CYBERADS, INC.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
June 30, 2004

Edgar Filing: CYBERADS INC - Form 10QSB

1. Summary of significant accounting policies

Business: CyberAds, Inc. ("CyberAds") was incorporated in the state of Florida on April 12, 2000. The Company earns commissions from selling approved contracts to subscribers for cellular telephone service. Commissions are received either from master dealers or cellular phone service providers, not the subscriber. Applications for cellular telephone services are obtained from advertising banners placed at various websites. The Company does business with cellular phone service providers as well as master dealers that have contracted with various other carriers and with several website hosts, who receive a commission for each completed contract for cellular phone service.

Principles of consolidation: The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of CyberAds and its wholly owned subsidiary IDS. All significant intercompany balances have been eliminated in consolidation. The operations of IDS are currently dormant.

Interim reporting: The Company's year-end for accounting and tax purposes is December 31. In the opinion of Management, the accompanying consolidated financial statements as of June 30, 2004 and 2003 and for the three and six months then ended, consisting of only normal recurring adjustments, except as noted elsewhere in the notes to the consolidated financial statements, necessary to present fairly its financial position, results of its operations and cash flows. The results of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2004 and 2003 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

Property and equipment: Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is provided for over the estimated useful life of the assets of five to seven years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lesser of the original term of the related lease or their estimated useful life.

Investments: Investments are classified as trading securities, available-for-sale securities, or hold-to-maturity securities. Trading securities are reported at fair market value, with unrealized gains or losses recognized as a component of operating results; available-for-sale securities are reported at fair market value, with unrealized gains and losses excluded from earnings but reported in a separate component of shareholders' equity (net of the effects of income taxes) until they are disposed of or sold; at the time of disposal or sale, any gains or losses, calculated by the specific identification method, are recognized as a component of operating results; and hold-to-maturity securities are reported at amortized cost.

The Company's hold-to-maturity investments as of December 31, 2003 consisted of a 22% interest in a limited liability company that owns real estate.

1. Summary of significant accounting policies (continued)

Edgar Filing: CYBERADS INC - Form 10QSB

Impairment of long-lived assets: The Company assess' the recoverability of long-lived assets under SFAS 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets" by determining whether the depreciation and amortization of the asset's balance over its remaining life can be recovered through projected undiscounted future cash flows. The amount of impairment, if any, is measured based on fair value and charged to operations in the period in which the impairment is determined by management. Long-lived assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of carrying amount or fair value less cost to sell.

The Company recorded an impairment loss during the three months ended June 30, 2003 of $46,332 and during the six months ended June 30, 2003 of $98,645 for assets that became idle as a result of staff reductions.

Revenue recognition: In 2004 and 2003, the Company recorded revenue on a "net" basis when contracts are submitted to master dealers. The phones are shipped from the dealers to the subscriber and the Company does not bear the risk of loss on the cellular phone. Revenue is recognized when the master dealer ships the phones to the subscriber.

In 2003, the Company also recorded revenue on a "gross" basis when contracts were submitted directly to cellular phone service providers. The phones were shipped from the Company to the subscriber and the Company bore the risk of loss on the cellularphone. Under the gross method commission and related cost of goods sold for the cellular phone was recognized when the Company shipped the phones.

Stock options and warrants: The Company uses a fair value based method of accounting for stock based compensation to employees. The Company also accounts for stock options and warrants issued to non-employees for services under the fair value method of accounting.

Net income (loss) per common share: Net income (loss) per common share is computed by dividing net income (loss) by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. The weighted average number of common stock shares outstanding was 18,799,403 for the three months ended June 30, 2004 (16,532,469 for the three months ended June 30, 2003) and 18,562,590 for the six months ended June 30, 2004 (15,822,843 for the six months ended June 30, 2003).

Use of estimates: The process of preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires the use of estimates and assumptions regarding certain types of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Accordingly, upon settlement, actual results may differ from estimated amounts.

2. Operations -----

Management of the Company plans to continue to restructure debt, seek profitable products, reduce operating expenses, and seek additional capital and debt financing until operations achieve profitability. Management of the Company believes the above actions, along with other plans, will allow them to continue operations and ultimately achieve profitability. Until then, the Company is dependent upon its ability to obtain additional capital and debt financing. The consolidated financial statements as of June 30, 2004 do not reflect adjustments relating to the recorded asset amounts, or the amounts of liabilities that would be necessary should the Company not be able to continue in existence.

3. Cash flows

Supplemental disclosure of cash flow information is as follows:

6. Loans payable - convertible debentures
 Loans payable - convertible debentures consists of unsecured loans from two individuals whereby the principal of the note is convertible into the Company's common stock at the option of the holder. Interest on borrowings is payable quarterly at a rate of 20% per annum. The notes were due in installments of $15,000 on November 13, 2003, $13,750 on December 13, 2003 and January 13, 2004, with final payment due February 13, 2004. The Company is currently in default with respect to the agreements. The notes are convertible into the Company's common stock at a conversion rate of 75% of the closing bid price of the Company's common stock one trading day prior to conversion.
7. Payable to stockholder
 The payable to stockholder consists of advances from Novanet Media, Inc. for working capital purposes. The advances are unsecured, non-interest bearing and due on demand; however, Novanet Media, Inc. has agreed not to demand repayment of the advances before August 2005 and unless cash is available from operations or a merger, capital stock exchange, asset acquisition, or other business combination.
8. Contingencies
 The Company is non-compliant with respect to certain federal and state payroll related taxes. Included in accrued payroll and payroll related liabilities at June 30, 2004 and December 31, 2003 is approximately $540,800 of unpaid payroll taxes.
9. Stock options
 The Company's stock option activity for options granted to employees and non-employees is summarized as follows for the six months ended June 30, 2004:

10. Settlements

The Company entered into a consulting agreement in September 2002 for advisory, investor relations and public relations services. The consulting firm and the Company have taken the position that the other is in default of the agreement. The Company and the consulting firm reached a settlement in April 2004 whereby the Company agreed to issue 100,000 shares of its common stock granted to the consulting firm under the original consulting agreement; however, the consulting firm is restricted from reselling the shares. Under the terms of the settlement agreement the consulting firm may resell no more than 3,000 share of the Company's common stock per week and no more than an aggregate of 50,000 shares over a period of 120 days from the date of the settlement. They are further restricted from reselling the Company's common stock until September 13, 2004 at which time they may resell no more than 3,000 shares of the Company's common stock per week and no more than an aggregate of 50,000 shares over a period of 120 days. The Company recorded settlement expenses aggregating $110,000 as a result of the agreement. Management of the Company valued the shares issued at $1.10 per share, the closing bid price of the Company's common stock on the date of the agreement. Management of the Company estimated the value of the Company's shares granted after considering the historical trend of the trading prices for its common stock and the limited volume of shares being traded.

On April 27, the Company issued 50,000 shares of its common stock in accordance with the terms of the agreement. The Company has reserved an additional 50,000 shares of its common stock for issuance under the agreement.

In April 2004, the Company agreed to indemnify a former officer of the Company for any loss he sustained in a settlement reached with a cellular phone service provider against IDS and him personally. Under the indemnification, the Company is obligated to pay an aggregate of $72,261 in installments of $5,000 each on or before August 1, 2004 and September 1, 2004 with the balance due October 1, 2004. The indemnification had no effect on the accompanying financial statements as the amount owed to the cellular phone service provider was previously recorded as accounts payable in the records of IDS.

11. Subsequent events
Effective August 1, 2004, the Company renegotiated $185,192 of accounts payable to a cellular phone service provider to an unsecured promissory note requiring the Company to repay the amount in two installments of $92,596 each, plus interest at 1.5% per month on the outstanding balance, due on December 1, 2004 and July 1, 2005.

ITEM 2 - MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Management's discussion and analysis contains various forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. These statements consist of any statement other than a recitation of historical fact and can be identified by the use of forward looking terminology such as "may", "expect", "anticipate", "estimates", or "continue" or use of negative or other variations of comparable terminology. We caution that these statements are further qualified by important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in our forward looking statements, that these forward looking statements are necessarily speculative, and there are certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual events or results to differ materially from those referred to in our forward looking statements.

Management's discussion and analysis should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and the notes thereto.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to the six months ended June 30, 2003 and three months ended June 30, 2004 compared to the three months ended June 30, 2003:

In March 2003, the Company changed their business model whereby cellular phone service providers, or a fulfillment company, began shipping cellular telephones directly to the Company's subscribers, rather than the Company carrying cellular telephone inventories and shipping to the Company's subscribers.

Also, effective September 9, 2003, all then-existing officers of the Company resigned and were replaced with new management.

Revenues were $303,120 for the six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $3,576,875 for the six months ended June 30, 2003. The $3,273,755 decrease reflects the impact of the change in the Company's business model. Under the new model, the Company records revenue on a "net" basis when the master dealers ship the phones to the subscriber. Under the previous business model, the Company recorded revenue on a "gross" basis when the Company shipped the phones. The decrease in revenues also reflects the impact of the elimination of unprofitable products by new management.

The Company had no revenues for the three months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $1,115,845 for the three months ended June 30, 2003. Management of the Company has devoted all of these efforts during the three months ended June 30, 2004 toward restructuring debt and settling claims.

There were no costs of revenues for the six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $986,616 for the six months ended June 30, 2003. Under the new business model the Company no longer carries cellular telephone inventories.

There were also no selling expenses for the six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $1,062,887 for the six months ended June 30, 2003. The decrease reflects the impact of the change in the Company's business model whereby the service provider is now responsible for handling all order fulfillment processes, customer service, verification and shipping.

General and administrative expenses were $524,342 for the six months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $1,637,800 for the six months ended June 30, 2003. The decrease reflects the impact of the change in the Company's business model and the impact of new management reducing overhead.

General and administrative expenses were $419,500 for the three months ended June 30, 2004 compared to $449,749 for the three months ended June 30, 2003. Losses from settlements of claims against the Company aggregated $254,500 during the three months ended June 30, 2004 that the Company believes will not reoccur along with legal costs of $37,000 relating to those settlements.

FINANCIAL POSITION & LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

As of June 30, 2004 compared to December 31, 2003:

The Company had a working capital deficit of $2,641,623 as of June 30, 2004 compared to a working capital deficit of $2,720,748 as of December 31, 2003. The decrease in the Company's working capital deficit of $79,125 was a result of the Company raising $65,000 from the exercise of stock options and $47,000 of advances from a stockholder.

Since September 2003 when new management began operating the Company approximately $1,668,400 of accounts payable and accrued liabilities have been renegotiated into term debt or converted to capital stock of the Company. New management expects to continue to improve its working capital by restructuring debt, seeking profitable products, reducing overhead, and seeking additional capital until debt can be satisfied and assets recovered through continued profitable operations.

A major stockholder advanced an additional $20,000 to the Company for working capital purposes during the three months ended June 30, 2004 and as of that date has advanced the Company an aggregate of $204,634. This stockholder has agreed not to demand repayment of the advances before August 2005 and unless cash is available from operations or from a merger, capital stock exchange, asset acquisition, or other business combination. There can be no assurances that this stockholder will continue to provide advances to the Company.

ITEM 3. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

As of June 30, 2004 the Company carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's management, including the Company's Chief Executive Officer and President, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rule 13a-14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Based upon that evaluation, these principal executive officers and principal financial officer concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting them to material information relating to the Company, including its consolidated subsidiaries, required to be included in the Company's periodic SEC filings. There have been no significant changes in internal controls or in other factors that could significantly affect internal controls subsequent to the date of our most recent evaluation.
