Aero Performance Products, Inc. Announces Resignation of Interim CFO

Market Wire

SOUTH JORDAN, UT -- (MARKET WIRE) -- 04/11/08 -- Aero Performance Products, Inc. (PINKSHEETS: AERP), which operates Aero Exhaust, Inc., a world leader in performance exhaust airflow technology and NASCAR Performance Partner, today announced the resignation of Shane H. Traveller as interim chief financial officer of the company.

Detailed information regarding the resignation will be included in a Current Report on Form 8-K that will be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Aero's Chief Executive Officer Bryan Hunsaker will serve as interim chief financial officer until such time as the company appoints a permanent CFO.

"Due to an issue Mr. Traveller has related to another public company, he has chosen to resign, effective at the close of business today," commented Bryan Hunsaker, chief executive officer of Aero Performance Products, Inc. "Mr. Traveller felt the issue, while entirely unrelated to Aero, would hinder his ability to fully perform his duties with the company. We fully support his decision and wish him well in his future endeavors."

"Mr. Traveller's tenure as interim chief financial officer of Aero was always intended to be an interim solution until the company was able to locate a permanent CFO. The recent developments merely accelerated the timeline for finding a permanent replacement. We still anticipate filing our Q1 report on time and expect that it will not be affected by Mr. Traveller's resignation."

"We have been very busy lately tending to the activities of the company and look forward to communicating these accomplishments to our shareholders in the near future," Mr. Hunsaker added.
