Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

On March 30, 2010, President Obama signed the Reconciliation bill which amends the Health Care Reform bill signed by the President on March 23, 2010. The Reconciliation bill includes a new tax on U.S. sales of medical device manufacturers or importers, such as Invacare Corporation (the "Company"). The law would impose a yearly 2.3% sales-based or excise tax on medical device manufacturers or importers starting January 1, 2013. The excise tax would be deductible by the manufacturer or importer on its federal tax return. The excise tax would not apply to medical devices that the Secretary of Treasury determines are generally purchased by the general public at retail for individual use.

Once there is a clear understanding of what specific medical device products will be covered by the excise tax, the Company will evaluate all of its available options to offset the impact of the proposed tax on the Company's financial results in 2013, including possible price increases on the relevant products.
