STATEMENT ON THE BANK OF ENGLAND 2016 STRESS TEST RESULTS

HSBC Holdings plc ('HSBC') notes the publication today of the results of the Bank of England's 2016 concurrent stress test exercise. The Bank of England's results show that, under the hypothetical stress scenario, HSBC's common equity tier 1 ('CET1') ratio would fall to a low point of 9.1%, well above HSBC's CET1 hurdle rate and systemic reference point ratios of 6.1% and 7.3%, respectively.

The Bank of England's stress scenario has been designed under the new annual cyclical scenario framework and modelled a hypothetical synchronised global downturn with growth in Hong Kong and China and other emerging market economies in which HSBC operates being particularly adversely affected. Under this severe scenario, the results demonstrate the impact of our strategic actions and the Group's continued capital strength.

The results incorporate management actions that have been accepted by the Bank of England for the purposes of this exercise and CRD IV restrictions in the year of low point CET1 ratio. Under adverse economic circumstances, we would in practice consider a variety of management actions depending on the particular prevailing circumstances. Our intention, as evidenced by past actions, is to maintain a conservative and prudent stance on capital management.

Notes to editors:

1. HSBC's results reflect the sale of our entire business in Brazil, comprising HSBC Bank Brasil S.A - Banco Multiplo and HSBC Servicos e Participacoes Ltda, on 1 July 2016.
2. The regulatory treatment of our investment in Bank of Communications Co., Limited ('BoCom') changed from proportional consolidation of BoCom's risk-weighted assets ('RWAs') to a deduction from capital (subject to regulatory thresholds) at 30 September 2016. Our results do not reflect this change in the regulatory treatment. We have included the proportional consolidation of BoCom's RWAs in our results.
3. HSBC's CET1 hurdle rate of 6.1% is the sum of the CRD IV minimum CET1 ratio of 4.5% and our Pillar 2A CET1 capital requirement of 1.6%.
4. HSBC's CET1 systemic reference point of 7.3% is the sum of our hurdle rate and current phased-in G-SIB buffer in the year of our low point CET1 ratio (1.25%). Our current G-SIB buffer is being phased in from 1 January 2016 (0.625%) to 1 January 2019 (2.5%).
