Magal Security Systems Receives Orders From New International Customers

Monday February 26, 7:32 am ET

Receives $3.2 Million of New Orders

YAHUD, Israel, February 26 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Magal Security Systems, Ltd. (NASDAQ GM: MAGS; TASE: MAGS), today announced that it recently received two new orders amounting to US$3.2 million.

The orders are both from new international customers. The first order is to supply security equipment for Oil facilities and includes the taut wire intrusion detection system and the MagNet integrated command & control system. The second order is for a European border and includes wireless distributed sensors controlled by the MagNet data acquisition and integrated command & control system. Both orders are due to be completed in 2007.

Mr. Izhar Dekel, CEO of Magal, said: "These contracts with new customers in new geographic markets for our company, further validate our strong standing in the high-end security space and the success of our long-term marketing efforts. We continue to see the substantial potential of our diverse product offerings in meeting the evolving security needs in new global markets, as well as the potential opportunity of further enhancing the solutions sold to these new customers. We look forward to announcing additional orders in 2007 as we continue to increase our geographic footprint and customer base."
