WHY ARE WE COMBINING COMPANIES?

ADC: is ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in each major product group; is improving operational/financial performance; and has an innovative wireless and wireline portfolio with 80% of our sales focused in wireline infrastructure.

Andrew: is also ranked No. 1 or No. 2 in each major product group; has a strong China/India presence; and has a significant wireless technology portfolio with 90% of its sales focused in wireless infrastructure.

Combined we will be: a growth leader ($3.3 billion); relevant to consolidating carriers; have converged solutions for Fixed/Mobile networks; a global footprint and sales channels; and successful management with proven execution.

UPDATES SINCE DAY OF ANNOUNCEMENT

Integration planning efforts have begun in earnest. The Integration Core Team has reviewed lessons learned from ADC and Andrew regarding prior integration efforts and have designed an integration planning process building on those lessons.

COMBINATION OBJECTIVES AND PRINCIPLES

The core objective of the integration planning process is to facilitate rapid integration that starts IMMEDIATELY upon transaction close. The following four principles are guiding the integration teams:

1. Customers First: Actions must always reflect customers are our first priority. The teams will work to ensure our customer focus is never compromised because of the integration process.
2. Respect for People: The teams will treat each other with respect and integrity and be honest and direct with one another.
3. Speed to Value: The teams must execute quickly to ensure the expected combined value is achieved and translated into measurable business results.
4. Better of Both Practice: The teams will quickly assess the current processes of ADC and Andrew, adopting the most appropriate practice for either or defining a new process if required.

COMBINATION TIMELINE

May 31, 2006 ADC Andrew combination announced.

June 29, 2006 ADC Andrew Integration Planning Core Team launched. Integration project teams are working on their focus areas to make this an effective transition upon successful deal close.

July 5, 2006 - ADC and Andrew receive notice of early termination of Hart-Scott-Rodino Act waiting period.

July 10-11, 2006 ADC and Andrew Senior Executive Planning Session is held. Discussion topics included a new ADC Andrew vision, mission, guiding principles and FY07 priorities. Additionally, they spent time ensuring a common mutual understanding regarding Level II (Bob Switz direct reports) organizational roles and responsibilities.

NEXT STEPS

1. All ADC Andrew integration team members are currently working together to build charters and begin the process of completing analysis, evaluating alternatives and developing recommendations within their teams. A senior executive progress review is scheduled for late July.

2. As of Day 1 when the transaction closes, every ADC Andrew employee should understand their role and reporting structure within the company. The Senior Executive Team will be responsible for this important priority. Currently, ADC Andrew senior executives are beginning the process of defining next level organizational structures to be effective upon close of the transaction. They are scheduled to meet together as a senior executive team in mid-August to review alternatives and discuss next steps.

WHAT CAN EMPLOYEES DO TO MAKE THIS PROPOSED MERGER A SUCCESS?

1. Remain extremely vigilant in the support we provide to our customers during this time between announcement and close of the proposed merger.
2. Don't get distracted. Teamwork will be essential.
3. STAY FOCUSED on the business so we can successfully execute on our Q3 & Q4 goals and meet the needs and demands of our customers.
4. We MUST remain an Andrew competitor until deal close, meaning business as usual.

WHERE CAN EMPLOYEES FIND MORE INFORMATION?

Many employees have questions on how this will affect them, ADC and Andrew. Please do not assume we know all the questions. Instead, take the time to share available information your employees and offer them a chance to ask questions. The integration teams are focused on getting answers to employees as quickly as is feasible. Avenues for questions include:
