Subject: Golden Gate Capital to Acquire Conexant

Yesterday we announced the signing of a definitive merger agreement with Conexant Systems, Inc. (NASDAQ: CNXT). Under the terms of the agreement, Gold Holdings, Inc., an affiliate of Golden Gate Capital, has agreed to purchase all of the outstanding shares of Conexant common stock at a price of $2.40 per share in an all-cash deal. The transaction is expected to close in the second quarter of calendar 2011 subject to the satisfaction of regulatory requirements, approval by Conexant stockholders and other customary closing conditions.

We are experienced semiconductor investors and are excited about the growth potential for Conexant.

Upon completion of the transaction, we will have invested over $850 million in semiconductor opportunities since 2005, and Conexant will become our fifth semiconductor investment. Prior investments in the sector include Lantiq (broadband semiconductor devices), Aeroflex (aerospace and communications semiconductor devices, NYSE: ARX), Teridian (smart-meter semiconductor devices, recently acquired by Maxim Integrated Products), and Vistec Semiconductor Systems (direct-write electron beam lithography tools).

Like our prior investments, Conexant has a long history of employee entrepreneurship and innovation coupled with high-quality products, a strong IP portfolio, and a blue-chip customer base. These attributes provide a strong foundation for growth and value creation.

Golden Gate Capital is a San Francisco-based private equity firm with over $9 billion in capital under management. Our strategy is to allow our companies to focus on sustainable, long-term growth objectives in a private-company environment with ample financial support for both organic R&D investments as well as growth via acquisitions. As a result, our investment hold period is typically five years or longer.

We are pleased to announce that we currently expect Sailesh Chittipeddi, Conexant president and chief operating officer, to become Conexant's chief executive officer upon closing of the transaction.

Additionally, we are delighted to be working with Dan Artusi as an advisor on this investment. Dan provides an extensive breadth of knowledge in the relevant technologies and end markets served by the company. We believe his contributions will also help us add significant value to Conexant. Dan serves as a director of Lantiq and will join the board of directors of Conexant upon the closing of the transaction.

This is an exciting time for Conexant. I look forward to meeting with all of you to talk more about Golden Gate Capital and our investment philosophies at the earliest available opportunity.

Best Regards,

John Knoll
