoke your proxy before the special meeting by filing with the Secretary of Flatbush Bancorp a duly executed revocation of proxy, by submitting a new proxy card with a later date, by submitting different voting instructions by telephone or Internet or by voting in person at the special meeting.

Q: If my shares are held in street name by my broker, will my broker automatically vote my shares for me?

A: No. Your broker will not be able to vote your shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock on the proposal to approve the Merger Agreement unless you provide instructions on how to vote. Please instruct your broker how to vote your shares, following the directions that your broker provides. If you do not provide instructions to your broker on the proposal to approve the Merger Agreement, the proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements or the proposal regarding adjournment, your shares will not be voted, and this will have the effect of voting against the Merger Agreement, but will not affect the proposal regarding certain merger-related executive compensation arrangements or the proposal regarding adjournment. Please check the voting form used by your broker to see if it offers telephone or Internet voting.

Q: When are the Mergers expected to be completed?

Edgar Filing: Northfield Bancorp, Inc. - Form 424B3

- A: We will try to complete the Mergers as soon as possible. Before that happens, the Merger Agreement must be approved by Flatbush Bancorp shareholders and Flatbush MHC members, and we must obtain the necessary regulatory approvals. Assuming we receive the required approvals of the holders of Flatbush Bancorp common stock and the members of Flatbush MHC, and we obtain the other necessary approvals, we expect to complete the Mergers in the fourth calendar quarter of 2012. See Description of the Mergers Conditions to Completing the Mergers.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus, you should consider carefully the risk factors described below in deciding how to vote. You should keep these risk factors in mind when you read forward-looking statements in this document. Please refer to the section of this proxy statement/prospectus titled "Caution About Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 17.

The price of Northfield Bancorp common stock might decrease after the Mergers.

Following the Mid-Tier Merger, holders of Flatbush Bancorp common stock will become shareholders of Northfield Bancorp. Northfield Bancorp common stock could decline in value after the Mergers. For example, during the twelve-month period ended on September 18, 2012 (the most recent practicable date before the printing of this proxy statement/prospectus), the price of Northfield Bancorp common stock varied from a low of $11.68 to a high of $16.49 and ended that period at $15.38. The market value of Northfield Bancorp common stock fluctuates based upon general market and economic conditions, Northfield Bancorp's business and prospects and other factors.

Failure to complete the Mergers could negatively impact the stock prices and future business and financial results of Flatbush Bancorp.

If the Mergers are not completed, the ongoing business of Flatbush Bancorp may be adversely affected and Flatbush Bancorp will be subject to several risks, including the following:

Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings will be required to pay certain costs relating to the Mergers, whether or not the Mergers are completed, such as legal, accounting, financial advisory and printing fees and, in certain circumstances, a termination fee to Northfield;

under the Merger Agreement, Flatbush Bancorp is subject to certain restrictions on the conduct of its business prior to completing the Mergers, which may adversely affect its ability to execute certain of its business strategies;

Flatbush Bancorp may be unable to generate sustained profitability, as Flatbush Bancorp has experienced net losses in four of the six quarters ended June 30, 2012 (exclusive of the gain on the sale of the Nostrand Avenue facility recognized in the quarter ended March 31, 2012);

Flatbush Federal Savings will continue to be required to operate under the enforcement agreement entered into with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, effective April 12, 2012; and matters relating to the Mergers may require substantial commitments of time and resources by Flatbush Bancorp management, which could otherwise have been devoted to other opportunities that may have been beneficial to Flatbush Bancorp as an independent company.

In addition, if the Mergers are not completed, Flatbush Bancorp may experience negative reactions from the financial markets and from its customers and employees. Flatbush Bancorp also could be subject to litigation related to any failure to complete the Mergers or to enforcement proceedings commenced against Flatbush Bancorp to perform its obligations under the Merger Agreement. These risks may materially affect the business, financial results and stock price of Flatbush Bancorp.

Table of Contents

Northfield Bancorp may be unable to successfully integrate Flatbush Bancorp's operations and retain Flatbush Bancorp's employees.

The Mergers involve the integration of two companies that have previously operated independently. The difficulties of combining the operations of the two companies include:

integrating personnel with diverse business backgrounds;

combining different corporate cultures;

retaining key customers; and retaining key employees.

The process of integrating operations could cause an interruption of, or loss of momentum in, the activities of the business and the loss of key personnel. The integration of the two companies will require the experience and expertise of certain key employees of Flatbush Bancorp who are expected to be retained by Northfield Bancorp. Northfield Bancorp may not be successful in retaining these employees for the time period necessary to successfully integrate Flatbush Bancorp's operations with those of Northfield Bancorp. The diversion of management's attention and any delays or difficulties encountered in connection with the Mergers and the integration of the two companies' operations could have an adverse effect on the business and results of operations of Northfield Bancorp following the Mergers.

Northfield Bancorp may not conduct the conversion and stock offering.

On June 6, 2012, the Board of Directors of Northfield Bancorp and the Board of Trustees of Northfield MHC adopted the Plan of Conversion pursuant to which Northfield MHC will convert from the mutual to stock form. If the conversion and reorganization are completed, Northfield Bank will become a wholly owned subsidiary of New Northfield and shares of common stock of Northfield Bancorp held by persons other than Northfield MHC at the time of the completion of the conversion will be converted into shares of common stock of New Northfield pursuant to an exchange ratio intended to result in such persons holding the same percentage interest in New Northfield as they hold in Northfield Bancorp immediately prior to the completion of the conversion.

The Mergers can be completed without Northfield MHC and Northfield Bancorp completing the conversion and the stock offering, as Northfield Bancorp may determine, at any time, not to proceed with the conversion and stock offering, or may be unable to complete the conversion and stock offering. If the Mergers are completed but Northfield Bancorp does not complete the conversion and stock offering, then shareholders of Northfield Bancorp (including former shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp who do not sell their shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock following the Mergers) will remain shareholders of Northfield Bancorp, a subsidiary of a mutual holding company, and will not become shareholders of New Northfield, which will only become a fully converted stock company if the conversion and stock offering are completed.

If the conversion and stock offering are completed, the exchange ratio for stockholders of Northfield Bancorp may be lower than currently estimated and estimates of pro forma financial results may not be representative of future operating results.

If the conversion and stock offering are completed, the exchange ratio for shareholders of Northfield Bancorp may be lower than the amounts set forth in Mutual-to-Stock Conversion of Northfield MHC Share Exchange for Shareholders of Northfield Bancorp, and the pro forma financial information of New Northfield may be less favorable than the amounts set forth in Mutual-to-Stock Conversion of Northfield MHC Pro Forma Data for the Mergers and the Conversion. The actual final exchange ratio will be based upon the final pro forma appraised value of New Northfield, which is subject to change prior to completion of the conversion and stock offering. Similarly, pro forma equity and income is calculated based upon historical operating results, current estimates of the effects of the stock offering and other assumptions, and may not be representative of New Northfield's future operating results or the financial effects of the stock offering at the dates on which the stock offering actually occurs, or may change based on the final pro forma appraised value of New Northfield and the results of the stock offering.

The termination fee and the restrictions on solicitation contained in the Merger Agreement may discourage other companies from trying to acquire Flatbush Bancorp.

Until the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, with some exceptions, Flatbush Bancorp is prohibited from soliciting, initiating, encouraging or participating in any discussion of or otherwise considering any inquiries or proposals that may lead to an acquisition proposal, such as a merger or other business combination transaction, with any person other than Northfield Bancorp. In addition, Flatbush Bancorp has agreed to pay a termination fee to Northfield Bancorp in specified circumstances. These provisions could discourage other companies from trying to acquire Flatbush Bancorp even though those other companies might be willing to offer greater value to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders than Northfield Bancorp has agreed to pay. The payment of the termination fee could also have a material adverse effect on Flatbush Bancorp's financial condition as an operating entity after termination of the Merger Agreement.

Certain of Flatbush Bancorp's officers and directors have interests that are different from, or in addition to, interests of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders generally.

You should be aware that the directors and officers of Flatbush Bancorp have interests in the Mergers that are different from, or in addition to, your interests as Flatbush Bancorp shareholders generally. These include: severance payments that certain officers may receive under existing employment agreements; the payment of the in-the-money value of stock options, if any, and accelerated vesting of restricted stock; provisions in the Merger Agreement relating to indemnification of directors and officers and insurance for directors and officers of Flatbush Bancorp for events occurring before the Mergers; and directors will receive payments under existing compensation arrangements as a result of the Mergers, as well as be invited and compensated to join an advisory board of directors comprised of Flatbush Bancorp non-employee board members. For a more detailed discussion of these interests, see Description of the Mergers Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours beginning on page 51.

Northfield Bancorp has stopped paying dividends on its shares of common stock, and New Northfield may not pay dividends following the completion of the conversion and stock offering.

Northfield Bancorp stopped paying dividends following the March 31, 2012 quarter due to a Federal Reserve Board requirement that a grandfathered mutual holding company, like Northfield MHC, obtain member (depositor) approval and comply with other procedural requirements prior to waiving dividends, which would make dividend waivers by Northfield MHC impracticable.

After the completion of the conversion and stock offering, New Northfield intends to pay cash dividends on a quarterly basis. New Northfield expects the quarterly dividends per share to be $0.06 per share of common stock of New Northfield. New Northfield also intends to seek regulatory approval to pay a one-time, special dividend of $0.25 per share to all New Northfield shareholders. Such approval may not be obtained or, if obtained, may not permit the payment of the special dividend immediately following the completion of the conversion and stock offering, or may permit a lesser amount than $0.25 per share. In addition, Northfield Bancorp or New Northfield may not pay dividends in the future, and any such dividends may be reduced or eliminated.

The fairness opinion obtained by Flatbush Bancorp from its financial advisor will not reflect changes in circumstances subsequent to the date of the fairness opinion.

Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P., Flatbush Bancorp's financial advisor in connection with the Mid-Tier Merger, has delivered to the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp its opinion dated as of March 13, 2012. The opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. stated that as of such date, and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth therein, the exchange ratio was fair, from a financial point of view, to the public shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp. The opinion does not reflect changes that may occur or may have occurred after the date of the opinion, including changes to the operations and prospects of Northfield Bancorp or Flatbush Bancorp, changes in general market and economic conditions or regulatory or other factors. Any such changes, or changes in other factors on which the opinion is based, may materially alter or affect the conclusions of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P.

CAUTION ABOUT FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Certain statements contained in this document that are not historical facts may constitute forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (referred to as the Securities Act), and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (referred to as the Securities Exchange Act), and are intended to be covered by the safe harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. You can identify these statements from the use of the words may, will, should, could, would, plan, potential, estimate, project, believe, intend, anticipate, expect, target and similar expressions.

These forward-looking statements are subject to significant risks, assumptions and uncertainties, including among other things, changes in general economic and business conditions and the risks and other factors set forth in the Risk Factors section beginning on page 13.

Because of these and other uncertainties, Northfield Bancorp's and Flatbush Bancorp's actual results, performance or achievements, or industry results, or Northfield Bancorp, MHC's ability to conduct a mutual-to-stock conversion, may be materially different from the results indicated by these forward-looking statements. In addition, Northfield Bancorp's and Flatbush Bancorp's past results of operations do not necessarily indicate their future results, Northfield Bancorp's future results after integration of Flatbush Bancorp. You should not place undue reliance on any forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the dates on which they were made. Neither Northfield Bancorp nor Flatbush Bancorp is undertaking an obligation to update these forward-looking statements, even though its situation may change in the future, except as required under federal securities law.

Northfield Bancorp stopped paying dividends following the March 31, 2012 quarter due to a Federal Reserve Board requirement that a grandfathered mutual holding company, like Northfield MHC, obtain member (depositor) approval and comply with other procedural requirements prior to waiving dividends, which would make dividend waivers by Northfield MHC impracticable. Following the Mergers, the declaration of dividends will be at the discretion of Northfield Bancorp's board of directors and will be determined after consideration of various factors, including earnings, cash requirements, the financial condition of Northfield Bancorp, applicable federal law and government regulations and other factors deemed relevant by Northfield Bancorp's board of directors. DESCRIPTION OF THE MERGER (PROPOSAL 1)

The following summary of the Merger Agreement is qualified by reference to the complete text of the Merger Agreement. A copy of the Merger Agreement is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference into this proxy statement/prospectus. You should read the Merger Agreement completely and carefully as it, rather than this description, is the legal document that governs the Mergers.

General

The Mergers are governed by the Merger Agreement, which provides that the Mergers shall be effected as follows:

In the MHC Merger, Flatbush MHC will merge with and into Northfield MHC, with Northfield MHC as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush MHC will cease.

Immediately following the MHC Merger, Flatbush Bancorp will merge with and into Northfield Bancorp in the Mid-Tier Merger, with Northfield Bancorp as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush Bancorp will cease.

Each share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to effectiveness of the Mid-Tier Merger held by Flatbush Bancorp common shareholders will be converted into, as provided in and subject to the terms set forth in the Merger Agreement, the right to receive 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp, with cash paid in lieu of fractional shares.

In the Bank Merger, Flatbush Federal Savings will merge with and into Northfield Bank, with Northfield Bank as the surviving entity. The separate corporate existence of Flatbush Federal Savings will cease.

Background of and Reasons for the Mergers

Since its conversion to a publicly-traded mutual holding company in October 2003, the Board of Directors and senior management of Flatbush Bancorp have regularly evaluated the company's business plan and its available strategic options, including opportunities for organic growth, conversion to a full stock holding company or a possible combination with another financial institution. For a number of years, the Board has also invited Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. (Sandler) to meet annually with the Board to update them on industry and market conditions, including activities in the merger and acquisition market and in second-step conversions. These meetings usually took place in the third or fourth quarter of the year. From time to time, the company's President and Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Jesus Adia, also received informal inquiries and discussed generally with investment bankers and senior management of other banking institutions the possibility of potential business combinations as a way to enhance stockholder value. Mr. Adia, as President and Chief Executive Officer, was authorized by the Board of Directors to explore on a preliminary basis inquiries of persons or entities who indicated an interest in a purchase of or combination with Flatbush Bancorp. It was Mr. Adia's practice, for inquiries of this nature, to advise the board or in some cases a member of the board when such inquiries were initiated by third parties.

In April 2011, Mr. Adia was contacted by a senior officer of Northfield indicating that Northfield was interested in discussing a possible combination of the two companies. In May 2011, Mr. Adia met with the senior officer and Northfield's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. John Alexander, to discuss a possible combination. No specific terms were discussed but Northfield did express a strong interest in further discussions. Mr. Adia reported to the Board following this meeting. As was his practice, Mr. Adia, after discussing this inquiry fully with the Board of Directors and receiving the Board's authorization to continue these discussions, asked one of the members of the Flatbush Bancorp Board to accompany him to the next meeting with Northfield personnel. A second meeting with the Northfield officers, Mr. Adia and Flatbush Bancorp Director Michael Lincks was held in June 2011. Northfield again expressed strong interest in a combination. Mr. Adia and Mr. Lincks reported these conversations to the full Board of Directors and the Board asked Mr. Adia to keep it abreast of any further developments.

In the third quarter of 2011, the Board again invited Sandler to provide its annual market and strategic update at a meeting to be held on September 22, 2011. At the September 22nd meeting, Sandler discussed the banking environment, noting that the industry was still characterized by great uncertainty. In particular, Sandler discussed the potential impact on long-term profitability of continuing asset quality issues, higher capital requirements and significant operating pressures, both on revenues and expenses. Sandler also discussed the impact of the Dodd-Frank Act on the cost and complexity of regulation as well as the uncertainty that mutual holding companies such as Flatbush MHC would face with the elimination of the Office of Thrift Supervision as its sole principal regulator and the substitution of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency as principal regulator of the bank and the Federal Reserve Board as principal federal regulator of Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush MHC.

During that meeting, Sandler also advised that investors remained hesitant to put new capital to work in the financial sector, driven by the view that it was at present very difficult to identify factors in the industry that could drive future growth. Sandler noted that investors were especially reluctant to invest in companies with asset quality issues or those that were very small and illiquid, noting that such companies were trading at substantial discounts to large institutions with no asset quality concerns. Sandler noted that size and scale were becoming increasingly important factors in the financial performance of financial institutions as well as in investors' perceptions.

Sandler also provided the board with an assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of Flatbush Bancorp's franchise, noting that while its net interest margin was better than the peer median and that capital was strong, Flatbush Federal Savings' levels of non-performing loans had significantly increased and were well above peer averages and its efficiency ratio had increased to above 80%, resulting in significant declines in overall profitability. Sandler noted that the company's stock had underperformed the market in the last year, reflecting both its financial performance and its small size.

Sandler then discussed strategic alternatives available to Flatbush, including a second-step conversion or a possible merger of Flatbush Bancorp with a larger institution. With respect to the second-step conversion, Sandler noted that the resulting full stock structure would be a more flexible structure and one favored by market participants and regulators and the stock's liquidity would be somewhat improved. However, Sandler also noted that, based on Sandler's valuation estimates, the exchange ratio would likely be unattractive to Flatbush Bancorp's minority shareholders and that given current market conditions, there was a risk that the company would not be able to successfully complete the transaction.

With respect to a possible merger transaction, Sandler noted that, as a mutual holding company, Flatbush could only merge into another mutual holding company or a mutual entity, and that this significantly limited the number of possible acquirers. Sandler also provided and discussed at the September meeting a list of 16 institutions that met certain criteria as possible acquirers. The criteria were that the institutions were all located in the New York MSA and all were either mutual institutions or mutual holding companies. In addition all the institutions were over $400 million in assets. The list included Northfield Bancorp and Company B. Sandler discussed each of the potential acquirers with the Board, including Sandler's views as to their possible interest in a transaction with Flatbush and the form of consideration (cash or stock) each entity could offer. The Board also discussed with Sandler and its legal advisors the legal requirement that Flatbush as a mutual entity could only merge with another mutual entity. The Board then advised Sandler that Northfield had already expressed its interest in such a transaction and had met with Messrs. Adia and Lincks on two occasions.

The Board, after excusing Sandler and its legal advisors, engaged in extensive discussion following the presentation and concluded that a possible merger with Northfield or another institution should be further explored. The Board also concluded that a merger with another publicly-traded mutual holding company in a transaction that provided common stock as all or part of the consideration might provide better long-term value for the company's public shareholders.

In early October 2011, Mr. Adia received a telephone call from a senior officer of another publicly-traded mutual holding company (Company B) and was invited to have lunch with its chief executive officer. At that lunch, the chief executive officer of Company B expressed his interest in a possible combination of Flatbush with Company B. No pricing or other material terms were provided. Mr. Adia reported back to the Board of Directors and then, as with Northfield, scheduled a second meeting with Company B and Mr. Lincks to continue discussions. The meeting took place on October 18, 2011. Following this meeting, Messrs. Adia and Lincks reported to the full Board on the discussions with Company B.

At a meeting on October 20, 2011, the Board received a briefing from its then outside counsel on its fiduciary responsibilities with respect to consideration of a possible acquisition of Flatbush Bancorp, the requirements for a merger with another institution and possible regulatory obstacles from a pricing standpoint that might apply to a merger with another institution. Following this briefing, the Board determined that it needed to retain a financial advisor to explore a potential transaction and asked Sandler O'Neill to provide a retainer agreement for this purpose. The Board of Directors of Flatbush had a long-standing relationship with Sandler and did not consider hiring another advisor when Sandler was retained in connection with this transaction. In deciding to retain Sandler and not consult with other advisors, the Board considered Sandler's leading role as an advisor in bank merger transactions in 2010, its knowledge of the banking market in the New York and New Jersey area and in particular its knowledge of mutual institutions operating in those markets who would be able, by law, to acquire Flatbush. The Board of Flatbush had no knowledge when it engaged Sandler of the specific amount of any fees that Sandler might receive from Northfield in connection with any future transactions. However, Sandler advised the Flatbush Board that Sandler had advised Northfield in its recent FDIC-assisted acquisition and had also been engaged by Northfield in 2010 to assist them with their second-step conversion, which was postponed due to market conditions, and that when Northfield chose to proceed with the second-step conversion, Sandler would be likely to again be retained as Northfield's advisor.

By letter agreement dated November 21, 2011, Sandler was engaged by Flatbush Bancorp. Sandler was engaged by a unanimous vote of the Board of Directors after consultation with outside counsel, Nixon Peabody LLP (Nixon Peabody), and upon the recommendation of Flatbush's Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Adia. Sandler was instructed to approach Northfield and Company B to explore the possibility of a merger. The Board determined to limit its discussions to these two parties because each of these entities was larger than Flatbush Bancorp, was organized in the publicly-traded mutual holding company form and had the ability to offer common stock as all or part of the consideration, had prior experience with acquisitions, and had indicated an interest in expansion in Brooklyn. Based on its discussions with Sandler at the Board's September 22nd meeting, no other entities met all of these criteria.

Sandler began assisting Flatbush Bancorp in preparing a confidential electronic data room to permit Northfield and Company B to begin diligence activities. Each company signed a confidentiality agreement on November 28, 2011, and both were provided access to the data room and were asked to submit written non-binding indications of interest by December 7, 2011.

In a non-binding indication of interest dated December 7, 2011, Northfield proposed a transaction in which shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp would receive consideration of $7.00 per share. Company B, in a letter dated December 8, 2011, proposed a transaction in which shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp would receive consideration of $6.00 per share. Each proposal was subject to the satisfactory completion of due diligence. Each party proposed a merger of each of the Flatbush corporate entities into the corresponding entities of the acquiring institution and each proposed that the consideration consist solely of stock of the acquiring entity's publicly-traded holding company at a fixed exchange ratio to be determined at the time of the execution of a definitive agreement for the transaction. Both also assumed the completion of the pending sale of Flatbush Bancorp's Nostrand Avenue facility. Both parties proposed similar plans with regard to retention of existing employees and appropriate severance for those who were not retained. Northfield also indicated that it would consider the formation of a Brooklyn advisory board for at least a three-year period, to be comprised of Flatbush non-employee directors. Each letter also described the treatment of Flatbush Savings' depositors and Flatbush MHC's members, including that each depositor of Flatbush Federal Savings would become a depositor of the acquiring entity's bank subsidiary and that each Flatbush depositor would receive the same rights in the acquiring mutual holding company.

On December 9, 2011, Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors met with Sandler and Nixon Peabody to consider the two preliminary indications of interest. Sandler described and compared each of the two proposals and presented profiles of each potential partner. Sandler also provided a preliminary valuation analysis of Flatbush. After a lengthy discussion, the Board authorized Sandler to advise Northfield and Company B that they could complete detailed diligence investigations and submit revised indications of interest for the Board to consider, and further instructed Sandler to advise each party to consider an increase in price in their revised indications. From the December 9, 2011 meeting of the Board of Directors of Flatbush Bancorp and through the meeting of March 13, 2012 to approve the merger agreement with Northfield, Nixon Peabody was present at all meetings between the Flatbush Board of Directors and Sandler.

During the months of December 2011 and January 2012, both Northfield and Company B conducted extensive due diligence both onsite and in the electronic data room. Representatives of senior management of Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings were also interviewed by both prospective acquirers. Concurrently with the due diligence process, Mr. Adia was working with real estate counsel to complete the sale of the Nostrand Avenue facility, which was completed on January 13, 2012. Mr. Adia advised both Northfield and Company B when the transaction was completed and Flatbush Bancorp disclosed the completion of the sale in a Form 8-K filing on January 18, 2012.

Sandler subsequently requested that Northfield and Company B submit revised indications of interest by January 31, 2012. However, in late January, Sandler was advised by each of Northfield and Company B that, while each remained interested in a transaction with Flatbush Bancorp, their timing for proceeding with a revised indication of interest would be delayed as a result of unrelated matters at their respective institutions. The Board then requested that Sandler contact two other institutions that Sandler believed might have an interest in a potential transaction. Sandler contacted both parties, but neither party expressed interest in evaluating such a transaction.

During the month of February, Sandler remained in contact with both Northfield and Company B with respect to their interest. On February 22, 2012, Company B orally advised Mr. Adia that it remained interested in the transaction but would likely not be able to proceed for six to eight weeks and would also at that time, in all likelihood, reduce its original indication of interest of $6.00 per share to a lower, unspecified amount.

On February 24, 2012, Northfield's financial advisor advised Sandler that Northfield was prepared to submit a revised indication of interest for the Board's consideration, and further advised that their price would be reduced to $6.50 per share. Northfield also indicated that it would, as a condition of its offer, require that Flatbush Bancorp agree to a 30-day exclusivity period within which to complete negotiation of a definitive agreement. Sandler advised Northfield's financial advisor to submit their indication of interest in writing for the Board to consider and Northfield did so by letter dated February 28, 2012. Except as to the revised price of $6.50 per share and the request for a 30-day exclusivity period, Northfield's revised indication of interest did not contain terms that materially differed from its earlier letter. The exclusivity agreement requested by Northfield was signed by Flatbush Bancorp on February 29, 2012. The exclusivity agreement was prepared by Northfield and reviewed by Nixon Peabody prior to consideration by Flatbush Bancorp senior management and the Board of Directors. Mr. Adia and the Board of Directors also consulted with Sandler regarding the exclusivity agreement, including whether it was customary to enter into such an agreement, whether there were negative effects that would deter other potential merger partners if Flatbush entered into such an agreement with Northfield and whether the 30-day term of the exclusivity arrangement for the purpose of negotiating and executing a definitive agreement was appropriate under the circumstances. At the time the exclusivity agreement was signed, Company B had completed its due diligence, but had not initiated any further contact with Mr. Adia or Sandler since indicating on February 22, 2012 to Mr. Adia that it would not be able to proceed for six to eight weeks and would, at that later date, be likely to reduce its original indication of interest of $6.00 to a lower, unspecified amount.

The Board of Directors of Flatbush Bancorp met on March 1, 2012 to evaluate these developments and authorized Nixon Peabody to begin negotiations on the definitive agreement with Northfield's counsel under the terms outlined in Northfield's letter. On March 2, 2012, a draft of the proposed definitive agreement was received by Nixon Peabody LLP from Northfield's counsel. During the following week, the parties and their counsel negotiated the terms of the definitive agreement and related documents, and a due diligence review of Northfield, including interviews of representatives of Northfield's senior management, was conducted by representatives of Sandler O'Neill, Nixon Peabody and Flatbush Bancorp via an electronic data room and onsite at Northfield. Also during the week, Sandler advised the chief executive officer of Company B that Flatbush had determined to move forward with another party. Messrs. Adia and Lotardo did not, at any time during the negotiations with Northfield, discuss specifically what employment or consulting arrangements Northfield would enter into in the future with them. Northfield did indicate, however, at the time that it submitted its original indication of interest that all employment, consulting and change in control agreements disclosed to Northfield in due diligence would be honored. Following the execution of the definitive agreement, Northfield elected to terminate the employment agreements of Flatbush's senior management at the closing of the Mergers. In lieu thereof, Mr. Adia was offered a one-year employment agreement with Northfield and a retention bonus of $100,000 upon the completion of the one-year period, and Mr. Lotardo was offered a six-month consulting arrangement with a bonus payment upon completion of the six-month period but no future employment.

On March 7, 2012, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency notified Mr. Adia that Flatbush Federal Savings would be required to enter into a formal written enforcement agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Mr. Adia promptly notified the Board of Directors of this development and advised Northfield's chief executive officer by telephone regarding the pending enforcement action.

On March 9, 2012, the Board of Directors met with Sandler and Nixon Peabody to review the progress toward a final definitive agreement. At that meeting, Sandler reviewed a summary of the proposed final transaction terms as well as a preliminary pro forma analysis of the transaction and a preliminary valuation range of a second-step conversion of each of Northfield MHC and Flatbush MHC. Nixon Peabody reported on the progress of the final stages of the definitive agreement negotiations, the diligence materials that Nixon Peabody was preparing on Northfield for review by the Board of Directors of Flatbush Bancorp and the finalizing of disclosure schedules that both Northfield and Flatbush Bancorp were each required to provide as part of the definitive agreement.

Following the conclusion of this meeting, Nixon Peabody and Northfield's counsel worked to finalize the definitive agreement and to finalize disclosure schedules for both parties. On March 10, 2012, Nixon Peabody was advised by Northfield's counsel that Northfield would require that any enforcement action with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency that Flatbush Federal Savings was required to enter into would need to be terminated as a condition to closing of the merger. That requirement was included in the final version of the definitive Merger Agreement.

On March 12, 2012, the Board of Directors of Northfield met and approved the definitive agreement.

The Board of Directors of Flatbush Bancorp held a special meeting on March 13, 2012 to review the definitive agreement and related documents negotiated by Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield and their respective financial and legal advisors. Flatbush Bancorp's Board received presentations from Nixon Peabody and Sandler. The Board was briefed on the results of the due diligence review conducted by Nixon Peabody, Sandler and Company management. Representatives of Nixon Peabody and Sandler responded to questions from Flatbush Bancorp's Board concerning the transaction. At the meeting Sandler provided its oral opinion to Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors, subsequently confirmed in writing, that the exchange ratio in the Merger Agreement was fair to the public shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp from a financial point of view. The Board, after careful consideration of these presentations as well as consideration of the interests of Flatbush MHC's members, its depositors, and the communities served by Flatbush Federal Savings and Flatbush Bancorp, unanimously approved the merger agreement and related documents. Following the meeting, the Merger Agreement and related documents were executed and the parties issued a press release announcing the proposed Mergers.

Table of Contents

In reaching its decision to approve the Merger Agreement, Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors consulted with Flatbush Bancorp's financial and legal advisors, and considered a variety of factors, including the following:

The value of the merger consideration being offered to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders in relation to the market value of Flatbush Bancorp common stock as well as its book value and earnings per share;

The results of operations that could be expected from Flatbush Bancorp in the future if it continued to operate independently, including the restrictions imposed under its pending enforcement agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and the length of time that would be required to resolve the relatively high level of non-performing assets on Flatbush Federal Savings balance sheet;

The potential future trading value of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock compared to the value of the merger consideration offered by Northfield and the potential future trading value of Northfield Bancorp's common stock, including the impact of a future second-step transaction by Northfield MHC;

The process conducted by Sandler, Flatbush Bancorp's financial advisor, to identify potential merger partners and to assist Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors in structuring the proposed merger with Northfield;

The presentation by Sandler as to the fairness of the exchange ratio in the Merger Agreement, from a financial point of view, to Flatbush Bancorp's public shareholders, and Sandler's written opinion, dated March 13, 2012, to that effect, a copy of which is attached as Annex B to this document. For a summary of the Sandler opinion and its underlying analysis, see "Opinion of Flatbush Bancorp's Financial Advisor" below;

The current and prospective environment in which Flatbush Bancorp operates, including national, regional and local economic conditions, the competitive environment for financial institutions, the increased regulatory burdens on financial institutions, and the uncertainties in the regulatory climate going forward;

The form of merger consideration offered by Northfield, including the opportunity for Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders to receive shares of Northfield common stock for their shares of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock on a tax-free basis;

The presentation made by Nixon Peabody regarding the structure of the Mergers and the terms of the Merger Agreement;

Northfield Bancorp's significantly larger asset size and strong capital position;

Northfield Bancorp's market capitalization and average daily trading volume, which should provide increased liquidity in the event Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders desired to sell the shares of Northfield common stock to be received by them upon completion of the merger;

The ability of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders to receive a cash dividend as holders of Northfield's common stock;

Edgar Filing: Northfield Bancorp, Inc. - Form 424B3

The earnings prospects of the combined company, with the merger expected to be accretive to Northfield Bancorp's earnings in 2013, the first full year of combined operations;

Table of Contents

Flatbush Federal Savings' depositors' rights as members of Flatbush MHC would be preserved as a result of the merger with Northfield in the form of liquidation rights in Northfield MHC and subscription rights in any subsequent second-step conversion of Northfield MHC;

The additional products and services offered by Northfield to its customers;

The effects of the Mergers on Flatbush Bancorp's employees, including the prospects for continued employment and the severance and other benefits agreed to be provided to Flatbush Bancorp's employees; and

The ability of the transaction to be approved by banking regulators by the termination date of November 30, 2012. Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors also considered the potential risks associated with the merger, including the following:

The challenges of integrating Flatbush Bancorp's businesses, operations and employees with those of Northfield Bancorp;

The need to obtain approval of the transaction by shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp, including a majority of Flatbush Bancorp's public shareholders, and Flatbush MHC's members as well as regulatory approvals in order to complete the transaction;

The risks associated with the operations of the combined company, including the ability to achieve the anticipated cost savings;

The fact that the fixed exchange ratio in the transaction meant that the shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp would see the value of the merger consideration fluctuate as a result of movements in Northfield Bancorp's stock price prior to completion of the Mergers;

The requirement by Northfield, as a condition of closing, that any formal enforcement agreement between the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and Flatbush Federal Savings be extinguished at or prior to consummation of the Mergers; and

The risk that the transaction would not be completed by November 30, 2012 and could thereafter be terminated by Northfield. The Board also considered internal projections of Flatbush's future performance as a standalone entity in 2012, 2013 and 2014. These projections were prepared by senior management of Flatbush as part of its three-year business plan prior to the initiation of any merger discussions with Northfield or Company B. While the internal projections were forward looking and dependent on a number of factors including future economic conditions and were only estimates of possible future performance and outcomes, they indicated that Flatbush was not expected to materially improve its performance over the three-year period ending on December 31, 2014. For example, the projections showed modest loan growth from $99.9 million at year end 2012 to $104.5 million in 2014. Earnings per share (excluding the one-time gain in 2012 for the sale of the main office location) were projected to be relatively flat and ranged between $0.13 and $0.15 per share through the 2014 period. With respect to expenses, no material reduction in efficiency ratios was forecast by Flatbush and were expected to remain in the 85% to 86% category through 2014. Net interest margins were expected to narrow slightly and key performance ratios such as return on average assets (ROAA) and return on average equity (ROAE) were anticipated to remain at low levels. For example, ROAA was projected at 0.23% to 0.25% and ROAE at 1.80% to 1.99% for 2013 and 2014.

The Board also considered the structural protections included in the Merger Agreement, such as the ability of Flatbush Bancorp to terminate the Merger Agreement in the event of any change or development affecting Northfield which has, or is reasonably likely to have, a material adverse effect on Northfield and which is not cured within 30 days after notice or cannot be cured prior to consummation of the merger, or in the event Northfield materially breaches any of its covenants or obligations under the merger agreement. Flatbush Bancorp's Board also noted that it could terminate the Merger Agreement if a superior proposal (as defined in the merger agreement) was received from a third party and certain steps were taken (including notice to Northfield and good faith negotiation with Northfield of adjustments to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement) prior to the mailing date of this proxy statement/prospectus. If a superior proposal were to be received and accepted, then Flatbush Bancorp would be required to pay a $700,000 termination fee to Northfield. The amount of this potential fee was negotiated at arm's length and was deemed to be reasonable based upon the fees provided for in comparable transactions. As of the date of this proxy statement/prospectus, no superior proposal has been received.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors provided by Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors is not exhaustive, but includes all material factors considered by Flatbush Bancorp's Board. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors in connection with its valuation of the merger and the complexity of these matters, Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors did not consider it practical to, and did not attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered in reaching its decision. Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors evaluated the factors described above, including asking questions of Flatbush Bancorp's legal and financial advisors. In considering the factors described above, individual members of Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors may have given different weights to different factors. Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors relied on the experience and expertise of its legal advisors regarding the structure of the merger and the terms of the merger agreement and on the experience and expertise of its financial advisors for quantitative analysis of the financial terms of the merger. See "Opinion of Flatbush Bancorp's Financial Advisor" below. It should also be noted that this explanation of the reasoning of Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors and all other information presented in this section is forward-looking in nature and, therefore, should be read in light of the factors discussed under the headings "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" and "Risk Factors."

Northfield Bancorp's Reasons for the Mergers

In reaching its decision to approve the Merger Agreement, the Board of Directors of Northfield Bancorp consulted with senior management and its legal and financial advisors, and considered a number of factors, including, among others, the following, which are not presented in order of priority:

Flatbush Federal Savings' branch network is an expansion of Northfield Bank's growing Brooklyn franchise, with a size that can be readily assimilated;

Economies of scale and improved efficiencies are expected to result in accretion to book value per share, tangible book value per share and earnings per share;

Opportunities for cross-sales and account acquisition are expected based on the enhanced platform; and Improved Northfield Bank financial profile, geographic footprint, stock liquidity and market capitalization enhance positioning for organic growth and future acquisitions.

Based on the factors described above, the Boards of Directors of Northfield Bancorp and Northfield Bank determined that the merger with Flatbush Bancorp would be advisable and in the best interests of Northfield Bancorp shareholders and other constituencies and unanimously approved the Merger Agreement.

Opinion of Flatbush Bancorp's Financial Advisor

By letter dated November 21, 2011, Flatbush Bancorp retained Sandler O'Neill to act as its financial advisor in connection with a possible business combination with another party. Sandler O'Neill is a nationally recognized investment banking firm whose principal business specialty is financial institutions. As part of its investment banking business, Sandler O'Neill is regularly engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions. Sandler O'Neill was also generally familiar with Flatbush Bancorp, having acted as offering agent for Flatbush Federal Savings in connection with its conversion to mutual holding company form and initial public offering in 2003 and having made periodic presentations to the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors thereafter.

Sandler O'Neill acted as financial advisor to Flatbush Bancorp in connection with the proposed Mergers and participated in certain of the negotiations leading to the execution of the merger agreement. At the March 13, 2012 meeting at which Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors considered and approved the merger agreement, Sandler O'Neill delivered to the board its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of such date, the exchange ratio was fair to the public shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp from a financial point of view. Sandler O'Neill's fairness opinion was approved by Sandler O'Neill's Fairness Opinion Committee. The full text of Sandler O'Neill's opinion is attached as Annex B to this Proxy Statement/Prospectus. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler O'Neill in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. Flatbush Bancorp shareholders are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed merger.

Sandler O'Neill's opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion and was necessarily based upon financial, economic, market and other conditions as they existed on, and the information made available to Sandler O'Neill as of, that date. Events occurring or information made available after that date could materially affect its opinion. Sandler O'Neill has not undertaken to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw its opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date of its opinion. The opinion was directed to the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors and is directed only to the fairness of the exchange ratio to Flatbush Bancorp's public shareholders from a financial point of view. It does not address the underlying business decision of Flatbush Bancorp to engage in the merger or any other aspect of the transaction and is not a recommendation to any Flatbush Bancorp shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote at the special meeting with respect to the merger or any other matter.

In connection with rendering its opinion, Sandler O'Neill reviewed and considered, among other things:

the merger agreement;

certain financial statements and other historical financial information of Flatbush Bancorp that were publicly available or provided by Flatbush Bancorp that Sandler O'Neill deemed relevant, including a draft of Flatbush Bancorp's preliminary balance sheet and income statement for the year ended December 31, 2011;

certain financial statements and other historical financial information of Northfield Bancorp that were publicly available or provided by Northfield Bancorp that Sandler O'Neill deemed relevant, including a draft of Northfield Bancorp's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011;

internal financial projections for Flatbush Bancorp for the years ending December 31, 2012 through 2014, as provided by and reviewed with senior management of Flatbush Bancorp;

internal financial projections for Northfield Bancorp for the years ending December 31, 2012 through 2015, as provided by and reviewed with senior management of Northfield Bancorp;

the financial terms of Flatbush Bancorp's sale of the Nostrand Avenue facility completed on January 13, 2012 (the "Main Office Sale") as disclosed in its Current Report on Form 8-K dated January 18, 2012, and the estimates of Flatbush Bancorp's senior management of the expected gain on the sale to be realized by Flatbush Bancorp;

a comparison of certain financial information for Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp with similar publicly available information for certain other companies that Sandler O'Neill considered relevant;

the publicly reported historical price and trading activity of the common stock of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp, including a comparison of price movements with certain stock indices;

the pro forma financial impact of the merger on Northfield Bancorp, based on assumptions relating to transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments and cost savings as reviewed with representatives of Northfield;

the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the financial institutions industry, to the extent publicly available;

the current economic and market environment generally and in the banking sector in particular; and such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as it considered relevant.

Sandler O'Neill also discussed with certain members of senior management of Flatbush Bancorp the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of Flatbush Bancorp and held similar discussions with senior management of Northfield Bancorp concerning the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of Northfield Bancorp.

In rendering its opinion, Sandler O'Neill also considered the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency's notification by telephone to Mr. Adia on March 7, 2012 that Flatbush Bancorp would be required to enter into a written enforcement agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency following the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency's most recent safety and soundness examination of Flatbush Federal Savings.

In preparing its analyses, Sandler O'Neill used internal financial projections for Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp as provided by their respective senior managements. Sandler O'Neill also used in its analyses certain projections of transaction costs, purchase accounting adjustments and expected cost savings which were prepared by and/or reviewed with the senior managements of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp. With respect to those projections, the respective managements of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp confirmed to Sandler O'Neill that those projections reflected their best currently available estimates and judgments of the future financial performance of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp, respectively, and Sandler O'Neill assumed that such performance would be achieved. Sandler O'Neill expressed no opinion as to such financial projections or the assumptions on which they were based.

In performing its review and analyses, Sandler O'Neill relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was publicly available or that was provided to them by Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp or their representatives and assumed such accuracy and completeness for purposes of rendering its opinion. Sandler O'Neill further relied on the assurances of the respective senior managements of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make any of such information inaccurate or misleading. Sandler O'Neill was not asked to and did not undertake an independent verification of any of such information and did not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. Sandler O'Neill did not make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the specific assets, the collateral securing assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp, their parent entities or any of their respective subsidiaries or the collectability of any such assets, nor was Sandler O'Neill furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals. Sandler O'Neill did not review any credit files or make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp and with Flatbush Bancorp's consent, Sandler O'Neill assumed that the respective allowances for loan losses for Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp were adequate to cover any such losses.

Sandler O'Neill also assumed that there had been no material change in the assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to them except, in the case of Flatbush Bancorp, the Main Office Sale. Sandler O'Neill assumed in all respects material to its analysis that Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp will remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to its analyses, that all of the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement are true and correct, that each party to the merger agreement will perform all of the covenants required to be performed by such party under the merger agreement and that the conditions precedent in the merger agreement will not be waived. Finally, with Flatbush Bancorp's consent, Sandler O'Neill relied upon the advice Flatbush Bancorp received from its legal, accounting and tax advisors as to all legal, accounting and tax matters relating to the Main Office Sale, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

In rendering its opinion, Sandler O'Neill performed a variety of financial analyses. The following is not a complete description of all the analyses underlying Sandler O'Neill's opinion or the presentation made by Sandler O'Neill to Flatbush Bancorp's board, but is a summary of all material analyses performed and presented by Sandler O'Neill. The summary includes information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses, these tables must be read together with the accompanying text. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. Also, no company included in Sandler O'Neill's comparative analyses described below is identical to Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp and no transaction is identical to the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of comparable companies or transactions involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and other factors that could affect the public trading values or merger transaction values, as the case may be, of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp and the companies to which they are being compared. The process, therefore, is not necessarily susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Sandler O'Neill considered its analyses as a whole and did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered. Sandler O'Neill made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor and did not form an opinion as to whether any individual analysis or factor (positive or negative) considered in isolation supported or failed to support its opinion; rather Sandler O'Neill made its determination as to the fairness of the exchange ratio on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all its analyses taken as a whole.

In performing its analyses, Sandler O'Neill also made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions and various other matters, many of which cannot be predicted and are beyond the control of Flatbush Bancorp, Northfield Bancorp or Sandler O'Neill. The analyses performed by Sandler O'Neill are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Estimates on the values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies or their securities may actually be sold. Such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty and actual values may be materially different. Accordingly, Sandler O'Neill's analyses do not necessarily reflect the value of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock or Northfield Bancorp's common stock or the prices at which Flatbush Bancorp's common stock or Northfield Bancorp's common stock may be sold at any time.

Sandler O'Neill prepared its analyses solely for the purpose of rendering its opinion and provided such analyses to the Flatbush Bancorp Board at its March 13, 2012 meeting. Sandler O'Neill's analyses and opinion were among a number of factors taken into consideration by Flatbush Bancorp's Board in making its determination to adopt the merger agreement and the analyses described below should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of Flatbush Bancorp's board with respect to the fairness of the merger.

Summary of Proposal. Sandler O'Neill reviewed the financial terms of the proposed transaction. Based upon the exchange ratio of 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp's common stock for every one share of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock and the average closing price of Northfield Bancorp common stock for the 10-day period ending March 12, 2012 of $13.69, Sandler O'Neill calculated an implied transaction value of $6.50 per share. Based upon 2,736,907 shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock outstanding, Sandler O'Neill calculated an aggregate transaction value of $17.8 million, of which $8.1 million will be received by the public shareholders and $9.7 million will be received by Northfield MHC as successor to Flatbush MHC. The $9.7 million to be received by the Northfield MHC as successor to Flatbush MHC represents Flatbush MHC's 54.2% ownership interest in Flatbush Bancorp. Based upon preliminary financial information for Flatbush Bancorp as of or for the year ended December 31, 2011, Sandler O'Neill calculated the following ratios:

Discounted Cash Flow and Terminal Value Analysis. Sandler O'Neill performed an analysis that estimated the present value of the estimated after-tax cash flows of Flatbush Bancorp assuming that Flatbush Bancorp performed in accordance with the financial projections for the years ended December 31, 2012 through 2014 provided by Flatbush Bancorp's management. The analysis assumed that Flatbush Bancorp did not pay any cash dividends or repurchase any shares during the period. To approximate the terminal value of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock at December 31, 2014, Sandler O'Neill applied price to earnings multiples ranging from 10.0x to 30.0x, chosen to reflect a range of trading multiples of institutions comparable in structure and size to Flatbush. The terminal values were then discounted to present values using discount rates ranging from 11.0% to 17.0% chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock. In addition, the terminal value of Flatbush Bancorp common stock at December 31, 2014 was calculated by applying price to tangible book value multiples ranging from 40% to 115%. As illustrated in the following tables, this analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share for Flatbush Bancorp common stock of $0.93 to $3.25 when applying price to earnings multiples and $1.64 to $5.81 when applying tangible book value multiples.

Sandler O Neill also performed an analysis that estimated the future stream of after-tax cash flows of Northfield Bancorp assuming that Northfield Bancorp performed in accordance with earnings per share estimates and projected long term growth rates reviewed with Northfield Bancorp's management. The analysis also assumed that Northfield Bancorp's cash dividend remained at $0.24 annually through 2015 and that Northfield Bancorp repurchased 10% of minority shares outstanding per year based on discussions with Northfield's management. To approximate the terminal value of Northfield Bancorp's common stock at December 31, 2015, Sandler O Neill applied price to earnings multiples ranging from 10.0x to 25.0x. The dividend income streams and terminal values were then discounted to present values using discount rates ranging from 8.0% to 14.0% chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of Northfield Bancorp's common stock. In addition, the terminal value of Northfield Bancorp's common stock at December 31, 2015 was calculated by applying price to tangible book value multiples ranging from 120% to 170%. As illustrated in the following tables, this analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share for Northfield Bancorp's common stock of $3.32 to $9.88 when applying the price to earnings multiples and $7.27 to $12.77 when applying tangible book value multiples.

Sandler O Neill noted that the discounted dividend stream and terminal value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, and the results thereof are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results. Sandler O Neill considered and discussed with the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors how its analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to net income, noting that each of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp would likely continue to be valued based primarily on their tangible book values rather than on their earnings streams over the periods covered by the analysis.

Pro Forma Merger Analysis. Sandler O'Neill analyzed certain potential pro forma effects of the merger, assuming each party performed in accordance with the earnings estimates discussed above and the following additional assumptions: (1) the merger closes on September 30, 2012; (2) all of the currently outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp would be exchanged for shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock at an exchange ratio of 0.4748; (3) all outstanding options to purchase shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock would be cancelled without payment of any consideration; (4) Northfield Bancorp would be able to achieve cost savings of approximately 32% of Flatbush Bancorp's projected operating expense base, all of which would be realized commencing in the first full year of combined operations based on discussions with Northfield's financial advisor; (5) pre-tax transaction costs and expenses would total approximately $4.1 million; (6) a core deposit intangible of approximately 2.0% of core non-time deposits, to be amortized ratably over 10 years; (7) various other purchase accounting adjustments; and (8) a 1.0% opportunity cost of cash. Based upon these assumptions, Sandler O'Neill's analysis indicated that the merger would be approximately 5.5% accretive to Northfield Bancorp's 2013 estimated earnings per share and approximately 1.3% accretive to Northfield Bancorp's tangible book value per share upon the closing of the transaction. The analysis also indicated that Northfield Bancorp's tangible common equity to total assets ratio at closing would be approximately 16%. Sandler O'Neill noted that the assumptions used in their analysis were necessarily preliminary and that the actual results achieved by the combined company may vary from projected results and the variations may be material.

Sandler O'Neill's Relationship. Sandler O'Neill acted as Flatbush Bancorp's financial advisor in connection with the merger and will receive a fee for its services. Flatbush Bancorp has paid Sandler O'Neill a non-refundable retainer of $10,000, which will be credited against that portion of their fee due upon closing of the merger. In addition, Flatbush Bancorp has agreed to pay Sandler O'Neill a transaction fee of 1.1% of the value of the merger consideration, or approximately $196,000 based on the indicated transaction value of $6.50 per share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock, of which $140,000 was paid upon the signing of the merger agreement and the remainder of which is contingent upon completion of the merger. Flatbush MHC has also engaged Sandler O'Neill as records management agent in connection with Flatbush MHC's solicitation of its members' approval of the merger at a special meeting of members, for which Sandler O'Neill will receive a fee of $7,500. Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush MHC have also agreed to indemnify Sandler O'Neill against certain liabilities arising out of its engagement and to reimburse Sandler O'Neill for certain of its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses.

Sandler O'Neill has, in the past, provided certain investment banking services to Flatbush Bancorp and has received compensation for such services. Sandler O'Neill has also in the past provided certain investment banking services to Northfield Bancorp and has received compensation for such services and may provide, and receive compensation for, such services in the future, including during the pendency of the merger. However, in connection with the acquisition of Flatbush Bancorp, Sandler O'Neill represented Flatbush Bancorp and not Northfield Bancorp, and Northfield Bancorp was represented by an independent, nationally recognized advisory firm not affiliated with Sandler O'Neill. During the past two years, Sandler O'Neill has acted as Northfield Bancorp's financial advisor in connection with its Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation-assisted acquisition of substantially all of the assets and assumption of all of the deposits of First State Bank, for which Sandler O'Neill received a fee of $125,000, and has also been engaged as records management agent and marketing agent and joint book-running manager in connection with Northfield MHC's proposed second-step transaction. In the ordinary course of its business as a broker/dealer, Sandler O'Neill may purchase securities from and sell securities to Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp and their affiliates. Sandler O'Neill may also actively trade the equity securities of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp or their affiliates for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Consideration to be Received in the Mid-Tier Merger

When the Mid-Tier Merger becomes effective, each share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock issued and outstanding immediately before the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger will automatically be converted into the right to receive 0.4748 shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock. The merger consideration is subject to adjustment if Flatbush Bancorp's Adjusted Stockholders Equity (as defined below) as of the last day of the month prior to the month in which the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger is expected to occur (the Measurement Date) is less than $18,275,000. In such case, the exchange ratio shall be decreased by an amount equal to ((x) the difference between $18,275,000 and the Adjusted Stockholders' Equity as of the measurement date divided by (y) the number of outstanding shares of common stock of Flatbush Bancorp as of the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger), divided by $13.69 (rounded to the nearest ten-thousandth). Adjusted Stockholders' Equity shall mean the consolidated stockholders' equity of Flatbush Bancorp, calculated in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, adjusted to:

- (i) exclude the effect of the payment or accrual of all customary fees and expenses directly related to the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, calculated on a tax-effected basis where appropriate; and
- (ii) add any effects from accumulated other comprehensive income back to equity.

Transaction expenses that may be excluded from the calculation of Adjusted Stockholders' Equity include fees and expenses of legal counsel and financial advisors for services rendered in connection with the Merger Agreement, payments made with respect to the termination of any existing data processing or other services contract, expenses incurred in connection with holding the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting and the Flatbush MHC members meeting, any payments or accruals with respect to termination of any officers or employees at or after the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger, and any expenses related to actions taken at the request of Northfield Bancorp. Adjusted Stockholders' Equity shall be calculated by Flatbush Bancorp as of the close of business on the applicable measurement date, using reasonable estimates of revenues and expenses where actual amounts are not available. Such calculation shall be subject to verification by Northfield Bancorp before the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger.

As of June 30, 2012, Flatbush Bancorp's stockholders' equity was $18,840,300, which reflects the payment of certain transaction expenses in connection with the Mergers. These expenses were approximately $600,000 as of June 30, 2012.

The merger consideration of 0.4748 of a share of Northfield Bancorp's common stock for every share of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock was calculated to provide a value of $6.50 per share of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock based upon the average closing price of Northfield Bancorp common stock for the 10-day period ending March 12, 2012 of $13.69. The value of the merger consideration may increase or decrease both prior to and following the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger depending on the trading price of Northfield Bancorp's common stock.

In the event Northfield Bancorp changes (or establishes a record date for changing) the number of, or provides for the exchange of, shares of its common stock issued and outstanding prior to the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger as a result of a stock split, stock dividend, recapitalization, reclassification, reorganization or similar transaction with respect to the outstanding common stock and the record date therefor is prior to the closing, the merger consideration shall be proportionately and appropriately adjusted.

Northfield Bancorp has further agreed to adjust the exchange ratio in the event it merges with another company prior to the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger and is not the surviving entity in the merger. See Conduct of Business Before the Mergers.

Flatbush Bancorp shareholders will not receive fractional shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock. Instead, Flatbush Bancorp shareholders will receive a cash payment for any fractional shares in an amount equal to the product of (i) the fraction of a share of Northfield Bancorp common stock to which such shareholder would otherwise have been entitled, multiplied by (ii) the average of the daily closing sales price of a share of Northfield Bancorp common stock for the five consecutive trading days immediately preceding the closing date of the Mid-Tier Merger.

Treatment of Flatbush Bancorp Stock Options

At the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger, each option to purchase shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock granted under Flatbush Bancorp's 2004 Stock-based Incentive Plan that is outstanding, whether or not vested or exercisable, will be canceled, and in lieu thereof the holders of such options will be paid, in cash, an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock subject to such option at the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger and (ii) an amount equal to the excess of $6.50 over the exercise price per share of such option, net of any cash which must be withheld under federal and state income and employment tax requirements. With respect to any Flatbush Bancorp stock options for which the exercise price is $6.50 or more, Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors will adopt such resolutions or take such other actions as are required to provide for the cancellation of all such options, whether or not vested, as of the closing of the Mid-tier Merger, without any payment made in exchange therefor.

Surrender of Stock Certificates

No later than five business days after the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, the exchange agent will mail to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders instructions for the exchange of their Flatbush Bancorp common stock certificates for the merger consideration. Until Flatbush Bancorp shareholders surrender their Flatbush Bancorp stock certificates for exchange after completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, Flatbush Bancorp shareholders will not be paid dividends or other distributions declared after the Mid-Tier Merger with respect to any Northfield Bancorp common stock into which their Flatbush Bancorp shares have been converted. When Flatbush Bancorp shareholders surrender their Flatbush Bancorp stock certificates, Northfield Bancorp will pay any unpaid dividends or other distributions, without interest. After the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, there will be no further transfers of Flatbush Bancorp common stock. Flatbush Bancorp stock certificates presented for transfer after the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger will be canceled and exchanged for the merger consideration.

If their Flatbush Bancorp stock certificates have been either lost, stolen or destroyed, Flatbush Bancorp shareholders will have to prove their ownership of these certificates and that they were lost, stolen or destroyed before they receive any consideration for their shares. The letter of transmittal will include instructions on how to provide evidence of ownership. If required by Northfield Bancorp or the exchange agent, the stockholder will be required to post a bond in such amount as the exchange agent may reasonably direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such lost, stolen or destroyed stock certificate.

Accounting Treatment of the Mergers

In accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, the Mergers will be accounted for using the acquisition method. The result of this is that the recorded assets and liabilities of Northfield Bancorp will be carried forward at their recorded amounts, the historical operating results will be unchanged for the prior periods being reported on and that the assets and liabilities of Flatbush Bancorp will be adjusted to their estimated fair value at the closing of the Mergers. In addition, all identified intangibles will be recorded at estimated fair value and included as part of the net assets acquired. To the extent that the purchase price exceeds the fair value of the net assets including identifiable intangibles of Flatbush Bancorp at the closing date, that amount will be reported as goodwill. To the extent that the purchase price does not exceed the fair value of the net assets including identifiable intangibles of Flatbush Bancorp at the closing date, that amount will be reported as a bargain purchase gain. In accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, goodwill will not be amortized but will be evaluated for impairment annually. Identified intangibles will be amortized over their estimated lives. Further, U.S. generally accepted accounting principles results in the operating results of Flatbush Bancorp being included in the operating results of Northfield Bancorp beginning from the date of completion of the Mid-Tier Merger.

Material Tax Consequences of the Mergers

General. The following summary discusses the material anticipated U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Mergers applicable to a holder of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock who surrenders all of the shareholder's common stock for shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock in the Mid-Tier Merger. This discussion is based upon the Internal Revenue Code, Treasury Regulations, judicial authorities, published positions of the Internal Revenue Service, and other applicable authorities, all as in effect on the date of this document and all of which are subject to change or differing interpretations (possibly with retroactive effect). This discussion is limited to U.S. residents and citizens who hold their shares as capital assets for U.S. federal income tax purposes (generally, assets held for investment). This discussion does not cover all U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Mergers and related transactions that may be relevant to holders of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock.

Table of Contents

This discussion also does not address all of the tax consequences that may be relevant to a particular person or the tax consequences that may be relevant to persons subject to special treatment under U.S. federal income tax laws (including, among others, tax-exempt organizations, dealers in securities or foreign currencies, banks, insurance companies, financial institutions or persons who hold their shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale or conversion transaction, persons whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar, persons that are, or hold their shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock through, partnerships or other pass-through entities, or persons who acquired their shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option or otherwise as compensation). In addition, this discussion does not address any aspects of state, local, non-U.S. taxation or U.S. federal taxation other than income taxation. No ruling has been requested from the Internal Revenue Service regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Mergers. No assurance can be given that the Internal Revenue Service would not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the U.S. federal income tax consequences set forth below.

Flatbush Bancorp shareholders are urged to consult their tax advisors as to the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Mergers, as well as the effects of state, local, non-U.S. tax laws and U.S. tax laws other than income tax laws.

Opinion Conditions. It is a condition to the obligations of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp that each receive an opinion of counsel to the effect that the Mergers will constitute a reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes within the meaning of Section 368(a)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code. Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp both expect to be able to obtain the tax opinions if, as expected:

Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp are able to deliver customary representations to Northfield Bancorp's and Flatbush Bancorp's respective tax counsel; and there is no adverse change in U.S. federal income tax law.

Although the Merger Agreement allows both Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp to waive the condition that tax opinions be delivered by counsel, neither party currently anticipates doing so. However, if this condition were waived, Flatbush Bancorp would re-solicit the approval of its shareholders before completing the Mid-Tier Merger.

In addition, in connection with the filing of the registration statement of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, Luse Gorman Pomerenk & Schick, P.C., Washington, DC, counsel to Northfield Bancorp, has delivered its opinion to Northfield Bancorp that the Mergers will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code. This opinion has been filed as Exhibit 8.1 to the registration statement. Such opinion has been rendered on the basis of facts, representations and assumptions set forth or referred to in such opinion and factual representations contained in certificates of officers of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp, all of which must continue to be true and accurate in all material respects as of the effective time of the Mergers.

If any of the representations or assumptions upon which the opinion is based are inconsistent with the actual facts, the tax consequences of the Mergers could be adversely affected. The determination by tax counsel as to whether the proposed Mergers will be treated as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code will depend upon the facts and law existing at the effective time of the proposed Mergers.

As noted earlier, Northfield has expressed an intention to convert its mutual holding company to a fully-converted stock holding company in a so-called second-step conversion. The Northfield MHC adopted a Plan of Conversion and Reorganization of Northfield Bancorp, MHC almost three months after it entered into the Merger Agreement with Flatbush. Assuming the second-step conversion of Northfield MHC receives regulatory approval and is also approved by the Northfield MHC members and Northfield Bancorp's shareholders, it is likely to close two to three months following the merger of the Flatbush entities with and into the Northfield entities. In such case, the MHC Merger is likely to fail the continuity of business enterprise test set forth in the Treasury Regulations under Section 1.368-2(k), which indicate that the transfer of stock and/or assets received in a merger can be transferred to other corporations that are members of a qualified group of corporations (as defined in the regulations) but only if certain conditions are satisfied, including that the transferee corporation be controlled by the transferring corporation and that the transferring corporation not be liquidated or eliminated in connection with the transfer. Because Northfield MHC would merge into Northfield Bancorp in the second step and its corporate existence would be eliminated and because Northfield Bancorp is not an 80% subsidiary of Northfield MHC, it would not satisfy the regulatory requirements. If these requirements are not satisfied, the regulations indicate that the step transaction may be implicated. It is possible that the Internal Revenue Service could conclude that the judicial step transaction doctrine would apply to cause the acquisition of Flatbush by Northfield and the second-step conversion of Northfield MHC into a fully-converted stock holding company to be considered a part of one integrated plan for tax purposes. If the Internal Revenue Service were to take this position, the Internal Revenue Service may not respect the independent characterization, for tax purposes, of the two transactions, and may ascribe a potentially different tax effect to the combined transaction. We believe that the acquisition of Flatbush by Northfield should not be stepped together and considered integrated parts of a single transaction for tax purposes because each of the Flatbush acquisition and the second-step transaction have independent economic significance, neither is dependent on or conditioned on the other in order to be consummated, and the second-step conversion of Northfield MHC was approved by the board of directors of Northfield MHC almost three months following the execution of the merger agreement among the Flatbush and Northfield parties. In the section of this merger proxy-prospectus entitled Mutual-To-Stock Conversion of Northfield MHC, Northfield has indicated:

Under current federal regulation and policy, the Mergers cannot be consummated after the completion of the conversion and stock offering. Accordingly, Northfield does not expect to commence the stock offering until the Mergers are completed or the Merger Agreement is terminated. However, completion of the Mergers is not a condition to conducting the conversion and stock offering, and the conversion and stock offering may be completed if the Mergers are not consummated. Conversely, the Mergers can be completed without Northfield MHC and Northfield Bancorp completing the conversion and the stock offering, as Northfield Bancorp may determine, at any time, not to proceed with the conversion and stock offering, or may be unable to complete the conversion and stock offering.

If the Internal Revenue Service took the position that the Mergers should be considered an integrated part of a single transaction with the second-step conversion of Northfield MHC, we believe that it is more likely than not to conclude that the substance of the transaction is the merger of Flatbush MHC and Northfield MHC with and into New Northfield in a tax-free transaction under Section 368(a)(1)(A) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The following discussion assumes that the Mergers will constitute one or more reorganizations for U.S. federal income tax purposes within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

No gain or loss will be recognized by a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder who receives shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock (except for cash received in lieu of fractional shares, as discussed below) in exchange for all of his or her shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock. The tax basis of the shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock received by a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder in such exchange will be equal (except for the basis attributable to any fractional shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock, as discussed below) to the basis of the Flatbush Bancorp common stock surrendered in exchange for the Northfield Bancorp common stock. If a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder purchased or acquired Flatbush Bancorp common stock on different dates or at different prices, then solely for purposes of determining the basis of the Northfield Bancorp common stock received in the Mid-Tier Merger, such shareholder may designate which share of Northfield Bancorp common stock is received in exchange for each particular share of Flatbush Bancorp common stock. The designation must be made on or before the date on which the Northfield Bancorp common stock is received. For shares held through a broker, the designation is made by giving written notice to the broker. For shares held in certificate form by the shareholder, the designation is made by a written designation in the shareholder's records. The holding period of the Northfield Bancorp common stock received will include the holding period of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock surrendered in exchange for the Northfield Bancorp common stock, provided that such shares were held as capital assets of the Flatbush Bancorp shareholder at the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger.

Cash in Lieu of Fractional Shares. A Flatbush Bancorp shareholder who holds Flatbush Bancorp common stock as a capital asset and who receives in the Mid-Tier Merger, in exchange for such stock, solely Northfield Bancorp common stock and cash in lieu of a fractional share interest in Northfield Bancorp common stock will be treated as having received such cash in full payment for such fractional share of stock and as capital gain or loss, notwithstanding the dividend rules discussed above.

Backup Withholding. Unless an exemption applies under the backup withholding rules of Section 3406 of the Internal Revenue Code, the exchange agent shall be required to withhold, and will withhold, 28% of any cash payments to which a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder is entitled pursuant to the Mid-Tier Merger, unless the Flatbush Bancorp shareholder signs the substitute Internal Revenue Service Form W-9 enclosed with the letter of transmittal sent by the exchange agent. Unless an applicable exemption exists and is proved in a manner satisfactory to the exchange agent, this completed form provides the information, including the Flatbush Bancorp shareholder's taxpayer identification number, and certification necessary to avoid backup withholding.

Tax Treatment of the Entities. No gain or loss will be recognized by Northfield or Flatbush as a result of the Mergers.

Regulatory Matters Relating to the Mergers

Completion of the Mergers is subject to the receipt of all required approvals and consents from regulatory authorities, and the expiration of any applicable statutory waiting periods, without any term or condition that would have a material adverse effect on Northfield Bancorp. Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to obtain all the required regulatory approvals. These include approval from the various federal and state regulatory authorities. Applications for such approvals were filed in May 2012.

The Mid-Tier Merger and the MHC Merger, as well as the acquisition by Northfield MHC and Northfield Bancorp of Flatbush Federal Savings, require the approval of the Federal Reserve Board. In evaluating whether to grant such approval, the Federal Reserve Board considers such factors as the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of the holding companies and institutions involved, the effect of the acquisition on the acquired institution, the insurance risk to the deposit insurance fund, the convenience and needs of the communities served and competitive factors. The issuance of shares of common stock by Northfield Bancorp to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders as merger consideration also requires the approval of the Federal Reserve Board as an issuance of shares of common stock by a subsidiary of a mutual holding company to persons other than the mutual holding company parent.

The Bank Merger is subject to the approval by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency under the Bank Merger Act. In granting its approval under the Bank Merger Act, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency must consider the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of the existing and resulting institutions and the convenience and needs of the communities to be served.

In addition, a period of 15 to 30 days must expire following approval by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency before completion of the Mergers is allowed, within which period the United States Department of Justice may file objections to the Mergers under the federal antitrust laws. While Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp believe that the likelihood of objection by the Department of Justice is remote in this case, there can be no assurance that the Department of Justice will not initiate proceedings to block the Mergers, or that the Attorney General of the State of New York will not challenge the Mergers, or if any proceeding is instituted or challenge is made, as to the result of the challenge.

The Mergers cannot proceed in the absence of the requisite regulatory approvals. See Description of the Mergers Conditions to Completing the Mergers and Terminating the Merger Agreement. There can be no assurance that the requisite regulatory approvals will be obtained, and if obtained, there can be no assurance as to the date of any approval. There can also be no assurance that any regulatory approvals will not contain a condition or requirement that causes the approvals to fail to satisfy one or more conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement and described under Description of the Mergers Conditions to Completing the Mergers.

The approval of any application merely implies the satisfaction of regulatory criteria for approval, which does not include review of the Mergers from the standpoint of the adequacy of the exchange ratio for converting Flatbush Bancorp common stock to Northfield Bancorp common stock. Furthermore, regulatory approvals do not constitute an endorsement or recommendation with respect to the Mergers.

Agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency

Effective April 12, 2012, Flatbush Federal Savings entered into an agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. The agreement provides, among other things, that within specified time frames:

Flatbush Federal Savings must conduct a review and assess the qualifications of its senior executive officers and board members, and shall give notice to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency prior to appointing any new senior executive officer or director;

Flatbush Federal Savings must submit for review and non-objection by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency a three-year written capital plan;

Flatbush Federal Savings must submit for review and non-objection by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency a three-year business plan, including a projection of major balance sheet and income statement items;

Flatbush Federal Savings must establish credit risk management practices that ensure effective credit administration, portfolio management and monitoring, and risk mitigation;

Flatbush Federal Savings must review the adequacy of its allowance for loan and lease losses and establish a program for the maintenance of an adequate allowance;

Flatbush Federal Savings may not invest in corporate securities without first developing and implementing Office of the Comptroller of the Currency-approved policies and procedures to monitor and control such activity;

Flatbush Federal Savings must adopt, implement and comply with a written consumer compliance program; and Flatbush Federal Savings will not be permitted to enter into, renew, extend or revise any contractual arrangement relating to compensation or benefits for any senior executive officers or directors, unless it provides prior written notice of the proposed transaction to the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

It is a condition to closing the Mergers that either the agreement with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency is terminated or the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency agrees to terminate the agreement contemporaneously with the closing of the Mergers. See Conditions to Completing the Mergers.

Litigation Related to the Mergers

On March 26, 2012, a Flatbush Bancorp shareholder filed a putative class action lawsuit on behalf of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Kings, against Flatbush Bancorp, Flatbush MHC, each member of the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors and Northfield Bancorp and Northfield MHC. The complaint was amended June 28, 2012. The case is captioned Robert H. Elburn et. al. v. Jesus R. Adia, D. John Antonello, Patricia A. McKinley Scanlan, Alfred S. Pantaleone, Charles J. Vorbach, Michael J. Lincks, Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc., Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC, Northfield Bancorp, Inc. and Northfield Bancorp, MHC. The amended complaint alleges, among other things, that the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors breached its fiduciary duties by agreeing to inadequate consideration, engaging in a process that involved conflicts of interest and by failing to disclose certain material facts to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 15, 2012. The complaint also alleges that Flatbush Bancorp, Flatbush MHC, Northfield Bancorp and Northfield MHC aided and abetted the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors' breaches of fiduciary duties.

The plaintiff seeks the following relief:

declaring the lawsuit to be a class action and certifying plaintiff as the class representative and his counsel as class counsel;

enjoining, preliminarily and permanently, the Mid-Tier Merger;

in the event the Mid-Tier Merger is consummated prior to the entry of the court's final judgment, rescinding the Mid-Tier Merger or awarding plaintiff and the plaintiff class rescissory damages;

directing that defendants account to plaintiff and the other members of the class for all damages caused by them and account for all profits and any special benefits obtained as a result of their breaches of their fiduciary duties;

awarding plaintiff the costs of the lawsuit, including a reasonable allowance for the fees and expenses of plaintiff's attorneys and experts; and granting plaintiff and the other members of the plaintiff class such further relief as the court deems just and proper.

Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp believe the amended complaint is without merit and intend to vigorously defend against the lawsuit.

Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours

Share Ownership. On the record date for the Flatbush Bancorp special meeting, Flatbush Bancorp's directors and officers beneficially owned, in the aggregate, 60,284 shares of Flatbush Bancorp's common stock (not including shares that may be acquired upon the exercise of stock options), representing approximately 2.2% of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock.

As described below, certain of Flatbush Bancorp's officers and directors have interests in the Mergers that are in addition to, or different from, the interests of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders generally. Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors was aware of these conflicts of interest and took them into account in approving the Mergers. These interests represent an aggregate amount of approximately $2.0 million and include the following agreements.

Cash Payment for Outstanding Options. Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, outstanding and unexercised Flatbush Bancorp stock options, whether or not vested, will be canceled, and in lieu thereof the holders of such options will be paid in cash an amount equal to the product of (i) the number of shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock subject to such option at the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger and (ii) an amount equal to the excess of $6.50 over the exercise price per share of such option, net of any cash which must be withheld under federal and state income and employment tax requirements. With respect to any Flatbush Bancorp stock options for which the exercise price is $6.50 or more, Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors will adopt such resolutions or take such other actions as are required to provide for the cancellation of all such options, whether or not vested, as of the closing of the Mid-tier Merger, without any payment made in exchange therefor. Neither Messrs. Adia or Lotardo, nor any of the non-employee directors, hold any stock options that have an exercise price less than $6.50.

Acceleration of Vesting of Restricted Stock Awards. Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, restricted stock awards that have not yet vested will become fully vested at the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger. Messrs. Adia and Lotardo have 1,393 and 887 shares of non-vested restricted stock, respectively, that will become vested as a result of the Mid-Tier Merger. Each director, other than Mr. Lincks, has 380 shares of restricted stock that will become vested as a result of the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger.

Employee Matters. Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, Northfield Bancorp will review all Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings compensation and benefit plans to determine whether to terminate or continue such plans. Northfield has agreed to honor the terms of all employment, consulting and change in control agreements, if any. Set forth below are agreements to which Flatbush Federal Savings named executive officers are parties that are different than those available to other employees.

Employment Agreements. Messrs. Jesus R. Adia, the President and Chief Executive Officer, and John Lotardo, the Chief Financial Officer of Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings, are each parties to three-year employment agreements with Flatbush Federal Savings. In the event of the occurrence of a change in control followed at any time during the term of the agreement by the termination of employment of the executive, whether due to the executive's resignation for any reason or his dismissal, other than for cause (as defined in the agreement), or due to the executive's retirement, death or disability, the executive will be entitled to a lump sum payment within thirty days of termination equal to three times the sum of his highest annual rate of base salary and highest rate of cash bonus awarded during the prior three years. In addition, the executive will be entitled to, at no cost to the executive, continued life insurance and non-taxable family medical and dental coverage substantially comparable, as reasonably or customarily available, to the coverage maintained for the executive prior to his termination. The employment agreements also provide that the benefit provided under the employment agreements, when aggregated with other benefits and payments to which the executives will be entitled as a result of a change in control, will be reduced, to the extent necessary, to avoid an excess parachute payment under Section 280G of the Internal Revenue Code.

Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreements. Each of Messrs. Adia and Lotardo are parties to Amended and Restated Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreements. Under these agreements, the executives are each entitled upon termination of employment after the normal retirement age of 65 to a supplemental retirement income benefit equal to 20% of the executive's highest annual base salary over the consecutive 36-month period. In the event of the executive's retirement on or after age 60, the executive is entitled to an early retirement benefit equal to 75% of the supplemental retirement income benefit, increased by 5% for each additional year of employment between after age 60 up to age 65. The executive is entitled to no benefit if his termination occurs prior to age 60, except as set forth in the agreements. However, in the event of the executive's termination of employment within two years following a change in control, other than due to termination for cause (as defined in the agreements), the executive will be entitled to the full supplemental retirement income benefit as if the executive had terminated after age 65, and such benefit will be payable for the longer of 180 monthly installments or life. The Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreements do not require a cut-back in the event that the benefit payments under such agreements would result in excess parachute payments.

Northfield Bancorp and Northfield Bank have offered Mr. Adia employment and have asked Mr. Lotardo to provide consulting services for a six-month period following the completion of the Merger in order to facilitate a smooth transition and integration of Flatbush Federal Savings systems with Northfield Bank's systems. In addition, Northfield Bank and Flatbush Federal Savings have determined that the Amended and Restated Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreements with Mr. Adia and Mr. Lotardo will be terminated and will be distributed in connection with the closing of the Merger. Mr. Lotardo and Northfield Bank have agreed that Mr. Lotardo will receive a benefit under the Amended and Restated Supplemental Retirement Income Agreement of approximately $351,033, which is the maximum amount he can receive without resulting in an excess parachute payment and incurring excise taxes under the Internal Revenue Code. Mr. Lotardo's six-month consulting agreement will provide a fee of $100,000. Upon the completion of the six-month consulting period, Mr. Lotardo will also receive a bonus of $100,000, in consideration for which he will enter into a one-year non-competition agreement.

Mr. Adia will also receive his Amended and Restated Executive Supplemental Retirement Income Agreement benefit of approximately $587,889, paid in a lump sum at closing. In addition, Mr. Adia's existing employment agreement will be terminated at closing, in exchange for a payment of approximately $369,702. Mr. Adia will enter into a new one-year employment agreement with Northfield Bank at his current salary level and will be entitled to a retention bonus of $100,000 at the end of the one-year period.

The following table sets forth the estimated severance benefits to Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers in connection with a change in control. This table does not include the value of benefits that the named executive officers are vested in without regard to the occurrence of a change in control. Director Retirement Plan. The Flatbush Federal Savings directors are participants in an Amended and Restated Director Retirement Plan. The plan provides (i) non-employee directors who retire after five years of service on the Board and attain the age of 65 or (ii) non-employee directors who were formerly employee directors who retire after 18 months of service and attain the age of 65, with an annual retirement benefit equal to 60% of the director's annual fees in the last year of service on the board plus 60% of the director's annual retainer paid with respect to the last year of service on the board, payable in monthly installments for a period of 60 months. In the event of a change in control of Flatbush Federal Savings followed by the voluntary or involuntary termination of service of a director (other than for cause), the director will be entitled to the full retirement benefit, without regard to the director's age or years of service. Only director Alfred S. Panteleone is fully vested in the retirement benefit. Directors D. John Antonello, Charles J. Vorbach, Patricia A. McKinley Scanlan and Michael J. Lincks will vest in the director retirement benefit as a result of the change in control. The annual retirement benefit payable to directors Antonello, Panteleone, Vorbach, McKinley Scanlan and Lincks is $15,960, $16,440, $17,400, $15,900 and $18,000, respectively.

Advisory Board. In accordance with the Merger Agreement, Northfield Bank will invite all non-employee members of the Flatbush board of directors as of the date of the Merger Agreement to serve as paid members of an advisory board of Northfield Bank. The function of the advisory board will be to advise Northfield Bank with respect to deposit and lending activities in Flatbush Federal Savings' former market area and to maintain and develop customer relationships. Northfield Bank intends to maintain the advisory board for a period of no less than three years. Each member of the advisory board shall receive annual cash compensation of $10,000.

Indemnification. Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, Northfield Bancorp has agreed that, for a period of six years following the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger, it will indemnify, defend and hold harmless each present and former officer or director of Flatbush Bancorp and its subsidiaries, including an individual who becomes an officer or director of Flatbush Bancorp or its subsidiaries prior to the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger, against all losses, claims, damages, costs, expenses (including attorney's fees), liabilities, judgments or amounts that are paid in settlement of or in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal or administrative, based in whole or in part or arising in whole or in part out of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer or employee of Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries if such claim pertains to any matter of fact arising, existing or occurring at or before the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger (including, without limitation, the Mid-Tier Merger and other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement), regardless of whether such claim is asserted or claimed before or after the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger.

Directors and Officers Insurance. Northfield Bancorp has further agreed, for a period of six years after the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger, to maintain, or to cause Northfield Bank to maintain, the current directors and officers liability insurance policies covering the officers and directors of Flatbush Bancorp (provided, that Northfield Bancorp may substitute policies of at least the same coverage containing terms and conditions which are not materially less favorable) with respect to matters occurring at or prior to the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger. Northfield Bancorp is not required to spend, in the aggregate, more than 200% of the annual premiums currently paid by Flatbush Bancorp for its insurance coverage.

Employee Matters

Northfield Bancorp will review all Flatbush Bancorp compensation and benefit plans to determine whether to terminate or continue such plans. In the event employee compensation and/or benefits as currently provided by Flatbush are changed or terminated by Northfield Bancorp, in whole or in part, Northfield Bancorp shall provide continuing employees with compensation and benefits that are, in the aggregate, substantially similar to the compensation and benefits provided to similarly situated employees of Northfield as of the date any such compensation or benefit is provided. Employees of Flatbush who become participants in any Northfield Bancorp compensation and benefit plan shall, for purposes of determining eligibility for and for any applicable vesting periods of such employee benefits only (and not for benefit accrual purposes unless specifically set forth herein) be given credit for service as an employee of Flatbush or any predecessor thereto prior to the closing of the Mid-Tier Merger, and provided further, that credit for benefit accrual purposes will be given only for purposes of Northfield Bancorp vacation policies or programs and for purposes of the calculation of severance benefits under any severance compensation plan of Northfield Bancorp.

Any employee of Flatbush Federal Savings, other than an employee who is a party to an employment agreement, change in control agreement or other separation agreement that provides a benefit on a termination of employment, whose employment is terminated involuntarily (other than for cause) within one year following the completion of the Bank Merger, shall receive a lump sum severance payment from Northfield Bank equal to two weeks pay at the rate then in effect, for each full year of employment with Flatbush Federal Savings, subject to a minimum of four weeks and a maximum of 26 weeks, provided that such employee enters into a release of claims against Flatbush Federal Savings and Northfield Bank in a form satisfactory to Northfield Bank. Such Flatbush Federal Savings employees will have the right to continued health coverage under group health plans of Northfield Bank in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code.

Operations of Northfield Bank after the Mergers

After the Bank Merger, the former offices of Flatbush Federal Savings will operate as branch offices of Northfield Bank under the name Northfield Bank.

Restrictions on Resale of Shares of Northfield Bancorp Common Stock

All shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock issued to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders, in connection with the Mid-Tier Merger will be freely transferable. This proxy statement/prospectus does not cover any resales of the shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock to be received by Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders upon completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, and no person may use this proxy statement/prospectus in connection with any resale.

Time of Completion

Subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement and unless the Merger Agreement has otherwise been terminated, the closing of the Mergers will take place on a date determined by Northfield Bancorp in consultation with Flatbush Bancorp. See Conditions to Completing the Mergers. On the closing date: (i) Northfield MHC will file articles of combination with the Federal Reserve Board merging Flatbush MHC into Northfield MHC; (ii) Northfield Bancorp will file articles of combination with the Federal Reserve Board merging Flatbush Bancorp into Northfield Bancorp; and (iii) Northfield Bank will file articles of combination with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency merging Flatbush Federal Savings into Northfield Bank. The effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger will be at the time stated in the articles of merger between Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp.

Northfield Bancorp. and Flatbush Bancorp are working to complete the Mergers quickly. It is currently expected that the Mergers will be completed in the fourth calendar quarter of 2012. However, because completion of the Mergers is subject to regulatory approvals and other conditions, the parties cannot be certain of the actual timing.

Conditions to Completing the Mergers

The obligations of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp to complete the Mergers are subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including the following:

The Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement must have been approved by the requisite votes of the shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp and the requisite vote of the members of Flatbush MHC.

None of the parties may be subject to any order, decree or injunction of a court or agency of competent jurisdiction that enjoins or prohibits the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and no statute, rule or regulation shall have been enacted, entered, promulgated, interpreted, applied or enforced by any governmental entity or regulatory authority that enjoins or prohibits the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement.

All requisite regulatory approvals required to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement must have been obtained and remain in full force and effect and all waiting periods relating to such approvals must have expired; all written agreements then in effect between Flatbush and any regulatory authority will have been terminated or the regulatory authority will have agreed to terminate such written agreement contemporaneously with the closing of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement; all other necessary approvals, authorizations and consents of any governmental entities required to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, the failure of which to obtain would reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect (as defined below), shall have been obtained and shall remain in full force and effect and all waiting periods relating to such approvals, authorizations or consents shall have expired. No such approval, authorization or consent shall include any condition or requirement, excluding standard conditions that are normally imposed by the regulatory authorities in the context of a bank merger transaction, that would, in the good faith reasonable judgment of the Board of Directors of Northfield Bancorp, materially and adversely affect the business, operations, financial condition, property or assets of the combined enterprise of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp.

The consent or approval of each person (other than the regulatory approvals and other approvals, authorizations and consents of governmental entities referred to above) whose consent or approval shall be required to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement shall have been obtained, except for those for which failure to obtain such consent or approval would not, individually or in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Northfield Bancorp (after giving effect to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement).

The registration statement that includes this proxy statement/prospectus shall have been declared effective by the Securities and Exchange Commission and no stop order suspending the effectiveness of the registration statement shall have been issued and be in effect and no proceedings for that purpose shall have been initiated by the Securities and Exchange Commission and not withdrawn. For purposes of the Merger Agreement, material adverse effect is defined as any effect, circumstance or occurrence that (i) is material and adverse to the financial condition, results of operations, assets or business of Northfield taken as a whole, or Flatbush taken as a whole, respectively, or (ii) does or would materially impair the ability of Flatbush, on the one hand, or Northfield, on the other hand, to perform its obligations under the Merger Agreement or otherwise materially threaten or materially impede the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. The Merger Agreement provides specific exclusions for items that do not constitute a material adverse effect.

In addition, the obligation of Northfield to complete the Mergers is conditioned on the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

Subject to the standard set forth in the Merger Agreement, each of the representations and warranties of Flatbush contained in the Merger Agreement shall be true and correct as of the date of the Merger Agreement and as of the closing date of the Mid-Tier Merger, and Flatbush Bancorp shall have delivered to Northfield Bancorp a certificate to such effect signed by the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer of Flatbush Bancorp.

Flatbush shall have performed in all material respects all obligations and complied in all material respects with all agreements or covenants to be performed or complied with by it at or prior to the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger. Northfield Bancorp shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Flatbush Bancorp by the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of Flatbush Bancorp to such effect.

On the basis of facts, representations and assumptions which shall be consistent with the state of facts existing at the closing date of the Mid-Tier Merger, Northfield Bancorp shall have received an opinion of counsel, dated as of the closing date, indicating that the Mergers will qualify as tax-free reorganizations within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

Moreover, the obligation of Flatbush to complete the Mergers is conditioned on the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

Subject to the standard set forth in the Merger Agreement, each of the representations and warranties of Northfield contained in the Merger Agreement shall be true and correct as of the date of the Merger Agreement and as of the closing date of the Mid-Tier Merger, and Northfield Bancorp shall have delivered to Flatbush Bancorp a certificate to such effect signed by the Chief Executive Officer and the Chief Financial Officer of Northfield Bancorp.

Northfield shall have performed in all material respects all obligations and complied in all material respects with all agreements or covenants to be performed or complied with by it at or prior to the effective time of the Mid-Tier Merger. Flatbush Bancorp shall have received a certificate signed on behalf of Northfield Bancorp by the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer of Northfield Bancorp to such effects.

On the basis of facts, representations and assumptions which shall be consistent with the state of facts existing at the closing date of the Mid-Tier Merger, Flatbush Bancorp shall have received an opinion of counsel, dated as of the closing date, indicating that the Mergers will qualify as tax-free reorganizations within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp cannot guarantee whether all of the conditions to the Mergers will be satisfied or waived by the party permitted to do so.

Additional Covenants of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp in the Merger Agreement

Agreement Not to Solicit Other Proposals. Flatbush Bancorp has agreed not to, and has agreed not to authorize or permit Flatbush Federal Savings and its subsidiaries and their representatives to: (i) initiate, solicit, induce or knowingly encourage or facilitate any inquiry, offer or proposal that constitutes or could reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal by a third party, (ii) participate in discussions or negotiations regarding an acquisition proposal, or furnish or afford access to information with respect to Flatbush or otherwise relating to an acquisition proposal, (iii) release any person from, waive any provisions of, or fail to enforce any confidentiality agreement or standstill agreement to which Flatbush Bancorp is a party; or (iv) enter into any agreement, agreement in principle or letter of intent with respect to any acquisition proposal or approve or resolve to approve any acquisition proposal or any agreement, agreement in principle or letter of intent relating to an acquisition proposal. Flatbush Bancorp has also agreed that it will cause each of its representatives to immediately cease and cause to be terminated any and all existing discussions, negotiations, and communications with any persons with respect to any existing or potential acquisition proposal. An acquisition proposal means any offer or proposal or offer contemplating, relating to, or that could reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition transaction, which is defined in the Merger Agreement as:

any merger, consolidation, recapitalization, share exchange, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving Flatbush Bancorp or its subsidiaries;

any transaction pursuant to which any third party or group acquires or would acquire 25% or more of the assets of Flatbush Bancorp and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis;

any issuance, sale or other disposition of securities (or options, rights or warrants to purchase or securities convertible into, such securities) representing 25% or more of the votes attached to the outstanding securities of Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries;

any tender offer or exchange offer for 25% or more of any class of equity securities of Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries; and any transaction which is similar in form, substance or purpose to any of the foregoing transactions, or any combination of the foregoing.

Notwithstanding the agreement of Flatbush Bancorp not to solicit other acquisition proposals, the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp may generally participate in discussions or negotiations regarding any acquisition proposal or furnish, or otherwise afford access, to any person any information or data with respect to Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries or otherwise relating to an acquisition proposal if Flatbush Bancorp has received a bona fide unsolicited, written acquisition proposal that did not result from Flatbush Bancorp's breach of its obligations with respect to non-solicitation, provided that:

after consultation with and considering the advice from outside legal counsel and its independent financial advisor, the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors determines, in good faith, there is a reasonable likelihood the acquisition proposal constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a superior proposal, defined below; and prior to furnishing or affording access to any information or data with respect to Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries or otherwise relating to an acquisition proposal, Flatbush Bancorp receives a confidentiality agreement from that party with terms no less favorable to Flatbush Bancorp than those contained in the confidentiality agreement between Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp. In addition, Flatbush Bancorp must promptly provide to Northfield Bancorp any material, non-public information regarding Flatbush Bancorp or its subsidiaries provided to any other person that was not previously provided to Northfield Bancorp, such additional information to be provided no later than the date of provision of such information to such other party.

Table of Contents

A superior proposal means any bona fide written proposal (on its most recently amended or modified terms, if amended or modified) made by a third party to enter into an acquisition transaction on terms that the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors determines in its good faith judgment, after consultation with and having considered the advice of outside legal counsel and a financial advisor: (i) would, if consummated, result in the acquisition of all, but not less than all, of the issued and outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock or all, or substantially all, of the assets of Flatbush Bancorp and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis; (ii) would result in a transaction that involves consideration to the holders of the shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock that is more favorable, from a financial point of view, than the consideration to be paid to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders pursuant to the Merger Agreement, considering, among other things, the nature of the consideration being offered, and which proposal is not conditioned upon obtaining additional financing; and (iii) is reasonably likely to be completed on the terms proposed, in each case taking into account all legal, financial, regulatory and other aspects of the proposal, including any material regulatory approvals or other risks associated with the timing of the proposed transaction beyond or in addition to those specifically contemplated hereby.

If Flatbush Bancorp receives a proposal or nonpublic information request from a third party, Flatbush Bancorp must promptly notify Northfield Bancorp and provide Northfield Bancorp with information about the third party and its proposal.

Certain Other Covenants. The Merger Agreement also contains other agreements relating to the conduct of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp before consummation of the Mergers, including the following:

Flatbush Bancorp will cause one or more of its representatives to confer with representatives of Northfield Bancorp and report the general status of Flatbush Bancorp's operations at such times as Northfield Bancorp may reasonably request;

Flatbush Bancorp will promptly notify Northfield Bancorp of any material change in the normal course of its business or in the operation of its properties and, to the extent permitted by applicable law, of any governmental complaints, investigations or hearings (or communications indicating that the same may be contemplated), or the institution or the threat of material litigation involving Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries;

Flatbush Federal Savings will meet with Northfield Bank on a regular basis to discuss and plan for the conversion of Flatbush Federal Savings' data processing and related electronic information systems. Under certain circumstances, in the event that Flatbush Federal Savings takes, at the request of Northfield Bank, any action relative to third parties to facilitate the conversion that results in the imposition of any termination fees or charges, Northfield Bank will indemnify Flatbush Federal Savings for any such fees and charges, and the costs of reversing the conversion process;

Flatbush Federal Savings will provide Northfield Bank, within 15 business days after the end of each calendar month, a written list of nonperforming assets (as defined in the Merger Agreement) and, on a monthly basis, Flatbush Federal Savings will provide Northfield Bank with a schedule of all loan approvals;

Flatbush Bancorp will promptly inform Northfield Bancorp upon receiving notice of any legal, administrative, arbitration or other proceedings, demands, notices, audits or investigations relating to the alleged liability of Flatbush Bancorp or any of its subsidiaries under any labor or employment law;

Flatbush Bancorp will give Northfield Bancorp reasonable access during normal business hours to its books, records, properties, personnel and other information and will as Northfield Bancorp may reasonably request;

Flatbush Bancorp will promptly furnish Northfield Bancorp with a copy of all documents filed pursuant to federal or state securities or banking laws, as well as annual interim or special audits of the financial statements of Flatbush Bancorp or its subsidiaries and all documents sent by Flatbush Bancorp or its subsidiaries to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency or other regulatory authorities;

Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp will use their commercially reasonable best efforts to obtain all consents and approvals necessary or desirable to consummate the Mergers;

Subject to the terms and conditions contained in the Merger Agreement, Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp will use reasonable efforts to take all action necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement;

Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings will permit a representative of Northfield Bancorp to attend any meetings of the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp or Flatbush Federal Savings except that Flatbush Bancorp and Flatbush Federal Savings are not required to permit the Northfield Bancorp representative to remain present during any confidential discussion of the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby or any third party proposal to acquire control of Flatbush Bancorp or Flatbush Federal Savings or during any other matter that the respective board of directors has reasonably determined to be confidential with respect to Northfield Bancorp's participation;

Flatbush Bancorp will take all steps necessary to convene a meeting of its shareholders to vote on the Merger Agreement and the Mid-Tier Merger. The Flatbush Bancorp board of directors will recommend approval of the Merger Agreement to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders and will use its reasonable best efforts to obtain the shareholder approval required to approve the Merger Agreement. However, the Flatbush Bancorp board of directors may withdraw, qualify or modify such recommendation if Flatbush Bancorp has received a superior proposal (as described above in Agreement Not to Solicit Other Proposals), Flatbush Bancorp has notified Northfield Bancorp as to the receipt of the superior proposal and Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors, after consultation with and based on the advice of its outside legal counsel and financial advisor, determines that the failure to take such actions would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties to Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders under applicable law, taking into account any adjustments, modifications or amendment to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement that Northfield Bancorp may have committed to in writing (although Northfield Bancorp has no obligation to do so);

Northfield Bancorp will file a registration statement, of which this proxy statement/prospectus forms a part, with the Securities and Exchange Commission registering the shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock to be issued in the Mid-Tier Merger to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders;

Flatbush MHC will take all steps necessary to convene a meeting of its members to vote on the Merger Agreement and the MHC Merger;

Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp will cooperate with each other and use reasonable efforts to promptly prepare and file all necessary documentation to obtain all necessary regulatory approvals required to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement;

if, before the completion of the Mergers, Northfield adopts a plan of conversion to convert from the mutual holding company to stock holding company form of organization, unless prohibited by law or regulation, the Boards of Directors of Northfield will provide subscription rights as of the eligibility and supplemental eligibility record dates to the eligible depositors and borrowers of Flatbush Federal Savings similar to the rights granted under the plan of conversion to the depositors of Northfield Bank, which shall be conditioned on the closing of the Mergers; and before completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, Northfield Bancorp will notify the Nasdaq Stock Market of the additional shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock that Northfield Bancorp will issue in exchange for shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock. In addition, each of Northfield and Flatbush are subject to other customary covenants under the Merger Agreement. Please refer to the Merger Agreement, which is attached as Annex A to this proxy statement/prospectus.

by the board of directors of either party, if the other party makes a misrepresentation, breaches a warranty or fails to fulfill a covenant that cannot be cured prior to November 30, 2012 or that has not been cured within 30 days following written notice to the party in default, provided that the terminating party is not in material breach of any of its representations, warranties, covenants or other agreements contained in the Merger Agreement;

by the board of directors of either party, if the Mid-Tier Merger is not consummated by November 30, 2012, or a later date agreed to in writing by Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp, unless failure to complete the Mid-Tier Merger by that time is due to a material breach of a representation, warranty, covenant or other agreement by the party seeking to terminate the Merger Agreement;

by the board of directors of either party, if the shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp or the members of Flatbush MHC fail to approve the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement;

by the board of directors of either party, if a required regulatory approval is denied or any court or governmental authority prohibits the consummation of any of the Mergers;

by the board of directors of Northfield Bancorp if Flatbush Bancorp does not publicly recommend in this proxy statement/prospectus approval of the Merger Agreement, or if Flatbush Bancorp withdraws its recommendation or modifies or qualifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to Northfield Bancorp; or by the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp if at any time before the approval of the Merger Agreement by Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders: (i) Flatbush Bancorp has received a superior proposal, and in accordance with the Merger Agreement, the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp has made a determination to terminate the Merger Agreement in order to accept such superior proposal; and (ii) Flatbush Bancorp has paid the termination fee described below in Termination Fee.

Termination Fee

The Merger Agreement requires Flatbush Bancorp to pay Northfield Bancorp a fee of $700,000 if the Merger Agreement is terminated in certain circumstances that involve a superior proposal.

Specifically, Flatbush Bancorp must pay the termination fee if:

Flatbush Bancorp terminates the Merger Agreement to accept a superior proposal; or if Flatbush Bancorp enters into a definitive agreement relating to an acquisition proposal or consummates an Acquisition Proposal within 12 months of any of the following:

- (i) Northfield Bancorp terminates the Merger Agreement due to a willful breach by Flatbush of its representations, warranties or covenants contained in the Merger Agreement;
- (ii) the board of directors of Flatbush Bancorp does not publicly recommend in this proxy statement/prospectus that Flatbush Bancorp shareholders approve the Merger Agreement or if, after recommending that shareholders approve the Merger Agreement, the board of directors withdraws its recommendation or modifies or qualifies its recommendation in a manner adverse to Northfield Bancorp; or
- (iii) the Flatbush Bancorp shareholders fail to approve the Merger Agreement after the public disclosure or public awareness of an acquisition proposal.

Expenses

Except as specifically provided in the Merger Agreement, each of Northfield Bancorp and Flatbush Bancorp will pay its own costs and expenses incurred in connection with the Mergers.

Changing the Terms of the Merger Agreement

Before the completion of the Mid-Tier Merger, the parties to the Merger Agreement may agree to waive or amend any provision of the Merger Agreement. However, after the approval by Flatbush Bancorp shareholders, the parties can make no amendment that reduces the amount or value or changes the form of consideration to be received by Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders under the terms of the Merger Agreement.

MUTUAL-TO-STOCK CONVERSION OF NORTHFIELD MHC

On June 6, 2012, the Board of Directors of Northfield Bancorp and the Board of Trustees of Northfield MHC adopted a Plan of Conversion and Reorganization (the Plan of Conversion) pursuant to which Northfield MHC will convert from the mutual to stock form. If the conversion and reorganization are completed, Northfield Bank will become a wholly owned subsidiary of a new holding company, which also will be named Northfield

Bancorp, Inc. (New Northfield). Shares of common stock of Northfield Bancorp held by persons other than Northfield MHC at the time of the completion of the conversion will be converted into shares of common stock of New Northfield pursuant to an exchange ratio intended to result in such persons holding the same percentage interest in New Northfield as they hold in Northfield Bancorp immediately prior to the completion of the conversion. The shares of Northfield Bancorp held by Northfield MHC will be cancelled and shares of New Northfield, representing Northfield MHC's majority ownership interest, will be sold in a stock offering.

Depositors of Northfield Bank with qualifying deposits as of March 31, 2011, will have first priority to purchase the shares of common stock. Subject to closing of the Mergers, depositors of Flatbush Federal Savings who had qualifying deposits with Flatbush Federal Savings as of March 31, 2011 will be treated as having had those deposits with Northfield Bank on that date and will also have a first tier priority to purchase shares of New Northfield common stock.

Under current federal regulation and policy, the Mergers cannot be consummated after the completion of the conversion and stock offering. Accordingly, Northfield does not expect to commence the stock offering until the Mergers are completed or the Merger Agreement is terminated. However, completion of the Mergers is not a condition to conducting the conversion and stock offering, and the conversion and stock offering may be completed if the Mergers are not consummated. Conversely, the Mergers can be completed without Northfield MHC and Northfield Bancorp completing the conversion and the stock offering, as Northfield Bancorp may determine, at any time, not to proceed with the conversion and stock offering, or may be unable to complete the conversion and stock offering.

The transactions contemplated by the Plan of Conversion are subject to approval by Northfield Bancorp's shareholders (including approval by a majority of the shares held by persons other than Northfield MHC). Failure to receive either of these approvals would result in Northfield Bancorp being unable to complete the conversion and stock offering. Flatbush Bancorp shareholders who are shareholders of Northfield Bancorp as of the voting record date for the Plan of Conversion will be entitled to vote on the conversion at a special meeting to be held separately from the special meeting of Flatbush Bancorp shareholders to approve the Merger Agreement.

Share Exchange for Shareholders of Northfield Bancorp

Shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock will be canceled at the completion of the conversion and will be exchanged for shares of common stock of New Northfield. The number of shares of common stock to be received will be based on an exchange ratio, which assumes shares of New Northfield will be sold at $10.00 per share, and will depend upon the final pro forma appraised value of New Northfield. The following table shows how the exchange ratio will adjust, based on the appraised value of New Northfield as of August 17, 2012, assuming public shareholders of Northfield Bancorp, including former shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp, own 38.9% of Northfield Bancorp common stock immediately prior to the completion of the conversion. The table also shows the number of shares of New Northfield common stock a hypothetical owner of Northfield Bancorp common stock would receive in exchange for 100 shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock owned at the completion of the conversion, based on the valuation range and the number of shares of common stock issued in the offering. The actual final exchange ratio may be lower than the amounts set forth in the table below, depending on the final pro forma appraised value of New Northfield, the actual offering price per share and the actual percentage of shares of Northfield Bancorp held by public shareholders, including former shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp, immediately prior to completion of the offering.

- (2) Represents the pro forma tangible book value per share at each level of the offering range multiplied by the respective exchange ratio.
- (3) Cash will be paid in lieu of fractional shares.

No fractional shares of New Northfield common stock will be issued to any public shareholder of Northfield Bancorp. For each fractional share that otherwise would be issued, New Northfield will pay in cash an amount equal to the product obtained by multiplying the fractional share of New Northfield to which the holder otherwise would be entitled by the $10.00 per share offering price.

Pro Forma Data for the Mergers and the Conversion

The following tables summarize historical data of Northfield Bancorp and pro forma data of New Northfield at and for the six months ended June 30, 2012, and at and for the year ended December 31, 2011. This information is based on assumptions set forth below and in the tables, and should not be used as a basis for projections of market value of the shares of New Northfield common stock following the conversion and offering.

The net proceeds in the tables are based upon the following assumptions:

- (i) 25% of all shares of common stock will be sold in subscription and community offerings and 75% of all shares of common stock will be sold in a syndicated offering;
- (ii) Northfield Bank's employee stock ownership plan will purchase 4% of the shares of common stock sold in the offering, with a loan from New Northfield. The loan will be repaid in substantially equal payments of principal and interest (at the prime rate of interest, calculated as of the date of the origination of the loan) over a period of 30 years. Interest income earned on the loan will offset the interest paid by Northfield Bank;
- (iii) the Mergers had been completed as of the beginning of each period;
- (iv) New Northfield will pay a fee equal to (a) 1.0% of the aggregate amount of common stock sold in the subscription and community offerings (net of insider purchases and shares purchased by the employee stock ownership plan) up to the first 10% of shares sold in the offering; and (b) 3.0% of the aggregate amount of common stock sold in the subscription and community offerings (net of insider purchases and shares purchased by Northfield Bank's employee stock ownership plan) in excess of 10% of the shares sold in the offering;

Edgar Filing: Northfield Bancorp, Inc. - Form 424B3

- (v) New Northfield will pay an aggregate fee of 5% of the aggregate dollar amount of the common stock sold in the syndicated offering;

- (vi) No fee will be paid with respect to shares of common stock purchased by Northfield Bank's qualified and non-qualified employee stock benefit plans, or stock purchased by Northfield Bank's officers, directors and employees, and their immediate families, and no fee will be paid with respect to exchange shares issued to shareholders of Northfield Bancorp; and

(vii) total expenses of the offering, other than the sales fees and commissions, will be $2.2 million. Northfield Bancorp calculated pro forma consolidated net income for the six months ended June 30, 2012, and the year ended December 31, 2011, as if the estimated net proceeds had been invested at the beginning of the period at an assumed interest rate of 0.72% (0.43% on an after-tax basis). This represents the yield on the five-year U.S. Treasury Note as of June 30, 2012.

Northfield Bancorp calculated historical and pro forma per share amounts by dividing historical and pro forma amounts of consolidated net income and shareholders' equity by the indicated number of shares of common stock. These figures are then adjusted to give effect to the shares of common stock purchased by the employee stock ownership plan. Per share amounts are computed for each period as if the shares of common stock were outstanding at the beginning of each period, but per share historical or pro forma shareholders' equity is not adjusted to reflect the earnings on the estimated net proceeds.

The pro forma tables give effect to the implementation of one or more stock-based benefit plans. Subject to the receipt of shareholder approval, the tables assume that the stock-based benefit plans will acquire for restricted stock awards a number of shares of common stock equal to 4% of the shares of common stock sold in the stock offering at the same price for which they were sold in the stock offering. The tables further assume that awards of common stock granted under the plans vest over a five-year period.

The tables also assume that the stock-based benefit plans will grant options to acquire shares of common stock equal to 10% of the shares of common stock sold in the stock offering. The tables include an estimate of a grant-date fair value of $1.79 for each option, applying the Black-Scholes option pricing model. New Northfield may grant options and award shares of common stock under one or more stock-based benefit plans in excess of 10% and 4%, respectively, of the shares of common stock sold in the stock offering and that vest sooner than over a five-year period if the stock-based benefit plans are adopted more than one year following the stock offering.

The pro forma table does not give effect to:

withdrawals from deposit accounts for the purpose of purchasing shares of common stock in the stock offering;

results of operations after the stock offering; or changes in the market price of the shares of common stock after the stock offering.

The following pro forma information may not be representative of the financial effects of the offering at the dates on which the stock offering actually occurs, and should not be taken as indicative of future results of operations. Accordingly, pro forma equity and income amounts may be lower than the amounts set forth in the table below. Pro forma consolidated shareholders' equity represents the difference between the stated amounts of assets and liabilities. The pro forma shareholders' equity is not intended to represent the fair market value of the shares of common stock and may be different than the amounts that would be available for distribution to shareholders in the event of liquidation.

- (1) Assumes that 4% of the shares of common stock sold in the offering will be purchased by the employee stock ownership plan. For purposes of this table, the funds used to acquire these shares are assumed to have been borrowed by the employee stock ownership plan from New Northfield. Northfield Bank intends to make annual contributions to the employee stock ownership plan in an amount at least equal to the required principal and interest payments on the debt. Northfield Bank's total annual payments on the employee stock ownership plan debt are based upon 30 equal annual installments of principal and interest. Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification 718-40, Employers' Accounting for Employee Stock Ownership Plans (ASC 718-40) requires that an employer record compensation expense in an amount equal to the fair value of the shares committed to be released to employees. The pro forma adjustments assume that the employee stock ownership plan shares are allocated in equal annual installments based on the number of loan repayment installments assumed to be paid by Northfield Bank, the fair value of the common stock remains equal to the subscription price and the employee stock ownership plan expense reflects an effective combined federal and state tax rate of 40.0%. The unallocated employee stock ownership plan shares are reflected as a reduction of shareholders' equity. No reinvestment is assumed on proceeds contributed to fund the employee stock ownership plan. The pro forma net income further assumes that 19,266, 22,666 and 26,066 shares were committed to be released during the period at the minimum, midpoint and maximum of the offering range, respectively, and in accordance with ASC 718-40, only the employee stock ownership plan shares committed to be released during the period were considered outstanding for purposes of net income per share calculations.
- (2) Assumes that, if approved by New Northfield's shareholders, one or more stock-based benefit plans purchase an aggregate number of shares of common stock equal to 4% of the shares to be sold in the offering. Such amount is subject to adjustment as may be required by federal regulations or policy to reflect restricted stock previously granted by Northfield Bancorp or Northfield Bank (or may be a greater number of shares if the plan is implemented more than one year after completion of the conversion). Stockholder approval of the plans and purchases by the plans may not occur earlier than six months after the completion of the conversion. The shares may be acquired directly from New Northfield or through open market purchases. Shares in the stock-based benefit plan are assumed to vest over a period of five years. The funds to be used to purchase the shares will be provided by New Northfield. The table assumes that (i) the stock-based benefit plan acquires the shares through open market purchases at $10.00 per share, (ii) 5% of the amount contributed to the plan is amortized as an expense during the six months ended June 30, 2012, and (iii) the plan expense reflects an effective combined federal and state tax rate of 40.0%. Assuming shareholder approval of the stock-based benefit plans and that shares of common stock (equal to 4% of the shares sold in the offering) are awarded through the use of authorized but unissued shares of common stock, shareholders would have their ownership and voting interests diluted by approximately 2.38%.
- (3) Assumes that, if approved by New Northfield's shareholders, one or more stock-based benefit plans grant options to acquire an aggregate number of shares of common stock equal to 10% of the shares to be sold in the offering. Such amount is subject to adjustment as may be required by federal regulations or policy to reflect stock options previously granted by Northfield Bancorp or Northfield Bank (or may be a greater number of shares if the plan is implemented more than one year after completion of the conversion). Stockholder approval of the plans may not occur earlier than six months after the completion of the conversion. In calculating the pro forma effect of the stock-based benefit plans, it is assumed that the exercise price of the stock options and the trading price of the common stock at the date of grant were $10.00 per share, the estimated grant-date fair value determined using the Black-Scholes option pricing model was $1.79 for each option, the aggregate grant-date fair value of the stock options was amortized to expense on a straight-line basis over a five-year vesting period of the options, and that 25% of the amortization expense (or the assumed portion relating to options granted to directors) resulted in a tax benefit using an assumed tax rate of 40.0%. The actual expense will be determined by the grant-date fair value of the options, which will depend on a number of factors, including the valuation assumptions used in the option pricing model ultimately adopted. Under the above assumptions, the adoption of the stock-based benefit plans will result in no additional shares under the treasury stock method for purposes of calculating earnings per share. There can be no assurance that the actual exercise price of the stock options will be equal to the $10.00 price per share. If a portion of the shares used to satisfy the exercise of options comes from authorized but unissued shares, net income per share and shareholders' equity per share would decrease. The issuance of authorized but unissued shares of common stock pursuant to the exercise of options under such plan would dilute New Northfield shareholders' ownership and voting interests by approximately 5.76%.

- (4) Per share figures include publicly held shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock that will be exchanged for shares of New Northfield common stock in the conversion. Net income per share computations are determined by taking the number of shares assumed to be sold in the offering and the number of new shares assumed to be issued in exchange for publicly held shares and, in accordance with ASC 718-40, subtracting the employee stock ownership plan shares which have not been committed for release during the period. See note 1. The number of shares of common stock actually sold and the corresponding number of exchange shares may be more or less than the assumed amounts. Pro forma net income per share has been annualized for purposes of calculating the offering price to pro forma net earnings per share.
- (5) Includes historical shareholders' equity of $18.8 million at June 30, 2012 for Flatbush Bancorp and estimated acquisition adjustments of $1.6 million. Intangible assets resulting from the acquisition are estimated at $813,000.
- (6) The retained earnings of Northfield Bank will be substantially restricted after the conversion.
- (7) Per share figures include publicly held shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock that will be exchanged for shares of New Northfield common stock in the conversion. Stockholders' equity per share calculations are based upon the sum of (i) the number of subscription shares assumed to be sold in the offering and (ii) shares to be issued in exchange for publicly held shares at the minimum, midpoint and maximum of the offering range, respectively. The exchange shares reflect an exchange ratio of 1.1402, 1.3414 and 1.5426 at the minimum, midpoint and maximum of the offering range, respectively. The number of shares actually sold and the corresponding number of exchange shares may be more or less than the assumed amounts.

DESCRIPTION OF NORTHFIELD BANCORP CAPITAL STOCK

The following summary describes the material terms of Northfield Bancorp's capital stock and is subject to, and qualified by, Northfield Bancorp's charter and bylaws and federal law and regulations. See Where You Can Find More Information as to how to obtain a copy of Northfield Bancorp's charter and bylaws.

General

Northfield Bancorp is authorized to issue 90,000,000 shares of common stock having a par value of $0.01 per share, and 10,000,000 shares of preferred stock having a par value of $0.01 per share. At September 12, 2012, 40,216,999 shares of common stock were outstanding. At that date, no preferred shares were outstanding.

Common Stock

Voting Rights. The holders of common stock are entitled to one vote per share on all matters presented to shareholders. Holders of common stock are not entitled to cumulate their votes in the election of directors. However, Northfield Bancorp's charter provides that under certain circumstances, shares beneficially owned in excess of 10% of the issued and outstanding shares of common stock may be considered Excess Shares and are not be entitled to any vote with respect of the shares held in excess of the 10% limit.

Public stockholders own a minority of the outstanding shares of our common stock. As a result of its ownership of a majority of our outstanding shares of common stock after the stock offering, Northfield MHC, through its board of trustees, is able to exercise voting control over most matters put to a vote of stockholders. These trustees elect themselves, and are not elected by stockholders of Northfield Bancorp. Northfield MHC may exercise its voting control to prevent a sale or merger transaction in which shareholders could receive a premium for their shares.

Distributions. Northfield Bancorp can pay dividends if, as and when declared by our board of directors, subject to compliance with limitations imposed by law, regulations or policy of the federal banking regulators. The holders of our shares of common stock are entitled to receive and share equally in such dividends as may be declared by our board of directors out of funds legally available therefor. Pursuant to our charter, we are authorized to issue preferred stock. If Northfield Bancorp issues preferred stock, the holders thereof may have a priority over the holders of the common stock with respect to dividends.

Liquidation. In the unlikely event of any liquidation, dissolution or winding up of Northfield Bank, Northfield Bancorp, as holder of Northfield Bank's capital stock, would be entitled to receive, after payment or provision for payment of all debts and liabilities of Northfield Bank, including all deposit accounts and accrued interest thereon, all assets of Northfield Bank available for distribution. In the event of Northfield Bancorp's liquidation, dissolution or winding up, the holders of its shares of common stock would be entitled to receive, after payment or provision for payment of all its debts and liabilities, all of Northfield Bancorp's assets available for distribution. If preferred stock is issued, the holders thereof may have a priority over the holders of the common stock in the event of liquidation or dissolution.

No Preemptive or Conversion Rights. Holders of Northfield Bancorp's shares of common stock are not entitled to preemptive rights to subscribe for a proportionate share of any additional securities issued by Northfield Bancorp before such securities are offered to others. The shares of common stock are not subject to redemption. The absence of preemptive rights increases Northfield Bancorp's flexibility to issue additional shares of common stock in connection with Northfield Bancorp's acquisitions, employee benefit plans and for other purposes, without affording the holders of common stock a right to subscribe for their proportionate share of those additional securities. The holders of common stock are not entitled to any redemption privileges, sinking fund privileges or conversion rights.

Preferred Stock

Northfield Bancorp's charter authorizes the board of directors to issue preferred stock. Such stock may be issued with such preferences and designations as the board of directors may determine from time to time. Northfield Bancorp's board of directors can, without shareholder approval, issue preferred stock with voting, dividend, liquidation and conversion rights which could dilute the voting strength of the holders of the common stock and may assist management in impeding an unfriendly takeover or attempted change in control.

Certain Corporate Structure and Charter and Bylaw Provisions Affecting Stock

As a federally chartered mutual holding company, Northfield MHC is required to own a majority of Northfield Bancorp's outstanding shares of common stock so long as Northfield Bancorp operates in the mutual holding company structure, and therefore will be able to control the outcome of any action requiring a vote of all of our stockholders. In addition, Northfield Bancorp's charter and bylaws contain several provisions that may make Northfield Bancorp a less attractive target for an acquisition of control by anyone who does not have the support of Northfield Bancorp's board of directors. Such provisions include, among other things, special procedural rules related to nominations and shareholder proposals, a staggered board of directors and a vote limitation provision. The foregoing is qualified in its entirety by reference to Northfield Bancorp's charter and bylaws.

Restrictions on Ownership

Under the federal Change in Bank Control Act, a notice must be submitted to the Federal Reserve Board if any person (including a company), or group acting in concert, seeks to acquire control of a savings and loan holding company or savings association. An acquisition of control can occur upon the acquisition of 10% or more of the voting stock of a savings and loan holding company or savings institution or as otherwise defined by the Federal Reserve Board. Under the Change in Bank Control Act, the Federal Reserve Board has 60 days from the filing of a complete notice to act, taking into consideration certain factors, including the financial and managerial resources of the acquirer and the anti-trust effects of the acquisition. Any company that so acquires control would then be subject to regulation as a savings and loan holding company.

MERGER-RELATED EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION ARRANGEMENTS (PROPOSAL 2)

As required by Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K and Regulation 14A of the Securities Exchange Act, Flatbush Bancorp is providing its shareholders with the opportunity to cast a non-binding, advisory vote on the compensation that may become payable to its named executive officers in connection with the completion of the Mergers, as disclosed in the section of this proxy statement/prospectus captioned "Description of the Mergers - Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours" beginning on page 51 of this proxy statement/prospectus, and the related table and narratives.

Your vote is requested. Flatbush Bancorp believes that the information regarding compensation that may become payable to its named executive officers in connection with the completion of the Mergers, as disclosed in the section of this proxy statement/prospectus captioned "Description of the Mergers - Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours" is reasonable and demonstrates that Flatbush Bancorp's executive compensation program was designed appropriately and structured to ensure the retention of talented executives and a strong alignment with the long-term interests of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders. This vote is not intended to address any specific item of compensation, but rather the overall compensation that may become payable to Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers in connection with the completion of the Mergers. In addition, this vote is separate and independent from the vote of shareholders to approve the completion of the Mergers. However, the compensation will not be payable in the event the Mergers are not completed. Flatbush Bancorp asks that its shareholders vote "FOR" the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the compensation that may become payable to Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers in connection with the completion of the merger, as disclosed in the section captioned "Description of the Mergers - Interests of Certain Persons in the Mergers that are Different from Yours" (beginning on page 51 of the proxy statement/prospectus dated September 20, 2012) and the related table and narratives, is hereby APPROVED.

This vote is advisory and therefore, it will not be binding on Flatbush Bancorp, nor will it overrule any prior decision of Flatbush Bancorp or require Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors (or any committee thereof) to take any action. However, Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors values the opinions of Flatbush Bancorp's shareholders, and to the extent that there is any significant vote against the named executive officer compensation as disclosed in this proxy statement/prospectus, Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors will consider shareholders' concerns and will evaluate whether any actions are necessary to address those concerns. Flatbush Bancorp's board of directors will consider the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Bancorp common stock entitled to vote on the matter FOR the foregoing resolution as advisory approval of the compensation that may become payable to Flatbush Bancorp's named executive officers in connection with the completion of the Mergers.

FLATBUSH BANCORP'S BOARD OF DIRECTORS UNANIMOUSLY RECOMMENDS A VOTE FOR THE APPROVAL OF THE RESOLUTION SET FORTH ABOVE.

(d) If the Person surrendering a Certificate and signing the accompanying letter of transmittal is not the record holder thereof, then it shall be a condition of the payment of the Merger Consideration that: (i) such Certificate is properly endorsed to such Person or is accompanied by appropriate stock powers, in either case signed exactly as the name of the record holder appears on such Certificate, and is otherwise in proper form for transfer, or is accompanied by appropriate evidence of the authority of the Person surrendering such Certificate and signing the letter of transmittal to do so on behalf of the record holder; and (ii) the Person requesting such exchange shall pay to the Exchange Agent in advance any transfer or other taxes required by reason of the payment to a Person other than the registered holder of the Certificate surrendered, or required for any other reason, or shall establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such tax has been paid or is not payable.

(g) In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by the Exchange Agent or Northfield Bancorp, the posting by such person of a bond in such amount as the Exchange Agent may reasonably direct as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent will issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the Merger Consideration deliverable in respect thereof.

For purposes of this Agreement, Acquisition Proposal shall mean any offer or proposal (other than an offer or proposal from Northfield Bancorp), whether or not in writing, contemplating, relating to, or that could reasonably be expected to lead to, an Acquisition Transaction. For purposes of this Agreement, Acquisition Transaction shall mean (A) any transaction or series of transactions involving any merger, consolidation, recapitalization, share exchange, liquidation, dissolution or similar transaction involving Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of its Subsidiaries; (B) any transaction pursuant to which any third party or group acquires or would acquire (whether through sale, lease or other disposition), directly or indirectly, any assets of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of its Subsidiaries representing, in the aggregate, twenty-five percent (25%) or more of the assets of Flatbush Federal Bancorp and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis; (C) any issuance, sale or other disposition of (including by way of merger, consolidation, share exchange or any similar transaction) securities (or options, rights or warrants to purchase or securities convertible into, such securities) representing twenty-five percent (25%) or more of the votes attached to the outstanding securities of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of its Subsidiaries; (D) any tender offer or exchange offer that, if consummated, would result in any third party or group beneficially owning twenty-five percent (25%) or more of any class of equity securities of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of its Subsidiaries; or (E) any transaction which is similar in form, substance or purpose to any of the foregoing transactions, or any combination of the foregoing.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 5.10(a), Flatbush Federal Bancorp may take any of the actions described in clause (ii) of Section 5.10(a) if, but only if, prior to the date of the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Shareholders Meeting: (i) Flatbush Federal Bancorp has received a bona fide unsolicited written Acquisition Proposal that did not result from a breach of this Section 5.10; (ii) the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board determines in good faith, after consultation with and having considered the advice of its outside legal counsel and its independent financial advisor, that there is a reasonable likelihood that such Acquisition Proposal constitutes or is reasonably likely to lead to a Superior Proposal; and (iii) prior to furnishing or affording access to any information or data with respect to Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of its Subsidiaries or otherwise relating to an Acquisition Proposal, Flatbush Federal Bancorp receives from such Person a confidentiality agreement with terms no less favorable to Flatbush Federal Bancorp than those contained in the confidentiality agreement between Flatbush Federal Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp. Flatbush Federal Bancorp shall promptly provide to Northfield Bancorp any material, non-public information regarding Flatbush Federal Bancorp or its Subsidiaries provided to any other Person that was not previously provided to Northfield Bancorp, such additional information to be provided no later than the date of provision of such information to such other party.

For purposes of this Agreement, Superior Proposal shall mean any bona fide written proposal (on its most recently amended or modified terms, if amended or modified) made by a third party to enter into an Acquisition Transaction on terms that the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board determines in its good faith judgment, after consultation with and having considered the advice of outside legal counsel and a financial advisor: (i) would, if consummated, result in the acquisition of all, but not less than all, of the issued and outstanding shares of Flatbush Federal Bancorp Common Stock or all, or substantially all, of the assets of Flatbush Federal Bancorp and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis; (ii) would result in a transaction that involves consideration to the holders of the shares of Flatbush Federal Bancorp Common Stock that is more favorable, from a financial point of view, than the consideration to be paid to Flatbush Federal Bancorp's shareholders pursuant to this Agreement, considering, among other things, the nature of the consideration being offered, and which proposal is not conditioned upon obtaining additional financing; and (iii) is reasonably likely to be completed on the terms proposed, in each case taking into account all legal, financial, regulatory and other aspects of the proposal, including any material regulatory approvals or other risks associated with the timing of the proposed transaction beyond or in addition to those specifically contemplated hereby.

(c) Flatbush Federal Bancorp shall promptly (and in any event within twenty-four (24) hours) notify Northfield Bancorp in writing if any proposals or offers are received by, any information is requested from, or any negotiations or discussions are sought to be initiated or continued with, Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any Flatbush Federal Bancorp Representatives, in each case in connection with any Acquisition Proposal, and such notice shall indicate the name of the Person initiating such discussions or negotiations or making such proposal, offer or information request and the material terms and conditions of any proposals or offers unless: (i) such materials constitute confidential information of the party making such offer or proposal under an effective confidentiality agreement, (ii) disclosure of such materials jeopardizes the attorney-client privilege or (iii) disclosure of such materials contravenes any law, rule, regulation, order, judgment or decree. Flatbush Federal Bancorp agrees that it shall keep Northfield Bancorp reasonably informed, on a current basis, of the status and terms of any such proposal, offer, information request, negotiations or discussions (including any amendments or modifications to such proposal, offer or request).

(d) Neither the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board nor any committee thereof shall withdraw, qualify or modify, or propose to withdraw, qualify or modify, in a manner adverse to Northfield Bancorp in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including the Mergers), the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation (as defined in Section 7.01), or make any statement, filing or release, in connection with the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Shareholders Meeting or otherwise, inconsistent with the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation (it being understood that taking a neutral position or no position with respect to an Acquisition Proposal shall be considered an adverse modification of the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation).

(e) Notwithstanding Section 5.10(d), prior to the date of Flatbush Federal Bancorp Shareholders Meeting, the Board of Directors of Flatbush Federal Bancorp may approve or recommend to the shareholders of Flatbush Federal Bancorp a Superior Proposal and withdraw, qualify or modify the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation in connection therewith (a Flatbush Federal Bancorp Subsequent Determination) after the third (3rd) Business Day following Northfield Bancorp's receipt of a notice (the Notice of Superior Proposal) from Flatbush Federal Bancorp advising Northfield Bancorp that the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board has decided that a bona fide unsolicited written Acquisition Proposal that it received (that did not result from a breach of this Section 5.10) constitutes a Superior Proposal (it being understood that Flatbush Federal Bancorp shall be required to deliver a new Notice of Superior Proposal in respect of any revised Superior Proposal from such third party or its affiliates that Flatbush Federal Bancorp proposes to accept and the subsequent notice period shall be two (2) business days) if, but only if, (i) the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board has reasonably determined in good faith, after consultation with and having considered the advice of outside legal counsel and a financial advisor, that the failure to take such actions would be reasonably likely to be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties to Flatbush Federal Bancorp's shareholders under applicable law, and (ii) at the end of such three (3) Business Day period or the two (2) Business Day Period (as the case may be), after taking into account any such adjusted, modified or amended terms as may have been committed to in writing by Northfield Bancorp since its receipt of such Notice of Superior Proposal (provided, however, that Northfield Bancorp shall not have any obligation to propose any adjustments, modifications or amendments to the terms and conditions of this Agreement), the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board has again in good faith made the determination (A) in clause (i) of this Section 5.10(e) and (B) that such Acquisition Proposal constitutes a Superior Proposal.

(f) Nothing contained in this Section 5.10 shall prohibit Flatbush Federal Bancorp or the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board from complying with Flatbush Federal Bancorp's obligations required under Rules 14d-9 and 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act; provided, however, that any such disclosure relating to an Acquisition Proposal shall be deemed a change in the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation unless the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Board reaffirms the Flatbush Federal Bancorp Recommendation in such disclosure.

Section 6.01 Conduct of Business.

(a) Affirmative Covenants. During the period from the date of this Agreement to the Effective Time, except with the written consent of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, each of the Northfield Parties will, and will cause each Northfield Subsidiary to operate its business in the usual, regular and ordinary course of business and use reasonable efforts to preserve intact its business organization and assets and maintain its rights and franchises.

(b) Negative Covenants. Each of the Northfield Parties agrees that from the date of this Agreement until the Effective Time, except as otherwise specifically permitted or required by this Agreement or as Previously Disclosed, without the written consent of Flatbush Federal Bancorp (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed), it will not, and it will cause each Northfield Subsidiary not to:

(ii) merge or consolidate Northfield Bancorp with any other corporation in any transaction in which Northfield Bancorp is not the surviving company (a Sale Transaction), unless the acquirer in such transaction expressly agrees to be bound by this Agreement and, if such transaction is closed prior to the Effective Time of the Mid-Tier Merger, any appropriate adjustment is made to the Exchange Ratio so that the Flatbush Shareholders receive the same benefits of the Sale Transaction as if they were shareholders of Northfield Bancorp at the time of the closing of the Sale Transaction;

(iii) voluntarily take any action which would result in any of the representations and warranties of the Northfield Parties set forth in this Agreement becoming untrue as of any date after the date hereof or in any of the conditions set forth in Article VIII hereof not being satisfied, except in each case as may be required by applicable law;

(iv) take any action that is intended to or would reasonably be expected to adversely affect or materially delay the ability of Northfield or Flatbush to obtain any Regulatory Approvals or approvals of Governmental Entities required for the transactions contemplated hereby or to perform its covenants under the Agreement.

(vi) agree to do any of the foregoing.

From time to time prior to the Effective Time, Northfield Bancorp will promptly supplement or amend the Northfield Bancorp Disclosure Schedule delivered in connection herewith with respect to any matter hereafter arising which, if existing, occurring or known at the date of this Agreement, would have been required to be set forth or described in such Northfield Bancorp Disclosure Schedule or which is necessary to correct any information in such Northfield Bancorp Disclosure Schedule which has been rendered inaccurate thereby. No supplement or amendment to such Northfield Bancorp Disclosure Schedule shall have any effect for the purpose of determining satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Article VIII.

Section 6.05 Consents and Approvals of Third Parties; Reasonable Best Efforts.

The Northfield Parties shall use all commercially reasonable efforts to obtain as soon as practicable all consents and approvals necessary or desirable for the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including assistance with Regulatory Authorities concerning the termination of any written agreement then in effect between Flatbush and any Regulatory Authority. Subject to the terms and conditions herein provided, the Northfield Parties agree to use reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all action and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under applicable laws and regulations to consummate and make effective the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

Section 6.07 Employee Benefits.

(a) Northfield Bancorp will review all Flatbush Federal Bancorp Compensation and Benefit Plans to determine whether to terminate or continue such plans. In the event employee compensation and/or benefits as currently provided by Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any Flatbush Subsidiary are changed or terminated by Northfield Bancorp, in whole or in part, Northfield Bancorp shall provide Continuing Employees (as defined below) with compensation and benefits that are, in the aggregate, substantially similar to the compensation and benefits provided to similarly situated employees of Northfield Bancorp or applicable Northfield Bancorp Subsidiary (as of the date any such compensation or benefit is provided). Employees of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any Flatbush Subsidiary who become participants in any Northfield Bancorp Compensation and Benefit Plan shall, for purposes of determining eligibility for and for any applicable vesting periods of such employee benefits only (and not for benefit accrual purposes unless specifically set forth herein) be given credit for service as an employee of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any Flatbush Subsidiary or any predecessor thereto prior to the Effective Time, and provided further, that credit for benefit accrual purposes will be given only for purposes of Northfield Bancorp vacation policies or programs and for purposes of the calculation of severance benefits under any severance compensation plan of Northfield Bancorp. This Agreement shall not be construed to limit the ability of Northfield Bancorp or Northfield Bank to terminate the employment of any employee or to review employee benefits programs from time to time and to make such changes (including terminating any program) as they deem appropriate.

(b) Northfield Bancorp shall honor the terms of all employment, consulting and change in control agreements, if any, Previously Disclosed by Flatbush Federal Bancorp. (c) Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed to grant a contract of employment to any employee of Flatbush who becomes an employee of Northfield Bancorp or Northfield Bank. Any employee of Flatbush Federal Savings, other than an employee who is a party to an employment agreement, change in control agreement or other separation agreement that provides a benefit on a termination of employment, whose employment is terminated involuntarily (other than for cause) within one year following the Bank Merger Effective Date shall receive a lump sum severance payment from Northfield Bank equal to two weeks pay at the rate then in effect, for each full year of employment with Flatbush Federal Savings, subject to a minimum of four weeks and a maximum of 26 weeks, provided that such employee enters into a release of claims against Flatbush Federal Savings and Northfield Bank, their Subsidiaries and affiliates in a form satisfactory to Northfield Bank. Such Flatbush Federal Savings employees will have the right to continued health coverage under group health plans of Northfield Bank in accordance with IRC Section 4980B(f) and ERISA Sections 601-609.

(d) In the event of any termination or consolidation of any Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plan with any Northfield Bancorp health plan, Northfield Bancorp shall make available to those employees of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or any of the Flatbush Subsidiaries who become employees of Northfield Bancorp or any of the Northfield Subsidiaries following the Mergers (Continuing Employees) and their dependents employer-provided health coverage on the same basis as it provides such coverage to Northfield Bancorp employees. Unless a Continuing Employee affirmatively terminates coverage under a Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plan before the time that such Continuing Employee becomes eligible to participate in the Northfield Bancorp health plan, no coverage of any of the Continuing Employees or their dependents shall terminate under any of the Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plans before the time such Continuing Employees and their dependents become eligible to participate in the health plans, programs and benefits common to all employees of Northfield Bancorp and their dependents. In the event of a termination or consolidation of any Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plan, terminated Flatbush Federal Bancorp employees and qualified beneficiaries will have the right to continued coverage under group health plans of Northfield Bancorp in accordance with COBRA, consistent with the provisions below. All Flatbush Federal Bancorp employees who cease participating in a Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plan and become participants in a comparable Northfield Bancorp health plan (each a Former Flatbush Federal Bancorp Health Plan Participant) shall receive credit for any co-payment and deductibles paid under Flatbush Federal Bancorp s health plan for purposes of satisfying any applicable deductible or out-of-pocket requirements under the Northfield Bancorp health plan, upon substantiation, in a form satisfactory to Northfield Bancorp that such co-payment and/or deductible has been satisfied. With respect to any Former Flatbush Federal Bancorp Health Plan Participant, any coverage limitation under the Northfield Bancorp health plan due to any pre-existing condition shall be waived by the Northfield Bancorp health plan to the degree that such condition was covered by the Flatbush Federal Bancorp health plan and such condition would otherwise have been covered by the Northfield Bancorp health plan in the absence of such coverage limitation.

Section 6.08 Directors and Officers Indemnification and Insurance.

(a) For a period of six years from and after the Effective Time, Northfield Bancorp shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each person who is now, or who has been at any time before the date hereof or who becomes before the Effective Time, an officer or director of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or a Flatbush Subsidiary (the Indemnified Parties) against all losses, claims, damages, costs, expenses (including attorney s fees), liabilities or judgments or amounts that are paid in settlement of or in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether civil, criminal, or administrative (each a Claim), in which an Indemnified Party is, or is threatened to be made, a party or witness in whole or in part or arising in whole or in part out of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer or employee of Flatbush Federal Bancorp or a Flatbush Subsidiary if such Claim pertains to any matter of fact arising, existing or occurring at or before the Effective Time (including, without limitation, the Mid-Tier Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby), regardless of whether such Claim is asserted or claimed before, or after, the Effective Time, to the fullest extent as would have been permitted by Flatbush Federal Bancorp under the applicable Regulations and under Flatbush Federal Bancorp's Charter and Bylaws. Northfield Bancorp shall pay expenses in advance of the final disposition of any such action or proceeding to each Indemnified Party to the fullest extent as would have been permitted by Flatbush Federal Bancorp under applicable Regulations and under Flatbush Federal Bancorp's Charter and Bylaws, upon receipt of an undertaking to repay such advance payments if he shall be adjudicated or determined to be not entitled to indemnification in the manner set forth below. Any Indemnified Party wishing to claim indemnification under this Section 6.08 upon learning of any Claim, shall notify Northfield Bancorp (but the failure to so notify Northfield Bancorp shall not relieve Northfield Bancorp from any liability which it may have under this Section 6.08, except to the extent such failure materially prejudices Northfield Bancorp) and shall deliver to Northfield Bancorp the undertaking referred to in the previous sentence. In the event of any such claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (whether arising before or after the Effective Time), (i) Northfield Bancorp or an insurance carrier pursuant to Section 6.08(c) below shall have the right to assume the defense thereof and Northfield Bancorp shall not be liable to such Indemnified Parties for any legal expenses of other counsel or any other expenses subsequently incurred by such Indemnified Parties in connection with the defense thereof, except that if Northfield Bancorp elects not to assume such defense or counsel for the Indemnified Parties advises that there are issues which raise conflicts of interest between Northfield Bancorp and the Indemnified Parties, the Indemnified Parties may retain counsel which is reasonably satisfactory to Northfield Bancorp, unless the Indemnified Party is provided with counsel by an insurance carrier pursuant to Section 6.08(c) below, and Northfield Bancorp shall pay, promptly as statements therefore are received, the reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for the Indemnified Parties (which may not exceed one firm in any jurisdiction), (ii) the Indemnified Parties will cooperate in the defense of any such matter, (iii) Northfield Bancorp shall not be liable for any settlement effected without its prior written consent (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld) and (iv) Northfield Bancorp shall have no obligation hereunder to the extent that a Federal or state banking agency or a court of competent jurisdiction shall determine that indemnification of an Indemnified Party in the manner contemplated hereby is prohibited by applicable laws and regulations.

(b) If either Northfield Bancorp or any of its successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving bank or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, and in each such case, proper provision shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Northfield Bancorp shall assume the obligations set forth in this Section 6.08.

(c) Northfield Bancorp shall use its best efforts to maintain, or shall cause Northfield Bank to maintain, in effect for six years following the Effective Time, the current directors' and officers' liability insurance policies covering the officers and directors of Flatbush Federal Bancorp (provided, that Northfield Bancorp may substitute therefor policies of at least the same coverage containing terms and conditions which are not materially less favorable) with respect to matters occurring at or prior to the Effective Time; provided, however, that in no event shall Northfield Bancorp be required to expend pursuant to this Section 6.08(c) an amount that in the aggregate is more than 200% of the annual premiums (the Maximum Amount) currently paid by Flatbush Federal Bancorp for such insurance and, if Northfield Bancorp is unable to maintain such policy as a result of this proviso, Northfield Bancorp shall obtain as much comparable insurance as is available for such Maximum Amount; provided further, that Northfield Bancorp may (i) request Flatbush Federal Bancorp obtain an extended reporting period endorsement under Flatbush Federal Bancorp's existing directors' and officers' liability insurance policy or (ii) substitute therefor tail policies the material terms of which, including coverage and amount, are no less favorable in any material respect to such person's than Flatbush Federal Bancorp's existing insurance policies as of the date hereof. In connection with the foregoing, Flatbush Federal Bancorp agrees in order for Northfield Bancorp to fulfill its agreement to provide directors and officers liability insurance policies for six years to provide such insurer or substitute insurer with such reasonable and customary representations as such insurer may request with respect to the reporting of any prior claims.

The Exchange Ratio is subject to adjustment under certain circumstances as described in the Agreement. The other terms and conditions of the Mergers are more fully set forth in the Agreement, and capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Agreement. You have requested our opinion as to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Exchange Ratio to the holders of Flatbush Bancorp common stock other than Flatbush MHC (collectively, the Minority Shareholders).

In preparing its analyses, Sandler O'Neill used internal financial projections for Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp as provided by the respective senior managements of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp. We also used in our analyses certain projections of transaction costs, purchase accounting adjustments and expected cost savings which were prepared by and/or reviewed with the senior managements of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp. With respect to those projections and estimates, the respective managements of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp confirmed to us that those projections and estimates reflected the best currently available estimates and judgments of those respective managements of the future financial performance of Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp, respectively, and we assumed that such performance would be achieved. We express no opinion as to such financial projections or estimates or the assumptions on which they are based.

We have assumed that there has been no material change in the assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects of Flatbush Bancorp or Northfield Bancorp since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to us other than, in the case of Flatbush Bancorp, the Main Office Sale. We have also assumed in all respects material to our analysis that Flatbush Bancorp and Northfield Bancorp will remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to our analyses, that all of the representations and warranties contained in the Agreement are true and correct, that each party to the Agreement will perform all of the covenants required to be performed by such party under the Agreement and that the conditions precedent in the Agreement will not be waived. Finally, with your consent, we have relied upon the advice Flatbush Bancorp has received from its legal, accounting and tax advisors as to all legal, regulatory, accounting and tax matters relating to Flatbush Bancorp, the Main Office Sale, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Agreement. In reviewing potential merger/acquisition partners, Flatbush Bancorp's Board of Directors was advised by its counsel that, given Flatbush Bancorp's corporate status as a mutual holding company, Flatbush Bancorp's potential merger/acquisition partners were limited to mutual institutions and other mutual holding companies; accordingly we were not asked to and did not solicit any indications of interest from parties organized in stock form.

Our opinion is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Exchange Ratio to the Minority Shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp and does not address the underlying business decision of Flatbush Bancorp to engage in the Merger, the relative merits of the Merger as compared to any other alternative business strategies that might exist for Flatbush Bancorp, or the effect of any other transaction in which Flatbush Bancorp might engage. We also express no opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the Merger by Flatbush Bancorp's officers, directors, or employees, or class of such persons, relative to the compensation to be received in the Merger by any other shareholders of Flatbush Bancorp. Competition. The Association faces intense competition within its market area both in making loans and attracting deposits. The New York City area has a high concentration of financial institutions including large money center and regional banks, community banks and credit unions. Some of the Association's competitors offer products and services that the Association does not currently offer, such as trust services and private banking. As of June 30, 2012, the Association's market share of deposits represented less than one half of one percent of deposits in Kings County.

The Association's competition for loans and deposits comes principally from commercial banks, savings institutions, mortgage banking firms and credit unions. The Association faces additional competition for deposits from short-term money market funds, brokerage firms, mutual funds and insurance companies. The primary focus is to build and develop profitable customer relationships across all lines of business while maintaining a role as a community bank.

Market Area. The Association operates in an urban market area that has a stable population and household base. The Association's primary lending area is concentrated in Brooklyn, as well as the other four boroughs of New York City, and Long Island, New York. One- to four-family residential real estate in the Association's market area is characterized by a large number of attached and semi-detached houses, including a number of two- and three-family homes and condominium apartments. Most of the deposit customers are residents of the greater New York metropolitan area. The economy of the market area is characterized by a large number of small retail establishments. The Association's customer base is comprised of middle-income households, and to a lesser extent, low-to-moderate-income households.

Lending Activities. Historically, the Association's principal lending activity has been the origination of first mortgage loans for the purchase or refinancing of one- to four-family residential real property as well as multi-family and commercial real estate loans. Historically, the Association retained all loans that it originated. However, beginning in 2002 the Association sold a limited number of its one- to four-family loans, on a servicing retained basis, to the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York. No loans were sold during the six months ended June 30, 2012 or the year ended December 31, 2011. One- to four-family residential real estate mortgage loans represented $63.1 million, or 71.3%, of our loan portfolio at June 30, 2012. The Association also offers commercial real estate loans, multifamily loans, condominium loans and construction loans secured by real estate. There were no construction loans at June 30, 2012. Commercial real estate loans totaled $19.0 million, or 21.5% of the total loan portfolio at June 30, 2012. Multi-family real estate loans totaled $5.9 million, or 6.6% of the total loan portfolio at June 30, 2012. On a limited basis, non-real estate secured loans are originated and consist of unsecured business loans, passbook loans and credit card loans.

The total amount of loans due after December 31, 2012 that have fixed interest rates is $65.7 million, and the total amount of loans due after such date which have floating or adjustable interest rates is $25.9 million. Of the $19.0 million of commercial real estate loans due after December 31, 2012, 13.5% have fixed interest rates and 86.5% have adjustable interest rates. At December 31, 2011, there were no construction loans due after December 31, 2012.

One-to Four-Family Residential Loans. The Association's lending activity includes the origination of one- to four-family residential mortgage loans that are primarily secured by properties located in Brooklyn, as well as the other four boroughs of New York City, and Long Island, New York. At June 30, 2012, approximately $63.1 million, or 71.3% of the loan portfolio, consisted of one- to four-family residential loans. Generally, one- to four-family residential mortgage loans are originated in amounts up to 80% of the lesser of the appraised value or purchase price of the property. Private mortgage insurance is required on loans with a loan-to-value ratio in excess of 80%. The Association will not make loans with a loan-to-value ratio in excess of 95% for loans secured by single family homes and 90% for loans secured by two- to four-family properties. Fixed-rate loans are originated for terms of 15 and 30 years. At June 30, 2012, the Association's largest loan secured by one- to four-family real estate had a principal balance of $949,000 and was secured by a one-family residence. This loan was performing in accordance with its terms.

The Association also offers adjustable-rate mortgage loans with one, two, three and five year adjustment periods based on changes in a designated United States Treasury index. During the six months ended June 30, 2012, no adjustable rate mortgages were originated. During the year ended December 31, 2011, the Association originated one adjustable rate mortgage for $700,000. In general, the adjustable rate mortgage loans provide for maximum rate adjustments of 200 basis points per adjustment, with a lifetime maximum adjustment of 600 basis points. Adjustable rate mortgage loans amortize over terms of up to 30 years.

Adjustable rate mortgage loans decrease the risk associated with changes in market interest rates by periodically repricing, but involve other risks because, as interest rates increase, the underlying payments by the borrower increase, thus increasing the potential for default by the borrower. At the same time, the marketability of the underlying collateral may be adversely affected by higher interest rates. Upward adjustment of the contractual interest rate is also limited by the maximum periodic and lifetime interest rate adjustments permitted by the loan documents, and therefore, is potentially limited in effectiveness during periods of rapidly rising interest rates. At June 30, 2012, $5.1million, or 8.08% of the Association's one- to four-family residential loans had adjustable rates of interest.

All one- to four-family residential mortgage loans that the Association originates include due-on-sale clauses, which give the Association the right to declare a loan immediately due and payable in the event that, among other things, the borrower sells or otherwise disposes of the real property subject to the mortgage and the loan is not repaid.

Regulations limit the amount that a savings association may lend relative to the appraised value of the real estate securing the loan, as determined by an appraisal of the property at the time the loan is originated. For all loans, the Association utilizes outside independent appraisers approved by the board of directors. All borrowers are required to obtain title insurance. The Association also requires homeowner's insurance and fire and casualty insurance and, where circumstances warrant, flood insurance on properties securing real estate loans.

Multi-Family Real Estate Loans. Loans secured by multi-family real estate totaled approximately $5.9 million, or 6.6% of the total loan portfolio at June 30, 2012. Multi-family real estate loans generally are secured by rental properties. Substantially all multi-family real estate loans are secured by properties located within the Association's lending area. At June 30, 2012, the Association had seventeen multi-family loans with an average principal balance of $344,000, and the largest multi-family real estate loan had a principal balance of $808,000. All of the loans secured by multi-family real estate properties are performing in accordance with their terms. Multi-family real estate loans generally are offered with adjustable interest rates that adjust after five years. Multi-family loans are originated for terms of up to 15 years. Multi-family real estate loan adjustments are tied to the prime rate as reported in The Wall Street Journal, or the FHLB five year advance rate.

The Association considers a number of factors in originating multi-family real estate loans. Management evaluates the qualifications and financial condition of the borrower (including credit history), profitability and expertise, as well as the value and condition of the mortgaged property securing the loan. When evaluating the qualifications of the borrower, management considers the financial resources of the borrower, the borrower's experience in owning or managing similar property and the borrower's payment history with the Association and other financial institutions. In evaluating the property securing the loan, the factors considered include the net operating income of the mortgaged property before debt service and depreciation, the debt service coverage ratio (the ratio of net operating income to debt service) to ensure that it is at least 125% of the debt service, and the ratio of the loan amount to the appraised value of the mortgaged property. Multi-family real estate loans are originated in amounts up to 75% of the appraised value of the mortgaged property securing the loan. All multi-family loans are appraised by outside independent appraisers approved by the board of directors. An environmental inspection, performed by an independent environmental engineer approved by the board of directors, may be required on certain loans. Personal guarantees may be obtained from multi-family real estate borrowers.

Loans secured by multi-family real estate generally involve a greater degree of credit risk than one- to four-family residential mortgage loans and carry larger loan balances. This increased credit risk is a result of several factors, including the concentration of principal in a limited number of loans and borrowers, the effects of general economic conditions on income producing properties, and the increased difficulty of evaluating and monitoring these types of loans. Furthermore, the repayment of loans secured by multi-family real estate typically depends upon the successful operation of the real estate property securing the loan. If the cash flow from the project is reduced, the borrower's ability to repay the loan may be impaired.

Commercial Real Estate Loans. At June 30, 2012, $19.0 million, or 21.5% of the total loan portfolio consisted of commercial real estate loans. Commercial real estate loans are secured by office buildings, mixed use properties and other commercial properties. The Association generally originates adjustable rate commercial real estate loans, as well as balloon maturity loans, with maximum terms of up to 15 years. The maximum loan-to-value ratio of commercial real estate loans is 75%. At June 30, 2012, the Association had 37 commercial real estate loans with an average outstanding balance of $514,000. At June 30, 2012, the Association's largest loan secured by commercial real estate was a $1.9 million loan. At June 30, 2012, this loan was performing in accordance with its terms. At June 30, 2012, two loans totaling $744,000, secured by commercial real estate were not performing in accordance their terms.

The Association considers a number of factors in originating commercial real estate loans. Management evaluates the qualifications and financial condition of the borrower (including credit history), profitability and expertise, as well as the value and condition of the mortgaged property securing the loan. When evaluating the qualifications of the borrower, management considers the financial resources of the borrower, the borrower's experience in owning or managing similar property and the borrower's payment history with the Association and other financial institutions. In evaluating the property securing the loan, the factors management considered include the net operating income of the mortgaged property before debt service and depreciation, the debt service coverage ratio (the ratio of net operating income to debt service) to ensure that it is at least 125% of the debt service, and the ratio of the loan amount to the appraised value of the mortgaged property. All commercial real estate loans are appraised by outside independent appraisers approved by the board of directors. An environmental inspection is performed by an independent environmental engineer approved by the board of directors. Personal guarantees may be obtained from commercial real estate borrowers.

Loans secured by commercial real estate generally are larger than one- to four-family residential loans and involve greater credit risk. Commercial real estate loans often involve large loan balances to single borrowers or groups of related borrowers. Repayment of these loans depends to a large degree on the results of operations and management of the properties securing the loans or the businesses conducted on such property, and may be affected to a greater extent by adverse conditions in the real estate market or the economy in general.

Other Loans. The Association offers a variety of loans secured by real estate, or by property other than real estate. These loans include loans secured by deposits, home equity loans, and credit cards secured by deposit accounts, as well as unsecured credit cards and business loans. At June 30, 2012, these other loans totaled $180,000, or 0.20% of the total loan portfolio.

Origination and Servicing of Loans. Historically, the Association has originated mortgage loans pursuant to underwriting standards that generally conform with the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac guidelines. Loan origination activities are primarily concentrated in Brooklyn, as well as the other four boroughs of New York City, and Long Island, New York. Properties securing real estate and construction loans are primarily located in Brooklyn, Queens, Long Island and Manhattan. New loans are generated primarily from walk-in customers, customer referrals, a network of mortgage brokers, and other parties with whom the Association does business, and from the efforts of employees and advertising. Loan applications are underwritten and processed at the main office. The Association services all loans that it originates.

Loan Approval Procedures and Authority. The loan approval process is intended to assess the borrower's ability to repay the loan, the viability of the loan, and the adequacy of the value of the property that will secure the loan. To assess the borrower's ability to repay, the Association reviews the employment and credit history and information on the historical and projected income and expenses of mortgagors or if applicable, the historical and projected income and expenses of the property. All loans are approved by the Board of Directors.

The Association requires appraisals of all real property securing loans, and if applicable, environmental inspections. Appraisals are performed by independent licensed appraisers. All appraisers are approved by the Board of Directors. The Association requires fire and extended coverage insurance in amounts at least equal to the principal amount of the loan.

Non-performing and Problem Assets

Edgar Filing: Northfield Bancorp, Inc. - Form 424B3

After a mortgage loan becomes 10 days past due, a computer generated late notice is delivered to the borrower. A second late notice is sent once the loan becomes 16 days past due. When a loan becomes 30 days delinquent, a delinquency notice is sent to the borrower and an attempt is made to make personal contact with the borrower by letter or telephone from the head of the collection department to establish an acceptable repayment schedule. When a mortgage loan is 90 days delinquent and no acceptable resolution has been reached, the loan is placed in foreclosure and the property collateral is appraised and inspected. Management is authorized to begin foreclosure proceedings on any loan after determining that it is prudent to do so.

Mortgage loans are reviewed on a regular basis and such loans, with the exception of loans guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration, may be placed on non-accrual status when they become delinquent 90 days or more. When loans are placed on a non-accrual status, unpaid accrued interest is fully reserved, and further income is recognized only to the extent received. Loans guaranteed by the Federal Housing Administration may be placed on non-accrual status when they become delinquent 120 days or more.

Non-performing Loans. At June 30, 2012, $8.2 million, or 9.26%, of the Association's total loans were non-performing loans.

Non-performing Assets. The table below sets forth the amounts and categories of the non-performing assets at the dates indicated. Delinquent loans that are 90 days or more past due are generally considered non-performing assets. There were five restructured loans in a nonaccrual status at June 30, 2012. At June 30, 2012, non-accruing loans consisted of 23 one-to-four-family residential loans of $7.5 million and two commercial real estate loans of $744,000.

At December 31, 2011, non-accruing loans consisted of 12 one-to-four-family residential loans of $4.2 million with a corresponding $124,000 of specific valuation allowance, three commercial real estate loans of $1.8 million with a corresponding $615,000 of specific valuation allowance and two construction loan participations of $2.2 million with a corresponding $407,000 of specific valuation allowance.

No interest income was recognized for the six months ended June 30, 2012 on such loans subsequent to their non-accrual status. Interest income of $49,000 was recognized on such loans subsequent to their non-accrual status for the year ended December 31, 2011. Classified Assets. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency regulations and the Association's Asset Classification Policy provide that loans and other assets considered to be of lesser quality be classified as substandard, doubtful or loss assets. An asset is considered substandard if it is inadequately protected by the current net worth and paying capacity of the obligor or of the collateral pledged, if any. Substandard assets include those characterized by the distinct possibility that the institution will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected. Assets classified as doubtful have all of the weaknesses inherent in those classified substandard, with the added characteristic that the weaknesses present make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, conditions, and values, highly questionable and improbable. Assets classified as loss are those considered uncollectible and of such little value that their continuance as assets without the establishment of a specific loss reserve is not warranted. Management classifies an asset as special mention if the asset has a potential weakness that warrants management's close attention. While such assets are not impaired, management has concluded that if the potential weakness in the asset is not addressed, the value of the asset may deteriorate, adversely affecting the repayment of the asset.

An insured institution is required to establish general allowances for loan losses in an amount deemed prudent by management for loans classified substandard or doubtful, as well as for other problem loans. General allowances represent loss allowances which have been established to recognize the inherent losses associated with lending activities, but which, unlike specific allowances, have not been allocated to particular problem assets. When an insured institution classifies problem assets as loss, it is required either to establish a specific allowance for losses equal to 100% of the amount of the asset so classified or to charge off such amount. An institution's determination as to the classification of its assets and the amount of its valuation allowances is subject to review by bank regulators that can order the establishment of additional general or specific loss allowances.

On the basis of management's review of its assets at June 30, 2012, the Association had classified $8.8 million in one- to four-family residential loans, $1.3 million in commercial real estate loans and $383,000 in construction and land loan participations, respectively, as substandard and $1.5 million in one- to four-family residential loans, $519,000 in commercial real estate loans and $416,000 in multifamily residential loans as special mention. At December 31, 2011 the Association had classified $4.2 million in one- to four-family residential loans, $2.3 million in commercial real estate loans and $2.6 million in construction loan participations, respectively, as substandard and $1.7 million in one to four family residential loans and $515,000 in construction and land loan participations as special mention. The substandard construction loans of $2.6 million had specific valuation allowances of $407,000. At December 31, 2011, the substandard one-to four-family residential loans of $4.2 million had valuation allowances of $124,000 and the substandard commercial real estate loans of $2.3 million had valuation allowances of $623,000. These impairment allowances were charged off during the six months ended June 30, 2012.

The loan portfolio is reviewed on a regular basis to determine whether any loans require classification in accordance with applicable regulations. Not all classified assets constitute non-performing assets.

Allowance for Loan Losses

The Association's allowance for loan losses is maintained at a level necessary to absorb loan losses which are both probable and reasonably estimable. Management, in determining the allowance for loan losses, considers the losses inherent in its loan portfolio and changes in the nature and volume of loan activities, along with the general economic and real estate market conditions. Management utilizes a two-tier approach: (1) identification of impaired loans and establishment of specific loss allowances on such loans; and (2) establishment of general valuation allowances on the remainder of the loan portfolio.

Table of Contents

Management maintains a loan review system, which allows for a periodic review of the loan portfolio and the early identification of potential impaired loans. Such system takes into consideration, among other things, delinquency status, size of loans, type and market value of collateral and financial condition of the borrowers. Specific loan loss allowances are established for identified losses based on a review of such information. A loan evaluated for impairment is considered to be impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that the Association will be unable to collect all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. All loans identified as impaired are evaluated independently. Management does not aggregate such loans for evaluation purposes. Loan impairment is measured based on the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate or, as a practical expedient, at the loan's observable market price or the fair value of the collateral if the loan is collateral dependent. General loan loss allowances are based upon a combination of factors including, but not limited to, actual loan loss experience, composition of the loan portfolio, current economic conditions, management's judgment and losses which are probable and reasonably estimable. The allowance is increased through provisions charged against current earnings and recoveries of previously charged-off loans. Loans which are determined to be uncollectible are charged against the allowance. While management uses available information to recognize probable and reasonably estimable loan losses, future loss provisions may be necessary based on changing economic conditions. The allowance for loan losses as of June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 is maintained at a level that represents management's best estimate of losses inherent in the loan portfolio, and such losses were both probable and reasonably estimable.

Payments received on impaired loans are applied to principal. The Association had 25 loans totaling $8.2 million deemed to be impaired at June 30, 2012, 21 loans totaling $9.6 million deemed to be impaired at December 31, 2011, and 21 loans totaling $9.0 million deemed to be impaired at December 31, 2010. At June 30, 2012, impaired loans consisted two commercial real estate loans of $744,000 and 23 residential real estate loans of $7.5 million. At December 31, 2011 impaired loans consisted of two construction loan participations of $2.2 million having $407,000 of specific valuation allowance, with a net balance of $1.8 million, four commercial real estate loans of $2.3 million having $623,000 of specific allowances, with a net balance of $1.7 million and 15 residential real estate loans of $5.1 million having specific allowances of $260,000 with a net balance of $4.9 million. The specific allowances were charged off during the six months ended June 30, 2012.

In addition, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, as an integral part of its examination process, will periodically review the allowance for loan losses. The OCC may require that the Association recognize additions to the allowance based on its evaluation of information available to it at the time of the examination.

Each quarter, management evaluates the total balance of the allowance for loan losses based on several factors that are not loan specific, but are reflective of the inherent losses in the loan portfolio. This process includes, but is not limited to, a periodic review of loan collectability in light of historical experience, the nature and volume of loan activity, conditions that may affect the ability of the borrower to repay, underlying value of collateral, if applicable, and economic conditions in the Association's immediate market area. First, loans are grouped by delinquency status. All loans 90 days or more delinquent are evaluated individually, based primarily on the value of the collateral securing the loan. Specific loss allowances are established as required by this analysis. All loans for which a specific loss allowance has not been assigned are segregated by type and delinquency status and a loss allowance is established by using loss experience data and management's judgment concerning other matters it considers significant. The allowance is allocated to each category of loan based on the results of the above analysis. Small differences between the allocated balances and recorded allowances are reflected as unallocated to absorb losses resulting from the inherent imprecision involved in the loss analysis process.

This analysis process is inherently subjective, as it requires estimates that are susceptible to revisions as more information becomes available. Although management believes that it has established the allowance at levels to absorb probable and estimable losses, future additions may be necessary if economic or other conditions in the future differ from the current environment.

Investments

Investments and Mortgage-Backed Securities. The Association's investment portfolio at June 30, 2012 consisted of $4.3 million in corporate bonds held-to-maturity, $472,000 in Federal Home Loan Bank of New York stock and $9.5 million in other interest-earning assets, consisting of deposits at other financial institutions and federal funds sold. The investment policy objectives are to primarily maintain liquidity within the guidelines established by the board of directors while earning a return and minimizing principle risk. At June 30, 2012, the Association did not hold investments in any single entity (other than United States Government or agency sponsored entities) that had an aggregate book value in excess of 10% of its stockholder's equity.

The following table sets forth the carrying value of the investment portfolio at the dates indicated. The Federal Home Loan Bank stock has no stated maturity, and the interest-bearing deposits with other institutions are payable on demand.

Sources of Funds

General. Deposits have traditionally been the primary source of funds for use in lending and investment activities. In addition to deposits, funds are derived from scheduled loan payments, investment maturities, loan prepayments and income on earning assets. While scheduled loan payments and income on earning assets are relatively stable sources of funds, deposit inflows and outflows can vary widely and are influenced by prevailing interest rates, market conditions and levels of competition. Borrowings from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York may be used in the short-term to compensate for reductions in deposits and to fund loan growth.

Deposits. Deposits are not actively solicited outside of the New York City metropolitan area, and substantially all of the depositors are persons who work or reside in Brooklyn, New York. The Association offers a selection of deposit instruments, including demand deposits consisting of non-interest bearing and NOW accounts, passbook savings and club accounts, and fixed-term certificates of deposit. Deposit account terms vary, with the principal differences being the minimum balance required, the amount of time the funds must remain on deposit and the interest rate. The Association does not accept brokered deposits.

Interest rates paid, maturity terms, service fees and withdrawal penalties are established on a periodic basis. Deposit rates and terms are based primarily on current operating strategies and market rates, liquidity requirements, rates paid by competitors and growth goals. Personalized customer service and long-standing relationships with customers are relied upon to attract and retain deposits.

The flow of deposits is influenced significantly by general economic conditions, changes in money market and other prevailing interest rates and competition. The variety of deposit accounts offered allows the Association to be competitive in obtaining funds and responding to changes in consumer demand. Based on experience, management believes the deposits in the Association are relatively stable. However, the ability to attract and maintain certificates of deposit, and the rates paid on these deposits have been and will continue to be significantly affected by market conditions. At June 30, 2012, $77.7 million, or 66.1% of deposit accounts were certificates of deposit, of which $61.2 million have maturities of one year or less.

Borrowings. The Association may obtain advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York upon the security of the common stock owned in the Federal Home Loan Bank and its qualifying residential mortgage loans and mortgage-backed securities, provided certain standards related to creditworthiness are met. These advances are made pursuant to several credit programs, each of which has its own interest rate and range of maturities. All borrowings consisted solely of fixed interest rate advances from Federal Home Loan Bank of New York. As of June 30, 2012, the outstanding amount of these advances totaled $5.4 million.

Subsidiary Activities

Federal regulations permit federal savings associations to invest in the capital stock, obligations or other specified types of securities of subsidiaries (referred to as service corporations) and to make loans to such subsidiaries and joint ventures in which such subsidiaries are participants in an aggregate amount not exceeding 2% of the association's assets, plus an additional 1% of assets if the amount over 2% is used for specified community or inner-city development purposes. In addition, federal regulations permit associations to make specified types of loans to such subsidiaries (other than special purpose finance subsidiaries) in which the association owns more than 10% of the stock, in an aggregate amount not exceeding 50% of the association's regulatory capital if the association's regulatory capital is in compliance with applicable regulations.

Flatbush Federal has one active subsidiary, Flatbush REIT, Inc. Flatbush REIT, Inc. was incorporated in 2001 as a special purpose real estate investment trust under New York law. Flatbush REIT, Inc. holds a portion of our mortgage related assets. At June 30, 2012, Flatbush REIT, Inc. held $13.7 million in loans.

FEDERAL AND STATE TAXATIONFederal Taxation

General. Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. and Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association are subject to federal income taxation in the same general manner as other corporations, with some exceptions discussed below. Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association's tax returns have not been audited during the past five years. The following discussion of federal taxation is intended only to summarize certain pertinent federal income tax matters and is not a comprehensive description of the tax rules applicable to Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. or Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Table of Contents

Method of Accounting. For Federal income tax purposes, Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association currently reports its income and expenses on the accrual method of accounting and uses a tax year ending December 31 for filing its federal income tax returns.

Bad Debt Reserves. Prior to the Small Business Protection Act of 1996 (the 1996 Act), Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association was permitted to establish a reserve for bad debts and to make annual additions to the reserve. These additions could, within specified formula limits, be deducted in arriving at our taxable income. Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association was required to use the specific charge off method in computing its bad debt deduction beginning with its 1996 federal tax return. Savings institutions were required to recapture any excess reserves over those established as of December 31, 1987 (base year reserve). Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association had approximately $3.4 million of pre-1988 bad debt reserves that are subject to recapture. During 2010, amendments of the New York State and New York City's tax law and ordinance conformed the bad debt deduction to the deduction allowed under the Federal income tax law for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2010.

Taxable Distributions and Recapture. Prior to the 1996 Act, bad debt reserves created prior to January 1, 1988 were subject to recapture into taxable income if Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association failed to meet certain thrift asset and definitional tests. Federal legislation has eliminated these thrift related recapture rules.

At June 30, 2012, our total federal pre-1988 base year reserve was approximately $3.4 million. Under current law, pre-1988 base year reserves remain subject to recapture if Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association makes certain non-dividend distributions, repurchases any of its stock, pays dividends in excess of tax earnings and profits, or ceases to maintain a bank charter.

Alternative Minimum Tax. The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code), imposes an alternative minimum tax (AMT) at a rate of 20% on a base of regular taxable income plus certain tax preferences (alternative minimum taxable income or AMTI). The AMT is payable to the extent such AMTI is in excess of an exemption amount and the AMT exceeds the regular income tax. Net operating losses can offset no more than 90% of AMTI. Certain payments of AMT may be used as credits against regular tax liabilities in future years. At June 30, 2012, Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association had no AMT credits for carryover.

Net Operating Loss Carryovers. A financial institution may carry back net operating losses to the preceding two taxable years and forward to the succeeding 20 taxable years. At June 30, 2012, Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association had no net operating loss carry forwards for federal income tax purposes and $908,000 for New York State and New York City purposes.

Corporate Dividends-Received Deduction. Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. may exclude from its income 100% of dividends received from Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association as a member of the same affiliated group of corporations. The corporate dividends-received deduction is 80% in the case of dividends received from corporations with which a corporate recipient does not file a consolidated return, and corporations which own less than 20% of the stock of a corporation distributing a dividend may deduct only 70% of dividends received or accrued on their behalf.

State Taxation

New York State Taxation. Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. and Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association will report income on a calendar year basis to New York State. New York State franchise tax on corporations is imposed in an amount equal to the greater of (a) 7.1% of entire net income allocable to New York State, (b) 3% of alternative entire net income allocable to New York State, (c) 0.01% of the average value of assets allocable to New York State, or (d) nominal minimum tax. Entire net income is based on Federal taxable income, subject to certain modifications. Alternative entire net income is equal to entire net income without certain modifications.

Personnel

As of June 30, 2012, the Company had 35 full-time employees and one part-time employee. The employees are not represented by any collective bargaining group. Management believes that the Company has good relations with its employees.

SUPERVISION AND REGULATION

General

The Association is examined and supervised by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) and subject to the regulation of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). This regulation and supervision establishes a comprehensive framework of activities in which an institution may engage and is intended primarily for the protection of the FDIC 's deposit insurance funds and depositors. Under this system of federal regulation, financial institutions are periodically examined to ensure that they satisfy applicable standards with respect to their capital adequacy, assets, management, earnings, liquidity and sensitivity to market interest rates. Following completion of its examination, the federal agency critiques the institution 's operations and assigns its rating (known as an institution 's CAMELS rating). Under federal law, an institution may not disclose its CAMELS rating to the public. The Association also is a member of and owns stock in the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York, which is one of the twelve regional banks in the Federal Home Loan Bank System. The Association also is regulated to a lesser extent by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Federal Reserve), governing reserves to be maintained against deposits and other matters. The Association 's relationship with its depositors and borrowers also is regulated to a great extent by both federal and state laws, especially in matters concerning the ownership of deposit accounts and the form and content of the Association 's mortgage documents.

Historically, the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) examined the Association and prepared reports for the consideration of its board of directors on any operating deficiencies. As of July 21, 2011, the OTS ceased operations pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (the Dodd-Frank Act) and regulation and supervision of the Association was transferred to the OCC and regulation and supervision of Flatbush MHC and the Company was transferred to the Federal Reserve Board.

The Dodd-Frank Act also provided for the creation of a new agency, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB), as an independent bureau of the Federal Reserve, to take over the implementation of federal consumer financial protection and fair lending laws from the depository institution regulators. However, institutions of $10 billion or fewer in assets will continue to be examined for compliance with such laws and regulations by, and subject to the primary enforcement authority of, the prudential regulator rather than the CFPB.

Certain regulatory requirements applicable to the Association, the Company and Flatbush MHC are referred to below or appear elsewhere in this document. This regulatory discussion, however, does not purport to be an exhaustive treatment of applicable laws and regulations. Any change in these laws or regulations, whether by the FDIC, the OCC, the Federal Reserve or Congress, could have a material adverse impact on the Association, the Company and Flatbush MHC operations.

In addition to eliminating the OTS and creating the CFPB, the Dodd-Frank Act, among other things, requires changes in the way that institutions are assessed for deposit insurance, mandated the imposition of consolidated capital requirements on savings and loan holding companies, required that originators of securitized loans retain a percentage of the risk for the transferred loans, directed the Federal Reserve to regulate pricing of certain debit card interchange fees, reduces the federal preemption afforded to federal savings associations and contained a number of reforms related to mortgage originations. Many of the provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act contain delayed effective dates and/or require the issuance of regulations. As a result, it will be some time before their impact on operations can be assessed by management. However, there is significant possibility that the Dodd-Frank Act will, at a minimum, result in an increased regulatory burden and higher compliance, operating, and possibly, interest costs for the Company and the Bank.

Federal Banking Regulation

Business Activities. A federal savings association derives its lending and investment powers from the Home Owners Loan Act, as amended, and the regulations of the OCC. Under these laws and regulations, the Association may invest in mortgage loans secured by residential and commercial real estate, commercial business and consumer loans, certain types of debt securities and certain other assets. Certain types of lending, such as commercial and consumer loans, are subject to an aggregate limit calculated as a specified percentage of the Association's capital or assets. The Association also may establish subsidiaries that may engage in activities not otherwise permissible for the Association, including real estate investment and securities and insurance brokerage.

The Dodd-Frank Act authorized, for the first time, the payment of interest on commercial checking accounts effective July 21, 2011.

Capital Requirements. OCC regulations require savings associations to meet three minimum capital standards: a 1.5% tangible capital ratio, a 4% leverage ratio (3% for associations receiving the highest rating on the CAMELS rating system) and an 8% risk-based capital ratio. The prompt corrective action standards discussed below, in effect, establish a minimum 2% tangible capital standard.

The risk-based capital standard for savings associations requires the maintenance of Tier 1 (core) and total capital (which is defined as core capital and supplementary capital) to risk-weighted assets of at least 4% and 8%, respectively. In determining the amount of risk-weighted assets, all assets, including certain off-balance sheet assets, are multiplied by a risk-weight factor of 0% to 100%, assigned by the OCC based on the risks believed inherent in the type of asset. Core capital is defined as common stockholders' equity (including retained earnings), certain noncumulative perpetual preferred stock and related surplus and minority interests in equity accounts of consolidated subsidiaries, less intangibles other than certain mortgage servicing rights and credit card relationships. The components of supplementary capital currently include cumulative preferred stock, long-term perpetual preferred stock, mandatory convertible securities, subordinated debt and intermediate preferred stock, the allowance for loan and lease losses limited to a maximum of 1.25% of risk-weighted assets and up to 45% of net unrealized gains on available-for-sale equity securities with readily determinable fair market values. Overall, the amount of supplementary capital included as part of total capital cannot exceed 100% of core capital.

At June 30, 2012, the Association's capital exceeded all applicable requirements.

Table of Contents

Loans-to-One Borrower. A federal savings association generally may not make a loan or extend credit to a single or related group of borrowers in excess of 15% of unimpaired capital and surplus. An additional amount may be loaned, equal to 10% of unimpaired capital and surplus, if the loan is secured by readily marketable collateral, which generally does not include real estate. As of June 30, 2012, the Association was in compliance with the loans-to-one borrower limitations.

Qualified Thrift Lender Test. As a federal savings association, the Association is subject to a qualified thrift lender test (QTL test). Under the QTL test, the Association must maintain at least 65% of its portfolio assets in qualified thrift investments in at least nine of the most recent 12 month period. Portfolio assets generally means total assets of a savings institution, less the sum of specified liquid assets up to 20% of total assets, goodwill and other intangible assets, and the value of property used in the conduct of the savings association's business.

Qualified thrift investments includes various types of loans made for residential and housing purposes, investments related to such purposes, including certain mortgage-backed and related securities, and loans for personal, family, household and certain other purposes up to a limit of 20% of portfolio assets. Qualified thrift investments also include 100% of an institution's credit card loans, education loans and small business loans. The Association also may satisfy the QTL test by qualifying as a domestic building and loan association as defined in the Internal Revenue Code.

A savings association that fails the QTL test must operate under specified restrictions, including as to dividends. The Dodd-Frank Act made noncompliance with the QTL test potentially subject to agency enforcement action for violation of law. At June 30, 2012, the Association maintained approximately 72.8% of its portfolio assets in qualified thrift investments.

Capital Distributions. OCC regulations govern capital distributions by a federal savings association, which include cash dividends, stock repurchases and other transactions charged to the capital account. A savings association must file an application for approval of a capital distribution if:

the total capital distributions for the applicable calendar year exceed the sum of the association's net income for that year to date plus the association's retained net income for the preceding two years;

the association would not be at least adequately capitalized following the distribution;

the distribution would violate any applicable statute, regulation, agreement or OCC-imposed condition; or the association is not eligible for expedited treatment of its filings.

Even if an application is not otherwise required, every savings association that is a subsidiary of a holding company must still file a notice with the Federal Reserve at least 30 days before the board of directors declares a dividend or approves a capital distribution with an informational copy of the notice sent to the OCC.

The regulators may disapprove a notice or application if:

the association would be undercapitalized following the distribution;

the proposed capital distribution raises safety and soundness concerns; or

the capital distribution would violate a prohibition contained in any statute, regulation or agreement. In addition, the Federal Deposit Insurance Act provides that an insured depository institution shall not make any capital distribution, if after making such distribution the institution would be undercapitalized.

Liquidity. A federal savings association is required to maintain a sufficient amount of liquid assets to ensure its safe and sound operation.

Community Reinvestment Act and Fair Lending Laws. All savings associations have a responsibility under the Community Reinvestment Act and related regulations of the OCC to help meet the credit needs of their communities, including low- and moderate-income neighborhoods. In connection with its examination of a federal savings association, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency is required to assess the association's record of compliance with the Community Reinvestment Act. In addition, the Equal Credit Opportunity Act and the Fair Housing Act prohibit lenders from discriminating in their lending practices on the basis of characteristics specified in those statutes. An association's failure to comply with the provisions of the Community Reinvestment Act could, at a minimum, result in denial of certain corporate applications such as branches or mergers, or restrictions on its activities. The failure to comply with the Equal Credit Opportunity Act and the Fair Housing Act could result in enforcement actions by the OCC, as well as other federal regulatory agencies and the Department of Justice. The Association received a satisfactory Community Reinvestment Act rating in its most recent federal examination.

Transactions with Related Parties. A federal savings association's authority to engage in transactions with its affiliates is limited by OCC regulations and by Sections 23A and 23B of the Federal Reserve Act (the FRA). The term affiliates for these purposes generally means any company that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with an institution. The Company is an affiliate of Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association. In general, transactions with affiliates must be on terms that are as favorable to the association as comparable transactions with non-affiliates. In addition, certain types of these transactions are restricted to an aggregate percentage of the association's capital. Collateral in specified amounts must usually be provided by affiliates in order to receive loans from the association. In addition, federal law prohibits a savings association from lending to any of its affiliates that are engaged in activities that are not permissible for bank holding companies and from purchasing the securities of any affiliate, other than a subsidiary.

The Association's authority to extend credit to its directors, executive officers and 10% shareholders, as well as to entities controlled by such persons, is currently governed by the requirements of Sections 22(g) and 22(h) of the FRA and Regulation O of the Federal Reserve. Among other things, these provisions require that extensions of credit to insiders (i) be made on terms that are substantially the same as, and follow credit underwriting procedures that are not less stringent than, those prevailing for comparable transactions with unaffiliated persons and that do not involve more than the normal risk of repayment or present other unfavorable features, and (ii) not exceed certain limitations on the amount of credit extended to such persons, individually and in the aggregate, which limits are based, in part, on the amount of the Association's capital. In addition, extensions of credit in excess of certain limits must be approved by the Association's Board of Directors.

Enforcement. The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency has primary enforcement responsibility over federal savings institutions and has the authority to bring enforcement action against all institution-affiliated parties, including stockholders, and attorneys, appraisers and accountants who knowingly or recklessly participate in wrongful action likely to have an adverse effect on an insured institution. Formal enforcement action may range from the issuance of a capital directive or cease and desist order to removal of officers and/or directors of the institution, receivership, conservatorship or the termination of deposit insurance. Civil penalties cover a wide range of violations and actions, and range up to $25,000 per day, unless a finding of reckless disregard is made, in which case penalties may be as high as $1 million per day. The FDIC also has the authority to recommend to the OCC that enforcement action be taken with respect to a particular savings institution. If action is not taken by the OCC, the FDIC has authority to take action under specified circumstances.

Standards for Safety and Soundness. Federal law requires each federal banking agency to prescribe certain standards for all insured depository institutions. These standards relate to, among other things, internal controls, information systems and audit systems, loan documentation, credit underwriting, interest rate risk exposure, asset growth, compensation, and other operational and managerial standards as the agency deems appropriate. The federal banking agencies adopted Interagency Guidelines Prescribing Standards for Safety and Soundness to implement the safety and soundness standards required under federal law. The guidelines set forth the safety and soundness standards that the federal banking agencies use to identify and address problems at insured depository institutions before capital becomes impaired. The guidelines address internal controls and information systems, internal audit systems, credit underwriting, loan documentation, interest rate risk exposure, asset growth, compensation, fees and benefits. If the appropriate federal banking agency determines that an institution fails to meet any standard prescribed by the guidelines, the agency may require the institution to submit to the agency an acceptable plan to achieve compliance with the standard. If an institution fails to meet these standards, the appropriate federal banking agency may require the institution to submit a compliance plan.

Prompt Corrective Action Regulations. Under the prompt corrective action regulations, the OCC is required and authorized to take supervisory actions against undercapitalized savings associations. For this purpose, a savings association is placed in one of the following five categories based on the association's capital:

well-capitalized (at least 5% leverage capital, 6% Tier 1 risk-based capital and 10% total risk-based capital);

adequately capitalized (at least 4% leverage capital, 4% Tier 1 risk-based capital and 8% total risk-based capital);

undercapitalized (less than 8% total risk-based capital, 4% Tier 1 risk-based capital or 3% leverage capital);

significantly undercapitalized (less than 6% total risk-based capital, 3% Tier 1 risk-based capital or 3% leverage capital); and critically undercapitalized (less than 2% tangible capital).

Generally, the banking regulator is required to appoint a receiver or conservator for an association that is critically undercapitalized within specific time frames. The regulations also provide that a capital restoration plan must be filed with the OCC within 45 days of the date an association receives notice that it is undercapitalized, significantly undercapitalized or critically undercapitalized, the performance of which must be guaranteed by any company controlling the association up to specified limits. In addition, numerous mandatory supervisory actions become immediately applicable to the association, including, but not limited to, restrictions on growth, investment activities, capital distributions and affiliate transactions. The OCC may also take any one of a number of discretionary supervisory actions against undercapitalized associations, including the issuance of a capital directive and the replacement of senior executive officers and directors.

At June 30, 2012, the Association met the criteria for being considered well-capitalized.

Insurance of Deposit Accounts. The Association's deposits are insured up to applicable limits by the Deposit Insurance Fund (DIF) of the FDIC. The Dodd-Frank Act made permanent the previous temporary increase in deposit insurance coverage from $100,000 to $250,000 per depositor.

Under the FDIC's existing risk-based assessment system, insured institutions are assigned to one of four risk categories based on supervisory evaluations, regulatory capital levels and certain other factors, with less risky institutions paying lower assessments. An institution's assessment rate depends upon the category to which it is assigned, and certain adjustments specified by FDIC regulations. Assessment rates, as adjusted, previously ranged from seven to 77.5 basis points of assessable deposits. On February 7, 2011, the FDIC issued final rules, effective April 1, 2011, implementing changes to the assessment rules resulting from the Dodd-Frank Act. Initially, the base assessment rates will range from two and one-half to 45 basis points of total average assets less tangible capital (rather than deposits). The rate schedules will automatically adjust in the future when the DIF reaches certain milestones. No institution may pay a dividend if in default of the federal deposit insurance assessment.

The FDIC imposed on all insured institutions a special emergency assessment of five basis points of total assets minus Tier 1 capital (as of June 30, 2009), capped at ten basis points of an institution's deposit assessment base, in order to cover losses to the DIF. That special assessment was collected on September 30, 2009. The FDIC provided for similar assessment during the final two quarters of 2009, if deemed necessary.

However, in lieu of further special assessments, the FDIC required insured institutions to prepay estimated quarterly risk-based assessments for the fourth quarter of 2009 through the fourth quarter of 2012. The estimated assessments which included an assumed annual base increase of 5%, were recorded as a prepaid expense asset as of December 31, 2009, and each quarter thereafter, a charge to earnings is recorded for each regulator assessment with an offsetting credit to the prepaid asset. The Association's prepayment for 2010, 2011 and 2012 amounted to $599,901.

The Dodd-Frank Act increased the minimum target DIF ratio from 1.15% of estimated insured deposits to 1.35% of estimated insured deposits. The FDIC must seek to achieve the 1.35% ratio by September 30, 2020. Insured institutions with assets of $10 billion or more are supposed to fund the increase. The Dodd-Frank Act eliminated the 1.5% maximum fund ratio, instead leaving it to the discretion of the FDIC. The FDIC has exercised that discretion by establishing a long range fund ratio of 2%.

The FDIC has authority to increase insurance assessments. A significant increase in insurance premiums would likely have an adverse effect on the operating expenses and results of operations of the Association. Management cannot predict what insurance assessment rates will be in the future.

Insurance of deposits may be terminated by the FDIC upon a finding that an institution has engaged in unsafe or unsound practices, is in an unsafe or unsound condition to continue operations or has violated any applicable law, regulation, rule, order or condition imposed by the FDIC. We do not know of any practice, condition or violation that might lead to termination of the Association's deposit insurance.

In addition to the FDIC assessments, the Financing Corporation (FICO) is authorized to impose and collect, with the approval of the FDIC, assessments for anticipated payments, issuance costs and custodial fees on bonds issued by the FICO in the 1980s to recapitalize the former Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation. The bonds issued by the FICO are due to mature in 2017 through 2019. For the quarter ended June 30, 2012, the annualized FICO assessment was equal to 0.68 basis points of total average assets less tangible capital.

In October 2008, the FDIC announced the Transaction Account Guarantee Program as part of the FDIC's Temporary Liquidity Guarantee Program. Under the Transaction Account Guarantee Program, any participating depository institution was able to provide full deposit insurance coverage for non-interest bearing transaction accounts, regardless of the dollar amount. The Association participated in the Transaction Account Guarantee Program until the program, as extended, expired on December 31, 2010. The Dodd-Frank Act extended unlimited deposit insurance coverage for certain non-interest bearing transaction accounts until December 31, 2012.

Prohibitions Against Tying Arrangements. Federal savings associations are prohibited, subject to some exceptions, from extending credit to or offering any other service, or fixing or varying the consideration for such extension of credit or service, on the condition that the customer obtain some additional service from the institution or its affiliates or not obtain services of a competitor of the institution.

Federal Home Loan Bank System. The Association is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System (FHLB), which consists of 12 regional Federal Home Loan Banks. The FHLB provides a central credit facility primarily for member institutions. As a member, the Association is required to acquire and hold specified shares of capital stock in the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York. As of December 31, 2011, Flatbush Federal was in compliance with this requirement.

The dividend yield from Federal Home Loan Bank stock was 4.84% for the year ended December 31, 2011 and 4.75% for the six months ended June 30, 2012. The Federal Home Loan Bank of New York paid quarterly dividends in 2011 and 2010 totaling $36,000 and $58,000, respectively, and $16,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012. No assurance can be given that it will pay any dividends in the future.

Federal Reserve System

The Federal Reserve Board regulations require savings associations to maintain non-interest-earning reserves against their transaction accounts, such as negotiable order of withdrawal and regular checking accounts. At June 30, 2012, Flatbush Federal was in compliance with these reserve requirements.

The USA PATRIOT Act

In response to the events of September 11, 2001, Congress enacted in 2001 the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001, or the USA PATRIOT Act, which was signed into law on October 26, 2001. The USA PATRIOT Act gives the federal government new powers to address terrorist threats through enhanced domestic security measures, expanded surveillance powers, increased information sharing and broadened anti-money laundering requirements.

Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 (the Sarbanes-Oxley Act) contains a range of corporate accounting and reporting reforms that are intended to address corporate and accounting fraud. In addition to the establishment of a new accounting oversight board that will enforce auditing, quality control and independence standards and will be funded by fees from all publicly traded companies, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act places certain restrictions on the scope of services that may be provided by accounting firms to their public company audit clients. Any non-audit services being provided to a public company audit client will require preapproval by the company's audit committee. In addition, the Sarbanes-Oxley Act makes certain changes to the requirements for audit partner rotation after a period of time. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act requires chief executive officers and chief financial officers, or their equivalent, to certify to the accuracy of periodic reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), subject to civil and criminal penalties if they knowingly or willingly violate this certification requirement. In addition, under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, counsel will be required to report evidence of a material violation of the securities laws or a breach of fiduciary duty by a company to its chief executive officer or its chief legal officer, and, if such officer does not appropriately respond, to report such evidence to the audit committee or other similar committee of the board of directors or the board itself.

Under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, longer prison terms will apply to corporate executives who violate federal securities laws; the period during which certain types of suits can be brought against a company or its officers is extended; and bonuses issued to top executives prior to restatement of a company's financial statements are now subject to disgorgement if such restatement was due to corporate misconduct. Executives are also prohibited from insider trading during retirement plan blackout periods, and loans to company executives (other than loans by financial institutions permitted by federal rules and regulations) are restricted. In addition, a provision directs that civil penalties levied by the SEC as a result of any judicial or administrative action under the Act be deposited to a fund for the benefit of harmed investors. The Federal Accounts for Investor Restitution provision also requires the SEC to develop methods of improving collection rates. The legislation accelerates the time frame for disclosures by public companies, as they must immediately disclose any material changes in their financial condition or operations. Directors and executive officers must also provide information for most changes in ownership in a company's securities within two business days of the change.

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act also increases the oversight of, and codifies certain requirements relating to audit committees of public companies and how they interact with the company's registered public accounting firm. Audit Committee members must be independent and are absolutely barred from accepting consulting, advisory or other compensatory fees from the issuer. In addition, companies must disclose whether at least one member of the committee is a financial expert (as such term will be defined by the Securities and Exchange Commission) and if not, why not. Under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act, a company's registered public accounting firm will be prohibited from performing statutorily mandated audit services for a company if such company's chief executive officer, chief financial officer, comptroller, chief accounting officer or any person serving in equivalent positions had been employed by such firm and participated in the audit of such company during the one-year period preceding the audit initiation date. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act also prohibits any officer or director of a company or any other person acting under their direction from taking any action to fraudulently influence, coerce, manipulate or mislead any independent accountant engaged in the audit of the company's financial statements for the purpose of rendering the financial statements materially misleading. The Sarbanes-Oxley Act also requires the SEC to prescribe rules requiring inclusion of any internal control report and assessment by management in the annual report to shareholders.

Management has incurred certain costs and continues to evaluate the estimated cost of ongoing compliance with the Sarbanes-Oxley Act.

Holding Company Regulation

General. Flatbush, MHC and the Company are nondiversified savings and loan holding companies within the meaning of the Home Owners Loan Act, and are subject to Federal Reserve Board regulations, examinations, supervision and reporting requirements. In addition, the Federal Reserve Board has enforcement authority over the Company and Flatbush MHC, and their subsidiaries. Among other things, this authority permits the Federal Reserve Board to restrict or prohibit activities that are determined to be a serious risk to the Association. As federal corporations, the Company and Flatbush MHC are generally not subject to state business organization laws.

Permitted Activities. Pursuant to Section 10(o) of the Home Owners Loan Act and Federal Reserve Board regulations and policy, a mutual holding company and a federally chartered mid-tier holding company such as the Company and Flatbush MHC, may engage in the following activities: (i) investing in the stock of a savings association; (ii) acquiring a mutual association through the merger of such association into a savings association subsidiary of such holding company or an interim savings association subsidiary of such holding company; (iii) merging with or acquiring another holding company, one of whose subsidiaries is a savings association; (iv) investing in a corporation, the capital stock of which is available for purchase by a savings association under federal law or under the law of any state where the subsidiary savings association or associations share their home offices; (v) furnishing or performing management services for a savings association subsidiary of such company; (vi) holding, managing or liquidating assets owned or acquired from a savings subsidiary of such company; (vii) holding or managing properties used or occupied by a savings association subsidiary of such company; (viii) acting as trustee under deeds of trust; (ix) any other activity (A) that the Federal Reserve, by regulation, has determined to be permissible for bank holding companies under Section 4(c) of the Bank Holding Company Act of 1956, unless the Federal Reserve, by regulation, prohibits or limits any such activity for savings and loan holding companies; or (B) in which multiple savings and loan holding companies were authorized (by regulation) to directly engage on March 5, 1987; (x) any activity permissible for financial holding companies under Section 4(k) of the Bank Holding Company Act, including securities and insurance underwriting; and (xi) purchasing, holding, or disposing of stock acquired in connection with a qualified stock issuance if the purchase of such stock by such savings and loan holding company is approved by the Federal Reserve. If a mutual holding company acquires or merges with another holding company, the holding company acquired or the holding company resulting from such merger or acquisition may only invest in assets and engage in activities listed in (i) through (xi) above, and has a period of two years to cease any nonconforming activities and divest of any nonconforming investments.

The Home Owners Loan Act prohibits a savings and loan holding company, including the Company and Flatbush MHC, directly or indirectly, or through one or more subsidiaries, from acquiring more than 5% of another savings institution or holding company thereof, without prior written approval of the Federal Reserve. It also prohibits the acquisition or retention of, with certain exceptions, more than 5% of a nonsubsidiary company engaged in activities other than those permitted by the Home Owners Loan Act; or acquiring or retaining control of an institution that is not federally insured. In evaluating applications by holding companies to acquire savings institutions, the Federal Reserve must consider the financial and managerial resources, future prospects of the company and institution involved, the effect of the acquisition on the risk to the insurance fund, the convenience and needs of the community and competitive factors.

The Federal Reserve is prohibited from approving any acquisition that would result in a multiple savings and loan holding company controlling savings institutions in more than one state, subject to two exceptions: (i) the approval of interstate supervisory acquisitions by savings and loan holding companies, and (ii) the acquisition of a savings institution in another state if the laws of the state of the target savings institution specifically permit such acquisitions. The states vary in the extent to which they permit interstate savings and loan holding company acquisitions.

Waivers of Dividends by Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC. The Dodd-Frank Act addressed the issue of dividend waivers in the context of the transfer of the supervision of savings and loan holding companies from the OTS to the Federal Reserve. The Dodd-Frank Act specified that dividends may be waived if certain conditions are met, including that the Federal Reserve does not object after being given written notice of the dividend and proposed waiver. The Dodd-Frank Act indicates that the Federal Reserve may not object to such a waiver (i) if the mutual holding company involved has, prior to December 1, 2009, reorganized into a mutual holding company structure, engaged in a minority stock offering and waived dividends; (ii) the board of directors of the mutual holding company expressly determines that a waiver of the dividend is consistent with its fiduciary duties to members and (iii) the waiver would not be detrimental to the safe and sound operation of the savings association subsidiaries of the holding company. Flatbush MHC was formed, engaged in a minority stock offering (through the Company) and waived dividends prior to December 1, 2009. The Federal Reserve Board has not previously permitted dividend waivers by bank holding companies that are mutuals and may object to dividend waivers involving mutual savings and loan holding companies, notwithstanding the referenced language in the Dodd-Frank Act.

Capital. Savings and loan holding companies are not currently subject to specific regulatory capital requirements. The Dodd-Frank Act, however, requires the Federal Reserve Board to promulgate consolidated capital requirements for depository institution holding companies that are no less stringent, both quantitatively and in terms of components of capital, than those applicable to insured institutions themselves. That will eliminate the inclusion of certain instruments, such as trust preferred securities, from Tier 1 capital. Instruments issued by mutual holding companies before May 19, 2010 will be grandfathered. There is a five year transition period from the July 21, 2010 date of enactment of the Dodd-Frank Act before the capital requirements will apply to savings and loan holding companies.

Source of Strength. The Dodd-Frank Act also extends the source of strength doctrine to savings and loan holding companies. The regulatory agencies must promulgate regulations implementing the source of strength policy that requires holding companies act as a source of strength to their subsidiary depository institutions by providing capital, liquidity and other support in times of financial stress.

Conversion of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC to Stock Form. Federal regulations permit Flatbush MHC to convert from the mutual form of organization to the capital stock form of organization (a Conversion Transaction). There can be no assurance when, if ever, a Conversion Transaction will occur, and the Board of Directors has no current intention or plan to undertake a Conversion Transaction. In a Conversion Transaction, a new holding company would be formed as the successor to the Company (the New Holding Company), Flatbush MHC's corporate existence would end, and certain depositors of the Association would receive the right to subscribe for additional shares of the New Holding Company. In a Conversion Transaction, each share of common stock held by stockholders other than Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC (Minority Stockholders) would be automatically converted into a number of shares of common stock of the New Holding Company determined pursuant to an exchange ratio that ensures that Minority Stockholders own the same percentage of common stock in the New Holding Company as they owned in the Company immediately prior to the Conversion Transaction. Under federal regulations, Minority Stockholders would not be diluted because of any dividends waived by Flatbush MHC (and waived dividends would not be considered in determining an appropriate exchange ratio), in the event Flatbush MHC converts to stock form. The total number of shares held by Minority Stockholders after a Conversion Transaction also would be increased by any purchases by Minority Stockholders in the stock offering conducted as part of the Conversion Transaction.

Table of Contents

The Dodd-Frank Act provides that waived dividends will not be considered in determining the appropriate exchange ratio after the transfer of responsibilities from the Office of Thrift Supervision to the Federal Reserve Board, provided that the mutual holding company involved was formed, engaged in a minority offering and waived dividends prior to December 1, 2009. Flatbush MHC was formed, engaged in a minority stock offering (through the Company) and waived dividends prior to December 1, 2009.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

As of June 30, 2012, the Company was not involved in any legal proceedings other than routine legal proceedings occurring in the ordinary course of business, which, in the aggregate, involve amounts that management believes are immaterial to the Company's consolidated financial condition, results of operations and cash flows, except as described below.

On March 26, 2012, Robert H. Elburn, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated (Plaintiff), filed a lawsuit against D. John Antonello, Patricia A. McKinley Scanlan, Alfred S. Pantaleone, Charles J. Vorbach, Michael J. Lincks and Jesus R. Adia (the Individual Defendants), as well as Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc., Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC (collectively Flatbush Federal), Northfield Bancorp, Inc. and Northfield Bancorp, MHC (collectively Northfield) in the Supreme Court of the State of New York (the Complaint). The Complaint was amended June 28, 2012. Plaintiff purports to bring this action on his own behalf, as well as on behalf of all owners of Flatbush Federal common stock, except the Individual Defendants (the Class).

The allegations in the Complaint focus on the contemplated transaction in which Northfield will acquire all of the outstanding shares of Flatbush Federal (the Transaction). The amended Complaint alleges, among other things, that the Individual Defendants breached their fiduciary duties to Flatbush Federal's shareholders by agreeing to inadequate consideration, engaging in a process that involved conflicts of interest and by failing to disclose certain material facts to Flatbush Bancorp shareholders in a registration statement filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 15, 2012. The Complaint alleges that Flatbush Federal and Northfield aided and abetted the alleged breaches of fiduciary duty by the Individual Defendants.

As of June 28, 2012, all of the Defendants have been served by the Plaintiffs. Upon service and after consultation with counsel, the Company and the other Defendants will review and respond to the Complaint. Based on information about the Complaint, which is currently available to the Company, it is the Company's opinion that the Complaint is without merit.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The Company is a federal corporation, which was organized in 2003 as part of the mutual holding company reorganization of the Association. The Company's principal asset is its investment in the Association. The Company is a majority owned subsidiary of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC, (Flatbush MHC) a federally chartered mutual holding company. At June 30, 2012, 1,484,208 shares of the Company's common stock were held by its Flatbush MHC, and 1,252,699 shares were held by shareholders other than Flatbush MHC. At June 30, 2012, the Company had consolidated assets of $143.3 million, deposits of $117.5 million and stockholders' equity of $18.8 million.

On January 13, 2012, the Company consummated the sale of the Association's main branch building and a portion of adjoining real estate to a third party for consideration of $10,136,000 and recognized a pre-tax gain of $9,073,000. This transaction is more fully described in Note 20 to the December 31, 2011 audited consolidated financial statements.

On March 13, 2012, the Company entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, as subsequently amended (the Merger Agreement), by and between (i) Northfield Bank, Northfield Bancorp, Inc. (Northfield Bancorp), and Northfield Bancorp, MHC, and (ii) the Company, the Association and Flatbush Federal Bancorp, MHC. The Merger Agreement provides, among other things, that as a result of the merger of the Company into Northfield Bancorp (the Mid-Tier Merger), each outstanding share of the Company's common stock will be converted into the right to receive 0.4748 shares of Northfield Bancorp common stock. The Merger Agreement contains a number of customary representations and warranties by the parties regarding certain aspects of their respective businesses, financial condition, structure and other facts pertinent to the Merger that are customary for a transaction of this kind. The obligation of the parties to complete the Merger is subject to various customary conditions. If the Merger is terminated under specified situations in the Merger Agreement (because the Company accepts a proposal to be acquired that is superior to the one contained in the Merger Agreement, enters into an agreement related to such a proposal and terminates the Merger Agreement, or fails to make, withdraws, modifies or qualifies its recommendation regarding the Merger Agreement), the Company may be required to pay a termination fee to Northfield Bancorp of approximately $700,000. The foregoing description of the Merger Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Merger Agreement, which was included in a Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 15, 2012.

General

The results of operations depend primarily on the Company's net interest income. Net interest income is the difference between the interest income earned on interest-earning assets, consisting primarily of loans, investment securities, mortgage-backed securities and other interest-earning assets (primarily cash and cash equivalents), and the interest paid on interest-bearing liabilities, consisting of NOW accounts, passbook and club accounts, savings accounts, time deposits and borrowings. The results of operations also are affected by provisions for loan losses, non-interest income and non-interest expense. Non-interest income currently consists primarily of fees and service charges, increases to the cash surrender value of bank owned life insurance and miscellaneous other income (consisting of fees for minimum balance requirements, dormant deposit accounts, fees charged to third parties for document requests and sale of money orders and travelers checks). Non-interest expense currently consists primarily of salaries and employee benefits, equipment, occupancy costs, data processing, deposit insurance premiums, other insurance premiums, and other operating expenses (consisting of legal fees, director compensation, postage, stationery, professional fees and other operational expenses). The Company's results of operations also may be affected significantly by general and local economic and competitive conditions, changes in market interest rates, governmental policies and actions of regulatory authorities.

Table of Contents

Critical Accounting Policies

The Company considers accounting policies involving significant judgments and assumptions by management that have, or could have, a material impact on the carrying value of certain assets or on income to be critical accounting policies. The Company considers allowance for loan losses, benefit plan assumptions and deferred income taxes to be critical accounting policies.

Allowance for Loan Losses. The allowance for loan losses is the estimated amount considered necessary to cover credit losses inherent in the loan portfolio at the balance sheet date. The allowance is established through the provision for loan losses which is charged against income. In determining the allowance for loan losses, management makes significant estimates and has identified this policy as one of the most critical for the Company.

Management performs a quarterly evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses. Consideration is given to a variety of factors in establishing this estimate including, but not limited to, current economic conditions, delinquency statistics, geographic and industry concentrations, the adequacy of the underlying collateral, the financial strength of the borrower, results of internal loan reviews and other relevant factors. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires material estimates that may be susceptible to significant change.

The analysis has two components, specific and general allocations. Specific allocations are made for loans that are determined to be impaired. Impairment is measured by determining the present value of expected future cash flows or, for collateral-dependent loans, the fair value of the collateral adjusted for market conditions and selling expenses. The general allocation is determined by segregating the remaining loans by type of loan, risk weighting (if applicable) and payment history. The Company also analyzes historical loss experience, delinquency trends, general economic conditions and geographic and industry concentrations. This analysis establishes factors that are applied to the loan groups to determine the amount of the general allowance. Actual loan losses may be significantly more than the loan loss allowance established which could have a material negative effect on the Company's financial results.

Pension Plan Assumptions. Our pension plan costs are calculated using actuarial concepts, as required under accounting for defined benefit pension and other post retirement plans. Pension expense and the determination of our projected pension liability are based upon two critical assumptions: the discount rate and the expected return on plan assets. We evaluate each of these critical assumptions annually. Other assumptions impact the determination of pension expense and the projected liability including the primary employee demographics, such as retirement patterns, employee turnover, mortality rates, and estimated employer compensation increases. These factors, along with the critical assumptions, are carefully reviewed by management each year in consultation with our pension plan consultants and actuaries. Further information about our pension plan assumptions, the plan's funded status, and other plan information is included in Note 11 to the December 31, 2011 Audited Consolidated Financial Statements.

Deferred Income Taxes. The Company uses the asset and liability method of accounting for income taxes. Under this method, deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. If current available information raises doubt as to the realization of the deferred tax assets, a valuation allowance is established. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The Company exercises significant judgment in evaluating the amount and timing of recognition of the resulting tax liabilities and assets, including projections of future taxable income. These judgments are reviewed on a continual basis as regulatory and business factors change.

Comparison of Financial Condition at June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011

The Company's total assets at June 30, 2012 were $143.3 million compared to $142.7 million at December 31, 2011, an increase of $597,000 or 0.4%. Loans receivable decreased $7.8 million, or 8.2%, to $87.4 million at June 30, 2012 from $95.2 million at December 31, 2011. Real estate owned increased $379,000 to $1.1 million at June 30, 2012, from $744,000 at December 31, 2012. Total deposits increased $2.6 million, or 2.3%, to $117.5 million at June 30, 2012 from $114.9 million at December 31, 2011. As of June 30, 2012, advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York (FHLB) were $5.4 million compared to $10.1 million as of December 31, 2011, a decrease of $4.7 million, or 46.5%. Advances were paid down as total deposits increased and loans receivable decreased.

Total stockholders' equity increased $4.3 million, or 29.7%, to $18.8 million at June 30, 2012 from $14.6 million at December 31, 2011. The increase to stockholders' equity reflects net income of $4.1 million, amortization of $14,000 of unearned ESOP shares, amortization of $20,000 of restricted stock awards for the Company's Stock-Based Incentive Program, amortization of $21,000 of stock option awards and a decrease of $123,000 of accumulated other comprehensive loss during the six months ended June 30, 2012.

On August 30, 2007, the Company approved a stock repurchase program and authorized the repurchase of up to 50,000 shares of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock. As of June 30, 2012, under the current program, a total of 12,750 shares had been repurchased at a weighted average price of $4.44 per share.

Comparison of Financial Condition at December 31, 2011 and 2010

The Company's total assets at December 31, 2011 were $142.7 million compared to $147.0 million at December 31, 2010, a decrease of $4.3 million, or 2.9%. Loans receivable decreased $11.3 million, or 10.6%, to $95.2 million at December 31, 2011 from $106.5 million at December 31, 2010. Demand for one-to four-family residential mortgage loans decreased primarily due to the economic recession, high unemployment rate and declining real estate values. In addition, mortgage-backed securities decreased $379,000, or 1.7%, to $21.4 million at December 31, 2011 from $21.8 million as of December 31, 2010. Total deposits decreased $2.2 million, or 1.9%, to $114.9 million at December 31, 2011 from $117.1 million at December 31, 2010. Borrowings from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York decreased $1.9 million, or 15.8%, to $10.1 million at December 31, 2011 from $12.0 million at December 31, 2010. The Company borrows from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York to fund loan commitments, securities purchases and savings withdrawals.

Total stockholders' equity decreased $1.2 million, or 7.6%, to $14.6 million at December 31, 2011 from $15.8 million at December 31, 2010. The decrease to stockholders' equity reflects a net loss of $638,000 and an increase of $662,000 of accumulated other comprehensive loss. This was partially offset by amortization of $25,000 of unearned ESOP shares, amortization of $41,000 of restricted stock awards for the Company's Stock-Based Incentive Program (the Plan) and amortization of $41,000 of stock option awards. No shares were repurchased during the year ended December 31, 2011.

On June 30, 2005, the Company approved a stock repurchase program and authorized the repurchase of up to 50,000 shares of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock. On August 30, 2007, the Company approved a second stock repurchase program and authorized the repurchase of up to an additional 50,000 shares of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock. Stock repurchases will be made from time to time and may be effected through open market purchases, block trades and in privately negotiated transactions. Repurchased stock will be held as treasury stock and will be available for general corporate purposes. As of December 31, 2011, a total of 12,750 shares have been acquired at a weighted average price of $4.44 per share pursuant to the second stock repurchase program. No repurchases were made for the years ended December 31, 2011 and 2010.

Comparison of Operating Results for the Six Months Ended June 30, 2012 and June 30, 2011

General. Net income increased by $4.9 million to net income of $4.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from a net loss of $761,000 for the same period in 2011. The increase for the current period was primarily due to a one-time pre-tax gain on sale of property of $9.1 million and decreases of $37,000 in interest expense on deposits, $42,000 in interest expense on borrowings from the FHLB and $1.4 million in the provision for loan loss, partially offset by decreases of $443,000 in interest income and $38,000 in other non-interest income, and increases of $1.3 million in non-interest expense, and $3.9 million in income tax expense.

Interest Income. Total interest income decreased $443,000, or 12.7%, to $3.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $3.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The decrease in interest income can be primarily attributed to lower average balances and yields for these assets. For the six months ended June 30, 2012, the average balance of $129.2 million in interest-earning assets earned an average yield of 4.69% compared to an average yield of 5.28% on an average balance of $131.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The decline in the average balance was primarily due to loan payoffs and slowing loan demand.

Interest income on loans decreased $452,000, or 15.6%, to $2.45 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from $2.90 million for the same period in 2011. The average balance of loans decreased $12.6 million to $91.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $103.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average yield on loans decreased by 22 basis points to 5.39% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from 5.61% for the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Interest income on mortgage-backed securities decreased $30,000, or 5.6%, to $508,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $538,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average balance of mortgage-backed securities increased $1.5 million, or 7.1%, to $22.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $21.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average yield decreased by 60 basis points to 4.52% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from 5.12% for the same period in 2011.

Interest income on investment securities increased $41,000, or 141.4%, to $70,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $29,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average balance of investment securities increased $3.1 million to $4.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $1.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average yield on investment securities decreased 41 basis points to 2.90% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from an average yield of 3.31% for the six months ended June 30, 2011 primarily due to lower average yields on $4.3 million in corporate debt and lower dividend received on FHLB of New York stock.

Interest Expense. Total interest expense, comprised of interest expense on deposits and FHLB borrowings, decreased $79,000, or 9.9%, to $719,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $798,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average cost of interest-bearing liabilities decreased by 10 basis points to 1.22% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from 1.32% for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average balance of interest-bearing liabilities decreased $1.9 million, or 1.6%, to $118.7 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $120.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Interest expense on deposits decreased $38,000, or 5.5%, to $693,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from $731,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average cost of interest-bearing deposits decreased by 9 basis points to 1.23% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from 1.32% for the six months ended June 30, 2011, reflecting the trend of declining interest rates on deposits. The average balance of interest-bearing deposits increased $2.2 million, or 2.0%, to $112.5 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $110.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Interest expense on FHLB borrowings decreased $42,000, or 61.8%, to $26,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from $68,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average balance of FHLB borrowings decreased $4.1 million, or 39.8%, to $6.2 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from $10.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The average cost of FHLB borrowings decreased by 47 basis points to 0.84% for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from 1.31% for the six months ended June 30, 2011.

Net Interest Income. Net interest income decreased $363,000, or 13.6%, to $2.31 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $2.68 million for the same period in 2011. The interest rate spread was 3.47% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 compared to 3.96% for the six months ended June 30, 2011, a decrease of 49 basis points. Interest margin for the six months ended June 30, 2012 was 3.58% compared to 4.06% for the six months ended June 30, 2011, a decrease of 48 basis points. The decrease in interest rate spread and interest margin can be attributed primarily to the decrease in the yield of interest-earning assets.

Provision for Loan Losses. The Company establishes the provision for loan loss, which is charged to operations, at a level deemed appropriate to absorb known and inherent losses that are both probable and reasonably estimable at the date of the financial statements. In evaluating the level of the allowance for loan losses, management considers historical loss experience, the types of loans and the amount of loans in the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, the estimated value of any underlying collateral, and prevailing economic conditions. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change. Based on the evaluation of these factors, a provision of $265,000 was recorded for the six months ended June 30, 2012. A provision of $1.7 million was recorded for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The level of the allowance at June 30, 2012 is based on estimates, and the ultimate losses may vary from the estimates. Non-performing loans decreased to $8.2 million, or 5.7% of total assets as of June 30, 2012 from $8.2 million or 5.7% of total assets as of December 31, 2011 and $10.0 million or 7.1% of total assets as of June 30, 2011. As of June 30, 2012 the non-performing loans included 23 one- to four-family residential mortgage loans totaling $7.5 million and two non-residential mortgage loans of $744,000. The allowance for loan losses totaled $1.1 million at June 30, 2012, and was comprised of $1.1 million of general allowance. The allowance for loan losses totaled $2.2 million at December 31, 2011, and was comprised of $1.3 million of specific allowance and $957,000 of general allowance. During the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, loans charged off totaled $1.5 million and $260,000, respectively, and recoveries of previously charged off loans totaled $85,000 and none, respectively.

Non-Interest Income. Non-interest income increased $9.03 million to $9.19 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $159,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011 primarily due to the $9.07 million pre-tax gain on sale of property previously discussed.

Non-Interest Expenses. Non-interest expenses increased $1.3 million, or 52.0%, to $3.79 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $2.45 million for the six months ended June 30, 2011. The net increase of $1.3 million in non-interest expenses is primarily attributable to expenses related to the merger and the cost of achieving compliance with the formal enforcement order of the OCC, increases to net occupancy expense of premises and professional fees. Net occupancy expense of premises increased $119,000 to $376,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012, from $258,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011 primarily due to the loss of rental income from an expired property lease that was not renewed due to the sale of the property, along with new leasing terms for an existing branch location. Professional fees increased $73,000 to $253,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012 from $180,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2011, primarily due to increased legal expenses related to sale of the main office properties. Merger related expenses were $586,000 in the 2012 period as compared to none in the 2011 period. Regulatory compliance consulting expense related to the enforcement order of the OCC totaled $555,000 for the six months ended June 30, 2012.

Income Tax Expense. The provision for income taxes increased $3.9 million, to an expense of $3.3 million for the six months ended June 30, 2012 compared to a benefit of $560,000 for the same period in 2011. The increase was attributable to increased pre-tax income primarily due to the property sale gain.

Comparison of Operating Results for the Years Ended December 31, 2011 and 2010

General. Net income decreased by $1.1 million, to a loss of $638,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011 from income of $441,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010. Lower yield on interest earning assets, partially offset by lower cost of deposits and borrowings, caused the Company's net interest margin to decrease by 16 basis points from 4.18% in 2010 to 4.02% in 2011.

Interest Income. Interest income decreased by $1.16 million or 12.6%, to $6.81 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $7.96 million for the year ended December 31, 2010. The decrease in interest income resulted from decreases of income of $899,000 from loans receivable, $295,000 from mortgage-backed securities, and $2,000 from other interest earning assets, partially offset by an increase of $40,000 from investment securities. More generally, the decrease in interest income was attributable to a decrease of $10.8 million in the average balance of interest earning assets to $130.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $141.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2010 and a 42 basis point decrease in the average yield on interest earning assets.

Interest income on loans receivable decreased $899,000 or 13.8 %, to $5.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $6.5 million for the comparable period in 2010. The decrease resulted from a lower average balance of $100.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2011, from an average balance of $110.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2010 and a lower average yield of 5.58% for the year ended December 31, 2011 from an average yield of 5.88% for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Interest income from mortgage-backed securities decreased $295,000, or 21.4%, to $1.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $1.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2010. This decrease reflects a $2.3 million decrease in the average balance of mortgage-backed securities to $21.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $23.9 million for the same period in 2010 and an decrease in the average yield of 74 basis points to 5.03% for the year ended December 31, 2011 from 5.77% for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Interest income from investment securities increased $40,000, or 69.0%, to $98,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $58,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010. The increase resulted from an increase of $2.4 million in the average balance in investment securities to $3.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from an average balance of $1.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2010, partially offset by a decrease of 292 basis points to 2.86% in the average yield for the year ended December 31, 2011 from an average yield of 5.78% for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Interest income on other interest-earning assets, primarily interest-earning deposits and federal funds sold, decreased $2,000, or 33.3%, to $4,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $6,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010. The decrease was attributable to the decrease of $747,000 in the average balance of interest earning deposits of $5.0 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $5.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2010.

Interest Expense. Total interest expense decreased $496,000, or 24.2%, to $1.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $2.1 million for the year ended December 31, 2010. The decrease in interest expense resulted from a decrease of 30 basis points in the average cost of interest-bearing liabilities to 1.29% for the year ended December 31, 2011 from 1.59% for the year ended December 31, 2010, and a $8.7 million decrease in the average balance of interest-bearing liabilities to $120.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $129.3 million for the year ended December 31, 2010. In addition, the average balance of interest-bearing deposits decreased $2.9 million to $109.7 million with an average cost of 1.31% for the year ended December 31, 2011 from $112.6 million with an average cost of 1.54% for the year ended December 31, 2010. In addition, the decrease in interest expense resulted from a decrease of $5.8 million in the average balance of Federal Home Loan Bank of New York advances to $10.9 million, with an average cost of 1.07%, for the year ended December 31, 2011, compared to $16.7 million and 1.92% for the year ended December 31, 2010. The average balance of certificates of deposit decreased by $2.9 million to $75.1 million with an average cost of 1.74% in 2011, as compared with an average balance of $78.0 million with an average cost of 2.06% in 2010. The average balance for savings and club accounts decreased by $2,000 to $34.2 million with an average cost of 0.37% in 2011, as compared to $34.2 million with an average cost of 0.37% in 2010. The average balance of interest-bearing demand deposits decreased by $26,000 to $332,000 with an average cost of 0.33% in 2011 from $358,000 with an average cost of 0.34% in 2010.

Net Interest Income. Net interest income decreased $660,000, or 11.2%, to $5.3 million for 2011 from $5.9 million for 2010. The Company's interest rate spread decreased by 12 basis points to 3.92% in 2011 from 4.04% in 2010. Provision for Loan Losses. The Company establishes provisions for loan losses, which are charged to operations, at a level necessary to absorb known and inherent losses that are both probable and reasonably estimable at the date of the financial statements. In evaluating the level of the allowance for loan losses, management considers historical loss experience, the types of loans and the amount of loans in the loan portfolio, adverse situations that may affect the borrower's ability to repay, the estimated value of any underlying collateral, peer group information, and prevailing economic conditions. Prevailing national and local economic conditions are reflected in the continued high unemployment rate and depressed real estate values. This evaluation is inherently subjective as it requires estimates that are susceptible to significant revision as more information becomes available or as future events change. Based on its evaluation of these factors, management made a provision of $1.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2011, as compared to a provision of $821,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010. The increase in provision for loan loss during the year was primarily due to increased specific loan loss reserves on construction loan participations, commercial real estate loans, one-to four-family residential loans and credit card loans, as well as an increase in general allowance for loan loss considered appropriate due to the increase of non-performing loans and to address inherent losses that are probable and estimable in the loan portfolio. Management used the same methodology and generally similar assumptions in assessing the allowance for both years. The allowance for loan losses was $2.2 million, or 2.30% of total loans outstanding at December 31, 2011, as compared with $1.6 million, or 1.51% of total loans outstanding at December 31, 2010. Non-performing loans to total assets was 574 basis points on December 31, 2011 and December 31, 2010. The level of the allowance is based on estimates, and the ultimate losses may vary from the estimates.

Management evaluates the allowance for loan losses on a quarterly basis and makes provisions for loan losses as necessary in order to maintain the adequacy of the allowance. Although management believes that it uses the best information available to establish the allowance for loan losses, future additions to the allowance may be necessary based on estimates that are susceptible to change as a result of changes in economic conditions and other factors. In addition, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, as an integral part of its examination process, will periodically review the allowance for loan losses. The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency may require the Association to make adjustments to the allowance based on its judgments about information available to it at the time of its examination.

Non-Interest Income. Non-interest income increased by $29,000, or 11.4%, to $283,000 in 2011 from $254,000 in 2010. This increase was primarily due to increases in fees and service charges and miscellaneous income.

Non-Interest Expense. Non-interest expense increased by $347,000, or 7.3% to $5.1 million in 2011 from $4.7 million in 2010. The increase was caused primarily by increases in net occupancy expense to $625,000 from $496,000, equipment expenses to $624,000 from $477,000, director's compensation to $199,000 from $186,000, professional fees to $412,000 from $340,000 and insurance premiums to $185,000 from $139,000, partially offset by decreases in federal deposit insurance premiums to $153,000 from $206,000. Equipment expense increased $147,000 to $624,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011, from $477,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010 primarily due to data center deconversion costs. Net occupancy expense of premises increased $129,000 to $625,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011, from $496,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010 primarily due to the loss of rental income from an expired property lease that was not renewed due to the pending sale of the property, along with new leasing terms for an existing branch location. Professional fees increased $72,000 to $412,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011, from $340,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010 primarily due to increased legal and accounting expenses. Insurance premiums increased $46,000 to $185,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011, from $139,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010 primarily due to additional insurance required for the increased other real estate owned. Federal deposit insurance premiums decreased $53,000 to $153,000 for the year ended December 31, 2011, from $206,000 for the year ended December 31, 2010 primarily due to premium calculation changes.

Income Tax Expense. The provision for income taxes decreased $788,000 to a benefit of $632,000 in 2011 from an expense of $156,000 in 2010. The decrease in the income tax expense is primarily due to the decrease in income before taxes of $1.9 million to a loss of $1.3 million in 2011 from income of $597,000 in 2010.

Table of ContentsAverage Balance Sheets

The following table presents for the periods indicated the total dollar amount of interest income from average interest earning assets and the resultant yields, as well as the interest expense on average interest bearing liabilities, expressed both in dollars and rates. No tax equivalent adjustments were made. All average balances are monthly average balances. Non-accruing loans have been included in the table as loans carrying a zero yield. The amortization of loan fees is included in computing interest income; however, such fees are not material.

Table of ContentsRate/Volume Analysis

The following table presents the dollar amount of changes in interest income and interest expense for major components of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities. It distinguishes between the changes related to changes in outstanding balances and those due to the changes in interest rates. For each category of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities, information is provided on changes attributable to (i) changes in volume (i.e., changes in volume multiplied by old rate) and (ii) changes in rate (i.e., changes in rate multiplied by old volume). For purposes of this table, changes attributable to both rate and volume, which cannot be segregated, have been allocated proportionately to the change due to volume and the change due to rate.

Management of Market Risk

General. The majority of the Company's assets and liabilities are monetary in nature. Consequently, the most significant form of market risk is interest rate risk. The Company's assets, consisting primarily of mortgage loans, have longer maturities than its liabilities, consisting primarily of deposits and borrowings. As a result, a principal part of the business strategy is to manage interest rate risk and reduce the exposure of net interest income to changes in market interest rates. Accordingly, the board of directors has established an Asset/Liability Management Committee which is responsible for evaluating the interest rate risk inherent in the assets and liabilities, for determining the level of risk that is appropriate given the business strategy, operating environment, capital, liquidity and performance objectives, and for managing this risk consistent with the guidelines approved by the board of directors. Senior management monitors the level of interest rate risk on a regular basis and the Asset/Liability Management Committee, which consists of senior management operating under a policy adopted by the board of directors, meets as needed to review the asset/liability policies and interest rate risk position.

The Company has sought to manage its interest rate risk in order to minimize the exposure of earnings and capital to changes in interest rates. During the low interest rate environment that has existed in recent years, the Company has implemented the following strategies to manage its interest rate risk: (i) maintaining a high level of liquid interest-earning assets invested in cash and cash equivalents; (ii) offering a variety of adjustable rate loan products, including one year adjustable rate mortgage loans and construction loans, and short-term fixed rate home equity loans. Cash and cash equivalents, deposits and borrowings from the Federal Home Loan Bank may be used to fund loan commitments, investments and other general corporate purposes. By investing in short-term, liquid instruments, management believes the Company is better positioned to react to increases in market interest rates. However, investments in shorter-term securities and cash and cash equivalents generally bear lower yields than longer term investments. Thus, during the recent sustained period of low interest rates, the strategy of investment in liquid instruments has resulted in lower levels of interest income than would have been obtained by investing in longer-term loans and investments.

Net Portfolio Value. We previously used a net portfolio value analysis prepared by the OCC to review our level of interest rate risk. The OCC will no longer provide such information for periods after December 31, 2011. Such analysis measures interest rate risk by computing changes in net portfolio value of our cash flows from assets, liabilities and off-balance sheet items in the event of a range of assumed changes in market interest rates. Net portfolio value represents the market value of portfolio equity and is equal to the market value of assets minus the market value of liabilities, with adjustments made for off-balance sheet items. This analysis assesses the risk of loss in market risk-sensitive instruments in the event of a sudden and sustained 50 to 300 basis point increase or 50 and 100 basis point decrease in market interest rates with no effect given to any steps that we might take to counter the effect of that interest rate movement. Because of the low level of market interest rates, these analyses are not performed for decreases of more than 100 basis points.

The following table, which is based on information that we provide to the OCC, presents the change in the net portfolio value of the Association at December 31, 2011, which is the most recent date for which information is available, that would occur in the event of an immediate change in interest rates based on OCC assumptions, with no effect given to any steps that we might take to counteract that change.

Change in Interest Rates (basis points)	Net Portfolio Value			Net Portfolio Value as a Percentage of Present Value of Assets	Change in Basis Points
	Estimated NPV	Amount of Change	Percent of Change (Dollars in Thousands)	NPV Ratio
+300	$ 15,740	$ (5,807)	(27)%	10.89%	(325) bp
+200	$ 18,644	$ (2,903)	(13)%	12.59%	(155) bp
+100	$ 20,624	$ (923)	(4)%	13.68%	(46) bp
+50	$ 21,187	$ (360)	(2)%	13.97%	(17) bp
0	$ 21,547		%	14.13%
-50	$ 21,496	$ (51)	%	14.09%	(5) bp
-100	$ 21,517	$ (30)	%	14.09%	(5) bp

The table above indicates that at December 31, 2011, in the event of a 100 basis point decrease in interest rates, the Company would experience a minimal decrease in net portfolio value. In the event of a 100 basis point increase in interest rates, the Company would experience a 4.00% decrease in net portfolio value.

Certain shortcomings are inherent in the methodology used in the above interest rate risk measurement. Modeling changes in net portfolio value require making certain assumptions that may or may not reflect the manner in which actual yields and costs respond to changes in market interest rates. In this regard, the net portfolio value table presented assumes that the composition of interest-sensitive assets and liabilities existing at the beginning of a period remains constant over the period being measured and assumes that a particular change in interest rates is reflected uniformly across the yield curve regardless of the duration or repricing of specific assets and liabilities. Accordingly, although the net portfolio value table provides an indication of interest rate risk exposure at a particular point in time, such measurements are not intended to and do not provide a precise forecast of the effect of changes in market interest rates on its net interest income and will differ from actual results.

Economic Value of Equity

Beginning March 31, 2012, the Association's interest rate sensitivity is monitored by management through the use of an independent third party Asset/Liability vendor which estimates the change in the Association's economic value of equity (EVE) over a range of interest rate scenarios. EVE is the present value of expected cash flows from assets, liabilities, and off-balance sheet contracts. The EVE ratio, under any interest rate scenario, is defined as the EVE in that scenario divided by the market value of assets in the same scenario. The Asset/Liability model produces its analysis based upon data submitted by the Association's quarter-end financial data. The following table sets forth the Association's EVE as of June 30, 2012, the most recent date the Association's EVE was calculated.

Change in Interest Rates (basis points)	Estimated EVE	Economic Value of Equity		Economic Value of Equity as a Percentage of Present Value of Assets
		Amount of Change	Percent of Change (Dollars in Thousands)	EVE Ratio	Change in Basis Points
+300	$ 13,825	$ (9,121)	(39.75)%	10.32%	(513)
+200	17,736	(5,210)	(22.71)%	12.70%	(275)
+100	21,062	(1,884)	(8.21)%	14.56%	(89)
0	22,946		%	15.45%
-100	24,273	1,327	5.78%	16.07%	62

Certain shortcomings are inherent in the methodology used in the above interest rate risk measurement. Modeling changes in economic value of equity require making certain assumptions that may or may not reflect the manner in which actual yields and costs respond to changes in market interest rates. In this regard, the economic value of equity table presented assumes that the composition of interest-sensitive assets and liabilities existing at the beginning of a period remains constant over the period being measured, and assumes that a particular change in interest rates is reflected uniformly across the yield curve regardless of the duration or repricing of specific assets and liabilities. Accordingly, although the economic value of equity table provides an indication of the Association's interest rate risk exposure at a particular point in time, such measurements are not intended to and do not provide a precise forecast of the effect of changes in market interest rates on its net interest income and will differ from actual results.

Liquidity. The Company maintains liquid assets at levels considered adequate to meet its liquidity needs. The liquidity ratio averaged 11.53% for the six months ended June 30, 2012 and 6.94% for the year ended December 31, 2011. Liquidity levels are adjusted to fund deposit outflows, pay real estate taxes on mortgage loans, fund loan commitments and take advantage of investment opportunities. As appropriate, the Company also adjusts liquidity to meet asset and liability management objectives.

The Company's primary sources of liquidity are deposits, borrowings, amortization and prepayment of loans and mortgage-backed securities, maturities of investment securities and other short-term investments, and earnings and funds provided from operations. While scheduled principal repayments on loans and mortgage-backed securities are a relatively predictable source of funds, deposit flows and loan prepayments are greatly influenced by market interest rates, economic conditions, and rates offered by competition. Interest rates on deposits are set to maintain a desired level of total deposits.

In addition, excess funds are invested in short-term interest-earning assets, which provide liquidity to meet lending requirements.

A significant portion of the Company's liquidity consists of cash and cash equivalents, which are a product of management's operating, investing and financing activities. At June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, $11.6 million and $8.8 million of assets were invested in cash and cash equivalents, respectively. The primary sources of cash are principal repayments on loans, proceeds from the calls and maturities of investment securities, principal repayments of mortgage-backed securities and increases in deposit accounts. As of June 30, 2012, there were no short-term investment securities.

Deposit flows are generally affected by the level of interest rates, the interest rates and products offered by local competitors, and other factors. Total deposits increased $2.6 million to $117.5 million at June 30, 2012, and decreased $2.2 million to $114.9 million at December 31, 2011 from $117.1 million as of December 31, 2010.

Liquidity management is both a daily and long-term function of business management. If the Company requires funds beyond its ability to generate them internally, borrowing agreements exist with the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York which provides an additional source of funds. At June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011, the Company had $5.4 million and $10.1 million in advances from the Federal Home Loan Bank of New York, respectively, and had an available borrowing limit of $45.8 and $48.2 million as of these dates.

At June 30, 2012, the Company had outstanding commitments to originate loans of $550,000. At June 30, 2012, certificates of deposit scheduled to mature in less than one year totaled $61.2 million. At December 31, 2011, the Company had outstanding commitments to originate loans of $405,000. At December 31, 2011, certificates of deposit scheduled to mature in less than one year totaled $59.8 million. Based on prior experience, management believes that a significant portion of such deposits will remain, although there can be no assurance that this will be the case. In the event a significant portion of deposits are not retained, management will have to utilize other funding sources, such as Federal Home Loan Bank of New York advances in order to maintain the Company's level of assets. Alternatively, management could reduce the level of liquid assets, such as cash and cash equivalents. In addition, the cost of such deposits may be significantly higher if market interest rates are higher at the time of renewal.

Contractual Obligations and Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

The following table sets forth the Company's contractual obligations at December 31, 2011. Amounts shown do not include anticipated contributions to the Company's defined benefit plans.

Contractual Obligations	Total	Payment Due by Period

In the normal course of business, the Association enters into off-balance sheet arrangements consisting of commitments to fund loans. At December 31, 2011, these commitments totaled $405,000, which expire in three months or less. See Note 14 to the December 31, 2011 Audited Consolidated Financial Statements for more information.

Impact of Inflation and Changing Prices

The consolidated financial statements and related notes of the Company have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). GAAP generally requires the measurement of financial position and operating results in terms of historical dollars without consideration for changes in the relative purchasing power of money over time due to inflation. The impact of inflation is reflected in the increased cost of the Company s operations. Unlike industrial companies, the Company s assets and liabilities are primarily monetary in nature. As a result, changes in market interest rates have a greater impact on performance than the effects of inflation.

FLATBUSH FEDERAL BANCORP, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

NOTE 1. PRINCIPLES OF CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Flatbush Federal Bancorp, Inc. (the Company), Flatbush Federal Savings and Loan Association (the Association) and the Association's subsidiary Flatbush REIT, Inc. The Company's business is conducted principally through the Association. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

NOTE 2. BASIS OF PRESENTATION

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements were prepared in accordance with instructions for Form 10-Q and Regulation S-X and do not include information or footnotes necessary for a complete presentation of financial condition, results of operations and cash flows in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. However, in the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements have been included. The results of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, are not necessarily indicative of the results which may be expected for the entire year.

The unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's audited consolidated financial statements and related notes for the year ended December 31, 2011, which are included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

In accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) Topic 855, Subsequent Events, the Company has evaluated events and transactions occurring subsequent to the Statement of Financial Condition date of June 30, 2012 for items that should potentially be recognized or disclosed in these consolidated financial statements. The evaluation was conducted through the date these consolidated financial statements were issued.

NOTE 3. NET INCOME (LOSS) PER COMMON SHARE

Net income (loss) per common share was computed by dividing net income (loss) for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011 by the weighted average number of shares of common stock outstanding adjusted for unearned shares of the ESOP. Stock options and restricted stock awards granted are considered common stock equivalents and therefore considered in diluted net income per share calculations, if dilutive, using the treasury stock method. At and for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, there was no dilutive effect for the 82,378 and 82,378, respectively, of stock options outstanding. At and for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012 and 2011, there was no dilutive effect for the 3,798 and 7,598, respectively, of non-vested restricted stock awards.

NOTE 4. CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The Company considers accounting policies involving significant judgments and assumptions by management that have, or could have, a material impact on the carrying value of certain assets or on income to be critical accounting policies. A material estimate that is particularly susceptible to significant change relates to the determination of the allowance for loan losses. Determining the amount of the allowance for loan losses necessarily involves a high degree of judgment. Management reviews the level of the allowance on a quarterly basis, at a minimum, and establishes the provision for loan losses based on the composition of the loan portfolio, delinquency levels, loss experience, economic conditions, and other factors related to the collectability of the loan portfolio. Management has allocated the allowance among categories of loan types as well as classification status at each period-end date. Assumptions and allocation percentages based on loan types and classification status have been consistently applied. Management regularly evaluates various risk factors related to the loan portfolio, such as type of loan, underlying collateral and payment status, and the corresponding allowance allocation percentages.

Although management believes that it uses the best information available to establish the allowance for loan losses, future additions to the allowance may be necessary based on estimates that are susceptible to change as a result of changes in economic conditions and other factors. In addition, the regulatory authorities, as an integral part of their examination process, periodically review the allowance for loan losses. Such agencies may require management to recognize adjustments to the allowance based on their judgments about information available to them at the time of their examinations.

When the fair value of a security is below its amortized cost, and depending on the length of time the condition exists and the extent the fair value is below amortized cost, additional analysis is performed to determine whether an other-than-temporary impairment condition exists. Securities are analyzed quarterly for possible other-than-temporary impairment. The analysis considers (i) whether the Association has the intent to sell its securities prior to recovery and/or maturity and (ii) whether it is more likely than not that the Association will have to sell its securities prior to recovery and/or maturity. Often, the information available to conduct these assessments is limited and rapidly changing, making estimates of fair value subject to judgment. If actual information or conditions are different than estimated, the extent of the impairment of the security may be different than previously estimated, which could have a material effect on the Association's consolidated financial statements.

NOTE 5. SECURITIES HELD TO MATURITY (CONTINUED)

At June 30, 2012, and December 31, 2011, management concluded that the unrealized losses above (which, at June 30, 2012, related to two corporate debt securities and four Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation mortgage-backed securities) are temporary in nature since they are primarily related to market interest rates and not related to the underlying credit quality of the issuer of the securities.

The amortized cost and estimated fair value of mortgage-backed securities at June 30, 2012 by contractual maturity, are shown below. Actual maturities will differ from contractual maturities because borrowers generally have the right to prepay obligations.

A loan is considered impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that the Company will be unable to collect the scheduled payments of principal or interest when due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status, collateral value and the probability of collecting scheduled principal and interest payments when due. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays and payment shortfalls generally are not classified as impaired. Management determines the significance of payment delays and payment shortfalls on a case-by-case basis, taking into consideration all of the circumstances surrounding the loan and the borrower, including the length of the delay, the reasons for the delay, the borrower's prior payment record and the amount of the shortfall in relation to the principal and interest owed. Impairment is measured on a loan by loan basis for commercial real estate loans and commercial construction loans by either the present value of expected future cash flows discounted at the loan's effective interest rate or the fair value of the collateral if the loan is collateral dependent.

An allowance for loan losses is established for an impaired loan if its carrying value exceeds its estimated fair value. The estimated fair values of substantially all of the Company's impaired loans are measured based on the estimated fair value of the loan's collateral.

For loans secured by real estate, estimated fair values are determined primarily through third-party appraisals. When a real estate secured loan becomes impaired, a decision is made regarding whether an updated certified appraisal of the real estate is necessary. This decision is based on various considerations, including the age of the most recent appraisal, the loan-to-value ratio based on the original appraisal and the condition of the property. Appraised values are discounted to arrive at the estimated selling price of the collateral, which is considered to be the estimated fair value. The discounts also include estimated costs to sell the property.

Large groups of smaller balance homogeneous loans are collectively evaluated for impairment. Accordingly, the Company does not separately identify individual smaller balance residential mortgage loans, home equity loans and other consumer loans for impairment disclosures, unless such loans are the subject of a troubled debt restructuring agreement.

Loans whose terms are modified are classified as troubled debt restructurings if the Company grants such borrowers concessions and it is deemed that those borrowers are experiencing financial difficulty. Concessions granted under a troubled debt restructuring generally involve a temporary reduction in interest rate or an extension of a loan's stated maturity date. Troubled debt restructurings are restored to accrual status if principal and interest payments, under the modified terms, are current for six consecutive months after modification. Loans classified as troubled debt restructurings also are designated as impaired.

The Company adopted Accounting Standards Update (ASU) No. 2011-02 on July 1, 2011. ASU No. 2011-02 provides additional guidance to creditors for evaluating whether a modification or restructuring of a receivable is a troubled debt restructuring. In evaluating whether a restructuring constitutes a troubled debt restructuring, ASU No. 2011-02 requires that a creditor must separately conclude that the restructuring constitutes a concession and the borrower is experiencing financial difficulties.

The allowance calculation methodology includes further segregation of loan classes into risk rating categories. The borrower's overall financial condition, repayment sources, guarantors and value of collateral, if appropriate, are evaluated annually for commercial loans or when credit deficiencies arise, such as delinquent loan payments, for commercial and consumer loans. Credit quality risk ratings include regulatory classifications of substandard, doubtful, loss and special mention. An asset is considered substandard if it is inadequately protected by the current net worth and paying capacity of the obligor or of the collateral pledged, if any. Substandard assets include those characterized by the distinct possibility that the insured institution will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected. Assets classified as doubtful have all of the weaknesses inherent in those classified substandard with the added characteristic that the weaknesses present make collection or liquidation in full, on the basis of currently existing facts, conditions, and values, highly questionable and improbable. Assets classified as loss are those considered uncollectible and of such little value that their continuance as assets without the establishment of a specific loss reserve is not warranted. Assets which do not currently expose the insured institution to sufficient risk to warrant classification in one of the aforementioned categories but possess weaknesses are required to be designated special mention. If uncorrected, the potential weaknesses may result in deterioration of the repayment prospects. Loans which are not classified as noted above are rated "pass".

In addition, Federal regulatory agencies, as an integral part of their examination process, periodically review the Company's allowance for loan losses and may require the Company to recognize additions to the allowance based on their judgments about information available to them at the time of their examination, which may not be currently available to management. Based on management's comprehensive analysis of the loan portfolio, management believes the current level of the allowance for loan losses is adequate.

The following table presents the classes of the loan portfolio summarized by the pass category and the criticized categories of special mention, substandard and doubtful within the internal risk rating system as of June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011.
