Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition

On October 16, 2018, Johnson & Johnson issued the attached press release announcing its sales and earnings for the third quarter ended September 30, 2018.

Item 8.01 Other Events

On October 11, 2018, Johnson & Johnson (the Company) determined that it will record an intangible asset impairment charge related to an in-process research and development asset, AL-8176, an investigational drug for the treatment of Respiratory Syncytial Virus (RSV) and human metapneumovirus (hMPV), with a carrying value of $1.7 billion acquired in the acquisition of Alios Biopharma Inc. in 2014.

Late in the fiscal second quarter of 2018, information became available which led the Company to suspend on-going Phase 2B trials on AL-8176 until an analysis of this information was completed. The Company disclosed the trial suspension in its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on August 2, 2018.

In the fiscal third quarter of 2018, further information became available to the Company enabling the Company to reassess the carrying value of the AL-8176 in-process research and development asset. On October 16, 2018, the Company announced that in the fiscal third quarter of 2018 the Company recorded a non-cash after-tax impairment charge of approximately $630 million to the AL-8176 asset primarily representing the impact of the ongoing analysis of the activities related to the development of AL-8176. The charge will be reflected in the Company's fiscal third quarter 2018 financial results and will be excluded for purposes of adjusted earnings. The Company continues to evaluate information with respect to the development program and will monitor the remaining $900 million intangible asset for further impairment.
