State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR or the transition report or portion thereof could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

The Registrant was unable to file its annual report on Form 10-K in a timely manner without unreasonable effort or expense because the Registrant's independent registered public accounting firm requires additional time to complete its audit of the Registrant's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2008.

The delay in completion of the independent registered public accounting firm's audit of the Registrant's financial statements is due to a substantive accounting issue concerning the Registrant's inability to obtain critical information of an accounting of funds processed through an independent third party escrow account. The Registrant is working diligently to determine obtain this critical accounting information from a third party escrow provider so that it may complete its accounting and enable its independent registered public accounting firm to complete its audit of the Registrant's financial statements.

The Registrant's independent registered public accounting firm has been working diligently to complete its review of the Registrant's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2008 and the Registrant anticipates that the quarterly report will be filed no later than Wednesday, April 15, 2009.

Unaudited Preliminary Results of Operations

The following results of operations are preliminary and have not been audited or otherwise reviewed by the Registrant's independent registered public accounting firm. The Registrant's final, results of operations could be materially different from the unaudited preliminary results of operations set forth below.

In particular, and as noted above a substantive accounting issue has been identified concerning the Registrant's inability to obtain critical information of an accounting of funds processed through an independent third party escrow account. The Registrant is working diligently to determine the obtain these records from this third party escrow provider because the transactions that were processed through this escrow may significantly impact the Registrant's financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2008.

It is anticipated that significant change in results of operations from the corresponding period for the last fiscal year will be reflected by the earnings statements to be included in the subject report. However, a reasonable estimate of the change in results of operations cannot be made since the information sought from the third party represents a material portion of the company's accounting activity during 2008. As such, the lack of this accounting information does not allow the company to reasonably ascertain its results of operations for the current year.
