President's Letter

Dear Stockholder,

I am pleased to present this annual report for the Neuberger Berman Intermediate Municipal Closed-End Funds for the 12 months ended October 31, 2015. The report includes portfolio commentaries, listings of the Funds' investments and their audited financial statements for the reporting period.

Each Fund's investment objective is to provide a high level of current income exempt from regular federal income tax and, for each state-specific Fund, a high level of current income exempt from that state's personal income taxes (and, in the case of the New York Fund, New York City personal income tax).

We maintain a conservative investment philosophy and disciplined investment process in an effort to provide you with superior tax-exempt current income over the long term with less volatility and risk.

Thank you for your confidence in the Funds. We will continue to do our best to earn your trust in the years to come.

Sincerely,

ROBERT CONTI

Neuberger Berman Intermediate Municipal Closed-End Funds Portfolio Commentaries (Unaudited)

For the 12 months ended October 31, 2015, on a net asset value (NAV) basis, all three of the Neuberger Berman Intermediate Municipal Closed-End Funds posted positive returns and outperformed their benchmark, the Barclays 10-Year Municipal Bond Index. California Intermediate Municipal Fund, Intermediate Municipal Fund and New York Intermediate Municipal Fund posted 4.37%, 4.21% and 3.70% total returns for the period, respectively, whereas the benchmark generated a 3.19% return. (Fund performance on a market basis is provided in the table immediately following this letter.) The use of leverage (typically a performance enhancer in up markets and a detractor during market retreats) contributed to the performance of each Fund given the positive return delivered by the municipal market during the reporting period.

The municipal bond market posted a positive return and outperformed the overall taxable bond market during the reporting period. Fundamentals in the municipal market generally improved along with the U.S. economy. This, coupled with declining long-term interest rates, was supportive for the tax-free market. While new supply was robust during the period, it was generally well absorbed by investor demand.

Given the steepness of the municipal yield curve and our aim to generate incremental income, we maintained a long duration for each of the Funds. This benefited performance as interest rates generally declined during the reporting period. In terms of the Funds' yield curve positioning, we maintained a barbell approach (investing in shorter and longer maturities). In contrast, the Funds' benchmark is concentrated in the eight- to 12-year portion of the curve. Yield curve positioning detracted from results as the intermediate portion of the municipal curve outperformed its short- and longer-term counterparts.

The Funds maintained a lower quality relative to that of the benchmark in an attempt to generate additional yield. This was additive for results given the outperformance of lower quality bonds during the reporting period. From a sector perspective, overweights to hospitals and housing benefited results as these higher yielding sectors outperformed the benchmark.

A number of changes were made to the Funds during the reporting period. We allowed the Funds' long durations to drift a bit shorter with the passage of time, in an effort to reduce interest rate risk. Given our quest to generate additional yield, we increased the Funds' (with the exception of the California Intermediate Municipal Fund) allocation to securities rated BBB and lower. Finally, we increased the Funds' allocations to the long end of the municipal yield curve and pared their exposure to the intermediate segment of the curve. This was done given our anticipation of a flattening of the municipal yield curve.

Looking ahead, we have a generally positive outlook for the municipal market. Fundamentally, we believe the U.S. economy will continue to expand with modest inflation. Moving forward, we see two major factors driving market performance. First, we believe the U.S. Federal Reserve is likely to pressure absolute returns as it moves off its zero-rate target. This could have an uneven impact on the yield curve, highlighting the potential benefits of active yield curve management. Second, we think the municipal market should benefit from what we think are still attractive valuations relative to taxable alternatives. This, in turn, could drive overall solid investor demand. At the same time, supply could moderate as municipalities have already aggressively taken advantage of low interest rates to refinance existing debt and lower borrowing costs. Finally, while we see an overall favorable environment for the municipal market, investment sentiment could be challenged at times by headlines surrounding the lingering effects of Puerto Rico's debt restructuring and other one-off credit events.

Sincerely,

JAMES L. ISELIN AND S. BLAKE MILLER

Closed-end funds, unlike open-end funds, are not continually offered. Generally, there is an initial public offering and, once issued, shares of common stock of closed-end funds are sold in the secondary market on a stock exchange.

The performance data quoted represent past performance and do not indicate future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. For more current performance data, please visit www.nb.com/cef-performance.

The results shown in the table reflect the reinvestment of income dividends and other distributions, if any. The results do not reflect the effect of taxes a stockholder would pay on Fund distributions or on the sale of shares of a Fund's common stock.

The investment return and market price will fluctuate and shares of a Fund's common stock may trade at prices above or below NAV. Shares of a Fund's common stock, when sold, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

Returns would have been lower if Neuberger Berman Management LLC (Management) had not waived a portion of its investment management fees during certain of the periods shown. Please see the Notes to Financial Highlights for additional information regarding fee waivers.

Description of Index

Barclays 10-Year Municipal Bond Index: The index is the 10-year (8-12 years to maturity) component of the Barclays Municipal Bond Index. The Barclays Municipal Bond Index measures the investment grade, U.S. dollar-denominated, long-term, tax-exempt bond market and has four main sectors: state and local general obligation bonds, revenue bonds, insured bonds and prerefunded bonds.

Please note that the index does not take into account any fees and expenses or any tax consequences of investing in individual securities that it tracks and that individuals cannot invest directly in any index. Data about the performance of this index are prepared or obtained by Management and include reinvestment of all income dividends and other distributions, if any. The Funds may invest in securities not included in the above described index and generally do not invest in all securities included in the index.
